Waiting Once-in-a-Lifetime Experience

Scouts Wait Trek To Jamboree At Valley Forge

Officials of the Fellsland Council, Boy Scouts of America, said today that its contingent of 39 Boy Scouts, Explorers and adult leaders are ready for their "once-in-a-lifetime" experience at the Fourth National Jamboree to be held July 12 to 18 at historic Valley Forge, Pennsylvania.

The local Jamboree party will leave at 6:45 a.m. from South Station and go to Valley Forge by railroad.

They will reach Valley Forge on July 11 and immediately set up their camp in Section 18.

A huge tent city on 2,033 acres, loaned by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, will house the 50,000 inhabitants of America's newest, youngest, and busiest city. In effect, it will comprise 38 "villages" of about 1,400 campers each.

Boys from all walks of life, of all races and creeds, will live together, exchanging skills, swapping home-town products, and learning about the customs and traditions of many sections of the nation.

The national jamboree will also have an international flavor. About 500 Scouts and leaders are expected from Australia, Bahamas, Brazil, Canada, Chile, Cuba, Denmark, Great Britain, Greece, Iran, Israel, Peru, Philippines, Sweden, Switzerland, and Venezuela. They will be joined by 63 nations around the world with Boy Scout Associations with a total membership of over seven million boys and leaders.

The purpose of the jamboree is to strengthen the program of the individual troop and to provide an opportunity for boys to be associated with Scouts from all parts of their own country. This living together in a spirit of brotherhood and friendship is one of the continuing objectives of the Scout movement and the basis for its undertaking this gigantic gathering.

PROF. WHATMOUGH HONORED

Joshua Whatmough, Professor of Comparative Philology and Chairman of the Department of Linguistics at Harvard University, was the guest of honor at a dinner celebrating his sixtieth birthday which his colleagues, former students and students held in his honor on June 30 at the Commander Hotel, Cambridge. Among those former students present were three who have become Deans, and others who are now themselves professors at Harvard University, Johns Hopkins, Connecticut College, New London, Washington and other similar institutions.

A very special honor was the presentation to Professor Whatmough of a volume prepared and printed for the occasion, "Studies in the History of Linguistics," presented to Joshua Whatmough, On His Sixtieth Birthday, a three hundred page volume published by Mouton and Company, "S-Gravenhage, Holland, and edited by a former student of his, Dr. J. P. G. M. van Marrewijk, Professor of Romance Languages at Michigan University, Ann Arbor, presently at the American Academy in Rome. For it, outstanding authorities in the field of linguistics have written treatises and articles each in itself of great interest, and which will appear in no other volume.

Almost three hundred names appear in the Tabula Gratulatoria, starting with that of Sir Frank Adcock, Cambridge, England, and continuing with a formidable list of scholars throughout the world, the United States, Canada, Hawaii, South America, the British Isles, Europe, and the British Isles.

In the congratulatory toasts, special tribute was paid to Professor Whatmough, not only as a scholar, but equally as a humanitarian, and as a teacher, for the infinite patience, sympathy and skill with which he guides young and bewildered students to the point where they, too, can join the ancient and honorable Company of Scholars.

CALIDYNE LEAVES TOWN

The Calidyne Company, manufacturers of technical sound equipment, whose fine new plant on Cross street was erected only a few short years ago, is leaving Winchester to locate in Woburn, near Exit 29 of Route 128. The new plant will be located on a 12½ acre lot. The company's inability to find a large enough lot for its use in Winchester, at least one that did not involve too many complications, prompted the move to Woburn.

Ground for the erection of the new plant will be broken Monday at 10 o'clock, with General Manager "Bob" Lewis of Winchester, turning the first shovel of earth. He and Phil Eftomson, also of Winchester, will represent the company at the exercises, at which Mayor Shaughnessy of Woburn will speak. The other partner, Thomas Gouzeou of Winchester, will be prevented from attending by business out of town.

Invitations have been extended the members of the Woburn City Council to attend the groundbreaking and Massate in Commissioner of Commerce John J. Burke will be among state and city officials present.

MRS. ANNA F. NAUGLER

A committal service was held Monday forenoon in Wildwood Cemetery for Mrs. Anna F. Naugler, who died June 28 in Cazenovia, N. Y.

Widow of Winsor B. Naugler, the deceased was the sister of Mrs. J. Franklin Tuttle of Winchester and Florida. She leaves a son, Franklin A. Skelton of Cazenovia, N. Y.

Mrs. Naugler was born in Charlestown and formerly lived in her home in Brookline. The Rev. Ralph B. Putney, assistant at the Church of the Epiphany, conducted the committal service.

DR. SHEEHY ON TRIP ABROAD

Dr. Richard W. Sheehy, veteran physician and recently retired Chief of the Medical Staff of the Winchester Hospital, left by plane last Friday from Logan International Airport for Shannon Ireland, and the first stop of a European trip.

Accompanying Dr. Sheehy is a long time friend and fellow vacationer, Dr. John Burke of Wakefield. After ten days spent visiting points of interest in Ireland and the two medics will fly to London and spend several days seeing the sights in and around the British Capital.

They will then fly to Paris where they will spend several days before flying on to Rome and Madrid. They will fly home from Madrid, arriving August 1.

For Dr. Sheehy this will be his first trip abroad, but Dr. Burke has done it all before. The Star looks forward to some good news from Dr. Sheehy's "Diet" after his visit to "the old sod".

THE BOYLES' 35th

A former well known Winchester boy, Edward W. "Ned" Boyle, now a well known attorney in Woburn, on June 18 observed with Mrs. Boyle his 35th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyle were pleasantly surprised on their anniversary by a dinner party arranged in their honor at the Towne Lyne House in Lynnfield by their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gertrude F. Boyle of Woburn. The son, Rev. Robert J. Boyle of St. Joseph's Parish, Belmont.

Congratulations were cabled their parents by Lt. Comdr. and Mrs. E. F. Boyle, Jr. of London, England. Lt. Comdr. Boyle is serving as assistant Naval Attaché at the United States Embassy in London.

WOODS — FOLTS

Miss Gladys M. Folts, formerly of Winchester, and Mr. Thomas J. Woods announce their marriage on June 29, 1957.

In Africa Last

Former Winchester Girl
Commences African Safari

Mrs. Ralph D. Joslin of Lewis road has heard from her sister, Cornelia Smith Mazurski, who sailed from New York last March for Africa to capture birds and small game for experimental purposes and to study the habits and animal farms have commissioned her to secure specimens for them.

Daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. F. Patterson Smith, formerly of Winchester, Mrs. Mazurski has had a lifelong interest in animals, even going so far as to learn her own way through a course in animal husbandry at the then Massachusetts Agricultural College (now University of Massachusetts) when her parents refused to pay for this sort of education.

Since then she has worked with animals and small game in many ways, as well as holding other jobs of a technical nature, leaving one in the latter category to undertake her present African venture. For five years she studied and conferred with experts in this sort of field to prepare herself for the expedition.

One of the things Mrs. Mazurski learned from all those interested in her proposed trip is that it is even more essential to know how to keep the animals and birds in good condition after capture than to capture them. She has devoted much time and effort to studying this phase of her work.

Mrs. Mazurski sailed from New York March 22 on the SS African Lightning of the Farrell Line, taking with her aboard ship the specially designed and constructed ship, in which she plans to live while traveling through the African jungle.

It took about a month to reach Cape Town, as the freighter stopped at several South American ports to take on cargo. Mrs. Mazurski was one of ten or a dozen passengers aboard ship, but it is dollars to the proverbial doughnuts that none of the feminine passengers were engaged on such a trip as she.

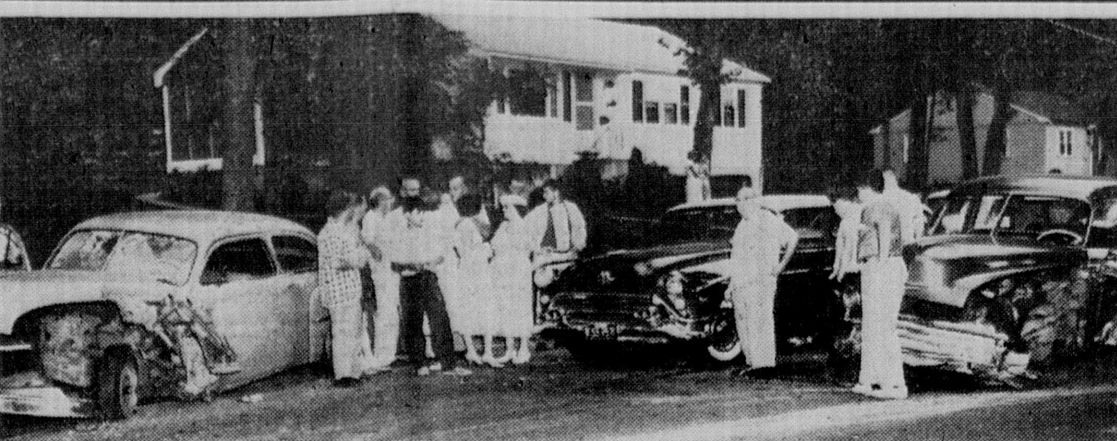

The letter received by Mrs. Joslin from her sister was written toward the end of April and did not reach Winchester until the latter part of May. In it Mrs. Mazurski said she had not left the ship at Cape Town but had persuaded the skipper to permit her to stay aboard until the freighter reached Walvis Bay in South West Africa. She wrote she would "first set foot on African soil" there.

Walvis Bay is a 40-hour run, or approximately 600 miles, up the coast from Cape Town. It is a fish-canning center and the African Lightning was carrying many canneries and tractors for those conducting the business.

From Walvis Bay Mrs. Mazurski plans to push on in her jeep to Mombassa in Africa and from there establish headquarters at some native village where guides and natives skilled in the capture of game, and especially birds, can be procured.

Before she left, Mrs. Mazurski said that winning the confidence of natives to secure them as guides and helpers is of tremendous importance, and often takes some time. She had no plans as to how long she would remain in Africa when she left the States. Her stay, she said, would depend wholly on how long it takes to secure the specimens she seeks. She had made no plans for a return date.

Some of the birds she seeks inhabit the tallest trees of the jungle, and catching them alive is a precarious job, calling for great skill and long experience. Mrs. Mazurski, however, was very confident she would get what she went after, and those who know her best believe she will at least give it a "jolly good try."

CROWD EXAMINES WRECKED CARS AFTER CAMBRIDGE STREET COLLISION

SWANTON STREET CLOSED

Commencing Monday, July 1 Swanton street was closed to through traffic until the construction work being done west of the underpass is completed. Supt. John Cuning of the Maney Construction Company told the Police ten days to two weeks will be needed to complete the work.

This means that traffic moving east from Main street and moving west from Washington street can not go all the way through Swanton street. East-bound traffic from Main street will be unable to reach the town dump, International Co-operative and the Winchester Door and Window Co.

To reach these places cars will have to enter Swanton street from Washington street and use the by-pass. They can not, however, go all the way through Swanton street until the construction work is completed.

UNION SERVICES

The Union Services will be held this Sunday morning at the First Congregational Church.

Rev. Wesley A. Mallory will preach on "A Sense of What Is Vital".

BROOKE — SNOOK

Sunday, June 30, at a 4:00 o'clock candlelight ceremony in the First Congregational Church, Miss Jacqueline Elaine Snook, daughter of Reverend and Mrs. John Snook, Jr., of Dix street, became the bride of Mr. Richard William Owen Brooke of Melrose. The bride's father, pastor of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, officiated, and the bride was given in marriage by her mother. Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in Chidley Hall, given by the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Crawford Memorial Church.

The bride wore a gown with a cathedral train, fashioned of French nylon tulle and Chantilly lace with a boat neckline, fitted princess sleeves and two-tiered, lace-trimmed handkerchief drapery. Her fingertip length veil of imported silk illusion was caught to a Juliet cap of lace, embroidered with seed pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

The bride's sister, Miss Jane Estelle Snook, wearing a frosted white nylon gown over pink-orchid tulle with a pink-orchid tulle cummerbund sash in back, was maid of honor. Her white picture hat was trimmed with pink-orchid tulle and she wore white gloves and shoes. Her cascade bouquet combined pink-orchid and green stephanotis, snapdragons, and carnations.

The bridesmaids wore dresses of frosted white nylon over green tulle with white gloves and shoes. They wore white picture hats, trimmed with white green tulle, white gloves and shoes, and carried cascade bouquets of pink-orchid tulle, snapdragons, and carnations. They were: Mrs. Marjorie Gerakaris of Melrose, sister of the groom; Miss Sandra Curtis, Miss Margaret Kane, Miss Nancy Switzer, and Miss Judith Cairncross, all of Winchester.

Mr. Howard Dunnells of Everett served as best man, and the ushers were Mr. Thomas Comparate of Gloucester, Mr. Richard Poole of Malden, Mr. Warren Hudson of Everett, and Mr. Wallace Baxter, Jr., and Mr. Robert Baxter, both of Melrose. Master John Wesley Snook, brother of the bride, was ringbearer.

Mrs. Richard Poole of Malden and Miss Judith Wadleigh of Winchester were in charge of the guest books. Mrs. John Maifield of Lynn was guest soloist accompanied by the organ by Mr. J. Albert Wilson, who also played a program of bridal music. Miss Shirley Kinney of Winchester attended the bridal party in preparation for the ceremony.

Mrs. Snook, mother of the bride, wore a pink nylon dress with three-quarter sleeves and a matching pink hat. Her accessories and corsage were white. Mrs. Brooke, mother of the groom, also wore white accessories and corsage with her shades of navy blue. The grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Joseph E. Maxey and Mrs. John Snook, both of Everett, wore respectively mauve lace and lilac mesh.

After a honeymoon in New England, Mr. and Mrs. Brooke will make their home in Mishawaka, Indiana, where Mr. Brooke is associated as a mechanical engineer with the Bendix Aviation Corporation.

LITTLE LEAGUE ALL-STAR
SELECTIONS TO BE ANNOUNCED

Once again it is Little League all-star time. In the past Winchester has been one of the most successful communities in the representation of its all-star team and from the fine play seen during the past season in both leagues, there is no reason why the fine play should not continue.

Tonight, which officially ends the regular season, the names of the all-star squads will be announced at the conclusion of the games being played.

At Ginn Field the all-star selections, as picked by the managers of the National Major League and the National Minor League will be announced.

At West Side Field the all-star selections, as picked by the managers of the American Major League and the American Minor League will also be announced.

Retired from Business July 1

Filling Station Operator Served
Motoring Public 32 Years

After thirty-two years of serving the motoring public, Charles A. Murphy, widely known proprietor of the Texaco filling station at the corner of Cambridge and Pond streets, retired from business July 1, having leased his station to the Texaco Company. Mr. Murphy has not disposed of the property and will continue to have a very vital interest in the station, though he will no longer be available for tire changing with the glass in the nineties and for towing jobs in sub-zero blizzards.

"Charlie" isn't retiring because he has grown tired of the filling station game. He has always liked the business, even its tougher aspects, and this liking for his job and the people he has served have been definite factors in attracting local motorists to his pumps and lubricators. Many an automobilist, especially those who enjoy a friendly argument on any subject at all, are going to miss "Charlie" a lot. His "C Murphy for Service" has been no idle phrase.

"Charlie" is hanging up his pump-nozzle and tire irons in compliance with the advice of his physician. A heart attack laid him low last winter and although he has recovered nicely, his medico has advised him to seek a less strenuous field for his endeavors. Believing the advice sound, Mr. Murphy is going to do just that.

The Texaco Company has sublet the Murphy station to Robert Wheaton of Wyman street, Woburn, former Woburn football player who has been operating a station on Main street in Woburn opposite the Woburn Armory. Mr. Wheaton has had 22 years experience and plans to continue the proven policies which have been so popular with Murphy customers in the past.

A native of Winchester, "Charlie" Murphy has spent his entire life in his native town. He went from high school to a job in the Star pressroom, but his experience with printing was a brief one, and he soon went to work for the late Oscar Hedtler at his tire and accessories shop in the Waterfield Building on Church street opposite the Trust Company in 1925. Besides tires and accessories the Hedtler shop was headquarters for bicycles, sales and service, and through this medium "Charlie" came to know hundreds of the town's young people who in later years proved valued patrons of his filling station.

In 1936 "Charlie" left Oscar Hedtler to form, with Ernest Reardon, the partnership of Murphy and Reardon and to operate the newly completed Texaco station on upper Main street near the Winchester Theatre. In 1940 the firm bought out Oscar Hedtler and continued to run both businesses for a time. Came World War II and "Charlie" enlisted in the Army, seeing four years of service, two of which were with an armor maintenance group in the European Theatre. He was separated from the service with the rank of staff sergeant and returned to Winchester and the Texaco Station on Main street.

In January of 1947 "Charlie" dissolved his partnership with Mr. Reardon and in February of that year took title to the so-called Kenney's West Side Filling Station at the corner of Cambridge and Pond streets. His fine new plant was erected there in June of 1947.

Since that time "Charlie" has conducted a successful business at his Texaco station. Though the filling station has been a real time consumer, "Charlie" has found time to participate actively in the civic and social life of the town. He is past president of Winchester Rotary, a director and past president of the Winchester Chamber of Commerce, a member of the Knights of Columbus. He is married to the former Grace L. Rogers of Medway and makes his home at 145 Pond street.

Blessed with a keen wit and a great sense of humor, "Charlie" has an addition to any party and has held his own nobly with that little crowd of rangers who have envied Rotary gatherings of all sorts, and especially Rotary auctions which have always been very near to the Murphy heart.

One of that select group of thinkers operating from his own filling station or the back room of the Fitzgerald Fuel Company, he has contributed his fair share to plans that have resulted in such staunch Rotarians as Tom Quigley and Al Elliott, the Homestead boy, bidding in, at auction, respectively, metal dogs for profitable (?) resale and self-owned trash barrels at a handsome premium.

Rotary auctions and the Winning Farm have top priority on the Murphy list of worthy causes and it is nice to know that he is planning to continue his active interest in both. Just one warning! Don't ask him to pick up things for the auction unless you really want to get rid of them. His pickup boys will be panting on your front doorstep before you can get away from the phone!

PARKER HOLBROOK

FORMER TOWN ENGINEER
DIED WEDNESDAY

Parker Holbrook, former town engineer and superintendent of streets, died suddenly Wednesday morning, July 3, at his home, 7 Dix terrace, Woburn, after a long illness. He had been in poor health for the past two months, he had been thought to be recovering satisfactorily from an illness he had at that time, and he had visited the center as usual on Tuesday. His death, wholly unexpected, came as a severe shock to his family and the community.

Mr. Holbrook was the son of Frank A. and Laila J. (Parker) Holbrook. He was born September 20, 1888, in Malden and spent his early life in that city, being educated in the Malden Schools and attending engineering courses at Franklin Union. He came to Winchester 50 years ago.

He first went to work in 1907 for a Boston engineer, leaving after a short time to work as a road man on highway construction for the Town of Brookline. In April of 1908 he went to work for the Town of Winchester as a road man and instructor.

He was promoted to the position of town engineer in 1933 upon the death of the then incumbent, James Hinds. He was appointed Moth Superintendent April 10, 1933, succeeding the late Samuel S. Symonds, who had held the office of Tree Warden for many years.

Mr. Holbrook was very popular with the men who worked under him, and had a well-deserved reputation as a builder of roads. He served as a director of the Massachusetts Highway Association in 1947-48.

He was a member of the Boston Society of Civil Engineers, of the William Parkman Lodge of Masons, Winchester Royal Arch Chapter, Winchester Lodge of Elks, and he was a former member of the Winchester Rotary.

On October 3, 1912, Mr. Holbrook married the former Anna Arnold of Winchester. They had lived in Dix terrace since 1933, previously having lived on Mt. Pleasant street. Mrs. Holbrook survives, with two daughters, Mrs. George W. Hayden and Mrs. Earl W. Parker, Jr.; a son, Arnold Parker Holbrook, all of Winchester; and three granddaughters.

Funeral services will be held this Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Bennett Chapel, with the Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Burial will be in Wildwood Cemetery.

AT PLYMOUTH

Mr. Joseph A. Scarpaci of 19 South Gateway, of the Bay State Macaroni Company in Everett, was present last week at Plymouth with Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Captain Alan Villiers of the Mayflower II.

The occasion was a Reception Day for the ship which recently completed a 64-day voyage to America. A crowd of 20,000 was present to hear Vice President Nixon speak.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

The playground youngsters in the town have been taking advantage of the wonderful program provided for them by the Winchester Park Department, and next week starts the competition in softball and baseball for all age groups of both sexes.

Monday morning the Leonard Junior baseball team will visit Ginn Field and the West Side Juniors will play at Loring Field. On Tuesday morning the Ginn Intermediate will play baseball at West Side Field while the Loring Intermediate will play at Leonard Field.

On next Wednesday afternoon the girls' softball team of Ginn Field will play host to Loring Field softballers, and on Thursday afternoon the West Side girls' softball group will visit Leonard Field.

The arts and crafts instructor will be on the following fields as listed below:
Monday—Ginn Field
Tuesday—West Side
Wednesday—Leonard
Thursday—Loring
Friday—Ginn

If your youngsters have not registered at any of the fields, you would make a wise move to have them do so and take part in the facilities available and the plans that are being made.

All fields are under proper supervision and things are beginning to hum. Send your youngster to the field nearest your home and do it today!

PAGES FROM A SCOUT'S DIARY

SCRIBE OF TRAVELING TROUPE REPORTS FROM ABROAD

Monday, June 24, 1957
Dear Diary,
Here I am at ease in the plane headed for Europe. Half of us had gotten onto the plane when the B.O.A.C. photographer arrived to take a picture, so only a lucky few will become famous. So far the trip hasn't been too eventful, but we have been kept amused by a character in an enormously large blue turban who waves a little American flag. The sunset was really neat but because of the sun's rising so soon after the setting and our cramped sleeping quarters, we didn't get much sleep.

We are at Prestwick now, and it's four o'clock U. S. time and nine o'clock Scotch time. The others are getting off now and I must hurry to say goodbye to the cute steward.

Tuesday, June 25, 1957
Dear Diary,
It was so cool in Prestwick that it's hard to believe that we were sweltering in Boston only a few hours ago.

We were rushed through customs and put on a bus (motor coach) where we met "Harry," the driver, and Brian Pirkis, our courier, a very pleasant young Englishman whom we already call (upon request) by his first name.

The 80-mile trip was shortened by the quaint and very interesting scenery which brought forth countless "oh's" and "ah's."

Upon arriving at Mrs. Cowan's guest house, we just dumped our belongings and set out for lunch in Edinburgh. (I guess you have to get used to "trifle" slowly.)

After lunch we met Mrs. MacGregor who was our guide to Edinburgh, St. Giles Church, and Holy Rood Castle. The castle of Edinburgh, on a high hill in the very middle of the city, was very impressive. In St. Giles Church the old Scotch guide asked Joan to read an inscription from the Bible and was quite astonished when her expected Scottish brogue turned out to be a Boston blend.

After a quick tour of Holy Rood castle, we took a bus trip around the cliffs of Edinburgh and then back home to a boisterous feast.

When dinner was through, those who weren't tired could go to watch a public demonstration of the Highland Fling. Some went on ahead, but being one of the slower ones, I was able to meet two Scottish Air Rangers (compared to our Senior Scouts) on the tram.

They were headed for an installation ceremony and invited us to join them. Of course we said yes, and so we hurried to get off at their stop.

Here I'd better add that the trams wait for no one. Not realizing this one of us jumped off, just as it started up, and tumbled end over end into a heap (fortunately not hurt).

After walking down a terribly long street we met the two Rangers. What a sense of humor these Scots have, I thought, when they told us the ceremony was to take place on Arthur's Seat, a mountain 829 feet high.

After the first few feet it wasn't so funny, but upon reaching the top, the view was great and the ceremony impressive.

We met several new friends to-night and learned much about Scotland. We left the Rangers, after exchanging friendship pins, with much laughter and fast farewells as the tram sped away.

I really must sleep now, dear Diary, for I can hardly keep my eyes open.

Cheerio 'til tomorrow

Wednesday, June 26, 1957
Dear Diary,

This morning we spent our money in Edinburgh for all sorts of material and gifts. (Shillings, pounds, half crowns, it's so confusing.) Riding on the two-story tram was fun and cheap. Imagine paying only two pence (2c) or four pence (4c) for a ride downtown at home! With our money nurses empty (not really?) we all gathered at "Mackie's" for lunch. Soup, dinner, and dessert, with coffee or tea to top it all off! I can hardly get up from the table after each meal.

We had a typical meal this noon of fish and chips (French fries). Carley distinguished herself nicely by putting salad dressing (thinking it to be tartar sauce) on her fish! She never knew the difference.

This afternoon we passed through Rob Roy country with its beautiful moorland, and bunched and bounced in the motor coach to Loch Lomond where a bag-piper was piping. We were going through farming country, for the air became rather stifling for a while. The Trossachs (mountains) were neat, and we stopped to take pictures and pick heather. Trossachs means "bristling country" (bristling with beauty) and it is. The shaggy highland cattle are so different from ours, and Shetland ponies were scampering about, too.

By this time Roberta was dead to the world and I was ready for an aspirin, bed, supper, or all three, our Edinburgh "home" especially! Dinner was just great, and, all refreshed, we went with Helen, Margaret, and Elizabeth (Girl Guides) to their company meeting for a wee bit visit. We all sang songs, and then Binky and Alison bravely demonstrated how the lemi-sticks worked. Having fumbled around a bit they proceeded to show Helen how. It was great fun, for she was a real sport. The girls are still in school so we left at 9:30 (only 4:30 U. S. time!) and I am now popping into bed, so if you'll please excuse me, dear Diary, thank you (they're all so polite here), I'm going off! G'nite for now, tomorrow comes England and farewell to Scotland.

MORE FROM THE SCOUTS' LOG!

Thursday, June 27, 1957

Today when we arose early to begin our trip to Hawkshead, England, it was raining. This, however, didn't dampen our spirits and after a yummy breakfast we bid farewell to bonny Scotland.

Although the trip was to take practically all day, it certainly was boring. In the morning we passed the time singing all the songs we knew and playing skunk until all, except Alison and Angie, were "skunked."

Brian said that he had a surprise for us, so at a little tea shop on the Scottish border we stopped for some tea or coke; they even had a Hi-Fi juke box where you could get one record for 3 pence and 5 plays for a shilling (41¢ U. S.).

Then came our surprise. We found out that the place in which we had stopped was where lovers used to come to get married without parents' permission. Here Brian told us that the same man who used to perform the ceremony would put on a mock wedding for us; little did we know that it would be one of us to be wed. Sally, being the nearest one, was given a lace curtain for a veil and Brian, the groom, was given a high silk hat. The remarks from the old Scotchman during the ceremony over the anvil were really the most. Afterwards the little old man gave to the blushing (and oh, boy, was she!) bride a little charm for a bracelet in remembrance of her first wedding. More fun!

For lunch we stayed at the famous Royal Oak Hotel. Here we bought stamps and then, for the first time, had our choice of meals. Yummy!

The rest of the trip to Hawkshead was really beautiful. The stone walls here are spectacular, dividing the green countryside into a multitude of patchwork patterns. They enclose the cuddly long-haired highland sheep and the fields just filled with daisies, lupins and buttercups. The roads are so narrow and winding, but Harry is a good driver.

Arriving at our hotel in the late afternoon we had time to wash and rest before dinner.

I have now finished my yummy lamb dinner, read diary, and must get some rest for our bicycle trip tomorrow.

HUNGARIAN MUSICIAN AIDED

Winchester interest in the Berkshire Festival activities this summer will be heightened by the knowledge that we as a community have aided a very talented Hungarian refugee to attend the Center at Tanglewood, Lajos Toth, although not one of the original group assigned to Winchester came to live with one of that group, and his case was brought to the attention of members of the Winchester Hungarian Settlement Committee as worthy of its support. Lajos Toth was conductor of the Magyar Allam Vasalok orchestra in Budapest and was one of the conductors of classical music on Radio Budapest. Found to be doing porter work in one of our Boston department stores by a committee member, Mr. Toth was helped to get interviews to apply for a scholarship in the Choral Conducting Department of the Berkshire Music Center. His interviewer found him to be "a very gifted man who deserves every encouragement in starting a new career in this country," and in view of his circumstances he was awarded a full tuition scholarship for the six-week session.

"Unfortunately, the Boston Symphony Orchestra can not help with expenses beyond the tuition charges. I have made inquiries of several individuals and organizations interested in helping our Hungarian refugees, but their resources had been already exhausted. I hope that a way will be found through the Winchester Community to assist Mr. Toth in introducing him to musical life and to a career in this country." Mr. Leonard Burkat wrote the above words to a member of the Winchester Committee.

The Center, however, was unable to assist in his expenses beyond the tuition charges, and it became necessary to obtain help for the living and incidental expenses to carry him through the summer course. The Winchester Hungarian Settlement Committee voted on June 12 to set up a trust fund of $250 in the Winchester Trust Company; several individuals have added to this fund, and the Winchester Community Theater generously contributed $50 toward this worthy cause. Mr. Leonard Burkat, administrator of the Berkshire Music Center, stated in his fine letter of recommendation: "In my opinion your help to Mr. Toth also serves in the advancement of our musical life to which he will soon surely make a considerable contribution."

Standing: James McGrath, John Gallagher, Nancy Boynton, Edmund Crotty, Albert A. MacDonnell, chairman, Winchester Elks Youth Activities; Albert McDougall, Alfred W. Barnard, Exalted Ruler, Winchester Lodge of Elks; John Griffin, Ruth Nease, Richard Burns. Presentation of contest participating certificates was made by Messrs. Barnard and MacDonnell on June 14 to members of the seventh and eighth grades of St. Mary's School. These students participated in the recently concluded statewide essay contest conducted by the Massachusetts Elks Association Youth Activities Committee on the subject, "What the United States Flag Means to Me." Madelyn Hickey of St. Mary's School was the winner of a $50 savings bond, representing third prize in the statewide contest. Six hundred and eighty-five entries were submitted by lodges throughout the state to the judges of the State Elks Association and special awards were made to pupils whose essays were judged to be best.

BABE RUTH LEAGUE

The final standing of the first half as it appeared in the June 21 issue of the Star, should have been the Giant's record read, Won 5, Lost 4, making a tie for second place with the Phillies. Also, Phil Dunn, White Sox pitcher, has a record of 1-1.

With both the Giants and Phillies winning two games each the past week, the standings for the second half are as follows:

	W	L
Parker-Lane-Winn, Giants	4	0
Chitels' Phillies	3	1
Purtille's White Sox	1	3
Renton's Indians	0	4

All-Stars Selected

On June 29 the four managers of our Winchester league, Paul Connors - Indians, Sam Bellino - Phillies, Ted Freeman - Giants, and Bill Cruwys - White Sox, made their 1957 selection of players for the All-Star team.

Giants—L. Capodilupo, R. Freeman, E. French, G. Gray, D. Martell
Indians—P. Del Rossi, D. Kelly, D. Serieka, A. Tofuri
Phillies—C. Aranson, M. Bellino, M. Gray, W. Smith
White Sox—R. DeMinico, S. Powers
Alternates—Dale Grinnell (Giants), R. Gay (W. Sox)

The team is already working out under the direction of Paul Connors, manager, and arrangements are being made for the first game at Manchester Field, Saturday afternoon, July 13, against Lowell. On July 20 the winner plays the winner of the Belmont-Swampscott game.

On July 27 the winners of the section VII and section VIII winner for the state tournament at Amherst August 3 and 4.

If Winchester is the winner of the July 13 and July 20 games, the game on the 27th will be at Manchester Field.

In the event of rain, games will be played the following day.

GEOGRAPHIC ODDITIES AND BRIEFS

St. Bernard dogs bear the name of St. Bernard de Menthon, who in the 11th century founded a hospice that has sheltered thousands of travelers caught in Alpine snows.

The Olmec, a mysterious race of American Indians that flourished some 400 years B.C., built elaborate tombs and monuments of basalt rock in southern Mexico, the National Geographic Society says. Findings indicate these people had a knowledge of mathematics and developed a calendar that the Maya may have borrowed.

Cloudy days and frequent rains in Norway's fjord country rule out drying hay on the ground. The crop is spread on wires like laundry so breezes can get at it.

COOK BROTHERS SCORE SENSATIONAL VICTORY OVER SNIPE FLEET

Ken and Dick Cook proved that they really enjoy heavy weather sailing, by creaming the Winchester Boat Club Snipe Fleet last Saturday afternoon. The wind, in gusts, was blowing up to 30 miles an hour (which is really too much for Snipes) but so skillful are Winchester Snipe Skippers, that every one of the nine boats that started the race finished right side up.

To get back to the Cooks, they simply set their sails for action and took off from the starting whistle. They finished the race a good quarter of a mile ahead of the second boat, a tremendous exhibition of skillful and daring sailing.

Sunday morning, with winds almost as brisk, Herb and Tommy Alderson won by a goodly margin. However, their victory is under protest so we can't report as a certainty that this outstanding brother team has added another first to their record.

Club Chatter

Bill and Jean Burns deserve a great big hand for the enjoyable military whist party they ran at the Boat Club last Saturday night. It was a lot of fun and those who attended are eagerly looking forward to more of the same.

NOT A PLEASANT THOUGHT!

Editor of the Star:

It's not a pleasant thought to bring up during these sparkling blue summer days when Winchester smells of flowers and gay evening cook-outs and many of us are taking off for summer fun. But right now the animals to provide our necessary steaks and pork chops are being slaughtered by shockingly cruel methods. Horrible death agonies are often prolonged up to twenty minutes, and what is so tragic is that all this is unnecessary if proposed legislation could be passed, as has been done in many European countries. Now is the time to press for it.

Take five minutes out of your summer to write to the Honorable Harold D. Cooley of the Agriculture Committee at House Office Building, Washington, D. C., telling him you favor immediate passage of Humane Slaughter legislation.

BRAVES' LITTLE LEAGUE COOKOUT

A cookout was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Sullivan of 18 Glenwood avenue, Sunday evening, June 30th, for the Braves Little League team. Mrs. Sullivan is team mother for the Braves.

Among those present were the manager and coach and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. John Serieka and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Winn. The boys invited were: Bobby Benincasa, Ray Finnegan, Jimmy Guarento, Nicky Harris, Peter Hichborn, Danny Holland, Jackie Kimball, Victor Lawson, Richard Lindsey, John Morgan, Kent Parrot, George Snelling, Rod Wild, Danny Winn, and Jackie Sullivan.

A pleasant time was had by all. At the end of the cookout Mr. Serieka and Mr. Winn were presented with duplicate Scotch Koolers in appreciation for the time and work spent with the Braves this season.

FIRES

The continued dry weather has again increased the danger of grass fires and residents are warned to be cautious.

A grass fire was reported Sunday at 2:42 p. m. near Long Pond. The fire was found to be inside a pine tree and in the surrounding brush.

A call for a grass fire near 47 Irving street came at 11:37 a. m. Monday morning. The blaze was extinguished in 10 minutes.

EDITORIALS

Local water authorities have been gratified with the cooperation they have received from residents of the town in their effort to conserve Winchester's perilously depleted water supply. On the whole the order banning the use of water outside the house in hoses and sprinklers for watering lawns, gardens and shrubs and the washing of cars, running of air conditioners, etc., has been obeyed. There have been exceptions, and these have been dealt with as promptly and fairly as possible.

The cooperation of the townspeople has resulted in saving since last week Thursday about half a million gallons of water daily.

Commencing last Thursday the consumption of water from the North Reservoir fell from 453,000 gallons a day to 150,000 gallons. At the South Reservoir the consumption has dropped from 700,000 gallons a day to 321,000 gallons. Overall figures show a decrease in water consumption from 1,153,000 gallons a day to 471,000 gallons, or approximately half a million gallons.

How about the future? Water Superintendent Jim Halwartz told the Star this week that barring unusual rainfall the present restrictions are for all summer. As he expressed it, the question is: water for lawns, gardens, air conditioners and cars or water to drink and for sanitary purposes. In the Water Commissioners' opinion the issue is clear.

A big new white arrow has been painted on the street at the southerly end of Laraway road, indicating that traffic can enter that end of the road only, leaving at the Church street end opposite McCormack's Apothecary.

Laraway road has always been intended to be a one-way street, with traffic moving from south to north. With no directional arrow at the southerly end, however, some operators have been leaving at that point and thereby creating a hazardous situation with the two-way traffic along Waterfield road.

With the bridge abutment of the overpass obstructing the vision of operators, cars leaving from the southerly end of Laraway road could easily cause accidents, which, with the numbers of pedestrians now using the underpass, would be doubly dangerous. The authorities have done well to indicate the one-way regulation so there can be no doubt in anyone's mind.

Now if the parking around the post office and underpass is given some attention, traffic conditions can be even further improved.

The Star learns that the Selectmen are once more engaged in considering the use of the town hall by persons or firms for business purposes. Specifically they are wondering whether such use should be allowed.

This question of renting the town hall for business came up last spring when an auction and an antique show, so called, conflicted with the big annual Rotary Auction, run each year in support of the Rotary Club's public charities.

The conflict was resolved by a change of dates, but once more the same private enterprises have sought to rent the town hall, and though there is no conflict in dates involved this time, there is a serious doubt in the minds of some of the Selectmen whether the town hall should be used by private individuals or firms for their own profit. In other words, should the town hall be rented for what is strictly business.

The Star is told that town halls in other communities are not available for such business use. It is the Star's belief that the Winchester Town Hall is not intended for such use. We believe most of the townspeople would support the Selectmen if they should decide not to make further rentals of the hall for business.

The question of course immediately arises, what about the dancing school teachers who have long held recitals at the town hall. The Star believes there is a vast difference between such activities and auctions, and antique shows where articles are for sale and concessions are let out. We further believe the Board of Selectmen can be trusted to handle any restrictions they may impose so that legitimate use of the hall will not be denied.

From the Star's observation the newly located central bus stop at the northern end of Laraway road is working out well. From the commuter point of view it is good to have all the buses leave one spot, making for better connections and obviating the mad dash to various stopping points about the square.

The central bus stop has also helped greatly to reduce the congestion on busy corners about the center, especially at the time when school is over and youngsters are waiting for buses. The new arrangements for leaving and picking up pupils at high and junior high has also helped.

All in all the new bus stop seems to have been a happy thought on the part of the police, town, and Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway authorities.

If the motor boat enthusiasts at Mystic Lake are observing the regulations laid down last year by the MDC, these regulations need further tightening. For a time residents of Everett avenue seemed to feel the regulations, and especially the presence at the lake of an MDC officer in a patrol boat, had helped. Now complaints of the roar of the motors and the speeding of the boats are commencing again. Nor is it just those who live around the lake who are annoyed by the noise of the motors. They can be heard for some distance, especially if the wind is right. It is unthinkable that the MDC authorities can be entirely callous to conditions that are a nuisance to householders whose residence on the shores of Mystic long antedates the motorboats. Many in Winchester are saying that if the motorboating on Mystic is a fair index of what the MDC has in mind in its proposed greatly enlarged recreational area program they will want no part of it.

BOY SCOUT JAMBOREE

Scout officials feel that the simple but significant activities of living together by patrols and crews, cooking, giving demonstrations, hiking and taking part in huge arena shows and sectional activities all demonstrate democracy in action.

It is felt that the 50,000 or more campers will catch the spirit of patriotic service by living and sleeping where George Washington and his army camped, lived and suffered in that bitter winter of 1777-1778, and by so doing kept alive the spark of liberty and secured the nation's freedom.

The jamboree is a self-liquidating enterprise. Each participant pays a $50.00 fee, which provides the food, use of equipment, and covers the cost of building the camp.

The Supply Service Division of the Boy Scouts will operate five jamboree trading posts which will stock official equipment, souvenirs, hardware, drugs and miscellaneous items, and a snack section. Profits from these operations go into the general jamboree fund and become part of any possible refund made to jamboree campers.

An act of Congress adopted unanimously and signed by President Eisenhower, authorized the loan of certain camping equipment without cost to the United States with a bond to insure its return to the armed services in good condition.

The national jamboree is an object lesson to all participants, teaching them to pay their own way as a means of developing self-reliance and self-support. Many deserving Scouts are given additional aid by the troop, by the troop's sponsors and also by service clubs, fraternal, business, civic and labor organizations. Most Scouts earned funds by spare-time jobs. Some will represent home-town newspapers and radio stations as correspondents.

Jamboree campers are at least 12 years old with second-class Scout, Explorer apprentice or higher rank. Each has camping experience to enable him to care for himself in the open and a cooperative attitude toward fellow Scouts and leaders. Each participates in a three-day, pre-jamboree training camp and submits an official medical examination certificate of physical fitness. Within 24 hours after arrival at Valley Forge, he has a medical checkup.

Jamboree Statistics

A spectacular evening program on Friday, July 12, and Thursday, July 13, will take place in a natural amphitheatre holding 50,000 campers, and several thousand guests. The stage is 300 feet wide and 100 feet deep.

Arriving and departing by train will be 30,000 Scouts using 64 special trains. They will arrive at the Valley Forge or Port Kennedy stations of the Reading Railroad, or the Norristown station of the Pennsylvania Railroad on July 9, 10, and 11 and will depart July 19, 20 and 21. In addition, 32 fifteen-car trains will take 45,000 Jamboree campers to Philadelphia for historical tours during six days.

The Jamboree's own daily newspaper, "Jamboree Journal," will be distributed before breakfast. The Federal Communications Commission has issued a temporary license for radio station K3BSA to be operated at the jamboree by licensed "ham" operators. Through it campers may send important messages to distant points. The three transmitters of the official jamboree station are from the Boys' life radio club.

Warehouse space of 18,000 square feet is being used for the 52,920 cases of non-perishable foods weighing 752 tons. If laid end to end, frankfurters to be consumed by the boys would extend over 17 miles. Daily milk requirements will total 74,480 quarts, or the full average production of 7,448 cows.

Each day 1,500,000 gallons of water will flow through eight miles of water mains. Twelve miles of primary electric lines will bring in 900 kilowatts. Six 300-line switchboards will be the camp's own telephone system with 50 trunk lines to the outside world. The special phone number is Jamboree 3-7100. Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, routed through Philadelphia, Western Union has installed an office in the general headquarters area.

Dear Friend,

Regretfully I announce that for reasons of health I must relinquish active participation in my Texaco Service Station.

Needless to say, the twenty-one years I have served you and my other customers as a Texaco dealer have been most pleasant.

Because of this, and because I will continue to maintain a very vital interest in the business, I have felt a serious responsibility in the matter of selecting my successor. I feel very fortunate in having completed arrangements with BOB WHEATON to take over active management of the business.

Bob, too, has been in the service business for twenty-one years. He has a well-deserved reputation for skill and integrity.

Bob will continue to offer the same quality service and products that we did. He will be open evenings and Sundays for your convenience.

I am certain that your patronage of Bob will result in your complete satisfaction, and for this reason I would most appreciate your continuing to favor him with your business.

Sincerely,

HELP — For the Problem Drinker!

There is a way out. Alcoholics Anonymous

Adult Community to Blame

F. B. I. Head Says Youth's Needs Not Being Met

J. Edgar Hoover, head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, was quoted in a recent article published in the "New York Times" as saying that the great rise in juvenile delinquency stems largely from the failure of the adult community to understand and meet youth's needs. He said in part: "Juvenile delinquency is not a result of adult neglect. Without exception, acts of omission or commission by adult citizens underlie very young offenders' misdeeds."

If neglectful mothers and fathers were made to answer to society for the acts of vandalism and crime committed by their children, he asserts, "I feel our delinquency problem could be greatly reduced."

But, Mr. Hoover says, even though the home has failed, the child need not be lost to society, and society has a grave responsibility to the young victims of neglectful parents and broken homes. In a recent interview, Mr. Hoover spoke with understanding of and compassion for the "pitfalls of early misbehavior," which, he said, predate recorded history.

Must Understand Problem
The F. B. I. head expressed confidence in the ability of the American people to meet the problem head-on once it was really understood. But he thought it was time to stop fooling.

Asked what elements contribute to juvenile delinquency, Mr. Hoover said a number of factors underlie the delinquency problem. None, he feels however, is of greater importance than parental neglect. Partly too many mothers and fathers today are parents in name only, says Mr. Hoover. They display no real interest in their children's problems, associates or the activities which occupy their leisure time. Consciously or unconsciously, neglectful parents look upon the moral education of their children as a responsibility of the schools and the clergy.

They do not take the time to become a genuine part of their children's lives, and if the youngsters succeed in developing traits of good character and responsibility, they do so in spite of, not due to, the guidance and understanding accorded them at home.

Unified Action Needed
Prevention of delinquency, like prevention of other human problems, can be accomplished only through unified action and a will to do the job. Schools are charged with the care of youngsters through many of their wakeful hours. How many communities, however, is the educational system crippled by inadequate staffs and improper budgets? Denied funds and competent personnel, schools may be able to recognize the "problem child" but they cannot be expected to meet the challenge effectively with the positive, corrective action which is needed.

The church and Sunday school should play a prominent role in the life of every community. But in how many neighborhoods can the wholesome influence of religion truly be found? Do adults idly stand by while temptations are placed in the path of youngsters by persons who deal in printed filth, provide intoxicants to minors, encourage children to spend their lunch money on punchboards and slot machines, or otherwise attempt to undermine their morals?

A Tragedy
It is a tragedy that our citizens have not made better use of the instruments of delinquency prevention which are available in every community. In all too many areas the youth recreation programs, both public and private, are sorely inadequate.

How much better it would be to spend a few more million dollars in providing youngsters wholesome outlets for their youthful energies than to pour billions of dollars into reformatories, probation systems and related facilities which are necessary only because we have failed to act in time.

ON TEACHING MISSION TO SUMATRA

Of interest to Winchester residents who know the families of Mrs. Margaret Adriance Withington and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tonn will be the trip to Indonesia for two years of their son and daughter, respectively, Professor and Mrs. Withington and their young son Robert.

Dr. Withington has received an appointment as visiting professor of economic geography at Nommensen University, in Medan in Northern Sumatra. He will be participating in a program under the auspices of the National Lutheran Council to assist and develop fresh-man-year studies in the faculty of economics.

Dr. Withington will be on leave from the department of geography, University of Kentucky, where he has been teaching for the past two years.

The Withingtons are expecting a former Winchester resident, Harrison Parker, in Indonesia. Mr. Parker is acting representative of Ford Foundation at Djakarta, Java, the capital of the Republic of Indonesia.

PATENT TO CHARLES E. CLARKE

Charles E. Clarke of Winchester and Carl P. Spang, Wilestey, Mass. were the recipients on June 18, 1957 of U. S. patent No. 2,795,816, entitled "Hamburg Patty Making Machine".

The use of machines for making hamburger patties is well known. Such a device is generally in the form of an attachment that is mounted on the delivery end of the meat grinder, receives the ground meat in strip form and cuts it into patties of desired length. In one common construction, the attachment is manually operated so that the cutting knife or blade is manipulated by hand to sever the strip of ground meat into patties which fall or slide into a receptacle.

Messrs. Clarke and Spang have devised a hamburger patty making machine that is automatic in operation. It is attached to the meat grinder and receives the ground meat in the form of a strip which travels by gravity down an inclined tray. When the leading end of the strip engages a properly located switch arm, an electric solenoid is energized and causes the cutting blade to rapidly sever a patty. As the knife reaches the end of its cutting stroke, other circuits are energized so that the knife returns to its starting point from which it repeats the cutting cycle when the next leading end of the strip of ground meat engages the switch arm.

It should be noted that this apparatus of Messrs. Clarke and Spang may be adjusted to vary the length of the patties being cut. It includes a means for quickly separating each cut patty from the knife and is constructed so that the cutting knife cannot operate until such patty has cleared the switch arm. The arrangement is such that fraying of the strip at the edges is prevented. As additional advantageous features, the contrivance operates at high speed and is designed so that its parts may be easily cleaned.

This patent has been assigned to Needham Manufacturing Company, Inc., Needham Heights, Mass.

PILOT POST FOR GAFFNEY

Lt. Robert M. Gaffney, USAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Gaffney of 10 Glangarry, has been transferred from Palm Beach Air Force Base in Florida to Charleston Air Force Base in South Carolina. He has been assigned to the 22nd Air Transport Squadron and will serve as pilot of Douglas C-54 Sky-master aircraft flying missions to Germany, Newfoundland and the Azores.

Lt. Gaffney graduated from Winchester High School in 1952, attended United States Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn., and received his pilot's training at Reese Air Force Base in Lubbock, Texas.

He is married to the former Miss Ludonna Del Peck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Peck of Lubbock, Texas.

PLUMBING & HEATING SERVICE

Your plumbing costs less when done by an expert. When you put a Nicholson man to work on your plumbing job he needs no watching. He wastes no time. He does no experimenting. He makes no mess of your house. He gets the most out of every working moment. You get the most out of his long, intensive training. And, believe it or not, your bill is not high, but justified to a dollar by the very excellence and lasting quality of the work that has been performed.

SCHOOL CUSTODIANS
FOREGATHER
AT SALEM WILLOWS

Because the public school custodians worked on June 17 (schools still being in session) while all other Town of Winchester departments had the holiday off, the school officials granted the custodians a no-work day to compensate for their holiday labor.

Accordingly, last Thursday, June 27, an even dozen of the public school custodians journeyed by auto to Salem Willows for a day of leisure, fun and frolic!

Upon arrival at the accustomed picnic spot, on an elevated knoll above and overlooking the ocean at Salem Bay, it appeared to the "Brothers of the Mop and Brush," as they glared toward the baseball field and amusement park, that they were to have plenty of company.

For of all things, there was a queued-up, double or triple, line of kids stretched away across the ball field and out of sight among the amusement booths. An estimated five to six thousand children were there.

Upon investigation the janitors learned that several years ago a public benefactor by the name of Smith, a native of Salem, willd money which annually on one certain day, provides the following for any and all children of Salem, who care to accept: free transportation to and from Salem Willows; a bag of lunch, one free ride on each of the amusement attractions—all of this between 9:30 and 11:30 a.m.

The Winchester men, who so quite a few kids in the course of a year, turned to their own amusements and let the local officials attend to this detail.

Having learned from the previous year that park benches, tables, etc., are not always available, the custodians brought along a few folding chairs and tables. Right away Bob (Skitchie) Fiore set up the portable grill he had brought and built the charcoal fire which before long was toasting fragrant hot dawgs.

Since the high point in the day's activities was to be the shore dinner at Svenbeck's Sea Food House, and this was not to happen until about 1:30 p.m., the grilled "franks" allayed the pangs of hunger.

"Hoss Shoo" became the first athletic contest on the long and varied schedule of feats of skill. In fact, so many of the boys wanted to show their prowess in this field of sport, games were in progress for the greater part of the day.

Dick Fiore, of junior high, and President Peter Benson, from Lincoln School, actually were the champs. Brother Bob Fiore and Boss Dan O'Donnell of the high school, were runners up. Larry Kean of Wyman, Chub Phinney of Parkhurst, Billie Gibbons of Washington, Ken Pratt of Mystic School, and two youths of Salem Willows, who challenged the "Cuspidians," were "also rans!"

In the water sports and field events, which were more or less intermingled, Jimmie Allen of Noonan excelled in the low dive but unfortunately got tangled in the sea weed. Chubby Phinney, an exceptional broad jumper, sort of spilled on the turf, and had an exciting time, when "Skitchie" discovered a spider near his landing spot. Billie Gibbons, the Brothers Fiore, Al McKenzie, Ken Pratt and Ben Cullen, were also in the field events.

In the sedentary clashes of skill Fred Morris once more emerged as the top man at checkers. He had some rough encounters with Robert Fiore, Larry Kean, Al McKenzie and Ben Cullen.

At cards, playing 45's especially, those sticking longest at the game were Ben Cullen, Dan O'Donnell, Peter Benson, Larry Kean, Richard and Robert Fiore and Al McKenzie. As a kibitzer, and not knowing too much about "Decks of 52," to report the winners might lead to future argument. I pass!

As mentioned before the high spot of the custodians' outing was the shore dinner! For the past several years Mr. Svenbeck has gone out of his way to give the janitors a bang-up feed. This year was no exception. The food was fine and the service excellent, with cheery surroundings and warm hospitality thrown in.

By 6:30 p.m. the gang was back in Winchester after one of the most enjoyable outings the school custodians have experienced.

Those present were, from senior high school, Dan O'Donnell, Ben Cullen, Robert Fiore and Al McKenzie; Richard Fiore represented the junior high; Chubby Phinney of Parkhurst School; Larry Kean, the Wyman; Ken Pratt, Mystic; Peter Benson, the Lincoln; Jimmie Allen, from Noonan; and Billy Gibbons, the George Washington School. Fred Morris, formerly of the high school, was the special guest of the custodians.

DISABILITY PAYMENTS

The Cambridge social security district office at 2 Trowbridge street will be open all day Saturday, June 29, in addition to its normal weekly schedule. Gerald J. Murphy, district manager, said today. Mr. Murphy explained that this special Saturday schedule of office hours, from 9:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m., will enable the office to accept last-minute applications from severely disabled people who may be eligible for social security disability protection. This will be the only Saturday that the office will be open for business.

Mr. Murphy pointed out that people who have been disabled and unable to work for a long time must apply before June 30 for disability benefits or to have their earnings records "frozen." Otherwise, they may in some cases, lose their rights to disability payments and also their own and their families' rights to old-age and survivors payments.

Any severely disabled person who has worked under social security for at least 5 years and has been disabled for 6 months or more should get in touch with the Cambridge district office right away. If he is between 50 and 65, he may be eligible for monthly disability payments. If he is under 50, he may be eligible to protect his future right to disability payments as well as the rights of himself and his family to old-age and survivors payments.

"I get social security disability insurance benefits at age 50 or over, or to have your social security record 'frozen,'" said Mr. Murphy, "you must have social security credit for at least 5 years of work in the 10 years before you became disabled. At least a year and a half of that credit must be for working during the 3 years just before your disability began."

"In addition, you must have a disability which, in the words of the law, makes you unable to engage in any substantial gainful activity. It must be the kind of physical or mental condition which will show up in a medical examination or tests, and it must have lasted for at least 6 months and be expected to continue for a long and indefinite time."

Mr. Murphy emphasized that any disabled person who feels that he might qualify under these provisions of the Social Security Act should get in touch with the social security district office before June 30 by letter, phone, or in person. If he is not able to do so himself, someone else may make the contact for him.

ANNUAL SCHOOL VACATION

At this season of the year, the Registrar of Motor Vehicles who is also Chairman of the Massachusetts Highway Safety Committee, appeals to motorists, parents, and guardians to cooperate with the enforcement officials in their efforts to create safer highway conditions during the annual vacation period.

"Within a very few days, more than 950,000 Massachusetts school-age children will leave their public, parochial, and private school classrooms to enjoy the annual summer vacation," said the Registrar. "We now have more than 2,114,000 licensed operators in the Commonwealth and we have registered approximately 65,000 more motor vehicles than in the same period of a year ago. Massachusetts motorists have traveled approximately 105,000,000 more miles than in the first quarter of 1956—indicating a greater exposure to driving hazards and accidents during the critical driving season ahead. Great numbers of vacationists and tourists from other states will add to congestion on our highways, making reasonable operation behind the wheel and 'heads-up' walking more imperative than ever."

"Officers of the State Police, the Metropolitan Police, Police of all communities, and the enforcement branch of the Registry of Motor Vehicles will require the assistance of motorists, guardians, and pedestrians in the protection of these vacationing youngsters. The Massachusetts Highway Safety Committee urges everyone to be unusually alert to the presence of children in the highways and makes a special appeal to parents to provide closer supervision for their children if they are to be protected from involvement in accidents which kill, cripple, and maim."

NEW DIAPER AT MCCORMACK'S

McCormack's Apothecary is pioneering in the sale of one of the most unusual baby diapers ever introduced in this area. The diaper is shaped like a B-29 to make one size fit all age babies without folding. Just put your baby on the built-in, wing section, go in back, tail section in front, bomb-bay snugs up in crotch to absorb like a sponge. The B-29 was invented by a Texan, Fred Dexter. It is actually small enough to carry in your purse, wash in a small basin and dry one underneath another on a coat hanger. Just the one size to buy and so easy to wash and dry indoors on days that 3 dozen is all you need for one baby from birth through 3 years.

Dexter calls his creation the "Dexter Diaper" and the name is sewn in every genuine diaper for your protection.

GREER COMPANY ANNOUNCES
NEW DIVISIONAL MANAGER

J. W. Greer Company, Wilmington, manufacturers of continuous production machinery, announces the appointment of Thomas F. Spooner as Manager of its Bread and Cake Equipment Division. The appointment is designed to broaden the scope of Greer's service to that segment of the baking industry.

Mr. Spooner, a graduate of Northeastern University, has been associated with the baking industry for over 10 years. He has served the Greer organization in both engineering and sales capacities. He is a member of the American Society of Bakery Engineers, a graduate of the American Institute of Baking, and Chairman of the Foreign Trade Committee of the Baking Equipment Manufacturers Association.

Active in community and social work, Mr. Spooner is a past President of the Y.M.C.A.'s, of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, and at present is Vice-President of the Woburn association of that organization.

RECEIVED MAYFLOWER BIBLE

Miss Deborah R. Norris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Penton H. Norris of Lawson road, has one of the 66 coveted Bibles brought to this country in the Mayflower II.

Miss Norris is an employee of the Pilgrim Press Publishing Company of Boston, which was able to purchase one of the Bibles, the first six of which went to the New England Governors. The remaining 60 were distributed to Churches, historical groups and publishing houses throughout the country.

Miss Norris, having heard that the Bibles were coming, had put in a request for one of those the Pilgrim Press were expected to get, so, because of her advance interest, she was permitted to have the one the firm received. She can make a strong claim to the Bible since on her father's side she is a direct descendant of the Pilgrim Peregrine White, who was born on the Mayflower.

Printed in Scotland, the Bible is a King James Version with a beautiful flexible leather cover stamped in gold with a likeness of the Mayflower and the dates, 1620-1957. On the flyleaf is printed the story of the Mayflower II. Of the 66 books, numbered consecutively, Miss Norris has book No. 9. It has been much admired by those who have seen it.

JOSEPHSON SOLDIER OF MONTH

Army PFC Sherman R. Josephson, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave A. Josephson of 8 Fairmount street, recently was named Soldier of the Month for the 3rd Armored Division's Headquarters Company in Germany.

An administrative clerk in the division public information office, he was selected in competition on a basis of neatness, knowledge of military subjects and efficient performance of assigned duties.

Josephson entered the Army last September, completed basic training at Fort Hood, Tex., and arrived overseas in April of this year. He was graduated from Winchester High School, and from Boston University in the class of 1956.

Sunday Services at 11:00 a.m.

Sunday School is held at the same time as the Church Service.
Reading Room, 5 Winchester Terrace (off Thompson street). Open daily except Sundays and holidays from 11:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

The supremacy and all-power of God—His Life, Truth, and Love—will be emphasized at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Selections to be read from the Bible in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God" includes the following from Job (1:2): "Have not I commanded thee? Be strong and of good courage; for I will not be afraid, neither be thou dismayed: for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (228:25-27): "There is no power apart from God. Omnipotence has all power, and to acknowledge any other power is to dishonor God."

The Golden Text is from Joel (2:27): "Ye shall know that I am the Lord your God, and that I am the Lord your God, and none else."

BIRDS BUILDING CUPS AND SAUCERS, HOUSEBOATS, PENTHOUSES, AND OVENS

Across North America millions of birds are hard at work making cups, saucers, ovens, houseboats, jugs, and penthouses in which to lay their eggs.

Some move into unfurnished apartments — old nests of other species or man-made birdhouses. A few gadabouts, avian parasites, build no nests but foist their offspring on chance acquaintances.

The architectural skill of birds ranges from the sublime to the non-existent. For some birds, home is any old spot on the ground where an egg can be hatched.

Use All Materials
Almost every conceivable kind of building material is used, says the National Geographic Society. Mud makes up the juggle nest of the cliff swallow, and forms the foundation for robins' cup nests in city parks.

The chimney swift plucks dead twigs in flight, then glues them together with saliva to shape a half saucer inside a chimney.

Twigs don't interest an eagle. It thinks nothing of carrying limbs the size of an oak to its penthouse atop a tree. Eagles have been known to equip their massive, untidy aeries with lightbulbs, fishhooks, and golf balls.

While most birds build a new home each year, some take over the nests of others. For bluebirds and crowd flycatchers, an abandoned woodpecker hole is high on the demand list of avian real estate.

The flycatcher almost always adds a distinctive bit of decoration to a dried snakeskin. Some have gone modern. When snakeskin is unavailable, cellophane will do.

On a woodland floor, the ovenbird builds the nest that gives its name—a dome of coarse grasses, weed stalks, and leaves that resembles an old-fashioned oven.

The black and orange oriole knits together a hammock of plant fibers, sticks, grasses, and bark. Its pendulous, gourd-shaped, nest swings from the end of a branch.

Down Mattresses
Certain birds, in their search for nesting material, do not look far. Ducks pluck down from their underparts to make a soft, warm nest lining.

Grebes pile up decayed vegetation to form a houseboat, moored to marsh plants. It rises and falls with water level, keeping the babies dry.

The marsh weaves itself a ball like a house, and cattails fronds. Males arrive at the nesting ground before the females. They occupy their time building several nests. To no avail. The female builds her own. The spurned work of the males may serve to distract predators from the real home.

The cowbird, disdainful to soil its nest with honest labor, lays its eggs in the nests of other birds. Many a hostess bird raises the intruder, fetching food constantly. In some instances, the baby cowbird is bigger than the foster parent raising for it.

Cannier victims will build a new nest over the cowbird egg. One warbler built seven such nests in succession, isolating a cowbird egg in each of the six understories.

North America's native elk used to range over much of the United States and Canada, says the National Geographic Society. Indians called it "wapiti," English colonists named it elk after Europe's big deer. As settlers slaughtered for meat and skin, the elk retreated westward. Like the bison, or buffalo, it barely escaped extinction.

Insure Saving

Most folks think of a co-operative bank in terms of home mortgages. True, we have helped thousands of people become home owners.

Equally important is the way we have helped other thousands build security for themselves through our systematic savings plans.

Serial shares bought on a monthly installment program (even as low as $1.00 per month) have proven to be the surest, safest and most convenient way to lay aside savings for the future.

LITTLE LEAGUE

As the 1957 Little League season approached its end, the battle for the second half championships increased in intensity.

Typical of the games being played was the contest between the Yankees and the Red Sox, which the latter won 3-2.

The Sox got all their runs in the first inning with the aid of three walks. After the first two batters Scherban and Tansey had walked, Peckham reached on an error allowing one run to score and permitting Tansey to go to third. The Sox then worked a double steal with the second run crossing the plate before the return throw to home. Peckham took third on the throw home and after a Grady walk, the Red Sox once again successfully worked a double steal.

In the fifth inning the Yanks picked up their two runs. Cunningham started the rally with a walk and moved to third on a double by Reardon. After a wild pitch had allowed one run to score, a single by Colliander drove in the second.

American League
Over in the American League the competition was just as intense, but the Cardinals were slowly but surely drawing away from the rest of the league.

In what could be called a preview of the championship playoff contenders in this league was the game between the first half champions, the Reds, and the front runner Cardinals, which the Red Birds won 4-3.

In the first inning the Cards picked up two runs, after they had loaded the bases on a hit, a fielder's choice with all the runners safe and a walk. Kaplan hit a ground ball which was dropped by the pitcher who was covering first, the error permitting two runs to score.

The Reds tied the game up in the same inning on a single by Schipellite, a double by Zana driving in the first run, and a ground out with Zana scoring from third.

The Cardinals went ahead for good in the second. They came up with a run as Scherban moved around the bases on interference by the catcher, two stolen bases, and an error of omission. The third baseman forgot to cover the base when Scherban stole, thus allowing the throw from the catcher to go into left field.

In the fourth the Cardinals picked up what proved to be the winning run. Howard led off the inning with a single and moved around to third when the throw in got away. Kaplan then singled him home.

The Reds closed the scoring gap to one run in the next inning when hits by Foley and Keane, plus a single by Scherban, moved them to a 2-1 lead.

The A's got their first run in the first inning on a double by Lynch and a single by Wholley.

In the third the Athletics exploded the rally with a walk, Page followed with a bunt single and when a pick-off throw to second by the catcher went into center field both runners advanced. Lynch then reached on an error, permitting one run to score, with Lynch taking Athletics Win.

The Reds also met defeat at the hands of the Athletics, this time by the score of 5-4.

The A's got their first run in the first inning on a double by Lynch and a single by Wholley.

In the third the Athletics exploded the rally for four runs. Bennett started the rally with a walk, Page followed with a bunt single and when a pick-off throw to second by the catcher went into center field both runners advanced. Lynch then reached on an error, permitting one run to score, with Lynch taking Athletics Win.

Governor

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, The highway accident problem in our country—and in Massachusetts no less than in other states—today has reached proportions of alarm, with an attendant record plagued with tragedy and suffering and with property loss exceeding $100,000,000 annually, and

WHEREAS, The solution rests not alone with enforcement officials, but with all pedestrians and motorists alike in developing for their own protection a personal awareness of highway dangers and a thorough intent to combat the factors that create them, and

WHEREAS, The Massachusetts Citizens' Organization for Highway Accident Prevention—comprising fraternal, veteran, educational, religious, labor, and other groups—is engaged in a significant effort to awaken public interest in the need for determined cooperation, and

WHEREAS, The Citizens' Organization stresses that highway accidents can be avoided if traffic laws are obeyed, highway courtesies extended, sound moral principles followed, and if highway safety is kept constantly in the foreground of discussions among friends, acquaintances, and groups, and

WHEREAS, The month of July particularly is being set aside as a period in which attention will be focused sharply by the Citizens' Organization on prevention of highway accidents and in forging a public consciousness of the indifference that prevails;

NOW, therefore, I, FOSTER FURCOLO, Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, do hereby proclaim the month of July, 1957, as

and call upon our people to join in helping reduce highway tragedies and in building a record of safety in July as a standard for all succeeding months that follow.

GIVEN at the Executive Chamber in Boston, this twenty-fourth day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifty-seven, and of the Independence of the United States of America, the one-hundred and eighty-first.

By His Excellency the Governor FOSTER FURCOLO

Mrs. Philbrook to Resign

Chief Librarian To Leave Post In October

The Board of Library Trustees announces with regret the resignation of Mrs. Dana Philbrook (formerly Doris Maxwell), chief librarian of the public library, to become effective in October.

Mrs. Philbrook became associated with the library over 25 years ago as a part-time assistant while still a student at the Winchester High School. Upon completion of her professional requirements, she advanced through various staff positions to the post of assistant librarian, in which capacity she served for eleven years. She was appointed chief librarian in 1955 to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of her predecessor, Miss Corinne Mead.

Mrs. Philbrook has been instrumental in many progressive changes which have provided improved library services to the community. She inaugurated the weekly recorded music programs which have met with such enthusiastic response.

An active participant in library group affairs, she is a member of the Pioneer Library Club, Charles River Library Club, the Massachusetts Library Association, and is highly regarded in library circles.

Mr. and Mrs. Philbrook have recently purchased a home in Wayland, where they will reside after Mrs. Philbrook's retirement.

To fill the vacancy, Mrs. Eugene Smith, who is now the assistant librarian, has been appointed as the new chief librarian. Mrs. Smith has returned to live in Winchester and will be remembered by many Winchester people as Lois Gibson, formerly librarian of Winchester High School from 1928-1933. Since that time, Mrs. Smith has had excellent and varied library experience in school, college and public libraries in Massachusetts, Maine and Arizona. Winchester is fortunate in having a person of Mrs. Smith's excellent background and capabilities as its new librarian.

Mrs. Eugene Winter will become the new assistant librarian when Mrs. Smith takes over her duties as head librarian. Mrs. Winter is present the young adults' librarian and in charge of special services such as the hospital library service.

LIFE LINES

GENIUS

by Col. Ralph T. Miller
The Salvation Army
Pablo Sarasate, the great Spanish violinist, was once asked how it felt to be a "genius." He shook his head in mock sorrow, and said, "For the last thirty-seven years, I have practiced and studied for fourteen hours a day, and now they want to call me a genius!"

God has given to each one of us some special talent: a versatile mind, a pleasing personality, a fruitful imagination, capacity for manual work—the list is endless. But one thing is sure: you have some particular talent that only you possess.

But whatever your talent is, only by hard work may it reach its fullest development, and become "genius."

The more we develop our talents by perseverance, by practice, by hard work, by prayer, the more we can accomplish. Life is empty, futile, without the assurance that we are amounting to something, doing something, accomplishing something.

True success is a combination of prayer, perseverance, purpose, and perspiration.

"God condescends to use us as His instruments," it is written.

Let us make sure that we are good instruments, sharp instruments, bright instruments, instruments through which He can work, to bring His holy purposes to man.

To be that is the only success; not to be that is the only failure.

GROUND BROKEN FOR NEW CALIDYNE PLANT

Ground was broken Monday for the new half-million dollar plant to be erected by the Calidyne Company of Cross street, in Woburn off Route 128.

In the presence of Woburn City and Massachusetts Department of Commerce officials, Robert G. Lewis of Winchester, general manager and general partner of the company, turned the first earth for the new plant, assisted by Mayor William G. Shaughnessy of Woburn. Catered refreshments were served.

Calidyne's new plant will make it possible for the company to house under one roof units that have been located both in Winchester and Woburn. The new plant will have a 45,000 square foot floor space on a 12½-acre lot. After several years in a fine new plant in Winchester the company had to leave town for its new location because no lot large enough for its new plant could be found without complications the company was unwilling to encounter.

Three Winchester men, "Bob" Lewis, "Phil" Efronson and "Tom" Gouzele are general partners in the Calidyne firm which is considered the world's leading manufacturer of vibration test equipment used in the design and production of many types of industrial, military and commercial products.

It is expected that the new plant will be ready for occupancy early in 1958.

SWIMMERS CAUGHT

Five out-of-town boys were discovered swimming at Palmer Beach shortly after midnight Monday night when Hugh J. Erskine of 41 Lake street called police to report two cars parked in his back yard near his trucks. He told police that he suspected someone was attempting to steal gas from the vehicles.

The boys were warned that they were trespassing and were ordered to leave the cars. They told police they had no intention of stealing gas, but had parked there to avoid driving attention to their cars while they were sleeping.

Holds Important Mid-East Post

Seager Works For West
On U. S. Mission

Cedric Seager, formerly of Yale street, whose wife is the former Gertrude Packer, daughter of the late Rev. William S. Packer, for many years a resident of this town, is playing an important part in the United States mission to the Middle East.

Mr. Seager was a member of the Richardson Mission which visited fifteen countries in the Middle East and Africa between March 12 and May 10, 1956. Two weeks later he returned to the United States on a mission for the Department of State, requiring high-level consultation with government officials in Jordan and Iraq.

After six years in Washington Mr. Seager will leave shortly to assume the duties of Chief of the United States Operations Mission in Morocco. He will reside in Rabat and will be concerned with the economic problems of that country and the development of a broad-scale program of technical assistance.

Playing Historic Role
Coldest of all Joseph Alsop in the Washington Post and Times Herald of June 10, writes that in heralding to look into the matter of American aid to the young King Hussein, Cedric Seager is playing an historic role.

On the Seager decisions and the Gt. Britain action in the Middle East, Mr. Alsop writes that the success or failure of the Western Powers to keep Jordan and indeed the whole Middle East out of the Communist Camp.

Little Jordan is the key to Iraq and Iraq is the key to all those countries of the Middle East on whom the strength of the West depends.

Seager Decisions Vital
One of the reasons the Seager decisions in Jordan are so vital is the fact that the young King Hussein's victory over the pro-Communist and their pro-Communist allies is both temporary and shaky. A large part of Jordan's population is now refugees from Israel who in their present embittered and impoverished state are easy prey for Egyptian, Syrian and Communist agents.

Little Jordan is a poor country, even the famed Arab Legion, necessary support of King Hussein's throne, being paid for in the past by $35 million of foreign subsidy. Under present conditions Hussein can count only on the $14 million of King Saud of Saudi Arabia, leaving a deficit of more than $20 million. Egyptians and Syrians, though paying the price of their share, are at best unfriendly to Hussein, if not his out-and-out enemies.

Works Program Vital
If Hussein's rule is to be maintained a large-scale works program to provide jobs must be instituted at a minimum cost of $25 million, with other assistance to the total amount of $50 million of new money, insignificant by American standards and budget standards. Yet by the standards of Jordan these figures being presented to Mr. Seager mean life or death to the country.

Perhaps the most important thing Mr. Seager will have to report on Jordan is that the American money provided must go with no strings attached, no military aid group or officers staffed with civilian administrators. Otherwise the money can do more harm than good.

Children's Theatre on TV

"Stolen Prince" On Channel 2 August 5

One of the three plays in the April production of the Children's Theatre School, presented by the Winchester Community Theatre, Inc., has been selected for a TV program. "The Stolen Prince," featuring the younger children from five to ten years old in a charming Chinese fairytale, will be on TV Channel 2 on Monday, August 5, from 9 to 10 p.m.

Program Director, Mr. Leland Stearns, visited Mrs. Samoiloff recently, having heard of the artistic success of the Children's Theatre work, to discuss the possibility of using some of her children. The older children of the "Tom Sawyer" and "Little Women" casts will be disappointed, no doubt, but because the studio had used Adele Thane's Boston Children's Theatre Production of "Tom Sawyer," and the familiarity of "Little Women," "The Stolen Prince" was chosen.

The children will be on the air beginning at 9:00 o'clock showing the scenery set-up, studio cameras and lights adjusted, parts of the rehearsal with corrections by the producer and director, Mrs. Samoiloff, and her criticism of the actors, and spontaneous suggestions of the children. The final part of the program will be the run-through of the play, finishing at 10:00.

The National Children's Theatre Conference, which will be held at Tufts College in mid-August, will also have a program on Channel 2. Jimmie von Rosenzweig, the Tom Sawyer, and veteran actor of "Snow White" and John in "Peter Pan," will be the property man and will commute for rehearsals on his tractor and sheep showing on his New Hampshire farm, Romy and Edward Marcy, who have leading parts, will commute from South Chatham. The other children are enjoying renewal of acting hours.

For this, the 12th annual Jaycee Golf Tournament, July 15th, is eligible to compete in the sectional qualifying round being held the fifteenth of July at the Fresh Pond Golf Club.

The scores of this round will determine the semi-finalists who will receive an expenses paid trip to the State Championships in Lowell on July 18th and 19th.

The four top qualifying scores in the Lowell tourney will represent the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in the Junior Chamber of Commerce International Golf Championships to be held in Columbus, Ohio during August of this year.

Entries for this, the 12th annual Jaycee Golf Tournament, July 15th, is eligible to compete in the sectional qualifying round being held the fifteenth of July at the Fresh Pond Golf Club.

Register early as a large field is expected to tee off on Monday. You may very well represent this state in the Nationals.

TO ATTEND

BRUSSELS SYMPOSIUM

Dr. Leonard C. Mead of 10 Mt. Pleasant street, dean of the Tufts University Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, will attend a symposium on military psychology in Brussels, Belgium, July 26 and 27, and from July 27 to August 3 will attend the 15th International Congress of Psychology in Brussels. At the Congress Dr. Mead will serve as consultant to the Army Chemical Corps in Human Engineering.

Dr. Mead will make the trip to Europe sans cast, which was removed about a week ago. For the past two months he has worn a cast as the result of a broken clavicle which he incurred in his back yard while endeavoring to demonstrate to his children a few techniques of basketball playing. The young Meads now know how not to play the hoop game.

BURLINGTON WOMAN

IN CAMBRIDGE ST. ACCIDENT

An auto driven by Mrs. Ruth M. Shaw of Burlington was forced off Cambridge street Tuesday night by an unidentified car.

Mrs. Shaw was driving north on Cambridge street between Church and Calmet roads when another car going in the same direction forced her off the road, causing her to hit an Edison pole.

The right front headlight and mirror were broken, but there was no damage to the pole.

Mrs. Shaw told police she was unable to get the license number of the other car which sped on without stopping.

HOME FROM WESTERN TRIP

Town Counsel and Mrs. Vincent P. Clarke of Bacon street arrived home early Monday morning from a 6500-mile motor trip west to Denver, Colorado, where Mr. Clarke attended the convention of the Good Will Industries. He is a director of and counsel for this huge enterprise which has 120 different industries in this country, as well as units in 17 foreign countries, and employs 32,000 persons.

The Clarkes made the trip west by way of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Nebraska, taking the "turkey" route and visiting Pike's Peak in Colorado.

After several days in Denver they went on to visit Grand Teton National Park, Yellowstone National Park and Rushmore National Park, thrilling to the sight of the great stone faces of national heroes at Rushmore.

After South Dakota and the Black Hills, the Clarkes headed back east by way of Sault Ste. Marie and the northern route about Lake Michigan, going through Ontario, Sudbury, North Bay, Ottawa, Montreal and home. Mr. and Mrs. Clarke attended church in Montreal Sunday morning and were back in Winchester shortly after midnight Monday morning.

Highest Decoration to Volpe

Made Grand Officer Of Italian Order Of Merit

The highest decoration of the Italian Government, Grand Officer of the Order of Merit of the Republic, has been awarded to John A. Volpe, head of the construction company which bears his name. Formal presentation was made yesterday in Rome City Hall at a special ceremony conducted by Senator Umberto Tupini, a leader of the Italian Senate and Mayor of Rome.

In attendance at the ceremony were numerous prominent Italian citizens, close friends of Mr. Volpe, who maintains a branch of his firm in Rome. Also present were Mr. Volpe's counsel, Attorney Joseph Tauro of Lynn, vice-president of the Massachusetts Trial Lawyers Association and president of Boston University Law School Association, and Biagio Farese, noted radio commentator who is known as the Italian Voice of Massachusetts.

STUDYING IN FRANCE

Miss Grace H. Vanner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Vanner of 10 Oxford street, landed at Rotterdam last week (June 29), having sailed on the S. S. Nieuw Amsterdam to attend the advanced Summer School in France operated under the auspices of the Northampton School for Girls, Northampton, and Ecole Champlain, a French camp in Vermont.

Grace, who has been a student at The Winsor School, Boston, was one of twenty-two girls from almost as many different independent schools who were selected for this advanced French course, after having studied at the Summer School of French in the Northampton School campus or having been recommended by their schools. Girls who have made a good record in French at their respective schools are eligible for the European study which centers about Le Montreux, a well-known French independent school.

Besides the weeks spent at Ecole du Montreux, the group will take a ten-day trip by auto to the Riviera, and one through Normandy, Brittany, and Touraine. They will sail for home on the Nieuw Amsterdam on August 28, arriving in New York on August 28.

Volpe was recently named Man of the Year by the Sons of Italy, of which he is a state officer. Prior to his receiving yesterday's top award, Volpe had been given by President Gronchi in April of 1956 a lesser honor degree, the Commendatore of the same order. Mayor Hynes was also given the Commendatore award last week during the Rome Salute.

The Union Services will be held this Sunday morning at 10:00 a. m. The Second Congregational Church.

The Rev. Norman L. Smith will preach on the topic, "Responsible Christianity."

Laying Pipe to Spot Pond

Over-Ground Main For Possible Emergency Use

Water Superintendent James Halwartz told the Star yesterday that work commenced that morning on the laying of an eight-inch water line from the town's Middle Reservoir to Spot Pond, the Metropolitan District Commission's reservoir in Stoughton.

The Water Commissioners were authorized to join the Metropolitan Water System at the March Town Meeting, and a permanent line will be laid connecting the Spot Pond Reservoir with our reservoir system as soon as a bid on the job can be accepted. Bids for the necessary construction will be taken next week, but the best estimate that can be secured for the completion of the permanent connection is six weeks from the time work actually begins.

Superintendent Halwartz said this six weeks may become substantially longer in the event unforeseen difficulties, such as a preponderance of ledge, are encountered in the job.

The overground main, on which work was begun yesterday, is for use in just such an emergency.

COMMITTEE TO STUDY

TOWN MEETING FORMED

At the last special town meeting, it was decided to study the efficiency of the town meeting system. The following vote was unanimously adopted: VOTED, That a committee be hereby established consisting of seven citizens of the town, one of whom shall be the Moderator, one the Chairman of the Selectmen or whoever he may designate, one the Chairman of the Committee or whoever he may designate and four shall be appointed by the Moderator. The committee shall study the efficiency of the annual town meeting as presently organized and shall prepare relevant thereto including preliminary hearings, the length and time of holding sessions of the meeting, and a review of Article I of the town by-laws and Chapter 167 of the Acts of 1925 of the General Court. The committee shall also investigate and consider the conduct of meetings in other towns. The committee shall submit its report at any subsequent town meeting and shall in any event file its report in time for publication in the annual town report so that it can be acted upon at the annual town meeting. The sum of $50 is hereby appropriated and transferred from the available funds in the Excess and Deficiency account for the expenses of the committee.

In accordance with the above vote, a committee has been formed, as follows:

Harrison Chadwick, 24 Everett avenue, Moderator

John A. Dolan, 11 Eaton street, (representing the Selectmen)

Austin Broadhurst, 18 Glen road, (representing the Finance Committee)

James F. Denton, 71 Woodside road, (by the Moderator)

Frank D. Hawkins, 242 Highland avenue, (by the Moderator)

Mrs. Margery B. Livingstone, 12 Chestnut street, (by the Moderator)

Mrs. Elizabeth C. McDonald, 10 Hill street, (by the Moderator)

Although the committee will not commence regular meetings until mid-July, it has already started studying background material.

ROLAND MOODY NAMED TO NORTHEASTERN U. CABINET

Roland H. Moody, 11 Crescent road, has been appointed to the Northeastern University Cabinet for the academic year 1957-58, it was announced by Northeastern President Carl S. Eli. He is director of the university library.

Many believe that another statement from the Water Commissioners should be made to answer questions of policy and otherwise clear up what may be misconceptions generally held in connection with the restriction of water use. Meanwhile there is no prospect of any lessening of the drastic restriction in the near future.

BOAT CLUB NEWS

DAY ELECTED JUNIOR COMMODORE

John T. Day, popular and capable Skipper, was elected by his fellow junior members of the Winchester Boat Club as their commodore. The election took place on the 4th of July, and John becomes the first junior commodore ever elected. The reason for the move to set up a junior group is to give them more of a voice in the affairs of the club. Junior membership is at an all-time high and it is felt by the senior club officers that the juniors should take a more active part in the running of the club. Elected with John were:

Vice-Commodore — C. Clifford Austin, Jr.
Treasurer — Gayle Rawson
Secretary — Ann M. Legere
Board of Directors — Thomas W. O'Connor, Lester G. Whittaker, Jr., Edward W. Miller, John Montminy, Carol A. Meeks
Holiday Clambake Huge Success
Nearly 300 hungry Boat Club members and their guests gulped gallons of delicious fish chowder prepared by Mrs. Broder, and hundreds of perfectly prepared 1½-lb. lobsters and then, after a much needed rest, square danced on the black top until much too late. This is just another way to say that one more extremely successful July 4th clambake was held at the Boat Club.

But to make all this possible it took many, many hours and many, many people. Here's the clambake committee that did the work:

Fireman — Weenie Pratt
Cooks — Daw Blamire, Walt Josephson
Lobster Cutters — John Powers, Jay Powers, Ted Shidler, Bill Bartel

Waitresses — Ann Legere, Zeda Rawson, Ann Rawson, Gail Rawson, Mary Scribner

Setting-up Tables — Ralph Swanson
Helpers — Dick Moriarity, Vinnie Murphy, Danny Scott

Sportswise the club was a beehive of activity, too. In the morning Dick Ivers and Peter Freyer teamed up to take winners honors over the Shipe fleet. Ted Shidler and Heidi Snow topped the Turnabouts. In the fishing contest Roger Newton caught the largest fish. Bill O'Malley got the prize for the most. In the swimming events Chip Broadhurst won the 25-yard dash for 10-year-olds and under. Kevin Landry for 14-year-olds and under. Jay Powers won the 50-yard dash. Dick Flaherty the 100-yard free style. In a special mothers' swimming event Beverly Brinkerhoff proved to be the most graceful and capable diver. Lynn and Scott Anderson teetered off with top honors in the three-legged race and Kevin Powers proved tops in the sack race. The committee in charge of these athletic events included T. Legere, V. Murphy, D. Scott, Stan Gardiner, Walt Josephson, and Charles Newton.

Fleet Facts
Herby Alderson and Dick Ivers shared honors over the Shipe fleet last week end, Herb winning Saturday and Dick Sunday. As of this writing, Alderson is leading the fleet, with Legere, Ivers and the Cook Brothers close in his wake. Most of the top skippers are off to Quassapog this week end to see if they can return the Winchester Challenge Cup to our clubhouse. Show those Connecticut skippers how to do it, gang.

BABE RUTH ALL-STARS PLAY SATURDAY

The first game in the Massachusetts Sectional Tournament will be at Manchester Field, Saturday, July 13th, 2:15 p.m. when the Lowell All-Stars meet our Winchester boys.

Of last year's team, six are left, Carl Arlanson, Paul Del Rossi, Doug Martell, Steve Powers, Whipper Smith, and Tony Tofuri. Mike Bellino, Larry Capodipupo, Roger DeMinico, Bobby Freeman, Vandy French, Gary Gardner, Mike Gray, Dana Kelly and Danny Serjeka bring the roster up to fifteen, with Dale Grinnell and Rodney Gay on the reserve list.

With a Winchester victory Saturday, the next game will be July 20th, either at Belmont or Swampscott. With continued success the third game is also scheduled for Winchester, July 27th.

The winner of this game will represent Sections VII and VIII at the State Tournament at Amherst, August 3rd and 4th. The New England Regional Finals will be played at Norwalk, Conn. August 8th-11th, with the "World Series" at the spacious and beautiful University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan August 20th-24th.

Many fans will remember the All-Stars games of the past and the players and manager, Paul Connors are looking forward to a large gathering of supporters on Saturday. In event of rain, the game will be played the following day.

SPORTS FILMS AT ELKS

Through the courtesy of Mr. John Gorman of Bacon street, Schaefer's Beer is showing several sports films Saturday evening at the Elks Home on Elmwood avenue. It is expected that the films will include the Marciano-Moore heavyweight championship fight and the World Series.

Winchester Elks are looking forward to an evening of real interest and enjoyment, with the pictures being augmented by refreshments. The evening is being sponsored by the Elks House Committee and is expected to attract a large attendance.

Cadet Paul B. Repetto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Repetto of 36 Mt. Pleasant street, is one of 254 ROTC Cadets who have reported to the 1957 ROTC Summer Camp at Fort Lee, Virginia, for six weeks training.

With the season coming to an end last week except for some make-up games, the playoffs for the League Championships will have started in the early part of this week. In the American League playoffs the Cardinals will meet the Reds. In the National League due to a tie between the first half champion Dodgers and the Red Sox and with another game left for both teams, the second half champion has yet to be decided.

One of the best games of the season was played between the Reds and Pirates which the latter won 3 to 2. The Reds pitcher, Peter Fabyan, had pitched a no hit, no run ball game until the Pirates scored three times in their half of the sixth.

McClennan started the rally with a walk and was followed by another walk and a hit batter to lead the bases. Govevost then walked to force in one run. The next two batters went out and if Fabyan could get the next batter, Papile, out he would have a no hit, no run ball game. But Papile poked out a single to left that landed on the foul line scoring two runs.

The Reds had scored their first run in the second on an error, a single, a ground out and a hit by Gallagher.

Their other run came in the next inning when Foley moved around the bases on a fielder's choice, two passed balls, and a wild pitch.

In the National League the Dodgers and Braves squared off in a real slugfest, which the Dodgers won 11 to 6.

The Dodgers drew first blood as they came up with a run in the first on an error, a hit batter, and a double by Hession. In the second the Dodgers scored another when Manzie walked and advanced around the bases on a stolen base, a ground out, and a sacrifice fly.

The Dodgers, who scored in every inning but the last, added two more to their total in the third. Reardon led off with a hit and after Fitzgerald walked, both runners moved up on a pass ball. Hession then grounded to third, but the throw to the plate in an attempt to get Reardon was late and he scored. Johns then walked to fill the bases and MacArthur followed suit to force in another run.

The Braves entered the scoring column in this same inning on a walk to Hiehorn, a single by Lindsey moving Hiehorn to third, and a passed ball.

The Dodgers made it seven to one in the fourth. Doherty and Reardon both reached on infield hits and advanced a base on a passed ball while the next batter was striking out. Hession then singled driving in one run as did Johns who followed.

In the same inning the Braves closed the gap some when they scored twice. Lawson and Winn reached on an error and a walk. Lawson then stole third and on the next pitch the Braves worked a successful double steal. Kimball then doubled, driving in Winn.

The next inning saw the Dodgers break the game wide open as they came up with five runs. Manzie and Luongo reached on errors to start the rally. Barnes then singled in Manzie with Luongo taking third from where he scored on a passed ball. The Dodgers then loaded the bases on a walk and a fielder's choice with the runner being safe. An error on Hession's ground ball accounted for two more tallies and a ground out permitted another to cross the plate.

A three run homer by Benincasa added the final scoring total in the Braves half of the fifth.

Back in the American League the Reds and Athletics met in the second game of a Fourth of July double header with the Athletics downing the Reds 2 to 0.

The A's scored first on a double by Hession, two walks, and a single by Bird. The A's other run was the result of another hit by Bird who then moved around the bases on two passed balls and a ground out.

The Red's lone tally came when Schipellite singled, Zana singled, moving "Skipper" to third from where he scored when the relay throw got past the third baseman. Over in the National League, in a very important game for both teams, the Red Sox came from behind to defeat the Yankees 4 to 2 and thus remain in a tie for first place with the Dodgers.

The Yankees picked up their first run in the second on a walk to Nowell, a passed ball, a single by Cooke, and another passed ball.

In the fifth they increased their lead to two runs as they scored as the result of infield hits by Cunningham, and Reardon, a double steal, and a balk.

However, the fifth also saw the Sox come up with four runs as they put the long ball to good use. Windgate led off with a home run over the center field wall. Root then singled and stole second. Scherban walked and both runners advanced on a passed ball. The next batter hit a sharp ground ball to short and Root was thrown out at home trying to score from third. Then the pitcher, Peter Cass, won their own ball game as he hit a three run homer to the same spot as Windgate's.

FIRES

A delayed ignition was the cause of an explosion in the oil burner in the home of Gaspare Galuffo of 117 Highland avenue Thursday, July 4. A neighbor noticed black smoke coming from the chimney of Galuffo's home and called firefighters who forced an entry through a basement window. They found a butterfly damper had been blown off the boiler.

Mrs. Martha Mahoney called the fire station Thursday to report a fire in the hay around tomato plants in her garden at 228 Cambridge street. The fire caught from burning material in a pit nearby. McCormack's Apothecary had a little steam heat Sunday when the gas boiler failed to shut off and turned the hot water into steam.

A brush fire in back of Brantwood road in the field was reported at 5:06 Sunday afternoon. Firefighters extinguished the blaze in five minutes.

ST. MARY'S STARS WHIP CREAM OF THE COURTS

While most people were planning to see fireworks over the Fourth of July last week, St. Mary's tennis stars were busy displaying their own fancy fireworks on the Belmont Town Courts in the Annual CYO Tennis Tourney. "Our Pets of the Nets", Ricky Smith, Ann Buros, Kathy Doherty, Ann Smith and Donna Violante gave an excellent performance against the keenest competition from all corners of the diocese. The "Queen of the Courts" in the Tourney was Ann Buros who was crowned Archdiocesan Champion as she kept serving rockets off her racquet to capture the intermediate girls singles. Ann also teamed up with Kathy Doherty for the girls doubles in which they bombarded their way right up to the finals.

"Classy Kathy" then swung her way up to the quarter-finals as she joined racquets with Richard Smith for the mixed doubles contest.

The opening chapter of the Tourney could be called "Rickey and his Racquet", since the Grassmere whiz spent the opening games in baffling his opponent with his "service with a slice" and winning two love sets. His sister Ann was not to be outshone, so she strummed her fingers across her trusty racquet, signaled to her smooth partner, Donna Violante and they entered the girls doubles, showing superb form as they battled beautifully in the Belmont breezes.

In spite of the terrific heat, our "five graceful aces" wended their way homeward, cool, classy, and congratulated by all their friends, having beat the heat, whipped the cream of the courts, and brought genuine credit to St. Mary's CYO.

STEERING FAILED

Thomas E. Lawn of Woburn told police that the steering wheel of his car did not respond when he attempted to make a turn on Hemingway street at 6:20 a. m. Thursday morning, causing him to leave the road and strike an Edison pole. Lawn and Charles Welch of Woburn were travelling east at the time. Neither person was injured.

The Edison pole was knocked about three feet by the impact and a chain fence around the Norman school was damaged. Lights in the area were out for about 15 minutes as a result of damage to the pole. The badly damaged car was towed to Haggerty's Garage on Main street.

IN CAPE LITTLE LEAGUE

The many Winchester friends of Paul and Robert Crotty of 225 Mystic Valley Parkway will be pleased to know that both are members of the Little League White Sox team, at Falmouth Heights.

Their Winchester training and background has served the team in good stead at the bat and in the field.

Paul contributed greatly to his team's win over the Hornets, Monday evening by an 8-3 score, turning in a grand slam homer, a double and a sensational catch in right field.

Firefighter "Charlie" Moran is marshalling his forces at the Central Fire Station to bring about the capture and destruction of the big snapping turtle that is constantly threatening the ducks on the Mill Pond. "Mozart" was on the turtle's trail all last summer without success, but this is another summer!

FLOWERS FOR BOSTON

"Yes, I've read about the Fruit and Flower Mission in the Winchester Star but I thought it was just for people of a particular church each week."

"My neighbor told me about taking flowers to the Winchester railroad station each Tuesday morning between 8:30 and 9 a.m. but I thought it was necessary to take a large assortment of beautiful flowers. I haven't anything in my garden but a few pansies."

These are the remarks one hears about the Fruit and Flower Mission. Many people do not realize that two big hampers are at the station every Tuesday morning, crying to be filled with flowers to be distributed to tenement dwellers and shut-ins in Boston. The women who represent the churches in Winchester in taking charge of these collections urge you to bring or send your contributions any week, or every week. Call the chairman if you wish to have things collected. Dry as our gardens are, the hampers were nearly full this last Tuesday. Two Winchester women who had no flowers brought bunches of greens, another a candy box filled with pansies packed in wet cotton. These met with just as much appreciation in Boston as any other flowers in the hampers.

Mr. Charles Forester, the Thompson street florist, contributes generously each week to this project. Other Winchester people bring their garden flowers regularly. In this dry summer we need the help of everyone who can possibly give. Mrs. Bernard Hanley, representing St. Mary's Church, will be in charge on the next two Tuesdays, July 16 and 23. She may be reached at Winchester 6-3941.

WIN GAS COMPANY SERVICE AWARDS

Dexter Blenkhorn and Ronald P. O'Hanley, residents of Winchester, both of whom recently completed 30 years of continuous service with the Mystic Valley Gas Company, were awarded gold-embossed pearl-studded service pins at a luncheon held at the Kernwood dining rooms in Malden, given in honor of twenty long-time employees of the local gas company.

Pins were awarded by Mr. E. C. Bryant, vice president and manager, who paid special tribute to these 20 employees who, collectively, have a total of 580 years of service with the company and its customers in this area.

Mr. Bryant also spoke of new developments in the gas industry which have contributed to the growth and progress of this company from a mere handful of light-customer customers of one hundred years ago to nearly 100,000 customers at the present time who use gas for cooking, water heating, house heating, refrigeration, clothes drying, air conditioning, incineration and for hundreds of other processes in commercial and industrial plants.

Mr. Blenkhorn, who is general foreman of the distribution department of the gas company, resides at 81 Woodside road, and Mr. O'Hanley, assistant to the manager, makes his home at 142 Arlington street.

INDEPENDENCE DAY OBSERVED

SPORTS PROGRAM AND ENTERTAINMENT AT LEONARD FIELD

Winchester's observance of the Fourth of July last week Thursday, under the direction of Winchester Post, 97, American Legion, followed the programs of other years with an entertainment program and a series of sports events for children, followed by the distribution of free ice cream.

The program was held at Leonard Field in the Highlands, and was preceded by the usual town-wide tour of the Legion Clowns. Decked out in clown costume, Donald Roberts, Frank Peoney, Herb Nelson, Herb Froberg, Ed Farrell, Al Cushman, Jim Quine, Francis Manzie and Dave Snell, rode through the streets of town advertising the afternoon show in jeeps furnished by "Chub" Keenan and Bob McLeod.

Commencing at 1:30 three professional acts of vaudeville were put on by the Jacy Collier Agency, under the personal supervision of Miss Collier, long a favorite here. Following an excellent aerial act, a juggler kept every one happy with his dexterity. Closing the bill was a fine balancing act that was well received.

Then came the program of races and contests, in which the winners were as follows:

WINCHESTER GIRL IN WATER RESCUE

A Winchester girl is credited with saving the life of a youth last Saturday afternoon when she pulled him from the water at Pine Point, Wareham.

Miss Carlene Wolsey of 152 Pond street swam to the 20-year-old's aid when she realized he was in difficulty. Three men came to her aid with boats.

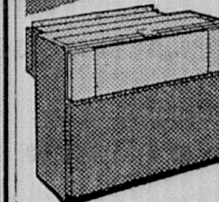

The boy is a resident of Milton.

Although the Fourth was a far cry from the good old days, there were still a lot of people around Winchester who hadn't heard about the state law and town by-law banning fireworks. It couldn't be that all those discharging fireworks all day about town, and for several days following the holiday, were knowingly flouting the law and our police force! Not in Winchester!

For years automobile manufacturers have stressed the quiet running motors in their cars as well as the big advances made in eliminating body and chassis noises that often annoyed those riding in the machines. And yet, we would venture to state that the noise of motor cars is getting to be more and more a problem.

Especially do people living at street intersections and on the curves of roads find the squealing of the new low-pressure tires hard to take. It probably is not necessary to make this noise, but the young folks at the wheel seem to like the racket and "screech" their tires every chance they get. Few people anticipate stopping their machines at intersections any more, preferring to depend upon their brakes for a quick last-minute stop and another "screech."

Another adjunct of modern motoring is the tendency of youngsters, and some not so young, to remove exhaust mufflers from their cars to make them sound like Mack trucks, especially with the "gunning" that is so popular right now with the young idea. If you are getting in a spot of sleep after a hard day at the office you won't continue long if one of those mufflerless cars roars through the neighborhood, or stops, or starts, with a jarring, grinding "screech."

Neurologists tell us noise is actually harmful in a physical sense, and we do know that one's blood pressure is affected by noise in proportion to whether or not he happens to be causing the racket. It is remarkable, for instance, how the owner of a dog can permit his "best friend" to yelp and ki-yi indefinitely without seemingly noticing the din. The same goes for roaring motors, screeching tires, honking horns, blaring radios, and zooming motorboats. Those who own them seem to mind them not at all, or even to enjoy them!

Winchester used to be a reasonably quiet town. It probably is still more quiet than many other places, but it could be a lot more quiet than it is, and is getting to be. We all would probably be a lot better off if it were.

It is good to see that the Library Trustees in choosing a successor to their chief librarian, Mrs. Philbrook, have promoted one of their own library staff to fill the vacancy. Mrs. Philbrook will retire from her library duties in October, and her successor will be the present assistant librarian, Mrs. Eugene Smith.

The promotion of a qualified staff member, whenever possible, especially to head the staff, is one of the best ways to intensify staff morale. To be sure, such promotion is not without risk, but by and large the possible disadvantage is outweighed by the satisfying feeling a staff member has in the knowledge that, having the qualifications, he will be considered for top rating when a vacancy at the top occurs.

Announcement that the Winchester Children's Theatre has been selected for an hour's performance on TV in August indicates that the town's young thespians are attracting attention outside their own community. Mrs. Samoiloff and her supporting workers have labored hard and to good purpose in launching this latest children's activity. They must be thrilled at the opportunity to have their young proteges appear on TV. Why not share their pride by watching the youngsters yourself on Channel 2 August 5.

WHAT PRICE DEMOCRACY?

Editor of the Star:

Our American way of life is depicted on our fields of play more poignantly than in any other American enterprise.

To win graciously and lose gracefully is one example of the many splendid qualities derived from participation in competitive sports. Oldsters participate not only for the physical benefits they derive but also for the soul-satisfying reason of knowing that, win or lose, they fought the good fight.

Not unlike their forebears our children, who, incidentally, we look to for the continuation of our great democratic way of life, play to win and expect to be recognized according to their worth, as members of their respective teams. The Little League should be an ideal beginning for the exemplification of "American Democracy in Action" and I dare say that in the greater majority of cases it is.

The above can be defeated only if the outcome, i.e., the selection of the all-star team is placed in the hands of incompetents, or those who would compromise their consciences to place in recognition one less qualified than another. As Al Smith of another era was wont to say, "Let's look at the record." After perusing same, Winchesterites, should we not be more scrupulous in choosing selectors for a post which can well be considered as a paramount one for its chance of accomplishment for good or evil?

Wake up, Winchester!
Rob Sullivan
Winchester Arms

WHAT JUSTIFICATION DO THEY HAVE!

Editor of the Star:

I have just learned that in the face of what has been described as a perilous water shortage the Winchester Country Club is being permitted to water its golf course.

I personally am not interested in whether only a part of the course is being watered, and I believe many feel the same way. A lot of us would like to be permitted to water certain parts of our grounds.

If the water shortage is as acute here as represented, and I have no doubt that it is, then no exceptions to the water restriction order can be justified that are not based on public health and safety.

The investment of the Country Club in its course is no greater in proportion than many individuals have in their home grounds and gardens.

This is the season when many families close up their homes and hie to vacation resorts far and near. Don't forget to tell the police before you leave town, and be sure to leave a key with some neighbor in the event the authorities need to get into your closed home. Tell the police where such a key may be picked up.

Informing the police of your absence from town will not of course guarantee that your house will not be entered. It will, however, ensure special attention by the authorities, who cannot take such precautions if they do not know that your house is closed. It takes only a few minutes on your part to help the police keep an eye on your empty house. We should at least give them this assistance in their endeavor to protect our property.

Your heart and circulatory system, in their simplest terms, are a tremendously complex network in which the heart serves as a pump, and the arteries and veins as a piping system to carry the blood to nourish every part of your body.

When the arteries are roughened and narrowed in the region of the heart, this is coronary atherosclerosis, one of our major underlying causes of heart disease. When the blood flowing through these narrowed channels is too thick to flow smoothly, and clots, you have a blockage which literally starves and tears the heart—the classic "heart attack;" one of our major killers.

Medical science has three main areas in which to work after a heart attack: diet, exercise, and anticoagulants, which thin the blood to make for easier, smoother flow.

I believe that a safe, simple method of giving anticoagulant therapy may be the most important advance currently possible in the treatment of coronary atherosclerosis.

It is always easier to regulate the consistency of the liquid going through the arteries than it is to undo arterial damage which has been years in the making. And there is interesting evidence that coronary atherosclerosis as such, the narrowing of the arteries, may be the subject of overemphasis. There is reason to investigate the proposition that the dietary changes which constitute a large part of the treatment of heart diseases may accomplish their purposes by changing the blood consistency rather than the artery walls.

For while there is ample evidence of increasing deaths from heart disease, there does not seem to be a corresponding rise in atherosclerosis. In Finland, where fats were

Announcement

Dear Friend,

Regrettably I announce that for reasons of health I must relinquish active participation in my Texaco Service Station.

Needless to say, the twenty-one years I have served you and my other customers as a Texaco dealer have been most pleasant.

Because of this, and because I will continue to maintain a very vital interest in the business, I have felt a serious responsibility in the matter of selecting my successor. I feel very fortunate in having completed arrangements with BOB WHEATON to take over active management of the business.

Bob, too, has been in the service business for twenty-one years. He has a well-deserved reputation for skill and integrity.

Bob will continue to offer the same quality service and products that we did. He will be open evenings and Sundays for your convenience.

I am certain that your patronage of Bob will result in your complete satisfaction, and for this reason I would most appreciate your continuing to favor him with your business.

Sincerely,

CHARLES A. MURPHY

NEW TOOLS DETECT BIRTH CRIES OF STORM IN "TORNADO ALLEY"

"Tornado Alley," the incubator of nature's deadliest storms, is being watched this year as never before.

Once a twister has bored down to earth, the only defense is to get out of the way. To save more lives, Weather Bureau scientists are devising new tools to quicken warning systems and learn more about the nature of the complex storms.

One new instrument forces potential tornadoes to flash their own alarm. Called a "pressure-jump indicator," it records the ominous rise in pressure that often signals the birth of a tornado in storm-breeding squall lines.

Round-the-clock alert. It is these long frontiers of thunder, wind, and rain that turn unstable air currents into roaring, spinning funnels of destruction, the National Geographic Society says.

This year, more than 100 pressure-jump indicators are being operated in the severe storm belt—Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, and Texas. The instruments have been set up in police stations, fire houses, city jails, and other places where attendants voluntarily keep an eye on them 24 hours a day.

If barometric pressure rises suddenly, a light goes on and a buzzer sounds until turned off. The observer alerts the nearest weather station by telephone.

Radar then starts tracking the dangerous squall line, according to Dr. Morris Tepper, chief of the Bureau's severe-storms research unit.

In recent years, the Bureau has organized a radar network among key cities east of the Rockies. Volunteers ground corpsmen in a danger zone scan radarscopes for any sign of the dark pendent cloud that rakes the earth like a giant elephant's trunk.

Spotters notify communities, which warn residents to take cover. One obstacle in learning more about the mechanism of tornadoes is their habit of striking quickly, devastatingly, and locally. Delicate instruments can't withstand 500-mile-an-hour winds. Few persons caught in a twister can be expected to give a scientific account of what they see—even if they live through it.

Storm-Hopping by Plane
Pilot James Cook, who flies under contract to the Bureau, is again storm-hopping out of Kansas City this season. Cook ventures into squall lines in a plane laden with instruments to record pressure, temperature, moisture, wind speeds, and other phenomena.

Not the least of a tornado's terror is its electrical display. Forked lightning—vividly outlined with yellow, green, blue, and purple—often dances against the dull glow of continuous sheet lightning.

At several stations, the Weather Bureau has installed special equipment to record the presence and direction of such a display. If two stations spot it, the storm can be pinpointed by triangulation.

Spring brings tornado weather. Though factors are numerous, the time is ripe when cold, dry fronts moving easterly from the Pacific overrun warm, moist air from the Gulf of Mexico. Under certain conditions, the slightest updraft may trigger one or a series of twisters.

Earth's atmosphere serves as a storm window that absorbs the killing rays of the sun, says the National Geographic Magazine. Without atmospheric pressure—about 15 tons per person—blood would literally boil in the veins. If survival were possible, men would have no voices, for the voice is air set in motion by vocal cords and heard when the waves beat on eardrums.

Swifts, the most aerial of all birds, never alight on the ground unless hurt. They gather all their food and nesting material while flying; drink skimming over water; and mate in mid-air.

Basel, Switzerland, though 500 miles from the sea, handles some four million tons of ship cargo each year, the National Geographic Magazine says. The strategic Swiss port was founded by Romans on the Rhine River 2,000 years ago and called Basilia, meaning "city by the water."

A "dead glacier," one that thaws before it reaches the ocean, is as brittle as glass yet as pliant as tooth paste, says the National Geographic Society.

The Colorado River, one of the greatest waterways in the United States, is 1,450 miles long, the National Geographic Magazine says. Living up to its Spanish name, Colorado (red), the river flows heavy with mud and is said by old-timers to be "too thick to drink and too thin to plow."

The iridescent fan of the male peacock is not its true tail. The fan is made up of long, trailing feathers of the upper tail coverts.

Rome's Colosseum, the world's largest amphitheater, was completed in A.D. 80. Built by the Emperor Titus, it was inaugurated with a blood bath of matches between gladiators and wild beasts. Until recently Romans used the Colosseum as a marble quarry, says the National Geographic Magazine.

GENERAL GEORGE MARSHALL URGES VISITS TO GRAVES OF WAR DEAD

General of the Army George C. Marshall has issued a call to Americans traveling abroad to visit the memorial cemeteries where United States servicemen lie.

The general, who writes in the June issue of the National Geographic Magazine, need no urging to visit the graves of their sons, husbands, and brothers. But, "in a higher sense, they are the sons of every free man," he says. "There I ask every reader who can . . . to visit the cemeteries and pay tribute."

Pilgrimage of Memories
Chairman of the American Battle Monuments Commission, General Marshall recently returned from a long pilgrimage to the graves of Americans in Europe.

"I went as an old soldier seeking fallen comrades," he said. "The hours I walked among our lost legions were among the most poignant of my life."

"Each site evoked old memories of decisions made, of battles waged and won, and above all, of the young Americans who paid the highest price that war can exact."

"In the course of my pilgrimage there grew a very great, if melancholy, satisfaction in the work of the American Battle Monuments Commission, entrusted with the care of our war dead in foreign lands. We were keeping faith with the fallen. We were taking to them all that we could of home, of beauty, and of remembrance."

By the end of World War II, 306,810 American servicemen had died overseas. More than half were returned to their homeland at the request of relatives. The others rest in 14 memorial cemeteries abroad.

Six shrines in Europe were dedicated last July. Five more in Europe, plus two in the Pacific and one in North Africa, are expected to be ready for dedicatory services by the end of next year.

General Marshall writes: "The excellent care given our cemeteries, and the distinguished memorials erected, are not enough. Something more is needed and only the public can give it."

"If you believe in a life of the spirit, as most Americans devoutly do, then you must believe these men wait visitation. Without it theirs would be a lonely vigil, one lacking the best evidence we could give of gratitude and steadfast memory . . ."

"For thousands of Americans, a memorial pilgrimage requires little effort or sacrifice. These are the tourists who cross the seas in increasing numbers each year to travel through foreign lands."

"But the right to tour, like other rights, is often denied a subject people. Americans traveling abroad might ponder this deeper significance behind their blithe holiday, remembering to whom they owe the good things of travel—the freedom of movement, the gaiety of a liberated Paris, the peacefulness of a quaint village."

"Many would then, I am sure, take time to visit one or more cemeteries."

Located at the scenes of important battles in the fight against tyranny, the memorials are built on land donated by the host country. Each stands as a perpetual reminder of the sacrifices made by the United States in the common cause.

FROM 180 LONGWOOD AVENUE

It stuck out its paw as we passed its cage and, although the sound was "me-ow," the meaning was as plain as though the "hello" had been spoken in English. The black and white cat was greeting us and asking for a moment's companionship as we walked by.

Maybe cats don't move you, but who could resist the mute appeal in the eyes of the honey-colored cocker whose leg was confined in a cast, or the pathos of the Great Dane bleeding from an internal injury! Yes, we visited the Angell Memorial Animal Hospital at 180 Longwood avenue, Boston. (As, in fact, any interested person is welcome to do.)

If you love animals, it won't be exactly a pleasure trip, although it is satisfying to see the well-equipped laboratory and the modern operating room in use at this, the largest animal hospital in the world.

We noticed, too, the kind faces of the technicians and workers. Mr.

J. Robert Smith, assistant to the president of the M.S.P.C.A., who very kindly showed us around, told us that all the workers at the hospital, even down to the personnel who clean the cages and sweep the floors, have a real feeling for animals or they wouldn't be working there at all; because all of these people could make more money somewhere else.

Being a charitable institution, Angell Memorial cannot afford to pay what private industry can. This may surprise you if your pet has undergone an operation there, and you paid what seemed top price; yet the fact is, this hospital for animals has the same problems as one where humans are treated. Due to the high cost of medicines, medical equipment and necessity for constant study and experimentation, etc., the hospital loses money on every "patient," even those who pay, and there are many who can't.

The largest animal hospital must depend on the generosity of animal lovers to keep it going at all! We left a small donation in the "plate" and wished it could have been much, much more!

TWO LOCAL MEN SLATED FOR ROTC COMMISSIONS

Two Winchester men are candidates for commissioning at the closing ceremonies of the Reserve Officer Training Corps General Military Science summer camp at Fort Devens. The exercises at which 73 cadets representing 14 colleges throughout the nation will participate will be held on August 2.

Arthur K. Birnie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Birnie of 9 Myopia Hill road, and Robert P. Wiklund, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walfred G. Wiklund of 195 Cambridge street, are both students at Dartmouth College.

The summer camp is a requisite for a cadet who is to receive the commission of 2nd lieutenant either in the Regular Army or in the Reserve. The public is invited to attend the ceremony.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

Competitive games got under way this week on the various playgrounds with other games and contests taking place.

On Monday morning the Leonard Juniors under Don McFee visited Ginn Field to meet Joel Peckham's unit of Juniors and Leonard won 5-4. Leonard tallied five runs in the first two innings and was then held for the remainder of the game. Barry Sullivan, Ron Keane and Johnny Peckham pitched for the losers. Peckham allowed no hits and no runs in his relief job.

Casalinova pitched for the winners and then stepped aside for Richie Bond who tossed a one-hitter for his stay on the mound. It looked like Ginn might tie it up or go ahead in the fourth and fifth innings but they were checked. With two men aboard in the fifth, Richie Bond singled off the left-field wall to score two, but the ball was played just right and Bond could not make any better than first. It missed being a homer by inches and would have tied the game up.

On the same morning the West Side Juniors with Dave Bergquist at the helm traveled to Loring to meet Gary Nelson's nine and West Side came out on top 11-4. Dan Mahoney started on the mound for the winners and was relieved by Grady, who fanned six batters in his four innings of pitching. Richie Birnie was the big slugger with a triple and homer for West Side, and Jim Reed connected for two safeties while Bob Foley collected one.

Phil Doherty pitched excellent ball for the losers and lost because of loose playing on the field. Phil fanned thirteen men but wild throws here and there accounted for most of West Side's runs. Bob Benincasa hit a grand-slam home run in the fourth but it wasn't enough to come out on top.

Rain on Tuesday morning halted two baseball games. At the time games were called Leonard Intermediates were ahead 3-2 over Loring, and at Ginn Field, where the Ginn Intermediates and West Side Intermediates were playing, Ginn was leading 4-3 when the game was called. These games will be played over again at a later date.

Results of this week's Wednesday and Thursday contests will be reported in next week's column.

In the arts and crafts department the youngsters are kept busy and happy making pot holders and key wallets.

Next week the arts and crafts instructor will be at the various fields as follows:

Monday—West Side
Tuesday—Leonard
Wednesday—Loring
Thursday—Ginn
Friday—West Side

The following contests are to be held next week:
Monday morning—West Side Jrs. baseball at Leonard; Loring Jrs. baseball at Ginn
Tuesday morning—Loring Intermediates basketball at Ginn; Leonard Intermediates basketball at West Side

Tuesday afternoon — Leonard Girls' kickball at West Side

Wednesday morning—Loring Intermediates baseball at Ginn; Leonard Intermediates baseball at West Side

Wednesday afternoon — Ginn Girls' kickball at Loring

Thursday morning—West Side Juniors baseball at Ginn; Leonard Juniors baseball at Loring

Morris Snyder, proprietor of McLaughlin's Shoe Store on Thompson street, enjoyed last week fishing in Lauren Tide National Park in Canada. To reach the fishing grounds "Moe" flew to Quebec and then drove 120 miles into the reservation. He reported great luck! While her husband was fishing Mrs. Snyder spent the week visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ken Levine (Cecelia Snyder) in Chicago.

Dear Diary,

Today it rained again, but we still went "cycling." The weather really cleared up about noon and from then on it was just great. We split up into two groups.

The more experienced cyclists, Sue, Carley, Angie, and Stephanie went off toward Gramercy with Alison and Mrs. Hersey. Upon arriving in Gramercy, they went to look at Wordsworth's house, where Sue, Stephanie, and Alison signed the guest book in the garden. After eating lunch there, they followed a native's directions for a different route back. The scenery was fine and all was lovely until they came upon a monstrous hill that would have scared a mountain goat; each turn was hoped to be the last. Coming upon a boys' track meet they stopped and when it was through, toured the city of Ambleside. I guess their trip was a success except for the little old lady whom Carley must have scared out of her mind when she came war-whooping down the hillside upon which the girls had been resting. From the top of the hill it had appeared to the girls as if the lady were snooping in their saddle bags. Actually she was only chasing away a rat which had been investigating the remains of their lunch.

The other group, led by Brian, cycled fourteen miles around Lake Windermere, stopping to wade in the lake during lunch, and take a two-mile hike before crossing on the ferry back to Ambleside. It was great fun, although four kids pooped out after about 7 1/2 miles. They turned back, stopped on the way for some yummy carbonated lemonade, and actually went as far in mileage as the rest—but it was fun.

Just before we left to return to the Tarns, most everyone bought oranges and had a real feast. Tomorrow "King John" — 'til then.

Saturday, June 29, 1957

Dear Diary,

Today we drove to Stratford-on-Avon. We went quickly through Lancaster, famous with York for the War of the Roses. Harry comes from York. In Liverpool we went through the 2 1/2-mile-long Mersey Tunnel—like our Holland Tunnel. At the Worcester Cathedral we glanced quickly around at the beautiful architecture, and left in time to arrive for dinner in Stratford.

Then, after dinner, we walked to the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre to see "King John." Some kids were smart (and cool) in dressy out-of-uniform clothes. Boy! was it ever hot! But the play was terrific and we were so interested that the costumes and scenery were fabulous, and the acting was "the most!" Afterward we had a milk-treat, walked along the romantic river side, and then, Dear Diary, came back to "The Fold" to go to bed. Cheerio

Sunday, June 30, 1957

Dear Diary,

This morning was a mixture of rain sprinkled with sun. Showers went off all day. In between one, half of the group went canoeing on the River Avon. It was neat!

Others of us tramped the streets looking for Elizabethan houses to take pictures of and a few shops to buy gifts in.

This afternoon we took pictures of Warwick Castle, and Patsy just missed being flattened in the street—she looked the wrong way! Then we went on to Charleotte Park where we saw a gorgeous marble table of inlaid precious stones and with the largest onyx in the world in the center.

While it was still raining we saw Anne Hathaway's cottage, and, as the rain let up, Shakespeare's birthplace.

Later on some of us went to Even-song at the lovely old Holy Trinity Church. On the way as we were passing the little cottage, the same lady who had entertained the bicycling Troop I in 1950, stepped out of her front door and recognized Mrs. Hersey when Mrs. Hersey spoke to her.

At night we all sat around the hotel's piano and sang songs while a truly marvelous blind Englishman played for us. After singing "The Star Spangled Banner" and "God Save the Queen," we sleepily trudged off to bed—and so to sleep.

Dear Diary,

Today we left Stratford, and upon arriving in Woodstock (home town of Chaucer), we visited Blenheim Palace where Sir Winston Spencer-Churchill was born, and where Princess Margaret had stayed just a fortnight ago. Blenheim Palace with its beautiful gold decorated ceilings is the Versailles of England, and is still being lived in by the family. House-cleaning was going on while we were there, as it was not to be open to the public until afternoon. Brian had obtained special permission from the head guide—he had been a Scout himself for ten years.

We went on to Oxford (England's Valley) which is truly a replica of antiquity. There we saw many of the buildings and the 70-ton chapel bell, Old Tom.

In London we drove through Wimpole street (the Barretts), Harley street (famous for surgeons), past Downing street, the House of Lords, Scotland Yard (Whitehall - 1212 - telephone), stopped at St. James Palace—a guard (the proper kind) winked at us—where Princess Margaret and the Queen Mother were in residence—lost Mrs. Bullard and Patsy Aiken on the way, found them by Buckingham Palace, visited the Church of St. Bartholomew the Great, saw the Tower of London, London Bridge, and much more.

Our tour of the one-square-mile City of London and its surrounding county was rushed, for our schedule was tight.

Now we are on the way to the Hook of Holland, after having bid farewell to Harry, our genial and capable bus driver, joyfully greeted Brian for mail call at Liverpool street station, and checked through customs to board ship at Harwich.

Tuesday, July 2, 1957

Dear Diary,

The trip on the ferry was great, couldn't have done better if I'd tried. We had a wonderful night's sleep. We docked at 5:30 a.m., got up at 6, and took the 7:40 train to Amsterdam. The flat, low country with black and white spotted cows grazing everywhere, and canal streams dividing the country into parallelograms and rectangles is quite a change from Great Britain.

At 9:15 we arrived in Amsterdam for breakfast (milk!), got settled, and went shopping. Dutch money is similar to ours—on a system of tens. During the afternoon we visited Rijksmuseum with its fine Dutch paintings (and a room filled with Rembrandt's works), then we took a sight-seeing boat on some of the 80 artificial canals of Amsterdam.

After dinner we attended a Girl Guide meeting. We played one of their games and sang many songs together before having tea and watching Mrs. Hersey's film of the troop's New England activities. It was hard to say good-bye to our new friends for we all had had so much fun.

And now it must be time for bed, I'm pretty beat! and we must rise for breakfast at 6 tomorrow!!

Wednesday, July 3, 1957

Dear Diary,

Late to bed, and an early rising—we were up at six this morning and none of us had gotten much sleep! Rye bread and rolls, hot chocolate, and chess—our menu—but not for long. Seven o'clock and we were off for Bonn, Germany. Passports, last-minute snaps of windmills, and throwing baggage out of the windows during the two-minute (no jokes) stop at Bonn was the excitement of the trip.

The heat was pretty wicked and cold, sour beet and cherry soup didn't help matters, although some people found it most refreshingly delicious. We visited Beethoven's birthplace, the Romanesque Bonn Cathedral, passed the University, and rode up the famous Rhine River to see either the Federal German Parliament in session, or a German soccer game—both were fun.

Guess what's in Germany same as in the good old U. S. I. Coca-Cola—yummi! During dinner, Angie was afraid that she might have to wash dishes after having decorated the wall with lemonade. It was carbonated and she was just trying to shake it up! After dinner we window shopped a bit, and then to bed. Tomorrow's the 4th—whoopie! But, I'm afraid Brian won't appreciate our enthusiasm—he's English!

TWENTY-FIVE TO TAKE
WEST POINT EXAM

Congresswoman Edith Nourse Rogers has granted 25 requests from candidates to take her competitive examination for the U. S. Military Academy at West Point. The examination will be held at the Lowell Post Office on Monday, July 15.

The man who is successful in the examination will enter West Point in July 1958 and he will be graduated in the class of 1962.

The United States Military Academy offers a four-year course of education and training leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science and a commission as second lieutenant in the Regular Army.

Any additional young men who wish to take the examination at the Lowell Post Office on July 15 should write to Congresswoman Rogers at once so that the necessary arrangements can be made.

The 732 members of the class of 1961 entered the academy on July 2. The full authorized strength of the academy is 2496.

COLLIDE AT CROSSING

A car driven by Melvin A. Hogan of Tewksbury struck one driven by Anselmo A. Cappelletti of Medford at the intersection of Washington and Mt. Vernon streets at 6:55 Thursday evening, July 4.

Hogan was progressing north on Washington street and struck the rear of the Cappelletti car as it crossed the intersection, travelling east on Mt. Vernon street.

A "Keep Right" sign and a "No Parking" sign went down in the collision. No injuries were reported.

OPERATION ALERT

Operation Alert 1957, a Federally-directed nationwide Civil Defense test exercise, will be held July 12 to 19, Massachusetts, which held its own statewide exercise, Operation Pre-Alert in May, will be involved in the national exercise at the State level only.

During Operation Alert 1957 there will be no public participation in Massachusetts. No signals will be sounded. However, all bordering States will conduct public participation exercises which will have an effect on the Massachusetts traffic pattern.

All bordering States will sound public attack warning signals at 1:45 p. m., July 12. Traffic in these States will be halted and remain stopped until the "all clear" is sounded at 2 p. m.

Massachusetts motorists seeking to cross into adjacent States during this 15-minute time period will be stopped at the various State lines by police and compelled to remain at the borders until normal traffic movement is again permitted in the neighboring States. Occupants of vehicles stopped within Massachusetts will not be compelled to leave these vehicles.

The State Civil Defense Control Center at Natick will be the only Civil Defense unit in Massachusetts taking part in Operation Alert 1957. Action compiled in May during this State's own Operation Pre-Alert will form the basis for "playing" Operation Alert 1957, between the State Control Center and the Federal Civil Defense Administration's regional office at Harvard, Massachusetts.

TIGHT LOOPS—OOPS

Then there were those two men who were making tight loops in a 12-foot outboard boat.

They were rescued from water 10 feet deep some 35 minutes later. Thus they lived to learn a water safety lesson—the hard way.

They, of course, were fortunate. But some who try making tight loops in small boats are not so fortunate.

They do not live to tell about it. Some of the drowned bodies are recovered later.

Some are not. In either case we have these all too frequent reminders that the sea cannot only be a cruel master but a grim executioner for the unwary, the unthinking and the foolish.

TRAINING WITH MIDDIES

U. S. Naval Academy Midshipman second class Francis P. Hurley, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Hurley of 107 Mt. Vernon street, learns the fundamentals of controlling landing craft at the Little Creek Naval Amphibious Base, Norfolk, Va.

Midshipman Hurley was among 850 Naval Academy juniors and 60 Royal Canadian Naval Cadets to undergo two weeks of amphibious training at Little Creek June 9-22.

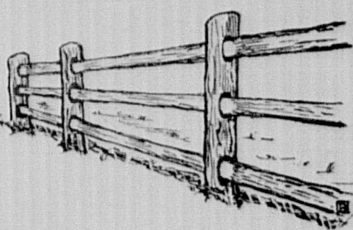

The future Naval Officers climaxed their training by participating in an actual amphibious assault landing at Camp Pendleton, Va., June 21.

In preparing for the landing, the midshipmen and cadets watched U. S. Marines make a landing and spent four days aboard ships of the Atlantic Amphibious Force.

TWO-CAR ACCIDENT

An accident at the intersection of Washington street and the Mystic Valley Parkway at 2:05 Thursday afternoon involved two cars. One was driven by Robert D. McClannanhan of Somerville and the other by David Stevens of Milton.

Stevens told police both cars were headed south on Washington street, and when he reached the Mystic Valley Parkway he started to make a left turn. Then realizing he pulled back into the line of traffic, where his and McClannanhan's car collided. No injuries were claimed by either party.

MRS. FLORENCE B. BENNETT

Mrs. Florence Beckett Bennett of 110 Mt. Vernon street, widow of Myron Bennett, died Saturday night, July 6, at the Winchester Hospital, after a short illness. A member of the family at the Home for Aged People in Winchester, she suffered a heart attack Tuesday, July 2, in Fairfield, Me., where she was visiting her brother, George P. Beckett.

She was brought by ambulance from Fairfield to the Home in Winchester, and from there was taken to the Winchester Hospital, entering Thursday, July 4.

Mrs. Bennett was the daughter of Edward and Antoinette (Sehnarr) Beckett. She was born August 24, 1876, in Portland, Me., but grew up in Boston, being educated in the Boston schools and with leading music teachers.

Her father was a musician and she commenced her studies under him. She studied flute and became a professional musician, commencing her career while in her teens, and winning a wide reputation as a flutist. She was first flutist with the Fadettes, first women's orchestra to play on the old Keith's Circuit, traveling with this well-known musical group throughout the country. She was also a member of the Women's Symphony Orchestra under Madame Laginsky.

Mrs. Bennett came to Winchester in 1926, making her home with her niece, Mrs. John Rutherford, 16 Winslow road, remaining with her until 1951 when she took up residence in Boston. She had been a member of the family at the Home since March 15, 1956.

Besides her brother in Fairfield, Me., Mrs. Bennett leaves a sister, Mrs. Harold Gilbert of Costa Mesa, Calif.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon at the Church of the Epiphany, with the rector, Rev. John W. Ellison, officiating. Burial was in Oak Grove Cemetery, Bath, Me.

SIDESWIPED TREE

Two men were taken to the hospital about 1 a. m. Thursday morning when an auto driven by John J. Henson, Jr., of Medford failed to make a curve on Chesterford road about 150 feet south of Inverness road and struck two trees.

The car sideswiped a tree in front of number 16 and struck another tree in front of number 14. The distance between the trees is about 40 feet.

Henson and a companion riding with him, Walter T. Keary of Medford, were taken to the Winchester Hospital in the ambulance. Henson suffered injuries to his left arm, nose, and forehead. Keary was treated for lacerations of the forehead, nose and chest. Both were confined to the hospital.

QUEEN — BARRY

At St. Margaret's Church in Burlington on Saturday morning, June 15, Miss Jeanne Marise Barry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Barry of Peach Orchard road, Burlington, was married to Robert Joseph Queen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Queen of 15 Richardson street. The Rev. Ferdinand DeMelo officiated at the 9 o'clock service and was also celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed.

Miss Barry was given in marriage by her father and attended by her sister, Miss Joan Barry of Burlington.

The bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace and nylon with a fitted bodice, full-length sleeves and a tiered bouffant skirt of lace net. Her chapel-length veil was held in place by a crown of seed pearls and she carried a white satin missal adorned with a matching orchid and streamers of stephanotis.

The honor maid wore a dress of lilac net over taffeta with a fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. Her headpiece was a lilac crown with matching nosegay veil and she carried an old-fashioned bouquet.

Thomas Queen of Winchester was his brother's best man, and ushering were James Barry and John Barry of Burlington, brothers of the bride.

A reception was held after the marriage at the Towne Lyne House in Lynnfield, with the parents of both the bride and bridegroom assisting in receiving. Mrs. Barry, mother of the bride, wore a waltz-length white organza print with a straw picture hat having a green crown, matching green accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Queen, also wore pink roses with her light-blue sheath dress, pink picture hat and matching accessories.

After a wedding journey to Niagara Falls and through Upper New York State and Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Queen will make their home at 46 Wyman street, Woburn.

The bride is a graduate of Burlington High School and is a nurse's aide at the Choate Hospital in Woburn. Mr. Queen, an employee of the Woburn Hide and Leather Company, is a graduate of Winchester High School.

MRS. ALICE DUNCAN

Mrs. Alice (Wiggin) Duncan, widow of Charles J. Duncan, died Thursday, July 4, at her residence in Stetson Hall.

A native of Haverhill, Mrs. Duncan had lived in Winchester for 30 years. Her husband died 25 years ago. She leaves a daughter, Mrs. G. Malcolm McNeil of West Medford and a son, Robert W. Duncan of Penn Valley, Pa.

Funeral services and interment were private.

AN APPEAL FOR SICK ANIMALS

The Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals today appealed to all animal lovers for discarded blankets and clean cloth to be used in the cages of its Angell Memorial Animal Hospital.

Society officials made the following statement: "It has been called to our attention that the present supply of blankets and cloth is nearly depleted and we find it necessary to replenish our needs if we are to provide maximum care and comfort for the many animals that are brought to us daily for hospitalization. This is particularly true in the Macomber wards where distemper cases are treated and where bedding must be constantly refreshed.

"We feel confident that all pet owners as well as lovers of animals generally will be happy to respond to this urgent appeal by sending their gifts of blankets or cloth to the Angell Memorial Animal Hospital, 180 Longwood avenue, Boston where they will be most gratefully received and promptly acknowledged.

"We also urge any of these generous people who respond to this appeal to visit our hospital and see for themselves how the blankets and cloth are used."

Mrs. C. S. Spencer of Beverly, with her daughters, Kathy and Candy, spent several days this week in Winchester visiting her sisters, Mrs. Henry Knowlton and Mrs. James Pennington, both of Maxwell road.

JOHNSON — WELDON

Miss Sandra Alice Weldon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Michael Weldon of Beirut, Lebanon, formerly of Glenside, Penn., was married on June 28th in the Harkness Chapel of Connecticut College for Women at New London, Conn., to Kenneth Frederick Johnson of 17 Jefferson road, Mr. Johnson is the son of Mrs. Avery Worman Johnson of Arlington. The Rev. John Wamshuis performed the ceremony.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown of taffeta brocade with a fingertip length veil of illusion caught with a headband of tiny seed pearls. Her bouquet was of white orchids and stephanotis. Miss Betty Weldon was maid of honor for her twin sister, and the other bridal attendants were Mrs. James Weldon of Chicago, Miss Evelyn Caliendo of Northampton, Miss Janet Ziegler of New York, Winchelsea Margaret Shaw of Little Compton, Rhode Island, Miss Christine Bates, cousin of the bride was flower girl and the bridegroom's cousin, Master Scott Tucker, was page.

Mr. Johnson's best man was C. Fisher Wolfe, Jr., of Upper Montclair, N. J., formerly of Winchester. James Weldon, brother of the bride, Scott Cunningham of Winchester, C. Jackson Barstow of Amherst and Herbert Tucker of Rumford, Rhode Island were ushers.

The bride graduated from Connecticut College in June. Mr. Johnson prepared for Middlebury College at Belmont Hill School, and is now in the Army stationed at San Antonio, Texas, where he and his bride will make their home.

Many Winchester friends of the bridegroom made the trip to New London to the beautiful chapel ceremony and reception afterwards at the Lighthouse Inn. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Ross Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nichols, Dr. and Mrs. Everett Tisdale, all of Jefferson road, and Mr. William Chapman of Hillcrest Parkway.

MRS. JUNE RALSTON

Mrs. June (Record) Ralston of 25 South street, Waltham, wife of Hartley L. Ralston and a former resident of Winchester, died suddenly at her home on Friday, July 5.

Mrs. Ralston was the daughter of Edgar J. and Jane T. (Flanagan) Record. She was born November 1924, Nashua, N. H., but came to Winchester as a girl, living first on Washington street and later on Park avenue.

She was graduated from Winchester High School in the Class of 1943, being prominent in girls' athletics and widely known as a lifeguard at the Leonard Field Pool for several seasons. The family left town in 1944.

After high school Mrs. Ralston attended Boston University's School of Physical Education for a time. In 1948 she was graduated from the Burbank School of Nursing in Fitchburg with the degree of R.N.

Mrs. Ralston nursed at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital and did special duty at Santa Maria Hospital, Beth Israel, and Massachusetts General Hospital. She was a member of the Burbank Hospital Alumnae, American Nurses Association, First Congregational Church of Waltham and the Merryman Club of that church.

Mrs. Ralston was married March 12, 1949. For a time after their marriage she and her husband lived in Watertown, but for the past six years they had lived in Waltham.

Besides her husband, she leaves her parents, a son, Rhys Hartley Ralston, age 6, and a daughter, Terri June Ralston, age 3; also three sisters, Mrs. Walter Webb (Patricia) of San Diego, Calif.; Mrs. Richard Weatherup (Estelle) of Sudbury; and Mrs. Charles Kelly (Constance) of Boston.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Wadsworth & Sons Chapel in Waltham with the Rev. Harold Leland, minister of the First Congregational Church of Waltham, officiating. Interment was in Mt. Feake Cemetery, Waltham.

ENGAGEMENT
Mr. and Mrs. Alfred W. Barnard of 52 Middlesex street announce the engagement of their daughter, Janet Gail, to Mr. A. William MacDonald, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Augustine W. MacDonald of 22 Hemingway street.
Miss Barnard is a graduate of Winchester High School, and is presently employed as a secretary by the Arlington Storage Warehouse. Mr. MacDonald is employed by Bonnell Motors of Winchester.
No date has been set for the wedding.

MRS. CONSTANCE TAYLOR
Mrs. Constance Guttererson Taylor, formerly of Winchester and Cambridge, died Monday, July 8, at Santa Barbara, Calif., according to word received in Boston on Monday.
The daughter of missionary parents, she was born in Madras, India, and came to the United States when she was 12 years old. Her father was the late Rev. George H. Guttererson, and the family home for some 15 years or so was in Rangleys.
Mrs. Taylor was graduated from Abbot Academy, Andover, and later engaged in physical therapy work in Cambridge and New York. She has been living on the West Coast for the past 20 years.
She leaves her husband, Horace Taylor of Brookline, well-known naturalist and educator, two sons, Horace Dodd Taylor of Van Nuys, Calif., and Tom Taylor of El Cerrito, Calif. She is also survived by a brother, five sisters and five grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo D. Nicholas left this past week for a trip through Canada and Alaska. His friends are looking forward to some more of those fine colored travel pictures for which Mr. Nicholas is so well known.

Serial Shares
Insure Saving

Most folks think of a co-operative bank in terms of home mortgages. True, we have helped thousands of people become home owners.

Equally important is the way we have helped other thousands build security for themselves through our systematic savings plans.

Serial shares bought on a monthly installment program (even as low as $1.00 per month) have proven to be the surest, safest and most convenient way to lay aside savings for the future.

THE WINCHESTER, MASS., STAR, FRIDAY, JULY 19, 1957

PRICE TEN CENTS

MICHAEL J. CONNOLLY

Michael Joseph Connolly of 814 Main street, a veteran leather worker and widely known resident of the North End, died suddenly Tuesday morning, July 16, at the Winchester Hospital. He had been hospitalized for two weeks and ill at his home for two weeks previous.

Mr. Connolly was the son of Andrew, and Mary (Flaherty) Connolly. He was born October 5, 1899, on the Isle of Aran, County Galway, Ireland, coming to this country in 1926 at the age of 26.

He settled in Woburn and learned the leather trade there, being employed during the four years he lived in Woburn at the Riley Tannery.

In 1930 Mr. Connolly came to Winchester and entered the employ of the Beggs & Cobb Tannery here. He became skilled in all branches of leather work, while his huge stature and prodigious strength enabled him to do the hardest kinds of work with ease.

Known affectionately far and near as "Big Mike," he was held in respect by his fellow workers and the plant management, and was liked by all who knew him.

Aside from his home and family, Mr. Connolly's chief interest was his church. He was an ardent worker for St. Mary's Church when his home was included in that parish, holding membership in its Holy Name Society and being active in the St. Mary's Garden Parties held on the parish grounds.

When his home was placed in the then newly established Immaculate Conception Parish, he transferred his interest and loyalty there, joining the Immaculate Conception Holy Name Society and being active in parish affairs. He was a member of the Ancient Order of Hibernians in Woburn and was a former officer in the Leather Workers' Association, Local No. 22.

Having a great affection for the Ireland of his birth, he was actively interested in Irish affairs and was one of the very few in this country to own a flag of Erin. Despite his huge bulk he was an accomplished Irish step dancer, in his more active years often appearing in entertainments in both Winchester and Woburn.

On January 21, 1935, Mr. Connolly married Marie Curran of Winchester, who survives, with a daughter, Mary Theresa Connolly of Winchester and a son, Andrew Joseph Connolly, attached to the Naval Training Center at Bainbridge, Md. Two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Sharkey and Miss Katherine Connolly also survive, with two brothers, Lawrence and Martin Connolly, all living in County Galway, Ireland.

The funeral was held this Friday morning from the Late Home with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at the Immaculate Conception Church. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

RETIRED OFFICER TO LIVE HERE

Lieutenant Commander R. E. Brown, U. S. Coast Guard, is culminating a colorful career which embraces 25½ years of sea and shore duty—a part of which was spent in Boston. He will make his home in Winchester, where he will take a position as a securities sales representative in the Boston area.

LCDR Brown, enlisted in the Coast Guard in 1921, served as a yeoman, warrant officer, and commissioned officer in supply, accounting, personnel and administrative positions. He served as Contracting and Supply Officer, 1st Coast Guard District, Boston, during 1950-1952; and as Commanding Officer, U. S. Coast Guard Supply Depot, Boston, during 1952-1955.

MISS TIBBITTS ENGAGED TO MR. TERZAGHI

Miss Tibbitts is a graduate of Reed College, Portland, Oregon. Her fiancé is a student there. The wedding will take place early in September.

THOMAS — TRACY

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Jeanne Tracy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Tracy of Wilmington, formerly of Winchester, to Tom E. Thomas at the United States Naval Training Center in Bainbridge, Md., on July 3.

Both the bride and bridegroom are in the Navy and are stationed at Bainbridge.

BABE RUTH ALL STARS (State Tournament)

Phillips Park, Swampscott Saturday, July 20th

After the good showing of the All-Stars winners from Lowell last Saturday, they will meet Swampscott tomorrow, 2:30, at the high school field (Phillips Park), with Vandy French looking for his first all-star victory since Little League days.

For the convenience of the many fans who will follow the team to Swampscott, the field is located on Huntley street, just beyond the Ocean House Garage, which is in the rear of the hotel.

If a Winchester victory, our boys will meet either Billerica or Wellesley in the final game at Manchester Field on July 27th before playing for the state champions at Amherst, August 3rd and 4th.

EDGAR A. PERRY
HEADS UNITED FUND DIVISION

Edgar A. Perry of Melrose, institutional sales manager of H. P. Hood & Sons, Boston, will serve as chairman of the North metropolitan division of the United Fund Campaign here this fall. It was announced today by Erskine N. White, metropolitan department chairman.

As north metropolitan chairman, Mr. Perry will direct campaign activities in the towns of Cambridge, Somerville, Medford, Melrose, Stoneham, Wakefield, Reading, North Reading, Malden, Everett, Chelsea, Revere, Winthrop, Arlington, Belmont, Lexington, Bedford, Lincoln, Winchester, Woburn, Newton, Waltham and Watertown.

A veteran campaigner, Mr. Perry was chairman of the Foodstuffs division of the 1956 Red Feather Campaign, chairman of Melrose Red Cross Campaign in 1945, and state chairman of the 1951 Heart Fund appeal.

He is a director of the Massachusetts Heart Association and assistant treasurer of the Massachusetts Tuberculosis and Health League. From 1950 to 1952 he served as chairman of the Melrose chapter of the American Red Cross.

Mr. Perry is a graduate of the University of Massachusetts, and was chosen by the student body as "This Year's Outstanding Alumnus." He is a park commissioner in Melrose and a director of Melrose Savings Bank.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry live at 6 Meadowview road, Melrose. They have one daughter, with two brothers, Lawrence and Martin Connolly, all living in County Galway, Ireland.

MRS. ELLEN E. DOLAN

Mrs. Ellen E. Dolan, wife of Dr. William F. Dolan of 7 Lakeview terrace and mother of Selectman John A. Dolan, died Monday, July 15, at Cardinal O'Connell House of St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Brighton, following a long illness. She was 68 years old.

Born in Cambridge, Mrs. Dolan was the daughter of John P. and Julia (Haley) Good. She grew up in Cambridge, was graduated from Cambridge High and Latin School and from Boston Normal School.

For several years before her marriage she taught in the Boston school system.

Mrs. Dolan was married in 1919, and for two years after her marriage lived in Boston. Later she was for 20 years a resident of Arlington before coming to Winchester and the family home on Lakeview terrace in 1941. She was a member of St. Mary's Sodality and of Winchester Chapter, Guild of the Infant Saviour.

Besides her husband and son, John, Mrs. Dolan leaves three daughters, Mrs. Richard H. Downes, Miss Ann E. Dolan, a kindergarten teacher at the Wyman School, and Miss Mary E. Dolan, a teacher in the Everett Schools, all of Winchester; another son, Joseph F. Dolan of Winchester; 15 grandchildren and three brothers, Joseph C. Good of Cambridge, Dr. Frederick L. Good, Boston obstetrician, and Judge Francis J. Good of the Cambridge Superior Court.

Another brother, the late Timothy J. Good, was mayor of Cambridge from 1910 to 1914.

The funeral was held Thursday morning from the late residence with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

KARL COX

Karl William Bartlett Cox, 53, a former Winchester resident, died Sunday, July 14, at Emerson Hospital in Concord. An electrical technician, he retired two months ago from the General Radio Co.

Mr. Cox was born on January 26, 1904 in Waverly. He was the son of William H. and Jane I. (Condon) Cox. Educated in the Medford schools, Mr. Cox lived on Forest street for ten years before moving to Littleton and eventually to Concord.

He is survived by his wife, the former Lillian M. Closson; a son, K. William B. Cox, Jr. of Groton and by two grandchildren. Also surviving are three brothers and three sisters: Douglas T. Cox of Medford; Earl Stanley of North Reading; and John L. Cox of Freeport, N. Y. Mrs. Muriel V. Bradford of Wakefield, Mrs. Viola Isobel of Andover and Mrs. Martha Risen of Marshfield.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Bennett Chapel with the Rev. Walter Lee Bailey of the First Baptist Church officiating. Interment was at Wildwood Cemetery.

TOWED IN OVERTURNED BOATMAN

George Hendricks of Kenilworth road, chief of the Auxiliary Police, rescued a couple of shipwrecked mariners off Grape Island in the Parker River Tuesday while returning from a trip to Crane's Beach and Plum Island in the family 16-ft. outboard.

George and Mrs. Hendricks, with their son, Allen, and daughter, Wendy, had been enjoying sunbathing at Crane's Beach and fishing at Plum Island. As they chugged back up the Parker River to return their home port about 6:00 p. m. they saw what at first looked like a couple of chaps swimming off Grape Island.

As the Hendricks boat hove in sight the two men waved to it, and George ran in toward them. As he approached he saw the prow of a boat sticking up above the water, and discovered that the two men had overturned while sailing a dinghy equipped with an outboard. Both the sail and engine were in use when a sudden gust of wind from an unexpected quarter capsize the craft.

The Hendricks hooked on to the disabled dinghy and towed it ashore, where George helped the shipwrecked mariners right the boat, and then started to tow it to Plum Island, from where it had come.

The tide was rapidly going out and before George could reach Plum Island both his own and the boat in tow were hard and fast on the flats.

Poling and other attempted means of continuing the cruise failed and a three-hour roost on the flats was necessary before there was sufficient water to finish the tow to Plum Island. This was, however, finally accomplished and the Hendricks headed for home, making the trip to port without further incident.

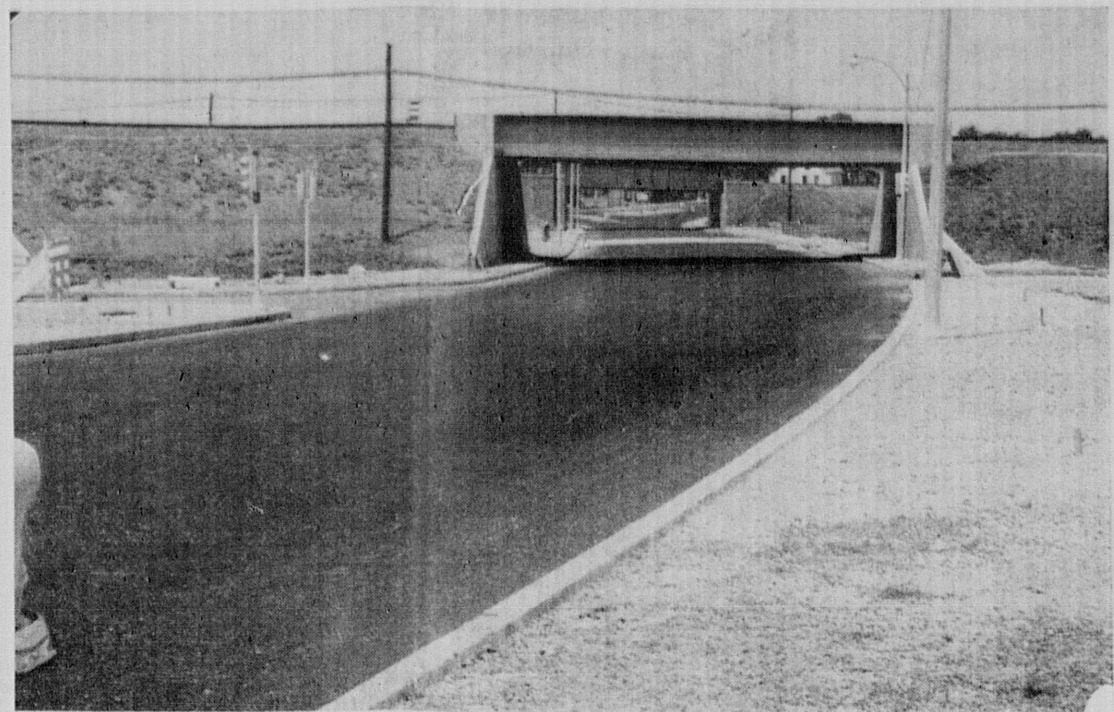

CIVIL SERVICE EXAM

The time for the examination for substitute clerk-carrier, and, or substitute clerk at the Winchester Postoffice has been extended to Tuesday, August 6. Persons interested in taking the examination may secure the proper application forms by applying at the window of the Winchester Postoffice. Applications must be filed on or before August 6.

UNION CHURCH SERVICES

The Union Services will be held this Sunday morning at 10 a. m. at the Second Congregational Church.

The Rev. Norman L. Smith will preach on the topic, "The Blessing of Silence."

REUNION

The home of Mr. Franklin Pynn was the scene of a reunion this past week when his sisters, Mrs. Andrew Hughes (Jessie Pynn) of Toronto, Ontario and Mrs. Eli Sheppard (Laura Pynn) of St. Johns, Newfoundland, together with their other brother Mr. Willis Pynn of Saugus, Mass., met for the first time in fifty-five years.

The long separation was due to the family being sent to distant and different relatives on the death of their mother when they were little children. Their father came to Winchester at the turn of the century bringing Willis with him and shortly after Franklin joined them when in 1909 and has lived here ever since. There was much excitement and a great deal that had taken place in the family and pictures, filled the bill and when the day drew to a close everyone agreed they had enjoyed the best in Winchester hospitality.

Twenty-seven members of the family met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Chase, Jr. (Florence Pynn) on Sunday for a family cook-out and get acquainted party. Plenty of food, music, colored slides of the big events that have taken place in the family, and pictures, filled the bill and when the day drew to a close everyone agreed they had enjoyed the best in Winchester hospitality.

Future plans for the town are for a parking area in the rear of the Waterfield block. Negotiations for this have been in progress for some time.

Shore road will be finished last because of heavy equipment which must be moved over it. Upon its completion, the Park Department plans to plant grass and return the area to its former brookside beauty.

Traffic Cut by New Road

Skillings By-Pass Now Open

After a year in construction, the new Skillings by-pass is nearing completion. Winchester residents can be proud of the transition of a swamp into a modern and convenient highway which removes much of the traffic from the center of town.

The only remaining work on the overhead project is the placing of manholes and catch basins on Swanton street. Hot-top sidewalks and a fence on the new by-pass are let to subcontractors. Workers from the J. C. Maney Construction Co. will finish the job by August 15.

Chief of Police Harold reports that the by-pass has made a "remarkable cut in traffic in the square" and this and the Waterfield road change eliminates 4,500 cars a day from the downtown section.

In addition to the fill, the 45 foot hill which was once the site of the Skillings estate was cut through and part of this area now forms the parking lot across from the Town Hall.

Besides the advantage of a road by-passing the center of town, the construction has made a further improvement in Shore road playing field. The field, built on peat, formerly had a tendency to sink because of the marshy peat underpinning it. Now, it is expected that the new road will act as a dam between the playing field base and Blackball Pond. With the addition of the new road, it is believed the field should be one of the best in this part of the State.

Upon completion of this job, Olive street will again revert to a dead end street. Persons going to the town disposal area and barrel factory must go by way of Swanton street.

Future plans for the town are for a parking area in the rear of the Waterfield block. Negotiations for this have been in progress for some time.

Shore road will be finished last because of heavy equipment which must be moved over it. Upon its completion, the Park Department plans to plant grass and return the area to its former brookside beauty.

HELP URGENTLY NEEDED

President Eisenhower has issued a strong appeal for funds to be used by the American National Red Cross during their tremendous task of helping the thousands of victims of the hurricane and floods in Texas and Louisiana.

The President states: "In the great task of rehabilitation, carrying on the work of sheltering and feeding them, ministering to the sick and the hurt—the American Red Cross will play a major role. The Red Cross whose financial resources are already severely taxed by this and other disaster operations will need the help of every citizen of our land. Every one of us can participate in helping to relieve the suffering of his fellow Americans by contributing directly to local Red Cross Chapters."

In a disaster bulletin from National Red Cross, this week, the following statements show the extent of Red Cross responsibility and the terrific job it is doing.

"Family applications for long-term assistance are coming in at the rate of 250 per day in the 20 Louisiana parishes and 4 Texas counties hit by the great storm."

"Approximately 2,000 are being fed full meals three times daily at the Red Cross kitchen in Cameron, La., while thousands of others are fed by mobile Red Cross canteens at Crooke, Cameron and Lake Charles."

"General Alfred M. Gruenther, President of the American Red Cross, has pledged that the hundreds of Red Cross disaster staff and volunteers, who have been helping bury the dead and feed and shelter the living among Hurricane Audrey's victims, will stay on the job in Louisiana and Texas until every man, woman, and child is on the way to the 'winchance'."

Your local Red Cross Chapter greatly appreciates the several gifts it has already received. If you wish to help please send your contribution to the Winchester Chapter at the Town Hall.

Water Board Issues Statement

Questions About Water Shortage Answered

In response to many requests for answers to questions arising from the acute water shortage in Winchester and the measures instituted by the Board of Water Commissioners to conserve the water we have and plan for additional supplies in the future, the Star secured the following statement from the Commissioners for this week's issue.

The Winchester Water Board greatly appreciates the interest of the Winchester Star and the assistance rendered by it through publication of information which has been helpful in conserving our water. Four questions have been asked frequently about the present and future water supply of Winchester. It seems appropriate for the Board to answer them.

1. What is the status of our proposed new connection between the M. D. C. Spot Pond Reservoir and Winchester Reservoirs?

The engineering for this project is complete. Pipes and fittings are on order. Plans and specifications have been drawn, and under emergency regulations a contract has been let for pipe installation. There is every reason to believe that the laying of pipes will be completed and portable pumps operating by September, which will deliver a sufficient volume of water to partially relieve our present critical deficiencies. Work on the permanent pumping station and pumps cannot commence until the State gives final approval of the relocation of Route 28. A delay in this would mean entering 1958 without benefit of full reservoirs.

The new proposed connection and pumping station when completed, together with current improvements being made in the M.D.C. distribution system will assure Winchester an adequate supply of water to meet the indicated needs of our population projected to the saturation point.

2. Why is a customer located on the West Side High Service System, already connected to the M.D.C., restricted in his use of water?

Winchester is limited both by contract and physical capacity in the amount of water which may be taken from its West Side connections. Every drop of water conserved on the West Side Hill flows into our gravity system for use by residents in other areas of the Town, and hence reduces the draft on our own reservoirs. It is, therefore, just as essential to limit the use of water on the West Side High System as in any other part of the Town.

3. Why has the Winchester Country Club been permitted to water its greens?

Under normal conditions, the Winchester Country Club uses a large volume of water both from Arlington and Winchester on its tees, fairways and greens covering an area of 168 acres. At an early date, prior to the imposing of water restrictions, the subject of the reduction of water consumption was discussed by the Water Board with officers of the Club, whose primary concern was to conserve the water conservation, and at the same time prevent irreparable damage to greens. As a result, the Board ordered the elimination of the use of all Winchester water on tees and fairways, and permitted a limited use on the relatively small area covered by greens. To go further in limiting the Club would be discriminating unfairly against a customer, since the average residential reduction has been 33%, and the average commercial reduction 10%, while the Country Club has reduced its consumption of Winchester water by 80%. The Club has voluntarily applied the Winchester restrictions to the water supplied by Arlington, which amounts to three-fourths of its total consumption.

4. What temporary measures have been taken to increase the water supply?

Two temporary steps have been taken to bring additional water to the Town. First, the M.D.C. has permitted us to exceed our contractual limit of water from the West Side connection. While this helps to reduce the drain on our own reservoirs, there is a physical limit to the capacity of our pipes and our arrangement is subject to other demands on the M.D.C. system.

Second, a four-inch hose portable pump has just been put in operation to bring a small extra supply from Spot Pond to our Middle Reservoir. Each of these extra sources is small, temporary and subject to the pleasure of the M.D.C., but it is the Board's hope that additional water thus obtained may be sufficient to carry us to the completion of our permanent solution.

Both of these steps have been taken in addition to having placed the Carter Street Well-field in full operation early in the year when the low-water condition of our reservoirs first became apparent.

Finally, the Board wishes to thank the residents of the Town for their excellent and complete cooperation. It is not pleasant to require restrictions. The Board is sincerely and sympathetically concerned about the possibility of damage to valuable shrubbery of our residents, and is earnestly seeking a solution that might offer some measure of relief in this direction.

GEORGE A. MCINTIRE

George A. McIntire, 50, of 16 Park road, died suddenly Sunday night, July 14, at his home. He was associated with the A & P Tea Co. in Boston.

Mr. McIntire was born in Amesbury in 1906 and resided in Winchester for the last ten years. He was the son of George S. and Margaret McIntire who survive him.

He was a member of the Woburn Lodge of Elks and St. Gabriel's Laymen's Retreat and the Catholic Labor Guild of Brighton.

Besides his parents, he is survived by his wife, Emma (Walden) McIntire, one son, Robert S. of Winchester, and one daughter, Patricia A. of Winchester. In addition, he leaves three sisters, Marion McIntire of Woburn, Margaret Tenney of Woburn and Genevieve Callahan of Wakefield, and one brother, John, of Boston.

The funeral was held from the M. G. Moffett Funeral Home on Wednesday at 8:15 a. m. A high mass of requiem was sung at St. Mary's Church at 9:30 o'clock. Interment followed at Wildwood Cemetery.

SPOT POND WATER IS PUMPED INTO SOUTH RESERVOIR

Pumping was started Wednesday at South Reservoir. Water is being pumped from Spot Pond into the reservoir with the use of the fire department's trailer pump.

Although it is difficult to calculate the amount of water which is being transferred, the amount will not be enough to cure the town's water shortage. It is, literally, a drop in the bucket.

Spot Pond is a storage pond for MDC water. The present method of pumping will continue until a permanent method is established.

BABE RUTH ALL-STAR STATE TOURNEY

The Winchester Babe Ruth All Stars won the first round sectional play-off game with Lowell last Saturday at Manchester Field. One big inning was all that the All Stars needed—French and Serieka singled, then 3 passes in a row to Del Rossi, Arlanson and DeMinico gave us 2 runs. Mike Bellino ex-Little League star singled with the bases loaded driving in 2 more and Tofuri running.

GIRL SCOUT DAY CAMP

Camp Joy, the day camp operated by the Winchester Council of Girl Scouts, closed yesterday after a successful four-week period. The 54 Brownies and 40 Girl Scouts, all registered members of local troops, were placed in five units according to age and interest.

The program included sports and games featuring archery, nature study, arts and crafts, ceramics, campcraft, singing and dramatics, as well as a better understanding of the outdoor part of the total Girl Scout program.

A flag ceremony at the beginning and end of each camp day was assigned to participating units with all Scouts participating as color guards.

Intermediate Scouts were able to complete the necessary requirements for some of the outdoor badges that can be earned better in a camp setting. Badges earned this year were Rock and Mineral, Adventurer, Rambler and Sports. Some of the new Fly-up Scouts were able to work on some of the nature and outdoor requirements for second-class rank.

Camp Joy was directed by Mrs. E. M. Shinnick, local executive, and was supervised by the camp committee of the Girl Scout Council. The staff included the following: Unit Leaders — Mrs. William Todd, Mrs. Lawrence Beckley, Mrs. Thomas Hill, Mrs. Clarence Knight, Mrs. Charles Bund, Mrs. James Dasebach, Mrs. W. F. McClintock and Mrs. Arvid Monsen.

Camp Specialists — Miss Myra Luce, nature; Miss Ellen Glowacki, crafts; Miss Betty Ann Joyce and Miss Gail Hendricks, sports and games; and Mrs. James Stewart, campcraft.

Junior Staff — Nancy Byrnes, Sandy Erickson, Dotty Chapman, Tucky Frazier, Lois McClintock, Abby Nichols, Kathy and Betsy Oliver.

Three of our older Scouts who helped at camp this summer were Marilyn Beckley, Joanna Hill and Barbara Stewart.

For the next five weeks, the Medford Girl Scout Council will operate their day camp at the Winchester Cabin. The Medford Camp will be under the direction of Miss Marjorie Logan, Medford executive.

NEW GENERATORS FOR HOSPITAL

The Winchester Hospital, through the U. S. Navy Surplus Program, has acquired three additional emergency generators. These generators will be tied in with the hospital power supply to supplement the regular Edison supply in case of power failure. The combined output of the units is approximately 75 kilowatts, and it is expected that this will be sufficient power to supply practically all the needs of the hospital, including the kitchen, elevator, laundry and Nurses' Home.

One generator is on an automatic starting switch so that it starts immediately in case of power failure and supplies current to an emergency circuit, providing illumination until the other units can be hand started.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

Last Wednesday afternoon the combined girls and boys softball team of Loring Field visited Ginn Field with Victor Lawson pitching. Loring to an 11-7 victory. Eric Schaefer was the stand-out player for the winners while Bob Heights, Eddie Luongo, Kevin Sullivan, Bob Denham, Caron Lynch, Elizabeth Joyce and Fran McLeod played their share. Jeff Peckham, Frank Frongillo and Bill Beaton tossed them up for the losers and did a fine job but not quite fine enough for their side to win. Playing a good brand of ball but to a losing cause were John Covislian, Jean Marchant, Jim Hession and Tom Kelly.

On Thursday the softballers of Leonard defeated West Side in a one-sided score of 15-0. Dickie Lindsey pitched no hit ball for Leonard and Bob Donlon connected for a homer with two players on base. Others of honorable mention for the winning side were Barry Sullivan, Richie Caslinuova, Ronnie Lynch, Phil Gallagher, Bob Foley, John Cussens, Joey Mawn and Dave Rowe. Standing out for West Side were Robert Moran, Bill Mahoney, Jim Moran, Richie Birnie, Barbara Morton and Perley Bacon.

The West Side Juniors baseball nine visited Leonard on Monday morning with the game going into extra innings and still ending with an 11-11 tie, which will be played off at a later date. Charlie Tofuri put Leonard ahead in the first frame with a home run. In the third, Mike Bellino was walked to load the bases and Reed's pitch was met by the next batter Richie Bond who sent it into center for a grand slam homer. In the same frame Caslinuova doubled, stole third and scored on a perfect bunt by Muraco.

In the West Side half of the third Bacon tripled and Reed singled then Farnson met a pitch for a clean homer. In the fourth Tofuri opened with a single and when Bellino flied out, Tofuri went to third and finally stole home. Hart opened the West Side half of the inning with a single and later scored on Ben Bacon's single. For the rest of the game both teams played fine defensive ball and the game was called when the score read 11-11 after going into extra innings.

On Tuesday morning basketball came into the picture with the Loring Intermediates playing at West Side. Loring left the court as winners by a 50-26 score and its star player, Richie Bond, was high scorer in the contest with 19 points. Others in the scoring column for Loring were Peter Branch, Whipper Smith, Ben Benicasa and Jim Flaherty. Those hitting the basket for the losers were Capidalupo, Butters, Stout, Doherty and Birnie. A group of boys and girls of elementary school age from Leonard Field with instructor Elaine Larsen went to West Side Field to meet Mary Dowling's groups. The youngsters from both fields combined to play in softball, kickball and while ball and an enjoyable time was had by all on this cool Tuesday afternoon.

The Arts and Crafts Department under Supervisor, Elizabeth Haggerty went at full strength this week with the youngsters busy and interested in the making of pot holders, gimp earrings, leather key holders and plaster of Paris figurines. A display of these projects being made on the playgrounds is being planned so watch this column for further details. If the youngsters have made any of the above-mentioned items and do not bring them home it means that the items are being held for the display and then shall be given to the right owner.

The schedule for Arts and Crafts for next week is as follows:

Monday — Leonard
Tuesday — Loring
Wednesday — West Side
Thursday — West Side
Friday — Leonard

As a reminder, we would like to mention that the summer recreation program is being held at the Winchester Park Department and that all fields are under proper supervision. If your youngsters have not yet registered, have them do so by going to the field nearest their home. The fields are open each day Monday through Friday 9:00 - 12:00 and 2:00 - 5:00.

TOWN SOFTBALL LEAGUE

The Town Softball League, sponsored by the Winchester Park Department, and directed by Frank Provinzano is coming to a rapid close. The play has been as exciting as ever and the championship playoffs will be getting its start in two weeks so look in this column for further details. If the present record is an indication of teams who will play in the playoffs for the trophy they will be the Sons of Italy, Holy Name Society (defending champions), V.F.W. and Jokers. However, next week's games may result in a change or two so let's not cross the bridge yet.

Softball League Standing (as of July 6)
Team	Won	Lost	Tie
Sons of Italy	13	1
Holy Name Society	11	6
V.F.W.	11	5

TWO FALSE ALARMS SOUNDED AT WINCHESTER BANKS

Two bank alarms sounded on Friday morning, one at 9:15 at the Winchester Trust Co. and another at 11:40 at the Winchester National Bank.

Both alarms were false and were set off accidentally by workmen when wires were crossed.

Both alarms were handled as though they were the real thing by the police department until things were straightened out.

LITTLE LEAGUE PLAYOFFS

AMERICAN LEAGUE

In its first year of operation the American League has had some exciting moments of baseball. It has also seen examples of outstanding baseball. But, as usual, the best playing comes when it really counts—in the playoffs.

The two teams involved in this season's playoffs were the Reds, managed by Neal Doherty, and the Cardinals, managed by Ed Williams.

The Reds won the championship as they came back to take the second and third games in the best two-out-of-three series. However, there was a fourth game because the first contest was a 3-to-3 tie after seven innings of play; and it was finally decided to rule out the game rather than continue it at a late date.

Series Opener

In this first game the Cardinals got all their runs in the first inning with the aid of five errors. The Reds also scored in the first, but then the two pitchers, Keane for the Reds and Howard for the Cardinals, settled down until the Reds tied the game in the last of the sixth.

In the seventh the Cardinals got a man on third with no one out, but he was thrown out trying to score on a passed ball.

The Cardinals once again got a head start on the Reds as they scored a run in the first inning of the game. The lead-off batter, Griffin, singled and then stole second. Howard advanced him to third with another single, from where he scored when Donlon's ground ball was misplayed.

In the third the Cards got their second run on a single by Errico driving in Rotundi, who had walked and moved to second on a passed ball.

The Reds threatened to score in every inning except the second, but the Cards' little pitcher, Errico, was big enough to thwart their scoring attempts and win the 2-to-1 ball game.

In the first inning Gallagher led off with a triple but was erased trying to score on a ground out. The third saw Cuff get to third on a walk and two wild pitches only to be left stranded there.

However, the Reds' biggest threat came at their last chance to score in the bottom half of the sixth when they had men on third and second with one out. The next two batters went out harmlessly.

The Cards' Errico had some fine fielding behind him, performed mainly by Shortstop Griffin and Center Fielder Ford, both of whom took base hits away from Red batters. For the Reds, Joe Curran, playing second base, made three sparkling fielding plays.

The Reds came alive in what was officially the second game, one which they had to win, and took it 7 to 3. The Reds' pitcher, Robert Zana, pitched a one-hitter and hurled an outstanding game until he relaxed in the late innings of the game.

In the first inning a double by Gallagher and singles by Schipellite and Zana contributed two runs. The Reds added two more tallies in the second inning when a Schipellite single drove in Kearns and Gallagher, who had reached third on a fielder's choice and a double. The final Redleg runs came in the fourth. Curran led off the inning with a walk and came in to score when Gallagher's single got who tagged Griffin out.

Howard had gone all the way to third on the play. It looked like he was going to score when Donlon sent a hard-hit ball toward the hole between first and second. The Reds' second baseman, Joe Curran, however, lunged for the ball, fielded it cleanly, and threw him out.

past the center fielder for a two-base error. Schipellite then reached first on another error which permitted Gallagher to score. "Skip py" then advanced around the bases on two stolen bases and a ground out.

The Cardinals got two of their runs in the fifth on an error, a walk, a double by Griffin driving in one run, and an error on the throw from the outfield, which permitted another run to score.

In the next inning the Cards picked up another run. After they got men on first and third the next batter fouled out and the catcher tried to double up the runner on first, allowing the runner on third to score.

Deciding Game to Reds As it should be, the final and deciding game was the best of the series. The Reds won it 2 to 1. But they had to play their best game to do it. The Cardinals threatened to break the game wide open on a number of occasions. Both pitchers gave excellent performances, as did a number of fielders, namely Griffin, Curran and Gallagher.

The Cards had men on second and third with two out in the second but didn't score. They had the same situation in the next inning but again didn't score.

The Reds' pitcher, Ronnie Keane, got credit for driving the first Redleg run across, thus helping in his own cause. Schipellite opened the fourth with a walk but was forced at second by Zana. The next batter walked, moving Zana into scoring position for second. When Keane singled to right Zana came in.

The runners advanced to second and third on the throw to the plate, but a pitcher-to-first-to-home double play ended a chance to get some more runs.

The Cardinals, however, were by no means out just because they were down, for they tied the game up in the next inning. George Rotundi led off the inning with his second hit. Griffin then bunted to advance Rotundi, but the throw to first hit Griffin in the back and both runners were safe, with Rotundi taking third. Errico followed with a fly to center but it wasn't deep enough to permit Rotundi to score; however, Griffin took second on the throw to the plate.

The Cardinal pitcher, Paul Howard, also helped himself greatly as he then singled, scoring Rotundi. Griffin advanced to third and when the throw to the plate got past the catcher, Griffin tried to score. However, an alert Schipellite had backed up the play as he came all the way in from first base and threw to Keane covering the plate, who tagged Griffin out.

Howard had gone all the way to third on the play. It looked like he was going to score when Donlon sent a hard-hit ball toward the hole between first and second. The Reds' second baseman, Joe Curran, however, lunged for the ball, fielded it cleanly, and threw him out.

Howard had gone all the way to third on the play. It looked like he was going to score when Donlon sent a hard-hit ball toward the hole between first and second. The Reds' second baseman, Joe Curran, however, lunged for the ball, fielded it cleanly, and threw him out.

It was the last of the sixth before the game was decided in typical Frank Merriwell fashion. Gallagher led off the inning with a single to deep short which he just beat out. A wild pitch permitted him to take second, and a ground ball to short, with the throw to third arriving too late, allowing him to slide under the tag. This set the stage for Robert Zana. The Reds' rooters didn't have long to wait, for Zana singled to right on the first pitch, Gallagher crossing the plate with the winning run and the championship.

The post-game celebration consisted of an impromptu parade to Leonard's Beach, where Manager Neal Doherty and Coach Fran Muraco went off the diving board with their clothes on.

Mr. Doherty was the picture of happiness after the game. When asked what he thought of his team he said, "This is the finest bunch of boys I ever knew, and all through the season whatever I asked of them I got."

NATIONAL LEAGUE

A 6-to-2 victory over the Braves in their last game of the regular season won the Red Sox the second-half championship of the National and the right to enter the best two-out-of-three series with the first-half-champion Dodgers.

The Dodgers continued to rule as this league's champions as they won the first two games 10 to 4 and 1 to 0. The Dodgers have been in the playoffs each of the three years it has been necessary to have a series. They have won the championship four straight years, three times by taking both halves of the season.

The first game was a close one until the Dodgers exploded for five runs in the sixth to put the game on ice. Hughes started the rally when he reached on an error. The next batter walked; and when the following hitter attempted a sacrifice, the pitcher picked up the ball and threw to third trying to get the lead runner. However, the sun got in the eyes of the third baseman and the throw got past him, permitting a run to score. Doherty drove in the next run, and a home run by Fitzgerald added three more tallies.

The Dodgers, who are ably managed by Art Johns, scored twice in the first on a hit by Doherty, a walk, and a two-run single by Fitzgerald.

They added three more in the third as they loaded the bases on a single and two walks, followed by two fielder's choices and a single by Reardon.

The Red Sox, who are managed by Dan Chane, kept pace with the Dodgers as they also scored in the first and third innings.

In the first a single by Peckham drove in Tansey, who had singled and moved to third on a passed ball and a stolen base.

The third saw the Sox score three times with a two-run single by the pitcher, Peter Cass, the big hit. Menucci started the rally with a walk. After Scherban singled, both runners advanced on a passed ball. Tansey then hit a ground ball to short. The shortstop tried to throw Menucci out at the plate, but the throw was off and Menucci was safe. Scherban, who had taken third on the play, scored as Cass singled, with Tansey also crossing the plate.

The fans also witnessed one of the best fielding plays of the season when Robert Menucci of the Red Sox went against the wall to rob Hughes of a home run.

Exciting Second Game The second game was short on action but long on excitement as Bruce Fitzgerald of the Dodgers and Richard Tansey of the Red Sox hooked up in a pitchers' duel which the Dodgers won 1 to 0 on a homer by Fitzgerald with two out in the last of the sixth.

Fitzgerald, who pitched a no-hitter and struck out ten, was in trouble only in the second inning when he loaded the bases on walks with two out. However, he struck out the next batter to end the inning.

The Red Sox pitcher, Tansey, gave up only three hits, two by Fitzgerald, and didn't walk a man. In the last of the sixth with two out and nobody on base, Fitzgerald met a Tansey fast ball and sent it over the left-field fence about three feet inside the foul pole.

After the game Mr. Johns said he thought the clubs would be the most evenly balanced league since the start of the Winchester Little League, and that any team was capable of defeating the other team on any occasion. He also stated that the team that got the breaks in either half would win that half and that the Dodgers just got the breaks.

Mrs. Edward Sterling, wife of Star linotype Ed Sterling, formerly of Winchester, who is spending the summer in Nurnberg, Germany, with her daughters, Erika and Karin, writes she has recently acquired one of those small foreign make cars and is touring the countryside. She and the girls left last Sunday for Munich and Austria. According to Mrs. S. the little car is a bit on the hard side starting, but really goes once it hits its stride.

Announcement that water is being pumped from Spot Pond into our Middle Reservoir through the emergency pipe line just installed seems to have created the misconception that there is no longer any water emergency in Winchester. There is, of course; and it will continue, for at least through much of the summer, even if we get the rain so badly needed. Water authorities estimate a rainfall of six inches, which is unusually heavy, would provide no more than a week's supply of water. That we are pumping into our reservoir through the emergency pipe line is to prevent so far as possible the dropping of the water level in that reservoir too far below the actual danger line and to get the extra supply that would be needed in the event of a bad fire. It is not intended to provide unlimited water for the town.

Though the alarming water shortage is the chief topic of conversation in connection with the severe drought, we should not ignore the dangerous fire potential daily increasing with the absence of rain. We should all be doubly cautious about starting fires, especially in wooded areas which are tinder dry and just right for burning. As the Star prepares to go to press fire-fighting units from Winchester and Medford have been battling a stubborn woods fire at the town and city line in the Fells for two days and a night. Someone's carelessness is undoubtedly responsible for this fire. Let us all make sure that through our carelessness a fire is not started that can result in loss of property and possibly, of life.

LITTLE LEAGUE REPLIES

Editor of the Star:

Did you ever try to build a house of blocks when you were a youngster only to have someone passing by try to knock it down?

There are many youngsters and adults in Winchester who have spent a great amount of time and money on our Little League Program, and I suppose it is natural to have a few passing by to make the picture complete.

Upon carefully looking into our files and records after reading last week's "rock" it would appear that the writer was not close enough to our program to know either the system or personnel which he condemned. Perhaps a working relationship with our Dads' Club, operating staff, scorers, umpires, etc., would have been a more worthwhile contribution to better Winchester Little League. I feel that I must defend those who have done so much to make our program so worth while.

To correctly inform readers of the Star, I would like to point out that as a result of several years' experience the hundreds of coaches, managers, directors, etc., via a National Congress have devised the best solution possible to establishing All-Star Teams and running a National Playoff system. This system is the same for the more than 4500 leagues now in existence. It has proven to be an excellent method and meets with the complete approval of the Little League Congress as those close to Little League can attest.

ARMY CERTIFICATE TO STAR

Editor Jim Penaligan receives First Army Military Personnel Procurement Service Certificate of Appreciation from Lt. Col. Thomas B. Spiller, Jr., Commanding Officer, Boston Army Recruiting Main Station, in recognition of the Winchester Star's assistance to the recruiting of the 1202nd Area Service Unit from January, 1950, to July, 1957. In picture with the editor and Lt. Col. Spiller are (left to right) Dorothy M. Lord, bookkeeper of the Star; Mrs. Kenneth B. Toye, head of Winchester's Military Manpower Committee; and SFC Alan T. Ward, Recruiting Publicity NCU.

As for the "incompetent" people who selected the Winchester All-Star Teams, I feel well qualified to state that the managers of our teams know what they are doing and who the All Stars really are. Unfortunately, only fourteen boys from each league can be selected. There were many disappointed that their boys were not selected for one of the regular teams let alone an All-Star Team and they will be right in there trying again next season.

It would not be fair to say, "Wake up Winchester," "incompetents," etc., without noting first that Winchester is very much awake in having one of the best Little League programs in this area which the town is behind all the way. Also, that our "incompetents" have been able to develop and select All-Star Teams which have gone all the way to the National Finals in Williamsport the last two years in a row.

W. C. Hitchborn, President
Winchester Little League

QUERIES WATER BOARD

Editor of the Star:

The drastic curtailment in the use of water in Winchester, as I understand it, is due to the very low level of the water in the reservoirs on the East Side of Town.

To bolster the water supply in these reservoirs in periods of drought, such as we are now having, it was voted this spring at the Winchester Town Meeting to make a connection with the MDC water system by laying a pipe from Spot Pond to the East Side Reservoirs. Knowing the low level of the East Side Reservoirs this spring, why is it that the water department has taken over two months since the adjournment of the meeting before awarding the contract for making the connection between the MDC water system at Spot Pond and the East Side Reservoirs?

It is my understanding from attending town meetings that in Winchester there are two separate water systems. On the east side of town the homes are supplied with water from the east side reservoirs, and on the west side, for several years, the homes have been supplied with MDC water through a direct connection with the MDC water system.

Under these circumstances why is it that the residences on the west side of town that are being supplied with MDC water are not allowed to save the investment such home owner has in his lawns and shrubs by the use of water on a restricted basis, similar to the way the water is now being handled in other communities being supplied by MDC, such as Medford, Arlington, and Boston?

Many of the surrounding towns and cities are allowed to use sprinklers on a one or two day a week basis. Can a similar arrangement be worked out in Winchester?

Sincerely yours,
K. W. Lamprey
63 Emerson road

REBUTTAL

Editor of the Star:

In the light of sober thought and honest evaluation could we not take a moment to "look at the record?"

In Winchester alone, thirty-two men some of whom are sons in the Little League (many do not) spend at least four months of the spring and summer season working directly with two-hundred and forty boys between the ages of eight and twelve as managers and coaches. These men spend at least four evenings each week in the actual training of these children—plus untold hours in meetings and individual calls. There are many other men working in this project who spend hours working out details and organization. Many—in fact—most of these men have no children involved in the program.

For whom are they working and why? For your boys and mine—giving them constructive sport as an outlet for the boundless energy common to this age group.

Before we label these community-minded men as "incompetent" let us ask ourselves if we would be willing to postpone our leisure hours and even our vacations to work with our own children, let alone those of our neighbors.

As a mother of a Little League boy, I have had the opportunity to watch these children grow in the ability to accept both victory and defeat. Would that I could say the same for us who call ourselves adults!

Sincerely,
A Little League Mother

WATER WASTED!

Editor of the Star:

I heartily agree with the article published in last week's Star written by Chester F. Wolfe.

Our investment in our grounds certainly is just as great to us as the investment in the Country Club lawn, still we are not allowed to water our grounds.

July 16, sometime early in the day, there was a very bad water break just at the Winchester-Arlington line. Water just poured out of the broken pipe, running down Forest street, Arlington, to a drain. Hundreds of gallons of water went to waste.

The water department came up sometime in the afternoon and put a "horse" over the hole. I called them early in the evening to ask if the pipe was going to be replaced to save the water. Their reply was, "The leak does not warrant putting an emergency crew on to repair it."

July 17, the water department came up to replace the broken pipe and instead of shutting off the water to repair it they had two pumps going to pump the water out for about two hours; then finally they did shut the water off.

The water that was wasted would, I believe, supply a good many homes for several days.

We are all aware of the drastic water shortage in the town, but still this large amount of water just went to waste and the water department said it didn't warrant putting on an emergency crew to repair the leak.

PARENTS' DAY AT FLEUR DE LIS

Camp Fleur De Lis at Fitzwilliam, N. H., had its annual Parents' Day last Sunday, June 14, with a large group of parents in attendance from Winchester. The Winchester group got together for a picnic lunch on the lake shore and greatly enjoyed the events prepared for the Parents' Day Program.

Winchester girls at the camp and their parents include Kathy Urmon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Urmon of Hillcrest Parkway; Ruthanne Hutchinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hutchinson of Prince Avenue; Thalia McCarthy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel McCarthy of Fairmount street; Gratia Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Ashley Lewis of Wolcott road; Judy and Caroline Carr, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carr of Lakeview road; Debbie Nichols, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Nichols of Oxford street; and Bonney Lee Hakanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hakanson of Kenilworth road.

Carol Swett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Swett of Wolcott terrace, is a counselor in training at the camp.

Visiting the camp last Sunday, in addition to the parents of the girl campers were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Holdsworth of Lawson road with their son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Holdsworth.

WYANOKE NOTES

Brad and Edna Bentley are happy to report that Wyanoke is off to a good start for its 49th year.

Campers from Winchester include: Don Brosius, Robbie Burr, Stu Davis, Lane Grenzback, Russ Hatch, Billy Hood, Joe Kingston, Jeff Lyman, John Mallory, Tommy Porter, Charlie Richmond, Joe Schmader, Paul Sheeran, Jon Smith, and Ricky Stewart.

In the counselor training program are: David Bentley, Steve Hood, the camp bugler, and John Hooser. Among the Junior Counselors are Jim Downes in the Midget Camp, Gordon Piel in the Junior Camp and Eddie Carter, Bob Cooper, Pete Lindvall, and Dave Van Ummersen in the dishwashing department.

Mr. Henry Knowlton is Head Counselor of the Senior Camp and head of the Waterfront, while Mr. F. Meredith Cooper is Head Counselor of the Midget Camp. Greg Downes, Jim Moulton and Chris Righter are counselors and Don MacFeeley is bookkeeper.

Expected soon for the balance of the season are: Mrs. F. Meredith Cooper, Richard Cooper, Kevin and Ricky Connor, Paul Gibb, Harold Muford and Billy Perkins.

Mrs. W. H. Bentley, wife of the founder of Wyanoke is also in residence at camp.

Plastic picnic sets, spoons, forks, knives, and ice teaspoons, are available at the Winchester Star, Star Building.

MORMON MISSIONARIES HERE

Two lady missionaries of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, commonly known as the "Mormon" Church, arrived in Winchester recently. Miss Bonnie Jeanne Raby and Miss Carolyn Skeen will be calling upon the families here during the coming months to acquaint them with the church which they represent. They are not soliciting funds or donations, but they desire to meet the people on a friendly basis and acquaint them with the "Mormon" Church and its beliefs.

Miss Raby, from Salt Lake City, Utah, was secretary to the mayor of that city when she was called to serve as a missionary for a year and a half in New England.

Miss Skeen, who is from Ogden, Utah, was a school teacher prior to becoming a missionary. Both ladies, along with 5,000 young people of their church, serve as missionaries for one and a half to three years at their own expense. At the conclusion of their missions they will return to their former occupations. The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints is neither Catholic or Protestant; it is a restored church. It has received the nickname of "Mormon" Church from its acceptance of the "Book of Mormon" as the word of God, together with the Bible.

The "Book of Mormon" is a record of the word of God to the people who anciently inhabited the American continent, ancestors of the American Indians. It covers principally the period from 600 B.C. to 421 A.D. These people were of Israelitish descent and left Jerusalem in 600 B.C., taking with them certain records of the Old Testament. In addition they kept records which eventually were translated into the "Book of Mormon." Miss Raby and Miss Skeen offer their services in speaking to any of the religious or civic organizations in Winchester pertaining to the Gospel and their church functions and beliefs.

COLONEL'S DESCENDANT VISITS WINCHESTER

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Charles
Austin of St. Lambert, Quebec, along with their children and Mr.
Austin's mother visited Winchesinformation about Mr. Austin's great-great grandfather who was Col. Winchester for whom the town is named.

Mr. Austin's mother, who was with them on the trip, was a Winchester girl and she married a Canadian which is why the family is from out of the country.
During the last few years, Mr.
Austin has been making a collection of newspaper clippings and other notes on the Colonel. His trip to Winchester included a visit to the library to see the punch bowl and the bust of the colonel.
Interestingly enough, there were two identical busts of the Colonel made, the one which is in the library and one in possession of Mr.
Austin's brother in Chambly, Quebec.

FIRES

With woodlands reaching the "tinder stage," Winchester residents are urged to be extra careful with matches, cigarettes, and combustible materials.

Six grass and brush fires were reported on Tuesday. At 10:20
a. m. a fire was reported at 47 Win-ford way. Twenty minutes later firefighters responded to another brushfire at 110 Wendell street. At 11 a. m. a fire on Tufts street resulted from the burning of elm trees which were cut in order to stamp out Dutch Elm disease.

At 11:50 a. m. Frank Steech of 48 Henry street reported a brush fire behind his house. This fire was caused by boys playing with matches.

Other fires on Tuesday were one on Brooks road in the Fells and a really bad one which is still burning near South Border road near the reservoir. Fires in the Fells cover an area of several miles.

Denn Realty Co. reported Wednesday to the fire department that a truck driver stopped to tell them there was a brush fire on Cambridge road near the Woburn line.
Firefighters responded to the call and found that the fire had been extinguished by a passing motorist.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT BANKING?

It is useful for young people to understand what a modern bank offers, because it is likely that one of the most valuable and constructive forces in their lives will be their banking connection. So we invite you to come in any time and ask questions that will broaden your banking knowledge. Let's get to know each other better.

BOAT CLUB NEWS

The attendance at the Boat Club the past week has been at a new high. The water has been good and clear and certified by the M.D.C. What with the swimming lessons in the morning, the life guards have put in a busy week. Several important regattas were attended by the Snipe and Turnabouts of the Club. Seven Snipes went to the Quassapaug Yacht Club in Naugatuck, Conn. Friday night to try to bring back the Winchester Boat Club trophy, held by the Q.Y.C. for the past two years. In a series of three races with twenty-six boats competing, our W.B.C. fleet took five places out of the first nine boats to finish.

Clifford Austin took second place with the "Missy II." Tommy Legere took third place with "Lasus." Tommy is our local champ. Sixth place went to Dickie Ivers, and ninth place to Dave Blamire in his new fibre glass Snipe, with seventh place to Clarence Borggaard. First place went to Harry Allen of Quassapaug Y.C. All three races were sailed in light airs. In the second race Tommy Legere proved a top notch drifter, to come in first. All the skippers and crews reported a bang-up steak dinner, wonderful prizes and a general good time. All the contestants promised to attend the Winchester regatta to be held on August 31 and September 1st.

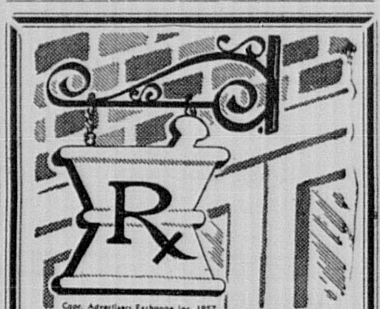

The Turnabouts went to Rockport to the National Open Championship races. There they found forty boats waiting for them. The Winchester Turnabout skippers are really good. On Saturday, all the Winchester skippers were in the first eight boats to finish, out of a fleet of forty.

Top position for the Regatta went to Tommy Clark of Amniquam. A good breeze and not too much rough water made conditions ideal for sailing. A large group of Winchesterites viewed the races from the ledges of Pigeon Cove. Those boats from Winchester were, Ted Shidler sailing Miss Dee, Heidi Snow sailing Snowflake, Bob Smith sailing Terie II, and Bob Durfee sailing Chance. The regatta proved we have some real champions in the making at the Winchester Boat Club.

At Quincey Bay Snipe Week, our sole entrant in the Snipe Class was Dan Coakley in "First-Try." Dan didn't come in first but brought back a third after stiff competition. The ladies bridge on July 10, was run by Mrs. Ralph W. Swanson and Mrs. Walter Y. Josephson. A most successful and delightful affair. The next ladies bridge will be held on July 24, under the supervision of Mrs. William M. Bartell. The usual buffet supper was held on July 18, with colored movies of Captain Irving Johnson in "Yankee in the Pacific," shown on the ramp of the Boat Club. A large audience seemed very appreciative.

A/2c Peter T. Gamage of 7 Bacon street arrived in Winchester for a 15 day leave July 1. He is attached to the Guided Missile Squadron at Patrick Air Force Base in Florida.

THE KEANES ADVISE IKE AND MAMIE

CLIFF AND BERNICE PLAY THE NEWPORT COUNTRY CLUB COURSE

Winchester readers of last Sunday's Boston Globe were interested in the double feature stories written by Cliff Keane of Lloyd street, a Globe sports staff writer and his wife, Bernice, who doubles in brass as a housewife and mother, a substitute school teacher and a writer of feature stories for the Globe.

Apparently Cliff drew the assignment to go down to Newport and play the Newport Country Club course on which Ike will drive and putt during his forthcoming vacation. His description of the course includes such items as age, topography, numbers likely to be encountered, and the wind!

This wind business must be important on the Newport course, for "Cliff" devotes quite a bit of space to it, frankly admitting that on certain holes you do not play the wind, it plays you. As a matter of fact if the breeze happens to be in a certain quarter and in a perverse mood, you might just as well not try to play at all! As one member put it to Mr. Keane, you would do as well hitting the ball with your head as with a club.

"Cliff" doesn't neglect to add to his remarks about the wind, the admonition to the presidential golfing party to "hang on to their hats," in the event they wear them. Like the old song, "The wind she blow lak hurricane, bimby she blow lak hurricane!"

Moving from warning to advice, the Winchester sportswriter tells "Ike" what clubs do what around the course. Not being a golfer, your Star reporter wouldn't know how sound this advice is. Not knowing the Keane politics, he wouldn't know how sound they are intended to be! The helpful Mr. Keane does go so far as to bring to the Eisenhower attention the fact that the club bartender, one John Murphy, may be a Democrat, and he offers a friendly warning about straying off the golf course to retrieve errant balls. The brush is full of poison ivy! (How do you know that, "Cliff?" We will bet Bernice didn't get into it!) Mrs. Keane confines herself to giving "Mamie" Eisenhower the low-down on front-porch-rocking-chair-brigade etiquette at the Newport C. C. This means that Bernice drew much the easier writing assignment, for front-porch-rocking-chair-brigade etiquette at Newport is simple, due to the fact that there "ain't no front porch!" A hurricane removed it completely, and it has not been replaced.

As a matter of fact the gals don't congregate at the club for even a spot of gossip, according to Bernice. All the gals that go to the club at all go there to play golf, and they will discuss their scores and what they used for a club on a certain lie, but not their neighbors' business!

Aside from reference to the desirability of having oneself a good sand-wedge, Bernice keeps away from golfing advice, but her comments upon the feminine membership of the Newport C.C. are pity and should have proved valuable to the Nation's First Lady. Perhaps the best advice offered "Mamie" by Bernice was that non-golfing wives stay at home in Newport. It's just a thought of course!

5 out of 10 Smaller Cars wear a Pontiac Price Tag —yet none gives you Any of Pontiac's Advantages

YOUR MONEY ACTUALLY BUYS UP TO 8.9% MORE SOLID CAR PER DOLLAR IN A PONTIAC!

The so-called "low-price" cars fall far short of Pontiac in actual, measurable car—and your Pontiac dealer has official specification comparisons to prove it! No smaller car comes even close to Pontiac's rock-solid construction . . . from its rugged X-member frame through every inch of its heavy-duty running gear Pontiac is muscle all the way! This extra heft means Pontiac holds the road like no smaller car you've ever driven . . . gives you a ride remarkably free of bounce, shake and noise! Put all the facts and figures to your own personal road test. Call your own shots and see how Pontiac's Precision-Touch Controls let you relax to steering, braking and parking ease out of reach of the small jobs!

WITH 4 TO 7 EXTRA INCHES OF WHEELBASE, PONTIAC OUTCLASSES THE SMALLER CARS IN RIDE AND ROADABILITY!

Pontiac's length is built in—not hung on! Smaller cars extend bumpers and fenders to look big, but Pontiac doesn't need camouflage . . . it is big! Its man-sized 122-inch wheelbase strides over the bumps instead of riding on them. This extra length, plus a carload of new suspension ideas, results in Pontiac's exclusive Level-Line Ride that no car at any price can surpass! Sample a few miles—and you'll never re-enlist in the small-car army again!

NO CAR AT ANY PRICE PERFORMS LIKE A PONTIAC . . . SMALLER CARS AREN'T EVEN IN THE RUNNING!

If it's proof you want, your Pontiac dealer is loaded with it—point-by-point engineering comparisons and on-the-record facts and figures. No smaller car is designed or built to come close to Pontiac's eye-opening response . . . its smooth, effortless mastery of every driving demand. Put the facts on America's Number One Road Car to a test and you'll leave the little league for good!

PONTIAC HAS ALWAYS COMMANDED A HIGH TRADE-IN DOLLAR!

When you put your money in a Pontiac you know your investment will be riding high for a long time to come! In fact, over the years, no car has a better reputation for being a top-demand used car. So before you sign on the dotted line for a smaller job at Pontiac's price—get the dollar-stretching good news your Pontiac dealer has waiting for you. Here in the easiest move of your life are the car and the value that will get you out of the small-car class for keeps!

TRADING'S TERRIFIC RIGHT NOW!

GIRL SCOUT FRIENDSHIP TOUR

by Sally Beal, Scribe

July 4 - 10

Thursday, July 4, 1957

Dear diary,
It's the 4th! and we're not even decked out in the red, white and blue! This morning we climbed aboard the Rhine-steamer Mainz for Ruedesheim. It was warm, and we were thankful to be riding by sea—not land. At first we wrote letters, investigated the ship, and watched the many castles go by. Later on, a load of U.S. Army boys embarked and we all had great fun singing American songs together.

After having traveled all day, it was good to have a place to "wash and brush up," as Brian says, before dinner. Poor Binky took the wrong "ladies" room. Not too embarrassing to hear a knock on the door accompanied by a strange deep voice! Oh to have learned a little German before coming here!

When dinner was over we were escorted by several American G.I.'s to a native place where we had lots of fun. By becoming acquainted with a group of German boys there, we also strengthened German-American relations. The "ladies" also had an enjoyable evening, being entertained by Brian, our courier, and a couple of Danes (a father and son).

Two of us tired bunnies stayed up later than anyone else (attracted by a commotion outside) to sneak out onto the balcony over our hotel's courtyard and watch a few stragglers wind home.

The 4th was certainly not forgotten by any of us! And now I'm so sleepy that I really must close, dear diary. Hope we aren't served wine for breakfast. 'Til then—

Friday, July 5, 1957

Dear diary,
Heidelberg here we come! Oh, what a heat wave, it's knocking us out! Guess what! We heard Bing Crosby on the bus radio this morning—felt like home!

This afternoon in Heidelberg we visited the University and Student Prisons. The fraternities used to have constant duels to see who could get the most scars, especially on the face as we could see by the pictures of the prisoners on the doors of the prison. We then took the finicula (a miniature train) up the mountain to Heidelberg Castle. In the castle, Beverly pulled the chord to the old court-jester's clock. A bell gonged and she jumped as a fur tail popped out at her. Out on the cement terrace we tried fitting into a footprint made by the knight who was the secret lover of the king's wife as he leapt from the Queen's balcony one night. None of us was the knight!

Tonight Pat Hampe went out with some German friends of hers who took her up the mountain above the castle, to the King's chair. She said that it was really something to see the city, from above, all lit up at night.

Now it's time to attempt the almost impossible with trams and motorcycles whizzing by. G'nite.

Saturday, July 6, 1957

Dear diary,
Today again it's really warm! On the train for Munich, just for something to do, Angie thought lenonade might be used as a shampoo. Well, the train jerked and she really had something to sputter about!

When we arrived in Munich, lucky Roberta was met at the station by her pen-pal, who entertained her 'til dinner-time while the rest of us slept the afternoon away. There wasn't any sight-seeing, it was just too hot!

Tonight we went to a small cafe-type place for dinner. After dinner, one lucky gal had a neat motorcycle ride on a short tour of the city. As we came home from meandering and seeing "Baby Doll" dubbed with German dialogue, a couple of us were greeted by a free and unexpected bucket of water from above. Angie and Sue thought we looked much too dusty and warm.

Early to rise tomorrow — so that's all for now.

Sunday, July 7, 1957

Dear diary,
Today we left for Mayrhofen. This morning Angie (again?) rescued our "reserved" compartment on the train from some American soldiers—no easy job! What a relief to know that this would be our last train ride for a week.

After mail call (oh, boy) at the station when we arrived, we settled in our rooms (scattered all over town) to unpack, and then set off for the beautiful swimming pool.

This whole place is just fabulous; it's completely surrounded by gorgeous mountains. The village is so quaint. On Sundays the townsfolk dress up in their native costumes and take a "Sunday walk" through town. This afternoon there was a parade with music—"The Twins of the Zillertal" is being filmed in Mayrhofen with local talent being used for color. Chalets, windows boxes with beautiful flowers, colorful costumes—it's all I imagined Switzerland to be like.

Tonight we saw the schuhplattler, an unusual dance in which the men jump around clapping their hands, thighs, and feet, all in time with an accordion player. It's really fascinating to watch.

Also tonight we bid our very wonderful courier, Brian Pirkis "Auf Wiedersehen," as he leaves us early tomorrow morning. We will miss him tremendously for we have had nothing to worry about, from train tickets and baggage to hotel reservations and meals.

German lessons tomorrow, see you later.

Monday July 8, 1957

Dear diary,
Today we struggled through our first German class. It was sunny and coolish this morning, so class was held out-doors. German is rather confusing—as is any language at first—but we did learn how to say "I comb my hair."

I was especially intrigued with our professor, an animated little man with tufts of white hair around his head—he's really a character. After gathering up correspondence from home, we shopped, mailed letters, and took pictures of the breath-taking scenery. Later, after lunch, we went up to the pool. The pool is out-doors, and the view of the mountains is just superb. The sun was roasting hot, but after a quick dip (that was about all we could stand) we thought the sun felt mighty nice. The pool is filled with mountain water and boy is it cold!

Elaine and Sherrie were the recipients of flowers, thrown at their windows by passing pranksters; while Binky and Roberta were escorted on a hike up to the sea-house atop a near-by mountain this afternoon.

A few of the girls stepped out this evening, while others of us tried singing German songs down at the high school.

Dear diary, I think that's all for now. We love it here—at least we have a week to enjoy everything, for we shall certainly hate to leave.

Tuesday, July 9, 1957

Dear diary,
This morning we lost five of our members until Saturday, when they return. Sue and Mrs. Russell left for Milan, Italy, where they will visit Paul Kluzer, our 1955-56 foreign exchange student, and his family; Vivian, Mrs. Bul-lard, and Patsy Aiken are seeing a bit of Italy.

In class today we learned how to count from one to five. Some of us went on a sight-seeing trip to Innsbruck, a near-by town. All the explanations of places were in German, but we had fun.

Don't be surprised if you see girls running around in Austrian jumpers and blouses next year. The stores' stocks have been diminishing and so has our money supply (not really too much).

This afternoon a group of us cable-carred up one of the beautiful snow-peaked mountains here, and were caught in a thunder shower. We were slightly drenched when we got home—as you might guess.

Tonight we had a fairly quiet time. Some of us watched schuhplattler for a while, others went dancing, and most of us wrote letters and gabbed!

Night is drawing nigh (I'm running out of sign-off sayings).

Wednesday, July 10, 1957

Dear diary,
It's raining! This morning we had a less conjugated German verbs, tres interessants mais je n'ai pas compris! Anyway, we did understand when it was time to get the mail!

The hard-rolls we pocket at meal-time for later use are just the most (not that we don't get fed, but growing girls do need food for thought).

During the afternoon it was raining, and after three—from 12 o'clock to 15 o'clock most of the stores are closed—we spent a few more schillings—1 Austrian schilling = $0.4.

Some of us also learned how to schuhplattler from Mr. Moroder, the woodcarver who has a fascinating workshop up the road.

This evening we all got together for the first time since we've been in Mayrhofen (we even eat at two different places) and enjoyed real Tyrolean entertainment. The band was first, dressed in typical gillertal costume of black knee pants, white knee socks, and black boots, with gray Tyrolean jackets and wide belts over red vests. Their black, widely-brimmed hats were really striking with colorful fresh flowers (a definite part of the life here) and two white curving feathers on top. In the variety of entertainment which followed, we especially remember the energetic schuhplattler dance and the yodeling group with a terrific woman soloist. If only you could have been with us—this was an evening of evenings.

I certainly hope the sun comes out tomorrow for enthusiastic mountain goats who are itching to climb!

See you shortly—

VISITING PARENTS HERE

Captain and Mrs. George F. Allen and children, Douglas, Diane and David are visiting Mrs. Allen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Hawkins of Highland avenue.

Captain and Mrs. Allen and family have been for three years at Ramey Air Force Base in Puerto Rico where Captain Allen was Registrar of the Base Hospital there. He was also teaching Psychology courses in the Florida University Extension program open to men on the base. Besides being active in all the Officers Wives activities Mrs. Allen did tutoring.

The Allens will leave around August 5th. Captain Allen has been assigned to Carswell Air Force Base at Fort Worth, Texas to a new, completely modern Base Hospital just opening.

MISS REZENDES, MR. GODWIN ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred L. Rezendes of Plymouth announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Jane Frances Rezendes, to Mr. James J. Godwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore R. Godwin of Winchester Arms.

Miss Rezendes was graduated from Becker Jr. College. Mr. Godwin was graduated from Harvard College with the class of 1946.

METZ — CULLEN

In a setting of white, pale pink and deep pink carnations and pink gladioli, Miss Lorraine May Cullen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Cullen of 82 Bacon street, became the bride of Airman 2/C Otis Metz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde R. Metz of Petroleum, W. Va., on Thursday, July 4, at St. Mary's Church. The Rev. Martin J. Dolphin performed the three o'clock ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina-length gown with a white lace bodice and net skirt. She wore a matching lace and net headpiece, short nylon gloves and carried a prayer book with a white orchid and trailing stephanotis.

Mrs. Eugene A. Leary of Schenectady, N. Y., sister of the bride, served as honor attendant. She wore a pink gown with a lace bodice and taffeta ballerina-length skirt. A pink-pearled crown with matching net and white gloves completed her costume. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty carnations with blue flowers.

Eugene A. Leary, of Schenectady, brother-in-law of the bride, served as best man. Brian S. Cullen and Francis F. Cullen, both of Winchester, served as ushers for their sister.

A reception following the ceremony was held at the home of the bride, with the parents of the bride and bridegroom assisting in receiving.

After a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Metz will live in Sandwich, Mass. The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and Lowell State Teachers College. She taught one year at the Bracket School in Arlington.

Airman Metz is stationed at Otis Air Force Base.

THE COONS HEAD WEST

Park Commissioner and Mrs. James H. Coon of Norwood street are accompanying Mrs. Coon's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Beers, who left the first of the week on their return trip across the country to their home in Lemon Grove, Calif.

The Beers have been in Winchester visiting the Coons, stopping in Detroit on their trip east to pick up a 1957 air-conditioned Cadillac Fleetwood. The return trip, on which the Coons are accompanying the Beers, will be made in the new car, which "Hi" Moody would tell you makes for luxuriant travel.

The Sons of Coon are scattered about the country and on the trip west their parents will have the pleasure of visiting them at their various domiciles.

The first stop will be made at Ellerslie, N. Y., to visit "Dot" Coon and his family. At Omaha, Neb., Paul Coon's home will be the focal point, and pushing on through Salt Lake City to Ellensburg, Washington, the Coons will visit their son "Dick" and his family, also driving out to the Bar-U Ranch in Washtucna, Wash., to visit "Dick's" father-in-law, Ralph Snyder.

From Ellensburg the Beers and Coons will motor down the Pacific Coast, visiting San Francisco, Los Angeles and San Diego, Calif. From San Diego Jim and Myra will fly back east, consuming about a month on the whole trip.

FIRES

A call from box 38 brought firefighters to the home of Miss Margaret Fitzgerald of 18 Oak street. She reported a fire in the partition of her home. The cause of the small fire was a spark from a pipe welder's equipment which was extinguished. The fire department responded as a precautionary measure.

A fire broke out Saturday afternoon in the Alvine Howell apartment over the Chinese laundry at 624 Main street. Fire fighters arrived to find the apartment full of smoke. The smoke was traced to a burned out motor in the refrigerator.

Sunday afternoon a brush fire broke out at 17 Hutchinson road. Two calls were necessary for equipment to extinguish the fire which was burning in the ground. Fire fighters were also summoned to a fire at the peat bogs at Sandy Beach Sunday. With the ground so very dry, people are urged to be extra careful.

The Rev. John W. Ellison, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, is confined to his home in Glengarry with a broken vertebra in his back, the result of a fall from a tree at his home last week. Mr. Ellison, a real handyman, was removing a dead limb from the tree when the accident occurred.

ZONING BY-LAWS
 TOWN OF WESTPORT, MASSACHUSETTS ADOPTED AT AN ANNUAL TOWN MEETING HELD ON MARCH 14, 1967

The by-laws of the town be amended as follows:
 1. The by laws by inserting at the end of paragraph 1. the following:
 "Where special regulations shall also apply to hereafter constructed shall be conforming to the area, width and applicable to such lot if located in the First District, except that for each building house on a lot shall contain not less than 100 sq. ft. if two stories in height, or four stories in height, and more stories in height, for each herein.
 2. A detached apartment house or group house shall be subject to the adoption of this amendment and there shall be available on the lot associated therewith and within the town limits maintained private auto-parking space for the exclusive use of guests, having an area of not less than 100 sq. ft. for each family accommodated therein."

The zoning by-laws by inserting at the end of paragraph 1. the following:
 "Where hereafter constructed in any inform to the special regulations required automobile parking or space for the construction of such buildings in the First District."

They are receiving eight weeks of advanced individual engineer construction training. They recently completed eight weeks of basic combat training at Fort Dix, N. J.

Violante, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Violante, 243 Main street, is a former employee of the Winchester Building Materials Co. He graduated from Milton Preparatory School in 1954 and attended Merrimack College one year.

Atkinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore M. Atkinson, 8 Chestnut street, attended the University of New Hampshire and worked for the Economy Lubricating Co. in Charlestown as a civilian. He was graduated from Winchester High School in 1953.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

A birthday party was held at the home of his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gravalles, 20 Ledyard road, for 2 year old Albert J. "Burt" Gravalles.

"Burt" is the son of Lt. and Mrs. Albert J. Gravalles, Jr., U.S.N., who live at Naval Gardens, Newport, R. I., while he serves as instructor of engineering at Officers Candidate School.

The Gravalles patio was beautifully decorated with enormous balloons and favors and the most delectable and scrumptious cake and pastries and fruit punch were served.

The little guests were, Carol and Claire Givoni of Medford, Paul and Gary Macdonald of Milton, Christine and Stephen Trelia of Boston, Michele and Richard Washak of Dorchester, all cousins; and the friends were Lawrence and Paul Russo of Medford, Robert Adelizi of Stoneham, Debbie Vacca and Stephen Talarico of Winchester, Michael Hills, John Sawyer and Mark Felt of Ledyard road.

Despite the heat a grand time was had by all; parents included.

NOTICE

CHANGE IN WATER RESTRICTIONS

The Water Board is very anxious to help prevent serious damage to valuable shrubbery and plantings.

Because of the fine cooperation of the townspeople in reducing water consumption sharply and because of emergency connections with the Metropolitan District Commission which have been recently accomplished, we feel that a very limited amount of water can now be made available for use on shrubs and vegetable gardens during restricted hours.

We are, therefore, initiating—on a trial basis—the following schedule of outside use of water:

For houses with odd street numbers (No. 1—No. 3—No. 5, et cetera)
MONDAYS and WEDNESDAYS ONLY between the hours 7:00—9:00 P. M.

For houses with even street numbers (No. 2—No. 4—No. 6, et cetera)
TUESDAYS and THURSDAYS ONLY between the hours 7:00—9:00 P. M.

The use of this water is only for the purpose of protecting shrubbery and vegetable gardens and is not for lawns, car washing, or other purposes.

We hope that with our emergency connections and with the continued cooperation of the townspeople in keeping their overall consumption down—and with the assistance of a little rain—this program can be continued, but it is by no means certain.

ROWE — HAWKINS

There is Winchester interest in the marriage which took place at St. Mary's Episcopal Church in Rockport Saturday afternoon, July 22, when Miss Carol Upton Hawkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kellogg Hawkins of 11 Stratford road, became the bride of Wallace Hutto Rowe, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Hutto Rowe, Jr., of Pasadena, Calif. The Rev. Robert P. Hayman of Rumson, N. J., was assisted by the Rev. W. F. A. Stude in performing the 5 o'clock ceremony, which was followed by a reception at the Rockport Golf Club.

Miss Hawkins was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor length gown of point d'esprit with a bodice of Chantilly lace, and her fingertip veil of net illusion was caught to a matching lace headpiece. She carried a nosegay of stephanotis and white sweet-heart roses.

Miss Mary Ann Damon of Winchester was maid of honor, and Miss Alison Whittemore of Wellesley, cousin of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. Miss Damon wore a pink sheer nylon dress with a coral pink cummerbund, a tucked bodice and a full pleated ballerina length skirt. Her headpiece was a crown of flowers and she carried a nosegay of pink and white sweet-heart roses. The junior bridesmaid wore a similarly styled dress in aqua.

Mrs. Hawkins, mother of the bride, wore a gown of ivory silk damask with crystal beading and a matching hat. She carried a handbag corsage of pink roses. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Rowe, had a similar corsage. She wore a gown of beige tulle voile trimmed with val lace and a poppy-trimmed leghorn hat.

Frederick Good of Kansas City, Mo., was best man for Mr. Rowe, and ushering were Douglas H. Adams of Washington, Conn., David De Fauriol of New York City, Mortimer Fleishacker, III, of Bel Air, Md., and Lawrence A. Hawkins, 2nd, of Winchester, brother of the bride.

After a wedding journey to Prince Edward Island, Mr. and Mrs. Rowe will live at the Guntery School in Washington, Conn., where the bridegroom is a member of the faculty.

The bride is a graduate of Middlebury College, class of 1955, and received her master's degree from the Harvard Graduate School of Education in 1956. She is a member of Pi Lambda Theta National Honorary Society. Mr. Rowe is a graduate of Princeton University and received his master's degree from Harvard in 1956. He is a member of Elm Club.

THE WHITESSELLS CHECK OUT

Phil and Mary Whitesell of Marchant road and their infant daughter, Mary Downing, left town this week to return west to Indianapolis, where Phil has accepted a position as a teacher in a private day school.

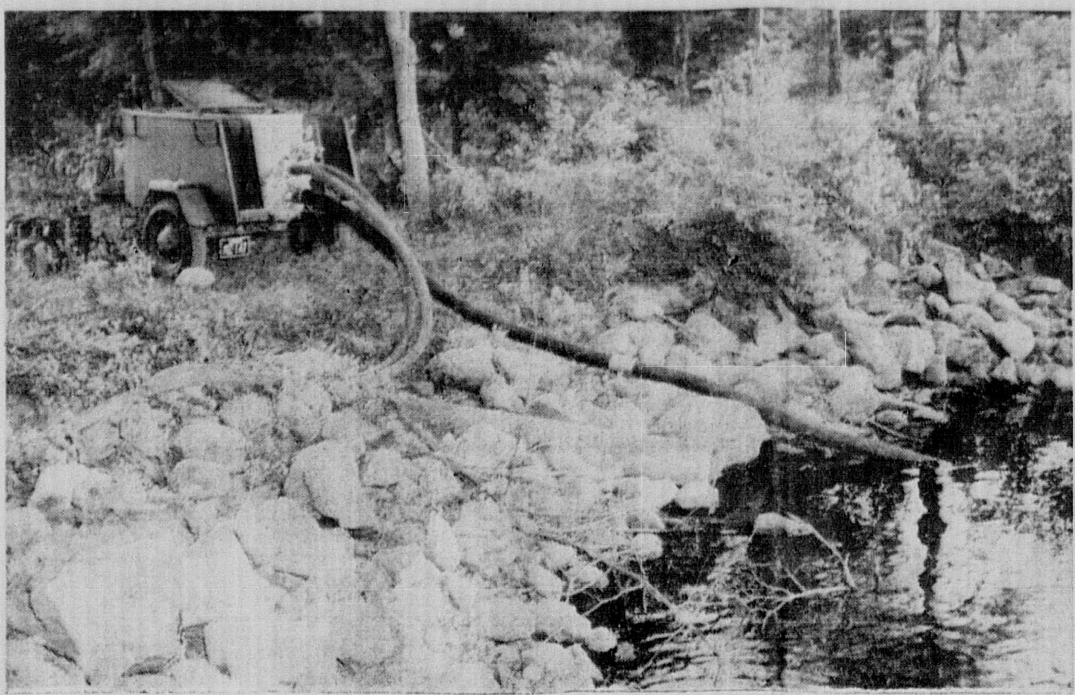

For the past year, while completing work for his degree at Harvard Phil worked for the Star as a reporter and ad man, making many friends about town, while his wife served for a time as secretary for Dr. Donald McLean.

Phil, a former member of the Harvard Glee Club, sang during his residence in Winchester in the choir of the First Congregational Church. His fine tenor which was developing rapidly under the tutelage of the veteran teacher, J. Albert Wilson, will be missed in the choir, while many will miss his pleasing personality and unfailing good nature. Good luck, Phil!

UNION CHURCH SERVICES

The Union Church Service will be held this Sunday morning at 10:00 a. m. at the Unitarian Church.

Rev. Robert A. Storer will preach on the topic, "Private Lives." The soloist will be Mr. John Morabito, tenor.

Auxiliary Fire Department's English pump pumps water from Spot Pond, Stoneham, into Winchester's Middle Reservoir.

DR. FORBES H. NORRIS

The Star learns that Dr. Norris has been appointed superintendent of schools at Briarcliff Manor in New York's Westchester County. Dr. Norris, formerly for 10 years superintendent of schools in Winchester, went to a similar post in Montgomery County, Va., in 1953. His education in 1956. She is a member of Pi Lambda Theta National Honorary Society. Mr. Rowe is a graduate of Princeton University and received his master's degree from Harvard in 1956. He is a member of Elm Club.

JAMES ROSE

James Rose, 72, former manager of Swift & Co. New England Dressed Meat and Wool, died July 16, at his home in Lagrange Park, Ill. He had lived in Winchester on Central street from 1932 to 1956 before going to Lagrange Park.

A native of London, England, Mr. Rose came to this country as a boy, in 1898 and at the age of 13 went to work for Swift & Co. in New Jersey. He became manager of the New England Dressed Meat and Wool Company in 1932, retiring in 1949.

He was a Mason, a member of the Algonquin Club of Boston, of the Boston and Somerville Chambers of Commerce and of the Church of the Epiphany.

Mr. Rose leaves his wife, Anne; three sons, Richard, James, Jr., and Walter Rose; also nine grandchildren.

Funeral services were held last Friday, July 19, at Hallowell and James Mortuary in Lagrange, Ill.

HILL AWARD WINNER AGAIN

Fred Hill of the Winchester Appliance of Thompson street has been notified by the York Corporation and Air Conditioning Wholesale that he is among the winners in the York Company's air conditioner sales contest year.

Mr. Hill's prize this year is a ten day all expense paid air trip for two to Havana, Cuba, where he will be registered at the Hotel Internationale at Varedara Beach. Last year Fred and his wife flew to Nassau in the Bahamas. They will go to Havana in October, but Fred points out that between now and then he will be glad to write up your order for a York Air Conditioning unit.

MCDANIEL — TAYLOR

The marriage of Miss Eileen Frances Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Taylor of 20 Mystic avenue, to David Earl McDaniel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl McDaniel of 28 Park street, Wakefield, took place on Saturday morning, June 29, at a nuptial mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church by the Rev. Charles E. Andros.

Miss Taylor was given in marriage by her father. She wore a full-length gown of Chantilly lace, fashioned with a boat neckline trimmed with lace appliques adorned with iridescent sequins and seed pearls and a multi-tiered skirt. Her fingertip veil of illusion was caught to a lace cap embroidered with seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white orchids and miniature pink roses, combined with stephanotis.

Miss Eleanor Anderson was her cousin's maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Shirley Foley of Winchester, aunt of the bride; Miss Betty Anderson of Winthrop and Mrs. John Williams of Burlington, cousins of the bride. Miss Claire McDaniel of Wakefield, sister of the bridegroom, was junior bridesmaid.

Joseph A. Dingle of Wakefield, uncle of the bridegroom, was best man, and another uncle, John W. Dingle of Wakefield, ushered, with Ronald Charest of Wakefield, cousin of the bridegroom; Edward Montgomery of Medford and Russell Taylor of Winchester, brother of the bridegroom.

A reception was held after the marriage at Hayes Steak House in Billerica. Assisting in the receiving line were the parents of the bride and bridegroom. Mrs. Taylor, mother of the bride, wore an old-rose silk lace gown with satin embroidery and her accessories and corsage were white. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. McDaniel, wore a pink corsage and accessories with her gown of iridescent pink and orchid silk organza.

Following a honeymoon at Lake Winnebago, N. H., the bride and her bride are making their home at 44 Water street, Wakefield. The bridegroom is associated with Marisa Baker Inc.

MRS. MARGARET J. WHITMAN

Mrs. Margaret Jane Whitman, widow of David O. Whitman and mother of the late Mrs. S. Walter Taber of 9 Pierrepont road, died Sunday, July 21, at the Winchester Hospital following a nine months illness.

Mrs. Whitman was the daughter of Robert and Margaret (McCan) Elliott. She was born June 8, 1869, in St. John, N. B., and spent her childhood in the United States as a young woman and settling in Andover. She was married in Andover and made her home in that town for half a century, being a member of the Andover Rebekah Lodge and of Christ Episcopal Church there.

For the past nine years Mrs. Whitman had made her home with her daughter in Winchester, continuing to make her home with her son-in-law after Mrs. Taber's death in January of 1956.

She leaves a son, Gordon E. Whitman of Guilford, Fla.; and five grandchildren, Mrs. Charles Cutting of St. Petersburg, Fla.; Mrs. Chester Ladd of West Medford; and Walter W. Taber of Sao Paulo, Brazil; also a great grandson, Gordon Cutting.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Lundgren Funeral Home in Andover. Burial was also in Andover in Spring Grove Cemetery.

EDWARD WOOLDRIGES OBSERVE 50th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Wooldrige of 297 Ridge street observed their 50th wedding anniversary Wednesday evening at a buffet dinner and party given by their children at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Merton L. Towle of 246 Ridge street.

Over 175 friends and relatives, including nine of the ten grandchildren, of the celebrating couple attended the party which was given by Mr. and Mrs. E. Russell Cross of 231 Ridge street, Mr. Clifton E. Wooldrige of Woburn and Mr. and Mrs. Towle.

Mr. and Mrs. Wooldrige were married on July 24, 1907 in Somerville. They moved to Winchester about 4 years ago. Mr. Wooldrige is senior member of Wooldrige Press, Inc. of Boston.

SUSAN WOODRUFF

DAUGHTER'S DEBUT IS DIRECTED BY DAD

Susan Woodruff, of 8 Sheffield road, is playing one of the leading roles as Mrs. Shin, in the Tufts Arena Theater's New England premiere of "The Good Woman of Setzuan." The sprawling Oriental parable of life is directed by John R. Woodruff, her father, who is watching his oldest daughter in her debut.

Miss Woodruff, a graduate of Winchester High School, is entering her third year at Oberlin College, her father's Alma Mater. A chemistry major, Susan has prepared herself for summer stock by performing on the Oberlin College Radio Workshop. Working in many of the community and church productions in the Winchester area, the 19-year-old actress finds acting in the Arena "quite a change and a challenge."

Dr. Woodruff, Fletcher professor of rhetoric and debate at Tufts, and managing director of Tufts Arena Theater, has rehearsed the large cast ambitiously in preparation for the five-day run which closes this Saturday evening, July 27. Keeping a special eye on his daughter, who has nothing but a tip can to put them in—but they bring summer and gardens closer to her.

Winchester has done nobly this year in spite of the dry weather. Our hampers at the railroad station each Tuesday morning have been quite well filled. Many thanks to the weekly chairmen who have served so far. Particularly in the last two weeks of extreme dryness, filling the hampers has been a real challenge. However, Mrs. Bernard Hanley, chairman representing St. Mary's Church, has managed to send in baskets of beautiful flowers and plants, jellies, packages of homemade cookies, tea bags, and even a bag of freshly picked beans.

All of these things are welcomed so if you would like to help but have no flowers, use your imagination and bring anything that would be a treat to people who have no luxuries in their daily lives. Representatives of the Methodist Church will be in charge on the next two Tuesdays: Mrs. Clarence R. Craft, Winchester 6-0159-R, on July 30, and Mrs. Kenneth W. Lamprey, Winchester 6-2725, on August 6.

Do remember—at the Winchester railroad station on Tuesdays between 8:30 and 9 a. m. the hampers are waiting for your contributions.

COOK EASTERN WINNER

The third and last race of the Eastern Yacht Club regatta was sailed Tuesday in a light southerly breeze. In the Snipe class, once more the Winchester sailors gained the most points. On the first leg, it appeared like a battle between Ken Cook and Carl Freyer for the lead, but gradually Tom Legere and Clarence Borggaard worked up into the front rank. At the finish line Tom Legere brought in his "Lasus" in first place, closely followed by Clarence Borggaard second in "Ragabag." Ken Cook, who has had two wins in the series, finished fourth, just behind one of the Boston harbor Snipes, and Carl Freyer brought in "Winsome" fifth. Dan Coakley, in "First Try" finished sixth, and John Day ninth.

Ken Cook is the unofficial winner of the Eastern Yacht Club's Snipe Trophy, by less than a point over Tom Legere, who had one first, one second, and one third, against Ken Cook with two firsts and a fourth.

Results of Boston Yacht Club competition Wednesday, and the Corinthian three-day series will appear in next week's Star.

GIRL BEATEN ON YORK ROAD

A Winchester resident reported to police Wednesday that two boys beat up her eight year old daughter on York road.

The police arrived after the boys had left the area by bicycle but they have a good description of the boys and believe they are from out of town.

EARL R. STEVENSON

Earl Randolph Stevenson of 31 Park street, Stoneham, a native of Winchester and member of a family well-known in the North End of town for many years, died Monday evening, July 22, at the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston after a brief illness.

Mr. Stevenson was the son of William J. and Susan M. (Ferguson) Stevenson. He was born September 7, 1898, in Winchester almost entirely in this town, attending the Winchester schools and Winchester High School. Thirty years ago he accompanied the late Raymond Powers to Stoneham and has continued to live there with him and his family since that time. He was employed as a police guard at the Atlantic Gelatin plant in Woburn.

In Stoneham Mr. Stevenson was widely and very favorably known, his passing occasioning universal regret among persons of all races, creeds and stations in life. He lived almost entirely for children and young people, and was held in particularly high esteem for his work with and for boys.

Especially interested in baseball, Mr. Stevenson was very active in the Little League organization in Stoneham, regularly umpiring Little League games and missing only one umpiring engagement in six years, that time because of an expected call to duty at the gelatin plant.

He worked with members of the Stoneham Pony League and with the Junior League being awarded a citation by Stoneham Post, 115, American Legion, for his assistance in that field. Long a member of and officer in the Stoneham Red Men's Lodge, he was honored by the Lodge in the establishment of the Earl Randolph Stevenson Trophy, which he in turn presented to Stoneham High School to be awarded each year the senior member of the baseball team judged most outstanding that year.

His work with youngsters in the field of baseball was not confined to formal leagues. At any time, anywhere he was willing to help a boy improve his game, and his death was said by many to be the greatest blow Stoneham baseball has experienced in years.

In his youth Mr. Stevenson had planned to study medicine, but an unfortunate accident resulting in the loss of an eye made this impossible. He continued his education in the field of medicine and also studied engineering and other technical subjects.

He leaves a sister, Miss Olive Stevenson of Winchester, and five brothers, William H. Robert W. and Clarence M. F. Stevenson of Winchester; Hugh A., of Derry, N. H.; and John C. Stevenson of Malden.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at the Bennett Chapel with the Rev. Wesley Mallory, assistant at the First Congregational Church, officiating. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

FRUIT AND FLOWER MISSION NEEDS YOUR CONTRIBUTION

Winchester is only one of a large number of suburban communities which take part in the work of the Fruit and Flower Mission. Just as we in Winchester fill our hampers on Tuesdays through the summer, volunteers in other towns surrounding Boston send their garden produce to the city to be distributed to the sick and lonely. Only think what it means to a little old lady on the third floor of a hot tenement to have your flowers! Perhaps she has nothing but a tin can to put them in—but they bring summer and gardens closer to her.

Winchester has done nobly this year in spite of the dry weather. Our hampers at the railroad station each Tuesday morning have been quite well filled. Many thanks to the weekly chairmen who have served so far. Particularly in the last two weeks of extreme dryness, filling the hampers has been a real challenge. However, Mrs. Bernard Hanley, chairman representing St. Mary's Church, has managed to send in baskets of beautiful flowers and plants, jellies, packages of homemade cookies, tea bags, and even a bag of freshly picked beans.

All of these things are welcomed so if you would like to help but have no flowers, use your imagination and bring anything that would be a treat to people who have no luxuries in their daily lives. Representatives of the Methodist Church will be in charge on the next two Tuesdays: Mrs. Clarence R. Craft, Winchester 6-0159-R, on July 30, and Mrs. Kenneth W. Lamprey, Winchester 6-2725, on August 6.

Do remember—at the Winchester railroad station on Tuesdays between 8:30 and 9 a. m. the hampers are waiting for your contributions.

Charles W. Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stevens of 22 Stowell road, enlisted in the Army Signal Corps on Monday, July 22, for a three-year tour of duty.

Taking advantage of the Army's "Choice of Branch" program which is open to all new enlistees, Stevens will spend the next eight weeks in basic training at Fort Dix, New Jersey, and then be sent to Fort Devens for specialized training.

A 1955 graduate of Winchester High School, Stevens has been a geology student at Dartmouth College for the past two years.

Sgt. 1/c Jack Bateson, in charge of the Medford Army Recruiting Station, processed Stevens' enlistment into the Signal Corps. The sergeant stated that even though Stevens has interrupted his formal college education, he will be able to continue his studies and acquire credits toward his degree by taking courses through the United States Armed Forces Institute.

Fears Health Menace

Health Board Concerned With Sewage Disposal In West Side Hills

The Board of Health has notified the Planning Board that, because in its opinion the disposal of sewage in a part of the West Side Hill district is a potential menace to public health, it as a Board is doubtful whether any further plans for the erection of houses in that part of town should be approved by the Planning Board under subdivision control until the sewage problem there is disposed of.

This matter of unorthodox sewage disposal in the Ridge street district is not new. The conditions to which the Board of Health and residents of the district object have existed for several years.

What is happening is that all houses on Ridge street that are connected to a sewer eventually empty their sewage into a small open brook running from the north-east part of Ridge street southerly through Winchester into Woburn in the vicinity of Lexington street. Sewage from houses already completed and occupied in the Winchester Estates development of the almost entirely for children and young people, and was held in particularly high esteem for his work with and for boys.

Residents of the district have complained about this condition, increasingly so in recent weeks, claiming at times the stench from the sewage is intolerable. The Board of Health has finally decided that the situation as it exists is a potential health menace and can result in holding up further building of houses served by the sewer emptying into the brook until provisions are made for a proper disposition of the sewage for the entire district.

When the original plans for the Winchester Estates development under subdivision control were submitted to the Board of Health for approval it was indicated that the sewer system to serve the development would be completed before the houses there were occupied. A Planning Board member stated his understanding was that it would be completed by the fall of 1956.

A representative of the Water and Sewer Board told the Star yesterday that it had been intended to have the sewer system in the vicinity of Johnson road completed by that time, but that the work had not been done for one reason or another, and that in recent weeks the acute water shortage had kept the men of the Water Department so busy they had been unable to make the necessary installations to correct the conditions.

The platform has been installed for the pump that will pump into the town mains in Johnson road and Wildwood street the sewage now going from the Ridge street and Winchester Estates homes into the open brook. The Water Department has had this pump for some time.

This week work on the actual installation of the pump and necessary piping was started. The Water Board believes that about ten days would be necessary to complete the work. Meanwhile a Water Department official told the Star that the temporary sewage disposal system that has proved so objectionable to residents of the district has been regularly inspected and approved by the State Department of Health.

From 1951 to 1953 he taught music in the Melrose public schools. The following two years he studied music in Europe and sang in recitals to both German and American audiences. While in Europe, he became civilian entertainment director for the 9th Infantry Division, organizing Army Shows that played military bases throughout Western Europe. He was also in charge of a school to train GI musicians in choral conducting.

In Germany he married a German music student with whom he sang on several occasions and they came to the United States in 1956, taking up residence in Woburn. Their first child, a son, was born three weeks ago.

Mystic Glee Club begins its eighteenth season in the fall. Two concerts have been scheduled for Winchester, the first on December 7th and the second April 12th. Both performances will be at the Winchester Junior High School Auditorium. Other performances are being planned for Christmas and throughout the winter and early spring in neighboring communities.

Philip D. Cabot, vice president, of 231 Lowell street, Wakefield, is in charge of outside concerts. Thomas Worthen of 57 Oxford street, is also arranging appearances for the Two By Fours, the glee club's male octet.

Present glee club members live in Winchester, Woburn, Arlington, Lexington, Wakefield, Burlington, Lynnfield, Chelsea, Medford, Malden, Melrose, Reading and other nearby communities. First rehearsals of the new season will be September 16th in Winchester. Location of the rehearsal hall will be announced later. Rehearsals throughout the season are held Monday evenings. Plans are being made to increase the present active membership from 30 voices to 55 or 60.

Austin Nanny of 230 Mystic Valley Parkway is membership chairman and is accepting applications during the summer.

"Men who sing in a volunteer chorus like the Mystic Glee Club do so for the pleasure of it," Phinney told the Star. "Because the Mystic Club is the only men's chorus in this area, it also has an obligation to provide the best in music of this kind and to make its performances as entertaining as possible for audiences. These are the goals of the Mystic Glee Club for the new season. I am happy to be invited to conduct a group with this sort of enthusiasm."

Charles J. Harrold, town constable, has announced the selection of three jurors for the Cambridge Pool. The jurors who will report on September 9 are Charles F. Buckingham of 25 Foxcroft road, Donald C. Davis of 5 Woodside road and Ruth M. Kerr of 247 Washington street.

After their initial eight weeks, he will receive a two-week leave and then enter eight weeks of advanced Infantry training and either be enrolled in one of the specialist schools at Fort Dix or transferred to another Army post for training.

Before arriving at Fort Dix on June 30, E-1 Murphy attended Winchester High School and the University of Mass.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

On last Wednesday morning the Loring Intermediate baseball team visited Ginn and the Leonard Intermediates went to West Side Field. Loring defeated Ginn Field in a closely contested game by the score of 4-3 with Serieka, Whipper Smith and Jim Flaherty the big guns for the winners. In the other game of the morning the Leonard group won a close game 3-2 and had to come from behind in the last frame to take the game away from West Side.

The Ginn Field girls' kickball team played at Loring on Wednesday afternoon and Loring won an interesting game 12-6. For the winners players that stood out were Ed and Don Luongo, Peter Ring, Danny Holland, Ricky Allen, Richie Faietta and Bob Denham. Those doing a good job but in a losing cause for Ginn were Jim Hession, Chuck Schipelle, Bob and Lynne Jones, Priscilla McGuire and Richie Garvey.

Then on Thursday morning the West Side Juniors baseball team defeated the Ginn Juniors at Ginn Field 4-2. Bruce Fitzgerald pitched a one-hitter for the losers but loose ball handling accounted for the Ginn runs. Dan Mahoney hit a double and triple for the losers. For Ginn Field, Johns had two hits while driving in three of the four runs. Others in the hit column for Ginn were Reardon, Peckham (John and Jeff) and Schipelle.

The Leonard Juniors played at Loring for the other game on Thursday morning with Loring coming out on top 5-2. The stars for Loring were Jim Flaherty, Phil Gallagher, Richie Bond, Stan Cruwyz, Dave Rowe and Rich Rowe while doing a fine job for Leonard were Terry Collins, Ken Branley and Charles Tofari.

Due to the hotness and dryness no games were scheduled for this week. Instead of that the individual field instructors planned their own activities of quiet games such as croquet, story-telling, guessing games, quiz games, baseball throws for accuracy and home-run hitting contests. However, Dave Bergquist of West Side Field did bring his group to Ginn Field for a game of whiffle ball. The boys from both fields combined for a "pick-up" game and a good time was had by all. They enjoyed it so much that the score was not even kept and there seems to be a debate as to which team would have won had they kept track of the runs. More important than the score was the fact that they could get together and have a pleasant day of it.

As for Arts and Crafts Betty Ann Haggerty, instructor, had to purchase more materials for the making of lanyards, key-holders, key chains, earrings and wallets but the biggest items were the making of Plaster of Paris figurines. Items are being collected for an exhibition to be had in a window in the center so watch this column for further details.

The schedule for Arts and Crafts for next week is as follows:
Monday — Loring
Tuesday — Ginn
Wednesday — West Side
Thursday — Leonard
Friday — Loring

ACCEPTED AT WENTWORTH

David H. DeCourcy, 136 Washington street and Robert M. Rich, 183 Mystic Valley Parkway have been accepted for engineering and industrial technician training at Wentworth Institute, commencing this fall. DeCourcy will enroll in the Civil and Highway Construction course. Rich will study Aircraft Maintenance.

Both will receive the Associate in Engineering degree upon completing their courses.

KIWANIS CLUB NEWS

The Club played host to our Little League champions, Manager Artie Johns, Gordon Peckham and the Kiwanis sponsored Dodgers Little League team at a cookout Monday evening, July 15. Like real champs the boys cleaned up every last morsel of delicious food prepared by head chef Romeo Luccontini and his assistants.

Last Monday evening, July 22nd, the weekly meeting and cookout was held at the home of Kiwanian Leo Pallochi, 30 South Gateway. Delegates elected to attend the New England Convention include President Ken Cullen, Vice President Jim Loftus and Secretary Chester Johnson. The convention will be held at the Hotel Griswold, Groton, Conn., September 5, 6, 7, 8.

BABE RUTH LEAGUE

With the Phillies and Giants in a two way fight for first place in league standing, the Giants and Indians on July 17 played their final make-up game, ending in a 5-6 tie.

Being replayed on the 22nd, the Giants finally came through with a 14-7 win and are now the second half champions.

Final Standing (Second Half)
	W	L	Tie
Parker-Lane Winn	7	2	1
Giants	6	3	0
Chitel's Phillies	6	3	0
Purtle's White Sox	3	6	0
Renton's Indians	2	7	1

*First Half Winner.

When the Indians and Giants, the First and Second Half winners engaged in their first contest of the best 3 out 5 series for the Babe Ruth League Championship, the fans witnessed one of the best games of the season and again running to form, after two extra innings ended in a 2-2 tie.

The Giants came up with a run in the first, two walks, single by Gary Gray, were held scoreless until the ninth with French getting on by error. Single by Gray, double by Martell scored the second run. The Indians following a similar pattern. Danny Serieka's long triple and a single by Dana Kelly in the first, with another triple by Serieka and a sacrifice fly in ninth scored the two runs.

Only five hits for the Giants and four for the Indians, with Gary Gray who went in for French in third giving up only two hits in seven innings of pitching.

These teams met again last evening and will continue the play-off on Friday, Sunday afternoon, Monday and Tuesday of next week.

Babe Ruth All-Stars

In the Winchester-Swampscott game on July 20th our Winchester boys lost 7-5 and have ended their Massachusetts Tournament Play-off for this year.

"I've Been Serving on the Jury"

It Was Rough, But It Was Worth It

By Jerry Nason

Some weeks ago I received a communication from the chief of police in my town. I opened it hastily.

"A jail sentence?" asked Mrs. N., a trifle hopefully, I thought. "No. Worse. Much worse!" I replied. "I've been drawn for jury duty."

In 26 eligible years I had never been drawn to serve as a juror. It wasn't quite like hitting the Irish sweepstakes, another drawing which manages to pass me by.

As is probably the case of every first-time juror, visions of hangmen, grim balliffs, stern judges and thunderous indictments flooded through my mind. It was shuddery.

But I was young and very innocent, then.

Today, reflecting upon four weeks of actuality, I look back on an unforgettable experience which, all of us who served believe, enriched us as citizens.

We emerged with a better understanding of our courts and the sometimes ponderous, but effective manner of their functioning.

However reluctantly some of us entered this unfamiliar land of torts, writs, subpoenas, offers of approval, we became members of the team overnight.

I will frankly confess that I was not overjoyed to be there—at first. Friends had urged, "Look, You know a lot of people. Pull some strings and get sprung."

Just as frankly I will admit I had considered it . . . but somewhere inside a voice said, "Somebody's got to do the job. When did you start figuring you were better than the next guy?"

Anyway, there I was in the big panel room where court officers Jim Mahler and Charlie Robinson clucked us into some semblance of order, like mama hens with a flock of unruly chicks.

Within two days guys who were determined to hate this deal—because it was inconvenient for their outside affairs—were speaking learnedly of "affairs of court."

More important, they were sincerely interested in their new jobs.

I recall that it was about the third or fourth day of our tenure when Judge Felix Forte, of another superior court, uncorked a blast at businessmen who pleaded out of jury duty rather than ruin their golf games.

We are reading the item in the jury room and I said, "Hokey for you, Felix!" . . . all right, I do not know as judges, let alone Judge Forte, by their first names.

Only three or four days earlier a balliff with a pike pressed against my thorax could have not evoked a "Hokey!" from me in the favor of any judge.

It merely goes to show you how fast you can get on the team once you are inside, and your mind is open.

In my jury panel were executives, housewives, carpenters, architects, bus drivers, plumbers, mail carriers, clerks, salesmen, technicians, electricians, bookkeepers, machinists, florists, painters, engineers . . . a group which could have run and maintained an entire community.

Our prize exhibit was Tom Hennessey of my town who, at the end of our service, was named president of the Chamber of Commerce. Tom was just "one of the boys" around the "moose" room.

Every one of these people gave something for four weeks. What occurred to me as perhaps even more important was, each profited from this meeting of minds and personalities.

For me, to work in the court room of Judge Reuben L. Lurie was a privilege I would wish upon all my friends and neighbors.

His consideration for novice jurors, his willingness to call "Time!" to explain to them some complicated procedure, was of vastly more than momentary value to jurors with whom I sat.

As a newspapering man I could profess to expertise in only one phase of the courtroom in which, mere novice, I worked: interrogation.

I frequently found myself anticipating lawyers' questions, and, now and then, getting impatient because one of the brothers failed to make an inquiry which I considered pertinent.

Generally, my reaction was that lawyers talk too much, oversell their case too often, tend to over-analyze, as newspapermen too frequently overwrite, losing the rapt attention of their jury or their readers, such as the case may be.

I suspect, too, from this experience, that most lawyers underrate the intelligence and common sense of the jury; or this impression may stem from the fact it was my good fortune to have served with jurors less frivolous than some.

All in all, being a juror was for me an interesting and enriching experience. I wouldn't, understand, wish to make a career of it, because it got pretty rough toward the end, trying to do my sports editing evenings.

I am very glad I did not discredit myself as a citizen by making even an abortive attempt to tuck it.

On our last day kind old Charlie Robinson said to me, "We liked having you with us. Hope we get you here again some day."

And, from my deep well of experience (one month) I replied, "But not, I hope, as a defendant!"

Mr. Harland A. Wilbur of 11 Cambridge street, president of the Tudor Press, Inc., of 251 Causeway street, Boston, announces that his firm has been awarded a yearly contract from the Federal Government in the amount of $108,655.

Mr. Wilbur states that Senator John F. Kennedy was of great assistance in securing the contract and that his cooperation shows that he is taking very active interest in small business in Massachusetts.

The contract initiating in the Adjutant General's Office at the Pentagon in Washington was awarded as the result of competitive bids, with several companies in other parts of the nation submitting figures.

HOME FROM ENGLAND

SGT. HATCH BRINGS ENGLISH BRIDE TO WINCHESTER

Staff Sgt. Donald K. Hatch, son of Treasurer Ralph W. Hatch of Winchester Savings Bank, arrived in Winchester at midnight Thursday from New York, having flown in to Idle Air Force Base in New York at 1:30 that same morning.

With him were his English bride, Dolores, a Norfolk girl, and their four-months old son, Donald George.

Sgt. Hatch has been in the United States Army Air Force for seven years, his most recent station being at Mildred Hall Air Base in England, where he has been in charge of the welding shop. Previous service includes three years on Okinawa and a hitch at Fairchild Air Base in the State of Washington. It was from there that he went to Winchester.

Sgt. Hatch sent on in May the Austin-Healey automobile they bought in England two years ago. He drove his family to Winchester in it. He arrived just in time to join his father in a week's vacation at Bass River on the Cape. Sgt. Hatch has thirty days leave, and will stay on at Bass River after his father returns to Winchester.

Upon the expiration of his leave he will report for duty at Newington Air Base near Portsmouth, N. H., where he expects to remain until next March when he will be separated from the service after eight years duty. A graduate of Winchester High School, Sgt. Hatch studied at the New England Aircraft School at Logan Airport.

In the Antarctic, one Navyman consumes 115 pounds of beef per year.

FIRES

Woodlands are still very dry and residents are urged to take every precaution with matches and cigarettes. Firefighters were up at the Fells fires from Tuesday through Friday, fighting a series of fires which broke out in that wooded area.

There were four brush fires last Thursday: one near the Army camp in the Fells, another at East Dam, a peat and woods fire at Silver Mine Hill and one on Baldwin street.

An alarm early Friday morning brought firefighters to a woods fire on the east side of South Dam. At 2:49 p. m. a brush fire was reported at the end of Olive street.

Saturday morning, Eugene G. Rochow of 25 Canterbury road called the fire department to report that he had just put out a fire in a bedroom at his home. Firefighters responded and found that the fire was caused by an electric plug which set fire to the side of a bed.

Other Saturday fires were a bog fire at Sandy Beach and a brush fire at Middlesex and Canal streets. The brush fire was reported to have been set by boys.

Two fires on Sunday were a brush fire near Sandy Beach and a fire in lilac bushes at 117 Mt. Vernon street.

SAFETY TIP: When you're looking for a place to stop, for a picnic or an overnight lodging, drive well to the right of the pavement and maintain a reasonable speed, says Triple-A. Signal your intention to stop or turn off the road. Let the fellow behind you know what you intend to do.

CAPT. EMIDIO DI LORETO

Capt. Emidio Di Loreto of 36 Winthrop street, a lawyer in civil life, is at Ft. Slocum, New Rochelle, N. Y., participating in 15 days annual active duty training in the Judge Advocate General's Corps, as a required phase of the U. S. Army Reserve Program.

During the remainder of the year, he trains with the 94th Infantry Division.

The approximately 200 lawyer-reservists, who are attending the training period from July 13 through July 27 under the supervision of the New York City Army Reserve School, are principally from the First Army area which includes the Atlantic seaboard states from Maine through New Jersey.

RACE WEEK NOTES

(Special to the Star)

The 63rd annual race week regatta at Marblehead opened Saturday, July 20, with about the usual number of Winchester sailors on hand. In addition to the regular 210 class competitor Harry Bean, and Byron Wiswell in the U. S. One Design class, the following entries from the Winchester Boat Club were registered: Kenneth Cook, Carl Freyer, Tom Legere, Clarence Borggaard, John Day, Dick Ivers, and Dan Cooky, all Snipe sailors. In the Turnabout class were Heidi Snow and Bob Dannenberg.

The first race of the Eastern Yacht Club series on Saturday was most successful for the Winchester Snipe fleet. Kenneth Cook, in Miss Inconito, took first place, and Tom Legere, in Lasus, finished second. The third and fourth Snipes to finish were from Town River and Cottage Park, but Clarence Borggaard brought Ragabag in fifth for Winchester.

Pleon Trophy to Ann Legere

The Sunday race is a one-day event sponsored by Pleon Yacht Club and is for skippers less than 21 years old only. In the Snipe class Ann Legere brought Lasus in first, followed by Peter Freyer in Winsome in second place.

Byron Wiswell's The Goose finished first in the U. S. One Design class sailing the outside course. On both days, youthful Heidi Snow and Bob Dannenberg, competing in a fleet of about 100 Turnabouts, made a good showing and with more experience are likely to finish in the money before the week is over. Ann Legere won the Pleon trophy for the Snipe class, the first time this has ever been won by a girl skipper.

The second race of the Eastern Yacht Club series was sailed Monday in a strong northwest wind, with squalls which reached 40 miles per hour in the late afternoon.

Some eighty boats were capsized or dismasted, mostly those classes sailing the longer outside course.

Cooks Win Again

The Snipe sailors had their hands full, but managed to finish with no important damage. The Cook brothers took an early lead, and again finished first, their second win of the three-race series. High Satiety from Town River came in second. Tom Legere, in Lasus, who was called back twice for being ahead of the run, got away well in the rear. Aided by his skill on the windward leg, and the weight of his crew, big John Day, he worked up past eleven boats, and finished third, followed by Carl Freyer in Winsome, who finished fourth. Clarence Borggaard brought his Ragabag in fifth.

The new Town of Winchester List of Residents, the well-known "him and her," listing the residents of the town by streets with their ages and occupations, is now ready at the Town Clerk's office at the town hall. These books, which used to be free, now cost $1.

WINCHESTER SWIMMERS MEET WESTON AT LEONARD POOL

The Winchester Swim Club, under the able direction of Coach Joe Burns of the Winchester Red Cross, will today at 2:30 compete in a dual meet with a well-drilled group of swimmers from Weston, coached by Bob Starnier, physical education director at Weston High School.

The Weston swimming team is composed of many boy and girl swimmers of outstanding ability who are expected to give the locals some real rough competition.

Carrying the burden for the Winchester girls will be Pat Murphy and Carlene Johnson, two of last year's star swimmers. Dick McLatchey, Bob Carroll, Pepper Cunningham and Bob Korwatch should provide Winchester with the balance to do a good job in the boys' events.

Events will cover all strokes and all age groups for both boys and girls. The meet will be held under the direction of the Winchester Red Cross, and arrangements are by the Winchester Park Department.

Starting time is 2:30 at Leonard Pool.

The Fire Department sent rescue aid Monday evening to the home of William J. Callahan of 20 Kendall street in answer to a call that a baby was choking.

Firefighters with the rescue truck found the child, Steve Granfield, 2½, of Wakefield, on the floor of the kitchen receiving artificial respiration from his father.

The child was given oxygen and rushed to the hospital.

TOWN SOFTBALL LEAGUE

As this article goes to press, it is difficult to tell what teams will end up in the first four positions in the standing. The games played on Wednesday and Thursday of this week will do much to alter the playoff positions and this will be known in next week's column. It is hoped that the championship playoffs will get off to a flying start next week, but that remains to be seen at this time. The remaining games on the schedule will determine what teams hold second and third positions in the standing and this means a lot to the participants, due to the fact that the teams in first and third places will fight it out in the best two out of three series, while the teams in second and fourth place positions will do likewise. Then the winners of these games will battle it out in a three out of five series for the Town championship and trophy.

Team	Won	Lost	Tied
Sons of Italy	15	1
H. N. S.	13	6
V. F. B.	12	5
Jokers (Kiwamis)	10	10
Indians (Elks)	7	10	1
Calidyne	6	10	1
Sachems	5	13
Nat. Lead	2	15

Next week the Sons of Italy meet National Lead at Leonard Field on Monday night and on the same evening Calidyne will battle the Indians in a playoff.

If the playoffs for the championship can be started next week (depending upon the standing at the end of this week) the first game will be played Tuesday evening at Leonard Field between the teams holding first and third places in the standing. The next evening the teams holding down the second and fourth positions in the standing will be active. This rotation system will continue until the final lists are won and then the finals will get underway as soon as possible. It is safe in saying that the playoffs will be played every evening (weather permitting), Monday through Friday until a champion is crowned.

WINCHESTER SET BACK WOBURN PALS

Winchester edged the Woburn Pals, 3 to 2, in an Inter-city League game last Wednesday evening at the North Woburn Playground.

A long triple to left center by McNamara in the third inning provided Winchester with its winning margin. The belt scored McManus, who had singled and McNamara was over himself on an infield out.

Winchester's other run was scored in the second, on a walk to Lepore and singles by McLaughlin and Haggerty.

Singles by McElheney and Donahue, followed by a wild pitch gave Woburn its first run in the 5th. An error, stolen base and Leavitt's infield hit scored the other in the 6th.

Sullivan gave Woburn trouble all the way. Though the Tanners had men on base in every inning, the Winchester hurler was strong in the pinches.

The summary:

Winchester	Woburn Pals
McManus, 2b, 3, 1	Glendon, 2b, 3, 2
McN'm'ra, 3b, 3, 1	McElheney, 1b, 4, 1
Leavitt, 1b, 2, 0	Donahue, rf, 3, 0

GIRL SCOUT FRIENDSHIP TOUR

Thursday, July 11, 1957

Dear Diary:

Today it rained cats and dogs in buckets! But in spite of the weather, spunky lunch led by Mrs. Hersey set out for a walk up through the mountains, following the river, Zillertal. The first destination was a tea house where they ordered, after much confusion, cocoa and ham sandwiches. Much to their surprise the "sandwiches" turned out to be stringy, smoked bacon on a piece of rye bread. It took a lot of effort to eat it but the superb cocoa was worth it.

The continuous rain failed to dampen the spirits of the student body as all seemed to turn out for the farewell party tonight. Each country represented at the school was asked to contribute some act typical of their homeland. After much scurry and hurry, we all finally decided on singing "I've Been Working on the Railroad." As each country followed, it was both interesting and charming to hear songs in the native tongues of Denmark, Sweden, Italy and many other nations. Sweden and Italy were more original in their presentations. Each of these countries provided several skits, dances and songs. The noteworthy Swedish skit portrayed the Christmas custom among the families. The eldest girl of the household wears a wreath with candles and serves everyone breakfast.

We all had great fun but tomorrow is our last class, so I'm quitting for tonight. Rain, rain go away.

Friday, July 12, 1957

Dear Diary:

Today is our last German class. I guess a few of us can at least say Bitter (please) and Guten Tag (a good day) plus a few more choice clichés.

The sun has begun to peek out and all this was enough encouragement to send Mrs. Hersey and Pat H. up to one of the mountain tea houses. Carley and Angie had their excitement by finding the carcass of a young cow in the river (Boy did they enjoy their bed that night!) Ellie was honored by having a tour of Mayhofen a la motorcycle.

We were ever snowed by the Moroderes, the wonderful Austrian family and friends of the Herseys. Mr. Moroder, woodcarver, singer and schupplatter, was the particular favorite with his wonderful beard and twinkling eyes. He taught a few of us the schupplatter, a native Tyrolean dance. It was so much fun that Stephanie didn't even mind the bruises she got! Tonight those who had learned the dance went to Zillertal Hotel to hear Mr. Moroder sing in his famous trio at a farewell party. Stephanie and Alison found him to be a beautiful dancer, although his beard did tickle a little! I'm sure everyone loved him and was sorry to say good-bye.

Dear Diary:

Today is our last in Mayhofen and we all made good use of the sunny weather. Two groups decided to climb the mountains. Although each group went its own way both were rewarded with the sight of meadows filled with wild flowers of all colors, surrounded by snow capped mountains. Really neat! Just like out of a story book. We all agreed that if we could have any moment, One group saw a little more scenery than was originally planned as their 2 hour trip turned out to be an all day affair. They all agreed however that the mixup of trails and tea-houses was well worth it.

Sue and Mrs. Russell returned to us with great gusto and enthusiasm from their trip to Milan. They had met Paul's family and had thoroughly enjoyed their stay. Another arrival was Allan Moller, our new courier who would get us to Paris. Boy these Englishmen are sure are attractive! Another name in the news today is Ellie. She had another motorcycle ride. This time up through the mountains. Great fun!

This afternoon everyone seemed to congregate at the pool which is surrounded by beautiful scenery (quite a few in Bikinis!) By this time Alison and Stephanie made friends with all the little kids. They sure had a strenuous time this afternoon fooling around with them all. It is amazing how the language barrier can be broken so easily with children of this age (circa 8-12).

Tonight we all got into bed really early, cause tomorrow we leave at 3:30 a. m. for Switzerland. We all hate to think of leaving Mayhofen, its hospitable hosts and scenic charm. It's hard to think of leaving for it seems as though we had just arrived.

Ah, this morning was a mourning to all of us. We awoke so cheerfully at 3:30 a. m., had breakfast between blinks and made our way to the high school but not for German lessons. After carrying our baggage to the bus, almost forgetting Mrs. Bullard's, and collecting our lunches, we started rolling around 5 a. m. The first leg of the train trip was not so comfortable for some of us, as our "reserved seats" could not be found. But, as we had the lunch and also sleep to catch up on, the time passed and before we knew it we were on the narrow-gauge mountain railway, (the highest railway in Europe so Allan says) enjoying the mountain scenery.

Between tunnels we caught glimpses of snow, glaciers, a valley rain-bow and animals grazing on the mountain sides. Part of the time we were even up in the clouds. Our compartment thermometer is registering 15° C. (59 degrees F.) We are beginning to wonder if this is where the frozen fish are caught.

After a few more hectic stops and starts (I think we made five in all today) we finally have reached lovely Adelboden, home of the Girl Scout Chalet. As a night cap several of us bought some hot chocolate. For 19 centimes (1 franc equals $20) we thought we had a bargain. After downing about two pieces we found our French was rusty and that it was 90 centimes. Poor Mrs. Hersey had to have all 10 cups put on her bill. C'est la vie!

Dear Diary:

This morning when we got up it was raining! We climbed up to "Our Chalet" anyway. Lucky that we were plastic ponchos underneath the trench coats as the water-proofing was not so water-proof. At our destination, we were greeted graciously by the staff and given a grand tour of the immaculate chalet. Various nations had contributed articles and even furnished whole rooms to give an international effect. We were all very sorry that they were house cleaning and that we were unable to stay there longer. It was wonderful though to see the chalet about which we have been singing for all these years.

After coming back we shopped for watches—among other things. In one store 12 watches were bought by our group. We all felt we had a bargain because we were allowed 10% off for being Scouts. This is just one example of the good will of Europeans towards the Girl Scout organizations. Elsewhere we have received other benefits for being in our uniform. It takes this kind of expression to really appreciate the potential friendship associated with the Girl Scout.

As we left the fascinating town of Adelboden, many reminiscent sighs and remarks were heard. Most memorable was Carley's which was "I wonder if music would play if we took the tops off these chalets."

When we arrived in Montoux, we were escorted to the Grand Hotel (and boy was it!) in a luxurious blue Ford stationwagon. When shown our rooms we all nearly collapsed. One of them was a former ball room and it had high gilt ceilings, three French doors and five wall mirrors. It was so huge it was almost spooky. Others had private baths which is very unusual here in Europe. We all feel as though we are living the life of kings tonight. Tomorrow we leave for Paris.

Dear Diary:

The birds are chirping merrily. "What a lovely day for boating and swimming and a trip to Chillon Castle!" The trip to the castle was on a big side paddle steamer and although rather short was interesting as it afforded us a good view of the castle's exterior. The in-languish barrier can be broken so easily with children of this age (circa 8-12).

Tonight we all got into bed really early, cause tomorrow we leave at 3:30 a. m. for Switzerland. We all hate to think of leaving Mayhofen, its hospitable hosts and scenic charm. It's hard to think of leaving for it seems as though we had just arrived.

On we went after lunch by rail to see the famous peace center, Geneva. Most impressive was the United Nations Headquarters in Europe building, former home of the League of Nations. We even sat in on a committee meeting and heard the discussion through ear-phones. Poland, U.S.S.R., U.S.,

France each spoke their piece. It was very enlightening.

Our train was not due to leave until 11:10 so after dinner we dispersed and some of us went to the cinema to see of all things, Elvis Presley, in "Love Me Tender." We thought it would be fun to see Elvis speak French but I guess they thought that would be too much as it was in English with French subtitles. Much to the chagrin of some of us, the management asked to see our passports to verify our age—had to be 16 to get in.

Our train finally is pulling out and we are getting organized in these couchettes. 6 bunks in one compartment. Each is given a blanket and a pillow. I hope every one gets to sleep O.K. I'll have no trouble I know. Bon soir mes amis!

Wednesday, July 17, 1957

Dear Diary:

Arriving in Paris at 7:30 a. m. it was a surprise to see Harlow Russell and John Swazey waiting for us. The Herseys were also met by Jimmy Hamdi, an Egyptian Parisian, whom Althea had met the summer before. From the station we went straight to breakfast (continental style) in the Latin Quarter. Thence on a whirlwind tour of the city, seeing many of the most famous sights—the Louvre, L'Arc de Triomphe, the Eiffel Tower, the Sorbonne, la Place de la Concorde and many others. We stopped at Les Invalides, the Church of Sainte Chapelle and Notre Dame. Stopping for lunch, an excellent one, complete with wine—at a typical Parisian "hole-in-wall," we met our former courier, Brian Pirkis and his 63 business men (?). Alison and Stephanie came in with Jimmy who had given them a specialized tour. Although our train for Caen left at 2:10, our quick glimpses of Paris was enough to make us want to return soon.

When we arrived here at Caen, the first thing we noticed was the change in atmosphere from Mayhofen. Here it is strictly a university and a student atmosphere. We are living in modern dormitories and the administrative and educational rooms are all together in one building. The whole campus has been laid out since the war as this area was very hard hit during the 1944 invasion. We are compelled to speak French as even the English speaking people are reluctant to use anything but French. I suppose that after a few days it will become more natural. Classes start tomorrow and that certainly will help. Must get to bed now.

NOT TO GIVE UP ANIMALS FOR EXPERIMENTATION

A joint statement was made today by Dr. Eric H. Hansen, president of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and Mr. Carlton E. Buttrick, president of the Animal Rescue League of Boston, which reads as follows:

"Immediately upon the signing of the Animal Pound Seizure Bill by Governor Furecolo, Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and the Animal Rescue League of Boston took steps to insure that no animals in their care would be turned over for live experiments.

"The Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals prepared and has filed a petition with the Supreme Court to test the constitutionality of the Pound Bill.

"Although for technical reasons the Animal Rescue League is not a party to this petition its counsel has cooperated throughout, and counsel for both institutions are working with the Attorney General in an effort to obtain a clear and prompt determination of the constitutional questions presented.

"One of the problems involved has been to insure the continuance of the care of stray animals while the case is before the Court. To that end arrangements have been worked out by counsel whereby the Society and the League will continue to take care of stray animals and others as heretofore and requisitions for animals on them will be avoided pending the Court's decision."

EDITORIALS

Moderator Chadwick has announced the committee authorized by the recent special town meeting to study the Limited Town Meeting Act with a view to proposing beneficial changes, especially in that portion of the act governing the actual conduct of town meeting sessions.

No one who sat through this year's March meeting needs to be reminded it was the longest in recent years, if not in the town's history. Its eight sessions consumed an entire month and proved so tiresome that not a few feel that desirable town meeting members are going to refuse to serve in this important capacity unless something is done to shorten the meetings.

Moderator Chadwick is, and has been, among those feeling most strongly that something should be done to reduce the meetings to more reasonable lengths, and it is largely through his influence and activity that the committee to study the town meeting act came into being.

This committee is not going to find their problem easy to solve. Winchester's limited town meeting was authorized by an act of Legislature in 1928, and the only serious discussion of possible changes, some years ago, did not come to anything. Generally speaking, the law has worked well.

This is not to say that changes for the better cannot be made. There are many who feel that they can be, and we know of no one who does not think we should do something about our town meetings, if possible, to reduce the time they are consuming.

What can the committee do about it all? The proposal to exclude non-town meeting members from participation in the meetings is pure dynamite, though there would probably be plenty of support for a proposal to limit their activity. There are also not a few who feel strongly that the time allotted town meeting members should be sharply curtailed, and the limits strictly enforced. Undoubtedly there are many who agree with Mr. Wadsworth that the delegates are "too polite" to persons who continually take the floor and reiterate their arguments ad infinitum, confidently asking for an extension when their time expires. Thinking back, there was plenty of time taken up with remarks that were borderline, if not actually out of order.

Everyone won't agree that these oratorical outbursts should be eliminated, or even sharply curtailed. There are plenty who emphatically do not believe anyone should be excluded from town meeting debate, or denied the right to speak or ask questions. We shouldn't make any mistake about this. We are still a democracy, or purport to be.

However, what time should be allotted non-town meeting members and what part they rightfully should play in meetings is surely something the committee studying our town meeting act should carefully consider. The same goes for the town meeting members. They can take time, too.

The reconsideration of votes is another thing the committee should think about. The March meeting could have been shortened by two sessions if it had not been for the reconsideration of votes taken at previous meetings. Reconsiderations can be desirable, in the event it is felt the original vote was not a wise one, but reconsideration because someone was not at the meeting at which a question was decided is something else again. The Star does not believe a vote should be reconsidered because someone interested in a particular article, or his attorney, missed the meeting at which it was considered, or went home before it was brought onto the town meeting floor. Nor do we believe that considering the articles of the warrant in their numerical order will obviate the necessity of attending meetings and sitting them out until a specific article comes up.

On the basis of what occurred at the past March meeting we would say that a better liaison between town boards and committees might save some time, if only a little. Certainly much more could be saved if those who permit themselves to be elected town meeting members came to meetings with a reasonable knowledge of what the articles in the warrant are all about. Many questions continually asked of town officers indicate clearly that the asker has not even read his warrant through, and certainly has done nothing to familiarize himself with the facts underlying the articles as they appear. A statement to this effect was actually made at the past special town meeting by a town meeting member. Quite a little time was consumed in explaining a question to this delegate who on his own admission knew nothing about it and had done nothing to inform himself upon it in advance of the meeting.

We are talking now, not of your ordinary citizen, but of one who has stood for and been elected a town meeting member, to represent the non-voters of his precinct, and indeed, the entire town; because it has never seemed to the Star that questions should be decided strictly on precinct lines, but rather for the interest of the entire community.

It would seem town meeting members have a definite obligation to familiarize themselves with issues and questions that are to be decided at town meeting before they enter the meeting hall. We do not mean they should enter the hall with a closed mind, but they should know at least the issues involved in the articles of the warrant. Much time could be saved if they did!

Undoubtedly the committee studying our town meeting act will get plenty of suggestions to mull over. There is the often advanced belief that the Finance Committee should be elected by precincts instead of its members being appointed. There is the question of the place of town employees in the town meeting membership; also the question of a limit for town meeting membership; the strict enforcement of the rules of order; an actual time limit for the annual town meeting; and the question of all-day Saturday meetings.

Any one of these questions can split any committee wide open. That something needs to be done to shorten our town meetings is evident enough. Whether anything can be done to this end is what the committee in question is going to try to find out. Good luck to it.

The Water Commissioners' easing of the drastic water restriction in town is good news, particularly because it indicates that the steps taken to combat the water shortage have proved sufficiently effective to make it possible for householders to have water for their gardens and shrubbery, if not for their lawns and cars.

Perhaps the factor most helpful in making it possible for the Commissioners to relax restrictions somewhat has been the splendid cooperation of the townspeople, who have accepted the restrictions imposed, and limited their use of water accordingly.

This was especially true during the first two weeks of restrictions. Last week end the police had a number of complaints, some 15 or so, indicating a considerable use of water in defiance of the Commissioners' restrictive order. Apparently some were using water because someone else was, and others decided to use it anyhow!

This was too bad, and it will be just too bad if there is any wholesale disregard of the restrictions remaining in force with the new easing of water restrictions outside the home. It will be strictly up to us how long this limited use is continued.

QUESTIONS HOSPITAL RULE

Editor of the Star:

As a registered nurse I have had an unfortunate experience at the Winchester Hospital, where I was called recently to do special duty for a relative of mine.

Upon arrival, I was informed by the head nurse on the floor, on which my patient was located, that a hospital rule denies a private nurse the right to administer the medication prescribed by her patient's physician, and that it would be necessary for me to call the medicine nurse to administer it.

As it happened a licensed practical nurse was in charge of medicines which meant that I, a registered nurse, hired to give my patient complete care, was forced by hospital regulation to step aside while one of lower professional rank did the work I was supposed to do.

I know the nurse in question. She is very efficient. It is the principal of the thing to which I object, as wrong, ethically and professionally. To me it is one of the most degrading things that could happen to a registered nurse, indicating distrust both of her and her professional qualifications. It is against my standards as a professional nurse to accept such a ruling without protest.

I believe there can be no reason strong enough for a hospital to make a rule forbidding a registered nurse, qualified by exacting training and State Board examination, to give her patient complete nursing care. If she is a stranger to the hospital, she should be required to show her proper credential, but this done, she should be permitted to care for her patient as any other registered nurse would be until she gives cause to have this right denied her. Because one nurse may have proved incompetent is no cause to condemn all others.

This rule denying special nurses the right to administer medicines prescribed by the physicians of their patients is not common among hospitals. I could find no other hospital in Greater Boston that has such a rule.

Nurses are scarce, and incidents such as I have described are helping to keep them so. Why give the floor nurse extra duties when she can be relieved of some of them? Why cause friction between staff, and private duty nurses? Why should patients be denied the service of their private registered nurse giving medication they have been trained to administer? Why should any registered nurse be distrusted unlawfully in her line of duty? These are some of the questions I would respectfully call to the attention of the community.

There is nothing personal in my attitude, even though it was through my own personal experience that I came to know of this rule at the Winchester Hospital which can affect every person who is a patient there.

I would suggest that those responsible for this rule check into it, and see how it works. Contact other hospitals and see how many have it. I do not criticize those who made the rule or the hospital. I do believe the rule is wrong, and creates a situation that should receive immediate attention. We have a lovely hospital. Let us keep it that way.

Unfortunately, I do not know any member of the Board of Hospital Trustees. I would be grateful therefore, if some one of them would make it possible for me to have the opportunity and privilege of talking to the Board about this matter, on which I feel so deeply.

WILLIAM F. HICKEY WINCHESTER MAN SENDS PRINCESS GOLD SHOES

Princess Caroline of Monaco, heir presumptive to the throne of the Mediterranean principality, will be able to match her glamorous mother, Princess Grace, thanks to William F. Hickey of 12 Edgell road.

Mr. Hickey who is President of John R. Evans New England Inc., a leather house, and a Director of the Winchester National Bank sent the young Princess four pair of shoes. The shoes which included five toe moccasins, sandals and tie shoes are made of gold Brograndi kid. The hand latched leather shoes were made by the R. J. Potvin Co. of Brockton and were sent to Princess Grace around the first of April. The gold leather is made exclusively by the Evans Company.

The Princess, a Philadelphian before she was a Hollywood star, lived across the river from the leather company's Camden, N. J. tannery. The shoes were a gift from neighbor to neighbor. Princess Grace thanked the firm for the "sweet gold shoes."

Identical pairs of the tie shoes were made for Mr. Hickey's granddaughter, the daughter of Mrs. Martha Calkins of Lincoln, and for the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Dillon of 24 Wedgemere avenue.

Following is a copy of the letter which Princess Grace of Monaco wrote to William F. Hickey thanking him for the golden shoes.

Palace of Monaco
10th April, 1957

Dear Sirs,
I wish to thank you for sending my daughter Princess Caroline four pairs of sweet little golden shoes.

It was a very kind thought and I deeply appreciate it.
Sincerely,
(signed) Pesse Grace de Monaco

BON VOYAGE

Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Fay, active identified with the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church for many years, were given a testimonial party Thursday evening by members of the church at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis G. Curtis, 158 Highland avenue. The Fays are leaving town to take up residence in Miami, Fla.

Featuring the party was a song, written in the Fays' honor by Dr. and Mrs. Charles R. Miggins, sung to the tune of the old college song, "Polly-woolly-doodle." Because so many expressed a wish to see it in print it is reproduced herewith:

THE FAYS

(Tune: Polly-woolly-doodle)
At the Friendly Church we have many a need,
Sing build-a-wing-a-woolly-dong-a-day,
And the Fays have always buckled in with word and deed.
Sing build-a-wing-a-woolly-dong-a-day.
Chorus
Wish ye well (wish ye well), wish ye well (wish ye well),
Wish ye well, ye Tribe of Fay,
When you fit to old Miami where the breezes are sohami
Sing ring-a-rallentando all the day.

When we found our facilities we must enlarge,
Sing build-a-wing-a-woolly-dong-a-day,
Of the planning it was Arthur that we put in charge.
Sing build-a-wing-a-woolly-dong-a-day.
Chorus
Wish ye well (wish ye well), wish ye well (wish ye well),
Wish ye well, ye Tribe of Fay,
When you fit to old Miami where the breezes are sohami
Sing ring-a-rallentando all the day.

At the Church we bid you welcome and we make you feel at ease,
Sing ring-a-rallentando all the day,
And like as not our Catherine will present you with the keys.
Sing ring-a-rallentando all the day.
Chorus
Wish ye well (wish ye well), wish ye well (wish ye well),
Wish ye well, ye Tribe of Fay,
When you fit to old Miami where the breezes are sohami
Sing ring-a-rallentando all the day.
They're goodhearted and respected as you'll ever see,
Sing ring-a-rallentando all the day,
And we're proud of them as members and will always be.

Singing ring-a-rallentando all the day.
Chorus
Wish ye well (wish ye well), wish ye well (wish ye well),
Wish ye well, ye Tribe of Fay,
When you fit to old Miami where the breezes are sohami
Sing ring-a-rallentando all the day.

HOME FROM CANADA

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kitchen of 16 Chesterford road recently attended the summer general meeting of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers in Montreal, Canada. Mr. Kitchen presented a paper at the meeting on High Voltage cables.

The Kitchens are now back in town after three weeks at Bustin's Island, Maine, where they were joined by their son Robert, his two children, and his fiancée, Mrs. Marian Debye of Sudbury, and her three children. The Kitchens' son, Charles, and his family also joined them.

Don Kitchen, Jr., and his wife and their children, David and Gail, arrive at Bustin's today and will remain until August 5.

The Kitchens enjoyed a visit while at Bustin's from the Dick Ashendens, who spent the weekend while passing in their sailboat.

PROPOSALS

AND FUEL OIL

Sealed proposals, plainly marked "Fuel Bids" and addressed to the Board of Selectionmen, Town Hall, Winchester, Mass., will be received at the Selectionmen's office on or before 8:00 o'clock p. m.
Eastern Daylight Saving
Time on Monday, August 5, 1957, at which time they will be publicly opened and read, covering the following materials, in the approximate quantities named:

COAL: For the Town Hall, approximately 80 tons medium burning, free burning, stoker coal having an ash-fusing temperature of approximately not less than 2400 degrees Fahrenheit and a size of about 1 inch x one half inch and not over 25% slack in bin—to be delivered to the basement, free of all expenses to the Town, and approval of the Selectionmen.

FUEL OIL: Approximately 15,000 gallons No. 2 fuel oil to be delivered as needed from time to time to tanks as indicated as follows:

For the Fire Station, 18,
000 gallons to a 4,000-gallon tank in the yard;

For the Highway Department, 20,000 gallons to a 1,500-gallon tank in the Town Yard;

For the Public Library, 20,000 gallons to a 2,000-gallon tank on the premises;

For the School Department, 5,000 gallons to the Senior High School;

For the Water Department, 10,000 gallons to tanks in three different locations within the town.

Approximately 150,000 gallons of No. 5 fuel oil (25, 000 gallons each to the Mystic, Wyman, Lincoln, Parkhurst, Noonan and Washington Schools); and

Approximately 115,000 gallons of No. 6 fuel oil (75,
000 gallons for the Senior High School and 40,000 gallons for the Junior High School).

In each case please specify the brand or quality of fuel to be supplied and quote your price in terms of differential from the posted dock and tank-car prices at the date of delivery.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids or to accept such bids as are for the best interests of the Town of

FELLSLAND NOTES

Camp Fellsland, the camp for the Boy Scouts of Medford, Winchester, Stoneham, Woburn and Burlington, located in Amesbury, has enjoyed a very successful week.
One hundred and ten Scouts are registered for the third week.

Monday—A group of Scouts visited Camp Sea Haven on Plum Island. After a short ball game they enjoyed a swim in the Sea Haven pool, and then Mr. Murnane, the camp director, invited the Fellsland group to the dining room for punch and cookies.

Tuesday evening—Camp Powwow of Bay Shore Council, B.S.A., visited Fellsland and played a game of basketball. Powwow won.

Wednesday morning—Stafford
Rogers, Camp Fellsland woodcraft director, took a group of twenty Scouts on a fishing trip up the Powwow River. It was a very successful trip, more than fifty fish being caught.

Thursday—A camp cook-out by troop and patrols. In the afternoon there was a track meeting to assist the Scouts working on the Athletic Merit Badge.

Friday afternoon—The weekly board of review will be held. Last week the board approved 81 different advancements. This week may top that figure. Friday evening is our regular movie night. "My Pal Gus" is the feature.

Saturday—A Court of Honor will be held. This is a very solemn occasion for all Scouts, with presentation of all awards earned during the week.

Winchester boys attending camp this week are:

James Alt, John Brigandi, Bradford Barton, Carleton Bolivar, Jr.,
Richard Crowley, Paul Colella,
Thomas Clogston, Edmund Crotty,

Today's need of the spiritual sense of truth will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon on "Truth" will include the following from Matt. 13:12-17:
"The Lord is high unto all them that call upon him, to all that call upon him in truth."

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (22:2-5): "The spiritual sense of truth must be gained before truth can be understood. This sense is assimilated only as we are honest, unselfish, loving, and meek."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (98:1,3): "O sing unto the Lord a new song: for he hath done marvellous things:
he hath remembered his mercy and his truth toward the house of Israel: all the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God."

FRAILY — JACKSON

The Church of the Epiphany was decorated with white flowers and candles last Saturday, July 20, for the marriage of Miss Sally Jackson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur
M. Jackson of 212 Main street, and James Gordon Fraily, son of Mrs.
Henry Fraily and the late Mr.
Fraily of 216 Brighton avenue,
Portland, Me. The Rev. John W.
Ellison performed the 4 o'clock ceremony. Frederick J. Fawcett, 2nd of Boston was soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of silk organza over blush, fashioned with a portrait neckline touched with imported swiss velvet flowers. The fitted basque had short sleeves. The full gathered skirt was also touched with velvet flowers and rhinestones and terminated in a chapel length train. She wore an Alencon lace shoulder length mantilla and carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. John E. Mazuzan, Jr., of Valdosta, Ga., served as honor attendant for her sister. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Conrad G. White of Maywood, N. J., a sister of the bride, and Mrs. Frederick J. Fawcett, 2nd, of Boston, a cousin of the bride. They wore pale blue waist length silk organza dresses and carried multi-colored delphinium and yellow gerberas with headbands of matching flowers.

Henry Fraily of Detroit, Mich., served as best man for his brother.
Ushers were Robert and Edward Fraily of Lancaster, Pa., brothers of the bridegroom, Fielding P.
Hillgartner of Newton and Charles A. Krahmer of Chestnut Hill.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Jackson wore imported powder blue linen, applied with matching beads and linen flowers and matching accessories. She wore a belt corsage of thistle blue lilies of the Nile. Mrs. Fraily wore navy blue chintilly lace with white accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid.

After a wedding trip to Canada,
Mr. and Mrs. Fraily will live in Portland, Me., where Mr. Fraily is associated with the Armstrong Cork Co.

Mrs. Fraily is a graduate of Colby College. Her husband was graduated from Franklin & Marshall College.

Miss Susan Martensen of Highland avenue arrived home Thursday from Harwichport where she has been for two weeks. She is leaving Friday for Camp Nacomis on Bear Island, New Hampshire.
Mr. and Mrs. Martensen will bring Miss Betty Lou Martensen home for the week end from Ogunquit, Maine, where she is at the Ogunquit School of Painting and Sculpture.

LAWRENCE J. JOYCE

Lawrence Joseph Joyce, a native and former resident of Winchester, died Wednesday, July 17, at the Malden Hospital, after a short illness at the age of 46.

Mr. Joyce was the son of George
H. and Johanne Therese (Smith-man) Joyce. He was born October 16, 1911, in Winchester and spent his early life here, being employed as a leather worker as a young man. He had been living at 42
Vernon street in Malden.

Mr. Joyce leaves his wife, the former Frances Lancelotte; his parents, living in Woburn; four daughters, Carol Ann, Barbara, Rosemary and Elizabeth; four sons, Lawrence, Jr., Dennis, Gary and Robert Joyce, all of Malden; nine brothers, George, Edward,
James, Samuel, Thomas, Kenneth,
Robert and Roger Joyce; and two sisters, Mrs. Lillian Haverly and Mrs. Muriel Hogan, all of Woburn.

The funeral was held Saturday morning from the Leo Norton Funeral Home in Malden. A requiem high mass was celebrated at the Sacred Heart Church in Malden. Burial was in Forest Grove
Park, that city.

MRS. DONALD MARTIN
MARTIN — O'ROURKE

Miss Nancy O'Rourke, daughter of Mr. Charles Philip O'Rourke of 23 Symmes road, and the late Eloise B. O'Rourke, was married at St. Mary's Church on Saturday morning, July 20, to Donald George Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Martin, of 61 Wedgemere avenue. Rev. Richard O. Boner of the Immaculate Heart of Mary Church in Concord, N. H., a cousin of the bride, officiated at the 10 o'clock marriage ceremony and was also celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed. Pink, spring rose and white carnations decorated the altar and the pews.

After a wedding journey to Bermuda, Mr. and Mrs. Martin will make their home in Winchester.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and Mount St.
Mary College, Hooksett, N. H. Mr.
Martin, who is associated with the Cambridge firm of Clark and Reid, prepared at Kimball Union Academy and graduated from Babson Institute.

Seated in the sanctuary were
Rev. Charles E. Anderson and Rev.
John J. Walsh, M.S., of Altmont,
N. Y.

Miss O'Rourke was given in marriage by her father. She wore a princess style gown of mirror mist tulle with an empire bodice of Chantilly lace, having a Sabrina neckline and short sleeves and a bouffant skirt extending into a chapel train of matching lace.

Her waist-length veil of French silk illusion was caught to a miniature crown of Chantilly lace adorned with pearls and sequins, and she carried a small cascade bouquet of valley lilies centered with an orchid.

Mrs. Edward F. O'Rourke of Winchester was matron of honor for her sister-in-law, and bridesmaids were Mrs. C. Philip O'- Rourke, Jr., of Cambridge, sister-in-law of the bride; Mrs. Chester Flahive, Jr., of Springfield, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. Charles Walsh of Arlington, Mrs. Selwyn
Atherton of New York City and Miss Denyse Wolf of Winchester.

The honor attendant wore a ballerina length dress of white sheer nylon, the tucked bodice being fashioned with a scoop neckline and short sleeves. She wore a sash of spring rose with her full pleated skirt and a white horsehair hat trimmed with matching pink. Her flowers were pink and spring rose shredded carnations and ferns carried in a white open basket.

The bridesmaids carried the same flowers in similar baskets and wore identical dresses like that of the matron of honor. Their sashes and the trimmings of their hats were pale pink.

Edward Isaac, Jr., of Belmont was Mr. Martin's best man, and ushering were Edward F. O'Rourke of Winchester and C. Philip O'- Rourke, Jr., of Cambridge, brothers of the bride; Chester Flahive,
Jr., of Springfield and Wyman
Smart of Arlington.

A reception was held after the marriage at the Sheraton Plaza in Boston, the bride's father and aunt,
Mrs. Thomas H. Mulherin of Peabody, assisting in receiving, with the parents of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Mulherin was gowned in shaded gray silk organza with matching accessories and a large black velvet hat. The bridegroom's mother Mrs. Martin, wore a mink toned flower sequined gown with pink hat and accessories.

After a wedding journey to Bermuda, Mr. and Mrs. Martin will make their home in Winchester.

MISS THOMASON ENGAGED

Mrs. Robert Griffith Thomason of 3 Girard road, announces the engagement of her daughter, Sandra, to Mr. Henry Ree Henriksen of 2104 North Keystone avenue, Chicago, Ill., and Stavanger, Norway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Erling Naerland Henriksen of Chicago.

Miss Thomason attended Colby
Junior College and Boston University. Mr. Henriksen graduated from Illinois Institute of Technology in 1951, and from the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration in 1957. He is associated with the Standard Oil Company of California, in the economic analysis of petro-chemicals, after three years in Alaska with the United States Army Corps of Engineers.

Mr. Henriksen is a member of Army Active Reserve with the rank of captain. The wedding date has been set for September 7.

Paul B. Repetto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Repetto, 35 Mount Pleasant street, is scheduled to complete six weeks of annual ROTC training early in August at Fort Lee, Va., with members of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The 20-year-old cadet was graduated from Belmont Hill High School in 1954. He is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity.

AT BEAR ISLAND

A delightful day was spent on Bear Island, near Meredith, on Lake Winnepesaukee July eleventh, by Mrs. M. H. Noyes and her son,
Arthur, visiting the Alford Wild Life Sanctuary, which is established there.

The American Humane Educational Society is doing a splendid piece of work there with the courses in conservation of wild life, and of our dependence on animals and birds to keep the woods and forests growing, thus preserving the watershed, so important to us all.

The courses for teachers are two weeks of interesting experiences living on Bear Island. Observation trips and study classes fill the days with a variety.

The Winchester Branch Auxiliary of M.S.P.C.A. contributed a scholarship for a young man to be there the first two weeks in July.
We had the pleasure of meeting
Mr. David Ryan, teacher of biology in the Norwell High School. He thinks the good people of Winchester for this opportunity. His influence in the coming years, teaching kindness and consideration for all life can be far reaching. Those who are kind to animals will have more interest in human needs.

We cannot begin too early in the lives of children and young people to teach that cruelty never pays!

That Bake Sale was surely worthwhile!

prentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs.

TRADERS DAY

STAR FINDS LITTLE ENTHUSIASM FOR HOLIDAY THIS YEAR

Ever since the days of the long-defunct Winchester Chamber of Commerce the Star has made arrangements and set a date for Traders Day, a holiday observed for many years by merchants and store workers in Winchester.

Years ago Traders Day was a grand outing for local business men, with everyone shutting up shop to go by trolley or train to places like Salem Willows, Bass Point, Nantasket or Lexington
Park to enjoy a program of sports, including a golf game between the east and west sides of the center, and to go to themselves on an array of refreshments, ice cream, peanuts, watermelon, frankfurts, popcorn, tonic and the like that necessitated plenty of bicarbonate of soda and Jamaica ginger, to say nothing of arnica and Sloane's lay-ment, once the revellers got back to civilization and the thought of work the next day.

Those days are of course gone forever, and in recent years Traders Day has simply been a day when some stores closed their doors, and others did not. There has been nothing universal in its observance for some time now.

Each year the Star has found less merchants really wanting a Traders' Day. The placards, announcing the date have been increasingly hard to sell, here and there outright objection to the holiday has been encountered, and not a few stores have simply ignored the whole business and kept open whether or not. As a consequence the Star has decided to do nothing about promoting a Traders Day this year. The way is of course open to any one who wants to take over and run the event.

LIONS CLUB NOTES

On Wednesday, July 17, the members of the Winchester Lions Club invaded the Wilmington Lions Club lair for a game of softball.

Without the aid of several certified public accountants it would be impossible to give an accurate score of the game, but in the spirit of Lionsmen, let us say that it was a close and hard fought game and we do mean hard fought, with the close score, believed to be 20 to 5 in favor of the Wilmington club.

In the first inning Pete Marchesi hit a Texas leaguer over second but the next three batters didn't reach first. Wilmington made a run in the first. At this point the game was close.

In the second it was 1-2-3 for Winchester, but after Wilmington got through, the score was 7 to 0, (according to Vic Ficciello, who kept score). Space, and time, prevented going into the details of the next three innings. Suffice it to say that there was a bunch of well-placed hits by Wilmington and a few poorly placed errors by Winchester. Winchester's only other tallying was in the fifth where they scored four more runs.

Wally Scrivens of the Winchester Den was a hard pinch hitter to put out. It is reported that the Wilmington second baseman finally caught him in Billerica. Pete Marchesi was an outstanding catcher, catching the ball with everything but the glove. Billy McDonough, the Winchester pitcher, pitched an excellent game, but how can you beat nine Wilmington and eight Winchester players.

Mike Saraco, in right field, had one ball hit to him; result, fielding average .000.

Pete Giannotti, the Winchester second baseman, in one play, was caught between second and third, and in trying to get back to second slipped in the dry dusty dirt! Talk about biting the dust! How did it taste, Pete? All that can be said about Jim McLaughlin's left fielding is that Ted Williams hasn't a worry in the world.

It was a great pleasure to play this softball game with the Wilmington Lions Club. Some of their members filled in, so that Winchester could put nine men on the field.

With the help of the umpire they made it a game of laughs, not a contest! The Winchester Lions Club looks forward to more of the same, because it is in such events that the spirit of Lionism is exemplified.

VANDALISM AT PALMER BEACH

Police found a drinking water fountain broken at Palmer Beach, Wedge Pond, Thursday night. They also found two large rubber barrels and a settee in the water.

LIVING WITH YOUR HEART

There are ten million heart patients in the United States, and half of them have some form of kidney complication.

Because the heart, lungs, kidneys and the veins and arteries linking them into one working force are so closely interrelated, a solid program of heart research today must take into account these factors. A kidney condition and a heart condition, arterial trouble and heart illness may stem from the same basic cause.

The Massachusetts Heart Association, which has an active Kidney Section, is working through the laboratories of its researchers to solve some of the riddles of kidney disease.

Heart Fund research, for instance, has discovered a frequently lifesaving technique for treatment of uremia patients (Uremia is an imbalance which leaves constituents of urine in the blood, an exceptionally uncomfortable and dangerous ailment).

In studies by Drs. John Merrill and Warren Guild at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, internationally known kidney center, it has been found that in certain patients increased—rather than restricted—quantities of salt can bring dramatic relief to uremia patients.

This reverses a time-honored medical practice. General usage for many years has been to decrease sharply the amount of salt taken by victims of chronic kidney disease.

In the Heart Fund's research, patients whose symptoms resulted largely from kidney failure were found to benefit from increased salt intake; those whose symptoms were primarily due to heart failure were generally cut back on the salt ration. In patients suffering both from kidney failure and heart failure the treatment was alternated, with encouraging results.

The research showed that additional salt spurred chronically diseased kidneys to do their work more effectively by excreting more of the toxic end products which cause uremia, by excreting more water and by defending the vital acid-base balance.

The technique of adding common table salt and baking soda often brings quick improvement, but the salt treatment, either by mouth or intravenously, must be tailored to the patient's needs. Under no circumstances, the Association points out, should an individual attempt to diagnose his own case for more or less salt; only a doctor can safely do this.

WIN NORTHEASTERN SCHOLARSHIPS

Two former Winchester High School pupils, Brenda K. McGowan, daughter of Mrs. Thomas McGowan of Canal street, and James R. McElholm, son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. McElholm of Nathaniel road, have been awarded Trustees Scholarships of $300 and $200 respectively by Northeastern University.

The scholarships, among those given 150 entering freshmen, were awarded on the basis of students' high school achievements, activities and potential leadership qualities.

Hi Neighbor!

When you work hard for years, making endless sacrifices, saving every dollar you could to someday own your own business, you are certainly going to be more grateful for the patronage of your customers than if you operated a store for someone else.

In the majority of instances, hard work, privation and struggle is the story behind your IGA store owner.

He appreciates your business because of the long uphill fight he had before he was in a position to get your business. Therefore your retailer asks that you make the "Total Test" in his store to prove to yourself that you save MORE with IGA's Every Day Low Prices. The true story lies at the bottom of each tape you receive, the TOTAL will tell the story.

Marblehead Sweep to Cook

Winchester Skipper Wins Four Trophies In Race Week Slam

(Special to the Star)

Ken Cook of the Winchester Boat Club made a clean sweep of the Snipe Class trophies in the Marblehead Race Week competition last week, easily winning the Corinthian Trophy in the final three days of competition to add to his earlier Eastern Yacht Club win and his victory in the one-day regatta for the Boston Yacht Club trophy last week Wednesday. Cook's wins in the Eastern, Corinthian and Boston Yacht Club competition won him also the New England championship in the Snipe Class, for a clean sweep and all the hardware it is possible for a senior skipper in that class to amass. The one-day Fleon trophy, won this year by Winchester's Ann Legeure, is for skippers under 21.

Cook's clean sweep, including the Boston trophy, caused many old timers to wonder whether it was the first time a Winchester skipper has won all four trophies, Eastern, Boston, Corinthian and New England. Last year Jack Cummings won the New England trophy and the Eastern, but lost the Corinthian to Dick Ivers while "Rod" Long annexed the Boston race, and Pete Mountain, the Fleon. Incidentally most Race Week rail birds had conceded Long the Corinthian trophy last year as the final race for this prize got under way, but a broken hallelujah put the big boy out of the competition, with Cummings in the driver's seat.

Any skipper has a long way to go to equal Long's five New England Championships in the Snipe Class, but the way Cook cleaned up this year made many believe he would have given Long a whale of a battle if the tall sorrel-top had been sailing.

In the Turnabout Class, in which there are no entries over 14 years, Winchester's Heidi Snow did a great job with her Carousell, placing fifth in a division numbering 33 boats from salt water clubs.

The Boston Yacht Club held their usual one-day regatta on Wednesday, July 24. The two Winchester entries in the Turnabout Class, Heidi Snow and Carousell, remained in contention, by finishing tenth and eleventh in a field of nearly 40 boats.

The Snipe class sailing in the afternoon, started twelve boats in a brisk northeast wind, covering the two lap course in fifty minutes. For the Winchester fleet the heavy weather expert, Ken Cook, was an easy winner by more than two minutes.

The Town River Boat "High Society" took second place, but Winchester boats were close behind. Windy Freyer brought "Wansome" a good third, just ahead of Tom Legeure's "Larus" in fourth place. John Day of Winchester finished sixth.

The winning Ken Cook added the Boston Yacht Club trophy to the Eastern hardware previously won. Thursday, July 25, the Corinthian Yacht Club began their three-day regatta. Sailing in a light southeasterly breeze, Windy Freyer brought his boat in first, but for the first time in the week, second and third places went to salt water skippers.

Ford of Cottage Park finished second and Morley of Town River, third. However, behind them were the Cook brothers in fourth place and Dan Coakley's "First Try," fifth, his best showing of the week. Tom Legeure's "Larus" was sixth with Dick Ivers, Clarence Borg, and John Day among the finishers.

Second Place to Wiswell The second day of the Corinthian competition last Friday placed Ken Cook finishing in first place with a big lead to increase his point score for the week. (Continued on Page 9)

INDIANS - 1957 BABE RUTH CHAMPIONS

After the 2-2 tie on July 23, the Giants - Indians championship series started in earnest on the 25th with the Indians, sponsored by Louis Snow of Renton's Market, with Paul Connors, Manager, and Coach, Bob Innes, winning the series in the first three games.

On July 25, 6-3, July 26, 3-2 with Del Rossi and French in a pitching duel and July 27, the final game of the season, 12-5. The fans witnessed some excellent fielding plays by both teams, with Paul Mulloy and Danny Serieka for the Indians and Vandy French and Garry Gray of the Giants leading the attack for their teams.

If anyone has the Babe Ruth score-book, please leave it at the Winchester Sport Shop or call Carl Morton, Winchester 6-1808.

On the All-Star Series it was won by Wellesley who will represent our section in the championship play-off starting tomorrow at Amherst at 3:30 p. m.

CARRIES ON FATHER'S BUSINESS

Many in Winchester, including those who knew the late William J. Murray well, do not apparently realize that with the death of the veteran realtor last January the realty business known by the name of Murray & Gillett was taken over by his son, William G. Murray.

The junior Murray grew up in Winchester, was educated in the Winchester schools and at Boston University. He has been associated with the firm of Murray & Gillett for the past four years and is well qualified by background, education and experience to continue the business of his late father's firm. He is married and makes his home on Bacon street.

DR. HARRY L. WILDASIN NAMED TO HOOD POST

Dr. Harry L. Wildasin of Winchester has been named Director of Quality Control for H. P. Hood and Sons, succeeding Dr. Arthur C. Fay, also of Winchester, who has retired after 21 years with the company.

Dr. Wildasin has had extensive experience in the dairy industry, and has assisted with the quality control programs of several companies. He has also served as assistant professor in the dairy department at the University of Pennsylvania State University.

In his new position, Dr. Wildasin will direct the operation of all the Hood Company laboratories, including several in the milk producing states of Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont. He will continue to live at 110 Wendell street, Winchester, with his wife and their son, David, age 6.

During the 21 years that Dr. Arthur C. Fay was associated with the Hood Company, he became widely known in dairy circles as "Doc" and was respected throughout the country. He is recognized as having made an important contribution to the progress of the dairy industry in the form of higher quality and improved methods.

Dr. Fay and his wife plan to locate in Florida, where he will do consultant work and research. They have sold their home at 110 Wendell street and expect to leave for Florida in August.

JOHN ASARO

John Asaro of 37 Holland street, a resident of Winchester for more than half a century, died early Friday afternoon, July 26, at the Winchester Hospital after a month's illness.

Mr. Asaro was born December 3, 1881, in Salemi, Sicily. He came to this country 51 years ago, settling in Winchester and first working at the Beggs & Cobb Tannery. For the past ten years he had been in the employ of the Boston & Maine Railroad. He was a member of the Christopher Columbus Society.

Mr. Asaro returned to Italy for his marriage to Nancy Dianna, the ceremony taking place April 16, 1910. Mrs. Asaro survives, with a daughter, Mrs. Louis Silva of Winchester; two grandchildren, John and Diana Silva; also two brothers, Edward and Salvatore Asaro, both of Winchester.

The funeral took place Monday morning from the Marshsio Funeral Home in Woburn. Solemn requiem high mass was celebrated at St. Mary's Church. Rev. Martin J. Dolphin was celebrant, Rev. Edmund Parker was deacon and Rev. Fr. Cassens of the Congregation of the Holy Cross, Scranton, Pa., sub-deacon. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

WON FELLISLAND AWARDS

"Johnnie" Edmonds, 2 Hillside avenue, member of Troop 3 has just returned from a successful four weeks' stay at B.S.A. Camp Fellisland, where he became a Star Scout while earning the American Red Cross Junior Life Saving emblem, the National Rifle Association Junior Marksman diploma, the camp three year Tenney award for accumulating 115 points in three weeks and the Fellisland "E" as a veteran camper.

He also won all the aquatics group merit badges which include life saving, swimming, canoeing and rowing plus badges for first aid, wood carving and home repairs.

THE HALLS ARE BACK

VISITED ENGLAND AND EUROPE WITH UNITARIAN LAYMEN

"Ken" and "Polly" Hall of Winslow road are back in town after an extensive trip through England and continental Europe as members of a Unitarian Laymen's League tour.

The Halls took off by plane from Idlewild Airport in the intense heat of June 23, flying to London, England. At the plane their party of ten was met by a "coach," or small bus, and driven by a friendly English guide to Winchester, ancient capital of England, where they attended a beautiful service of evensong in the Cathedral and spent the night.

Returning to London by way of Guilford, they found this city decorated in honor of the Queen's arrival the next day. The city was celebrating the 700th anniversary of receiving its charter, and every one was in a festive mood. A representative of the city squired the party around and took them to lunch.

Guilford is famous, among other things for the fact that Lewis Carroll wrote "Alice in Wonderland" there, and also because cricket was played for the first time there at an ancient boys' school.

In London the Halls and their party stopped at a hotel near Hyde Park. One evening while on the way to the theatre in a taxi they were surprised to see the street full of gaily dressed men and women. The taxi driver thought it was probably royalty going to the show, but the Halls learned that the crowds were attracted to the theatre by the opening of the new Marilyn Monroe picture.

While in London the Halls and their party had luncheon at the House of Commons as guests of Rt. Hon. J. Chiter Ede, former Home Secretary for the British Commonwealth and president of the International Association for Religious Freedom.

Five Unitarians who are members of the House of Commons joined the group at luncheon and afterward Lord Fethwick Lawrence of the House of Lords, also a Unitarian, dropped in for a chat. After London the Halls and their party went to Canterbury, visiting the Cathedral there; to Cambridge and Oxford, Stratford-on-Avon and up through the Lake Country, also visiting Lincoln, Boston and Stamford.

Taking a night boat to Holland, the Halls spent five days in Holland, visiting The Hague, Amsterdam, Leyden and Rotterdam and finding the beautiful country most like the United States.

Going up the Rhine on a river boat on one of the hottest days that can remember, the Halls saw the ancient castle ruins that dot the banks of the historic river.

Heidelberg, they visited the castle and the university which furnished the locale for the "Student Prince." Near Bingen-on-the-Rhine the Halls and their party again took a "steamer" and went on to Basel in Switzerland and Chur in Eastern Switzerland, then to Churwalden and Albert Schweitzer College, named in honor of this champion of religious freedom.

Everywhere was scenery of breath-taking beauty and to add spice to the trip the Halls and their party were driven in a "coach" through the Alps in a snow storm halting for lunch at a hotel beside the famous Rhone Glacier.

Driving through the Surka and Grindel passes to Interlaken in a snow storm was an experience long to be remembered with sheer drops of hundreds of feet only a short distance from their coach.

The travelers spent several days in Interlaken enjoying a particularly lovely view of the famous Jungfrau.

While in Interlaken the Halls went to a performance of William Tell, given in a huge outdoor amphitheater in honor of the anniversary of Swiss independence. They were fortunate to be in the neighborhood when the play happened to be given.

At Geneva they visited the League of Nations and the headquarters of other international organizations and then pushed on to Lucerne with its striking memorial to Napoleon's Swiss Guardsmen.

Going into France, the Halls and their party spent the night at Grenoble and went down through the French Alps to drive along the French coast of the Mediterranean, finding the country sorry by comparison with what they had previously seen.

After a night in Avignon, the party pushed on to Arles, known for its movie of Van Gogh, and there witnessed the making of another film with an ancient Roman amphitheater as a backdrop.

The Halls took off by plane from Paris for the United States, making the flight by way of Shannon, Ireland, where there was a short stopover.

The Halls arrived in New York last Wednesday and spent a day or so there before coming on home. "Polly" just didn't get to doing any sketching on the trip and Ken couldn't get the people he met to organize a Little League though he talked a lot about it.

BUILDING PERMITS

Building permits issued for week ending July 31:

Single Residence: 44 North Border road 14 Johnson road 30 Johnson road 30 Spire road
Residential: 11 Sheffield West
Alterations: 8 and 96 Hemingway street

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH THE LIGHTS? Transformer burning at Wildwood street and Woodside road caused power failure in that area and loss of many street lights around town.

LEAVES DAUGHTER HERE

Frederick A. Andrews, 51, of 8 Langmaid avenue, Somerville, who died suddenly Saturday, July 27, on Route 6 near Buzzard's Bay, was the father of Mrs. Thomas F. Derro of 439 Washington street.

He was on his way home from a vacation on the Cape. A native of Chelsea, Mr. Andrews lived for 40 years in Medford, serving for 22 years as chief clerk in the Medford City Auditor's office. Following his retirement from that office he had been employed by the Stable Construction Company of Winchester.

Besides his daughter here, he leaves his wife, Aida E. (Pisco) Andrews; another daughter and two sons.

A solemn requiem high mass was celebrated at St. Clement's Church, Somerville, Wednesday morning. Burial was in Oak Grove Cemetery, Medford.

TOOLS STOLEN FROM PROSPECT STREET BARN

Several tools were taken from a trailer belonging to Kenneth W. Binding of 12 Prospect street either Thursday or Friday of last week. The tools were valued at $50.00.

Mr. Binding reported to police that someone must have entered his barn through an unlocked door and forced open the rear door of the trailer which was parked inside. All of the tools were unused.

Mr. Binding believes that boys are responsible for the theft.

UNION CHURCH SERVICES

The Union Church Service will be held this Sunday morning at 10:00 a. m. at the Unitarian Church. Rev. Robert A. Storer will preach on the topic, "Public Lives." The soloist will be Mr. John Morabito, tenor.

No Easing of Restrictions

Water Shortage Still Critical Here

Water Superintendent Jim Halwartz told the Star yesterday that there has been no easing of the latest water restrictions issued by the Water Commissioners last week.

The water shortage in Winchester due to the prolonged drought is still critical, and though the Commissioners have made an additional supply of water available to householders for their gardens and shrubbery, their action does not mean that all restrictive bars are down. There is still great need to conserve.

LEATHER STOLEN FROM BEGGES AND COBB

Police received a call Friday from Beggs and Cobb Tannery to report the theft of a bundle of leather. The leather was stolen from the plant's main shop on July 23 at about 10:30 p. m.

An employee reported that he was on the third floor of the plant at the time of the theft and heard a loud noise outside caused by the leather which was apparently thrown from the second floor to the street. He saw a man pick up the bundle and put it in a car and drive off without lights.

Police were unable to get a description of the leather.

SPARE TIRE AND WHEEL STOLEN

Robert L. Reid of 39 Lindenwood road, Stoneham, reported to police on Wednesday that someone had stolen a spare tire and a wheel from his 1955 Pontiac station wagon.

The automobile was parked in the lot off Waterfield road from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. and the parts were stolen sometime during that time. Police have been unable to locate the missing tire and wheel.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

List of contagious diseases reported for week ending July 31:

3 cases of Dog Bite
2 cases of Mumps
William B. MacDonald, Agent, Board of Health.

BOYS BREAK STREET LIGHTS

The broken lights, shot out with an air rifle, were done, light in front of 98 Hillcrest parkway and others at the Parkway and Appalachian road and on Fells road and Highland avenue.

The boys were 14 and 16 years old. One had an air rifle in his hand when he was located by the police. Both are Winchester residents.

HOLMES - PARSONS

The Amherst Community church in Buffalo, N. Y., was the setting for the marriage last Saturday, July 27, of Miss Elizabeth Tracy Parsons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Parsons of Buffalo, and David B. Holmes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Holmes of 3 Lakeview road.

After a wedding trip through Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Holmes will live in Marblehead.

Miss Parsons was graduated from the Park School of Buffalo and Smith College. Mr. Holmes is a graduate of Winchester High School and Dartmouth College.

TO CELEBRATE ASSUMPTION FEAST

PARADE TO FEATURE OBSERVANCE BY ITALIAN RESIDENTS

Winchester's residents of Italian extraction will hold their usual celebration of the Feast of the Assumption, a day internationally observed in the Roman Catholic Church. For many years Italian residents of the town have been observing the day with religious and festive ceremonies.

The feast day falls on August 15, and the local observance of the day will take place on Sunday, August 11.

On that day commencing at 2 o'clock there will be a parade from St. Mary's Church marching through the principal streets of the Italian section of the town.

Featuring the parade will be the Madonna statue of the Blessed Mary which will be carried at the head of the line of march on a specially constructed platform.

Two bands, the Roma Band of Boston and the Lawrence Band of Lawrence, will play for the parade which will include colors and color guard and a guard of honor for the statue composed of members of the Christopher Columbus Society. The society's entire membership and women's auxiliary will participate in the parade as will many boys and girls, some in costume.

The parade, after covering its usual route through the Plain section will break ranks at St. Mary's Church. The Assumption Association are arranging for the celebration with James L. Evangelista as chairman of the committee, and John B. Mercurio, secretary-treasurer.

SENIOR - DANGORA

St. Mary's church was the scene of the marriage on Saturday, July 27, of Miss Ethel Mae Dangora, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dangora of 7 Henry street, and Gerald Edward Senior, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Senior of 23 Bodwell street, Dorchester. The Rev. John M. Manion performed the 10 o'clock wedding ceremony and was celebrant at the nuptial mass which followed. Soloist for the ceremony was Edward Cassell.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Dangora wore a high neck gown of cuplet silk trimmed with seed pearls and sequins. She wore a hat and veil to match and carried a bouquet of white carnations and pink roses.

Miss Judy Ann Dangora of Winchester was her sister's honor attendant. She wore a dress of white nylon with pink accessories and carried a bouquet of rose buds. Mrs. Andrew Quinn of Phoenix, Arizona, sister of the bride, and Miss Muriel Di Pirro of Somerville served as bridesmaids. They wore white nylon gowns with blue hats and accessories and carried rose buds.

Christopher Gannon of Dorchester was best man and John L. Dangora of Winchester was the usher. A reception was held following the ceremony at the Casino Room of the Hotel Fensgate in Boston.

Mrs. Dangora wore a beige chandilly lace dress with pale pink accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Senior wore a beige lace dress with navy blue accessories. Both had corsages of roses.

After a wedding trip to Bermuda, Mr. and Mrs. Senior will live in Somerville.

FIRES

Grass and brush fires still are responsible for most of the fire department's activity. People are still urged to take extra caution with matches and cigarettes.

Albert J. Olivadotti of 41 Richardson street reported a grass fire in his backyard, alongside his house. The fire was caused by burning in an outdoor fireplace.

Friday afternoon firefighters were called to the peat bog at Sandy Beach. The dry peat was burning underground.

A brush fire broke out at 203 Cambridge street on Sunday.

WATER SHORTAGE STILL CRITICAL HERE

Water Superintendent Jim Halwartz told the Star yesterday that there has been no easing of the latest water restrictions issued by the Water Commissioners last week.

The water shortage in Winchester due to the prolonged drought is still critical, and though the Commissioners have made an additional supply of water available to householders for their gardens and shrubbery, their action does not mean that all restrictive bars are down. There is still great need to conserve.

The Water Commissioners have had requests for special consideration in the use of water by individuals, but voted at their meeting Tuesday night to make no exceptions to the restrictions they have announced. In this connection they feel that impartial enforcement of the water ban is the only procedure possible.

Many apparently felt that last Saturday's terrific downpour and the few showers of this week have made it no longer necessary to be careful in the use of water.

Superintendent Halwartz told the Star the rain that has fallen has not in any way changed the local water picture, which continues bad. The 1.16 in. that fell last Saturday and the .64 in. Wednesday did not amount to the proverbial drop in the bucket in relieving the shortage, though both rainfalls were very welcome.

The easing of the complete outdoor water ban has resulted in a slight discoloration of the water around town generally, due to a rolling that has come with the increased usage. According to Superintendent Halwartz the discoloration is due to iron rust and is not harmful.

SKILLINGS PARKING LOT TO BE PAVED

The parking lot opposite the Town Hall will receive a brand new surface sometime next week. Members of the Highway Department started Wednesday to even out the lot in preparation for the paving.

If the weather is right, work will start Monday on the actual hot-top. The two applications, two inches of base and an inch of surface, will be done by the Warren Brothers Roads Co. of Cambridge.

4-3 Loss at Woburn

Little League Nationals

Out Of All-Star Play

Last Monday evening the Winchester National League All-Stars lost a heartbreaking 4-to-3 ball game to the Woburn American League stars at Woburn and were eliminated from the district playoffs.

The loss was a bitter one for the team as it was the last of the season. Both clubs had previously used the home run to account for their runs; however, it was an infield hit off the bat of Nick Bowers with the bases loaded that proved to be the big blow.

Woburn's sixth inning rally started with a walk to Quinn. The next batter, Patterson, hit a slow roller down the first base line that hit the base and bounced over first baseman Dave Hessman's shoulder, permitting Patterson to reach safely.

After the following hitter had forced Quinn at third, a passed ball allowed both runners to advance. Ross then fired to short center for the second out.

That brought Joe Carbone to the plate. Carbone already had a home run and a single to his credit so he was passed intentionally. This permitted Winchester's southpaw pitcher, Bruce Fitzgerald, to face the left-handed hitting Bowers.

Bowers went after the first pitch and sent a slow ground ball toward the hole between first and second. Hession fielded the ball but lost the race to the bag permitting Patterson to cross the plate with the winning run.

Woburn had scored two runs in the second inning off starter Dick Cooke when Quinn homered over the right field wall with White on base. They increased their lead in the next inning when Carbone connected with a Cooke fast ball and sent it over the left field wall.

The Woburn pitcher, Clark, who appeared to have more motion than stuff on the ball, held Winchester scoreless until the top of the fifth when Bruce Fitzgerald homered with Tofuri and Hughes on base.

Previously Bruce had blasted one that landed about forty yards beyond the left field fence that was foul. Then on the next pitch he sent a lowering drive to left center that just cleared the wall by about four feet.

The only other hits off Clark were singles by Cass and Collander. Collander nearly scored in the top of the sixth when after reaching third on an error, an infield out, and a passed ball, he attempted to score on a squeeze play. Tofuri laid down a bunt toward third that the other fielded with his bare hand, flipped to the catcher who put the tag on Collander.

The Woburn coach, sensing that Winchester might try the squeeze, had brought in his first baseman to catch when Tofuri came to bat.

The summary:

TRADERS' DAY AUGUST 7

Last week's announcement that Winchester would not observe Traders' Day this year because of a lack of interest has resulted in a number of protests from local merchants, many of whom seem to want this mid-summer holiday for themselves and their employees as usual.

As a consequence Wednesday, August 7, the usual first Wednesday of the month, will be observed here as Traders' Day, and apparently many, if not most stores, will be closed all day on that occasion.

Housewives, as a consequence, will do well to do the family shopping in advance of August 7, or plan to wait until after that day, for all those who have called the Star close as planned there won't be too much doing in the city on that day.

As has been the custom in recent years the observance will be strictly individual with each one doing, or going, what, or where he pleases. Traders' Day placards have been printed in a hurry and are available at the Star Office.

WITH SPECIALIST REGIMENT

First Lt. Hayden T. Richards of 2 Pine street, returned last May from a 16-month tour of duty in Korea, is assigned to the Specialist Training Regiment at Fort Dix, N. J., major infantry training center.

A graduate of Harvard College, with a bachelor of arts degree, Lieutenant Richards entered the army in September, 1955. Prior to his overseas assignment, he completed the basic officers course at the Artillery School, Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

Lt. Richards is the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Richards of 2 Pine street and his brother, Lt. Donald L. Richards is serving with the U. S. Air Force.

TOWN SOFTBALL LEAGUE

As this article goes to press the teams in the Town Softball League are still fighting it out for the first four positions. This is the final week of regular season play and at present the first four teams in the standing are the Sons of Italy, Y.F.W., Holy Name Society, (defending champions) and the Jokers (Kiwanis).

As this is being written it is uncertain as to how the teams will

CHIP LEWIS HOOKS A WHOPPER

"Chip" Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lewis of Emerson road, hooked a record four pound, 12 ounce smallmouth bass last Saturday at Pocomoonshine Lake in Princeton, Me., after a 17 minute battle. Guide Kenneth Brown said his catch was the largest bass caught in this region in recent years. "Chip" who is now in camp in Maine after completing the Little League season with the Yankees, said he was going to mount his big fish.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

A great variety of games were played on the various fields the past week and all participating seemed to be enjoying themselves tremendously despite the hot, humid, dry weather. The activities were softball for boys and girls of all ages, whiffle ball for boys and girls of all ages, Dodge ball for girls and boys of all ages, Paddle Ball for girls and boys of all ages, croquet for the younger girls and boys, kick-ball for both boys and girls of elementary grade level, and the older boys had a good time with baseball, stickball, baseball throws for accuracy, home-run hitting contests, three flies of baseball catching basketball and the younger tots enjoyed themselves with tag games, Dodgeball, story-telling, quiz games, guessing games. Big League Baseball tests of identifying players by positions played on various teams, and short relay and hopping and skipping games.

The Arts and Crafts department is going full speed ahead in the making of plaster of paris figurines, leather change purses, leather key holders, gimp bracelets, gimp lanyards and pot holders. This week metal stamping and painting were introduced and seemed to hold the attention of the youngsters.

The youngsters showing interest in the making of these projects were Brad Joyce, Toby and Pete Harvey, Patty Bailey, Ann Falzano, Stanley Cruwyz, Staffieri sisters, Doane Inniss, Janet Chamberland, George Luongo, Bobby Luongo, Linda Nelson, Ed and Don Luongo, Alice Quigley, Grace Lizotte, John Queen, Richie Allen, Alexis, Butch and Natalie-Jo have returned to their home in Frederick, Maryland, after having spent the last two weeks with Mrs. Klein's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dover of Vine street. Edie spent quite a bit of time with the children at Wedge Pond Beach where she formerly was a life-guard.

Peter and Alexis already show signs of being good swimmers, as Edie was not so long ago. Miss Barbara Kline of Frederick was also a guest of the Dovers for the past two weeks.

Also on the week of August 12 there will be a display of the items made through the Arts and Crafts department in a downtown window. Further details will be reported in this column next week. So if your youngster(s) have made a project and have not shown it to you it is due to the fact that the instructor Betty Ann Haggerty, is reserving them for the exhibition.

LITTLE LEAGUE STARS WIN FIRST ROUND MATCHES

Last Saturday afternoon the Winchester Little League All-Star squads successfully began their All-Star competition by winning both games.

At Stoneham the National League All-Star team put on an awesome display of power as they bombed three Stoneham pitchers for fifteen hits in downing the Stoneham National League 16 to 2. The entire starting team hit safely, with Peter Cass and John Colliander getting three hits apiece. The pitcher for Winchester, Dick Tansey, held Stoneham to just four singles, and with a little better support in the field could have pitched a shut-out.

Winchester picked up a run in the first to put them ahead for good. Cass, who was the hitting star for Winchester led off the game with a ground rule double. Tansey walked, but Fitzgerald then hit into a double play when Stoneham's third baseman speared his ground ball, stepped on third and threw to first. Tansey, who had moved to second on the play, then came in on Reardon's single to deep left.

Winchester won the game in the second inning when they pounded out seven hits for ten runs. They quickly loaded the bases on a double by Cooke, an error on an attempted sacrifice, and a walk.

This set the stage for Cass who connected for a grand slam home run.

Tansey kept the rally going with a walk and moved to third on a ground rule double by Fitzgerald. Reardon then got his second and third runs batted in when he singled to left again.

Reardon took second on the throw to the plate and advanced to third on a passed ball. He scored on Colliander's single.

An error on Cooke's ground ball put runners on first and second but when Tofuri's fly ball to left was dropped Colliander was forced at third.

Hughes then tripled to right adding two more tallies, and a single by Scherban produced the final run of the inning.

Stoneham got its first run in the last half of the second. O'Meara led off with a single and moved around to third on two passed balls. Then when French's ground ball was displayed O'Meara scored.

In the third home runs by Tansey and Colliander gave Winchester two more runs and made the score 13 to 1. The fourth saw Winchester round out its scoring with three more runs. Tofuri started the rally with a double and Hughes followed with a walk. Cass then hit a ground ball to short which was unsuccessfully played for a force at third. With the bases being loaded Tansey and Reardon both walked forcing in two runs. Colliander then

American Leaguers Came From Behind

The American League had a tougher battle on its hands in their first game, but they came from behind to defeat the Lexington American League 6 to 5. Going into the last of the sixth Winchester was losing 5 to 3, but after the first two batters went out the locals loaded the bases on singles by Mahoney and Griffin, and a walk to Schipellite.

Bob Zana then singled to center tying the game up and Bob Foley won it as he got his third hit scoring Schipellite with the winning run.

Lexington opened the game with a run in the first. Their lead-off batter, Ryan, singled to left and after he had moved to third on a wild pitch and an infield out, he scored on a passed ball.

Winchester tied the game up in their half of the first on a double by Schipellite, an infield out, and a single by Foley.

Winchester added another run in the next inning without the aid of Winchester Swimmers

"Dunk" Weston, 134-117

Last Friday afternoon before a large and enthusiastic crowd at Leonard Field Pool, fourteen-year-old Patricia Murphy led the Winchester Swimming Club to a 134-117 victory over a well-balanced Weston swimming team directed by Bob Sturmer of the Weston Red Cross.

Pat turned in the amazing total of 30 points for Winchester. She not only won all the races for girls 14 and under but also all the races for girls 16 and under.

Other high scoring girls were Jean Korwath who scored 11, Julie Devaney, 9; Barbara Diapella, 8; and Mollie Devaney, 7 points.

Arthur "Pepper" Cunningham showed why he received his nickname by leading the boys scoring with 11 points. Next in order came Charlie Simpson with 9. Bob Korwath and Dick McLatchy were tied with 8 apiece and John Harvey grabbed off 7.

For Weston Paul and Warren French were standouts accounting for 40 of their team's total. The rest of the scoring was evenly divided among the 30 odd swimmers who represented Weston.

Winchester's showing in the individual races was excellent but in the relays the Winchester swimmers were very weak. Out of four relays Winchester's only winner was the 14 and under boys team composed of Bob Korwath, George Neville, Whitey Allen and Dick McLatchy, a slick operating combination.

The point scoring system was based on 5 points for first place, 3 points for second and 1 point for third. Each relay event counted 7 points.

The following swimmers represented the Winchester Swimming Club.

Girls
Ten and under, Julie Devaney, Ellen Becker; 12 and under, Jean Korwath, Karen O'Donnell, Barbara Diapella, Arlene Coughlin, Tuti Griffiths; 14 and under, Pat Murphy, Mary Woodward; 16 and under, Mollie Devaney, Pat Murphy.

Boys
Ten and under, Peter Cunningham, Richard Stiles, John Harney; 12 and under, Pepper Cunningham, Bob Carroll, Joe Kann, Dan Winn; 14 and under, Bob Korwath, Dick McLatchy, George Neville, Whitey Allen; 16 and under, Ray Barry, Charlie Simpson, Bill Rodgers, Whitey Allen.

The meet was under the direction of Joseph F. Burns of the Winchester Red Cross. Arrangements were by the Winchester Park Department.

CAR SKIDS AND CAUSES ACCIDENT

A car skidded on wet pavement Thursday and collided with another car at the intersection of Main street and Symmes road.

The car, driven by Carl E. Johnson of Chester, N. H., went out of control as the driver hit wet pavement while going north on Main street after a little shower. The skid carried the car across the road and into an Oldsmobile sedan driven by Walter A. Caputo of West Medford.

According to Mr. Caputo, he saw the Johnson car coming at him and tried to avoid an accident by turning into Symmes road.

Mrs. Florence E. Johnson, wife of the operator, was reported to be shaken up by the accident. Both cars were towed away.

And how did you like the post-fight activities after the Patterson-Jackson imbroglio Monday night? Wasn't it so much better to watch and listen to a breath-taking commercial than to have a close-up of the triumph, heartbreak and drama that was following a heavyweight championship fight won by a T.K.O. in the tenth! Of course, we are just a small-town feller, and wouldn't know about such things, but if switching on a commercial at a moment like that is the way to win friends and influence people, we'll fight Floyd Patterson ourselves. Yes, and lick him, too!

Someone in the town's service with the necessary ingenuity should figure out a way to better drain the walk leading from Waterfield road to Main street past the post office. With anything more than a light shower there is a place at the approach to Winchester terrace and Horace Ford's restaurant that is a solid sheet of water a couple of inches or so deep. This pool leaves the pedestrian north bound on the walk three options. He may tightrope along the curbing at the right hand side of the walk against the fence, if his equilibrium is sufficiently good; he may take to the shrubbery on the other side; or he may plow straight ahead through the drink. No one of the options is good, and it does seem as though something might be done to obviate the need for them. How about it?

Well folks, we got our tax bill last Friday. This was our real estate tax from the Town of Winchester. We get so many taxes now, seen and unseen, that it is always well to be exact. This, we repeat, was our real estate bill!

We opened the envelope as casually as we could, but there was nothing casual about our feeling when we read the total tax at the bottom of the new form bill. With a gulp, a couple of choky swallows and a sudden weakness of the knees, we came to rest on a chair that was fortunately near at hand, and took another quick look at the total tax we had to pay; for our real estate, we mean!

Since 1947 our particular real estate tax has increased exactly $181.70, and since our modest home is the same as it was ten years ago, with no major improvements, this $181.70 reflects merely the tax hike over the past ten years.

We are all commencing to feel the impact of appropriations we have made in the past. These bond issues are insidious things. On the face of them they look and sound harmless, but they have to be paid for like any loan, public or private, has to be paid for! We can't continue to increase and improve our municipal services without paying the price for such increase and improvement.

This past town meeting was the first in some time at which the delegates seemed tax conscious as a whole. There have been for some years prophetic souls who have cried aloud in the wilderness a $50 tax rate for Winchester.

Well, it is here, and the end is not yet! Several large capital outlay expenditures loom up for the years immediately ahead.

We appropriated little money at the past town meeting, the Gradall excepted, for anything the delegates were not convinced was necessary. They definitely had to be shown, and a lot of the old selling talk, so effective in the past, fell on deaf ears last March.

As we contemplated our particular real estate tax bill for 1957 we gave thanks for the economy-mindedness of our last town meeting. May the delegates continue to scrutinize carefully as the late Mr.

CHILDREN ON TV AUGUST 5

The group of children from the Winchester Children's Theatre are busily "whooping it up" at rehearsals of "The Stolen Prince" which they will do on Channel 2.

9:00 to 10:00 p. m., next Monday, August 5. The following children are in the cast: Ronny and Edward Marcy, Mary Ellen and Cheryl Todd, Mary, Barbara, and Alicia Paulson, Karen and Marsha Horley, Kenney Tully, James von Rosensvinge, Courtney and Marsha West, Hannah Nowell, Lynne Smith, Rod and Don Letty, Janet Hovnanian and Mary Ames Wadsworth. Kathy Cazale is able assistant to Mrs. Samoiloff, and a delight to the children; Mrs. Donald Horley is assisting in make-up; Mrs. Gordon and Mrs. Tood on costumes, Claudia Gordon is assisting the director.

Craughwell used to say and decide wisely. A lot of us will be taxed right out of Winchester if they do not.

The influence of the worst drought Winchester has experienced, at least since the Star can remember is going to extend in many directions. One of them, of importance to all of us, is the fact that large users of water, denied much of this use by the necessary restrictions, have looked for supplies of water elsewhere. One large user, with a yearly water bill of some $1500 a year is reported to have sunk wells and to be securing the water he needs at a substantially less cost to him. How many others have done the same thing, or are arranging to secure their own water we are not in a position to state. If however even a few of the big water users have their own supplies in the future, that greater cost of water we can expect from our hookup with the Metropolitan will have that many fewer to pay for it. This can mean only one thing. We all pay more!

The "Audit of State Needs" is our authority for the statement that the number of college places open to qualified college age men and women is shrinking so rapidly that within the next few years over 50,000 Massachusetts boys and girls will be unable to enter college, even if all public and private institutions within the state expand to the maximum now planned. In Greater Boston 58,000 to 66,000 college age young adults, qualified for college education, will have only 17,000 places awaiting them in institutions of higher learning. In other parts of the state where fewer college facilities exist the situation will be even more critical.

A non-partisan research organization working jointly under the Governor and the Legislature has expressed great interest in the work being done by certain junior colleges to meet the local college shortage. The "Audit of State Needs" has expressed interest in the expansion plans for Boston and Framingham Teachers Colleges and other state teachers colleges.

With such increases in college capacity as may be available in the future there still is going to be a lot less places in college than there are those who want to enter. Winchester parents who have college plans for junior or sister would do well to bear this in mind.

It had to happen some time, of course! No team, in any sport, can continue to win infinitely, and Winchester Little Leaguers, with their unbelievably fine record in past All-Star competition can well afford their current losses and take them philosophically. After all, Little League, if it is worth anything, should teach us to accept defeat like sportsmen as well as to win like champions.

The boys, their managers and coaches are naturally disappointed that their teams are out of this year's championship play, but the kids and the men who gave so much of their time and effort to their development have nothing of which to be ashamed.

True followers of Little League baseball will congratulate them on another fine season and applaud their conquerors upon their achievement in beating two good teams. We shouldn't forget that the same coaching and handling that lost at Woburn Monday evening had previously carried Winchester twice to the World Series at Williamsport, a record of which anyone could justly be proud.

So let us rest on our laurels, rejoice in the past, take the present with the grin of a sportsman and look ahead to the future! No team can win all the time in single-game competition. The wonder of it is that we did win for so long!

TAXATION: NO REPRESENTATION

Editor of the Star:

Now is the time to right a wrong in our town meeting set-up. Ever since the adoption of our present system of limited town meeting, the average citizen has been disenfranchised. He or she pays taxes on the home but has no say-so as to how that money shall be spent.

In a twenty-year period, many home owners pay into the town treasurer a sum in excess of $5,000! Precinct members do not represent the tax payers; not even their neighbors who voted them into office.

In simple justice, some plan should be found so that those who pay should have some say. "He" or "she" should have the right to vote on the money appropriations. To be a town meeting member should not depend on our willingness to get signatures on a nomination paper or on our popularity. The right to vote for or against expenditures from town income, is an inherent right. It is strange that we ever gave it up. For too long, this fact has been brushed aside.

An automatic rotation system, assuring that every voter will have "his or her" turn as a town meeting member; is only one suggestion as to how the above wrong can be adjusted. Several other set-ups are possible. Incidentally, most of these plans tie in with the problem of shortening the actual duration of town meeting.

a far greater nuisance than any of the above mentioned noises. This unnecessary din lasts 15 hours a day with out of tune chimes thrown in to add to the confusion 3 times a day. I am very sure that there is no other church in Winchester which would deliberately continue to annoy such a thickly populated neighborhood.

I sincerely hope that others who are likewise disturbed will add their complaints in similar letters. Then those responsible cannot continue to ignore all complaints, as they have done in the past.

T. R. HICKEY

NEW EVANS CO. DIRECTOR

T. R. Hickey, of Concord, has been elected to the Board of Directors of John R. Evans & Company, Kid Leather tanners, of Camden, New Jersey.

Mr. Hickey, who is Assistant Sales Manager for the company, will have his office at the tannery, and will move soon, with his family, to the vicinity of Camden. He is a former resident of Winchester, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Hickey of that town.

A SMALL WORLD

Ken Pratt, popular custodian at the Mystic School, finds it's a small world after all.

Spending five days of his vacation at the Isles of Shoals last week, first off he met people from Bethesda, Md., a Navy career man and his wife, Condr. and Mrs. Walter MacWilliams. (Incidentally the Commander told Ken that Forbes Norris was not fired, but severed connection with the Montgomery County school system on his own.)

It turned out that Commander MacWilliams' son and daughter are very active at the Square Dance Society's summer camp and are known very well to "K.P." who is the daddy of all square dance devotees.

That wasn't all! The hotel staff at Isles of Shoals is recruited from high school and college age young people, among whom was a chap named Wiggin, who doubled as life-guard and pitcher for the hotel softball team, and who possesses a very pleasing tenor voice. The name Wiggin struck a responsive chord and in a conversation with the young man "K.P."

learned that he is the son of Dr. Sidney Wiggin, former Tufts team physician who was a contemporary of Mr. Pratt at Tufts.

The younger Wiggin is now a student at Crane Theological School at Tufts.

In case you happen to see "K.P." and he is limping, 'taint his square dance activity. Not a bit of it! Square dancing is good for the muscles and sinews, to say nothing of the waistline. "Weenie's" disability stems from a game of "hoss shoes" in which he failed to stand clear in fast enough time and was winged on the knee with a wildly flung iron. "Kneed" we say more!

For that family picnic get your supply of plastic straws and plastic picnic cutlery at the Winchester Star.

Does your gang
HECKLE you?

"When do we get a new house?" ... "Where do we go on our vacation?" ... "Can I have a new bike?"

You may pass off these family demands with a good-natured laugh, but ... if the house is too small; if you weren't able to get away for a vacation last year; and if Johnny has outgrown his old bike—there should be money to meet these needs!

The way to be sure you can talk back to your hecklers is to put part of every pay check in your savings account here. Then, cash is ready when you need it!

NOTES FROM THE GIRL SCOUTS' LOG

The University of Caen, Caen, Chief-Town of Calvados, Normandy, France
Wednesday, July 24, 1957

Dear Friends at Home:

The University of Caen, (where we are now), founded in 1432 by King Henry VI of England and completely destroyed by the invasion in 1944, was opened to its 3,500 students in the autumn of 1954. The New University, built high on a plateau, overlooks the whole town, the Orne valley and the plains beyond. At present it has a very new look with the young, newly set-in trees forming little protection to the strong, fierce, winds and heavy showers we have been having. The town of Caen, itself, is brand new, a different aspect from what we have been living with all through Europe, for three quarters of it was destroyed during the invasion. It is strange to see so much shining modernism rising up amidst ruins and ruins of true Norman antiquity. One new church is round like a huge, flatfish water tower, its walls pierced with small diamond shaped openings that will, when completed, contain colored glass. All new construction seems to be of stucco.

It is nearly a week now since we arrived in Caen to take up the role of students again and the atmosphere here is definitely a student one with practically nothing to do and think about but classes and lectures and FRENCH. We live and breathe French! We are not supposed to speak our native tongue even among ourselves but, as it becomes most frustrating I'm sorry to say we slip into a rapid flow of English when by ourselves and with those who can understand us. I know that other countries do the same thing too because, in passing small groups here and there we become accustomed to hearing all kinds of strange languages. I believe practically every country in the world is represented here because I have already met and conversed with boys and girls from all parts of the British Isles, the Scandinavian countries, all European countries, Iran, Syria, South Africa, Persia, Egypt, Korea, China, Lebanon and even two from East Germany. All of these languages are spoken separately on the campus, but, at meal times, at tea and social gatherings it is always French, the one language we all have in common. We are truly experiencing European University life.

It is amazing how we manage, in spite of the fact we are among the very few who speak English. Thoroughly shuffled at meal times in one large dining hall, at tea time and in the game room, we hear a constant chatter of French pronunciation. Some of us have managed dates to the cinema, to dinner, and dancing in the evenings. Louis Jean can speak no English but from time to time, practically all of us have had a ride on his Italian motor scooter. The other night several of us were invited to the "International House," residence of the regular students, to listen to Egyptian music and drink Egyptian coffee. And just now, the handsome Danish boy, who is completing with neatly trimmed whiskers and moustache, knee socks and knee breeches, from the room next to mine has just left my room after an enjoyable visit of comparing the American way of life with the European.

An important means here of becoming acquainted both with the people and the surrounding countryside is the numerous excursions we take—five bus loads of laughing, singing, joking young people. The first excursion was to various points of interest in the city including the modernistic, unfinished round church of St. Julienne; the tremendous new water tower, now under construction, in the shape of a huge top balancing on a very slender base, considered a remarkable feat in engineering; and also the beautiful Norman ruins of the Castle of William the Conqueror, built in the 11th century and destroyed in 1944 in the Battle of Normandy because it housed the German military.

Another excursion was to the ocean where we had dinner at the picturesque Chateau du Bosq at Comnes-en-Bessin. While some of us went to Omaha Beach where "American soldiers made history and which is now overlooked by the great Cemetery of St. Laurent," the most of us went to the beach at Arromanches where the American, British, Canadian and French flags fly in unison to commemorate that terrible time when so many brave men lost their lives for their country. It was a thrilling experience to be swimming in the surf that was still washing over wrecked tanks and landing barges there before us.

On our way home we passed through many small quaint Norman towns and farms where many beautiful examples of pure Norman simplicity in churches and farm buildings had parts blown away, probably because of bad housing a nest of machine guns. It was most impressive to see this and observe a typical Norman barnyard in the form of a courtyard, surrounded by stout buildings, entered into by a gate in the front wall. Inside we could see ducks, geese, hens and sometimes a cow, a horse or a donkey and almost always a two-wheeled cart.

Yesterday, after a fine reception by the Chamber of Commerce of Caen, we all went to the Port of Caen, connected with the sea for its shipping by a beautiful canal, and to its avant-port Ouistreham. At Ouistreham we saw where all the coal was brought into France from the United States and the unrefined iron ore shipped out. We also saw where Norman wine was made—big buildings with streets of huge wine vats or tanks. It was here we were treated to biscuits and all the wine we could drink. Some of the boys and girls became pretty gay. It was some party!

This afternoon from 18.15 to 19.15 we have an illustrated lecture in preparation for tomorrow's excursion to Honfleur, Trouville and Deauville where we shall probably see old half-timbered farms and ancient manors. Honfleur is the home of famous discoverers and the town from which Champlain sailed for Quebec. An Italian song is being sung beautifully in the corridor as some-one approaches this room; three of our girls are playing at badminton in the early fall and the churchman boy; and I see two little French boys playing in the field with their dog as in America but they are French words that float through my window.

Sally Beal whose diary you have been enjoying throughout the trip, arrives to-night for the first time since we left her in Paris to visit with her uncle and cousins. Next week the reports will return to Sally's charming style.

Au revoir,

Troop I

METHODISTS PLANNING
DEDICATION OF NEW ADDITION

A group of committee leaders met at the parsonage of Rev. John Snook, Jr., to set up plans for the dedication of the new Educational Plant and Social Hall of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church. Tentative dates are being set for special services that will take place in October and November. Following is a list of several of the committees:

Membership and Evangelism Committee—Mr. Clarence Craft, chairman.

Education Committee Mrs. Ruth Pope, chairman.

Missions Committee—Mrs. Olive Wilkins, chairman.

Stewardship and Finance—Mr. Kenneth Lamprey, chairman.

Layman's Sunday—Mr. Lewis Curtis, chairman.

Women's Society Committee—Mrs. J. W. Armstrong, chairman.

Dedication Service—Rev. John Snook, Jr.

Each of the committee heads will be directing special programs and services relative to the opening of the new wing.

Mr. Ralph Hatch, Building Committee chairman and chairman of the Board of Trustees, has been meeting regularly with the groups as progress continues.

The new Sunday School rooms, numbering about twelve, plus the re-making of the old social hall into Sunday School rooms also, will give adequate space for carrying on an up-to-date program in Christian education. New movie and color slide projectors and screens have been added recently to carry on an excellent visual aids program.

The Sunday School Superintendent, Mr. Ralph Hatch, and the Chairman of the Commission on Christian Education, report excellent progress in preparation for the opening of Sunday School.

An open house is being planned in the early fall and the church people will welcome friends of the community to visit the new project.

ACCIDENT ON CAMBRIDGE STREET

While traveling north on Cambridge street, William J. Keenan of South Boston rounded a curve south of Robinson Park and went into a skid which caused him to lose control of his car.

His car collided with a Chevrolet sedan owned by Mystic Automatic Sales Co. of Medford which was parked in the driveway at 36 Cambridge street. The car traveled 100 feet after the impact.

There were no personal injuries to either the driver or the passenger, but both cars were damaged and Mr. Keenan's was towed away.

NEWS OF THE JOHNSONS

Barry Johnson of 53 Wedgemere avenue recently was the winner of 6 ribbons at a swim meet held at the Manchester Bath and Tennis Club.

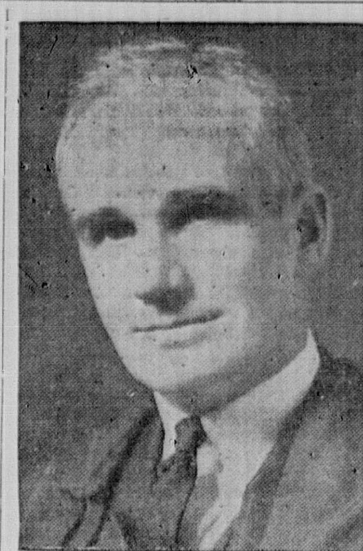

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Johnson have returned from a 2 week vacation at Nantucket, and Bonnie Sue is vacationing in Maine. Geoffrey is spending his summer at Nantucket.

Week ends find the Johnsons cruising North Shore waters in their Chris Craft Bee Jay.

B. U. GRADS HELD COOKOUT

The Boston University Alumni Club of Arlington, Lexington and Winchester held their first outing Wednesday evening at a cookout on Cranes Beach in Ipswich, Mass. The evening was cool, the water warm and the food excellent with all of the members having a good time.

It is not too late for all those eligible to become members. Call Dorothy Osborne at Winchester 6-3207 or Margaret Harkin at Winchester 6-2363-M for information.

REV. ROBERT A. STORER

NAMED TO STAR ISLAND POST

The Rev. Robert A. Storer, minister of the Unitarian Church, was on last Saturday named first vice president of the Isles of Shoals Unitarian Association at the annual meeting of the Association. Dr. Richard B. Lawrence of Kenwin road was elected second vice president.

The Rev. William S. Nichols of Hathorne, minister emeritus of the Unitarian Church of Marblehead, was elected president of the Association. Sixty-one years ago he took part in the first religious conference held on Star Island which is the only island in America whose use is devoted entirely to religious and educational activities.

In 1897 the first religious conference was organized here by Thomas Elliott of Lowell, Mass., and Mr. Nichols arrived to take part as a young Harvard Divinity School student. This began a lifelong interest in the Shoals, which subsequently spread to his family. Now at 85 the still active clergyman was elevated to the highest Unitarian position in the Star Island family.

Most of our people in the early days of the conference came from Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Maine. Today there seems to be no regional boundaries in the use of Star Island.

Conferences this summer have attracted delegates from twenty-four states in addition to two provinces of Canada.

In the old days the emphasis was on getting a galaxy of preachers who would lift every delegate with the brilliance of their sermons. Today there are still great speakers at Star Island, but the emphasis is now more on education, and everyone gets into the act, delegates as well as speakers.

Mr. Nichols received his B.A. from Harvard College in 1896 and his B.D. from the Harvard Divinity School in 1899, after which he did post-graduate work at Manchester College in England. Before settling in Marblehead Mr. Nichols served churches in Salem and Lynchburg, Mass. Northfield University in Northfield, Vermont, conferred its honorary Doctor of Letters degree upon him.

Mr. Nichols also serves on the Board of Directors of the Danvers Library Association.

COMPLETES OFFICER BASIC

Army 2nd Lt. George F. Winter-son, son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Winter-son of 27 York road, recently completed the officer basic course at the Chemical Corps School, Fort McClellan, Ala.

The 12-week course was designed to familiarize newly commissioned officers in the duties of a Chemical Corps officer.

Lieutenant Winter-son entered the Army in April 1956. A member of Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity, he was graduated from Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1956.

HUB CAPS AND MIRROR STOLEN

Joseph Chusa of 18 Phillips street, Malden, reported to police Friday that 4 hub caps and 2 fender mirrors were stolen from his 1955 Oldsmobile while it was parked in the Beggs and Cobb parking lot at the corner of Loring avenue and Swanton street.

WHALE OF A TRIP!

That is what a fishing trip taken by Dr. Alexander P. Aitken of Myopia road, George Murray of Highland avenue and Harry Damon of Arlington street turned out to be.

The trio was out after tuna last week in the Gannett II, owned by "Gunny" Eldredge out of Chatham, and had reached a point eight miles east of Pollock Rip Lightship when the big fish commenced to bite in real earnest.

The total catch of the three Winchester fishermen was seven, the fish ranging in size from 75 to 100 pounds, with the big catch, a 102 pounder falling to Dr. Aitken. Chatham Sport Shop equipment was used, of course!

Fishing like this is enough in itself to raise the average man's blood pressure, but when you add to this excitement the thrill of having a sure-enough whale ship, plenty near enough to touch, something new and especially spine-tingling has been added.

The fishermen didn't enjoy the experience especially, for a single flip of the whale's tail would have sent them to kingdom come, with or without insurance.

To add to the interest of the trip during much of her time off Pollock Rip, the Gannett II was surrounded by some 25 whales and their calves.

The big mammals constituted a great sight for "Doc," Harry and George, but they were just a bit too close for comfort, and the Winchester fishermen pounded the side of the Gannett frantically with a ball bat when the critters got within the danger zone.

The noise seemed to make the whales veer off, and the local fishermen offer it as a safety precaution to any others interested, just in case they happen to find themselves in the middle of a school of whales.

ROBERT M. EDGAR

EDGAR AREA VICE CHAIRMAN

Robert M. Edgar of Winchester, vice president of Middlesex County National Bank, Everett, will serve as area vice chairman in Winchester for this fall's United Fund Campaign, it was announced today by Robert Brauches, area chairman.

Mr. Edgar, who served as chairman of the service division in the 1950 Red Cross Campaign, and as fund chairman in Winchester in last year's Red Cross appeal, is a director of the Winchester chapter of the American Red Cross.

A graduate of Dartmouth College, he is a member of the Algonquin Club of Boston.

Mr. Edgar lives at 21 Oxford street, is married and has one daughter and one son.

AMENDMENT TO ZONING BY-LAWS
TOWN OF WINCHESTER, MASSACHUSETTS

ADOPTED AT ANNUAL REPRESENTATIVE TOWN MEETING
ON APRIL 8, 1957

VOTED, That the zoning by-laws be hereby amended by changing or altering the map incorporated therein and made a part thereof and a portion of that certain district indicated and identified therein as a General Residence District so that the following described area will be changed from a General Residence District to a Business District. The area to be changed is bounded and described approximately as follows:

An area on the easterly side of Vine Street bounded SOUTHERLY by the northerly side line of Vine Street at land of Ernest H. Hurd fifty-two (52) feet, more or less,

EASTERLY by the existing division line between the General Residence and Business Districts, said line being fifty (50) feet in parallel with the easterly side line of Vine Street, two hundred ninety-three (293) feet, more or less,

NORTHERLY by the southerly lot line of land of Thomas F. and Mary I. Fallon fifty-two (52) feet, more or less, and,

WESTERLY by the easterly side line of Vine Street two hundred ninety-one (291) feet, more or less.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an amendment to the Zoning By-Laws adopted by the Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, at an adjourned session of the Annual Representative Town Meeting of March 14, 1957, held on April 8, 1957, and approved by the Attorney General of Massachusetts on July 1, 1957.

AMENDMENT TO ZONING BY-LAWS
TOWN OF WINCHESTER, MASSACHUSETTS

ADOPTED AT ANNUAL REPRESENTATIVE TOWN MEETING
ON APRIL 8, 1957

VOTED, That the zoning by-laws of the town be amended by making the following changes:
To amend Section 5 of the zoning by laws by inserting at the end thereof the following new paragraph:
In Business Districts, the following special regulations shall also apply:

- Each dwelling house hereafter constructed shall be provided with a lot conforming to the area, width and frontage requirements applicable to such lot if located in a General Residence District, except that for each apartment house or group house, the lot shall contain not less than 2,700 sq. ft. if two stories in height, 1,800 sq. ft. if three or four stories in height, and 1,000 sq. ft. if five or more stories in height, for each family accommodated therein.
- In the case of every apartment house or group house constructed after the adoption of this amendment or used for such purpose, there shall be available on the premises or on land associated therewith and within 200 feet thereof, permanently maintained private automobile parking or garaging space for the exclusive use of residents and their guests, having an area of not less than 250 square feet for each family accommodated on said premises.

To amend Section 6 of the zoning by-laws by inserting at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

C. Any dwelling house hereafter constructed in any Industrial District shall conform to the special regulations for minimum lot area and required automobile parking or garaging space applicable to the construction of such building if located in a Business District.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an amendment to the Zoning By-Laws adopted by the Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, at an adjourned session of the Annual Representative Town Meeting of March 14, 1957, held on April 8, 1957, and approved by the Attorney General of Massachusetts on July 1, 1957.

AMENDMENT TO GENERAL BY-LAWS
TOWN OF WINCHESTER, MASSACHUSETTS

ADOPTED AT
ON APRIL 4, 1957

VOTED, To amend the General By-Laws of the Town by amending Article VI, Section 9, by striking out in the fifth line near the end of the second sentence the words "without cost to" and inserting in place thereof the words "at the expense of" so that said section as amended will read:

Article VI, Section 9. Service pipes shall be of such size and material as said Board shall determine on each application. The water department shall furnish, install, and maintain the same from street main to property line with stop and waste cock at line with a proper service box at the expense of the property owner. The service water pipe from the service box may be furnished and installed by any competent person whose work shall be satisfactory to said Board or its inspector. The water department may lay service pipe from property line to and through the cellar wall and place a stop and waste cock on the end of the pipe. An estimate of the cost of street main to inside of foundation, stop and waste cock included, may be made and the amount shall be deposited with the Town Treasurer before the work is begun.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an amendment to the General By-Laws adopted by the Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, at an adjourned session of the Annual Representative Town Meeting of March 14, 1957, held on April 4, 1957, and approved by the Attorney General of Massachusetts on July 1, 1957.

AMENDMENT TO BUILDING LAWS
TOWN OF WINCHESTER, MASSACHUSETTS

ADOPTED AT
ON APRIL 4, 1957

VOTED, To amend the Building Laws of the Town, Division 28 - Plumbing, Section 187 by striking out in the seventh line in the first sentence and near the middle of the paragraph the words "Plumbing Inspector" and inserting in place thereof the words "Board of Health" so that said first paragraph of said section as amended will read:

Section 187. Every building, used for human habitation or in which persons are employed, shall be separately connected with the public sewer if there is a sewer which, in the opinion of the Board of Health, is reasonably accessible; if there is none, with a cess-pool or septic tank located at such place and constructed of such material and of such capacity as the Board of Health shall direct, provided, however, that the drain pipe from the building in a private garage may be connected with the drain pipe of a residence. No plumbing shall be connected with the town sanitary sewer without the consent of the Plumbing Inspector.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an amendment to the Building Laws adopted by the Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, at an adjourned session of the Annual Representative Town Meeting of March 14, 1957, held on April 4, 1957, and approved by the Attorney General of Massachusetts on July 1, 1957.

JOSEPHSONS REPORT WONDERFUL TIME IN EUROPE

Gustave A. "Gus" Josephson, well known Winchester real estate dealer, who with Mrs. Josephson has been enjoying a European trip for several weeks, writes the Star that their wonderful experience came to a close July 31 when they sailed for home on the Swedish-American Line ship, the new Gripsholm.

The Josephsons' trip abroad was prompted primarily by the fact that their youngest son, Sherman, is serving with the United States Army in Frankfurt, Germany, and the opportunity of visiting him as well as returning to old familiar scenes in the Scandinavian countries proved too strong to resist.

The trip across on the luxurious M. S. Gripsholm was a wonderful experience for the Josephsons, who were entertained and entertained in turn until every moment not actually needed for rest was crowded with fast-moving pleasure.

Leaving the ship, Mr. and Mrs. Josephson enjoyed the hospitality of some fine hotels in Stockholm, Copenhagen, Oslo, Copenhagen and Frankfurt. Their son, Sherman, joined them in the German city and accompanied his parents to Oslo and other parts of Norway and then back to Sweden, giving him a rare opportunity to see the Scandinavian countries.

He and his parents saw the famed Norwegian fjords from sightseeing boats, and enjoyed the beautiful countryside of Norway, Sweden and Germany on trips by boat, train and automobile.

The Josephsons especially enjoyed their stay in Frankfurt, marveling at the way the city has been rebuilt since its destruction during World War II. During their round of entertaining and being entertained Mr. and Mrs. Josephson were guests of their son's company commander, Captain Polson and his charming wife, at their beautiful home.

It did not interfere at all with the Josephsons' pleasure in this visit to find their host a "big handsome Swede" from Brockton with many friends in Winchester.

The Josephsons had one real disappointment. They had looked forward to entertaining "Jim" Cusack, son of former selectman and Mrs. James C. Cusack of Lakeview road, while in Frankfurt. "Jim," however, wasn't available, being away competing in a service track meet. They were told that the former Winchester High athlete is making a name for himself in Army track circles abroad.

Another disappointment was the quality of the coffee at many of the European hotels, but the chocolate was so good it helped a lot, and the famous Smorgasbord was never better!

INJURED IN FALL

FORMER SELECTMEN HAS BADLY CUT ARM

Former Selectman J. Joseph Tansey is recovering at his camp, Hunters' Rest, Groton, N. H., from the effects of a serious injury he sustained July 18 at his home on Canal street.

"Joe," faculty member and director of athletics at Wentworth Institute, likes to work around his home and camp, and he had just completed some painting at his home when the accident occurred.

While taking a pail of paint down the cellar stairs he caught his heel on one of the stair treads and pitched forward. In attempting to save himself he grabbed at an overhead shelf, was thrown sharply to the left and against a window, his left arm being badly cut as it was driven through the glass.

Alone in the house, and sensing the seriousness of his injury from his long experience as an athletic and camp director, "Joe" started immediately for the hospital. As he was getting into his car as best he could, his plight was seen by patrolman Jack McHugh, who went to his assistance and drove him to the Winchester Hospital.

Dr. Milton J. Quinn and Dr. George A. Marks attended Mr. Tansey and it was necessary to take 40 stitches in the arm to close the severe cut. After the wound was closed, the arm was put in a cast and is now reported to be coming along nicely.

The accident occurred at a particularly unfortunate time for "Joe" who had lined up several projects to be completed at his camp during the two weeks following the mishap, which were to be Mr. Tansey's vacation.

Instead of wielding a saw, hammer or paint brush at Groton "Joe" has been lying around with his injured arm on a pillow much of the time. He was in town Monday for a checkup but returned to Hunters' Rest the same day.

CONNOR IN SUMMER STOCK

George E. Connor of 403 Main street is in Weston, Vermont, at the Weston Playhouse where he is spending his vacation in summer "straw hat theatre." He will play the leading role of Alferi in "View from the Bridge," and of the art dealer in "Reclining Figure."

Mr. Connor, a newspaper editor, enjoys amateur theatricals as a hobby and is actively associated with the Parish Players of Winchester, Tufts Community Players, and has appeared in plays at the Boston Conservatory, as well as spending his summer vacations at the Weston Playhouse.

BOLSTER RECEIVES PATENT

Richard D. Bolster of this town was the recipient on July 2, 1957 of U. S. patent No. 2,797,414, entitled "Attachment For Stapling Machines."

This invention pertains to pneumatic stapling machines that are operated by hand and are used for such purposes as assembling boxes, crates and other articles. Devices of this type generally include a pistol grip which is manipulated to successively drive staples from a magazine or holder into the surface of the article against which the machine is held.

In using these stapling machines, it is important in many types of box structures to locate the staples at the proper distance from the edge of the box being assembled. This is necessary in order that the staples may have the required effect. As a further aid in obtaining maximum holding power for the staples, they should also be located at an angle with respect to the edge of the box. In addition, the correct spacing of the staples and their angular placement should be achieved regardless of whether the work is being performed along a horizontal or vertical edge.

Mr. Bolster has devised a novel and improved attachment by which the foregoing requirements may be met. In particular, he provides a mechanism which may readily be secured to or removed from the stapling machine and includes a specially designed guide shoe element by which the desired results are accomplished.

According to Mr. Bolster, the attachment of his invention is relatively simple in construction and makes it possible for a hand operated stapler to locate the staples in positions that develop the most effective holding power. It also simplifies and makes more accurate the operation of holding and applying the staples. An additional advantageous feature, it reduces the possibility of any of the staples missing an edge of the box or other workpiece and being fired through the air with a consequent possibility of injury to workmen or others.

This patent has been assigned to Atlas Plywood Corporation, Boston.

HOME FROM ABROAD

Mrs. Frederick W. Aseltine of Cabot street returned to town recently from a two months tour of the British Isles and the Continent. During her time abroad Mrs. Aseltine visited England, Scotland, Norway, Sweden and Denmark, Germany, Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg, Switzerland and France.

Highlighting the trip were attendance at a Shakespearean play at Stratford-on-Avon, a railroad trip up the famous Frauchoch and headquarters of the various international organizations in Geneva, Switzerland.

The gorgeous Norwegian fjords, the breath-taking Swiss Alps, the beautiful British and German countryside, the rugged grandeur of Scotland and the magic of Paris will according to Mrs. Aseltine, be long remembered.

The WEIGHT of QUALITY

Even the sensitive apothecary's scale cannot measure the intangible ingredient—QUALITY—yet QUALITY weighs heavily in every prescription we compound. It's the plus ingredient that strengthens the health benefits of the medicine. Our complete stock of drugs... our professional skill... our painstaking care—these are the elements of QUALITY that recommend our prescription service to you and assure you of the best in prescribed medicine.

STABBED IN BILLERICA AFFRAY
Two Winchester men were stabbed, one seriously, in an altercation that took place at 1:30 Saturday morning on the common in Billerica. A Woburn man was held by the Billerica police for assault with a dangerous weapon. According to the police the trio was riding in an automobile with two other men, one from Winchester and one from Woburn. As they were going through Billerica an argument broke out in the car which the operator stopped at the common. The men got out and an affray started in which one of the Winchester men was badly stabbed, missing death, it is reported, by less than an inch. Twenty stitches were necessary to close a wound in his stomach. Attempting to act as peacemaker, a second Winchester man was stabbed twice, once on the left arm and again on the left side of the stomach. Sixteen stitches were taken to their homes. Their assailant was scheduled to appear in Lowell Court to answer charges of assault and battery with a dangerous weapon, two counts.

BOYS START FIRE AT CROSS STREET STATION
Three boys on bicycles, all between 12 and 14 years old, set a small fire Tuesday near the old Cross street railroad station. Police responded to the call and extinguished the fire which was smoldering in a bench. They were unable to locate the boys.

WINCHESTER SKIPPER WINS FOUR
Tom Legore in his "Larus" seemed ticketed for third place near the end of the race, but heading for the leeward end of the line, he picked up a better breeze and sailed right by the Morley boat, "High Satiety" from Town River, to grab second. "High Satiety" was third, closely followed by Carl Freyer in "Winnona."
Clarence Borggaard in "Ragabag" and Tom Ford of Cottage Park had a real ding dong battle for fifth, changing positions at least twice as one or the other skipper caught an extra puff of wind. At the line Ford just edged "Borgy" in a hat-hoisting finish for fifth, Borggaard's sixth helping to swell the Winchester total.
Incidentally the boat sailed by Ford is a former Winchester craft, previously the property of Cliff Austin.
Final Corinthian Race
The third and last race of the Corinthian series Saturday went off smoothly in perfect weather. The Snipe Class was sent over the long course with plenty of time for the skippers to change position. Once again Ken Cook of Winchester brought in his boat, now called "Jinx," in first place. The Morley boat from Town River was second and the Forestall boat from Cottage Park, third. Carl Freyer's courtesy in yielding right of way to the Forestall entry made its third place possible.
Dick Ivers sailed in his "Aquila" fourth ahead of Tom Legore's "Larus" in fifth place. Clarence Borggaard finished sixth in "Ragabag" and seventh went to Carl Freyer's "Winnona," all Winchester skippers.
Chowder Race to Be an
Although Race Week ended Saturday with the usual festivities, the Eastern Yacht Club held its usual "Chowder Race" on Sunday morning.
This race, a handicap event over the outside course, is for keel boats from 80 foot schooners down to 20 ft. 110 boats. The handicaps are assessed at the start of the race with each boat getting away at a different time according to its estimated speed rating.
Harry Bean of Winchester, sailing his 210 Class boat, "Beanie," was an easy winner over both smaller and larger boats, taking the William LaCroix Trophy as well as all the chowder he could eat.
Race Week Notes
Credit should be given to the senior Tom Legore and Stan Gardner of Winchester Boat Club race committee who covered the course each day in the Legore motor boat, always ready to help any boat in distress in the Snipe and other small class divisions.
Police received a call Friday from the houseboy at Leonard Beach bath house reporting that five Cambridge boys refused to leave when they were requested to do so. Police went to the Beach and ordered the boys to leave.

How the understanding of God's inexpressible goodness enables man to meet everyday needs will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon on "Love."
Scriptural selections will include the following from Ezekiel (34:11-14): "For thus saith the Lord God: Behold, I, even I, will both search my sheep, and seek them out. I will feed them in a good pasture, and upon the high mountains of Israel shall they fold for them; there shall they lie in a good fold, and in a fat pasture shall they feed upon the mountains of Israel."
Correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (49:10): "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need. It is not well to imagine that Jesus demonstrated the divine power to heal only for a select number or for a limited period of time, since to all mankind and in every hour, divine Love supplies all good."

WINCHESTER COMMUNITY THEATRE

"Kiss Me Kate!" All who hear these words immediately grin from ear to ear, for they are reminded of a rollicking, robust musical with many delightful whistling tunes. These words bring to the mind a sense of settling back in a chair, completely relaxed, with a wonderful feeling of mirthful ease.

Yes, "Kiss Me Kate," the great Broadway musical comedy is to be presented by the Winchester Community Theatre on November 22 and 23.

Included in the cast is Frances Lawrence of Winchester who sings Kate. Playing opposite her as Petruchio is Sidney Blanchard, who of Winchester, is played by Estelle Terranova, and opposite her is Lucretia, portrayed by Robert Ducette of Burlington. The three feature comedy roles are played by Tom Morse as Baptista, James Hintlain and Daniel Kelleher as the two gunmen. Ann Lakis sings Hattie.

Others in the cast include: Sue Westwater, Aaron Mouradian, Bobby Horn, Lawrence Smith, Julie Loneragan, Robert Murphy, Valia Downs, Bud Myers, "Buttons" Burbank, Rose Rovinge, and Richard Nyquist.

More enthusiastic people are needed in the song and dance choruses. You may contact Mrs. Mary Witham, Winchester 6-4056, director of the chorus work; or Jane Renz, Winchester 6-2933-W, dance director.

Remember, this is the first current Broadway musical to be presented in Winchester by the town's own Community Theatre. Only you can make it successful by your active participation, so climb aboard the musical band wagon and join in the fun.

MRS. TERESA D. ARNOLD

Mrs. Teresa DeReamer Arnold of 11 Allen road, wife of H. Warren Arnold, of Warren Brothers Roads Company at Cambridge, Mass., died August 5, following a three weeks illness.

Mrs. Arnold was the daughter of Charles and Maria (Fitzpatrick) DeReamer. She was born in Fond du Lac, Wis., where she attended school. She then attended normal school in Princeton, N.J., and was graduated from Bellingham Teachers College in Bellingham, Wash., after which she taught in the schools of Tacoma, Washington, and Tucson, Ariz.

Her teaching career terminated with her marriage. She took her husband to the Presidio in California, where Mr. Arnold was in training as a 1st Lieutenant with the heavy Artillery during World War I.

Mrs. Arnold remained in Fond du Lac while her husband was in service and on later engineering details about the country. She and Mr. Arnold came to Winchester in May of 1927 and for 30 years made their home at 11 Allen road. Mrs. Arnold was a member of the Winchester Chapter, Guild of the Infant Saviour, and while her health permitted was very active in the charitable work of the Guild.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Arnold leaves two sons, Herbert W. Arnold of Arlington and Thomas D. Arnold of Waltham. There are also four grandchildren.

The funeral was held Thursday morning from the M. G. Moffett Funeral Home with requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

PARENTS' DAY AT ROBIN HOOD

A parents' day was held recently at Robin Hood Day Camp in North Reading.

The program included Red Cross swimming lessons to over youngsters at the camp pool. The program also included exhibition horse-back riding lessons in the camp's new 100' ring, pony rides, rowing lessons, outdoor motor rides, fishing, horseshoes, basketball, table tennis and an arts and crafts exhibit.

Special movies of a previous parents' day program were shown during rest periods.

The camp staff includes eleven senior counselors, five of which are certified Red Cross swimming instructors. The staff also includes ten counselors-in-training, one of whom is a Red Cross Senior Life Saver. Two others are Junior Red Cross Life Savers.

Campers participating in the parents' day program from the greater Winchester area were: Billy Chase, Robert Jones, Lisa Jones, Leslie King, John Newton, Phil O'Neil, Roddy Welles, Kathleen McKusker, Michael O'Brien, George O'Brien, Merly Ober, Judith Ober and Gay Roberts.

PROF. HOWARD R. BARTLETT ON EDUCATIONAL MISSION TO INDIA

Prof. Howard R. Bartlett, head of the Department of Humanities at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, former chairman of the School Department, is leaving with Mrs. Bartlett to spend some four months in India as a member of the General Education Project, sponsored by the American Educational Exchange Service, a cooperative venture of the State Department of the Federal Government and the Indian Ministry of Education.

The trip to India had its inception last March when 25 Indian educators came to America and were sent in small groups to nine American colleges and universities where they studied the problem of general education as it has been developed in the United States.

Each host institution agreed to send a member of its staff to India this fall, and MIT chose Professor Bartlett, who as head of the Department of Humanities at Tech has been involved in the problem of general education for many years.

While in India Professor Bartlett will spend a month at the University of Bombay and another month at the University of Roorkee, an engineering school about 100 miles north of Delhi. The remaining two months of his stay will be spent traveling to several other universities for short stays.

Professor Bartlett told the Star that while his actual duties are a little indefinite, he expects that for the most part they will be devoted to consultation with committees and individual members of the faculties who are considering how best to introduce general education into their curricula.

UNION CHURCH SERVICE

The Union Church Service will be held at 10:00 a. m. this Sunday morning at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church. The pastor, Rev. John Snook, Jr., will take as his sermon topic "The Possible You."

MRS. ISABELLE CRAWFORD

Private funeral services were held for Isabelle (Edwards) Crawford, who died on Tuesday, August 6, at her home at 79 Church street.

PRIEST'S MONUMENT WRECKED IN CALVARY

SEEK DRIVER OF CAR

When the superintendent of Calvary Cemetery arrived for work last Friday morning he found that some time during the night an automobile had wrecked a monument erected to the memory of Rev. James H. Doherty, a former curate at St. Charles Church, Woburn, who later became pastor of St. Catherine's Church, Norwood. The damage was done in the Winchester section of the cemetery and the Woburn police, who were originally called, turned the investigation over to them. The car is registered to a Winchester man, and police deny having driven the car when the accident occurred. He told police he left the car in a lot on Montvale avenue and was at a loss to explain how it got into the cemetery.

MISS KEENEY ENGAGED

Mrs. Robert M. Keeney announces the engagement of her daughter, Ann, to Mr. Keith T. Russell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Russell of Mechanicville, New York.

Miss Keeney, also the daughter of the late Robert M. Keeney, is a graduate of Mount Holyoke College and received her masters degree from the Harvard Graduate School of Education. Mr. Russell is a graduate of the New York State College for Teachers in Albany, and is studying for his masters degree at Columbia University.

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT OFFICES MOVED

FORMER LEGION HEADQUARTERS FINALLY ABANDONED

Offices of the School Department were moved this week to temporary quarters at 420 Main street, next to the Senior High School.

This move became necessary, according to Superintendent Harry E. Gilson, because the present offices located at 84 Washington street have reached a state of disrepair that renders them unfit for continued occupancy.

The new quarters will be occupied until such time as adequate and permanent facilities can be made available in accordance with action taken at the last Town Meeting, which established a building committee to present plans for School Department Offices and additional High School classrooms.

The School Department occupied the quarters on Washington street from September of 1946, moving there from the old Shattuck Stable at the rear of the Wyman School, used as school headquarters after the fire which destroyed the building at the corner of School and Dix streets was torn down.

The Washington street headquarters were once the home of the late Alexis Cutting, who in the 1870s had a thriving lumber and tan-bark business with a yard on what was later old Manchester Field.

Mr. Cutting owned considerable real estate in Winchester and developed the property on and in the vicinity of Cutting street which was named for him and which runs from Dix street to Manchester road. Whether he built the house in which he lived is conjectural. Some old timers have believed the builder was more likely the late Charles Pressner.

After Mr. Cutting's death the house was occupied by private citizens, among them the late T. Grafton Abbott, and T. Parker Clarke, formerly superintendent of streets. It was then vacant until it was bought by the town as a part of the then projected "civic center" which was to extend along Main and Washington streets, from the Johnson Plot to Mt. Vernon street.

In 1921 when Winchester Post, 97, the American Legion, was looking about to replace their outgrown headquarters in the Brown and Stanton Block the town made the old Cutting house available to the veterans, and they remained in the building until the early 1940s.

FATHER-SON LEAD TO BRUCES

The Wenham team of Edgar and Barrie Bruce had a 71 to lead the big field in the annual Father-Son Golf Tournament at the Winchester Country Club as the Star went to press yesterday.

The Bruces in the division of fathers playing with sons 12 to 15 posted their low figures on the second day of the tourney Wednesday. The Bruces' leaders were George Egan of Oakley and his son, Eddie, who had a par 72.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASE

Four cases of dog bite have been reported to the Board of Health for the week ending Thursday, August 8.

CHILDREN MAKE HIT ON TV

"Clear the Studio we're on the Air!" The twenty-eight little feet of the cast of the Children's Theatre School scurried off the set of Channel 2's Studio into the waiting room followed by Mrs. Samoiloff, director; and her assistant Miss Kathy Cazale, and the crew mother. The preliminary warm-up was over—this was it!

Young actors mingled with awestruck parents, excitedly crowding around the WGBH-TV Monitor to watch the beginning of Channel 2's program on which they were soon to appear themselves. If you dialed Channel 2 on Monday evening last, you were at that moment watching close-ups of the cameramen and stage-crew on this educational feature, showing the set-up for a live TV Show.

The studio crew all agreed they certainly had a "Live Show Plus" in the cast of "The Stolen Prince." Director-producer Cabot Lyford, commentator William Pierce, and the entire staff of Channel 2, were alternated between amazement and laughter at the acting and antics of the children.

"Now you are going to see a rehearsal of 'The Stolen Prince' conducted by the director of the Winchester Children's Theatre, Carlene Murphy Samoiloff, and then the play itself," explained Mr. Pierce.

The excited youngsters in their Chinese trousers and coats, their little black queues swinging, trooped into the studio. Jumping and light cords, keeping off the half cameras, they took their places to the right and left of the stage. Powerful studio lights shone on the Chinese screen and palace gates.

"Bound, a sacrifice fly, and the drummer flashing his smile and swinging his arm set the rhythm for the other members of the little orchestra in quarter, half and eighth notes. "Our story is about to begin," the narrator bowed and bowed again gracefully—the prop man held up his cherry tree!

It is something that the TV columns of four Boston newspapers carried not only special mention but also reviews of this Children's TV program.

We quote Bill Buchanan's regular Record column, "TV Last Night," "the children loved every minute of it and their own special charm and sincerity managed to capture the attention of this hardened reviewer."

Elizabeth Driscoll's Globe column "TV Notebook," "that glow north of Boston last night probably came from the TV set in Winchester tuned in on Channel 2. The four cameras roamed about in leisurely fashion catching some of the boys and girls unselfconsciously romping and playing. It was long before Mrs. Samoiloff got them to performance level by telling them to 'Whoop it up!' There must have been some proud parents and some tired children by the time the oriental make-up was washed off."

WINCHESTER BOY IN SPORTSCASTER CONTEST

FITZGERALD ONE OF EIGHT FINALISTS

John W. Fitzgerald II, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Fitzgerald of 48 North Border road, received a telegram from the National Amateur Sports Association last Friday informing him that he is one of the eight finalists in the Atlantic Refining Company's Junior Sports-caster Contest.

Being one of the finalists, John and his parents are invited to the Kenmore Hotel tonight for dinner with the Red Sox. After the dinner John and his parents, with the other finalists and their parents, will be guests of Joe Cronin at the Red Sox and Washington Senators ball game. The finalists will tape record an inning of the game and the best announcer, as judged by the tape recording, will broadcast a portion of the Red Sox-Yankee game on August 14 and 15. In reaching the finals, Fitzgerald has passed two eliminations, the first of which was the cutting of the contestants from the six New England states to 25. This was done by selecting the best 25 letters submitted.

The next elimination was a telephone interview with Red Sox Sports Announcer Bob Murphy. The field was lowered to eight and this is where the contest stands at present.

John graduated from Winchester High School last June and is planning to attend Northeastern University School of Engineering in the fall. He was the recipient of a Jere A. Downs Scholarship.

The bride is a graduate of Simmons College. Mr. Thompson graduated from Dartmouth College and from Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

COUGHLIN — SANTO

Miss Anne Josephine Santo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Santo of 10 East street, and James Leo Coughlin, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Coughlin of 10 Forest street, were married on Saturday morning, July 20, at the Immaculate Conception Church.

The pastor, Rev. Herbert E. A. Driscoll, performed the marriage ceremony at 10 o'clock and was also celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed. Given in marriage by her father, Miss Santo was attended by her sister, Miss Mary G. Santo, as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Phyllis Mosca of Winchester, Mrs. Grace Silvio of Concord, Miss Elizabeth Coughlin of Winchester, sister of the bridegroom; and Mrs. Mary O'Connor of Woburn, cousin of the bride.

The bride wore a floor length gown having a lace bodice with a Sabrina neckline and a tulle skirt with inserts of lace at the front and back. Her elbow length veil was caught to a lace hat and she carried two white orchids with streamers of Stephanotis and carnations.

The honor maid wore a princess style street length dress of rose organza over white taffeta with a matching crown and circular veil and rose motifs. Her bouquet combined sunflowers, carnations and Stephanotis.

The bridesmaids were gownned like the maid of honor, except that two wore aqua dresses and two, yellow. All wore crowns and veils to match their gowns and carried white orchids with streamers of carnations.

James L. Coughlin was his son's best man, and ushering were Daniel Mistretta and John Connor of Winchester. Robert Breen of Medford and Roger Finnegan of Scituate, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

The reception was held after the marriage at Christopher Columbus Hall. Mrs. Santo, mother of the bride, wore a beige lace gown with blue hat and accessories and a white orchid. The bridegroom wore a white tuxedo with a white orchid and his rose lace gown, blue hat and accessories.

After a honeymoon in Philadelphia, the newlyweds will return to Winchester. Mr. and Mrs. Coughlin are making their home in Medford.

ROBERT H. WILLIAMS

Robert H. Williams, who died suddenly July 25 in Los Angeles, Calif., at the age of 75, was a former resident of Winchester.

Mr. Williams was born in Chicago, July 11, 1882, son of David, a carpenter, and Mary O'Brien. He came east to attend Harvard, from which he was graduated in the class of 1906.

After some years in the west, in the long-awaited reunion of the Szederkenyi family took place when Mr. Tibor Szederkenyi and his 11-year old son Tibor arrived at the 128 station to be met by Mrs. Szederkenyi and some members of the Winchester Hungarian Settlement Committee. The father and son had escaped to Yugoslavia in February of this year, but it was not until the fall of 1945 that they arranged passage to America and were able to fly from Vienna to New York.

Mrs. Szederkenyi is one of the original group of Hungarians who came to Winchester from Camp Kilmer. She and her brother, Lazo Tabany, have been employed by Sylvania and have been living in a private home in Winchester. The Szederkenyi family hope to find employment for Mrs. Szederkenyi, who is an engineer and was employed by Phillips House in Hungary, and also to locate and move to an apartment in Winchester by the end of August. In this connection they will be needing articles of furniture and blankets if you have anything they could use, please contact Mrs. Arthur Bonney, Winchester 6-3996.

HUNGARIAN FAMILY REUNITED

At midnight on August 1, the long-awaited reunion of the Szederkenyi family took place when Mr. Tibor Szederkenyi and his 11-year old son Tibor arrived at the 128 station to be met by Mrs. Szederkenyi and some members of the Winchester Hungarian Settlement Committee. The father and son had escaped to Yugoslavia in February of this year, but it was not until the fall of 1945 that they arranged passage to America and were able to fly from Vienna to New York.

THOMPSON — MAIRA

At St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Weston on Saturday afternoon, August 3, Miss Eleanor Maira of 395 Broadway, Cambridge, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. Kelso Maira, formerly of Waltham, became the bride of James Burleigh Thompson of Fort Lee, N. J. Dr. E. F. Chancey, rector emeritus of the church, read the 4 o'clock service which was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Maira, 85 Canterbury road, Waltham.

Miss Maira was given in marriage by her brother, and attended by Miss Eleanor Appel of Cambridge.

John Rosenfeld of Middletown, Conn., was Mr. Thompson's best man, and ushering were William Brace of Cambridge, formerly of Winchester; and E-an Zen, also of Cambridge.

After a wedding journey Mr. and Mrs. Thompson are planning to make their home in Cambridge, where the bridegroom is associate professor of geology at Harvard University.

The bride is a graduate of Simmons College. Mr. Thompson graduated from Dartmouth College and from Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

DEDICATE CABIN FOR FORMER WINCHESTER MAN

On Sunday, August 4 at Camp Copithorne, Freedom, New Hampshire, a cabin was dedicated in memory of the late Ralph G. Swanson, a former resident of Winchester for 35 years and a charter member of the Somerville Lions Club, which sponsors Camp Copithorne.

Mr. Swanson was one of the group which pioneered the building of the camp for boys of Somerville, and he along with other Lions put a great deal of time and effort into improving and maintaining the camp over the past 18 years.

The dedication was made by Dr. Ralph Estey and Joseph Blumack, both members of the Somerville Lions Club and intimate friends of Mr. Swanson. A dedication ceremony was made by his son, Wesley B. Swanson of Lockland road in behalf of his family.

Over 100 Lions Club members and their families attended the dinner and dedication ceremonies at Camp Copithorne.

BIG WATER LOSS IN PIPE BREAK

HOUSES WITHOUT WATER IN GINN ROAD DISASTER

Many houses on the west side of town were without water yesterday morning when an eight inch main at the corner of Ginn road and Bacon street burst some time prior to 4 o'clock Thursday morning. The break occurred almost at the point where the pipe, of transit construction, joined a hydrant.

First news of the break came shortly after 4 o'clock yesterday morning when a resident of Salisbury road notified the police he was unable to get any water from any of the faucets in his house. This complaint was followed by others in the neighborhood and elsewhere on the west side.

All police cruisers were notified to be on the lookout for a break and the Water Department was notified, sending out its emergency crews.

Police Sergeant John J. Dolan discovered the break, and found that Ginn road was under a sheet of water from end to end. Though the exact amount of water lost could not be immediately estimated, thousands of gallons or more must have gone to waste.

Water Department crews shut off the water and went immediately to work to make temporary repairs. By morning Thursday all houses on the west side had water, excepting seven on Ginn road, which were being served by hoses to provide necessary water for cooking.

Water Superintendent Jim Halwartz said the pipe had been in the ground for 40 years, and the life of such pipes is usually a great deal longer than that. Investigation showed the leak had been building up for some time before letting go yesterday morning.

ALFRED W. FRIEND

GEORGE B. REDDING NAMED TO DARTMOUTH COUNCIL

George B. Redding, of Winchester, was named to the Dartmouth Alumni Council. His election was announced today by the council's president, Guy P. Wallack, of San Francisco.

Mr. Redding graduated from Dartmouth in 1929. He now maintains a law practice in Boston. He and his wife, the former Loretta Clark, live at 10 Cranston road, and Mr. Redding has been active since 1929 as head of the Board of Election and Finance Committee.

The alumni council represents the college's 28,000 alumni in certain advisory and operating responsibilities at Dartmouth. It sponsors the annual alumni fund drive.

Mr. Redding will serve a two-year term on the council. The alumni council represents the college's 28,000 alumni in certain advisory and operating responsibilities at Dartmouth. It sponsors the annual alumni fund drive.

REPRESENTING WINCHESTER

ATTENDING CONFERENCE AT ISLES OF SHOALS

Mrs. Ernest O. Dieterich of 150 Highland avenue, Mrs. Herbert L. Darling of 150 High street, Mrs. Clifford W. Birch of 48 Churchill road, Arlington, and Mrs. George E. Kimball of 20 Everett avenue will represent the Women's Alliance of the Winchester Unitarian Church at the National Leadership Training Conference sponsored by the General Alliance of Unitarian and other Liberal Christian Women, which will be held at Star Island, Portsmouth, New Hampshire, August 18 to 26, 1957.

William W. Davies, III, of 11 Sanborn street, a member of the Winchester Branch, is president of the General Alliance of Unitarian Women.

The conference program and speakers are designed to give delegates new opportunities in the field of human relations and to present new ways of working together on the common concerns of church women. Dr. Kenneth D. Benne, Director of the Department of Human Relations at Boston University, is the group work specialist for the training aspect of the program. Reverend William P. Jenkins of Toronto, Canada, President of the Unitarian Ministers' Association, will serve the conference delegates as their minister of the week.

Since 1949 the National Leadership Training Conference has been held in different regions of the country: in Estes Park, Colorado; Blue Ridge, North Carolina; Asilomar, California; Hillsdale, Michigan; Silver Bay, New York; Portland, Oregon; and last summer in Albuquerque, New Mexico. This year the Northeast Region will host the conference at Star Island, one in the chain of islands known as the Isles of Shoals, ten miles out to sea off the New Hampshire mainland.

The General Alliance is the national organization of the women of the Unitarian denomination. The National Leadership Training Conference has registered two hundred Unitarian women from all over the country.

BUILDING PERMITS GRANTED

The Building Commissioner has granted permits as follows for the week ending Thursday, August 8: New dwellings at 40 Squire road, and 11 Ledgewood road.

HAROLD L. DALBECK
HEADS GAS DIVISION

President Irvin L. Moore announces the following organization changes in New England Electric System companies.

Harold L. Dalbeck of Belmont becomes head of the system's gas division and will be the chief executive officer of the system's seven gas companies in Massachusetts.

He succeeds Edward G. Twohey of Topsfield who became vice president of New England Electric's Rhode Island subsidiary, The Narragansett Electric Company in Providence.

Dalbeck, who has been assistant treasurer of New England Electric's subsidiaries operating in the areas northeast of Boston, will be succeeded by Norman B. Macaulay, auditor of North Shore Gas and Essex County Electric Company.

Dalbeck is a native of Worcester, Mass. He was educated in the public schools of that city and was graduated from Northeastern University.

He served in the Army Air Force during World War I, and spent 18 months in France.

Dalbeck's first position in the utility business was as an accountant with Worcester Gas Light Company in 1922.

He was transferred to Cambridge in 1927. After joining New England Electric System he became treasurer of New England Power Service Company, which position he held until he was named assistant treasurer for New England Electric companies in northeastern Massachusetts. His headquarters are in Malden.

WINDOW BROKEN ON PARKED CAR

Martin F. Flaherty of 20 Loring avenue reported to police Monday that someone cracked the left front window of his 1955 Ford sedan Sunday night while it was parked in the Winchester Theater parking lot.

Mr. Flaherty reported that he parked his car in the theater lot Sunday night between 7 and 11 p. m. while he attended the show. It is presumed that someone broke the window while trying to force the window open.

PIPE STOLEN FROM NEW HOUSE

Neal Wharf of 103 High street called the police station Tuesday to report that 40 feet of 1½ inch copper pipe was stolen from a house under construction at 16 Sawmill road.

Mr. Wharf was doing plumbing on the new house. He believes the pipe was stolen sometime Monday night.

POLICE RECOVER STOLEN AUTOMOBILE

Police Officers Goodrow and Martell recovered a 1948 Chevrolet sedan on Sunday. The car was parked on Harvard street near Washington street.

The car belonged to Harold White of Woburn. Mr. White reported the car stolen several days before its recovery; it was stolen from Tewksbury. Police were unable to find the thief.

FORMER WINCHESTER GIRL VISITS EUROPE

Erika Sterling, daughter of Edward Sterling, a member of the Star pressroom staff, has been visiting Europe with her mother and sister since June 8. The Sterlings, formerly of Nathaniel road and now residents of West Medford, will return home on August 25.

Miss Sterling writes the following:

"On our way to Austria, we stopped in Munich for a few days. While we were there we saw the 'Peace Angel' which was very beautiful. We also walked through the English Park and saw two Girl Scouts who could have been from Winchester. We seem to have been following the Girl Scouts for awhile because we also went through Innsbruck and had coffee and cake in a restaurant there."

"We also stopped at a friend's house and climbed two mountains. Then in the car we went 2,573 meters up the highest mountain and found ourselves in the clouds. We also went up Schmittehohe (1,900 meters), Tavern Pass (1,738 meters) and Katch Berg (1,641 meters). All along the sides of the mountains were lovely wild flowers, Edelweiss and Alpenrausch. We stopped to drink water from the mountain streams and we were up so high that our ears were blocked up."

"We went swimming in Worthensee lake which was very beautiful too. It was quite a big lake and there were mountains all around it. The water was very warm and everyone had their own cabin with their own key. There was some nice grass to lie in and a raft too. Our hotel was very nice too and we had a nice big room. Outside in the grass we could play ping-pong and there were a lot of animals, including hens with chicks, a mother cat with two kittens."

"One day while we were there we went to Maria Worth and saw a small old village church with a cemetery. When the cemetery got too full, they used to dig up the graves and put the bones in the bone house."

"On the way to where we were going to stay, we stopped to see Linhof castle which was very beautiful. The castle was very big and the grounds with fountains were beautiful. There was a room in the castle which was all full of mirrors, over the doors. The castle was owned by King Ludwig, II."

PFC. R. C. MICCICHE GRADUATES

Former March of Dimes Marine Pfc. Ronnie J. Micciche, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Micciche of Pine street, was graduated last Tuesday from the Marine Air Detachment, Naval Air Technical Training Command in Memphis, Tenn., as an aviation electronics technician.

Pfc. Micciche will arrive home on next Friday for a 20 day leave with his family and friends. His brother, who since their last reunion has joined the armed forces, will fly from New York to join him over the week-end.

After his leave is over, Pfc. Micciche will report to his new base in Jacksonville, Fla.

REUNIONISTS AIDED SCHOLARSHIP FUND

Mrs. Betty Ann (Wright) Pritchard, treasurer of the Reunion Committee of Winchester High School Class of 1942, has announced that the profit of $58.38 made after expenses, was given by vote of the committee to the Winchester Scholarship Foundation. In making this decision the committee felt their classmates would agree no better use of the money could be made.

The reunion itself was a gala event, held at the Hampshire House with 85 members of the class present. Another reunion is planned for 1967.

SWEPT RAVEN CLASS AT MARBLEHEAD

In addition to the sweep made by Winchester Boat Club skippers in the Shippe Class competition at the recent Marblehead Race Week, a Winchester sailor figured in another sweep made in the Raven Class. Ravens are 24 ft. boats. Dick Freeman of Franklin road is the Winchester sailor, and both he and Dean Lewis of Westwood alternated as skipper of the winning raven, the boat being owned by Yvonne Fishburn of Marblehead. Freeman and Lewis crewed for each other when not skippering the craft.

The pair has had sensational luck with the Fishburn boat this season, having sailed her 15 races and winning fourteen. The only race lost was during race week, when they won six out of seven, losing when they were disabled the day of the gale.

In the course of their Marblehead competition Freeman and Lewis annexed the Eastern Corinthian and Boston Yacht Club Trophies, and also the Hunneman Trophy, a special piece of hardware awarded the boat of all classes making the best average speed around a triangular course.

Freeman and Lewis coaxed 6.6 knots out of the Fishburn boat in the Hunneman competition, and on the day they made this speed record they beat all the big boats on the outside course, the U.S. Ones, the Internationals Ones and the 210s. The Hunneman Trophy is not awarded annually like the other trophies, but is the property of the holder until some other skipper does better.

Devotees of Raven Class sailing are trying to build up interest in this class, and any who may be interested in knowing more about Ravens, their possibilities and peculiarities are invited to contact Dick Freeman at his home. Meanwhile the Winchester boys did pretty well down Marblehead way, didn't they?

NOKOMIS CHATTER

Camp Nokomis, owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. McDonald, has begun the second month of a very successful camp season on Bear Island, Lake Winnepesaukee, New Hampshire. Mrs. McDonald was formerly executive director of Winchester Girl Scouts.

New equipment, such as our Sail-fish and war canoe, and many trips keep us quite busy. During the first month we went to Lost River, took several canoe trips, and climbed Red Hill. This month we are continuing our three day Canadian trips for senior girls, climbing Mt. Moosilauke preparatory to a two day trip on Mt. Washington, and planning a five day trip to Quebec city for those seniors outstanding in campcraft. Of course, in addition, our regular program of activities, swimming, and water skiing continues.

Full season campers from Winchester at Nokomis are as follows:

Shirley Bingham, Sue Ellen Chase, Sally Clark, Paula Collins, Alice Dunn, Carol Kingston, Sue Koch, Janet Rich, Cindy Stewart, and Gail Towner.

Susan Tully, and Susan Williams. We also have Kitten Eldred of Talladega, Alabama, and Carol Schultz of Rhode Island, both formerly from Winchester.

The staff includes Lois Anderson of Winchester as water skiing instructor, and Cynthia Peterson, formerly of Winchester, as archery counselor. Mrs. Deborah French Parker, formerly of Winchester is program director. David Rich and David Harold are on the kitchen crew.

Plastic picnic sets, spoons, forks, knives, and ice teaspoons, are available at the Winchester Star, Star Building.

Winchester at one time was known as Waterfield, and for many years was known for its beautiful lakes, ponds and rivers, and for its fine stand of trees about town.

A good deal of the water has been filled and the trees are dwindling, both through necessary cutting for community projects and through disease.

Winchester over the past two years has lost 100 trees a year through the ravages of the elm tree beetle, and Tree Warden Jim Wakefield sees no reason to believe there will be any great loss-shrinkage this year.

This is a sobering thought, though the outlook is somewhat brightened by the statement that only from 5 to 8 percent of the lost trees are town-owned. Spring spraying with DDT is commencing to get results with the town-owned trees.

Mr. Wakefield suggests that all tree owners keep the dead wood out of their trees and keep them as healthy as possible, by spraying with arsenate of lead for other pests, if the DDT cannot be used because of possible damage to shrubs and grounds.

Above all, notify the Tree Warden, Winchester 6-1219, if you see a tree that looks bad. Let him investigate and see if the beetles have gone to work on it. A call to the Tree Warden may save a valuable tree, and at the rate we are losing our trees, such saving is highly desirable. There is no substitute for beautiful trees in a community.

GOOD NEWS FROM DENVER

Editor of the Star:

The July Newsletter from the American Humane Association states that the association's "seal of approval" for humane beef slaughter program was awarded to Swift & Co., at a special ceremony in Chicago June 28, 1957. Swift & Co., in cooperation with other packer members of the American Meat Institute committee on improved methods of slaughter, has been field testing the new Remington Arms Co., Inc.

ton humane animal stunner for the past year. Preliminary tests have been found practical and the improved method can be put into use in Swift plants throughout the nation.

The humane stunner was suggested by John C. Macfarlane, director of the Livestock Conservation Department of the Massachusetts S.P.C.A. and perfected by the Remington Arms Co., Inc.

One who has never heard a particular description of the killing of our food animals can not remotely imagine the suffering and horror involved. There is so much done to eliminate the pain of people, why not some effort for those who feed the nation? Our food animals should not suffer as they have been doing through all the years.

At least six other large packers are now using approved humane slaughter methods in the major part of their killing operations. The A.H. Asso. lists these meat packers who have received the seal of approval: Beef, Seitz Packing Co., Inc. St. Joseph, Missouri; Lamb, Hoeter & Son, Louisville, Kentucky; All Meat, Paulus Market, Cedarburg, Wis.; Beef, Swift & Co., nation wide.

Let everyone who eats meat urge passage of H.R. 8308, bill in the House of Representatives at once. This bill is in committee and the best so far to reach the House. It was introduced by Representative W. R. Poage of Texas.

He certainly should be well informed about cattle and know that bruised and damaged meat is a money loss all along the line.

Americans eat more meat than any other people! How can we let it be cruelly prepared.

Write to those in Washington at once.

WHY DID HE EVER LEAVE?

Editor of the Star:

Some few weeks ago, after being away 50 years, I once again was in the town I have always known and called "Winchester Beautiful." In all my roamings, never have I seen better, and very few as good, and never have I known of a better conducted town than Winchester was, and, as I can see, is now!

With age it sure has improved and I can see that you folks know what you want, and Go Get It!

I then met your new chief of police, Mr. "Felix" too! So was ex, or rather former chief, the late chief McIntosh. He had a dandy orchard of apples, Baldwin's, on Washington street. I stole them, and he caught me! I'll tell you all about it. I told your chief, and more, too.

At the age of 15, in 1900, I went to the J. A. Laraway & Co. plumbing shop located where your post-office is now, staying seven years and living at the boarding house of Mrs. Hannon around 300 Main street.

At least one job I worked on is still there for I note the then new high school on the hill. A Cassidy was inspector at the time and he was strict, but rightly so.

The United Shoe Machinery Co., on Swanton street was there then, and I can recall that way up on Main street they made wooden collar buttons.

Sir, I must conclude. I could go on for hours on your beautiful town! Why the heck did I ever leave?

When I do call I hope to meet an old timer. Regards and best wishes to all Winchester folks, Andrew D. Gallipeau (Known as Andy the plumber boy).

"THE POSSIBLE YOU"

SUBJECT AT METHODIST CHURCH

At the Protestant Union Service this coming Sunday at 10 a. m. at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, Rev. John Snook, Jr., will speak on the subject, "The Possible You." The message concerns potentialities within all of us for the better, that we often never use. Developing these potentialities is the challenge to be set forth in the sermon.

In securing resource material from biblical and secular history, Rev. Snook came across the dramatic story of the life of George Washington Carver (see book entitled "George Washington Carver" by Ruckelsholt at the Winchester Library).

His parents were slaves. His mother belonged to a man by the name of Moses Carver. When the young lad was six weeks young, both he and his mother were kidnapped. Moses Carver set up a rescue party, and finally succeeded in ransoming the child for a horse valued at $200.00.

The child stayed in the Carver home for some years when he moved to Kansas and worked his way through high school. Then he supported himself through Iowa State college where he received his Bachelor of Science degree. Later he went to Tuskegee Institute as Director in Agricultural Research.

He took an interest in developing potentialities in the peanut. Being a religious man, he set forth this question, "God, what is a peanut and why did you make it?" He went to work experimenting until he developed nearly 300 different by-products, including milk, butter, cheese, coffee, pickles, breakfast food, flour and, surprising to me, soap, shaving lotion and cosmetics. Through these realized potentialities, the south increased its income as much as 60 million dollars in a single year.

Greater than these experiments is the man in back of them. Who would have looked at that little slave child and ever dared prophesy his future. Who would have guessed that he would be privileged to stand before the Ways and Means Committee in Washington and leave them spell-bound for nearly two hours, as he told his dramatic story. (He was allotted only ten minutes but they persuaded him to continue his story.)

It is wonderful what God can do to things, and to people—the change that comes when men commit their lives to Him. Browning refers to these realized potentialities as "Imprisoned splendors."

This whole idea of developing our possibilities, particularly in the things of the spirit will be stressed. You are welcome to attend.

Treasurer Joe Moffett of the Little League sent Ted Williams a check for $24.50 yesterday for the Jimmy Fund. The money was collected by the Little Leaguers at the final game of the Dodgers-Reds Inter-League championship game at Ginn Field Wednesday evening.

BROUGHT THE FAMILY

(A Coon Story)

For more than a year now the Clifton Kohls of 69 Grove place have been receiving regular visits from an adult raccoon bent upon raiding the family's sunken outdoor garbage can. The animal apparently came from trees or some air of sorts on MDC land adjacent to the Kohls' house which is the last one on Grove place.

As the raccoon continued to visit the Kohls he (it turned out to be a she) became quite used to them, and would come at Mrs. Kohl's call like a cat or dog, not all the way, but near enough to get the hand-outs offered.

The Kohls came to look for the raccoon's calls and anticipate its wishes, foodwise, so it was with some surprise that they heard the clank of the garbage receptacle Tuesday night.

Going out, they found their raccoon, but not alone. With her (gender not established beyond reasonable doubt) were five baby raccoons, all inquisitive, apparently not at all alarmed, and all very disappointed to learn that the town trucks had removed the Kohl garbage that forenoon.

Standing in the yard, mamma raccoon and her brood looked so reproachfully at the Kohls, that some corned beef intended for the family dinner next day was thrown out to them, much to their delight. All hands were hard at it, and very nearly finished with their feast when some neighbors coming from a late fishing expedition passed nearby. Immediately mamma coon sounded retreat and she and her family disappeared pronto into the gloom of the nearby trees.

The Star has the Kohls' word for it that those five little baby coons were "cunning as a wagon."

At Loring Field on Monday the Arts and Crafts played a big part in keeping Kathy Pratt, Elaine Pratt, Jimmy Barrow, John Quon,
Paul Benenato, Ed Luongo, Don Luongo and Charlie Lizotte busily engaged. Gary Nelson had a good game of stickball going on with outstanding play shown by Bill
Smith, Joe Butare, Phil Doherty,
Peter Branch, Dan Serieka, John
McDonough and Jim Flaherty. On Tuesday stickball seemed to be enjoyed by the older group while Sandy Lawson had the younger tots enjoying dodge ball and soccer.
In bracelet-making, Paul Benenato,
Martha and Ed Luongo, Charlie
Lizotte, Bill Duran, Bill Thompson,
Larry and Ritchie Donaghey, Alice Quigley and Leslie DiZio showed some excellent examples of bracelets.

Leonard Field youngsters were encouraged to participate in the program and on Monday enjoyed such games as snail, blind man's buff, giant steps, stickball, tennis and others. Those showing well in these activities were Joyce and Barbara Gilberti, Charlene Balda-ci, Ann Morrocco, Marsha Mc-Lachy, Buddy Falzano, Bob Gilberti, Tony Gilberti, Paul Mullay, Jackie Bromer, George Norvick,
Dave Lundin, Kathy Woodward,
Dave Rowe, John Cussens, Linda

Iannacci, Eddie Cutting, Ed and Joe Grant. Some of the items made at Leonard Field in the Arts and Crafts were: key cases, change purses, wallets, lanyards, bracelets, pot holders and plaster of paris molds. The Arts and Crafts instructor, Bette Ann Haggerty, is preparing a display of the items made by the youngsters which will be in Hevey's window next week so look for it and see some of the wonderful things the tots have made.

Schedule for next week's Arts and Crafts program is as follows:
Monday—West Side
Tuesday—Leonard
Wednesday—Loring
Thursday—Ginn
Friday—West Side

Plans are being made for a visit to Wingaersheek Beach in Gloucester and all youngsters intending to go are to have a written note from the parents granting them permission to make the trip. Further notes on this next week.

TOWN SOFTBALL LEAGUE

In last week's column, it was mentioned that the standing of the first four teams in the Town Softball League would probably change, pending the results of the final week of play—and changes there were. The Sons of Italy wound up on top with the V.F.W. second, and the defending champions, Holy Name Society, winding up in third place. Fourth place had to be decided in the final game between the Calidyne and Jokers and Calidyne defeated the Jokers to have sole possession of the playoff position.

This week, as previously announced, the semi-finals for the Town's championship got under way and the first games saw the Holy Name defeating the V.F.W. at West Side Field by a 13-9 score. At Leonard Field, the Sons of Italy squeaked by Calidyne by a close 5-4 score.

In the game at Leonard, the Sons of Italy were first to score with one run in the second, one in the fourth and two and one runs, respectively, in the last two frames. Calidyne batted first and went down in order. The S.O.I. did likewise in its half of the inning. Sid Bromander opened with a single in the second but did not advance when McKennon walked and Joe Bromander hit into a double play. For the S.O.I. Skitch Fiori started with a single and reached second on an error by the catcher. Pete Provinzano fled out and Skitch went to third after the catch and finally scored the first run of the game on Gangi's fly to center. Calidyne went down in order in the next two innings. In the fourth Skitch Fiori walked as the lead-off batter, was sacrificed to second by Pete Provinzano's bunt and crossed the plate on Gangi's double.

In the fifth inning Joe Bromander walked and later scored on Dick Callahan's hit to make the score 2-1 in favor of the S.O.I.

Calidyne's lone hit in the sixth was a double by McKennon which did no damage. In the bottom half of the sixth the S.O.I. went ahead 4-1 by scoring two runs in this stanza. "Mulligan" Fiori and Sam Bellino fled out to start the inning. Skitch Fiori walked, Pete Provinzano singled, and Gangi doubled to score both Fiori and Provinzano.

Going into the last inning the Calidyne Co. trailed 4-1 but at the end of their half of the inning the score was tied 4-4. In this frame Joe Bromander walked as did Lombardi and Callahan. Foss and Kerrigan then fled out with runners holding their bases. Then with bases loaded and two outs Brady hit a line drive heading through the second base hole. Second baseman, Pete Provinzano, took a few steps toward the bag and made a last minute dive to nab the ball and sliding on his stomach he held the gloved hand and ball up in the air to end the game or it could have put Calidyne ahead and won the game.

At West Side Field the Holy Name defeated the V.F.W. 12-9. Holy Name had first bats and Jackie Fields led off with a single, stole second, went to third on a strike out and made a daring move to steal home as the catcher tossed the ball back to the pitcher. It worked and the defending champs, got their first run. The V.F.W. came back in the bottom half of the inning to score three runs when Reardon hit safely, Tom Cogan singled and "Angie" Amico bounced one off the left field fence for a ground rule double and two runs. Amico then tallied on Paul MacDonald's single. In the second inning, Holy Name's first two batters fled out. Joe Dilorio then singled to second on an error and Merenda walked and scored the bases. Jackie Fields then came through with his second successive hit which was a grand slam homer to deep left.

In the third frame "Joekio" Serieka connected for a double for Holy Name and scored on Ken Donaghey's double and Holy Name led 5-3 at the end of two innings. The Vets crossed for six runs in the third. "Non" Cogan opened with a single and went to third on Reardon's single. Tom Cogan then hit safely to score "Non" and Reardon. Amico walked and Paul MacDonald singled to tally Tom Cogan. Sonny Swymmer then reached on a fielder's choice and Flaherty and Ericco connected for successive singles to score Amico and MacDonald. Swymmer scored the last run of the inning on a fielder's choice and the score read 9-6 in favor of the Vets.

Both teams did no damage in the fourth but the fifth one was a big one for Holy Name when they crossed pay dirt with three runs to tie the score at 9-9. Lou Farrell started it with a single, Serieka sacrificed, Donaghey singled to score Lou, Johnny Farrell singled and with Donaghey and Johnny on base Don Kenton doubled to score them. The Vets were held to one hit and no runs in the last three innings while Holy Name connected for two hits by Donaghey and Fields for one run in the sixth and in the last frame Johnny Farrell, Joe Dilorio and Tony Lucci got a single apiece with Johnny and Joe scoring the eleventh and twelfth runs for the defending champions, Holy Name.

Next week the finals between the winners of the semi-finals are to take place at Ginn Field starting on Monday evening at 6:15. In case of inclement weather the games will be played the following evening and games if possible will be played every evening until a champion is crowned. Hope to see you at Ginn Field for some exciting softball playing.

HUB CAPS STOLEN FROM NURSES HOME PARKING LOT

Miss Annaian, X-ray technician at the Winchester Hospital reported to police that between 8 a. m. last Tuesday and 2 p. m. Wednesday two hub caps were stolen from her 1949 Plymouth convertible. The automobile was parked in the lot at the Nurses Home.

Previous to her call, police were informed by a resident in that area that about midnight, July 30, he saw an old car, possibly a 1940 model, painted either green or yellow and with a straight back and with no rear license plate visible drive into the lot, back out and go up Fairmount street. Later, he heard someone running and saw the same car starting up from the top of the street and going down the hill.

RED CROSS PLAYS HOST

The Winchester Red Cross recently gave a very successful, happy day to over one hundred patients of the Bedford VA Hospital. Under the direction of Mrs. Kingman P. Cass, Chairman of the Red Cross Canteen Service, the following ladies generously gave a day of their time and their enthusiastic efforts to serve a delicious picnic. They are: Mrs. George W. French, Mrs. William E. Ramsdell, Miss Dorothy Hall, Mrs. Richard Bateman, Mrs. Ernest Knoettner, Mrs. Clifford Birch, and Mrs. E. A. Herbert.

Mrs. Roger Griffin, of the Motor Corps, played a double role by not only transporting the ladies and supplies to Bedford in the Red Cross station wagon, but also helping with the cooking and serving. There were games for the patients and prizes of candy, etc., provided by the Winchester Chapter. It was a beautiful day and everyone had a marvellous time. A nice letter of sincere thanks to our volunteer workers, and to the Chapter, has been received from the recreational director of the hospital. In it he explains how much an event of this kind means to the patients who have so few enjoyable days in their lives. A worthwhile job, extremely well done, by kindly, considerate people.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Winn of Stone avenue returned Saturday from a three week trip through New Brunswick, N. S., and Cape Breton Island, including a week's stay at the Dublin House, Dublin Shore, N. S. While in Antigonish, N. S., they attended the annual Scottish Festival and Highland Games.

MRS. PETER A. REDDING

REDDING — NALCHAJIAN

White gladiolas combined with yellow snapdragons, delphinium and southern greens to decorate the Church of Our Lady of Grace in Chelsea on Saturday afternoon, August 3, for the marriage of Miss Joanne Nalchajian, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Willard D. Nalchajian of 5 Nichols street, Chelsea, to Peter Adams Redding, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Redding of 28 Ledyard road. The pastor of the church, Rev. James F. Grimes, read the 3 o'clock service.

Miss Nalchajian was given in marriage by her father and had her sister, Miss Priscilla Nalchajian of Chelsea as her honor maid. Another sister, Miss Nancy Nalchajian of Chelsea was one of the three bridesmaids, the others being Mrs. Scott Wakefield of Brockton and Miss Barbara McAloon of Newton. The bride wore a chiffon gown, fashioned with a boat neckline and having inserts of Chantilly lace.

Her fingertip veil of illusion was caught to a princess crown of seed pearls and Chantilly lace and she carried an old fashioned bouquet of white roses, stephanotis, orchids and ivy leaves.

All the bridal attendants wore dresses of white organdy over pink with fitted bodices, full skirts and embroidered panels of pale pink rosebuds and ivy leaves. Their pink picture hats were trimmed with matching ivy leaves and they carried old fashioned bouquets of bella donna delphinium and pink and blue marguerites.

Richard P. Moriarty of Melrose was Mr. Redding's best man, and ushering were William Forester of Worcester, Robert Fenn of Beverly, William Nalchajian of Chelsea, brother of the bride, Richard Stephens of Waban, James LaCrosse of Berlin, Conn., and Richard Seal of Marblehead.

A reception was held after the marriage at the Tedesco Country Club in Marblehead with the parents of the bride and bridegroom and the bridal attendants assisting in receiving.

Mrs. Nalchajian, mother of the bride, wore a cornflower blue silk chiffon cocktail length sheath with a pale pink hat and matching pocketbook. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Redding, wore a champagne lace sheath trimmed with beige chiffon.

After a honeymoon at the Coral Beach Surf Club in Bermuda, Mr. and Mrs. Redding will live in Watertown, Conn.

The bride is a graduate of Walnut Hill School, of Colby Junior College and of Wheaton College in Norton. Mr. Redding, who is in the steel business, prepared at Hebron Academy and graduated from Wesleyan University where he was a member of Alpha Chi Rho fraternity. His armed forces service was with the Army.

HOLMES — PARSONS

An out-of-town wedding of Winchester interest took place at the Amherst Community Church in Buffalo, N. Y., on Saturday afternoon, July 27, when Miss Elizabeth Tracy Parsons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Parsons of Buffalo, became the bride of David Bullard Holmes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Holmes of 3 Lakeview road. The bride's uncle, Dr. Arthur E. Wilson of Providence, R. I., and Dr. Olin B. Tracy, officiated at the ceremony which took place at 4:30 o'clock in a setting of white flowers and candelabra.

The bride wore a gown of silk organza, fashioned with a bell skirt and empire bodice of Brussels lace, finished at the off-the-shoulder neckline with a roll of the organza. Her short veil of illusion was held in place with a tiara of organdy and seed pearls, and she carried white and daisies to match her gown and wore the same flowers in her hair.

Miss Mary Joy Archer of Denver attended the bride, wearing a floor-length dress of robin's-egg-blue organdy with a sash of deeper blue. She carried pink feathered carnations and daisies to match her gown and wore the same flowers in her hair.

Laurie E. Jules of Windsor, Conn., was Mr. Holmes' best man, and ushering were Peter P. Parsons of Royal Oak, Mich., brother of the bride; Charles E. Greene, Jr., of Woburn; J. Sam Wood, Jr., and E. W. Dann Stevens, both of Buffalo.

A reception was held after the marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Parsons, mother of the bride, wore a cocktail-length afternoon gown of powder blue chiffon with a small velvet hat and corsage of pink feathered carnations and pink roses. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Holmes, wore a blue silk print with matching hat and a corsage of white feathered carnations and stephanotis.

Mr. Holmes and his bride went to Canada for their wedding journey. The bride's traveling costume was a blue linen sheath with white accessories. After their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Holmes will live at 119 Washington street in Marblehead.

MOTOR BOAT SPEED LIMITED!

Winchester Boat Club reports that the MDC has recently posted signs at the Gut and at the passage to Bacon's Pond in Mystic Lakes limiting speed in these locations to 5 m.p.h. Winchester Boat Club motor boat rules prohibit cruising in the Boat Club Cove and require motor boats to proceed from the club dock to the main lake in as direct a line as possible and at a reasonable speed.

(Editor's note: A step in the right direction, surely. Now if they would only do something about the late sailing, and the noise—!)

MRS. EDWARD WINTHROP WILSON

WILSON — SYMMES

A recent wedding of simple beauty was that of Miss Lucille Ann Symmes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alden Howard Symmes of Melrose, formerly of Ridgefield road, Winchester, to Edward Winthrop Wilson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Winthrop Wilson of Nashua, N. H. The ceremony was performed at Ripley Chapel of the First Congregational Church by the Rev. Wesley Mallory, the Episcopal service being read.

Miss Symmes was given in marriage by her father and mother. She wore a double full skirted floor length gown of hand clipped Chantilly lace and tulle. Tiny seed pearls and iridescent outlined the scalloped shaped neckline of her lace bodiced and lace sleeved gown over silk taffeta, and lace rose appliques were scattered over the full paneled net skirt, which was also sprinkled with sequins and seed pearls. Her silk illusion, waist length veil fell from a coronet headpiece encrusted with seed pearls and glistening paillettes, and she carried a spray sheaf of creamy white roses, center lined with their own pale green, and combined with stephanotis and maiden hair fern.

Miss Marilyn Dyer of Winchester was bridesmaid and Miss Brenda Lee Symmes, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. Both bridesmaids were gowned alike in waltz length white chiffon, having crushed gathered bodices and sleeves, with pale lavender chiffon sashes and flowered applique insets at the waists. They carried hand sprays of soft pink carnations and babies' breath trimmed with pink satin bows.

Mrs. Symmes, mother of the bride, wore a gown of Bois de Rose Alencon lace and tulle with appliques of lace decorated with rainbow colored sequins. She wore gloves and a large velvet picture hat to match her gown with a pearl doublet ornament accenting the swirled Bois de Rose velvet. Her corsage was a large frilly orchid with an orchid-colored throat.

Mrs. Wilson, mother of the bridegroom, wore a soft silvery French blue Alencon lace sheath with floating back panels of pure silk organza. Her velvet hat of Dior blue was trimmed with a side bow and she wore a large white frilled golden throat orchid.

The bride's going away dress was an original Ann Fogarty of unusual pale yellow silk chiffon, full skirted and having a shirtwaisted bodice. Pink and yellow printed roses covered the soft yellow chiffon, and she wore a large natural leghorn picture hat trimmed with gold velvet. Her gloves matched the yellow print of the roses in her dress.

A receiving line was held before the fireplace in the Helen Palmer memorial parlor of the church, followed by a reception held at The Oak and Anchor, North Reading.

Mr. Wilson and his bride will travel throughout the United States and parts of Canada, as the bridegroom is a salesman representing the International Paper Company. They are at present in New York City where Mr. Wilson is in training for his company.

The bride is a graduate of Melrose High School and attended the University of New Hampshire before being graduated from Green Mountain Junior College where she was a member of Student Government and her class gold medal winner. Mr. Wilson graduated from Nashua High School and from the University of New Hampshire, spending 18 months with the army in Korea.

DON'T CROWD, GIRLS!

Search for a new beauty queen from New England was launched last week.

WINS COLOR CONTEST

Lee Dresser of 83 Cambridge street, a student at the Wyman School, was the winner of a Portable RCA-Victor radio phonograph in the recent Za-Rex Color-it Contest held by the Boston Herald.

Miss Eleanor Randall, senior instructor of the Museum of Fine Arts School in Boston was the contest judge.

MEDICAL MISSIONARIES ENLARGING BUILDING

CONSTRUCTION COMMENCES ON EXTENSION TO PRESENT BUILDING

Construction has started at the Convent of the Medical Missionaries of Mary on an extension to the present building. This will provide accommodation for the young Sisters who come from all parts of the United States to be trained as Medical Missionaries of Mary.

From this house the Sisters attend the different schools for their medical training as nurses, laboratory technicians, occupational therapists and in all branches of medicine.

Then they go to the Mission fields of Africa to bring medical aid and spiritual consolation to those people who have no other sources of medical help. Many of the Sisters are doctors and needless to remark the number of their patients run into the thousands each year.

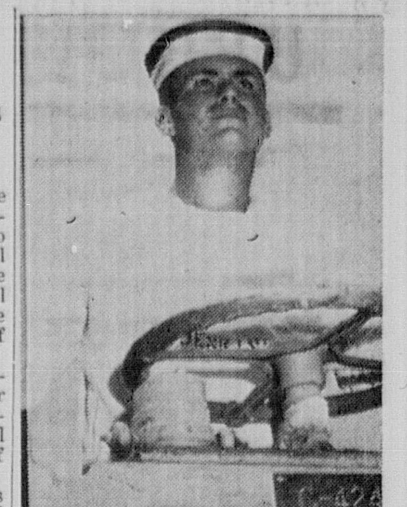

Contributions to help the big work just undertaken will be most gratefully received by Reverend Mother Superior, Medical Missionaries of Mary, One Arlington street.

BURNS IN GERMANY

Army Maj. Walter J. Burns, son of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Burns of 23 Canal street, recently arrived in Munich, Germany, and is now assigned to the U. S. Army Garrison.

Major Burns, a provost marshal, was last assigned at Fort Gordon, Ga. His wife, the former Ruth O'Melia, is with him in Germany.

A veteran of 16 years of Army service, the major has also served in the Far East. He holds the Purple Heart and the Distinguished Service Cross.

Standing a battle phone watch while on a summer training cruise aboard the heavy cruiser USS Des Moines, is Midn. 1/c Paul F. O'Brien, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. O'Brien of 5 Arthur street, and a student at Tufts College. One thousand and six Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps midshipmen from 52 colleges and universities were scheduled to complete a month long training cruise August 7.

They left Norfolk, Va., July 8, aboard the heavy cruiser USS Des Moines, four destroyers, four radar picket destroyers, and six escort vessels. A five-day visit was made to Quebec, Canada, and four days were spent in Boston, Mass.

While at sea, the midshipmen were trained in seamanship, gunnery, engineering and navigation.

WINCHESTER MAN ON HISTORY-MAKING FLIGHT

A prominent Winchester man, Dr. D. Reid Weedon, Jr., of 4 Overlook way, a vice president of Arthur D. Little, Inc., helped make aviation history last week when he flew to California on business.

He was a passenger aboard the inaugural flight of American Airlines' non-stop service between Boston and Los Angeles last Thursday, the first such service offered by any airline.

The flight, at 2600 miles the longest non-stop in the country, took only eight hours and 47 minutes. It marked the start of daily service between the two cities by American, and was sponsored by actress Celeste Holm who cut a ribbon before the plane left Logan International Airport.

The DC-7 Mercury Flagship "California" which flew the inaugural flight, cruised at 370 miles an hour at an altitude of about 20,000 feet. It is the fastest commercial airliner in the United States.

Following the inaugural flight, daily schedules were instituted, with a departure from Boston at 12 noon, arriving in Los Angeles at 5:55 p. m. (PDT). The return flight leaves Los Angeles at 8:30 p. m. (PDT) and arrives in Boston at 7:25 a. m., seven hours and 55 minutes later.

Dr. Weedon was made a member of the exclusive Order of Flying Firsters for having been on the first flight.

COL. VOORHIS PROMOTED

NAMED JUDGE ADVOCATE IN JAPAN

Colonel Nicholas R. Voorhis, a former resident of Winchester, whose mother, Mrs. Henry Voorhis, and brother, Henry live at 23 River Edge road, River Edge, New Jersey, has recently been named Judge Advocate, U. S. Army Japan, with Headquarters at Camp Zama, Japan.

A Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Dartmouth College, Hanover, New Hampshire, and Harvard Law School, Cambridge, Mass., Colonel Voorhis entered Army service in November, 1942.

During World War II, he was Staff Judge Advocate with the 36th Infantry Division in the United States, Europe and Philippine Islands from January, 1944 to March, 1946. Following duty with the Office of the Judge Advocate General, Washington, D. C., from 1946 to 1949, he was Director of Legal Affairs, Allied Military Government, Trieste, until mid-1953.

From 1954 to 1957 he was Chief of the Procurement Law Division, Office of the Judge Advocate General in Washington, D. C. He came to the Far East early in 1957.

Colonel Voorhis and his wife, the former Virginia Warren of Winchester, live at Sagami-hara, 35 miles southwest of Tokyo and near the famed Hakone mountain range.

Their son, Nicholas, 22, is a student at the University of Maryland, College Park, Maryland. A daughter, Martha, 18, is a student nurse at Sibley Memorial Hospital, Washington, D. C.; and another daughter, Virginia, also 18, attends the Berkeley School, East Orange, New Jersey.

AN APPEAL TO PARENTS

An appeal to parents to redouble their efforts to decrease the number of summer accidents that kill at least two children and permanently cripple eight others every day of the vacation months was made today by Leonard B. Campbell of Ware, president of the Bay State Society for the Crippled and Handicapped.

"This shocking record," he said, "can be reduced if parents will rally to teach safety to children and set an example by practicing it themselves."

"Those of us in the Easter Seal Society serving crippled children and adults know only too well the tragedies that result from accidents which are largely preventable."

ARMY GRADUATE

Army Pvt. John E. Wingate, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wingate of 25 Eaton street, recently was graduated from the automotive mechanic's helpers course at Fort Dix, N. J.

The eight-week course trained Wingate in the field and depot maintenance of wheeled vehicles and other military equipment.

A graduate of Winchester High School, the 22-year-old soldier entered the Army last March and completed basic training at Fort Dix.

PROPOSAL FOR CONSTRUCTION OF PARK DEPARTMENT SERVICE BUILDING IN THE TOWN OF WINCHESTER, MASSACHUSETTS
Sealed proposals are invited by the Board of Park Commissioners, Winchester, Massachusetts, for the Town of Winchester for the construction of a service building located on Horn Pond Brook Road, Winchester, Massachusetts, in accordance with plans and specifications prepared by NEGEA Service Corporation, 727 Massachusetts Avenue, Cambridge, Massachusetts.

Proposals, plainly marked on the envelope, shall be delivered to the Office of the Board of Park Commissioners, Town Hall, Winchester, Massachusetts, on or before 8:00 P. M. EDT, Monday, August 26, 1957, at which time and place the proposals will be publicly opened and read. A duplicate proposal also shall be delivered in person to the Town Clerk of Winchester, Massachusetts, before said date and time. Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check, made payable to the Town of Winchester, in the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00). In the event the bidder to whom the award is made does not, within five (5) days, Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays excluded, execute the contract in accordance with his proposal, including satisfying the bonding company, his certified check shall be forfeited to the Town of Winchester.

Proposals for sub-bids must be filed with the Town Engineer at his Office, Town Hall, Winchester, Massachusetts, on or before 12:00 noon EDT, Tuesday, August 20, 1957, at which time sub-bid proposals will be publicly opened and read. Each sub-bid proposal shall be accompanied by a certified check, made payable to the Town of Winchester, in the sum set forth below:

Structural Steel and Miscellaneous Steel and Iron $100.00
Roofing and Flashing $100.00
Water Proofing $100.00
Lathing and Plastering $100.00
Painting $100.00
Plumbing $100.00
Heating and Ventilating $200.00
Electrical Work $100.00

All proposals, both bid and sub-bid, shall be in accordance with Section 44, Chapter 149 of the General Laws as amended and on forms provided by the Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, available at the Office of the Town Engineer, Town Hall, Winchester, Massachusetts. Said forms shall be fully filled out without changes, signed by legal signature of the bidder and/or sub-bidder and delivered and filed as stated above.

The Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, reserves the right to reject any or all bids and/or sub-bids if the Town of Winchester determines said bidder and/or sub-bidder are incompetent to perform the work as specified, or for reasonable cause. The Town of Winchester further reserves the right to accept any bid deemed to be in the best interests of the Town.

Attention is called to the fact that no less than the minimum wage rates as set forth in the schedule contained in the specifications must be paid on this project.

Plans and specifications may be obtained from the Town Engineer on or after Monday, August 12, 1957. A deposit of $5.00 will be required for each set. Said amount will be refunded upon return of the plans and specifications in good condition to the Town Engineer not later than one (1) week after the date of submitting bids.

GAS SIPHONED FROM CONSTRUCTION EQUIPMENT

Vincent Tedesco, foreman of the Charles Construction Company, reported to police Thursday that someone had siphoned over 20 gallons of gas from a payloader Wednesday night.

A large piece of machinery was parked on Johnson road for the night, where it was engaged in a project by the construction firm. Police later had a report of further damage in that area. Mr. Mullen, a builder of homes, reported that a barrier was removed from the entrance of Hawthorne road. The barrier was put on the street for protection of residents and motorists, but it was down when he arrived at the project Thursday morning.

PETITION FOR LOCATION BOSTON EDISON COMPANY
General Office
Boston 12, Massachusetts
To: The Metropolitan District Commission
Your petition, Boston Edison Company, a corporation duly organized under the laws of the Commonwealth and lawfully engaged in the sale and distribution of electricity in the Town of Winchester and elsewhere, respectfully represents that public convenience and necessity require the location of private property in care and control of the Metropolitan District Commission in said Town; namely, on private property, approximately 20 feet, on and over private property, for the distribution of electricity.

Plan showing the proposed locations of guy, anchor and wires to be constructed to a distance of approximately 20 feet, on and over private property, for the distribution of electricity.
Plan showing the proposed locations of guy, anchor and wires to be constructed to a distance of approximately 20 feet, on and over private property, for the distribution of electricity.
On the 25th day of July, the Department of Public Utilities in case No. D.P.U. 12327 on the petition of your petitioner entered an order adjudging that the above described location was required by public convenience and necessity.
Wherefore your petitioner respectfully prays that your Commission may by order direct to your petitioner locations for guy, anchor and wires.

1ST LT. LEWIS G. CURTIS
COMMISSIONED IN AIR FORCE

First Lieutenant Lewis G. Curtis, USAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis G. Curtis of 154 Highland avenue, was commissioned as 1st Lt. in the regular Air Force on Monday, July 15.

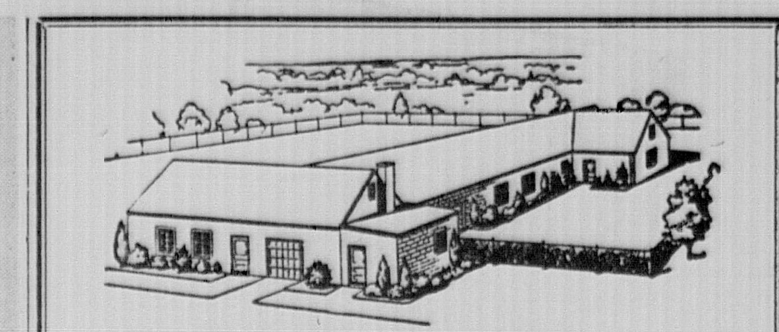

The oath of office was administered by the Adjutant of the 305th Armament and Electronics Maintenance Squadron, MacDill Air Force Base, Florida, where Lt. Curtis is the assistant flight line officer in charge of Communications, Navigation and Electric Counter Measures. He was one of the 2,050 Air Force Reserve Officers to receive Regular Air Force Commissions during the fiscal year 1957.

Lt. Curtis has been serving on active duty as a reserve officer since receiving his Bachelor of Science degree at Boston University in June, 1955. He recently returned to MacDill, his home base, where he resides with his wife and son, after completing a six weeks course in Electronic Counter Measures at Keesler Air Force Base, Biloxi, Mississippi. He is also a graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1951.

Miss Beverly Ryd, 197 Mystic Valley parkway, recent graduate of Simmons College, began her professional career August 5th as Law Librarian for the Connecticut General Life Insurance Company, Hartford, Conn.

Parking Meters Good Investment

Town Completes Payments Inside Two Years

Town Treasurer E. Abbot Bradley announced this week that final payments have been made on the parking meters. The town now owns all of the 149 double and 29 single meters outright.

The meters were installed on September 1, 1955, a total of 104 double, and 27 single meters being installed at that time. Thus, in almost two years the number of units has grown from 235 to 327. Costing $16,050.94, the meters have grossed to date $32,218.10. Besides paying for the meters, $5,500.00 has been spent for the surfacing of the Skills parking lot opposite the Town Hall. An additional $3,067.70 has been allocated, as already spent, for maintenance of the meters up to the end of this year.

A balance of $4,605.46 remains in the meter account and is subject to appropriations at town meetings, such as the appropriation which authorized the surfacing of the parking lot.

Although there are no plans for any additional meters at this time, the average meter collection is currently about $300 a week—and this is a comparably quiet time. Treasurer Bradley estimates that in the fall collections should be around $350 a week.

The maintenance on the meters amounts to about $35.00 a week which includes upkeep and repairs. Members of the police department take charge of the collections.

MRS. CAROLINE SULLIVAN

Mrs. Caroline Van Horn Sullivan of 44 Fletcher street, widow of William D. Sullivan, former managing editor of the Boston Globe, died Wednesday afternoon, August 14, after a long period of failing health.

Daughter of Cornelius and Susan (Green) Van Horn, Mrs. Sullivan was born February 13, 1862, in Portland, Me. She and Mr. Sullivan were married in Boston, March 23, 1903, and came to Winchester at the time of their marriage. Mrs. Sullivan spent virtually all her life in town at her Fletcher street address, staying on there after Mr. Sullivan's death January 30, 1946.

Mrs. Sullivan was her husband's second wife. She leaves a stepdaughter, Mrs. Russell Stiles of Scarsdale, N. Y.

Funeral services will be held this Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Bennett Chapel with the Rev. Ralph B. Putney, assistant pastor of the Church of the Epiphany officiating. Cremation will follow at Mt. Auburn, and the ultimate interment will be in the family lot in that cemetery.

BOY STRUCK BY BUS IN SQUARE

Last Tuesday at 6:15 p. m., Robert Scholl, age 6, at 51 Elm street, was struck by an Eastern Mass. Street Railway bus which was coming out of Laraway road into the traffic circle at the underpass.

The boy, who was walking with his sister, was struck by the right front wheel of the bus, knocking him backward to the sidewalk.

The bus driver, George L. Daley of Melrose, reported that he did not see the boy at the time and stopped the bus when he heard a passer-by scream.

The boy was removed to the Winchester Hospital by police ambulance assisted by Officers Buz-zotta and McHugh. Dr. Charles Rooney treated him for contusions on the back of the head and for bruises.

WILDLIFE CERTIFICATE TO WINCHESTER PHYSICIAN

Dr. Daniel C. Dennett of Washington street, veteran medical practitioner, now retired, was recently honored by being made a "Patron of Conservation" by the National Wildlife Federation in Washington.

A handsome certificate of membership, signed by the president, Claude D. Kelley, has been received by Dr. Dennett in recognition of his active "support of the Federation's program of restoring, protecting and conserving our natural and wildlife resources."

WINS RIFLE HONOR

Paul Goddu, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Goddu of Cliff street, has earned the "Distinguished Rifleman" award at Camp O-At-Ka, East Sebago, Me. This is a national honor award and Paul is the only O-At-Ka camper to win it.

The Winchester High School sophomore, in addition to being the top camp rifleman, has pitched regularly for the senior baseball team and taken a leading part in other camp activities.

The awards to outstanding campers will take place at O-At-Ka at a special candlelight ceremony next Wednesday.

FIRES

The Tuesday morning traffic tie-up on Main street was the result of a false alarm. However, firefighters responded to a telephone call reporting a fire in the Niles block.

At 12:10 on Tuesday, firefighters were notified by police that there was a fire in the bath house at Palmer Beach. Upon arriving at the scene, firefighters found a fire in the partition on the boys' side of the bath house. The fire department is investigating the cause of the fire.

WILLIAM A. SWETT

William A. Swett of 5 Wolcott terrace, vice president of Paul Burroughs Inc., Boston, will serve as area vice chairman in Winchester for the individual gifts division of this fall's United Fund Campaign.

Mr. Swett has been an active campaigner in community fund, Red Cross, Heart Fund and Salvation Army drives since 1936.

A graduate of Phillips Andover Academy and Wesleyan University, Mr. Swett is vice president of the Felsland Council of Boy Scouts in Winchester. He is a member of the executive board of Boston Board of Fire Underwriters, Inc.

Mr. Swett's clubs and fraternal associations include: Insurance Brokers Association of Massachusetts; Psi Upsilon Fraternity; American Legion Post No. 97; and the Winchester Country Club.

WELSH — BRENNAN

In a setting of red and white roses at St. Charles Church in Woburn, Miss Marjorie Claire Brennan, daughter of Mrs. Julia Brennan, was married to Mr. Francis Ben-ton Welch, son of Mrs. Catherine Welch of 28 Lebanon street.

The Rev. Maynard T. Malone performed the marriage ceremony at 3 o'clock on Sunday, August 4. Mary Mc-Mourty took charge of the music.

Given in marriage by Edward Brennan, the bride wore a gown of white Chantilly lace with a skirt of nylon ruffles. Her short white veil was caught by a pearl studded crown. Her bouquet was made up of white flowers and tiny red roses.

Mrs. Frances Strobel of Reading served as honor attendant for her sister. She wore a white floor length gown of tulle with a red velvet sash and hat. She carried a bouquet of spring flowers. John P. Welch served as his brother's best man.

Herbert H. O'Donnell, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and B. McAllister, cousin of the bride, served as ushers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Town Line in Woburn. Mrs. Brennan wore a dress of marine blue lace with pink accessories. She had a corsage of spring flowers. Mrs. Welch wore champagne net over satin with a hat to match. Her accessories were white and she had a corsage of spring flowers.

After a wedding trip to New Hampshire, Mr. and Mrs. Welch will live at 14 East street. Mr. Welch is a firefighter.

Mrs. Welch is a graduate of St. Charles parochial school and is a hairdresser at Fred's Beauty Salon. Mr. Welch is a graduate of the Winchester schools and served four years in the U. S. Navy. He is a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Elks.

MRS. KIRKWOOD INJURED

Mrs. Grace Hight Kirkwood of Swan road, wife of Dr. Samuel M. Kirkwood, State Commissioner of Public Health, was reported by radio yesterday morning as a patient in the Laconia, N. H. Hospital with injuries sustained in an automobile accident.

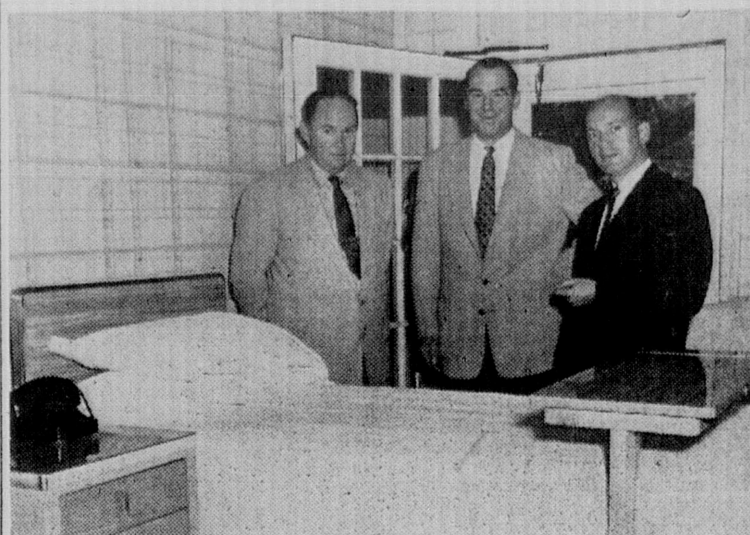

According to the report Mrs. Kirkwood was injured in a collision in which her car figured on Route 106 in Gilmanston, N. H., with another machine driven by Manchester, N. H. man. Internal injuries were feared, but had not been confirmed when the report was received.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hurley entertained a group of neighbors and friends from Winchester, Woburn, Medford and Ireland Wednesday evening in honor of Mr. Hurley's 64th birthday.

Gordon H. Horn, Jr., acted as master of ceremonies and featuring the entertainment program were Irish songs and dances by Mr. Hurley and a neighbor, Mr. Martin O'Donnell. Refreshments were served and a pleasant social hour enjoyed.

Mr. Hurley has been associated with the Schlitz Beer Company for many years and is looking forward to his retirement in 1958. He then plans a serious study of Irish folklore.

ROTARIANS INSPECT HIGH-LOW HOSPITAL BED

ROTARY EQUIPS HOSPITAL ROOMS

One of the problems with which hospitals have had to contend is the unusual height of the ordinary hospital bed. In many instances this height makes it difficult for certain patients to get out of bed, and as a consequence a new high-low hospital bed has been designed to enable the nurses to adjust the height for easy leaving or returning to the bed.

Harlan L. Paine, Jr., Winchester Hospital's administrator, was talking about these new high-low beds at a meeting of the Rotary last year and after listening to his story his fellow Rotarians decided that the purchase of two such beds would be a fit use for some of the money taken in at last year's annual Rotary Auction, the proceeds of which all are to go to good works in town.

The beds were accordingly purchased, but just a couple of hospital beds looked lonely in empty hospital rooms, so the Rotarians decided to go all the way and completely furnish two rooms in the new wing of the hospital with the high-low beds and all the extra-curricular paraphernalia. Needless to say Mr. Paine was made very happy by the club action.

Incidentally the cost of equipping the rooms was $1,100. The beds arrived several weeks ago and the other furnishings are now in place, making the rooms ready for occupancy.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Word has been received that Mrs. Minnie Goodale has been re-elected to the Mary Hitchcock Memorial Hospital in Hanover, New Hampshire. She is expected to be kept there for three weeks.

Mr. Dana Pond, internationally known artist, is presently spending some time at his Winchester home on Cambridge street. Mr. Pond recently made his 102nd crossing of the Atlantic while on a trip to Europe.

Dorothy Miller of Harper Method Beauty Salon at 24 Church street, has returned from a vacation at Wolfboro and Tuckersboro, N. H., following her attendance at the First Annual Cosmetology Institute at the University of Massachusetts.

Friends of Mr. Albert M. Hoyle of 3 Cliff street, will be pleased to learn that he is convalescing at the Lakeside Nursing Home in Wakefield after a long illness at the Winchester Hospital.

A "Ben" Hills, popular manager of Horace Ford's restaurant, is reported as ill at his home on Highland avenue.

William W. Davies, III, of 11 Sanborn street and Mrs. George Kimball of 20 Everett avenue, members of the leadership team, are leaving Thursday for a three day training session at Osgood Hill, Boston University's Conference Center in North Andover.

The conference leaders, including the minister of the week and a human relations specialist, will be there.

Gunnar Abrahamson of Elm street, the well known custodian, is enjoying a well earned vacation. Plans are uncertain about his vacation plans when last seen, but expected to get in some deep sea fishing before getting back on the job.

Jack Collins of Hevey's Pharmacy is back from spending a vacation with his family and his mother at Dennisport, Cape Cod, Mass.

Mrs. John J. Sullivan of 18 Glenwood avenue and family are vacationing in Dennisport, on Cape Cod, with her mother, Mrs. John H. Collins, Sr.

Miss Margarette Troop of the Tax Collector's office is on vacation this week at Kingston, N. H. She will return to her duties on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Parker Clarke are enjoying a vacation at Cape Porpoise, Me., where as usual they are guests at the Langford House.

Mrs. Mary Delaney of 80 School street, North Woburn, formerly for many years a widely known resident of Winchester, is observing her 91st birthday on Sunday, August 18.

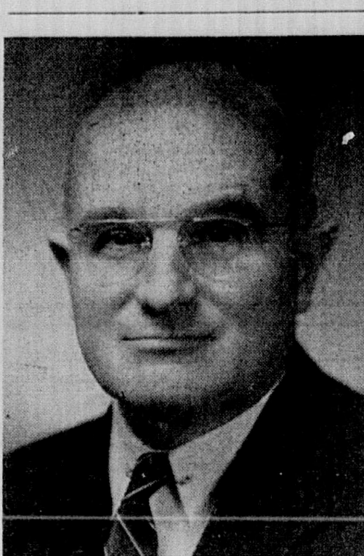

Mrs. Newell Page of Maxwell Ridgefield road had luncheon Tuesday in Newburyport with a former well known Winchester resident, Mrs. Ralph Hale, formerly of Lloyd street, who now makes her home in that city.

ERSKINE N. WHITE

NAMED JOHN HANCOCK DIRECTOR

The election of Erskine N. White, president of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, to the board of directors of the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company was announced today by Paul F. Clark, chairman.

Mr. White's service in the Bell System began with the American Telephone and Telegraph Company in 1923, and he joined the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company in 1929.

In 1941 he went to Washington as Assistant Director in the Office of Production Management. Following his government service, he served in various executive capacities with the Company, being elected president in March 1956.

Mr. White is a director of the First National Bank of Boston, H. P. Hood and Sons and the Sanborn Company, and is a corporate officer of the Warren Institution for Savings.

He is chairman of the Board of Trustees of Huntington School and a trustee of Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, the Winchester Scholarship Fund, the Winchester Visiting Nurse Association and the Suffolk Savings Bank for Seamen and Others.

He is a resident of the Rangleway section of Winchester and has always taken an active interest in community activities.

WORK ON SEWAGE PROGRESSES

Sewer Department crews have been pushing the work of laying pipes to and from the pump in Johnson road west which will pump into the town sewer mains the sewage that has been flowing from houses of the district into an open brook running through the west side hill district into Woburn.

The pump and its housing have been installed, but the pump has not yet been connected with the pipes, one of which comes from Ridge street and one from Johnson road. A manhole had to be constructed in Johnson road for the union of these pipes.

When the system is completed the sewage from the houses will flow through a pipe into the pump, and be pumped into a force feed pipe. Through this pipe the sewage will be forced along Johnson road into the town's trunk line sewer in Wildwood street.

Superintendent Halwartz was unwilling to give an exact time for the completion of the job, but believed without something unforeseen it will be completed in the very near future. The time thus far consumed has largely resulted from the difficulty encountered in laying the pipes through the old sand and gravel filter bed.

The flow of open sewage in the west side hill district has been going on for some time, despite complaints from residents of the area. With the construction of houses in the development by the DeVries Contracting Company, conditions became so bad that the Town Board of Health notified the Planning Board that further permits to build in the district might have to be denied unless they were immediately corrected.

No Easing of Restrictions

Water Superintendent Jim Halwartz told the Star Wednesday that the water shortage is still sufficiently acute here to make it impossible to ease the last restrictions imposed by the Water Commissioners.

All residents are urged to conserve water in every way possible. The use of water outside the house is strictly limited to the watering of shrubs and gardens from 7 to 9 p. m. on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. Householders in dwellings with even numbers are permitted to water shrubs and gardens Tuesday and Thursday evenings. Those living in houses with odd numbers water Mondays and Wednesdays.

GEORGE B. HAYWARD

George B. Hayward, 80, of 44 Glen road, passed away at his home Monday, August 12, after a long illness.

He had been a resident of Winchester for fifty years, making his home for many years at 35 Everett avenue, and more recently at 44 Glen road. He took an active interest in the civic affairs of the town, serving as Selectman in the years 1915 and 1916, and as Moderator for 13 years, from 1926 to 1939.

Mr. Hayward was the son of George E. and S. Alice (Holmes) Hayward. He was born September 5, 1876, in Bridgewater, graduated from Brown University and Harvard Law School and was for fifty-two years a practicing attorney in Boston.

A Thirty-second Degree Mason, Mr. Hayward was one of the oldest living past masters of the William Parkman Lodge, A.F. & A.M., and a member of Aleppo Temple of the Mystic Shrine. For many years he was an active member of the First Congregational Church, and he was a former member, both of the Winchester Country Club and the Corinthian Yacht Club of Marblehead.

Besides his wife, Alice Taylor Hayward, he leaves a daughter, Mrs. J. Donald Sutherland of Needham; and two stepdaughters, Mrs. M. Donald McFarland of Kansas City and Mrs. Roswell M. Boutwell, III, of Winchester.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at Ripley Memorial Chapel of the First Congregational Church with the minister, Dr. Dwight L. Cart, officiating. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

MISS MacEACHERN RETIRES

Miss Elizabeth MacEachern, store manager and cashier at the Mystic Valley Gas Co.'s Winchester store for 7 years, retired on August 9 after completing 36 years with the company.

Starting work in April 1920 with the Mass. Gas Lighting Co., she became bookkeeper for the New England Power Service Co. eleven years later. Her last post before coming to Winchester was as customer's clerk for the Arlington Gas Co. All of these companies eventually merged into the Mystic Valley Gas Co.

Upon her retirement, Miss MacEachern was presented with a bouquet of pink and white pinks and a purse of money by her fellow employees. Her immediate future plans include a little traveling.

At the moment she is taking well deserved rest. She lives at 13 Lawrence street, Woburn.

MISS O'LEARY ENGAGED

Mrs. Timothy J. O'Leary announced the engagement of her daughter, Margaret Ann, to Mr. Edward V. McCarthy, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward V. McCarthy of Lynn.

Miss O'Leary is a graduate of Winchester High School and is employed as a secretary in the Legal Department of the General Electric Company.

Mr. McCarthy is a graduate of Georgetown University and is presently employed in the Employee and Community Relations Department of the General Electric Company.

An October wedding is planned.

LOCAL MAN OUTWITS MOTHER NATURE AND KEEPS SHRUBS GREEN

The continued drought has other by-products besides parched lawns and dirty automobiles. It is also causing people to outwit Mother Nature with all sorts of schemes for supplying that scarce liquid.

Arthur Adams of Cambridge street has devised a method for saving the chlorophyll effect of the shrubbery at the home of James L. Kahaler, his cousin, by a system combining gravity and hard work.

Because the house is up for sale, the special effort is deemed a necessity if the valuable shrubbery is to be preserved. The lawns have long since dried up.

Mr. Adams' system works like this: he hauls water from non-restricted Somerville in 2 drums which hold 55 gallons each. The drums are placed on a cart and hauled by automobile. Then, the cart is parked at the top of the driveway and the water runs by gravity from the barrels and the shrubs get their drink.

Lt. Ramsdell Saves Diver

Navy Medico In Tiny Cell Thirty-Eight Hours

Lt. Robert Ramsdell, Navy doctor stationed at Key West, Fla., son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Ramsdell of Summit avenue, recently saved the life of a civilian diver, suffering with the bends, but had to spend 38 hours in a six-by-10-foot decompression chamber with the victim to do it.

The diver, Charles G. Taylor, 57, of Key West came down with the bends after spending half an hour 50 feet under water working on the salvaging of a freighter which sank off Key West many years ago.

He and Lt. Ramsdell, a graduate of Winchester High School, Tufts and Tufts Medical School, were placed in a decompression chamber

CHILDREN'S THEATRE CONFERENCE PROGRAM

When the national convention of the Children's Theatre Conference convenes at Tufts University in Medford next week, delegates from all over the country will have an opportunity to see local children's theatre groups in action.

As one of the program highlights, varied and outstanding entertainments will be presented for convening delegates during the week at the Cohen Arts Center Auditorium.

On Monday evening, August 19, Basil Milosoroff of Norwich, Vermont will present his well-known "Folklore Puppets" in several original skits. On Tuesday evening, the Children's Dance Theatre of Washington, D. C., under the direction of Miss Erika Thimsy, will demonstrate creative dance techniques in a four-part program.

On Wednesday afternoon, the Magic Circle, Tufts' Children's Theatre group, will present "Johnny Moonbeam and the Silver Arrow," a new play especially written and directed by Dr. Joseph Golden for this convention. Simultaneously, a costume parade will be held on the campus, with Miss Marie Forsberg of Laconia, N. H., as chairman. In the evening, following a special production by the Portland Children's Theatre of Portland, Maine, Beth and Dick Best of Wayland, Mass., will call and play for square-dancing-on-the-green.

To conclude the week's events, the Boston Children's Theatre, under the direction of Miss Adele Thane, will present "The Wizard of Oz" on Thursday evening.

Sponsored by the University's Department of Speech and Drama, this convention will bring together religious, educational, medical, civic and social representatives who actively promote children's theatre in communities in all parts of the Nation. Throughout the week, these delegates will participate in creative, formal and technical workshops in children's theatre techniques, culminating in group demonstrations at the final session on Friday, August 23.

TRAVEL TIP: You can save yourself a lot of traffic headaches by starting out on your trip EARLY IN THE MORNING, advises the AAA. There are fewer cars on the highway; you're fresher and more alert; you'll cover more miles even at moderate speeds if you're the EARLY BIRD.

CHRISTMAS SERVICE AT METHODIST CHURCH

This coming Sunday at 10:00 a. m. at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church, the pastor, Rev. John Snook, Jr., will bring a message related to the coming of Christ. The subject is, "Christ, Delightful and Disturbing." The text is taken from Isaiah 52:15 (Revised Standard Version) "So shall He startle many nations." Isaiah, in speaking of the coming Messiah, suggests that to some nations and individuals He might not be a delight, but a disturbance. Some shall claim Him as the true Messiah, others as a menace. He can be either, according to our acceptance of Him.

While most writers catch the optimistic and positive note, at least one writer gives us a glimpse of the "startling" Christ. Mary E. Coleridge writes: "I saw a stable low and very bare. A little child in a manger. The oxen knew Him, had Him in care. To men He was a stranger. The safety of the world was lying there. And the world's danger."

Rev. Snook will elucidate on both the disturbing and delightful experiences involved in the coming of Christ.

The idea of the Christmas message comes in the fact that most of us in the preaching ministry are apt to take the great lessons which are derived from the coming of Christ and use them for a short period of time and sort of wait for the season to come around again before we touch on them. Such messages are apt to be at any time and a touch of Christmas in the summertime might not do us any harm.

You are welcome indeed to attend this Union Service in which the Baptist, First Congregational, Second Congregational, Unitarian and Crawford Memorial Methodist Churches are united.

LIVING WITH YOUR HEART

Your arteries are roads leading to and from the city of your heart, and as much a part of the circulation system which nourishes your body tissues as the heart itself. Your heart is the toughest organism in the human body. In most cases, this wonderful muscle is far sturdier than the veins and arteries it serves, and when one develops "heart trouble," more often than not artery trouble is at the root of the situation.

Increasing emphasis is being placed upon the Massachusetts Heart Association's research into the arteries, for obvious reasons: artery health is vital to cardiac health. And this research is showing promise of contributing substantially to longer life and better health.

In an Association study at Boston City Hospital directed by Dr. J. Englebert Dunphy, chief of the Fifth Surgical Service, surgeons are saving both lives and limbs by replacing — and even replacing — damaged leg arteries.

Using an ingenious wire loop, physicians can clean out roughened, thickened artery walls which have blocked the flow of blood through the limbs — a condition which in extreme circumstances can lead to gangrene and eventually to amputation, a risky matter for the aged, who are highly susceptible to clotting.

Surgeons today can save limbs which five years ago would have been lost. Patients now leave the hospital in two or three weeks' time with the "bad" limb in better condition than the "good" one. In some cases, short strips of damaged artery are replaced with strips from another individual.

Many U. S. medical centers are using this technique. City Hospital, however, is especially reliable as a site for the Association project because as an institution with a heavy caseload of elderly patients, it provides an outstanding opportunity to develop and refine these procedures.

The current research is designed to reclaim the smaller arteries—a feat which has not yet been accomplished. But the work is progressing in promising fashion.

A heart attack resembles a limb clot insofar as each is a blockage in the cardiovascular system. Some come slowly, with many warnings. Researchers believe that the time will come when a clot can be cleaned out in the human heart in much the same fashion as is now being done in leg arteries.

When will it happen? Maybe in a month; maybe a decade — but probably somewhere between the two, according to doctors at work on this tremendously significant project.

When that day comes, it may be a historic date in the story of man's struggle to conquer heart disease.

Got a ladder handy? It may be a real help in case of fire.

KNIGHTS CAMPAIGN PROGRESSES

The Massachusetts Knights of Columbus $50,000 fund-raising campaign for its Guild for Exceptional Children has reached the $19,000 mark, it was announced recently by John T. Howland, general chairman.

The one hundred and seventy-eight councils, with a membership of over 60,000 are participating in the annual charity drive to provide maintenance for approximately 150 afflicted children of the poor, regardless of race, creed or color. The local committee is headed by District Deputy Russell McMakin and Grand Knight Stergio Vangel of Winchester Council.

TOWN SOFTBALL LEAGUE

The two finalists for the Town Softball championship, Sons of Italy and Holy Name Society eliminated their opponents, Calidyne and V.F.W., respectively, each in two straight games.

Last Wednesday evening the Sons of Italy won over Calidyne by an 8-4 score. The S.O.I. was first up and pushed across four quick runs on two walks and four hits. Hitting safely in this inning were B. Fiori and Gangi with doubles and Sam Tibando and Dick Tofuri, each with singles. Scoring the runs were Giacalone, Tony Bucci, Bob Fiori and Gangi.

For Calidyne Pete Gilbert and Kerrigan reached on singles, but did not tally. Both teams went down in order in the second.

Gangi hit a double in the third for the S.O.I. but died on second with three flies by the next batters. Three batters went to the plate for Calidyne and none reached base.

In the fourth with two out Giacalone and Bucci singled but failed to advance to pay dirt for the S.O.I. while Calidyne went down in order.

Bob Fiori opened the S.O.I.'s fifth with a homer, and on hits by Sam Tibando and Paul Amico and Garcia reaching on an error three more runs crossed to put S.O.I. ahead 7-4.

Foss and Kerrigan hit safely for Calidyne but remained on base when the next three batters died in succession. In the sixth both teams did no damage but in the last frame the S.O.I. scored the eighth and final run. Bob Fiori tripled and scored on Gangi's fly to left. Calidyne went no for no in the last inning and the S.O.I. won a championship play-off birth.

Also on Wednesday evening Holy Name Society downed the V.F.W. by a 10-6 score to place the team in final competition with the Sons of Italy.

The V.F.W. was first at bat and went down in order. Holy Name had a big first inning in crossing the plate for three big runs.

Jackie Fields reached on an error and Ken Donaghey brought him in with a homer to deep left. Don Kenton singled, stole second and tallied on Johnny Farrell's single.

In the second frame Flaherty singled but was left on base when the inning ended. Holy Name met Marty Joyce's pitches for three runs by Fields, Lou Farrell and Serieka to make the score 6-0 at the end of two innings.

In the third frame the V.F.W. went down in order while Holy Name's Dilorio scored its 7th run on his single and Kimball's double. The Vets scored two runs in the fourth when Reardon walked, Tom Cogan singled, Angie Amico singled and Tim Connors singled with Reardon and Amico doing the scoring.

Lou Farrell was the only man of Holy Name to hit safely for Holy Name in the fourth. The Vets never give up so came back in the fifth to cross pay dirt for three more runs.

Joyce, Non Cogan and Reardon all got singles and all three scored. Jackie Fields opened the last of the fifth for the Holy Name with a homer. Manoli and Kimball also hit and scored so at the end of five complete innings Holy Name led 10-5.

No damage was done in the sixth by either team. In the last inning the Vets had something going when with two out Mar-y Joyce singled. Non Cogan walked, Reardon singled to load the bases and Joyce came in on a hit by Tim Connors. Angie Amico flied out to end the rally and game, putting Holy Name in the finals against the Sons of Italy.

Championship Final

What a final it promises to be! The atmosphere is sizzling! The first game was played on Monday with Holy Name, the defending champions, coming out on top 10-6. The bleachers were filled to capacity and there was plenty of excitement and good ball playing. The pressure is on! This means possession of the trophy that goes to the winning team and both teams are certainly out to gain it.

And talk about the "drug store umpires!" Wow! They were all over the bleachers, but try and get them on the field! That's some-thing else! It is all a lot of fun and the umpires are enjoying it as much as the contestants themselves.

If you have missed these games, you definitely have missed some-thing, but it is too late now because as you read this the series will have been over and the new champion crowned. You will read about it next week.

The S.O.I. was home team for the opener in the final series and nobody reached base for both teams in the first inning. Richie Farrell reached first base in the second frame but that's as far as he got.

In the bottom half of the second the S.O.I. broke the ice when Sam Tibando walked and scored on Paul Amico's double to left center. Tony Lucchi, Holy Name pitcher, fanned three S.O.I. batters in the inning.

The third inning was a big one for Holy Name when they tallied four runs. Lou Farrell reached on an error and went to third on Serieka's single.

Serieka stole second. Ken Donaghey walked to load the bases and Joe Dilorio connected for a double to score Lou Farrell, Serieka and Donaghey. Dilorio then scored on Manoli's single and Holy Name took a 4-1 lead.

In the fourth Holy Name crossed for two more runs on hits by Lucchi, Lou Farrell and Ken Donaghey. The Sons of Italy tallied one run by Sam Tibando to make the score 4-2 in favor of the defending champions, Holy Name Society.

In the fifth the Holy Name was held with no hits and no runs while the Sons of Italy scored once to trail by one run, 4-3. Sam Bellino reached the plate after his hit followed by a single by Mel Fiori.

The sixth inning was a big one for the defending champions when they scored four runs on hits by Fields, Serieka and Donaghey. Doing the scoring were Fields, Serieka, Lou Farrell, and Ken Donaghey.

In the bottom half of the sixth, the Sons of Italy made three runs on hits by Giacalone, Pete Provinziano, Mel Fiori and Gangi. They were not enough, however, to change the final result of the game which placed the Holy Name Society one step closer to the championship and trophy. As the saying goes, however, it's only the first game and it is never too late!

Sons Even Series

Never too late is right, because the S.O.I. came back on Tuesday evening to beat the Holy Name 12-10 and knot the play-offs at a game apiece in the best of three out of five series.

And talk about action! Boy, oh boy! If you couldn't be in the action, you definitely should have seen it! It was really something!

This was Holy Name's home game and the S.O.I. got four big runs in the first with seven bases on balls. Walking and doing the scoring were Bucci, Mel Fiori, Pete Provinziano, and Sam Bellino. For its half of the first Holy Name had three up and three down.

In the second inning Pete Provinziano connected for a homer to make it 5-0 for the S.O.I., but Holy Name tallied two runs in the bottom of the second when Donaghey reached on an error, Serieka doubled to score Donaghey and Serieka then crossed for Holy Name's second run on Dilorio's safety.

The S.O.I. scored its sixth and seventh runs in the third when Bob Fiori and Garcia walked, Paul Amico grounded out and Hokie Procopio reached on an error which also scored Garcia. Hokie later crossed the plate on Bucci's fielder's choice.

The last of the third was a big one for Holy Name when they scored two runs to trail 7-5. In this frame Bob Merenda flied out to open the inning, Jackie Fields then hit safely, Lou Farrell flied out, Johnny Farrell reached on an error with Fields scoring. Donaghey singled and Serieka homered to score Farrell and Donaghey.

Both teams went down in order in the fourth. The S.O.I. repeated this in the fifth but Holy Name scored twice to go ahead 9-7. With two outs Johnny Farrell homered. Donaghey followed with a single came in on Serieka's hit to take the one run lead.

Pete Provinziano led off the S.O.I. sixth with a single, Sam Tibando walked and Bellino grounded out then Bob Fiori connected for a homer to put the S.O.I. in a 10-8 lead.

Holy Name went down in order in its half of the sixth. In the last frame Hokie Procopio walked and Bucci singled and both came in on Mel Fiori's triple.

Jackie Fields opened the last raps for Holy Name with a single and scored on Johnny Farrell's second homer in the game.

The championship series should end this week so you will be given some notes of the remaining games in this column in the next issue. If you failed to see the games, all that can be said is that you certainly missed plenty of excitement.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

On last Monday morning the West Side Junior baseball team visited Ginn Field Juniors. The latter won, 6-3, with Roger Schipelle on the mound for the victors and Butch Franson and Dan Mahoney throwing for the losers.

Dave Hession was the big gun for Ginn with four RBI's on a two run homer and perfect hunt.

In the fifth Reed walked for West Side and came in on Bob Foley's double. Playing a good game for Ginn were Jeff and John Peckham, Ron Keane, Jim Reardon, Laury Kelly, Tom Kelly, Bill Perkins and Jay Marchant. Standouts for West Side were Rog and Scott Wilde, Bob Stout, Paul Grady, Bill Mahoney and Fatty Kearns.

On Wednesday morning the Leonard Juniors defeated Loring Juniors at Loring by a score of 5-3.

Bob Donlon doubled to score Gallagher and Lynch to put Leonard ahead early in the game. Casamouvo also doubled later with Charlie Tofuri aboard. Lindsey also got a single while Whipper Smith tripled.

For Loring, Branch, Faietta, Moroco, Rowe, Cussens, Doherty and Benincasa did well.

The West Side Intermediates went to Ginn Field on Thursday morning with the ball game ending in a 10-10 tie.

Playing for Ginn were Laban, Keating, John and Jim Reardon, Joel, Jeff and John Peckham, Bruce Fitzgerald and Den Keane, while West Side had Spaulding, Bergquist, Neil Hickey, Joe and Tony Albani, Franson, Michelsen, Dan Mahoney and Richie Carter.

Ginn led 9-2 going into the sixth and John Peckham had a no-hitter until this frame. Big stickers for Ginn were Laban with a triple and single, Keane with two singles and Keating and John Reardon with singles.

In the seventh, West Side loaded the bases with Joe Albani, Mahoney and Hession reaching safely and Richie Carter doubled to score all three.

The Arts and Crafts department has been going on quite strongly in making leather change purses and key holders, lanyards, bracelets and pot holders.

Many of these items are on display in Hevey's windows in the center so if you have not seen them make it a point to do so because they are excellent examples of the projects made by the youngsters. Be sure to see those on display, but it should be mentioned that many items were taken home by the youngsters and consequently are not in the exhibit.

Next Tuesday was supposed to be beach day for the youngsters when they were supposed to go to Wingaersheek Beach in Gloucester. "Supposed to" is mentioned because the youngsters were asked to bring written notes from their parents, granting them permission to go to the beach. The response has been extremely slow and it is feared that the beach day must be cancelled.

Such a notice as this was mentioned in this column last week and it is felt that such a day is not desired at this time because of the poor response.

It should also be mentioned that the playground season comes to a close on the 23rd of this month which means one more week left. The Arts and Crafts instructor is to have but four days of instruction next week with the last day set aside for taking inventory and storing the materials. Her schedule for next week is as follows:

Monday—Leonard Field
Tuesday—Loring Avenue
Wednesday—Ginn Field
Thursday—West Side Field

SPARE TIRE STOLEN

John Berlandi of 620 Main street reported to police Friday that someone broke the right side window of his Plymouth station wagon and stole a spare tire which he carried in the car.

The incident occurred sometime between 7 and 9 p. m. on August 7 while the automobile was parked in front of his luncheon.

Many in Winchester learned with pleasure of Professor Bartlett's coming service in India with the General Education Project, sponsored by the American Specialist Branch of the International Education Service, a cooperative venture of the State Department and the Indian Ministry of Education. Incidentally, the Winchester savant, head of the Department of Humanities at MIT and former chairman of the School Committee, is ideally equipped by personality and training to render valuable service to the Indian project.

It is such service as that of Professor Bartlett and his group that is bridging little by little the chasm between the present differences among nations and promoting the concept of international brotherhood based on mutual respect and understanding. Something of the culture and ideology of the participating nations is bound to brush off on those who represent their homelands at international conferences, sending the individual delegates home with new and sounder ideas about their brothers in foreign lands.

Winchester, in a small way, is playing its part in promoting international good will through sending its youth abroad and entertaining visiting young people from foreign countries. This is good, for it is among youth that the foundation for international good will must be built.

This year Winchester has sent individual young people to foreign countries as members of the Experiment in International Living. Several of our young people have been, and are studying in Europe, and in recent years we have had in our high school fine youngsters from the old world. A troop of Winchester Girl Scouts has this summer exchanged experiences with similar groups in Great Britain and on the Continent.

All this international entertaining and being entertained, this exchange of ideology and education, this living, working and playing together is very helpful. It may seem that we are still a long way from world-wide amity, but that is the goal toward which many organizations and individuals are earnestly striving. Winchester is doing its part.

DANGERS TO AMERICA

Editor of the Star:

The National Wildlife Federation of Washington, D. C., states in a certificate that "many of the resources which made America great are in danger. Our native animal life, our pure water, even our fresh, clean air are being crowded aside, used up or contaminated in man's march of progress."

The truth of this pronouncement is apparent to all thoughtful people. Oil and sewage are contaminating our once pure streams and beaches. The poisonous exhaust of the marvelous increase of motor vehicles on the streets of our cities is rendering them unfit for habitation. Will the present nation-wide rehabilitation of our cities, replacing the slums with hotels and large apartments achieve the desired end? Will more people living night and day in the already crowded area make the air purer, noise less distracting, absence of the sunrise and golden-tinted twilight, the flowers, trees, and singing birds make life more worth living and happier? Will the venom from more automobiles and diesel-engine freight trucks in the city canyons be an improvement?

Man was never faced with more difficult problems, problems that can only be solved by wise and thoughtful study. The Wildlife Federation is doing a patriotic service in calling attention to the present dangers threatening America.

Do we live in a better age? What will the outcome be?

TROOP 1
FRIENDSHIP TOUR

Sally Beal, Scribe

Thursday, July 25

Dear diary:
After a terrific week in Paris, I'm back again. It was really wonderful seeing my relatives and getting a closer look at Paris. Each day I'll tell you what we did a week ago, but today first.

It's cold and windy. There were no classes today for we took an all day excursion along the Normandy coast. We visited a chateau, in which people still lived, ate lunch at an outdoor eating place near a view of the ocean, and later on went swimming at Deauville.

A week ago, July 18, I was spending an easy day in Paris. My uncle had come for me the day before at the station when the rest of the troop was leaving for Caen. That night we met my cousin Sandy at Orly airport as he came back from Wiesbaden, Germany. I almost forgot to mention that I became acquainted with Beau, "the big black bear," their Newfoundland retriever who was frighteningly friendly at times. Man, is he huge!

Now, dear diary, I had better close, for there are classes tomorrow.

Friday, July 26

Dear diary,
My first French class, it wasn't hard. We have such a smart class (everyone's had French before!). The weather is getting better but there's not much going on.

Last Friday was another lazy day, although we did struggle through a game of Canasta (hadn't played in ages) while the rain was beating down outside. Ile de Beaulieu, where I was, is located about 45 minutes outside of Paris on the Marne River. Boats go up and down the river all day long, and occasionally a crew boat goes by, even in the rain—these French! There's an excursion tomorrow—Bons reves.

Saturday, July 27

Dear diary,
Today we had classes in the morning, and this afternoon there were two excursions, one to St. Teresa's church and another to some of the chateaux (castles) of Normandy. The church, in Lisieux, I was told, was very interesting and so was the town. Also, the chateaux were really something to see with high towers and secret passages. At one chateau a group was forgotten about and locked inside—but not for long, you should have heard the commotion!

On the way back, one bus took the wrong road and there was some excitement as it had to be narrowly maneuvered backward past a treacherous ditch onto the right road.

This evening there was a dance in the salle des fetes (a huge, beautiful ballroom) and we all had a really good time. Tables were set up in the spacious room which connects the two main buildings of the university, and the lights (when they were on) set off the dancing beauties who were whirling to the Viennese waltz.

July 20, was taken to the Louvre and the Arc de Triomphe by the Metro (subway system in Paris). It was enchanting to find, after walking around a couple of blocks in the rain, the Louvre consists of three floors, and not three separate buildings. Ah, c'est la vie.

At the Arc de Triomphe we saw the eternal flame and climbed millions of steps to the top of the Arc. The view was fairly good; from what I could decipher through the mist, it would have been better if the weather had been clearer.

That night we all ate dinner at a near-by restaurant in Nogent sur la Marne (their town) and had a real French five course meal which lasted at least two hours and a half—we were lucky. France is the place for people who don't want to be thin!
Tomorrow we sleep.

Sunday, July 28

Dear diary,
This morning at five, Mrs. Bullard and Pat Hampe took off for Paris for the day and had a very good time seeing all the sights.

The rest of us were less energetic; we took the day easy either in our "pavillon" or walking around Caen. The ruins and signs of destruction certainly give the right for antagonistic feelings toward Americans, not that we've come across it, but it's certainly a feeling that I might well have if the situation were reversed.

Last Sunday, the 21st, Sandy took me in to see a movie at the Army post. To think I came all the way to France to see "Heaven Knows, Mr. Allison!" There's not much going on so I'll try for an early bunking tonight. 'Til tomorrow.

Monday, July 29

Dear diary,
French, French, French! Last minute shopping! and a juke-box arrived here yesterday; it's installed and is in full use. We have American, French, and English songs are heard all the time. Motorcycle rides are the latest fad—Ellie isn't the only one who has rides now.

July 22, Sandy conducted me to La Tour Eiffel. We climbed it part-way and took the elevator part-way. Oh, what a fabulous view! Paris est tres grande! After touring the tower we went back to the hotel and swam in the Marne. It was one of the precious few days when the sun came (and stayed) out for a while.

Tomorrow there are last French classes and the last excursion. Bon soir.

Tuesday, July 30

Dear diary,
Bright, fair, warmish—in the sun. Vivian, Patsy, and Roberta took advantage of the morning and went to the beach. Others of us turned in French books and felt rich with the refund of 1,000 francs. This afternoon we took a trip to Bayeux (the first city liberated after the war) and Arromanches, where the famous Normandy landing took place. We saw the Normandy-American Memorial and cemetery—it's impressive and depressing at the same time. Just think that there are 10,000 dead there; many of them were barely, if at all, identifiable—it's really something to think about more than twice.

July 23 was my last full day in Paris. At five in the afternoon the sun came out so we all took last minute pictures.

Although the weather at times hasn't been too hot, we're going to miss Caen and the friends we'll be leaving. One friend we're not leaving is Alan Moller who joined us again today, and will be our courier 'til we become air-borne again.

On to Mont St. Michel after breakfast tomorrow.

Wednesday, July 31

Dear diary,
Boy, I really can believe it's summer; the sun's out and the weather is warm!

We left Caen, mid farwells galore, after breakfast and were on our way to Mont St. Michel. After arriving and having lunch at the hotel, we visited the Abbaye Mount St. Michel built on a rock. The stones used to build this Abbey were all brought from a near-by island during the 15th century. It's quite a place.

The island itself is connected to the mainland by a causeway. In older times the only way to cross to "The Rock" was as the tide was out. As the tide comes in at about 6 miles an hour, covering the chalky substance which acts as a quicksand, anyone caught coming or going at that time didn't have a chance.

Last week I was just arriving in Caen and wondering whether my letter to Mrs. Hersey had arrived or not. It had; Stephanie, Alison, and Sue arrived as proof, and my week at Caen had begun.

Now to bed, and on to St. Malo tomorrow.

Thursday, August 1

Dear diary,
After spending the morning sun-baking and watching the tide come in and go right out again, or just shopping, we were on our way to St. Malo to spend the afternoon swimming and sight-seeing.

Now we're bidding our last adieux to France as we've boarded the boat for Southampton, England and shall be speaking English in the morning (as if we hadn't been anyway).

The boat seems smooth-ish and I think it'll be a neat trip. Some of us are sleeping three in a cabin—not enough bunks—but you should see all the little Boy Scouts in their bed-rolls sleeping (?) in the lounge!

"Lights-out" and off to sleep—Winchester (Eng.) tomorrow.

Friday, August 2

Dear diary,
Up and ready to dock at six this morning. We had a good trip as after a little bit we were taken to Winchester for breakfast. In Winchester, this morning we saw St. Cross Hospital run by the Brothers. At the gate we were given the wayfare's meal, a cup of beer and pieces of bread.

This afternoon we visited Winchester Cathedral, the longest cathedral in Europe. Edward the Confessor was the first to be crowned here and buried in Westminster; here the chair is that Mary Tudor used in her marriage to Phillip of Spain, and also here Jane Austin is buried. We walked up the narrow staircases tower, the arches of which are the highest Norman arches in Europe.

We had tea at Mrs. Cooper's house (she had taken us to St. Cross) where we met the mayor of Winchester, Councillor Miss E. M. Barnes. We are invited for tea at 11 tomorrow at Guildhall.

After tea, we went on to see Winchester College, and then to entertain a group of Winchester people for the evening. Mrs. Hersey showed the film of New England life, we had refreshments, and then we demonstrated our Lemisticks. Some of the girls gave their sticks away to the ones who were interested in learning how to use them. Next there was square-dancing and practically everyone joined in before the evening was through. We made many friends and had lots of fun.

On to London—after tea with the mayor!

Saturday, August 3

Dear diary,
We all went separate ways this morning, some going to see King Arthur's Round Table in Winchester Castle, and others just browsing around Winchester. But we all met at the mayor's for tea. She showed us around Guildhall, taking us to see the court room, the hall where Queen Elizabeth ate and where a portrait of her with a view of Winchester in the background hangs, and then to her home which is being done over so it won't fall down. We gave her a friendship pin in appreciation for her specially guided tour.

An article appeared today in the "Winchester Chronicle" telling about us and our meeting the mayor at tea yesterday and we all bought copies, of course.

On we went to Windsor Castle, seeing the chapel where memorials to King George V and Queen Mary are, what workmanship! Next was the Queen's doll's house—really a masterpiece complete to wine bottles in the cellar, and then the staterooms. The Queen was not in residence as she was visiting the Girl Guide jamboree encampment near-by.

Later on we arrived in London and now we're waiting out unwanted, trying to lighten our suitcases. Big trip tomorrow night! Can't believe the time's gone so fast.

Cheerio for now.

Sunday, August 4

Dear diary,
Right now we're on the plane for home after a busy day in London.

We all spent the day in various ways. The changing of the guard at Buckingham Palace was something we all went to see. It was tremendously impressive, with the colorful uniforms of the guards and the band playing.

From Buckingham we split up. I visited friends in Leatherhead and was given a first-rate tour of Hampton Court Palace, the famous home of Henry VIII and the Tudors. Others saw the Pratts, Winchester-ites living in London, and were given a tour of the Tower of London.

Still another group took in Westminster abbey, number ten Downing street, the crown jewels and London Tower, St. Paul's Cathedral, a boat trip up the Thames, and a ride in the "tube" (the underground).

Our last day was done to the fullest I do believe. Alan waved good-bye as we climbed aboard, and we began to realize our trip was over.

Now we're being served cold turkey salad, and something else—it's about 12:30 (7:30 U. S. time)—and I'll have to leave you.

Monday, August 5

Dear diary,
Home at last! It feels strange not being around any more. We had a reunion today at two in Brigham's (as if we hadn't seen enough of each other).

"Til the next trip to Europe—

ENSIGN AND MRS. ROGER PAUL MCTIGHE
McTIGHE — GUTHRIE

In a setting of white gladiolas and carnations, at St. Joseph's Church in Woburn on Saturday afternoon, August 10, Miss Nancy Regina Guthrie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence A. Smith of 129 Salem street, Woburn, and Boothbay Harbor, Me., became the bride of Ensign Roger Paul McTighe, USNR, of the Naval Air Station at Brunswick, Me., son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger F. McTighe of 7 Orient street. The pastor of the church, Rev. William Gorman, read the marriage service at 3:30 o'clock, and the bridegroom was assisted by Miss Marion Murphy. Martin McCauley was soloist.

Given in marriage by her stepfather, Miss Guthrie wore a pure silk gown trimmed with Alencon lace and seed pearls. Her elbow-length bridal veil fell from a cap of matching Alencon lace and pearls, and she carried a lace-covered missal adorned with a white orchid and stephanotis.

Miss Jayne C. Guthrie of Woburn was her sister's honor attendant, and the bridesmaids were Miss Roberta Lee Carroll of Winchester, cousin of the bride; and Miss Virginia Cambareri of Wakefield.

All the bridal attendants wore waist-length dresses of jade green taffeta with headpieces of white daisy chrysanthemums and fern, matching their cascade bouquets.

Donald L. Carlson of Arlington was Ensign McTighe's best man, and ushering were Kevin Richardson, Robert Shea and Lee Staff, all of Winchester, and Robert Carlson of Stoneham.

A reception was held after the marriage at the Andover Country Club, the parents of the bride and bridegroom assisting in receiving with the honor maid and best man.

Mrs. Smith, mother of the bride, wore a royal blue chiffon gown with matching hat and gloves and a corsage of blue and white stephanotis. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. McTighe, wore a gown of beige silk organza and taffeta with hat and gloves to match and a wrist corsage of yellow roses.

Ensign and Mrs. McTighe went to Boothbay Harbor, Me., for their honeymoon.

The bride is a graduate of St. Charles High School in Woburn and of the Chandler School for Women, class of 1955. Ensign McTighe, who is a Naval aviator, graduated from Winchester High School and attended Boston University before graduating from Naval Air Academy at Pensacola, Fla. They will make their home in Brunswick, Maine.

HANNON — CLARE

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Barbara Rosetta Clare, daughter of Mrs. James D. Clare of 118 Lowell street, Newtonville, to James Vincent Hannon of 70 Canal street, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Hannon, formerly of this town. The ceremony took place on the afternoon of June 3 with the Rev. Charles Anadore officiating.

Miss Joanne R. Clare was her sister's honor attendant and bridesmaids were Miss Marie Phillips of Waltham and Miss Dorothy Teale of Littleton.

Thomas Hannon of Winchester was best man for his brother, and ushering were Alexander Samoiloff, James Maguire and Roy Monson, all of Winchester, and John Hannon of Danvers.

A reception was held at the Hotel Continental, after which Mr. and Mrs. Hannon went to Bermuda on their wedding journey.

Mr. Hannon, a graduate of Winchester High School and Boston University, class of 1951, after several years in the Army, is associated with the Eastern Racing Association in the department of public relations.

Miss Rona DiPietro of 54 Forest street was given a bridal shower Tuesday night at her parents' summer home in Marshfield. The shower was given by Mrs. Dorothy Shone and Mrs. Dorothy Brosnan. About 30 guests attended and a buffet lunch was served. Miss DiPietro is engaged to Mr. Robert Kurtz of Chicago. They will be married on December 21 at St. Mary's Church in Winchester.

BOAT CLUB NEWS

LEGERE AND ALDERSON CONTINUE SNIPE FLEET SCRAMBLE

For approximately 18 hours last week end, Herby Alderson topped the Winchester Boat Club Snipe Fleet in the race for the 1957 championship. He scored a second to Ken Cook in the Saturday afternoon race while Tommy Legere finished third, to take a wafer-thin lead in the standing.

However, by noon Sunday, Herby was back in second place, as Tommy topped the Fleet.

So close is the battle for the championship, that the difference of one place in any race, can change the standing. With but a dozen races to go, you'd better hustle down to the Mystic and root for your favorite.

ALTERATIONS AT FELS

Shoppers on Main street above the center have noticed the change which is taking place at Fels Hardware, Inc. Mr. James Chisholm and Mr. John Ryan are undertaking a complete face lifting of the front of the store.

When completed in about two weeks, the store will be faced with a Roman brick and stucco front in the Miami Beach, Florida style. The store will open for business at regular hours during the alterations.

Besides making the store glamorous, the construction will give added display space for merchandise and will enable the proprietors to give even better customer service.

RIFLEMEN WIN NATIONAL HONORS

David Shiverick of 135 Forest street and Kenneth A. Donaghey of 81 Pond street, were notified by the National Rifle Association that as members of a four man team, representing the Arlington Rifle Club of Woburn, their team placed 2nd in the National Gallery Championship in the expert class.

Dave and Ken have been in the shooting game for quite a few years and have represented teams in State and National tournaments.

In the past several years, Ken has finished twice with the high individual average in the Massachusetts Smallbore League and has been close to the top in the other years.

Dave has recently received a trophy for shooting an off-hand possible (20 consecutive bull's-eyes at 200 yards in the standing position) in matches held at the State range in Wakefield. This feat is usually a once in a lifetime accomplishment for an expert rifleman and is achieved by very few.

BOWLING TEAM FORMED

Plans are being completed for the formation of a bowling team by the girls at Winchester Drug. It is expected that the team will be ready to challenge similar groups soon after Labor Day.

The team will bowl every Tuesday night at the Winchester alleys. All spectators are welcome and all are assured hilarious entertainment.

For the gift that keeps on giving, give U. S. Savings Bonds.

HIGH SCHOOL RED CROSS DELEGATES

The Winchester Red Cross is pleased to announce that Brenda Cunningham and Albert Thorne have been selected as delegates from our high school to attend the National Junior Red Cross Leadership Training Center at Phillips Academy, Andover, from August 25 to September 1.

The purpose of the training center is to provide the members with inspiration, knowledge and understanding of the Junior Red Cross program, how it operates in the Chapter and in the schools, to give services locally, and nationally and internationally.

The week at Phillips Academy will be a pleasant and profitable one for Brenda and Albert. They will have the opportunity to use their services in the high school and thus continue with the splendid Junior Red Cross program there.

LEAVING FOR INDONESIA

Prof. and Mrs. William A. Withington, and their nine-months-old son, Bobby, who have been spending the summer in Winchester, leave today for Medan, Northern Sumatra, Indonesia, where Prof. Withington is to teach economic geography for two years at Nommensen University under the auspices of the National Lutheran Council.

The Withingtons are making the trip by way of London and Calcutta, and are hoping to meet friends in the latter city. Prof. Withington is on leave of absence from the University of Kentucky where he is professor of geography.

WHO CAUGHT THE FISH!

The story goes that Larry Della Femina of New Meadows road, with his brother, Mike, and Joe Vaccaro of Wedgemere avenue, all lay claim to a part in the capture of a big tuna at Buttermilk Bay down on the Cape.

Lieut. Joseph Derro of the police department, who was visiting the above named fishermen also claims the catch! We do know that the Lieutenant arrived home late Sunday night after spending the week end at the Cape with his wife. In the trunk of his car was a 100 lb. tuna.

"Joe" says he "hooked" the tuna in the Bay but he refuses to say how he hooked it. He does contend that possession is nine points of the law, and who is going to argue with the Lieutenant about law!

Incidentally, Dr. Dick Sheehy, also a summer resident at Buttermilk Bay, was asked by Lieutenant Derro to view the carcass of the fish and render a verdict, but he refused to be involved!

On arriving home, the Lieutenant was afraid that the boys at headquarters would not believe his fish story so he had Officer Archie O'Connell view the evidence. Of course Archie made a full report to his brother Ed, and Lt. "Eddie" is packing his gear and heading for the Cape to see if he can get a bigger fish.

We are still wondering who caught the fish. After cleaning the tuna the Lieutenant is sure of one thing—he doesn't want to see another tuna for a long time.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Morse of Euclid avenue are spending a few days at Harwich Center.

SAFE BOATING IS MORE FUN!

SEAMANSHIP FOR SMALL BOATS

An immensely popular new family sport is rising rapidly all over the nation. Small and large boats of all types and descriptions, full of smiling, waving people, are dotting the waters wherever the depths are beyond wading level. The American family has taken to boating in a big way!

Most of the new skippers enjoying this safest of all family recreations do not seem to know that they are responsible for the welfare of their passengers and the protection of their boats. But the wise boatman is careful how he steps aboard a boat, how he loads it, and how he pilots it.

Good seamanship is a mixture of experience and knowledge. The knowledge can be obtained in many ways, including attending the free classes in small boat handling given by units of the United States Power Squadrons, national non-profit educational organization. But the experienced skipper, by diligent practice and self-discipline.

Most outboard boats contain a decal which indicates the recommended maximum horsepower for that particular boat. Don't exceed this maximum! In getting into a small boat, step carefully into the middle of the boat, bending low and steadying yourself on the pier as you do so. Don't step on the gunwales (upper sides) of the boat, and don't jump into the boat.

Get aboard yourself first, then lift your gear, motor, and any other equipment into the boat from the pier. Distribute the weight evenly, including passengers, and lash supplies down. A stern-heavy boat will labor when under way and it is dangerous when making sharp turns. The skipper and his friends can protect themselves as well as the boat's gleaming varnish by wearing non-slip, soft soled shoes instead of the usual hard leather street wear.

Overloading a boat unfortunately is a common practice, although this may lead to swamping the boat or unusual strain on the physical capacity of the motor. The law requires life preservers for each passenger under certain conditions.

In drawing away from a pier, remember that the turning circle of a boat swings the stern to the left as the boat turns right, and vice versa. Shove the boat away from the pier before starting the turn to make certain the boat will be free and clear.

Although it sounds elementary, don't go out in bad weather. This applies equally well to the owner of a 14-footer and a 40-footer. The sea is a fearsome thing in a storm, and even skilled seamen dread foul weather.

Outboard motors have the convenience of power, fuel economy, and low cost. They also create certain problems. For one thing, the smart skipper fastens his outboard motor to the transom with a chain or sturdy line. If the clamps slip, the motor will not be lost.

Once underway, don't speed around sharp turns in small boats. Keep your craft under control, and stay alert to spot other boats, swimmers, or floating material which could damage your boat or propeller.

The skillful skipper can be spotted as he returns to the pier. He comes in slowly, stops his motor to let the wind or tide drift him into the pier, and has fenders and a bow line ready.

Seamanship is emphasized in the USPS piloting course. For information about free classes in this vicinity, write National Headquarters, 9 West Demarest Avenue, Englewood, N. J.

TV PROGRAM SHOWS SERVICES FOR HANDICAPPED

Community resources for individuals with handicaps will be explored in a 60-minute program on rehabilitation services in Greater Boston on Monday, August 19 at 9 p. m. on Station WGBH-TV.

The broadcast is one of Channel 2's Monday evening "Community Programs" and is being sponsored by the Rehabilitation Council of United Community Services of Metropolitan Boston.

Experts from Boston agencies will participate in a live investigation of the problems of physically handicapped children and adults. Edward B. Hanif, President of the Boston Dispensary, will narrate the program which features the following persons: Dr. Joseph K. Maloy, orthopedic surgeon, Boston Dispensary Rehabilitation Institute, New England Medical Center; Joseph Runci, of the Catholic Guild for the Blind, and Dr. Adam J. Sortini, director of the Speech and Hearing Clinic, Children's Medical Center.

Viewers will have an opportunity to observe a medical rehabilitation team consisting of a physician, orthopedic surgeons, psychiatrist, nurse, social worker, occupational and physical therapists and vocational counselor evaluate the rehabilitation progress of an industrial accident patient. His recovery to work was the result of the team of specialists working together. Dr. Maloy will describe several rehabilitation techniques using actual patient films taken during treatment.

The newly blind adult is exposed to a variety of rehabilitation techniques to teach him how to live in a world of sighted people. Fencing and kitchen instruction are two parts of the blind program to be presented on the television broadcast. The long white cane technique will also be explained by a member of St. Paul's staff.

A new method of testing the hearing of a deaf child using an apparatus called a psychogalvanometer skin reactor will be a highlight of the program focused on rehabilitation of deaf children. An actual hearing test will be made by Dr. Sortini and his clinic staff on the program which will be the first public showing of the equipment and its use. The effective use of hearing aids for babies and children will be demonstrated.

Massachusetts was the first New England state to launch a Tree Farm program.

VA HOSPITALS' ROLE IN NATIONAL CALAMITY

In a national disaster, Veterans Administration's 173 hospitals would make their personnel and facilities available to care for civilian casualties, regardless of veteran status, VA said today.

Mr. Arthur W. Harvey, Acting Manager of the VA Hospital at Bedford, Massachusetts, said VA is making disaster plans for using its hospital system to the fullest extent possible to meet community needs in cooperation with the Federal Civil Defense Administration.

In a national disaster, the VA Hospital would operate with guidance from local Civil Defense authorities, he said.

Mr. Harvey said the hospital has prepared a disaster plan for care of casualties from the community and for continued and effective operation of the station.

He said that an education and training program will begin in the near future to orient the staff in procedures for screening, routing, and caring for mass casualties.

He said VA hospitals also are prepared to render assistance to communities in natural disasters that affect areas of the nation, such as tornadoes and floods, when the President declares a major disaster area.

'57 PLATES FOR '58

INSTRUCTIONS FOR THOSE WANTING TO HOLD LOW NUMBERS

Nineteen hundred fifty-seven registration plates will be used again in 1958. The use of these plates will be validated by a windshield sticker.

New registration application blanks are absolutely necessary and will be distributed early in August. Registration applications for 1958 on any other application blanks will be refused. The new forms must be used. To those registrants for 1958 who are not in possession of registration plates, a separate series will be issued.

Low Numbers. Plates 1-10,000, K1-K1,000 and H1-H1,000. Blanks for the reserved low-numbered plates only will be mailed directly to the registrants concerned as soon as possible, together with special instructions.

These applications, properly filled out and accompanied by the required fee, must be returned to the Registry during the month of September in the envelopes provided, and preferably by mail.

Reserved Numbers. Plates 10,001-100,000, K1,001-K10,000 and H1,001-H10,000. Plates with five-figure numbers and those in the "K" and "H" series from 1,001 to 10,000 will be reassigned to present holders provided the applications for them, properly filled out and accompanied by the required fee, are received on or before Monday, October 14. Further requests, written or oral, for the reassignment of these numbers are not necessary. Please note date.

To insure reassignments of the same five-figure number plates to present holders, those registrants concerned should pay particular attention in answering question No. 5 on the application blank.

This question is of special importance to persons holding plates K1,001 to K10,000 and H1,001 to H10,000. Failure to prefix the letter "K" or "H" or the insertion of the wrong number will undoubtedly mean the loss of the number for 1958 to present holders of same.

Mail Registration. Registration applications, in general, from owners of motor vehicles holding number plates other than those mentioned previously will be received through the mail in the Boston office only, beginning Tuesday, October 1. No advantage is to be gained by filing such applications before October 1.

Registration certificates, windshield stickers, and plates, if required, which are applied for by mail, will be mailed during the latter part of November and in early December. Early registration will make more certain that a registrant will be legally on the road by January 1.

Counter Registration. The branch offices throughout the State and the Boston counter will accept registration applications beginning Monday, November 4.

Branch offices of the Registry are not equipped or personned for the mailing of registration certificates, windshield stickers or plates.

Excise Tax Warning. The responsibility is on the owner to see to it that the information contained in the application is correct and that he personally signs the blank. If the owner wishes to avoid the possibility of difficulty with his excise tax collector later on, he will insist on filling out the answers to Questions No. 1, 1A and 9 personally.

NEW SHOWROOM FOR ROELRIGE FENCE

A new showroom for the display of their extensive line of cedar fence and rustic furniture was opened this week by Roelrige Cedar Fence, Inc., in Walpole. The new display area, believed to be the largest of its type in New England, is located on Route 1 near Route 27, about seven miles south of Exit 57 on Route 128. The present fabricating plant at Main street (Route 1A) Walpole will be continued for both manufacturing and display. The new Route 1 space will be exclusively for display and sales purposes.

Starting about two years ago with a plant in Walpole, Roelrige Cedar Fence, Inc., has shown phenomenal growth as increasing numbers of property owners have purchased its attractive fence and furniture. Roelrige recently started to expand its sales activities to Winchester and vicinity and is currently advertising in the Winchester Star. A second plant at Burke, Vermont, where white cedar trees are processed into logs for easier transportation to Walpole has aided production materially so that deliveries of fence may be made locally within one week's time.

Roelrige makes three types of fence: stockade, post and rail and low hurdle, in varying heights and designs. The fence is made in eight and ten-foot sections for easy installation by do-it-yourself enthusiasts, or the fence may be erected by professional crews. Roelrige also manufactures outdoor tables, chairs, settees, swings, and other articles of rustic furniture suitable for patios, lawns, and shore or mountain cabins and lodges.

Bruces and Grahams in Father-Son Tie

Teams Met Yesterday To Resolve Deadlock

It isn't often that the famous Father-Son Golf Tournament staged annually by the Winchester Country Club ends in a tie. This year's tourney proved the exception and at the conclusion of the third day of competition two teams, Edgar and Barrie Bruce of Wenham and John F., and Kent Graham of Weston were all even with sub-par 71's.

The Grahams had to really play for their tie Thursday. As a matter of fact it took a birdie putt by the Senior Graham to turn the trick. Papa's putt was set up by a corkshot shot by son Kent, a 17-year-old Helron Academy senior, who belted one from over near the practice tee area to within a foot of the pin.

The Bruces turned in their 71 on Wednesday by taking advantage of each player's strength. Barrie, a 15-year-old Beverly high school junior hits a very long ball and is also a good approach putter. Papa Bruce, a Brookline High School teacher, is a good iron player. The only trouble the team experienced was at the home hole, and they were in too good position then to be damaged there.

Opening day honors went to George and Eddie Egan of Oakley, who fired a par 72 on Tuesday to finish in the van. Following are the Winchester scores.

Keeping Current... For Economy!

In the illustration above, you see a very happy man at a very wonderful moment.

The title, the keys and the car are his—and he's starting out on his first journey at the wheel.

Of course, there's not much doubt as to why he decided to purchase a new Cadillac.

Like everyone else who selects the "car of cars", he did it to "keep current", so to speak, on all of Cadillac's new miracles of performance and beauty and comfort.

But coming to Cadillac, as he did, at this particular time of the year, we also suspect that he was inspired by the added motive of practicality.

For in addition to the normal Cadillac economies of modest purchase price, low operating cost and high resale value—Cadillac dealers are, at this time, seasonally prepared to make Cadillac ownership even more attractive than ever.

Because of the demand for used cars and because of increased production of the Cadillac car itself, the odds are that this gentleman received both a generous allowance on his previous car and prompt delivery of his new Cadillac.

Have you considered how wonderful it would be to step into a Cadillac of your own? Then, you should pay your dealer a visit—spend an hour on the highway in the luxury of Fleetwood coachcrafting—and get the facts for yourself.

You'll agree, we know, that the car is Cadillac—and the time is now!

STATE LOSING OUT IN FEDERAL TAX RETURNS

Massachusetts pays $1.34 in taxes to the federal government for every $1.00 it receives in federal funds, according to a study being made by the new Massachusetts Commission on the Audit of State Needs. On the other hand, Alabama pays only 36 cents for every dollar it receives, and Arkansas gets a dollar for every 31 cents.

"Massachusetts ranks 10th in the nation in federal tax payments, paying over 2 billion dollars to the federal government last year," reports William J. Murphy, Research Associate on the Audit staff, "but we rank 37th in our return on the tax dollar, far behind the South and West. This means a much heavier tax burden on our state and local governments than would be the case if we received a more proportionate share of the money we have already contributed to the federal government."

Murphy is a former graduate fellow at Boston College and now on leave from his position as Assistant Professor of Economics and Statistics at Providence College.

"What these statistics mean," Murphy continued, "is that Massachusetts is suffering a continual drain on its resources to support federal projects in other parts of the country. Furthermore, these very federal programs—power development, rivers and harbors, transportation, and so on, are being used to build up states which are already competing with us, and attempting to take away our industries, capital, and engineering and managerial talent."

"For example," Murphy noted, "Congress has been appropriating over 500 million dollars a year for the development of river and harbor facilities. But Massachusetts, which pays over 3 per cent of federal taxes, gets less than one-half of one per cent of this money. Actually, with over 200 miles of coastline and vital shipping, fishing, and tourist industries, we should get much more."

LIONS CLUB NEWS

Plans have been made for the Winchester Lions Club to hold their weekly meeting on Monday nights at the Elks Hall, commencing Monday, September 9, 1957.

The move to the bigger quarters of the Elks Hall is part of the expansion program of the Lions Club. Since the reorganization and the granting of the new charter on July 13, 1954, the club had been holding their meetings at Randall's restaurant.

The Board of Directors at their August meeting discussed their Sight Conservation Program for the coming year. President Bob Shohet looks forward to a successful year as a result of the program planned for the coming year.

The Winchester Lions Club welcomes Frank Klayda and John Manning, its latest new members, into the organization. The Sight Conservation Fund Drive, a major project of the club, will start very soon. The committee is completing plans on it.

PROPOSAL FOR CONSTRUCTION OF PARK DEPARTMENT SERVICE BUILDING IN THE TOWN OF WINCHESTER, MASSACHUSETTS

Sealed proposals are invited by the Board of Park Commissioners, Winchester, Massachusetts, for the Town of Winchester for the construction of a service building located on Horn Pond Brook Road, Winchester, Massachusetts, in accordance with plans and specifications prepared by William A. Pollock, Braintree, Mass.

Proposals, plainly marked on the envelope, shall be delivered to the Office of the Board of Park Commissioners, Town Hall, Winchester, Massachusetts, on or before 8:00 P.M. EDST, Monday, August 26, 1957, at which time and place the proposals will be publicly opened and read.

A duplicate proposal also shall be delivered in person to the Town Clerk of Winchester, Massachusetts, before said date and time. Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check, made payable to the Town of Winchester, in the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00).

In the event the bidder to whom the award is made does not, within five (5) days, Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays excluded, execute the contract in accordance with his proposal, including satisfying the bonding company, his certified check shall be forfeited to the Town of Winchester.

Proposals for sub-bids must be filed with the Town Engineer at his Office, Town Hall, Winchester, Massachusetts, on or before 12:00 noon EDST, Tuesday, August 20, 1957, at which time sub-bid proposals will be publicly opened and read. Each sub-bid proposal shall be accompanied by a certified check, made payable to the Town of Winchester, in the sum set forth below:

Structural Steel and Miscellaneous Steel and Iron $100.00

Roofing and Flashing $100.00

Water Proofing $100.00

Lathing and Plastering $100.00

Painting $100.00

Plumbing $100.00

Heating and Ventilating $200.00

Electrical Work $100.00

All proposals, both bid and sub-bid, shall be in accordance with Section 44, Chapter 149 of the General Laws as amended, and on forms provided by the Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, available at the Office of the Town Engineer, Town Hall, Winchester, Massachusetts.

Said forms shall be fully filled out without changes, signed by legal signature of the bidder and/or sub-bidder and delivered and filed as stated above.

The Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, reserves the right to reject any or all bids and/or sub-bids if the Town of Winchester determines said bidder and/or sub-bidder the incompetent to perform the work as specified, or for reasonable cause. The Town of Winchester further reserves the right to accept any and award the contract to the bidder to whom it is in the best interests of the Town.

Attention is called to the fact that no less than the minimum wage rates as set forth in the schedule contained in the specifications must be paid on this project.

Plans and specifications may be obtained from the Town Engineer on or after Monday, August 12, 1957. A deposit of $5.00 will be required for each set. Said amount will be refunded upon return of the plans and specifications in good condition to the Town Engineer not later than one (1) week after the date of submitting bids.

MIDN. PAUL O'BRIEN

Standing a battle phone watch while on a summer training cruise aboard the heavy cruiser USS Des Moines, is Midn. 1/c Paul F. O'Brien, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. O'Brien of 5 Arthur street, and a student at Tufts College.

One thousand and six Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps midshipmen from 52 colleges and universities were scheduled to complete a month long training cruise August 7.

They left Norfolk, Va., July 8 aboard the heavy cruiser USS Des Moines, four destroyers, four radar picket destroyers, and six escort vessels. A five-day visit was made to Quebec, Canada, and four days were spent in Boston, Mass.

While at sea, the midshipmen were trained in seamanship, gunnery, engineering and navigation.

CAMP TONSET NEWS

John Donovan of 10 Ginn road who is spending the summer at Camp Tonset took part in the hotly contested baseball game between the Starboard and Port Teams.

Port won one by a score of 4 to 2; and Starboard, the team in which John is playing, won another by a score of 3 to 2.

A sand bar and sailing expedition to Nauset was greatly enjoyed as part of the water program. The boys were accompanied by their counselors Jay Hundley in the "Flying Saucer" and Franklin D. Roosevelt III, skippering the "Jolly Roger."

Sailing is one of the most popular sports in camp with every boy participating.

Pfc. David C. Curtis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Curtis of 53 Hutchins road, is in training with the 803rd Medical Group of the Army Reserve, in which he enlisted in Boston June 4, 1956. Previous to his enlistment he was a mechanic in the employ of the local Chevrolet distributors, Lannan-Ungerman of Woburn.

FRUIT AND FLOWER MISSION

On eleven Tuesday mornings this summer Winchester residents have worked together to fill the two large hampers for the Fruit and Flower Mission. There are six more Tuesdays for our gifts of flowers, fruit, cookies, tea bags, jellies, and other miscellaneous items that delight needy people in Boston. Never has there been a summer when gardens produced less; but people have been generous with what they had and, if no flowers have been available, have brought other interesting offerings.

So far, members of the Church of the Epiphany, the Unitarian, the Methodist, Baptist, St. Mary's, and Immaculate Conception Churches have served as weekly chairmen. We are grateful to all these women who have worked hard to fill the hampers.

For the next two Tuesdays the First Congregational Church representatives will be in charge—Mrs. Robinson Abbott and Miss Ruth Dustin. Telephone them at Winchester 6-2441 if you would like to have someone call for your flowers. Better still—come to the Winchester railroad station each Tuesday from 8:30 to 9:00 a. m. and see for yourself what pleasure a small effort on our part brings to others.

The Robert Metcalfs of Wildwood street are back in town after a vacation at Stratham Inn in Rockport.

GOODWILL REGIONAL INSTITUTE

The second annual regional institute of the Goodwill Industries of New England will be held Friday through Sunday, August 9-11, at the Morgan Memorial Goodwill Fresh Air Camp at South Athol.

There will be a series of workshops and discussions emphasizing professional techniques in working with handicapped people.

The three-day conference opens this Friday evening with registration and dinner, and closes Sunday following a morning worship with the Rev. John E. Barclay, pastor of the Church of All Nations of Boston, as minister.

A. L. INSTALLATION

On Saturday evening, August 17 at 8:00 p. m. in the Surrey Room of the Hotel Touraine in Boston, Department Commander John P. Swift of West Roxbury and his suite of officers will be installed by Junior Past Department Commander Robert F. Murphy of Winchester. The Co-Chairmen Dr. Thomas Powers and George Curtin of Boston announce that the Hamden County Degree Team will assist in this program.

Invitations have been sent to ranking dignitaries and American Legion Officials. Following the installation there will be dancing.

WINCHESTER PHYSICIAN TO VISIT
SCANDINAVIAN COUNTRIESDR. AND MRS. McMANUS SAILED TUESDAY FROM NEW YORK

Dr. and Mrs. Phillip J. McManus of Main street sailed Tuesday from New York on the M.S. Stockholm of the Swedish-American Line for the trip to Europe and the Scandinavian Peninsula.

En route Dr. and Mrs. McManus will stop in Ireland, for a day in Dublin and then go on to Scotland and Edinburgh for another day.

Boarding the Stockholm again, they will sail to Oslo, where the ship will serve as a hotel for its passengers. Sight-seeing trips to Denmark, Finland, Norway and Sweden have been arranged, and the McManuses and their fellow tourists will visit historic shrines and outstanding beauty spots in these lands of the north.

The tourists will return to their suites on the Stockholm each night or every 48 hours. Dr. and Mrs. McManus plan to be away two months, then return to New York, on the same M.S. Stockholm.

THANKS TO THE PARK DEPT.

On behalf of all participants in the Town Softball League, Director Frank Provizano wishes to extend many thanks to Chairman James Coon, Superintendent Babe Mullens and all members of the Park Department for their splendid cooperation and fine work in keeping the playing areas in such excellent condition throughout the season. All connected with the program found conditions for play most satisfying.

Last but far from least, it should be mentioned that all who took part in the playing of softball were most appreciated. There were eight teams consisting of an 18-man roster so including coaches and managers the Park Department provided a program enjoyed tremendously by approximately 180 participants plus the various numbers of those attending the games during the season. We should feel proud of all that is done for us and we certainly are, from all of us in the League, to you on the Park Board, we extend our sincere thanks.

This year is over but next season will be on us before we know it so if you have been on the sidelines this year but wanted to be a part of the action, now is the time to think about it. Get on a team or form your own. Do it now!

It would not be fair to close this note without thanking the Winchester Star for the weekly notes about the Softball League and the Playgrounds. Through its cooperation we were able to tell the public what was taking place. It certainly was a job well done, and again, thanks to the Star from all of us!

WINCHESTER MOTORS HAS FURTHER DAMAGE

An additional complaint came in to the police station on Monday from Winchester Motors. The first complaint was a car which was broken into last week.

On Monday, a 1957 black and cream colored ranch wagon had a rear window broken by a sand colored brick. The damage took place while the car was parked in the Cullen lot at the corner of Main and Richardson streets.

SCHOOL NOTICE

The guidance office in the High School will be open Thursday, August 29 and Friday, August 30, to help new students set up their programs for the year.

Elementary Schools will register all pupils not previously registered on Wednesday, September 4th.

HARRY A. PYE

Harry A. Pye, retired Telephone Company engineer and father of Mrs. Helen Norton of 41 Dunster lane, died Tuesday night at the Highland Rest Home in Somerville. For many years a resident of Arlington he had divided his time between the home of his daughter in Winchester and that of another daughter, Mrs. Edith Johnson in Danvers. He had been in failing health for more than a year.

Mr. Pye was the son of James A. and Catherine (Leonard) Pye. He was born September 17, 1880, at Prince Edward Island, Canada, coming to this country in 1901. For 48 years, until his retirement, he was an engineer for the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company, in this capacity taking a leading part in the installation of dial phones in the Boston area. He was a member of the Telephone Pioneers.

Mr. Pye's wife, the former Florence, died in 1950. He leaves two daughters, three great-grandchildren, and a brother, Bertram Pye of Allston.

Burial was held this Friday morning from the Bennett Chapel with requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church. Burial was in Wildwood Cemetery.

LEONARD BEACH VIOLATION

Tuesday afternoon the lifeguard at Leonard Beach reported to police that two boys refused to leave when requested. The boys had violated the rules of the beach.

A police officer went to the beach and the boys were ordered to leave.

OBSERVED

55th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Retired Fire Chief David H. DeCourcy and Mrs. DeCourcy observed their 55th wedding anniversary Tuesday of this week at their home on Westley street. No formal observance was planned but neighbors and friends gathered at their home in the evening to extend congratulations to the former chief and his lady, and to shower them with anniversary gifts.

A feature of the anniversary observance was the presence at the party of Robert "Bob" McGuinity of Grand Blanc, Mich., an old Winchester boy and young man, who was Chief DeCourcy's best man at his wedding.

Chief and Mrs. DeCourcy were married August 20, 1903, in the old St. Mary's Rectory on Eaton street by Rev. Thomas P. McManmon. They have spent their entire married life in Winchester, both being well known to older residents of the town.

Chief DeCourcy spent many years in the service of the Fire Department, commencing as a member of the famous company of the old hand-drawn Hose 3 cart on Swanton street. He later drove horse-drawn Hose 3, and after service as fire engineer and fire warden, commencing in 1907, he was made Chief of the Department March 22, 1913, continuing in that capacity until his retirement June 6, 1942. He was well known in State and New England Fire Department circles and at one time served as president of the New England Fire Chiefs Association.

Chief and Mrs. DeCourcy have two children, Harold E., chief of the Fire Department at the Bedford Airport, and Mrs. Leonard Hurley of this town. There are five grandchildren.

The Star is pleased to add its special anniversary congratulations to those of the DeCourcys' many friends.

SERVING AS VICE CHAIRMAN

Dick Bingham, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Bingham of 10 Harrison street, as vice president of Nu Chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi, a fraternity for business students at B. U., is serving as vice chairman of the committee planning for the annual Northeast District Conference of the fraternity to be held in Boston during October. Dick is also a member of the Boston University tennis team.

UNION SUMMER SERVICE

The First Baptist Church, corner Mt. Vernon and Washington streets, cordially invites you and your friends to attend the Union Summer Service, Sunday morning, August 25, at ten o'clock. Rev. Walter Lee Bailey will speak on "The Motives That Master Us."

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES

The following cases of contagious diseases were reported for week ending Wednesday, August 21:

OBSERVES 91st BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Mary J. Delorey of North Woburn observed her 91st birthday August 18 with a family party at her home. A native of Newfoundland, Mrs. Delorey lived many years in Winchester and is well known here. Among her seven children are Mrs. Dorothy Lord of the Star office and Mrs. Everett Kimball of Winchester. Mrs. Delorey has 20 grandchildren and 31 great-grandchildren.

"CHURCH" IS BACK!

Dr. J. Churchill Hinds, retired dentist and "Grand Old Man of the Square," returned home yesterday after spending the summer at his old home in Vergennes, Vt.

"Doc" looked right in the pink when he checked in at the Star office at noon and his report of his trip back was of more than passing interest.

Instead of his usual ride back by train, "Doc" got a real break in running into a young man near his home who was driving on to Winchester for a wedding this week end. He was glad of "Doc" as a traveling companion, as who wouldn't be, and the pair set sail yesterday morning to make the 200-mile trip south.

Two-hundred-mile trips are no novelty to "Church," but this one was a bit on the unusual side, due to the fact that it was made in a Hillman "Mimx" and it was "Doc's" first encounter with a miniature automobile.

He was quite impressed, said the little feller, who best from 50 to 55 miles an hour, but would, and did go faster. As for mileage, well, we won't attempt to give you the exact figures. According to "Doc" they made the entire 200 miles on about a teacup of gas, but we had a feeling he exaggerated. You know that gleam he gets in his eye!

WILLIAM D. EATON

William D. Eaton of 3 Foxcroft road, died Friday, August 16, at the age of 78. He was associated with the S. S. Pierce Company of Boston for 46 years, and following his retirement in 1952, continued as a director of the company.

Born February 27, 1879, in Revere, Mr. Eaton graduated from Harvard with the class of 1902. He had made his home in Winchester since 1910.

Mr. Eaton is survived by his wife, Edith Shurtliff; a son, Charles S. Eaton; a daughter, Mrs. James F. Dwinell, Jr.; a brother, Charles N. Eaton; and a sister, Mrs. Charles E. Young, all of Winchester.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Unitarian Church with the minister, Rev. Robert A. Storer, officiating. Burial was in Woodlawn Cemetery, Everett.

MRS. BUELAH BARTON

Mrs. Beulah Barton, mother of Mrs. Edgar C. Thompson of 273 Forest street, died Saturday, August 17, at the home of her daughter and son-in-law.

Mrs. Barton was the wife of the late John Barton of Allston. She was born in Somerville in May, 1890. She had made her home with her daughter and son-in-law for about six weeks before her death. Previously, she was employed at Raytheon Manufacturing Company. She was a member of the Allston Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary and the Allston Baptist Church.

Besides her daughter, Barbara, she leaves a son, Forrest Patnode of Bethel, Conn., and a sister, Gladys Stewart, of 29 Grove street.

The funeral was held at the Short and Williamson Chapel in Allston. Interment was at Woodlawn Cemetery in Everett.

EDITORIALS

This business of riding bikes out of Thompson street into Main street should be stopped right off before some youngster gets badly hurt or worse and some motorist gets into trouble with the registry office.

People driving along Main street toward the Parkway have plenty to watch without looking out for boys or girls on bikes whizzing out of Thompson street, riding the wrong way on a one-way street. The same goes for U-turns by automobiles at the Main street-Thompson street intersection.

Both these practices seem to be reviving after a long lapse. They should be halted summarily.

Chatting this week with "Bill" West, one of Winchester's very greatest football players and a regular in the West Point backfield that included "Doc" Blanchard and Glen Davis, we were pleased to learn of the esteem in which Winchester athletic teams, especially football, are held wherever people know about the records they have been making.

West has recently returned from two years in Germany. Previously before leaving the service he had been with the Army during the fighting in Korea. Everywhere he has been, after mentioning Winchester as his home town, people have said, "Oh! That's where they have those great football teams!"

A glance at the record will substantiate the statement that Winchester has had some great football teams, a lot of them, in fact. Year in and year out the local school has been among the leaders in its class, a team that each opponent it plays against guns for and does its very best to beat. Such is always the lot of a top team in its field.

Despite this opposition and the fact that Winchester is on the average a smaller school than those with which it regularly competes, the Indians have won far more than they have lost, have enjoyed unbeaten seasons and have won state championships.

This success didn't just happen. It is the result of the functioning of the football system installed years ago by Coach Knowlton which keeps up to one hundred boys playing competitive football each fall, each group competing against teams in its respective class.

The system is no insecure. It has to be worked at, and to have intelligent and expert direction. Winchester's football success stems down from Coach Knowlton, not up from the boys. Sports followers generally, we believe, appreciate this fact. It is to be hoped that the school authorities share this appreciation. There is no place in the entire school system where the right kind of leadership is more important than in the field of sports.

Recent notes in the Star of the summer playground activities have emphasized the good time the playground youngsters have had under the program provided for them by the Park Department. They have also stressed the relatively few boys and girls who have availed themselves of the opportunity for safe play and other recreational activities at the various fields.

There are probably a number of factors entering into this disappointing attendance. Many Winchester families go away for the summer. There are also many local boys and girls who go to summer camp each year. Not a few youngsters enjoy the facilities of the Boat Club, and others, whose families are members, spend their time at the Country Club.

Aside from these groups mentioned there are, however, a lot of boys and girls who do not participate in the recreational program provided at the playgrounds. This is unfortunate, for the Park Department, with a budget of $88,886 at the last town meeting, is spending quite a little of that figure on playgrounds and beaches, for supervisors, care and equipment. Perhaps we ought to check and see why more youngsters don't seem to want to play on our playgrounds.

It may seem a strange way to increase playground attendances, but it could be that more youngsters would go to the fields if the police would start cracking down on playing in the streets about town. There are streets in town, many quite near to playgrounds, where motorists have to stop to avoid striking kids on bikes and afoot, while a pedestrian has to tread warily lest he or she get struck by a stoutly battled or carelessly flung ball.

Aside from the wear and tear on windows and adjacent grounds and shrubs, to say nothing of the din kicked up by the players, there is the safety of those playing in the streets to consider. Regulations forbidding the playing of ball in the streets were made, not so much for the benefit of adults living nearby as to protect the children themselves from possible injury or even death by being struck by an automobile.

The streets are definitely no place for baseball or other quick-moving games, or for any general youthful activity. Perhaps more of our youngsters would use the playgrounds the taxpayers provide if they were not allowed to play in the streets. It might be worth a try to see!

For Captain O'Leary it was the 13th time the oath has been administered to him, commencing his 25th year of service in the State Police, during which he has served in all parts of the state and with each of the four troops, A, B, C and D Troops.

APPOINTED EASTERN DISTRICT
SALES MANAGER

J. E. Schlener of 22 Allen road has been appointed eastern district sales manager of the Semiconducting Division of Sylvania Electric Products Inc., it has been announced by Ernest H. Uim, division general sales manager.

Mr. Schlener joined Sylvania's Electronics Division in 1952 as government sales representative and became merchandising manager in the fall of the following year. He continued in this post for the Semiconducting Division following the organization of the division and the company's Special Tube Operations from the Electronics Division late in 1956. In his new assignment, his office remains at division headquarters in Woburn.

For six years before coming to Sylvania, Mr. Schlener was with the Glenn L. Martin Co., his last position being administrative assistant to the chief electronics engineer. During World War II, he served in the U. S. Navy. He is a member of the Institute of Radio Engineers.

Mr. Schlener is married and is the father of three children.

To Head New Mission to Morocco

Seager, ICA Regional Official

Cedric H. Seager, formerly of Winchester, ICA regional director for the Near East and South Asia, has been appointed director of the U. S. Operations Mission to Morocco, it was announced today.

As director of the mission, which was established last April, Mr. Seager will administer the U. S. economic and technical cooperation program provided for under an agreement signed with Morocco on April 2. Thus far, the program has included a $20 million loan for the purchase of consumable commodities, whose sale in Morocco is generating local currency to be used in development projects there, and a grant of 50,000 tons of wheat to alleviate food shortages.

Mr. Seager, who has been associated with U. S. foreign economic programs since 1947, has been Regional Director for more than two years. As ICA's representative, he accompanied Ambassador James P. Richards, President Eisenhower's special envoy to the Near East, last spring on his historic fact-finding canvass of the Near East-Africa area in connection with the "Eisenhower Doctrine."

On his return from that mission in May, Mr. Seager went on a special mission to Jordan and Iraq, at the request of the Department of State. He participated in conferences there on Jordan's financial condition and that country's future economic welfare, as well as other high-level discussions.

In May 1956, he was U. S. delegate to the economic conference of the Baghdad Pact nations in Tehran, when the United States joined the Economic Committee of the Pact as a full member.

Mr. Seager was a member of the American Mission for Aid to Greece in 1947, when the United States aided that country in its decade against the Communists. Since then, he has held various posts with the Economic Cooperation Administration (ECA), which administered the Marshall Plan, the Technical Cooperation Administration, and their successor agencies, the Foreign Operations Administration and the present ICA, involving economic and technical programs in the Near East.

Born in Istanbul, Turkey, Mr. Seager was educated at the American Mission School and in England. He has had wide experience in the Near East as an Army officer, businessman and writer as well as a government official.

He served for 15 years as director and board chairman of Walter Seager and Co., Ltd., a shipping and export firm operating in Turkey and Greece which was founded by his father.

From 1935 to 1942, he was a free lance writer and lecturer on Middle East affairs. During World War II, Mr. Seager was U. S. Military Attaché in Istanbul and attained the rank of lieutenant colonel. Toward the end of the war he supervised the evacuation of Allied prisoners of war from Bulgaria and organized early relief of U. S. POW's repatriated through Russia.

He was an assistant director for Trans World Airlines in the Middle East for two years following the war and left this firm in 1947 when he began his work with U. S. overseas economic programs.

Mr. Seager, who now resides at 6314 33rd street, N. W. in Washington, is married to the former Mary Gertrude Packer, daughter of the late Rev. and Mrs. William S. Packer, formerly of Yale street. They have two children, Walter, who attends Hobart College, and a daughter, Mrs. Ian R. Wookley of Toronto, Canada, and three grandchildren.

The new Mission Director, after a visit with his daughter in Toronto, will sail August 30 for his post in Rabat. His wife will follow as soon as he can find a suitable house, picking up his mother, Mrs. E. B. Seager, in London.

Mr. Seager plans to be in Washington briefly in November during the visit of the Sultan of Morocco.

Mr. Seager, who now resides at 6314 33rd street, N. W. in Washington, is married to the former Mary Gertrude Packer, daughter of the late Rev. and Mrs. William S. Packer, formerly of Yale street. They have two children, Walter, who attends Hobart College, and a daughter, Mrs. Ian R. Wookley of Toronto, Canada, and three grandchildren.

Marine Sgt. and Mrs. Elmer J. Veitch, Jr., (Virginia Farrar) of Moorehead City, North Carolina, announce the birth of their fourth child, first son, on August 16 in Moorehead City. The 69 year-old Mr. Charles Farrar, formerly of Winchester and now living in Moorehead City, and Mrs. Elmer Veitch of Bessmer, Ala.

Golfing Honor to Miss Woodcock

Winchester Girl Wins
WGAM Junior Title

Donna Woodcock, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Woodcock of 12 Sussex road, won the Junior Girls Championship of the Worcester Golf Association last Friday at Hatherly, defeating Mary Ellen Igou, daughter of Jack Igou, golf professional at the Wellesley Country Club, in the final round of competition, 4 and 3.

TO COLLECT INFORMATION ON POLIO SHOTS

Special questions will be asked in the August Current Population Survey to find out how many persons have received polio immunizations shots and how many expect to receive them, according to Supervisor James W. Turbitt, of the Census Bureau's regional office in Boston, Mass., which will participate in the survey.

This information is being collected by the Census Bureau for the U. S. Public Health Service to obtain an overall estimate of persons already immunized and to help estimate future needs for vaccine. The special questions will be asked of persons aged 14 and over, age covered in the Current Population Survey, including children under 14.

The special questions on polio immunization shots will be in addition to the usual inquiries on employment and unemployment which are asked each month in the Current Population Survey which is conducted on a sample basis throughout the country.

The championship tournament was a week-long affair, commencing with a qualifying round at medal play on Tuesday. Match play followed the qualifying round with Miss Woodcock winning her way into the championship bracket by defeating Kitty Ray of Weston in the semi-finals.

Miss Woodcock, as the result of her victory, received the handsome trophy donated in 1930 by the former National Title Holder Margaret Curtis. Donna's name will be inscribed on the trophy and will be in very select company there. The trophy will be hers to hold for a year, and in addition she received a handsome, suitably inscribed silver bowl which is hers permanently.

Donna is a student at Winchester High School where she will commence her junior year in September. In addition to golf she plays field hockey and was captain of the high school jay-vee team last year. The Woodcock family club is Meadowbrook. Donna learned her golf there and plays the course regularly. Tex McReynolds, pro at Winchester, formerly held a similar post at Meadowbrook and had Donna among his pupils at the Reading club.

TOWN SOFTBALL LEAGUE

The Town Softball League championship series just ended and it was the most exciting and hardest played series held in the past several years.

The series had to go the five games to declare a champion and the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's church clinched the winner's trophy in the final contest. Despite several "rhubarb" encountered during the series, you could not witness a more satisfying ending so far as the sportsmanship of the players of both teams was concerned.

At the termination of the series both teams met to pat each other on the back and each and every one of them certainly deserved high praise. They even congratulated the umpires for a job well done, even though there were many "Lippy Leo" acts.

All agreed that the small things that occurred in the games were big ones, due to the pressure and excitement on the part of the players.

What more can we ask? There were large numbers of spectators at the games and the final contest found "standing room only" which proved that interest in softball is high, and growing. If you were one who missed the playoffs, all that can be said is that you certainly missed plenty of good action.

Holy Name won the first meeting 10-6, Sons of Italy took the second one 12-10. The third game was a drawn contest ending in a 7-7 tie. The fourth encounter was won by Sons of Italy 5-1, the fifth game went to Holy Name, 4-3, and the deciding game was won 9-3 by Holy Name to take the championship trophy for the second successive year.

You read about the first two games in last week's columns, so the following will take you through the remaining games.

Last Wednesday, Sons of Italy was the home team and in Holy Name's first time at bat, it scored three quick runs on three hits. Lou Farrell, Ken Donaghey and Joe DiLorio hit safely while all three also scored the runs. For the Sons of Italy "Woody" Giacalone and Sam Tibaldo reached on singles but "Woody" scored the only run of the inning.

In the second inning both teams went down in order. Holy Name repeated this in the third while the S.O.I. crossed pay dirt twice on two walks and a single. Tony Lucchi singled for Holy Name in the fourth but did not get beyond third.

In this same inning the S.O.I. tallied four runs on three walks and one hit to make the 7-3 in favor of the S.O.I. Holy Name came back in the fifth inning to add two runs on two walks and a single and they now trailed 7-5.

The S.O.I. had three up and three down in the fifth and with the S.O.I.

leading 7-5 going into the last inning, Holy Name's R. Farrell walked and Lou Farrell walked to load the bases.

Ken Donaghey was then walked to force in R. Farrell and Serieka flied out to center with Fields coming in after the catch with the tying run. The Sons of Italy were held to no hits and no runs in the last of the final frame and with the score tied at 7-7 the game was called because of darkness.

The tie game was replayed the following night with the S.O.I. on top 5-1 at the end of the game. "Maxie" DeMambro pitched for S.O.I. and allowed four hits. Jocko Serieka one in the third and fourth and Jackie Fields got one in the fifth. "Maxie" pitched no more than four batters in the entire game for any one inning.

Serieka scored the only run in the second for Holy Name after getting his first hit, stole second, went to third on an error and finally stole home.

The S.O.I. had a big second inning when they scored three runs. Sam Tibaldo walked as did Bob Fiore, Richie Bucci reached on a fielder's choice which erased Sam from the base paths.

Paul Amico then singled to score Bob Fiore, Charlie sacrificed and Bucci doubled to score Bucci and Amico. The fifth and final run came for the S.O.I. in the sixth when Sam Tibaldo was walked for his third time in the game. Bucci doubled to score Tibaldo with the fifth run.

On Friday night Holy Name tied the series at two games each by taking this game 4-3. The S.O.I. was first to bat and Giacalone opened the game by walking. Richie Bucci hit a double to score Giacalone with the first run. The next three batters went down in order.

The three first batters for Holy Name grounded out to end the first frame. Mel Fiore opened the second for S.O.I. with a single but he was thrown out. Bob Fiore's fielder's choice, Bob Fiore then scored on Tony Chefal's single.

In the bottom of the second Holy Name crossed twice to make the score 2-2. Johnny Farrell reached on an error and scored on Joe DiLorio's single to center. Joe then was knocked in by Don Kenton's single.

Both teams went down in order in the third. In the fourth for the S.O.I., Bob Fiore walked as did Hokie Procopio and Bob reached pay dirt on Chefal's grounder. For Holy Name, Joe DiLorio got an infield hit but did not get beyond second.

Both teams had three up and three down in the fifth. In the sixth Holy Name scored its third run to tie the score at 3-3.

Bill Murphy doubled and scored on Don Kenton's second hit in the game. The S.O.I. went hitless and scoreless in the last but Holy Name got its winning run in the frame when Jackie Fields opened with a triple to right and came in on Serieka's single to end the game.

The final game of the crucial series was played on Monday evening at Ginn Field. The bleachers were filled with fans and they were also sitting on the wall in right field and standing along the river on the opposite side of the wall. This was the deciding game and Holy Name won it 9-3.

Holy Name went down in order for the first three frames with

PLAYGROUND NOTES

Today is the final day of the playground season and Supervisor Frank Provinzano, on behalf of the instructors and all youngsters taking part in the programs wishes to thank chairman James Coon and the members of the Park Board for making it possible to have such facilities open to the youngsters during the "no school" season.

It is just too bad that more youngsters do not take advantage of the opportunities offered during these months of free play. The best of play areas and play equipment is available but the number of youngsters making use of these things are a little on the disappointing side.

It is true that there are other interests, there is the hot and dry weather, going off to camp and summer residences but there must be more youngsters who could register on the playgrounds but do not.

Let's register them early next summer and keep them attending. There is no safer place and better place than being on the playgrounds during play hours.

This past week the Junior and Intermediate baseball teams enjoyed competing against each other while the Arts and Crafts Department was in full swing. For the past week and a half a window in Hevey's Drug Store displayed the items made in Arts and Crafts by the youngsters and you should have made it a point to see them.

It should be mentioned again that many youngsters did not enter the items made by them as they gave them away as gifts. The items made were just fine and a wonderful time was had in the making of them.

So until next year, thanks to all of you who took part in the program.

Miss Suzanne Mitchell of 45 High street is a candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Arts at the summer commencement of Miami University, Oxford, O., on Wednesday morning, August 28.

FOOTBALL STARTS SEPT. 2

Winchester High School will commence its 1957 football season on September 2 when Head Coach Henry Knowlton will meet candidates for the eleven at a practice session at 9:00 a. m. on Manchester Field. Though school does not commence until September 5 the Headmasters' rules under which Winchester operates permit practice sessions after September 1, which this year falls on Sunday.

Coach Knowlton has arranged scrimmages with Medford, Somerville, Malden Catholic and Watertown High Schools, commencing September 10, and believes that going against teams of this caliber should separate the men from the boys well in advance of the season's opener with Concord at Concord September 28.

Concord, always a particularly tough early season club, gave the Indians one of their two reverses of the 1956 season, and Coach Knowlton and his warriors are out for revenge this fall.

MR. AND MRS. DANIEL J. O'SULLIVAN
O'SULLIVAN — CULLEN

White gladiolus decorated the altar of St. Mary's Church on Saturday morning, August 3, when Miss Maureen Frances Cullen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Cullen of 19 Kenwin road, was married there to Daniel J. O'Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis O'Sullivan of 11 Wellington road, Medford. Rev. John M. Manion, pastor of St. Mary's, read the double-ring service at 10 o'clock and was also celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed.

Rev. Herbert K. A. Driscoll, pastor of the Immaculate Conception Church; Rev. Joseph Kierce, former curate at that church; and Rev. John Hutchins were seated in the sanctuary. The bridegroom was played by Miss Marie Ryan and George Nelson, uncle of the bride, was soloist.

Miss Cullen was given in marriage by her father. She wore a three tiered floor length gown of white embroidered eyelet organdy over silk, with a scalloped neckline and short scalloped sleeves. Her fingertip veil fell from a headpiece of embroidered eyelet organdy studded with seed pearls and she carried a white orchid-covered missal with a white orchid and streamers of stephanotis.

Mrs. Maureen Curran of Quincy was her cousin's honor attendant, and bridesmaids were Miss Katharine Shea of Dorchester, Miss Marie Bruno of Winchester, and Miss Dorothy Foley and Miss Patricia McMarrow, both of Woburn.

The honor attendant wore a ballerina length dress of white organdy trimmed with embroidery to match the pale yellow cummerbund she wore. Her picture hat was white organdy with pale yellow streamers and she carried a basket of flowers tied with matching yellow ribbon.

The bridesmaids wore white organdy dresses like that of the honor attendant with matching white organdy hats. Each wore a different colored cummerbund of orchid, pink, powder blue and Nile green, with matching hat streamers, and ribbons of the same shades tied their baskets of flowers.

Dennis O'Sullivan of Medford was best man for his brother, and ushering were Donald Cullen of Winchester, brother of the bride; James McColgan, Arthur Cafarella and Ray Gagnon, all of Medford.

A reception for 255 wedding guests was held after the ceremony at the Hillview Country Club in North Reading. Parents of both the bride and bridegroom assisted in receiving with the members of the bridal party.

Mrs. Cullen, mother of the bride, wore a waltz length gown of powder blue silk organza with appliques of white and seed pearls. Her picture hat and shoes matched her gown and she wore an orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. O'Sullivan, wore a waltz-length gown of dusty rose silk organza trimmed with sequins and seed pearls. She too wore an orchid and matching hat and shoes.

As she left for a brief wedding journey with her husband, Mrs. O'Sullivan wore a pink cotton sheath embroidered all over with rose buds. A pink hat to match her gown, white pumps and bag and a white orchid completed her ensemble.

After Mr. O'Sullivan's discharge from the Army at Fort Dix in November he and Mrs. O'Sullivan will enjoy a belated honeymoon in Florida. Upon their return they will make their home either in Winchester or Boston.

The bride, a graduate of St. Charles High School in Woburn, is a church soloist, having studied under Dr. E. Brown and at the New England Conservatory of Music. She is planning to continue with her duties in the engineering department of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company after marriage.

Mr. O'Sullivan is a graduate of Malden Catholic High School and had his studies at the New England College of Pharmacy interrupted by his Army service. He plans to complete his Pharmacy course after his discharge in November.

CAR DAMAGED AT WINCHESTER MOTORS

Edward Olsen at Winchester Motors called police Friday to report damage done the night before to one of the company's cars. Sometime after business hours, someone smashed a window vent on the left side of a Studebaker sedan and removed two arm rests.

WEST HOME FROM GERMANY

"Bill" West, one of Winchester High's all time gridiron greats, who later played in the West Point backfield with such stars as "Doc" Blanchard and "Glen" Davis, visited the Star on Tuesday looking for his former coach, "Hennie" Knowlton, and a chance to talk over high school football prospects.

"Bill" recently returned to the United States after a two-year stay in Germany where he represented the Chrysler Corporation in the army tank field. After a family reunion at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John D. West of North Reading, formerly of Winchester, "Bill" left for New York Wednesday to pick up his German Porsche, a speedy sports car, and drive on to his new headquarters in Detroit.

The former high school star back, who captained Winchester's undefeated, untied State championship eleven of 1942, limited his football activity in Germany to coaching an American school team at Stuttgart. He did play hockey on an American team in Germany and looked to be in fine shape physically.

Weighing 195 pounds, right around his best playing weight, "Bill" admitted regretfully that he guessed his football playing days are over. Winchester people he ran into while abroad included "Pat" Kaknes, Ed Hicks and John Albree.

POSTAL RATES

The House finally passed the postal rate increase bill August 13, 1957. The provision containing an exemption from any increase for newspapers with circulations of 5,000 and under was retained.

First class mail rates were raised from three to four cents. Second class rates would increase sixty per cent in three annual increases of fifteen per cent each. The House rejected an amendment to abolish third class so called "junk mail."

An amendment to impose a drastic postage increase on this type of mail was voted. The House also approved another amendment to limit the so-called subsidy to any one user of second-class mail to $100,000 a year.

The bill now goes to the Senate where an effort probably will be made to either link it to a pay bill or send it directly to the floor, bypassing the Senate Post Office Committee and hearings.

There is a possibility there will be no further action on it until next year. Congress should be adjourning soon if final agreement on civil rights is attained. The rate increase is supposed to be effective October 1, 1957.

ACCIDENT ON HIGHLAND AVENUE

An accident on Highland avenue last Saturday resulted in damage to two automobiles. Mrs. Frances Brace of 319 Highland avenue was driving north on Highland and was signaling for a left turn when a car approached from the south. Mrs. Brace stopped and was struck by a car in back of her.

William P. Shaw of 105 Lonsdale street, Dorchester, was the driver of the car which hit the Brace auto. The trunk of the Brace car was pushed in and there was considerable damage to Mr. Shaw's car.

Mrs. Brace was able to drive her automobile away from the scene.

BOAT CLUB NEWS

REGATTA LABOR DAY WEEKEND

The annual Winchester Boat Club Snipe Fleet Invitational Regatta—a series of 2 Snipe class sail boat races is scheduled to be held on Saturday, August 31 and Sunday, September 1. As in the past, about a dozen visiting skippers are expected, the majority of them from Lake Quassapog in Connecticut. This should make for a very exciting and enjoyable weekend except for one sour note—sour to lobster lovers, that is.

Because of the Regatta the annual Labor Day Clam Bake has been cancelled. Instead, on Saturday evening, there will be a catered chicken barbecue on the lawn of course—with a really terrific menu. Better pick up your tickets right away—sale will be limited.

Club Chatter

Tommy Legere widened his lead over Herby Alderson by scoring a first and a second over the weekend while Herb had a first and a fourth. Doctor Dillon deserves a nice round of applause for the fine pictures and delightful dialogue he supplied at last Thursday evening's Buffet Supper.

COMPLETES UNIQUE COURSE AT WESLEYAN

John M. Bradley of 4 Highland View avenue, a teacher at Medford High School, recently completed a unique six weeks summer course at the Graduate Summer School for teachers at Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn.

The course allows teachers and school administrators to extend their general education by indulging in a broad area of study in the liberal arts and sciences rather than doing the traditional master's degree work in a single subject.

Mr. Bradley, a graduate of the University of New Hampshire, is a recipient of a National Science Foundation Stipend to attend the Wesleyan Summer School.

BEING INDOCTRINATED AT ANNAPOLIS

Four Winchester boys, Joseph M. Bellino, Christopher O. Nichols, Frank Dattilo, III, and Alfred C. Doherty, Jr., are receiving indoctrination at the U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md., in advance of the regular academic year.

Bellino, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michele Bellino of 43 Swanton street, is a graduate of Winchester High and Columbian Preparatory School, who entered the Academy on a Secretary of the Navy appointment.

Nichols is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen G. Nichols of 49 Oxford street. A graduate of Winchester High School, he entered the Academy on a Congressional appointment.

Dattilo is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dattilo, Jr., of 12 Park road. He graduated from Winchester High and Columbian Preparatory School, and entered the Academy on a Naval Reserve appointment.

Doherty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Doherty of 17 Sargent road, is a graduate of Winchester High School. He entered the Academy on a Congressional appointment. Members of the fourth, or "plebe" class, will begin regular classes September 5, and are scheduled to graduate in 1961.

SAFETY TIP: Bumper-to-bumper driving can be a nerve-wracking experience. It takes a firm hand on the wheel, complete control of the vehicle and a cool head to cope with some of today's traffic problems. Keep your distance and keep your temper when you're driving in traffic, advises the Triple-A.

The Other Side of the Hill

Cute, aren't they? And so full of great expectations as they climb the hill to see what's on the other side! In all likelihood, they'll be climbing hills for a long time to come. But will they always have great expectations?

That depends, very largely, on you! They must be taught what to look for. And they must be taught the meaning of what they see.

That's where you come in! Their future depends on how well you show them the place God must have in their lives. Their future depends on the way you relate them to His purposes. To help them see what is on the other side of the hill, share your faith with them by worshipping God together every week in your church... every day in your home.

The Answer Is God!

LIFE LINES

TRUE PATRIOTISM

by Col. Ralph T. Miller

The Salvation Army
Daniel Webster once said, "God grants liberty only to those who love it, and are ready to guard and defend it."

The history of our country proves that freedom, our most precious heritage, must be re-won in every generation. There is always a battle to fight, a victory to win.

Patriots have never hesitated to risk, and often to give their lives in the defense of freedom. For they know that without freedom, life would be intolerable.

Benjamin Franklin said, "Where liberty dwells, there is my country." It is related that when John Adams was dying on the 4th of July, he heard cannons being fired in celebration of Independence Day. His last words were: "Independence forever."

Do we have an enemy to face to face? Does danger confront us? Yes, we certainly have the menace of world Communism.

But more dangerous even than that is the enemy of domestic crime and juvenile delinquency. It is disturbing to know that the F.B.I. has on file the fingerprints of six million known criminals.

We cannot hope to win victory over foreign enemies unless we can win victories at home. The victories at home should be won in the home. It is only when the parents of America take the lead, and set godly examples for their children, that juvenile delinquency and crime may be banished.

The new precision Mile-O-Graph mileage measurer, used by navigators and motorists, $1.95. Winchester Star, Star Building.

HUNT FOR AFRICA'S LITTLE BIG GAME AMONG GEOGRAPHIC'S NEW EXPEDITIONS

An expedition to hunt Africa's tiniest big game has as its goal the treetops of the Congo. The safari's quarry is insects. Equipped with cameras and microscopes, scientists will stalk and study an order of little-known, silk-spinning emblems. The secretive but lively creatures live mostly on tree trunks in elaborate silken galleries.

"These remarkable insects long have been neglected by entomologists," said Dr. Edward S. Ross, expedition leader and curator of entomology at the California Academy of Sciences. "As a result very little study material is available, even in the largest museums possessing millions of specimens of other insect groups."

The expedition is sponsored by the National Geographic Society and the Academy, with an additional grant from the San Francisco Foundation.

12-Month Stay
Not only emblems of the Embiopia order but a wide range of Africa's abundant, diverse insect life will be studied during the expedition's 12-month trek. From its port of debarkation at Matadi, about 100 miles up the Congo River, the party will range the eastern Congo highlands, then work toward Cape Town, South Africa.

Dr. Ross expects to collect some 250,000 specimens. The expedition will travel in a specially built truck containing compartments for insect collections, gear, and a tent that can be pitched on the bed of the vehicle.

A similar expedition to South America is scheduled to begin in late 1957. Bizarre, king-size insects of the Amazon Basin will be studied by the noted naturalist, Dr. Paul A. Zahl, under auspices of the National Geographic Society.

Among creatures that Dr. Zahl plans to observe and photograph is Dinoponera grandis, the world's largest ant.

Meanwhile, other National Geographic expeditions are excavating this season in the continuing search for fresh knowledge of the vanished civilizations of the Americas.

Working 12 miles south of Mexico City, Dr. Robert F. Heizer has discovered that the Cuicuilco archeological site was actually a large ceremonial center with a surprising big population. It is possible that the area may mark the first urban settlement in the Valley of Mexico—home of the fierce, war-making Aztecs.

Mounds Conceal Pyramids
The expedition led by the University of California anthropologist has excavated two mounds concealing elaborately built pyramids. It has unearthed an abundance of ancient pottery, and bone and stone tools indicating that their makers hunted and farmed.

Russell Cave, in northeast Alabama, continues to yield relics of people who lived there more than 8,000 years ago. The National Geographic expedition, directed by Dr. Carl F. Miller, has now penetrated the cave floor to a depth of 11 feet. No other known site in the United States has given evidence of human occupancy over so long a span of time.

New excavations at the Winnequac Caves, Lake Lahontan, Nevada, are expected to add to science's knowledge of the pre-history and geography of the area. The expedition is jointly sponsored by National Geographic, the Western Speleological Institute, and Nevada State Museum, and led by the Institute's director, Dr. Phil C. Orr.

A venture into the coastal wilds of northwest Ecuador has been undertaken this season by Dr. Matthew W. Stirling, head of the Smithsonian Institution's Bureau of American Ethnology. The area is inhabited by primitive, little-known tribes and is virtually a blank spot on archeological maps.

Rich in Archeological Treasure
Spanish visitors in the early 16th century returned with fabulous tales of gold and gems possessed by the coastal Indians. In one temple natives supposedly worshipped an emerald as big as an ostrich's egg.

Legend aside, the area contains an archeological treasure of mounds, temple foundations, stone carvings, and ceramics reminiscent of ancient Olmec art in southern Mexico.

Above the clouds on the gaunt slopes of Hawaii's Mauna Loa, another expedition has been observing the atmosphere of Jupiter, the largest planet. This spectrographic study follows up last season's investigation of the Martian atmosphere—also undertaken by the National Geographic Society and National Bureau of Standards under the direction of Dr. C. C. Kiess.

GEOGRAPHIC'S NEW MAP OF EUROPE GUIDE FOR WAYFARER ON WHEELS

More and more American vacationists are taking to Europe's open road in their own cars. Some ship abroad the latest model of multicolored luxury; most rent or buy small, easy-on-the-gas foreign makes.

A few wanderers tow trailer homes, and, over breakfast coffee or from a comfortable bunk, look out on snow-draped Alpine peaks, Rhine Valley castles—or Riviera bathing beaches.

For such rolling wayfarers—as well as those who go by ship, plane, bus, rail or armchair—the National Geographic Society's new 10-color wall-size map of Europe is a handy traveler's aid.

Far-flung Road Network

The map is being sent to the Society's 2,175,000 members around the world as a supplement to the June, 1957, magazine. Maps also are available at cost (75c, postpaid) from National Geographic headquarters in Washington, D. C. Printed 29 to 33 inches, the map includes Iceland, the British Isles, and the Continent as far as the approaches to the Urals, plus lands of the eastern Mediterranean and Africa's northern shores.

A network of red lines shows the principal routes of the elaborate highway system that serves the Continent and the British Isles.

This year, most of the estimated 60,000 United States citizens issued international drivers' permits will be bowling somewhere along European roads. In spite of gasoline shortages that resulted from the Suez Canal crisis, riders have been assured there will be plenty of fuel.

The new European map also points up Near East areas of current-news events.

Shown are the disputed Gulf of Arabia and the Suez Canal, nationalized by Egypt in July, 1956. So are Israel's uneasy borders with Arab neighbors, and Britain's rebellious island colony of Cyprus.

Embattled French Algeria appears between Morocco and Tunisia, which have lately gained sovereignty. Changes from French to Arabic place names in Tunisia—like Egypt's substitution of El Kahira for Cairo—underline today's nationalistic ferment.

Communists Vs. Non-Communists

An inset in the margin of the Geographic map outlines Communist and non-Communist lands.

The Austro-Hungarian border, winding south from Czechoslovakia to Yugoslavia, is a reminder that thousands of Hungarians changed worlds when they fled their home last year during the bloody, anti-red revolt.

Austria has been an independent entity since 1955, but Germany's still divided status is indicated by the barrier between Soviet-controlled East Germany and the Federal Republic in the west.

East Germany's allegiance is hinted in the name Karl Marx Stadt for the old city of Chemnitz. On the other hand, the passing of Russia's Josef Stalin is reflected in Poland's revival of Katowice for Stalingrad.

Some ancient and nonpolitical history, too, can be read from the map's details. How the Continent and British Isles once formed a single land mass is indicated by shadings and depth figures of the surrounding waters.

More pertinent for this season's drivers along Europe's roads is the recent development of motels, the National Geographic points out. Though not marked on the map, "more than 100 of these efficient highway havens were opened for business in 1957, and others were in the planning stages."

MAN, IN PIGEONS' EYES, IS A FINE, FEATHERLESS FRIEND

Confidently striding the gutters and sidewalks of the world's great cities, pigeons go about their business of living with people. The birds have been making a good thing of the relationship since before history began, the National Geographic Society says. Men have enjoyed it too, not alone for food and sport, but for their companionship and beauty.

In front of the White House in Washington; in the squares of Rio de Janeiro; on the monuments of Paris; around the Imperial Palace in Tokyo; in the streets of Buenos Aires; in London's Trafalgar Square; in Venice and before St. Peter's in Rome, the blue-grey birds make themselves at home.

Broadway Lullaby

In New York's Times Square, they have so far adopted the habits of their human associates as to sleep by day and play by night.

The common pigeon of city streets is the blue rock dove (Columba livia), native to Europe, Africa, and Asia. The bird's best friend, man, brought it to the New World. Ledge-nesting birds from time immemorial, rock doves find the ledges and crannies of city buildings irresistible.

All the homing pigeons, tumblers, carriers, fantails, pouters, and other specialized breeds developed by loft-keepers stem from this species, scientists believe. Left to breed indiscriminately all revert to the blue rock.

Street pigeons show great ability to adapt themselves to their human companions, even seeming at times to obey "Keep Off the Grass" signs in parks. After some study, experts announced that the birds can not read; they just stay where their friends are. If crumb-dropping humans obey the signs, pigeons follow suit.

Which Came First?

Whether pigeons take on man's characteristics by being around him, or hang around because they share mutual interests, is unknown. However, experiments at Harvard University show the birds can learn sports, like to gamble, will play the piano, can "tell time," suffer boredom, identify colors, and are superstitious.

Researchers taught pigeons to play Ping-pong. They bat a regulation ball back and forth on a tiny, netless table. When one knocks the ball past his opponent he wins a bit of grain.

In getting rewards for work done, pigeons seem to prefer the gambler's approach, and work harder when their "winnings" arrive unpredictably.

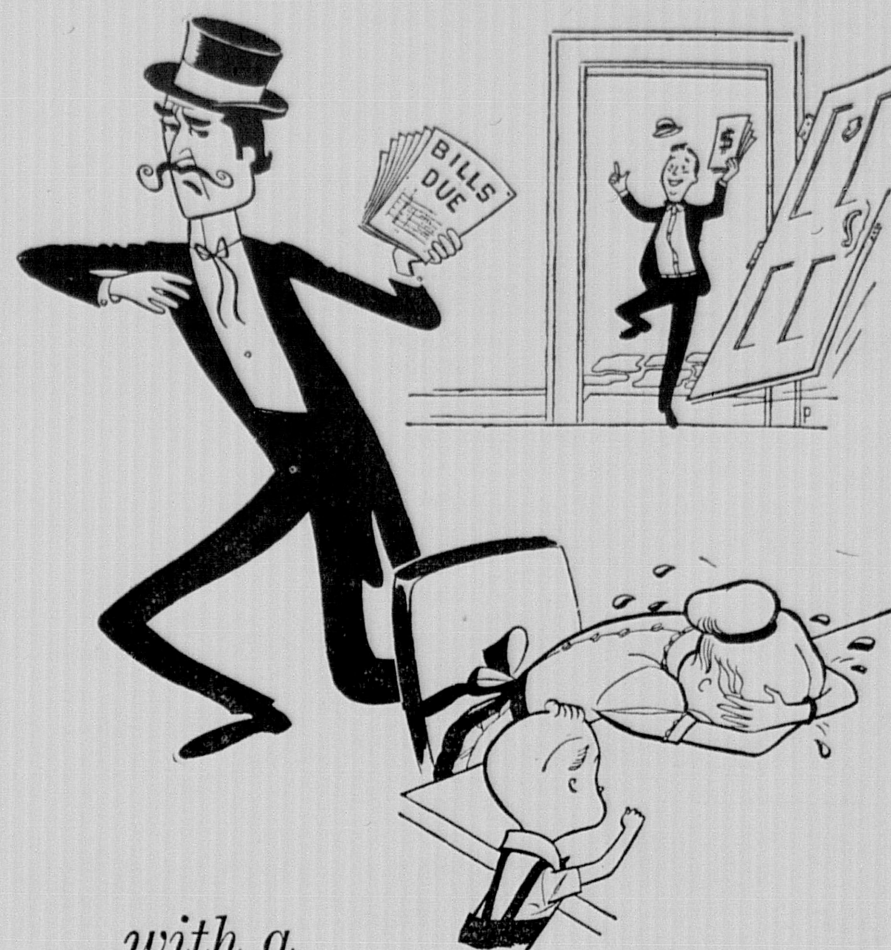

Egged on by bits of grain, pigeons have learned to peek out on a toy piano such tunes as "Over the Fence Is Out, Boys," or, "Take Me Out to the Ball Game."

Experiments that involved a regular delay of the payoff found the pigeons catching on to the game and nonchalantly awaiting food time. They loined about, shifting weight from one red foot to another, like a commuter waiting for a bus.

Superstition appears to enter the pigeon's life when it stumbles on an experiment. Faced with the same problem later, by conditioned reflex it will repeat all its previous actions, even if most have nothing to do with the result.

NEW KNOWLEDGE ARMS
WEATHERMEN FOR ANNUAL WAR WITH HURRICANES

Weather experts greet the 1957 crop of hurricanes, but with cheers, exactly, but with increasing knowledge.

Researchers have learned to whip up pint-size hurricanes in laboratory dishes. Heated at the pan's center, water rises and whirls like air in a tropical storm, allowing scientists to study cyclonic behavior on a miniature scale.

The United States Weather Bureau is even venturing to predict storm activity 30 days before it takes place.

Though mature hurricanes expend as much energy as several thousand atomic bombs exploding every second, they start life innocuously, the National Geographic Society says.

Tropical Showers Mark Birthplace
Thundershowers, spattering calm, tropical reaches of the Atlantic, Caribbean Sea, and Gulf of Mexico, often hint at low atmospheric pressure—ideal for the hur-ricane's birth. Cool outer air flows toward the hot low-pressure region. Earth's rotation gives these breezes a gentle, counter-clockwise spin, and trouble is on the way.

Soon growing to awesome adulthood, the hurricane begins to wander at the whim of existing weather conditions. Usually it starts drifting west and north, pushed by tropical easterlies. Speed: generally not more than 14 miles per hour.

The storm signals its approach with high, feathery clouds that seem to radiate from a distant point. Dwellers along tropical coasts may take warning from lazy ocean swells with long gaps between crests.

As the hurricane gradually penetrates higher latitudes, its direction is apt to change, its forward speed to increase. When prevailing westerlies shove against it, it veers to a northeastward course. It may accelerate to 50 miles per hour.

Variations in this behavior are frequent. Many full-grown hurricane simply sit in their tracks and snarl for a day or two. Others meander aimlessly, sometimes circling as outside wind directions change.

Storms Span 500 Miles
A big hurricane may have a diameter of 500 miles; a small one may stretch barely 25 miles from one side to the other. In either case, the rotating wind may have gusts of more than 150 miles per hour and a sustained velocity of 100 miles per hour. Wind increases in force toward the eye of the storm—the hole in the meteorological doughnut.

Barometric pressure within this wildly still storm center usually reaches 28 and a fraction inches, compared with the subnormal pressure of about 30 inches. Sometimes pressure may sag below 27 inches.

Wind force is always stronger to the right of the hurricane's eye since its counterclockwise velocity is increased by the storm's forward speed. Thus if a northbound hurricane slams across the coast, towns east of the eye will be hit harder than those west of it.

But the greatest destruction is caused by flooding. Extreme low pressure of the storm center lifts the ocean level some two to three feet. As the storm howls shoreward its rotating wind builds up more water ahead of it. If these storm surges sweep ashore during high tide, salt water devastation will multiply the effect of the storm's torrential rainfall.

Whatever heats a building can burn it. Watch, and take care.

DOVER-FOXCROFT HIT JACKPOT IN GETTING NEW TANNERY

By Earle Doucette

A little over a year ago Maine Leathers, Inc., a subsidiary of Beggs and Cobb, tanners of the highest quality shoe leather for the past 80 years, moved into the vacant American Woolen Mill at Dover-Foxcroft, Maine.

Last week we thought we'd see how the new company was doing, and how the owners liked the town and its people.

We found that things were going along considerably better than even the most optimistic could expect. Employment has increased from 54 to 129 and it is entirely possible that it will rise to 300 eventually. The company is well pleased with the initiative, the ingenuity, and the productivity of Maine labor. Understandably the town and its people feel pretty good about the fact that they have a new payroll that is climbing close to a half million dollars a year, and that will climb still higher.

As it expands the company will need more men which will afford opportunity to Maine folk who want steady work with a good chance for advancement. Instead of bringing in outside workers who are skilled in the leather game, the company prefers to train and advance Maine men. Its record in that regard speaks well for it. Of 46 original workers who started with the company at Dover-Foxcroft, 34 have remained and have seen their pay go up substantially. Two have become supervisors. Weekly pay for the group, aside from the supervisors, is $73.17 per week, plus many fringe benefits.

A spokesman for the company has this to say:

"As the operation in Dover-Foxcroft continues to grow it needs able men who are seeking year-around career opportunities; men who want to learn well-paying tannery craftsmanship; men who like the idea of advancing on their merit and increasing abilities. From among these men will be increasing opportunities to fill the supervisory position of tomorrow."

Beggs and Cobb, owners of Maine Leather Inc., is a company with a distinguished past and, so far as anyone can tell, a sound and prosperous future. Presumably people will continue to wear shoes for some time to come and as long as they do Beggs and Cobb will furnish leather for them. Thus, for the long pull, the man who works for the concern can have as much assurance for a safe and prosperous future as anyone can expect these days.

When the woolen mill closed at Dover-Foxcroft things looked a bit bleak for the town. Old factories are somewhat of a drug on the market, but that didn't deter the citizens from seeing what they could do about getting a new tenant for the one they had. In getting Beggs and Cobb, a growing, virile concern, they hit the jackpot. And so the story has a happy ending—for the new concern, for the town, for the workers, and of course, for the state as a whole.

FATHER-SON HONORS TO BRUCES

WENHAM TEAM WINS PLAYOFF MATCH WITH 72

Edgar Bruce of Wenham, aided and abetted by his 15 year-old son, Barrie, a sophomore at Beverly High School, turned in a one-over-par 72 last Thursday afternoon to defeat the Weston team of John F. Graham and his 17 year-old Hebron Academy son, Kent, in the medal play playoff of the senior division of the annual Father-Son Golf Tournament at the Winchester Country Club.

The two teams had been all even at the end of the three day tourney the week previous, each carding a 71 over the exacting course. Neither combine could match these figures in the playoff, but the Bruces came the nearest, 72 to 79, and played steadily good golf all the way to deserve their triumph.

The winners would have finished in par figures if they had not three-putted the 11th. They had two birdies in the first nine, on the 2nd and 4th holes and were one under par going out with a bogey at the 9th.

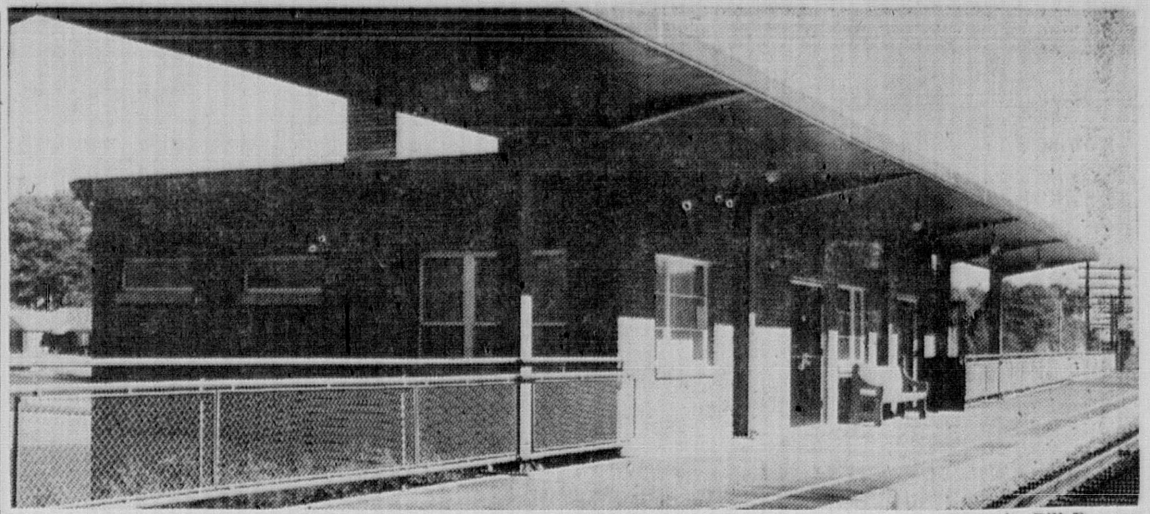

They bogeyed the 10th, 11th and 16th holes coming in but had a birdie at the 12th to keep them one over par.

Following are the cards:

Edgar, and Barrie Bruce, Wenham, 34 - 38 - 72.

John F., and Kent Graham, Weston, 38 - 41 - 79.

NEW BOSTON AND MAINE STATION AT WEDGEMERE

Successor to the former pre-overhead structure that served so many commuters in the days of frequent steam-drawn trains.

NEW SPREAD BY GRIFFIN

Arthur Griffin of Euclid avenue, whose color photos have graced such magazines as Life, Holiday and Saturday Evening Post, has a new and very appealing spread in this week's Post.

Caught by his camera lens is a large group of children of all sizes and shapes sporting in the Frog Pond on Boston Common, shown against a background of the spouting fountain and the dark foliage of trees across the pond.

The shot has both artistic and nostalgic appeal, with the shimmer of water, the warm play of the sun on the bodies of the youthful bathers, the women watching the children from benches beside the pool, some in the sunshine and some in the shadows with their figures silhouetted against the blue water.

The subject is rather different from many of the beautiful landscapes and sea shots Mr. Griffin has so often captured with his camera, and its sympathetic handling shows his versatility. By all means see it!

SAFE BOATING IS MORE FUN!

BEFORE YOU LEAVE THE DOCK

Nothing exceeds the pride of a man for his new boat. The skipper stands at the pier, admiring every smooth, curving inch of the hull, the gleaming fittings, the neat lines.

Naturally, he's anxious to pile the family aboard and take that first exhilarating spin in the new boat. And, under present regulations, all the skipper has to do is collect the family, start the motor, and take off. Unless he carries passengers for hire, no license or operating permit is required. No test of ability or knowledge precedes that first voyage.

However, there are many things every skipper, especially newcomers to the sport of boating, should know before he leaves the dock for the first time. Such things include the equipment required by law, common sense equipment, marine-spice seamanship, anchoring, and a number of other topics, all of which are taught in the first piloting classes offered by units of the United States Power Squadrons, a national private boating organization.

For instance, depending on the size of the vessel, the law requires that all boats operated on Federal waters have aboard in working condition: certain lights, fire extinguishing equipment, life preservers, and flame arrestors on in-board gasoline engines.

Believe it or not, anchors are not required by law, and even more unbelievable, some skippers actually take small boats out without them. But every boat needs an anchor, and two are better than one. The size and type of anchor will depend on how large the boat is and what type of bottom you will drop the anchor in. It's wise to have one anchor handy, already shackled to a line, the other end of which is made fast to a cleat or bitt. You can imagine the results of running an anchor line out to the "bitter" end.

You can't avoid tying knots when you have a boat, so you might as well learn the proper way of doing it. The simplest way to make a small boat fast to a pier is with two lines, one extending from the bow and the other from the stern. Each should be attached to a piling or bollard on the pier with a clove hitch, and aboard the boat the lines should be fastened to cleats with cleating hitches.

Don't forget to carry certain spare parts and tools. Mechanics are hard to find offshore and out of sight of land. Spark plugs, coils, condensers, distributor points, extra lines, flashlights (in working order), and for outboards, extra shear pins are necessary items. Also include screw drivers, pliers, wrenches, hammers, and other simple tools.

A small hand bilge pump will make bailing easier if you spring a leak or ship water from a wave. Flares are helpful in emergencies, and a small basic first-aid kit, with a life-saver. If you carry a small stove aboard, make certain it is a bolt-down type. Do not use a gasoline stove or a portable unit on a boat. Check your food locker before leaving to make sure you have everything needed for a happy day afloat.

Specific information on equipment required by law can be obtained from Government publications or by attending a Power Squadron class. For information about classes in this area, write National Headquarters, United States Power Squadrons, 9 W. Demarest avenue, Englewood, N. J.

RETURN FROM NORTHWESTERN TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo D. Nicholas have recently returned from a five-weeks' tour of the Northwest. Stopping first at Calgary, Alberta, for the renowned "Stampede," reputedly the largest Rodeo Exhibition in the world, they then visited the noted Canadian Rockies resorts of Banff Springs Hotel, Chateau Lake Louise and Jasper Park Lodge. The scenery presented by the Bow River Valley, Lake Louise with its backdrop of the Victoria Mountain and Glacier, the Valley of the Ten Peaks, Mount Edith Cavell and enchanting Maligne Lake definitely rivals that of Switzerland. The Takakkaw Falls, the third highest in the world, is wonderfully beautiful.

With three days spent in lovely flowerly Victoria, the tour was rounded out with a steamer trip over the Inland Passage along the coast of British Columbia to Alaska, and a ride over the narrow gauge railroad through White Pass and over the old gold rush Trail of '98, a thrilling experience. Part of the steamer trip takes the passengers a hundred miles into the mountain fastnesses via the Gardner Canal and Douglas Channel with scenery resembling the fjord country of Norway. Having traveled extensively, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas consider this tour of the Northwest most interesting.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel O'Donnell and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Doucette returned to town Monday after enjoying a vacation at Baboosic Lake in Amherst, N. H.

ROBIN HOOD CAMP VISITS IRONWORKS

Over 100 campers and counselors of the Robin Hood Day Camp of North Reading recently visited the Ironworks Restoration at Saugus as one of their scheduled educational trips.

The history of the Ironworks and the primitive production of steel were explained to the campers by Ironworks Restoration Guides, Walter G. Creedon and Gerald M. Pinciss after which they saw the blast furnace, air bellows, water wheels and force in operation.

Mr. Frederick A. Bonsal, resident director, pointed out that the Saugus Ironworks was the first successful integrated ironworks in America and that it is the birthplace of the iron and steel industry. Special sound movies of the Ironworks Restoration were shown during the camp rest period.

Campers from the Winchester area were:

Stewart Bowers
William Chase
Leslie King
Gerald Keane
Phil O'Neil
George O'Brien
Shelley Preston
Richard Shanahan
John Shanahan
Patricia Westwater

TRAVEL TIP: When you travel the side-roads on your vacation trip, expect to take a little longer than on the main highway, says AAA. Take it easy and enjoy the scenery, but don't try to speed over narrow, curving roads. You'll get there, but perhaps not quite as soon.

RED CROSS SWIMMING CHAMPIONSHIPS AUGUST 24

Tomorrow afternoon at Leonard Field Pool the annual Red Cross Swimming Championships will be held at 2 o'clock through the joint sponsorship of the Winchester Park Department and the Winchester Red Cross.

As was announced last week the activities will include swimming and diving events for boys and girls of all age groups. Certificates, badges and pins will be awarded to the young folks who have succeeded in passing the requirements for Beginners, Intermediate, Swimmers, Juniors and Senior Life Saving courses.

Trophies to be awarded include: (1) The Gladys F. Dutton Memorial Trophy will be presented for the second year by the Winchester Red Cross in memory of Mrs. Gladys F. Dutton, its former Executive Director, who was so widely respected and loved. It will go to the younger boy or girl who has made the most progress in swimming since the start of the program in June. Last year's winner was Peter Cunningham.

(2) The Red Cross Swimming Trophies presented to the outstanding boy and girl swimmers of the year. Last year's winners were James Reynolds for the boys and Patricia Murphy for the girls.

(3) The Thomas P. McGowan Trophy which are awarded annually by the Winchester Park Department to the boy swimmer and the girl swimmer who have exemplified most highly the qualities of leadership, interest, courtesy and cooperation. Last year's winners were Robert Carroll for the boys and Brenda McGowan for the girls. A list of all events to be run off has been posted at the following locations:

Winchester Boat Club
Winchester Country Club
Palmer Beach
Leonard Beach

Registrations for all events will be accepted until 10 o'clock Saturday morning, August 24. Each participant is limited to two events in his or her age group and one additional event in the next older age group. Following is the list of events:

STABLE FAMILY REPORTS

Miss Laurel Anne Stabile, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Stabile, Jr., 9 Herick street, was awarded a trophy at the 37th annual Horse Show at Camp Three Pines, Dr. Johnson's Camps, Crescent Lake, Maine. Laurel, a riding enthusiast of several years, received a number of blue ribbons.

Reports from Johnny and Jimmy Stabile at Moosehead (brother camp), Dr. Johnson's Camps, are that Johnny, a former Winchester little leaguer, who was doing well with golf, riflery and was first string on Moosehead baseball team, has broken his arm while on a three day mountain climbing trip. Jimmy, a first year camper, is "just having a wonderful time."

The Misses Emily M. Allen and Patricia A. Dade, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Allen, 15 Governors avenue are now living in Long Beach, California. Allen is associated with Buffums and Miss Dade is associated with the Farmers and Merchants Trust Co.

DESIGNER FLAG FOR SULTAN OF OMAN

A Winchester flag collector with a keen sense of history airmailed a standard last week to the flagless sultan of Muscat and Oman for use in his battle with the rebels.

Whitney Smith, Jr., of 241 Highland avenue, 17-year-old Harvard freshman who has been collecting flags since he was 11, designed the banner himself—crossed swords, a scimitar and sword belt, white on a scarlet background.

"When the fighting broke out in Muscat and Oman," Smith said, "I wrote to see if I could get the flag for my collection. I learned that the sultan has no flag, only the plain scarlet banner traditional in many Arab nations."

So Smith set to work. He copied the seal on a letter that came from Neill Innes, British foreign minister of the tiny protectorate. His mother cut white cloth to the pattern and sewed it on a banner six feet long and three feet wide.

"I mailed it to Innes with a request that he present it to Sultan Ben Taimur," Smith said. "I don't know if they'll accept it, but I should think they would. It's perfectly appropriate."

Ben Taimur, ruler of the Persian Gulf Mohammedan nation, is engaged in war against rebel religious leader Gahab Ben Ali who seeks to end a century and a half of British rule.

Ben Ali fights under a white flag, Smith said "not to be confused with a flag of truce. I wonder if that has caused any confusion, incidentally."

The young collector has some 300 flags, including all the United Nations standards. He came by his interest indirectly, first taking a boyish interest in animals, then natural history, from there to geography, history and flags.

It's fitting that the first flag of his own design should be for Muscat and Oman. "The United States' first treaty, back in the administration of President Washington, was with Muscat and Oman—a commercial treaty to stop their pirates from preying on our ships," Smith said.

PICTURE WINDOW SMASHED

Mrs. Adrianna Toppi of 31 North Gateway called police Saturday night to report that someone threw an object through her window and then drove off in a car.

Officers Roy and Tranchita responded to the call and found that someone had thrown a stone through Mrs. Toppi's 5 x 15 foot picture window. It is believed that persons throwing the stone drove off, without lights, in a red and cream 1955 Ford, heading north from the house. Police were unable to find the car in the area.

ACCIDENT ON FOREST STREET

John W. Bates of Medford, while driving north on Forest street, had a blowout in his left front tire last Friday evening. After the incident, Mr. Bates' car swerved into the Forest Circle sign and broke it off.

There were no personal injuries and damage to the automobile was slight.

COMMUNITY THEATRE HAD PRODUCTIVE YEAR

The Winchester Community Theatre, at the conclusion of its first full year of existence can look back with justifiable pride upon its accomplishments, the highlight of which was undoubtedly the first production of opera in Winchester.

In March the Community Theatre brought to the high school auditorium Boris Goldovsky, director of the New England Opera Theatre, and a group of his singers who presented a program of operatic selections, sung and acted in costume, to a large and very cordial audience of some 800 persons. Many not unacquainted with Winchester's musical apathy of the past were frankly astonished at the enthusiasm displayed.

In addition to this pioneering opera effect the Community Theatre inaugurated an adult Theatre Workshop, which will continue next season, after the first production of the year is out of the way.

The Community Theatre at the adult level produced a "Salute to Shaw," "Androcles and the Lion" prologue, and "Great Catherine," all of which were artistic, if not financial successes.

Outstanding in the achievements of the Community Theatre has been the activity of its Children's Theatre branch. Large and enthusiastic groups of youngsters have participated in productions of the Children's Theatre, "Peter Pan," "Tom Sawyer" and the "Stolen Prince," acting, producing, building and painting scenery and generally being exposed to the stage in all its ramifications.

Culminating the activity of the Children's Theatre was the invitation to have a part of the "Stolen Prince" produced by the local cast on TV.

The Community Theatre has given to the high school more than $800 worth of scenery which the school has used, notably in connection with the annual senior-junior class play.

To open its coming season the Community Theatre is again attempting an ambitious undertaking, the production at the high school in November of Cole Porter's Broadway musical hit, "Kiss Me Kate," with a local cast. Considerable enthusiasm is building up for the show among participants and those planning now to attend. It has been several years now since there has been a musical show of this type in Winchester.

The Community Theatre had hoped to sponsor a Spring Drama Festival next season with each of the local theatrical groups, Parish Players, Unitarian Players, High School Drama Department, and Community Theatre producing one-act plays.

The two groups of existing players did not feel it would be possible to cooperate in such a venture this year, but did feel that a festival of this sort has merit and might be feasible in the future.

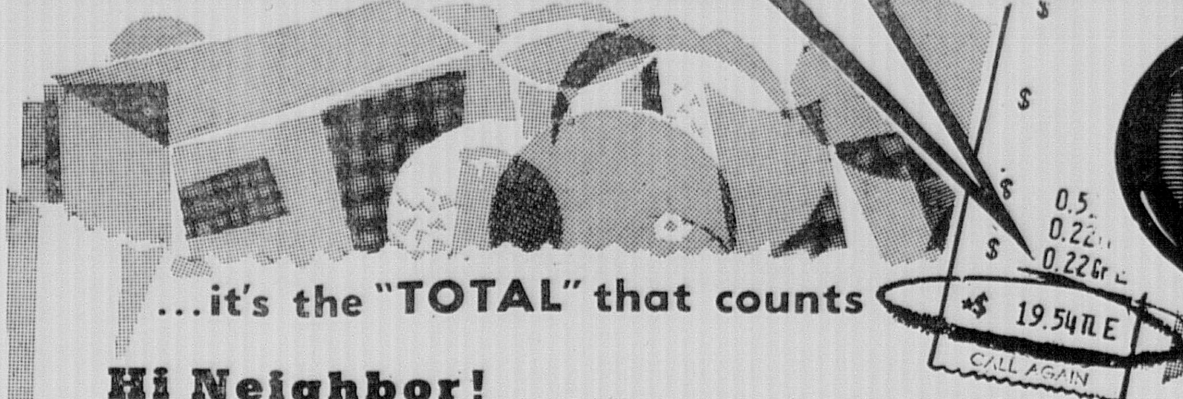

Miss Betsy Rowe of Hingham spent the week end in Winchester with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Field of Maxwell road. On Sunday they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Dee at Marblehead Neck.

Sunday Services at 11:00 a. m.
Sunday School is held at the same time as the Church Service.
Reading Room, 5 Winchester Terrace (off Thompson street). Open daily except Sundays and holidays from 11:00 a. m. to 1:00 p. m.

The wisdom of basing thought on constructive, perfect, spiritual models will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

Repeating the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Mind" is the Golden Text from Romans (11:33): "O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out!"

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (248:26-29): "We must form perfect models in thought and look at them continually, or we shall never carve them out in grand and noble lives."

Scriptural readings include the following (Philippians 3:13): "Let us therefore, as many as be perfect, be thus minded; and if in any thing ye be otherwise minded, God shall reveal even this unto you."

THE WINCHESTER STAR.

VOL. LXXVI NO. 51

THE WINCHESTER, MASS., STAR, FRIDAY, AUGUST 30, 1957

PRICE TEN CENTS

WATER CONNECTION MADE

WINCHESTER RESERVOIRS
NOW LINKED TO SPOT POND

Water Superintendent Jim Halwartz told the Star yesterday that the pipe line connecting the Spot Pond Reservoir of the Metropolitan Water System with the Winchester Middle Reservoir is laid and that water is now being pumped into the local system.

In all some 2,000 ft. of pipe had to be laid, 1650 ft. being 18 in. pipe and the remainder, 12 in. The pumping is presently being done with the Civil Defense auxiliary pump, a mobile unit, capable of delivering 200,000 gallons of water a day.

New Pump on Way
The old C.D. pump is a model popular in England and acquired during World War II, will be replaced in the immediate future with a new model, acquired by the town from the Civil Defense from Army Surplus.

The new machine, a centrifugal pump operated by an electric motor, can increase the daily gallonage to 1,000,000, with primary power supplied by the C.D. generator. This unit will be used until it is possible to install the permanent pump and housing.

Must Wait for Road
The permanent pump installation cannot be made until the exact location of the new Route 28 has been determined upon. Superintendent Halwartz believes it will be some time in 1958 before the permanent pump can be used, and then the amount of water that can be pumped from Spot Pond will depend to a large extent on the completion of the new MDC tunnel type water main extending from the Nurmabeg Park area through Malden.

It is expected that this tunnel will be ready for use in 1959.

6,000,000 Gallons Daily
The permanent pump to be installed can deliver 6,000,000 gallons of water daily to Winchester from the MDC System. The present 200,000 gallons now being pumped merely kept the present low water level from lowering. It has not raised the level at all.

Superintendent Halwartz believes, however, that with the installation of the new centrifugal pump sufficient water can be added to our supply so that with something like a normal rain, and snow fall during the fall and winter, our water system will be in "fair shape," another spring.

TO RECEIVE CAPS SUNDAY

Two Winchester girls, Mary Lou Nowell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Nowell of 60 Nelson street, and Miss Ruth E. Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilson of 12 Loring avenue, are among the 96 students to be graduated from the Catherine Laboure School of Nursing in Dorchester Sunday afternoon, September 1.

The ceremony, at which Bishop Eric F. MacKenzie, D.D., will preside, will be held in John Hancock Hall, Boston, commencing at 3 o'clock. Graduation day, culminating a busy commencement week, including both social and spiritual activities, will commence with Holy Mass and Communion at the Archdiocesan Television Studio. Pins will be awarded the graduates at the communion breakfast by Sister Winifred, director of the school.

The Catherine Laboure School of Nursing is New England's first central school of nursing. The students receive clinical experience at Carney and St. Elizabeth's Hospitals in Dorchester as well as St. John's Hospital in Lowell, all three of which cooperate in offering their combined facilities for educating student nurses.

WINCHESTER BOY ACTS WITH NATIONAL STAR

Young Billy Chase of Cambridge street had the very interesting experience of acting in one of the demonstrations of the Children's Theatre. Conference examples of Formal Theatre.

A call came to Mrs. Alexander Samoiloff from the Planning Committee for one of her children who could fill in as Howay in a scene from "Mrs. McThing." The creative way in which Billy and the other children who work with Mrs. Samoiloff are trained, gave him the necessary poise and security to come off with flying colors in the short performance.

The cast included another little girl, Miss Rockefeller, from Providence, Rhode Island. The two children were examples for the Director, Mrs. Margaret E. Clifford, of how children work into an adult cast.

Mr. Willard Swire, well-known actor and executive director of ANTA (American National Theatre Association) played in the cast also, and was quoted as having been delighted with the children's work.

Several groups of children from other theatres in different parts of the country appeared in plays and demonstrations during the Conference.

NAVY MUSIC COURSES AVAILABLE

The Navy Recruiter located in City Hall, Medford, announced that the courses available at the U.S. Navy School of Music in Washington, D. C. Students selected for musical training are requested to furnish their musical ability so determines.

Courses offered are: Instrumental, Harmony, Orchestration, History of Music, Music Survey, Conducting, Sight Singing and Ear Training, Dance Orchestra Arranging, Band, Dance Orchestra, Woodwind Ensemble, Brass Ensemble, General Training Course, Petty Officer Training Course and Marching Band.

All of these courses are open to young men who apply for enlistment in the Navy's musical unit "Blue Notes."

Auditions for this special musical unit will be held during the month of September in Lawrence, Massachusetts, at a date to be announced later. Any young musicians interested in this unique opportunity to further their musical careers are requested to contact their local Navy Recruiter.

VINCENT A. MURPHY

Vincent A. Murphy of 14 Wolcott Park, West Medford, a former native and resident of Winchester, died Tuesday morning, August 28, at the Brooks Hospital, Brookline, after a long illness.

Mr. Murphy was the son of Edward F. and Nora (Wahk) Murphy. He was born August 17, 1901, in Winchester and grew up in town, attending the Winchester schools and Winchester High School.

He leaves a son, Edward V. Murphy of West Medford; a brother, Edwin Murphy of Prais, France; five sisters, Mrs. Margaret Frye of Providence, R. I.; Mrs. John J. Morrissey, Mrs. Loretta L. Gradeski, Miss Grace and Miss Evelyn V. Murphy, all of West Medford.

The funeral was held Thursday morning from the M. G. Moffett Funeral Home. Requiem high mass was celebrated at St. Joseph's Church, Medford. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

ROADS RESURFACED

Several town roads are receiving a surface treatment now. Work on Cross street was completed this week and members of the highway department started work yesterday on the resurfacing of Highland avenue. It is expected that Highland avenue will be completed early next week.

Bacon street is next on the list and work there should start late next week.

CIARCIA — BROSSI

Of Winchester interest is the marriage which took place at St. Paul's Church in Wellesley on Sunday afternoon, August 18, when Miss Theresa Josephine Brosi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Brosi of 21 Pleasant street, Wellesley, became the bride of John Henry Garcia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Garcia of 15 Oak street, North Andover.

Rev. Donald Dwyer read the 3 o'clock service and a reception followed at the Framingham Country Club. Susan Piazza sang "Prayer for a Perfect Life" and the "Ave Maria."

Miss Brosi was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle accented with sequins, and a fingertip veil of silk illusion caught to a matching crown. Her flowers were roses arranged in a cascade bouquet and centered with a white orchid.

Miss Natalie Pini was her cousin's maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Louise Nicolosi of Wellesley, cousin of the bride; Mrs. Nancy Howe of Natick, and Mrs. Geraldine D'Onofrio of Winchester, sister of the bridegroom. Miss Linda Garcia of Winchester, and niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl.

The honor maid wore a viola colored ballerina length dress with white embroidered nylon overskirt and matching headband. She carried a cascade bouquet, as did the bridesmaids, who wore croquet blue ballerina dresses with overskirts of white embroidered nylon and matching headbands.

The flower girl wore a full length viola colored frock with headband to match and carried a basket of summer flowers.

Mrs. Brosi, mother of the bride, wore a gown of ice blue silk organza and lace with matching accessories and an orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Garcia, also wore an orchid with her mauve gown and accessories.

Joseph Garcia of Winchester was best man for his brother, and ushering were Peter Gilberto of Winchester, cousin of the bridegroom; Joseph Brosi and David Brosi, both of Wellesley and brothers of the bride.

At a wedding trip to Bermuda Mr. Garcia and his bride will make their home at 2 Cottage street, Stoneham.

The bride is a graduate of Lasell Junior College, class of 1955. Mr. Garcia graduated from Wentworth Institute in the class of 1953.

Thomas H. Quigley of Russell road, an employee of the Highway Department, had a narrow escape from serious injury last Saturday while emptying garbage from one of the collection trucks at the bigery of George Souza on Lexington street in Woburn.

Mr. Quigley had emptied his truck and was leaning into the body to hose it down when the heavy cover fell upon him, pinning him in the truck. Apparently the cover struck his shoulders first and then his head, for he had struck his head the blow might easily have proven fatal.

Mr. Quigley was taken to the Choate Memorial Hospital in Woburn where he is recovering from painful injuries about the shoulders, back and face, his face being especially badly cut and bruised.

He was reported Wednesday as making a satisfactory recovery and was expected to leave the hospital later this week.

CAMBRIDGE STREET ACCIDENT
Miss Peggy J. Elliott of 41 Andover street, Boston, while traveling south on Cambridge street last Sunday evening skidded and collided with an Edison Co. pole. The impact of the accident threw Miss Elliott to the pavement and moved the pole about two inches.

Miss Elliott was removed to the Winchester Hospital by police officers Martell and Bozozak. She was treated by Dr. Kermorand for a laceration on the back of the head, bruised arm and a general shaking up.

The Elliott car was towed away with extensive damage to the front end.

WINCHESTER COMMUNITY THEATRE AUDITIONS
There are still a few small parts left in the musical comedy, "Kiss Me Kate" which will be presented this fall by the Winchester Community Theatre.

Dancing auditions are slated for Thursday, September 5, at 7:45 p. m. in the basement of the Winchester Cooperative Bank.

Chorus auditions will be held on Monday, September 9, at 7:45 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Witham, 75 Bacon street.

GASOLINE SIPHONED
Mr. E. B. Garrity of 25 Dunbarton road, Belmont, reported to police Wednesday evening that gasoline had been siphoned from his car while it was parked at the Winchester Country Club.

When Mr. Garrity arrived home, he found a black hose in his gas tank and reported that half of the gas was siphoned out.

CHILDREN'S THEATRE SCHOOL AT NATIONAL CONFERENCE

Last week representatives from all over the country were present for five days at the National Children's Theatre Conference held at Tufts College.

Exhibitions of Children's Theatre groups from many parts of the land showed the various aspects of Children's Theatre including some marvelous photographs from Germany, and an exhibition 6' x 6' of photographs, publicity articles, and sketches by children of the Winchester Children's Theatre School. It was one of the few groups where the children have painted their own scenery.

Wednesday afternoon the children participated in a Costume Parade wearing their costumes of the parts they played last year: Michele Hamel, Cheryl and Mary Ellen Todd, Janet Garvey, Billy Chase and John Newcomb, and Mary Ames Wadsworth and Joyce Pettingill.

A number of adults from Winchester also participated in the conference in one capacity or another.

On Thursday, Miss Winifred Ward, one of the founders of the term "Creative Dramatics" for children, was a guest at tea with other conference members, at the home of Mrs. Alexander Samoiloff, Director of the Children's Theatre School of Winchester.

Registration for the first term starts after Labor Day and many children are eagerly looking forward to participation in the next play.

The children have been sent some "fan mail" from their last TV Show, and have been asked to give their production in other communities, including Waltham.

MISSION ACCOMPLISHED

This week was expected to see the completion of the C. J. Maney Contracting Co. crews in Winchester the Lexington firm having virtually finished the work of raising the Bolton and Maine tracks through Winchester to eliminate the grade railroad crossing in the center.

State officials made what was expected to be the final inspection of the job on Monday with the exception of a few odds and ends and cleaning up at one or two points the job is completed.

The contract to raise the tracks at a cost of $424,000 was awarded to the Maney Company in the fall of '55, and it was expected that it would be done by April of this year.

Due to the lateness of arriving the contract, however, and the heavy rains during much of the spring of 1956 an extension was granted the Maney Company, who have made splendid progress since that time.

Joseph Canning is president of the C. J. Maney Contracting Co., general manager and John Canning has been the superintendent on the job.

NARROW ESCAPE!

Thomas H. Quigley of Russell road, an employee of the Highway Department, had a narrow escape from serious injury last Saturday while emptying garbage from one of the collection trucks at the bigery of George Souza on Lexington street in Woburn.

Mr. Quigley had emptied his truck and was leaning into the body to hose it down when the heavy cover fell upon him, pinning him in the truck. Apparently the cover struck his shoulders first and then his head, for he had struck his head the blow might easily have proven fatal.

Mr. Quigley was taken to the Choate Memorial Hospital in Woburn where he is recovering from painful injuries about the shoulders, back and face, his face being especially badly cut and bruised.

PIPE STOLEN FROM OLD BACON FELT MILL

Henry Rogers of Burlington who is in charge of wrecking the old Bacon Felt Mill in the Wedgemere section reported to police Tuesday that sometime within the last two weeks a 20 foot eye beam, a 10 foot eye beam and 8ally columns were stolen.

Police are investigating the theft.

FORMER WINCHESTER BOY AUBURN CANDIDATE

JOHN DEE SEEKS MAINE CITY MAYORALTY POST

John Dee, a former Winchester boy now living in Auburn, Me., has announced his candidacy for mayor of the Maine shoe city. At the same time former Mayor Marle S. Merrill announced that he was withdrawing from the mayoralty race to support Dee. Merrill had previously planned to oppose the present mayor, Herbert E. Callahan whom he defeated in an election four years ago.

Dee is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Dee, who formerly made their home on Eaton street, and now live in Auburn, Me. He has a sister living at 50 Spruce street, Mrs. Howard Walker.

Dee was born in Winchester and went to school here, graduating from Winchester High School. He went from high school into service, and upon his discharge took up residence in Auburn in 1948. He is 28 years old, is married to the former Sally Fisher of Lewiston and they have five children.

During World War II Dee served four years in the Air Force as a control tower operator and radio operator; including more than a year in the Pacific Theatre. For the past three years he has operated the Golf Hill TV Concern in Auburn, Me.

CANDIDATE FOR HARVARD

W. Jost Michelsen formerly of Winchester will be a candidate for quarterback when Harvard opens its 84th year of football with pre-season practice sessions beginning Labor Day.

Michelsen was one of the good quarterback prospects in recent years at Winchester, perhaps the best all around. Big and rugged at 190 pounds, he was very effective on quarterback snafus and he called plays very well. He could also pass and block.

In his last year, 1951, Michelsen handed off to "Jocks" Serika, Jimmy Griffin and Bob Johnson, a backfield ranking with the best high school has had.

The Crimson, under a new coaching staff headed by Joe Yocasin, will face Cornell at Harvard Stadium October 5.

Fourteen lettermen are available, but 30 sophomores will be in the squad reporting, and the latter group must produce a couple of key operatives and the bulk of the needed reserve strength if Harvard is to stand well in the Ivy League this season.

With an unfamiliar system, the balanced T, and inexperience at vital positions, the problems are obvious, but if performance matches the optimism, the Crimson should have a fair season.

WATER STILL RESTRICTED

There has been no easing of the water restrictions in force in Winchester and apparently there will be none in the foreseeable future.

Water Superintendent Jim Halwartz told the Star this week that the water being pumped into our reservoirs from the MDC System and the recent rains have nowhere near produced the amount necessary to permit any lessening of the restricted use of water out of doors.

The rain of last Sunday and Monday produced less than an inch of precipitation, 69 for both days to be exact, which as Mr. Halwartz described it, was hardly enough to moisten the very top of the ground.

General water consumption will of course increase with the return of the summer vacationists and the resumption of the many water-operated devices which have been idle while families have been out of town.

On the whole the town has come through the water crisis with a minimum of inconvenience, but the operation of the vast majority of townspeople with the restrictions necessarily imposed by the water authorities. There is still need for great care in the consumption of water, however, and is likely to be for some time.

NEW CURATE AT IMMACULATE CONCEPTION CHURCH
Rev. Robert J. Banks is the new curate at the Immaculate Conception Church, replacing Rev. John Dunn who has been assigned to Gate of Heaven Parish in South Boston.

Father Banks comes from Wintthrop. He is a graduate of the Diocesan Minor Seminary and of St. John's Seminary in the class of 1954. He was ordained that same year at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross in Boston by Archbishop Richard J. Cushing.

Father Banks comes to Winchester after three years graduate study at the North American College in Rome. He had previously served at St. Mary's Church, Dedham.

UNION SUMMER SERVICE

The last of the Union Summer Services will be held at First Baptist Church, corner Mt. Vernon and Washington streets, Sunday, September 1, at ten o'clock. Rev. Walter Lee Bailey will speak on "The Gifts We Worship."

Participating Churches include the Crawford Memorial Methodist, First Congregational, Second Congregational, Unitarian and First Baptist.

On September 8, the usual morning worship services will be held in each of these Churches.

A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Football Opens Next Week

High School Grid Hopefuls Report For Opening Practice Labor Day

With the arrival in town this week of Head Coach Henry Knowlton Winchester High will commence formal practice for the coming football season on Labor Day forenoon commencing at 9 o'clock. Winchester's first game is September 28 with Concord at Concord, and much work remains to be done before an eleven fit to battle the Patriots can be fielded for that date.

Winchester will be competing again in the Middlesex Football League, reactivated last year after a long layoff to go along with the Middlesex competition in baseball, basketball and track. Wakefield won the championship a year ago with Winchester in the runner-up spot, the game between the two schools, late in the season finally deciding the titular issue. Competition was keen all along the line and the Middlesex Football League bids fair to provide a lot of interesting afternoons for local football fans.

What are Winchester's prospects for the coming campaign? A year ago Winchester, with a team admittedly weak in several spots, still lost only two of nine games. Will this year's team do as well, or better?

Coach Knowlton, an incurable optimist, thinks his team will do all right, though he is predicting nothing, least of all a championship. There are too many personnel problems to iron out at the moment to go out on any limbs, however firm they may seem.

Of last year's lettermen only three linemen are available to start this season. Behind the line the picture is rosier, there being five regulars ready for action, headed by defensive halfback Joe Flaherty, who captains the team.

Up forward where so many close followers of football believe games are won or lost, Winchester has Art Stavardis, regular center a year ago, ready for the important pivot duties again this year. "Dom" Serratore, last year's starting tackle, returns to the varsity and, among the big squad of candidates are a number of non-letter players who saw a lot of varsity action a year ago when there were not too many players capable of going all the way.

There isn't a letterman available among the ends, but Morton, Morgan and F. Murphy are more or less experienced and there are several others whose potential is equally good. Behind Stavardis at center are big Jim Wakefield, who may be shifted to tackle this fall, and Peluso. Behind them are MacDonald, Graham and Lindvall. Needham and Houghton seem the most promising of the non-letter guards.

Behind the line Winchester has Captain Flaherty, Cosimo Paonessa, Douglas Thomson, Freddie Bartlett and Larry Longworth. They are all well seasoned veterans who ought to be ready to go this

NAMED WINCHESTER CHAIRMAN HEADS CITIZENS' REVOLT IN THIS AREA

The Massachusetts Citizens Committee (MCC) today announced that Mr. William Twombly of 17 Stevens street, Winchester, has been appointed chairman of the Winchester area in a voter's revolt against the disgraceful abuse of the State disability pension system and other abuses which are contributing toward high taxes.

This drive to obtain 100,000 signatures on a state-wide referendum will be held between September 16 and November 1, 1957. The obtaining of these signatures is a first step toward giving the voter a chance to have the question of the annual multi-million dollar waste of pension funds put on the 1958 State ballot.

Dr. Robert Blackler, 9 Lewis road, will assist in the project. Mr. Twombly expressed hope that many more residents of the community would join the campaign to bring about this much needed reform.

The bill which the MCC is seeking to put on the ballot has the endorsement of the Massachusetts Selectman's Association, the Massachusetts Realtors Association, the Massachusetts Federation of Taxpayers Association, the Associated Industries of Massachusetts and many other responsible groups. It is designed to protect the entire disability pension system which at present is being threatened by those who are using it as an opportunity to take a free ride at the expense of the taxpayer.

ENTERING MEDICAL SCHOOL

Robert A. Derro, son of police lieutenant and Mrs. Joseph J. Derro, of 433 Washington street, will be entering George Washington University Medical School this fall. Bob graduated from Harvard Premedical in June. He would like to contact someone who is driving to Washington, D. C., in the near future.

To Write of Russian Sports

Hanlon, Former Winchester Football Star To Visit USSR

Jack Hanlon, Providence Journal sports writer and sportscaster, left this week from New York with his wife, his son, John, Jr., and daughter, Martha, to write about the Russian sports setup as he finds it behind "the iron curtain."

Local interest in his stories stems from the fact that "Steamer," as he was known here in his football days, is a Winchester boy, born and bred, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hanlon of Bridge Street.

Winchester sports followers remember Hanlon as a fine two-way fullback on the high school football team of 1934, of which he and big "Gerry" Gaffney were co-captains.

From High School Jack went on to University of New Hampshire where he made the eleven as a sophomore and captained and played fullback on the varsity as a senior.

From college Jack enlisted in the paratroopers and saw extensive active service in the European Theatre, attaining the rank of Lt. Colonel and attracting wide attention by his rescue of the Town of Hemroulle in Belgium from the Nazis, using sheets given by the people of the village to camouflage his men in the battle.

International attention was attracted to his return of the sheets he borrowed from Hemroulle after the war, sheets being contributed by Winchester friends and from others all over the country to replace those used by Col. Hanlon's troops.

An unusual meeting was held at the high school when the sheets were actually collected and Col. Hanlon took them personally to Hemroulle. After his return the people of the village sent paintings of the Stations of the Cross from their village church to the churches of Winchester in appreciation of the friendliness shown them. A second, and even more impressive, ceremony was held at the high school for the acceptance of the paintings, at which the Belgian Consul was present.

After his war service Col. Hanlon entered the newspaper field, working and taking pictures for the Boston Globe for a time before going to the staff of the Providence Journal.

There he has built up quite a following with his sports column and his sports broadcasting, done from the Journal's own radio station.

"Jack" has always been interested in the unusual, and writing about Russian sports would be just the sort of thing to intrigue him. He is being sent to Russia by the Providence Bulletin (Journal), the Chicago Sun-Times and Sports Illustrated. He will do a series of sports stories, illustrating them with his own camera shots.

Col. Hanlon and his family left Wednesday for England, where Mrs. Hanlon and the children will remain with her brother, Galbraith Crump, while "Jack" pushes on to crack the iron curtain.

His first column will appear in the Providence Bulletin September 16, and he has also been engaged for a series of lectures on his experiences in Russia commencing in September.

THANKS TO PARENTS

To the Parents of Girl Scout Troop I Winchester, Mass.

Dear folks:

It was a great pleasure to have your girls with me on a trip to foreign countries where their words, actions and personal appearance played so important a part.

We couldn't help being conspicuous, twenty of us dressed alike. In fact we came to be known by customs officials, inspectors, ticket collectors, etc., as the "girls in green," and because of being scouts were rushed through red tape in a hurry.

In Germany we were taken for a group of travelling English school girls. I know the English would have been as proud of them as I was, for they were an unusually fine looking group, well mannered and circumspect with a natural friendly approach to all.

Thank you for helping to make their companionship possible. Most sincerely, Lois E. Hersey Leader Troop I Patten, Maine August 22, 1957

SCHOOL INSURANCE PROGRAM

Boat Club News

The members of the Community School Association would like to clarify a few points of the voluntary insurance program which they sponsor.

This school insurance program is effective even though the family may carry other accident insurance. Every child who participates in, or simply attends any school sponsored activity, is fully insured.

The insurance company has confirmed the fact that coverage is in force during the first few weeks of school before the premiums have been paid. This does not apply to kindergarten pupils or children who have not been insured before.

This voluntary insurance program plan in no way conflicts with the insurance plan for those participating in interscholastic sports; this is sponsored and paid for by the town.

Any injury must be reported not later than twenty days after its occurrence. In the event of injury the proper claim form may be obtained from the principal of your school. All bills for claims should be sent to the insurance company and payment will be made directly to the doctor.

During the last school year 4,000 Winchester children were insured and 200 claims were made which paid over 5,000 dollars.

ARRESTED FOR DRUNKENNESS AND VAGRANCY

Police arrested Miss Jessie Gillen of Stamford, Conn., Thursday night after receiving a call reporting a woman lying by the side of East street. Miss Gillen was arrested for drunkenness and vagrancy.

The case was heard Monday morning at the Woburn court and Miss Gillen was found guilty as charged and sentenced to one month in the House of Correction, with the sentence suspended.

Snipe Skippers Shine On Long Island Sound

Seven of the Winchester Boat Club's Snipe skippers took their sleek ships down to Westport, Connecticut last weekend for the Long Island Sound Individual Championship Series and covered themselves with glory.

One of the Westport sailors, Joe Remlin, won the top honors but Winchester skippers copped second, third and fourth places, an amazing accomplishment against the cream of Long Island Sound skippers.

The Cook brothers again proved they were the top salt water sailors from Winchester by scoring second, but only after a thrilling duel with Tom Legere who was sailing Daw Blamire's new fiberglass boat.

After the first two races on Saturday, Tom and Cookie were tied for second, but the Cooks finished third while Tommy scored an eighth in the Sunday race, thus capturing the second spot.

Herby Alderson and crew Peter Freyer finished fourth. These two youngsters won the Sunday morning race, the only Winchester sailors to score a first, and but for some hard luck on Saturday might have won the Championship.

Jack Cummings, Clarence Borgard, Dick Ivers and John Day were the other Winchester sailors at the Regatta, and all of them finished well up in standings.

This weekend, Winchester stages its annual Regatta, with a host of challenges coming up from Connecticut. You'll see some mighty fine sailing if you line the banks of the Mystic, Saturday and Sunday.

WINCHESTER BOY WINS BASEBALL TROPHY

Tommy Bateman of 88 Bacon street was voted the winner of the "Thompson Cup" at Camp O-AT-KA, during the closing Candlelight Banquet on August 21.

This trophy is awarded each year to the boy in the Middle unit that shows the most baseball ability and sportsmanship during the camp season. Playing first base on a "Babe Ruth League" team that won eleven out of twelve games played, Tommy also won the team batting championship with a .424 average.

It seems, Winchester boys give an excellent account of themselves wherever they participate.

KIWANIS NOTES

The Club's summer program of "cook out" meetings has been successful and also very enjoyable. During the past month our hosts have been John Mercurio, Al Russo, Tom Derro, Ken Cullen and John Cotrone. Our chef Romeo has done a splendid job throughout this program.

There will be a directors meeting at Ken Cullen's home next Wednesday night, September 4.

The first fall meeting will be held at Masonic Hall Wednesday, September 11, with the meeting being called to order at 6:45.

President Ken Cullen, Vice President Jim Loftus and Secretary Chet Johnson will attend the N. E. Convention which is to be held at the Griswold Hotel, Groton, Conn., September 5, 6, 7, 8.

A review of our community work finds that:

The Club owns 16 hospital beds which are loaned free of charge.

A similar program has been started to have wheel chairs which will be loaned free of charge.

The Christmas Toy project distributed 150 toys, games, and wearing apparel to 35 Winchester children. Our local merchants give us a big helping hand on this important work.

Our milk program in the primary grades has been successful and very worthwhile.

The annual Fish Derby at Wedge Pond had a registration of 257 children this year. 25 useful prizes were awarded to the winners.

The Kiwanis sponsored Dodgers Little League team went on to their fourth straight championship under the guidance of Artie Johns and Gordon Peckham.

Kiwanis sponsored the "Jokers" in the softball league for the first time this year.

Contributions and a "helping hand" to many individual cases are voted throughout the year.

When you multiply this type work by 2300 Clubs throughout the country one can see that Kiwanis really "Builds" for home, community and nation.

AMENDMENT TO ZONING BY-LAWS TOWN OF WINCHESTER, MASSACHUSETTS ADOPTED AT SPECIAL TOWN MEETING ON JUNE 10, 1957

VOTED, To amend the zoning by-laws of the town by inserting in Section 8A, AREA REGULATIONS, near the end of the fourth line in the first sentence and after the words "20,000 square feet and not less than 120 feet wide;" the following words "in any single residence district designated and marked "B" on the zoning map there shall be provided for each dwelling house hereafter constructed a lot containing not less than 15,000 square feet and not less than 100 feet wide;" so that the first paragraph of Section 8A, AREA REGULATIONS, as amended should read:

Section 8A, AREA REGULATIONS,

In any Single Residence District designated and marked "A" on the zoning map there shall be provided for each dwelling house hereafter constructed a lot containing not less than 20,000 square feet and not less than 120 feet wide; in any single residence district designated and marked "B" on the zoning map there shall be provided for each dwelling house hereafter constructed a lot containing not less than 15,000 square feet and not less than 100 feet wide; in all Single Residence Districts not so designated, there shall be provided for each dwelling house hereafter constructed a lot containing not less than 10,000 square feet and not less than 80 feet wide; in the General Residence Districts, there shall be provided for each single dwelling house hereafter constructed a lot containing not less than 6,500 square feet and not less than 65 feet wide, and for a dwelling house for more than one family a lot containing not less than 3,750 square feet for each family accommodated there and not less than 65 feet wide; and in all Single and General Residence Districts, no dwelling house shall hereafter be constructed on a lot which does not abut on at least one street for a distance of at least 50 feet. For the purposes of this Section, lot width is to be measured through that part of the dwelling where the lot is narrowest.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an amendment to the Zoning By-Laws adopted by the Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, at the Special Town Meeting held on June 10, 1957, and approved by the Attorney General of Massachusetts on July 11, 1957.

AMENDMENT TO BUILDING LAWS TOWN OF WINCHESTER, MASSACHUSETTS ADOPTED AT SPECIAL TOWN MEETING ON JUNE 10, 1957

VOTED, That the Building Laws of the town be amended by adding to Section 147 in that portion entitled FRONT YARD SET BACK after the second paragraph thereof the words "In any single residence district designated and marked "B" on the zoning map incorporated in and made a part of the Zoning By-Law, 35 feet."

To amend the following paragraph: In any single residence district shown on said map and not designated "A" thereon, 25 feet,—insert after the letter "A" the words or "B" so that the first portion of the section under FRONT YARD SET BACK shall read:

No building shall be erected, placed, moved, or altered so that any part thereof except eaves and uncovered steps shall be within the following respective distances from the nearest exterior line of any public way or any private way shown on a plan approved by the Board of Survey or any private way open for public use:

In any single residence district designated and marked "A" on the zoning map incorporated in and made a part of the Zoning By-Law, 35 feet,

In any single residence district designated and marked "B" on the zoning map incorporated in and made a part of the Zoning By-Law, 35 feet,

In any single residence district shown on said map and not designated "A" or "B" thereon, 25 feet,

In any general residence district shown on said map, 20 feet,

In any industrial district shown on said map, 15 feet.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an amendment to the Building Laws adopted by the Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, at the Special Town Meeting held on June 10, 1957, and approved by the Attorney General of Massachusetts on July 11, 1957.

SLACK — SHOEMAKER

In a setting of white babies' breath, combined with snapdragons and delphinium, at the Church of the Epiphany on Saturday afternoon, August 24, Miss Ellen Wheelock Shoemaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker of 1 Wildwood street, was married to Verne Jay Slack, son of Mrs. Harold J. Slack of Wilmington, formerly of Winchester, and the late Mr. Slack. The rector of the church, Rev. John W. Ellison, read the 4 o'clock service which was followed by an outdoor reception at the home of the bride's parents.

Miss Shoemaker was given in marriage by her father. She wore a princess style gown of white silk tulle, fashioned with a portrait neckline trimmed with Alencon lace, short sleeves and a full skirt that terminated in a chapel train. Her waist length veil fell from a regency crown of matching lace and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and sweet peas.

Mrs. Charles Parker Harris of Winchester was her sister's matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. William T. Shoemaker of Lexington, sister-in-law of the bride; Mrs. James C. Little of Annapolis, Md.; Miss Ruth A. Ebling of Miami, Fla.; and Miss Eleanor McPeake of Winchester. Mrs. Erland S. Townsend, Jr., of Marblehead was honorary bridesmaid.

The honor attendant wore a ballerina length dress of white embroidered organza over violet tulle with a matching sash. She carried a cascade bouquet of violet asters, white roses and sweet peas with ivy, and wore a cluster of the same flowers in her hair.

The bridesmaids wore identical gowns like that of the honor attendant. They wore lighter shades of flowers in their hair and carried bouquets to match.

Charles B. Slack of Winchester was best man for his brother, and ushering were Charles P. Harris, brother-in-law of the bride, and Kenneth V. Donaghey, both of Winchester; William T. Shoemaker of Lexington, brother of the bride; Alan A. Switzer, formerly of Winchester; Thomas C. Salmon of Marblehead, and Paul H. Roche of Arlington. After their wedding journey Mr. and Mrs. Slack will make their home in Springfield.

Both the bride and bridegroom graduated from Winchester High School and the bride is also a graduate of Centenary Junior College. Mr. Slack, after three years in the Army that included active service in the Korean fighting, is now attending Springfield College.

LATHROP — SNYDER

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Christine Snyder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Snyder of Sharon, Conn., to Douglas S. Lathrop, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Lathrop, formerly of Winchester, now living in Glendale, California.

The ceremony took place in St. Bernard's Church, Sharon, Conn., on August 23, 1957. The reception was held at Stone Terrace Inn, Salisbury, Conn.

Miss Betsy Lathrop, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. Miss Patricia Alvord of Cambridge and Miss Lucy Harvey of Salisbury, Conn., were bridesmaids. Mr. J. Kennedy Snyder, brother of the bride, was best man. The ushers were Mr. T. Cadwalader Thomas of White Plains, N. Y., Mr. Thomas E. Henry of Boston and Mr. Bion Francis of Milford, Conn.

Following a wedding trip across the country, Mr. and Mrs. Lathrop will reside in San Francisco, Calif., where Mr. Lathrop has accepted a position with the Bechtel Engineering Corp.

Mrs. Lathrop attended Boston University School of Fine and Applied Arts.

The bridegroom was graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where he was a member of Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity and the varsity crew.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Lathrop with Betsy, Marcy and Anthony flew from California to Connecticut for the wedding. After the wedding they drove to Winchester where for several days they were the guests of Professor and Mrs. Thomas M. Hill of Yale street.

For that family picnic get your supply of plastic straws and plastic picnic cutlery at the Winchester Star.

MRS. GERTRUDE M. SULLIVAN

Mrs. Gertrude M. Sullivan, widow of John H. Sullivan and a native of Winchester, died Friday morning, August 23, at her home, 41 Lincoln street, after a short illness.

Mrs. Sullivan was the daughter of Michael, and Honora (McNamara) Donovan. She was born April 20, 1882, in Winchester and grew up in this town, attending the Winchester schools and Winchester High School. For a time before her marriage she was a fitter in a fashionable dress shop in the Back Bay of Boston.

On June 30, 1920, she and Mr. Sullivan were married and lived for a time in Boston, before coming to make their home in Winchester. Mr. Sullivan, a United States Customs Inspector, died April 11, 1930, and Mrs. Sullivan had made her home with her brother on Lincoln street since his death.

Mrs. Sullivan was widely known among older residents of the town. She was actively identified with St. Mary's Sodality and of other church organizations and groups. Her brother is her only immediate survivor.

The funeral was held Monday morning from the late residence with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church. Burial was in the family lot in Calvary Cemetery.

JOHN J. BARRY

John J. Barry of 57 Salem street, a resident of Winchester for well over half a century, died Sunday, August 25, after an extended illness at the age of 86.

Born in Ireland, February 7, 1871, Mr. Barry came to Winchester 65 years ago. He was for many years until his retirement a leather worker at the Beggs & Cobb Tannery. He was a long time member of, and formerly active in the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's Parish.

Mr. Barry leaves three daughters, Mrs. Fred Patterson of Winchester, Miss Anna M., and Miss Helen V. Barry, both of Winchester; two sons, Joseph J., of Woburn, and David W. Barry of Freeport, Iowa; seven grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning from the Lane Funeral Home with requiem high mass celebrated at the Immaculate Conception Church by Rev. Stephen E. Burke. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

AMENDMENT TO ZONING BY-LAWS TOWN OF WINCHESTER, MASSACHUSETTS ADOPTED AT SPECIAL TOWN MEETING ON JUNE 10, 1957

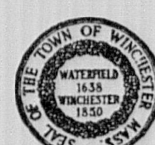

VOTED, That the zoning by-laws of the town be amended by making the following changes: To amend Section 5 of the zoning by-laws by inserting under the paragraph entitled "in Business Districts," the following special regulations shall also apply and after the first and second numbered clauses thereunder the following:

3. Where all, or any portion, of the required automobile parking or garaging space is provided within the exterior walls of the main building, or entirely underground, the total lot area herebefore required may be reduced by an amount equal to the area of such interior or underground parking space.

4. Where the lot on which an apartment house or group house is located abuts more than one street, the total lot area herebefore required may be reduced by an amount equal to the area between the boundaries of the lot and the center line of all abutting streets other than the principal frontage street. For the purpose of this provision, the principal frontage street is the street most closely parallel to the maximum dimension of the building.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an amendment to the Zoning By-Laws adopted by the Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, at the Special Town Meeting held on June 10, 1957, and approved by the Attorney General of Massachusetts on July 11, 1957.

ROBIN HOOD CAMPERS VISIT BENSON'S

The campers and counselors of the Robin Hood Day Camp in North Reading recently completed their summer program with a feature trip to Benson's Animal Farm in Hudson, New Hampshire.

While at the farm the campers witnessed the elephant and chimpanzee acts in the outdoor arenas. Water programs and field sports featured the summer season. Red Cross swimming classes were held in the camp's olympic size pool. Boating, fishing, horseback-riding lessons, baseball, softball, basketball, archery, horseshoe pitching, crafts and movies comprised the daily routines.

The camp is owned and directed by Martin and Marguerite Healey.

Mr. Healey is a teacher in the Lynn Public School System. Those who enjoyed the trip to Benson's from the Winchester area included:

Stuart Bowers
Paul DeCourcy
Gerald Keane
Phil O'Neil
George O'Brien
Shelley Preston
Jan Stepper
Jan Wiener
Pat Westwater
Leslie King

Mrs. William W. Davies, III, of Sanborn street is among the 180 delegates who have been at Star Island, N. H., this week attending the ninth annual National Leadership Training Conference of the General Alliance of Unitarian and other Liberal Christian Women.

AMENDMENT TO ZONING BY-LAWS TOWN OF WINCHESTER, MASSACHUSETTS ADOPTED AT SPECIAL TOWN MEETING ON JUNE 10, 1957

VOTED: That the zoning by-laws be hereby amended by changing or altering the map incorporated therein and made a part thereof, and a portion of that certain district indicated and identified therein as a general residence district so that the following described area will be changed from a general residence district to a business district. The area to be changed is bounded and described approximately as follows:

An area on the easterly side of Horn Pond Brook Road bounded:

WESTERLY by the easterly side lines of Horn Pond Brook Road and land owned by the Town of Winchester, about four hundred seventy-three (473) feet;

SOUTHERLY by the existing division line between the general residence and business zone, about eighty-seven (87) feet;

EASTERLY by the existing division line between the general residence and business zone, about two hundred thirty (230) feet;

NORTHERLY by land of Coleman F. Connolly, et al, Louise S. Waters, et al, Michael P. and Ellen F. Meskill, John W. and Catherine A. O'Brien, Margaret M. Donahoe, Ellen M. Murphy, Andrew Callahan, James F. and Ruth E. McClellan, about four hundred sixteen (416) feet; and

NORTHERLY by land of Town of Winchester, about thirty-nine (39) feet; containing about 1.75 acres.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an amendment to the Zoning By-Laws adopted by the Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, at the Special Town Meeting held on June 10, 1957, and approved by the Attorney General of Massachusetts on July 11, 1957.

AMENDMENT TO ZONING BY-LAWS TOWN OF WINCHESTER, MASSACHUSETTS ADOPTED AT SPECIAL TOWN MEETING ON JUNE 10, 1957

VOTED, That the zoning by-laws of the town be amended by inserting at the end of the second paragraph of Section 1 the following new paragraph:

"A subdivision of the single residence district lying in the southeasterly corner of the town and being that area recently set off from Medford and annexed to Winchester and containing approximately 27½ acres and shown on a plan showing the part of boundary line between the City of Medford and the Town of Winchester changed by Chapter 676, Acts of 1956, is hereby established within the area designated "Single Residence District B" as shown upon a map or plan entitled "Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, Plan of Single Residence District "B" established by amendment to the zoning by-law" dated June 1957, to be signed by the Planning Board and filed in the Town's Clerk's office and which, together with all explanatory matter thereon, is hereby incorporated in and made a part of this by-law."

And to amend the last paragraph of said Section 1 by inserting after the words "single residence district A" the words "and single residence district B." And to amend the first paragraph of Section 1 by striking out in the third line the word "five" and inserting in place thereof the word "six."

So that said Section 1 as amended will read

Section 1. ESTABLISHMENT OF DISTRICTS. For the purposes of this by-law the Town of Winchester is hereby divided into districts of the following classes, designated specifically as follows:

1. Single residence districts.
2. General residence districts.
3. Business districts.
4. Industrial districts.

and which are as indicated and identified upon a map entitled "Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, Planning Board, Zoning Map, Prepared Under the Direction of the Planning Board," dated December, 1953, signed by the said Board and filed in the Town Clerk's office, which map, together with all explanatory matter thereon, is hereby incorporated in and made a part of this by-law.

A subdivision of the single residence district lying westerly of Cambridge Street is hereby established within the area, designated "Single Residence District "A" as shown upon a map or plan entitled "Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, Plan of Single Residence District "A" Established by Amendment to the Zoning By-Law" dated March 1954, to be signed by the Planning Board and filed in the Town Clerk's office and which together with all explanatory matter thereon is hereby incorporated in and made a part of this By-Law.

A subdivision of the single residence district lying in the southeasterly corner of the town and being that area recently set off from Medford and annexed to Winchester and containing approximately 27½ acres and shown on a plan showing the part of boundary line between the City of Medford and the Town of Winchester changed by Chapter 676, Acts of 1956, is hereby established within the area designated "Single Residence District B" as shown upon a map or plan entitled "Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, Plan of Single Residence District "B" established by amendment to the zoning by-law" dated June 1957, to be signed by the Planning Board and filed in the Town Clerk's office and which, together with all explanatory matter thereon, is hereby incorporated in and made a part of this by-law.

All restrictions and regulations established by this By-Law applicable to single residence districts shall apply without distinction to single residence districts and "single residence district A" and "single residence district B," alike, as hereinafter expressly provided.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an amendment to the Zoning By-Laws adopted by the Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, at the Special Town Meeting held on June 10, 1957, and approved by the Attorney General of Massachusetts on July 11, 1957.

PUBLIC WELFARE BOARD ANNOUNCES REVISION

The Winchester Board of Public Welfare announces an almost complete revision of its Medical Care Plan. This revision, effective September 1, was ordered by the State Department of Public Welfare as the result of an amendment to the Social Security Act.

The Social Security Act amendment requires a change from vendor payments for medical services to a direct payment to the recipient of public assistance.

For several years Massachusetts realized federal grants for vendor medical care on the three federal categories of assistance, approximately $9,000,000—$10,000,000. To continue this method of payment would result in a loss to Massachusetts of approximately $5,000,000 annually.

Winchester would, of course bear part of this loss. To prevent as much of this loss as possible, Massachusetts has ordered a number of changes from the vendor method of payment. Among these changes will be the plan to give the recipients of public assistance a check to cover the cost of their medical needs.

For example, physicians will bill recipients of public assistance at the present fee schedule in the same manner as they do their other patients. The recipients will be responsible for submitting the bills to the Board of Public Welfare where they will be reviewed and the recipient will receive a check to pay the physician.

The Winchester Board of Public

Welfare regrets the necessity of revising our present medical care plan and the decision to abandon in part the vendor method of payments so successfully operated for the past several years. The Board realizes that these changes will bring some temporary confusion and uncertainty on the part of the recipient of public assistance and a justifiable dissatisfaction on the part of many of our professional friends and agencies who provide medical and remedial services to these needy and sick people. It is hoped that complete cooperation on the part of all persons concerned will bring a satisfactory adjustment of the plan, thereby minimizing the amount of federal grants which the Town of Winchester may lose.

Also, effective September 1, 1957, there will be a 5.7% cost of living increase and a revision of the fuel allowance. The cost of living increase is brought about by an increase in the cost of living index of 5.7% during the period May 1956 to July 1957.

This increase will affect all public assistance recipients except those in chronic hospitals, nursing homes, boarding homes and institutions. The revision of the fuel allowance is made because of the increases in the fuel prices over those currently used in the State's Standard Budget. The increased fuel allowance will affect only those recipients of public assistance who maintain their own home or apartment. The State Department of Public Welfare has made it mandatory that the allowance for fuel be given on a seasonal basis commencing September 1 through May for the winter figure and then reducing the fuel allowance for the months of June, July and August of each year to summer figure.

WHAT IS A DOG?

All the wisdom of the Ages is written in the eyes of a dog—an innate awareness of joy or suffering, a depth of allegiance far beyond the comprehension or capabilities of man. A dog is a four-footed clown! He is beauty with awkward, uncertain, in-the-way-paws and an ever swinging pendulum called a tail. He has ears which sag when he sleeps, and perk up startled upon intrusion.

A dog can try your patience, being under foot when you are in a hurry or waking up at 5 a. m. He always understands you.

A dog is usually fascinated by old shoes, dead bugs, your best gloves, rubbers, riding in the car, your lap, and being brushed.

The world may shame you, deceive you, reject you; yet he will stand proudly by your side. Trouble or loss may grieve you and he will remind you with a sudden wet kiss that here is a friend. When you are alone, and there is no one to talk with, he will lay his head on your knee and listen. In moments of joy, he will instinctively know and revel in your happiness.

Surely, God shows us the way everytime a dog comes into our lives.

SWIM WINNERS AT IPSWICH

"Marty" Hichborn and her twin brother, Peter, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hichborn of Highland Avenue, were among the winners at last Saturday's Gala Day of the Ipswich Little Neck Association. The twins are 11 years old.

"Marty" had a particularly big day. She won the 25 yard freestyle swimming competition for girls 11 years and younger, finished second in the 35 yard backstroke for girls 15 and under, and participated in the water ballet that regular attendants called the best in the history of the Gala. She also won the barrel-tossing event in the novelty games.

Her brother, Peter, finished second in the 25 yard freestyle swim for boys 11 years and younger, and was also second in the basketball shooting event. Old timers at the swim meet recalled the days when the twins' mother, the former Barbara Berry, was winning prizes in the swimming competition at these same meets.

ON EUROPEAN TRIP

Miss Judith Swan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Swan of Church street, and Miss Laura Snow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester R. Snow of Fletcher street, sailed last Saturday from New York on the Isle de France for a seven and one-half weeks trip to England and the Continent.

While in London Miss Snow and Miss Swan plan to visit Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pratt of this town, and during their visit to Manchester will make the acquaintance of relatives of Miss Swan's paternal grandmother.

After a month's tour of Continental Europe Miss Swan and Miss Snow will return to London and go on for visits to Scotland and Ireland, returning to this country October 12.

RONEL'S BOTHERED BY BOYS

A call to police on Friday reported two boys on the roof of Ronel's store on Thompson street. Officer Baird responded to the call and brought the two teenage boys to the station where they were warned and later released.

Many commuters, outward bound from Boston, seem at a loss to know where they can get a taxi at Winchester Station. Those ramps are long and it isn't any joke to find yourself at the end of one of them, even though your walk was down grade and discover you are at the opposite end of the station from the taxi stand. It would seem that some suitable sign could be placed on the upper level platform directing outbound commuters to the cabs so that they can go to them by the shortest possible route.

BAYBURN CLEANERS

13 Mount Vernon Street — Winchester
(Next door to Randall's)

The C. J. Maney Co., General Contractors, have finally completed the job of raising the Boston & Maine tracks through town to eliminate the grade crossing that had plagued Winchester since away back in the days of the old Boston & Lowell Railroad, predecessor of the B. & M.

There are probably some in Winchester who still do not like the overhead, but we can not see how any fair minded person could have anything but praise for the way in which the job was carried through to completion by the Maney Co.

From the very first this Lexington firm labored to give Winchester the best possible job with the least possible fuss and inconvenience. They were eminently successful in avoiding major disruptions that could have aroused resentment against a project to which many in town objected strenuously from the very first.

More than that, however, the Maney's were helpful in so many other ways, pulling a town truck out of a pond, doing a little fixing up here and there, not called for by the specifications, and, like good neighbors, generally cooperating to the fullest with town authorities to keep every one happy as far as possible.

It is hard to see how any one could have better combined expert workmanship with top-flight public relations. The Maney Company was a very happy choice for this particular job. The Star salutes them as fine workmen and good fellows, all!

Apparently, to judge from those who have mentioned it to the Star, there have been a great many who have read and pondered the article in a recent Reader's Digest on the cost of building schools.

The writer of the article, first of all, deplores the fact that school facilities are nowhere near adequate to educate the Nation's children who are coming along. They are not adequate for the present and for the future the lack of school space alone, to say nothing of teachers, is truly appalling.

Now the writer admits that new schools are constantly being built, but he contends that not enough of the money being spent for new school buildings is going into actual classrooms where children can learn arithmetic or other basic studies.

He finds from a close survey throughout the country that too many school building committees are spending taxpayers money for plush educational adjuncts, desirable perhaps in a sense, but wholly unnecessary as far as giving the kids the educational essentials is concerned.

He also questions the ornamentation of school buildings as adding nothing to the quality of education provided within their walls and gives facts and figures to substantiate the claim that good schools, adequate in every way from a purely educational standpoint, can be built for substantially less than taxpayers are being called upon to pay for them. And the less expensive schools can actually have more classrooms than the more plush buildings where a large percentage of the cost goes into aesthetic features of at least questionable value.

The writer of the article in question deplores the fact that whereas more and more money is being lavished on schools that are full to capacity almost when they are opened, the compensation of teachers has nowhere near kept pace.

It is the teachers, says he, who make education work, not ornate buildings with imposing auditoriums and gymnasiums. A good teacher can teach in a barn; a poor teacher can't instruct in the finest building! If you can't have both, a sufficient number of classrooms and able teachers suitably paid are the real needs, not the luxury and aesthetic items.

Winchester has had its school building troubles, and while the extreme conditions as described in the Digest article can not fairly be said to apply here, mistakes have been made that shouldn't be made again.

The Digest article is timely. It is good to know that even one small voice is crying in the wilderness the excessive cost of schools! A lot of people are heeding the cry and many an harassed taxpayer is hopefully wondering if something can not be done about it.

Winchester has another school building program staring it squarely in the eyeball! Many will be watching to see what happens this time!

POSTAL SALARIES AND POSTAL SERVICE

Editor of the Star:

The Administration is opposed to a moderate increase of less than $10.00 per week for Postal Workers.

When the $133 Million Post Office bill was signed by the President, it was reported that he predicted a "swamp of inflation" if increases were granted to the 500,000 Postal Workers.

Does the Administration remember that the Postal Workers received no increase in salaries during World War II prior to July 1, 1945? During that period they received a bonus of $300.00 per year in lieu of an increase in salary and were compelled to work overtime at an average rate of less than $1.00 per hour.

Such facts and figures show the reason why employees are leaving the Postal Service by retiring at an early age and by resigning to enter private industry.

Business firms, because of delays to their mail, are wondering what has happened to the mail service. The answer is this:

The Postal Transportation Service, the life line of efficient economical and speed service, has been curtailed 50% since 1954.

We would greatly appreciate your writing Senators Saltonstall and Kennedy requesting early action on this bill.

We are deeply grateful to all Congressmen from Massachusetts who voted for this moderate increase of salaries. Congressmen Bates, Heselson and Martin voted against this bill.

APPRECIATION

Editor of the Star:

We appreciate very much the interest of your newspaper in our Fresh Air Appeal to send 416 underprivileged city children to our 700-acre camp in South Athol for eight weeks. Results of efforts to raise funds for camp vacations have been most encouraging, and the assistance of your newspaper has been a valuable factor in this respect.

Please thank your readers for their gracious and generous response.

Your unfailing personal support of our work for young people and 325 handicapped employees is sincerely appreciated.

The Rev. Henry E. Helms
Executive Secretary

RAVEN'S CLOAK OF GLOOM
OFTEN BECOMES A CHUCKLE

The ghostly, grim and ancient raven that croaks through folklore and poetry is really a wise old bird, tender with its mate, and endowed with a sense of humor.

The first bird mentioned in the Bible, the raven occupies an honored place in mythology from classic Greece to the contemporary Bororo tribe of Brazil. It has been given roles as diverse as the tattle-tale of the gods and the soul of man.

The raven is distributed throughout the Northern Hemisphere, the National Geographic Society says. In America, it ranges chiefly through the North and West, and in the mountains of the Eastern Seaboard. It has been seen in the Bronx, New York.

Big, Black, Crowlike
Nearly twice as big as its common relative, the crow, the raven is similar in build and has glossy black feathers.

Going its sagacious way, it eats almost anything it can find or catch, animal or vegetable. It carefully stays out of shotgun range. Individuals have lived more than 50 years.

Dr. Charles P.
Donahue
OPTOMETRISTNATIONAL BANK BLDG.
13 CHURCH STREET
WINCHESTER, MASS.
Winchester 6-1021

In places where it is valued as a scavenger and not molested, such as Indian villages of the Far North, the raven becomes a fair game. The same individual, however, assumes its wary ways in the woods. As it goes about its daily life, the raven carries itself sedately, flying strongly or walking in a dignified manner. In the spring, however, it gambols.

Ravens mate for life, but renew their courtship each year. Just before nesting, the couple soars high in the air, wing tips touching, as though holding hands.

Then the birds dive, tumble, twist, throw themselves into somersaults, roll over sideways, and generally romp through the air. At this time, the hoarse croak believed by the ancients to forebode evil softens into a harmonious series of cooing gurgles.

Nest in Trees or Cliffs

Ravens' bulky nests, often used year after year, are set in the tops of heavily leafed trees, or on inaccessible rock ledges. Although gregarious at some seasons, couples set up housekeeping far away from others.

The high good humor of nesting time occasionally lingers on. The black-robed birds have been known to play games with mountain climbers, swooping down as though to attack, then veering off. They sometimes bedevil other birds in the same way. When this sport palls they may chase one another through the air and pass back and forth some small object.

With domestic animals, ravens have other games. They have been seen to lure a dog, tempting it to bite, and hopping nimbly out of range just in time.

In one Alaskan village, a dog had a tasty bone. A raven marched up and down before it, making rushes toward the prize. It was forced back. Then the bird's mate slipped up behind the dog and fetched it a mighty bite on the tail. The howling dog leaped up, and the first raven grabbed the bone. The two birds flew off, uttering a low call that sounded like a chuckle.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT WILLIAM HICKS

HICKS — MOORE

Miss Joan Elizabeth Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Stuart Moore of 60 Wedgemere avenue, became the bride of Ensign Robert William Hicks, United States Coast Guard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Lewis Hicks of 7 Cliff street, at a nuptial mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church on Saturday morning, August 24. White flowers decorated the altar for the 10 o'clock marriage service which was read by the pastor of St. Mary's, Rev. John M. Manion, who was also celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Moore wore a princess style gown of silk organza with a scoop neckline adorned with silk organza flowers. Her fingertip length veil of bridal illusion was caught to a cap of matching silk organza flowers and she carried a white missal decorated with a white orchid and sprays of stephanotis.

Miss Estella May Chase of Washington, D. C., was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Janet Archibald and Mrs. Donald McDavitt, both of Winchester. Mrs. Frederick L. Hicks, Jr., and Mrs. Edward E. Hicks, both of Winchester and sisters-in-law of the bridegroom, were honorary bridesmaids.

The honor maid wore a princess style dress of ice blue taffeta with a scoop neck outlined with lace and caught at the back with a large bow. She wore an ice blue lace cap and veil with matching shoes and carried a cascade bouquet of light and dark pink carnations.

The bridesmaids were gowned alike in cornflower blue taffeta dresses like that of the honor maid. They, too, wore matching accessories and carried cascade bouquets of pink carnations in light and dark shades.

Edward E. Hicks of Winchester was his brother's best man, and another brother, Frederick L. Hicks, Jr., of Winchester ushered with J. Worth Estes of Lexington.

A reception was held after the marriage at Domine Manse in Bedford with the mother of the bride assisting in receiving with the parents of the bridegroom and members of the bridal party.

Mrs. Moore, mother of the bride, wore a gown of midnight blue lace over taffeta with dusty pink accessories and a corsage of sweetheart roses. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Hicks, wore a Dior blue silk gown with matching hat of silk flowers and carried a white glanellia with her white purse.

After a honeymoon at Nantucket, Ensign and Mrs. Hicks will live at 122 Park street, Stoughton.

The bride graduated from Winchester High School in the class of 1953, and from Wellesley College in the class of 1957. Ensign Hicks, who is stationed aboard the USCGC Yakutat at New Bedford, is a 1951 graduate of Winchester High School and received his degree from Harvard University in the class of 1955.

GIBBS — BRANNEMAN

Capt and Mrs. Leonard Branneman, USN, announce the marriage of their daughter, Martha Ann, to Allen Keith Gibbs of East Liverpool, Ohio, on Tuesday, August 6, 1957, in Appleton Chapel at Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass.

MRS. STOWELL SYMMES

SYMMES — LYNCH

White gladiolas decorated the altar of St. Mary's Church on Saturday evening, August 24, for the marriage of Miss Janice Lynch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lynch of 48 Swanton street to Mr. Stowell Symmes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Symmes of 233 Main street. Reverend Charles Anadore of St. Mary's performed the eight o'clock double ring ceremony.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a gown of white chiffon, with a bouffant skirt. Two long flowing panels of white chiffon descended into a chapel train. The neckline was fashioned of folded chiffon with a gently molded bodice and short sleeves. A matching chiffon band with a shoulder length veil was chosen by the bride as her headpiece. She carried a bouquet of white rubrum lilies and white roses, entwined with ivy.

Miss Marcia Lynch of Winchester was her sister's only attendant. She was gowned in a Nile green chiffon dress of cocktail length and wore matching accessories. Her bouquet consisted of pink rubrum lilies and ivy.

Mr. Symmes had his brother Roger as his best man. The ushers included Prescott Keyes of Winchester, cousin of the groom, Albert Lynch of Winchester, brother of the bride, John Stephens of Vergennes, Vermont and Frank White of Medford, brother-in-law of the groom.

Mrs. Lynch, mother of the bride, was attired in a robin's egg blue lace dress with matching accessories and wore a corsage of odorous orchids. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Symmes, wore a corsage of pink rubrum lilies with her Dior blue embroidered taffeta and burgundy feather hat.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Mount Hood Country Club in Melrose where the bride and groom were assisted in receiving by their mothers and the honor attendant. As she left for her honeymoon, the bride wore a Dior blue sheath dress with matching jacket. White accessories and a corsage of white roses completed her ensemble.

Mrs. Symmes was graduated in 1956 from Jackson College where she was a member of Chi Omega and she is presently a member of the high school faculty in Milford, Conn. The groom received his degree from Amherst College in 1956 where he was a member of Chi Psi and he is now studying for a Master of Arts in Teaching at Wesleyan University. Following a wedding trip to the Cape, Mr. and Mrs. Symmes will make their home in Middletown, Conn.

SCHOOL OPEN HOUSE

On Saturday evening, August 24, Mr. and Mrs. James Norton Kidder, of Brooks street graciously opened their beautiful home and grounds for a gala benefit party for the Children's Own School.

During the early evening there was swimming in the large pool, then a cocktail hour followed by a delicious buffet dinner served at small tables in the attractive courtyard. Dancing by the pool side followed dinner, with music furnished by a band popular in this area.

Among the Winchester people attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Rene Beique, Mr. and Mrs. James Kirk, Miss Dorothy Gove, Dr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Lynch, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. W. Alexander Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Rochow, Mr. Sherman Russell and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Tartarian.

Many parents and friends of the Children's Own School came from out of town, from Belmont, Lexington, Cambridge and Woburn, to attend this truly delightful affair.

POLICE FORCED TO KILL DUCK

One of the wild ducks which make their home in the town pond was so injured last Thursday that Herbert S. Mullen, superintendent of the park department, requested that the police put it out of its misery.

WE WILL HAVE OUR MEMORIES

Girl Scouts of Troop 1 Winchester, Mass.

We are home again and gone our different ways for the rest of the summer with the old saying so often repeated, still ringing in our ears, "one of the best things about going away is coming home again." But we shall always have our memories, associations and new contacts: they will live forever.

We met pen pals, family friends, relatives and have made new friends, speaking languages not our own. We have slept and lived in many countries whose languages and customs are quite different from ours. We have eaten sail fish, rabbit, and fruit soup and have become accustomed to seeing bottles of wine on the table at every meal.

We fell in love with the Moroder family, Tyrolean woodcarver, who taught us how to do the Schuhplattler. We have ridden on Italian motor scooters. We have been serenaded under our windows and had poetic words whispered to us.

We have seen glaciers in the peaks of the Alps, glided through the dikes of Holland, steamed up the Rhine River and attended an installation ceremony of Air Rangers high on Arthur's Seat in Edinburgh.

We have had increased knowledge, adventure and romance but most of all we have found ourselves, our strength and weakness and have matured by so doing.

Freedom of individual responsibility and decision wherever possible, with sympathetic guidance when needed was made possible by the solemn oath of the Girl Scout Promise and Laws by which each girl was bound.

I want to take this opportunity to tell you, from the bottom of my heart, how very proud I was of every one of you, not because you were so idealistically perfect, because you were not, that would have been very dull, but because you were a group who could sit down together when misunderstandings began to build up, and hash things out openly and calmly toward the understanding and goodwill of all.

You were neat, at ease, enthusiastic and natural, drawing words of praise and admiration from the officials of the guide groups we met. I was most proud to say, "These are American Girl Scouts from Troop 1 of Winchester, Massachusetts."

Yes, it is all in the past but we still have our pictures to share. Angie writes that 58 of her 60 pictures came out, all of which are already pasted in a scrap book. I hope we all were as successful.

I shall be in Winchester on September 8, but my films cannot be ready until the evening of September 15. Any time after that date will be fine for me and you may plan to meet at my home if you wish. Just set the date.

Happy holidays,
Lois E. Hersey

NEWS OF THE HERSEY FAMILY

Brad and Lois Hersey are spending the remainder of the summer with their daughters, Althea, Alison and Stephanie at their camp on the shores of Shin Pond in Northern Maine.

Alison and Stephanie spent the week of August 25 at Camp Meredith, Field Hockey Camp in Camden, Maine.

Elliott and Linda are very busily occupied in establishing their dairy farm in New Boston, New Hampshire. Elliott completed his service in July with the U. S. Navy as instructor in the Officers' Candidate School in Newport, Rhode Island.

WEDDING BOOK BY WINCHESTER WOMAN

"How to Conduct a Perfect Wedding" is the title of a helpful little book written by Leola Coombs Kelley, a long time and widely known Winchester resident, who is known in town as Mrs. Frank B. Kelley of 31 Dix street.

The book, published by Doran & Co., Inc., of Philadelphia, takes the prospective bride and groom, and their harassed parents all the way from the engagement announcement through the hectic days of preparation for the marriage to the throwing of the last shoe at the departing automobile of the newlyweds.

It may seem a small thing, but among the matters discussed in the book by Mrs. Kelley is how to acknowledge a formal invitation, as well as to how to write one. Many a mere man and socially inexperienced housewife will bless the author for this information alone.

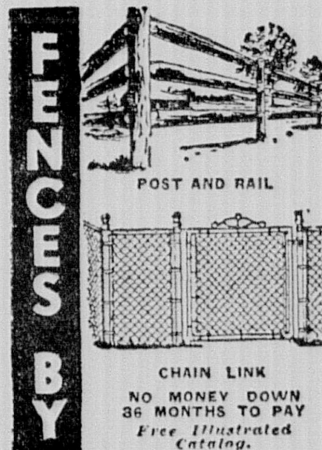

The matter of expense of a wedding is frankly discussed with helpful hints here and there by the author. The duties of the bridal attendants, best man and ushers are explained and, here again a hearty cheer from many a guest, the proper attire for each sort of ceremony is pointed out.

Each type of wedding is described with its own proper decorum. The bridal dinner, ushers dinner and other pre-nuptial functions gone into, the proper way to cut the wedding cake is indicated and how to handle the increasingly prevalent photographer is told.

Introductions at receptions, time of arrival of bridal party, transportation, cancellation of wedding, guests, clothes, music, refreshment and wedding anniversaries are other matters discussed by Mrs. Kelley in her book.

How did Mrs. Kelley come to write such a book? Her friends asked her to! She has been a wedding consultant for many years, and from actual experience has an extensive and exact knowledge of what is proper for each step of the way to the altar and honeymoon.

Her experience includes Protestant, Roman Catholic, Jewish and Military weddings. She tells of each in her book, which is sold locally at Spaulding Bookshop.

CAROLYN HIGGINS

Eighteen year old high school senior from Ft. Morgan, Colo., announced this week as the $1,000 first place winner in the 22nd annual National High School Essay Contest sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Contestants from the 48 states, Hawaii and Alaska participated in the contest, submitting essays on the subject, "America's Crusade for Free Men's Rights." Cash prizes were also awarded second, third and fourth place winners, as well as to a large group of those receiving honorable mention.

SCOUTS CLIMB MADISON

A group of hardy scouts and two leaders enjoyed a wonderful trip this past weekend. They camped at the base of Mt. Madison, the most northern peak in the Presidential Range with an elevation of 5,380 feet.

The Scouts pitched camp Friday night and everybody turned in early for a good night's sleep. Their sleep was light, however, due to the anticipation of the climb the next morning.

The group started their climb at 9:00 a. m. and packed a lunch. When the timber line was reached a halt was called to get some food into stomachs that were commencing to protest.

The summit was attained at 2:30 p. m. with every one glad to take a rest. It was quite cold at the summit and about 3:00 p. m. the party started the descent which was more dangerous and fatiguing than the upward push.

All in all a wonderful time was had by Troop 12. On Sunday morning the Scouts had a dip in a very cold mountain-spring pool, which was most refreshing. They broke camp Sunday afternoon and headed back for Winchester and home.

The climbers were scoutmaster, Mr. Anthony Doyle, assistant scoutmaster Tom Bates; Dick Fitzgerald, Jack Falla, John Kean, Ed Croty, Jim McGrath, Ronald Thorne, John Oliver, Dick Burns, John Cleary, Tom Bates, Jr., and Steven Amico.

Troop 12 will be opening very shortly for another successful year. We hope to see new faces, faces of boys who love adventure and scouting skills.

Edward Sterling, formerly of Winchester and now a resident of Medford, a printer at the Star, is vacationing this week. Early in the week he went to New York City to meet his family who are returning from Europe. The Sterlings are spending the last part of the week visiting in upstate New York.

LOW FAMILY RETURNS FROM SOUTHERN VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Low, Dick and Bonny, have just returned from a trip to Florida. They stopped at Jacksonville, Daytona Beach, Miami and Clearwater, visiting Mr. and Mrs. Lester Burke, formerly Ann De Camp and their year old daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cluffin (Eleanor Badger); and Mrs. Winship and Mango, all former Winchesterites.

The South was sunny and hot, but every minute of the trip was enjoyed to the utmost. On their return trip, the Lows toured the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis and looked up Joe Bellino, former Winchester High School athlete. On their return, the travelers thought that of all they had seen New England and especially Winchester looked "tots".

MISS DERRO HOSTESS

Miss Madeline Derro of 433 Washington Street will represent Winchester as a hostess for the "Caribbean Carnival" Open House of the Boston YWCA Wednesday evening, September 18.

The event, scheduled from 6 to 11 p.m., will be enlivened by calypso music in a tropical island setting as guests are given a preview of the variety of activities offered by the YW this fall. More than 40,000 persons from 65 greater Boston communities participated in some phase of the YWCA program last year.

YWCA staff instructors will be present and guests will have opportunity to register for classes in the more than 60 crafts, sports and studyshops courses which begin September 30.

Ralph Page will call for square dancing during the evening and ballroom dancing will be directed by the John Notts. Special dance demonstrations at intermission will include native Haitian dances by Misses Berthe Fenelon and Marysae Polynice, Haitian students at Boston University.

All Open House events are free to the public.

The Immaculate Conception Drill Team with their Colors and color guard will participate in the seventh annual Drummerama championship competition of the Eastern Massachusetts Junior Drum and Bugle Corps Association, finals of which are scheduled for September 22 at the Chelsea Stadium. The Immaculate Conception girls have been competing for some years now and have won many championships. They will be among the teams to beat at Chelsea.

HEANEY — CONTE

At St. Mary's Church on Saturday morning, August 24, Miss Marilyn Joyce Conte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ulderico E. Conte of 3 York road, became the bride of Joseph Lawrence Heaney, son of Mrs. Joseph L. Heaney of 36 Spring street, Malden. The Rev. Charles E. Anadore read the marriage service at 11 o'clock in a setting of white gladiolus and pompons, and he was also celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed. James Clancy was the soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Conte wore a gown of ivory silk organza over tulle and taffeta, fashioned with a bodice embroidered with sequins and pearls and a skirt extending to form a court train. Her circular veil of ivory silk illusion fell from a coronet of pearlized orange blossoms and she carried a colonial bouquet of stephanotis and lily petals edged with maline.

Miss Jacqueline B. Hogan was her cousin's honor attendant, and the bridesmaids were Miss Mary E. Towle of Lexington, Miss Gertrude V. Kenney of Wollaston and Miss Eileen G. Kennelly of Belmont.

The honor maid wore a ballerina length dress of daffodil yellow chiffon with a shirred bodice. Her matching satin coronet was bound with French maline veiling and she carried an old fashioned bouquet of varying shades of blue delphinium tied with matching ribbons.

The bridesmaids wore identical dresses like that of the honor attendant fashioned of cornflower-blue chiffon. Their coronets matched their gowns and they carried bouquets of yellow summer flowers tied with matching ribbons.

Paul J. Heaney of Malden was best man for his brother, and ushering were James Cogan of Springfield, John Hoyt of Cleveland, Ohio; and Richard Conte of Winchester, brother of the bride.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the Andover Inn. Mrs. Conte, mother of the bride, was gown in dusty rose silk organza over taffeta. She wore a hat of matching velvet rose petals and leaves, and carried a white gladiolus with her purse. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Heaney, wore a lace sheath over blue satin with a blue sequined hat and a white orchid corsage.

After a wedding journey to Long Island, N. Y., Mr. Heaney and his bride will make their home in Hagerstown, Md.

The bride is a graduate of Radcliffe College. Mr. Heaney, who is associated with the Data Processing Division of IBM, graduated from Harvard and has his master's degree from Wharton School of Finance and Commerce at the University of Pennsylvania. He is a member of Beta Gamma Sigma honorary society.

The Star received this week a postcard from Peter Marchesi, a widely known Winchester resident who has been spending a month abroad. The card was addressed in Rome, and Mr. Marchesi mentions Shannon, Ireland; and Paris as cities previously visited. He goes on to Palermo and then home and is expected back in about two weeks.

RED CROSS SWIMMING CHAMPIONSHIPS

Last Saturday, August 24, before a gathering of some 500 parents and friends about 200 Winchester boys and girls swimmers took part in the annual Red Cross swimming championships sponsored jointly by the Winchester Park Department and the Winchester Red Cross. There were twenty-two swimming events and one open diving event run off during the program. Trophies were awarded to first, second, and third place winners of each event.

Patricia Murphy was the big winner of the day scoring the two firsts in age group races and one first in the open events. Patty Overacker came in first on the girls 10 and under freestyle and the girls 12 and under freestyle. For the boys Whitey Allen, Peter Cunningham and Barry Littleton were the most successful. In general however competition was much closer and there were a greater number of winners this time than ever before to our limited knowledge.

The diving was topnotch quality with Lou Farrell successfully defending his laurels against Bob Skerry and Whitey Allen, the second and third place winners. Highlight of the afternoon was the awarding of Trophies by the Winchester Red Cross and the Park Department in recognition of outstanding accomplishments during the summer by individual boys and girls.

Mr. Joseph Burns, Red Cross Water Safety Director, presented the Gladys F. Dutton Memorial Trophy to Julie Devaney. This trophy is an advancement trophy and goes to the younger boy or girl swimmer who has shown the most improvement since the start of the program in June.

The Red Cross Trophy for the outstanding girl swimmer was presented for the second successive year to Patricia Murphy. Arthur Cunningham was selected as the outstanding boy swimmer.

Park Commissioner Albert MacDonnell made the award of the Thomas P. McGowan Memorial Trophy to Mollie Devaney for the girls and to Robert Carroll for the boys. This trophy is presented annually to the girl and boy swimmers who have best exemplified the qualities of leadership, interest, courtesy and cooperation. Robert Carroll is a second time winner.

AUTO ACCIDENT AT CAMBRIDGE STREET INTERSECTION

An automobile accident Monday night at the intersection of Cambridge street, Church and High streets resulted in the injury of two children and the disablement of two cars.

Lawrence C. Tabor of Billerica while traveling north on Cambridge street went through the intersection and collided with a car driven by Francis L. Fitzpatrick of Woburn who was going east on High street.

The two Fitzpatrick children John B., 1½, and Maria L., 3½, were taken to the hospital by ambulance. They were treated by Dr. Develin and released. Both cars were towed away.

PLUMBING & HEATING SERVICE

Your plumbing costs less when done by an expert.

When you put a Nicholson man to work on your plumbing job he needs no watching. He wastes no time. He does no experimenting.

He makes no mess of your house. He gets the most out of every working moment. You get the most out of his long, intensive training.

And, believe it or not, your bill is not high, but justified to a dollar by the very excellence and lasting quality of the work that has been performed.

It looks like a rustic vacation spot—the buildings are rough but attractive; the heavily wooded lake shore site is ideal, but it's a place for work. Teachers come there for a two-week course on nature and animal appreciation. They attend classes and take field trips day and every evening, learning how to pass on to their pupils a better enjoyment and understanding of wild life, both plant and animal.

The recipient of this year's scholarship donated by the Winchester Auxiliary of the Mass. Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals became so enthusiastic that he plans to enter a full-time career with the Humane Education Society which runs these classes and maintains the Alvard Wild-life Sanctuary on Bear Island in Lake Winnepesaukee.

Mrs. Fred Cardin and sons Fred and Bruce enjoyed an interesting and instructive field trip to the Sanctuary via a well-mellowed boat from Brown's Boat Basin. Mr. Lester Giles, Jr., Director of Wild Life Conservation, who teaches most of the classes, showed them around the island and piloted them back to the mainland in a "sloop" inbound given to the Alvard Society by a Wellesley well-wisher. Come on, Winchester! Very seriously the needs are many (including moderately priced text books); the work very much worth while.

Winchester Represented At Speech, Theater Convention

Winchester was well represented at the 44th annual National Speech and Theater Convention, held in Boston August 25-29 at the Hotel Statler. Over 2000 delegates gathered from all over the United States to exchange knowledge and techniques concerning speech and theater instruction, forensics, radio and television communications, religious speech instruction, speech in business and history, as well as speech and hearing therapy.

Sponsored by the Speech Association of America, the American Educational Theatre Association, the National Society for the Study of Communication and the American Forensic Association, the convention was headed by Thomas A. Morse, assistant principal of Winchester High School, who served as one of eight committee chairmen in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Morse was chairman of the committee for ushers and in this capacity, recruited the following Winchester High students who ushered for all of the four days: John Yore, Lin Morrison, John Rides, John Gattineri, Ruthann Leander, Ted Bacon, Elaine Golden, Frank Inman, Henry Dietz, George Yore, Harry Preble, Peter Dee, Francis Chaput, Louise Chagnon, Blanche Cartier, Suzanne Simpson, Stephen Enright.

A highlight of the program was the opening of Winchester High School for a tour to show an example of an Eastern high school with an excellent plant and program in the communications field. The trip, on Wednesday, August 28, showed the speech, radio, TV and drama facilities of the high school plant.

FRANK J. LEVERONE

Frank J. Leverone of 11 Chester street died suddenly on Monday, September 2, at his home.

Mr. Leverone was born on September 7, 1903, in Boston. He was the son of Frank and Anna Leverone. After living in Medford for about 35 years, he and his family moved to Winchester. He is a graduate of Medford High School, where he was very active in sports, particularly football. It was this love of sports which prompted his great interest in the Winchester Little League. His business association was with the Frank J. Leverone Construction Co., a firm started by his father.

He leaves his wife, the former Eleanor Roberts, and two children, Carol and Frank, Jr., all of Winchester. He also leaves a brother, Joseph Leverone of Quincy, and three sisters, Mrs. Victoria Barber and Mrs. Frank Silletto, both of Medford, and Mrs. Joseph Gray of Wilmington.

The funeral was held Thursday morning from the Dello-Russo Funeral Home in Medford. A solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Mary's Church at 9 a.m. Burial was at Oak Grove Cemetery in Medford.

FLOWER TEA SEPTEMBER 15th

Another of the popular Flower Teas given by the Flower Club of the New Hope Baptist Church will be held at the Church on Sunday, September 15, commencing at 4:15 in the afternoon.

The public is cordially invited to attend this event which has been held for some years now with conspicuous success.

A musical program will be presented by Ruby Stevenson Jones, soprano; Flora Greene Anderson, contralto; and Wilbur Best, tenor. Ella France Jones will be the accompanist.

Coffee and punch will be served in addition to tea. The chief hostess for the afternoon will be Miss Lucy Kirby.

CLARK — TUXBURY

At a ceremony Saturday, August 31, at the United States Naval Hospital Chapel in Charlestown, Miss Joan Elaine Tuxbury, daughter of Chaplain and Mrs. Vernon W. Tuxbury, USN, of 12 Chesterford road, became the bride of Howard Walter Clark, son of the Rev. and Mrs. William J. Clark of 6 Everett street, Newport, R. I. Chaplain Vernon W. Tuxbury, of the Boston Naval Shipyard, performed the ceremony assisted by the Rev. William J. Clark of the First Presbyterian Church of Newport and the Rev. Wilbur Nelson, grandfather of the bride, of Stone Church, Adamsville, R. I.

Given in marriage by her brother, Vernon W. Tuxbury, Jr., the bride wore a gown of lace and net over white satin with short train and matching lace cap and mitts. She wore a fingertip veil of French illusion and carried a white Bible with ivory.

Miss Elyse M. Koehler of Warwick, N. J., fiancée of the bride's brother, was honor attendant. She wore a tangerine colored dress of chrysanthemum with matching accessories. Her bouquet was of yellow fringe mums. Paul Sargent of Newport, R. I., was best man and ushers included Paul Boorjuy of Chatham, N. J., Russell E. Edberg, Jr., of Warren, R. I., Alexander Cozzens of Newport, R. I., and Richard Fowler, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, of Newport, R. I.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Charlestown Commissioned Officers Club. Mrs. Clark wore a dress of royal blue crepe with pink accessories. Mrs. Tuxbury, mother of the bride, wore a sky blue dress with lace and net over tulle and white accessories.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Clark are members of the senior class at the University of Rhode Island. Mrs. Clark is a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority and her husband is a member of Sigma Pi fraternity.

Mr. Clark is a resident of the town of Narragansett, R. I.

JAMES EDWIN KIMBALL

James Edwin Kimball, a resident of Arlington for over 50 years, died Monday, August 26, in Lynnfield, after a long illness.

Although a resident of Arlington, Mr. Kimball was a frequent visitor to Winchester. His son, A. Allen Kimball, and a daughter, Mrs. Bertil E. Lindvall, are both Winchester residents. He is also survived by another daughter, Mrs. W. Harry Gullifer of Belmont.

Services were held Saturday afternoon, August 31, at Mt. Pleasant Center Chapel with the Rev. Elmore Young of All Saints Episcopal Church of Belmont officiating.

CARLISLE B. ELLIOTT

Carlisle Brookings Elliott, a former resident of Winchester and veteran of World War I, died Thursday, August 29, at his home in Fort Myers, Fla., after several weeks illness that followed an operation.

Mr. Elliott was the son of William D., and Clara (Trott) Elliott. He was born September 5, 1894, in Somerville, but came to Winchester as a boy and for some years made his home on Mystic avenue and later on Grove street.

He graduated from the old Wadleigh School and attended high school in the class of 1914, making the football team as a freshman and captaining the eleven in his senior year. A strong paddler, he was a member of the school four-blade crew, and was also a member of the former Phi Delta Society.

From school Mr. Elliott went to work for the Coca-Cola Company and was in the employ of that company for several years.

Mr. Elliott was in the United States Army during World War I. He was among the first from Winchester to enlist in the Air Corps and served 27 months overseas as sergeant in the 40th Aero Squadron. He served in support of the French at Chateau Thierry, being much of the time in the motor transport division of the Air Force. He served also as sergeant in charge of motorcycles and as truck master.

After the war Mr. Elliott returned to the Coca-Cola Company, and was associated with the firm at several places in this country and in Canada. Most of his business life was spent in Toledo, Ohio, but since his retirement he had lived in Maine and Florida.

Soon after the war Mr. Elliott married Ellen Goddu of Winchester, who survives him, with a son, John, of Miami, Fla., a daughter, Mrs. Roy Reed, living in the Middle West, and his mother, who was with him at the time of his death.

Private funeral services were held Saturday at Fort Myers.

After One Long Night

Winchester Girl Rescued From Western Canyon

Winchester people have strange summer adventures, but the one that happened to Annabella Morse, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Philip M. Morse of 126 Wildwood street, is one of the most terrifying.

While staying at Los Alamos, New Mexico, with her parents, Annabella and a friend decided, after seeing the Ceremonial Caves, that a trip to the Painted Caves and Stone Lions would be easily accomplished on horseback.

One morning in July, the girls started out equipped with light jackets, a small map, a sandwich and a bottle of pop, two oranges and one canteen of water. Bandler National Monument, 15 miles from Los Alamos, was the starting point. A large mesa cut into sections by deep canyons, Bandler is rugged country to say the least.

Half way on the trail, a thunder storm came up suddenly and the girls waited it out, being careful to keep out of the mesa when the storm broke the lightning often strikes in the flat area. Because they hurried to a safe place, the girls got off the path and soon found themselves in a section where the deer trails and Indian cattle trails were mixed together.

After following the canyon a long time without finding any markers, they decided to cross it and go diagonally across the mesa in the direction of the river. The girls could find the trail on the map, but not in the canyon. Even the usual use of letting the horse pick its own way proved to be useless because the horses were also in unfamiliar territory.

Sighting a rattlesnake unnerved the girls, but luckily the horses didn't see it. The going by now was very difficult. Walls rose alongside of the path up to 20 feet high. In attempting to go around one of these walls, Annabella's horse slipped on loose gravel and fell, dumping the girl off and rolling on her before they both landed at the bottom of the slope. Annabella escaped with only a cut on the back of her head and her horse received only a slight bruise. The last of the water was used to clean the cut on the girl's head.

The girls decided to leave the horses and find some place to spend the night. With the first light of dawn, the girls climbed up to the rim of the canyon, watching for any sign of water. An airplane circled above them, but it was too high to see their signals.

On the hope that there was water in a grove of pine trees, the girls went down into the canyon again. After sliding down the slope, they were disappointed to find only sand dampened by the rain. Thoroughly discouraged, the girls climbed under an overhanging rock and lay down out of the sun.

Sometime later, the girls suddenly heard a whistle from the rim of the canyon. The girls shouted an answer and minutes later a man came to them with water and food. It was no easy job getting two tired girls up the steep walls, but the girls finally reached home safely and with an experience they will never forget.

Mrs. Luis Watts of Oakton, Va., was matron of honor, and Miss Alice Elaine Izzard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Izzard of 3300 North Vernon street, Country Club Hills, Arlington, Va., became the bride of James A. Fielding, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew B. Fielding of 12 Lawrence street. Dr. Carl Heath Kopf performed the marriage ceremony which took place at 7:30 o'clock by candlelight before an altar banked with palms and ferns.

Seven arrangements of white gladiolus and chrysanthemums on graduated white Doric columns added an impressive decorative note.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a chapel-length gown of silk organza with a portrait neckline trimmed with pearls. Her veil of illusion was caught in a tiara of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Luis Watts of Oakton, Va., was matron of honor, and Miss Alice Elaine Izzard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Izzard of 3300 North Vernon street, Country Club Hills, Arlington, Va., became the bride of James A. Fielding, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew B. Fielding of 12 Lawrence street. Dr. Carl Heath Kopf performed the marriage ceremony which took place at 7:30 o'clock by candlelight before an altar banked with palms and ferns.

All the bridal attendants wore princess style dresses of pearly de soie with matching net veil hats and silver shoes. The honor maid was gowned in pink and the bridesmaids, in rose. One junior bridesmaid wore a silver-colored frock and the other, blue. All carried fans to match their gowns tied with silver ribbons.

Ensign Joseph G. Carleton of Minneapolis, Minn., a former Fielding's best man, and ushering were William Richard Powell of Louisville, Ky.; Ensign Lawrence D. Phillips of Ithaca, N. Y.; Acacia fraternity brothers of the bridegroom; and David Rogers of Beverly, cousin of the bridegroom.

A reception was held after the marriage at the Lyons Village Community House in Arlington, Va. Mrs. Izzard, mother of the bride was gowned in orchid brocade with the mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Fielding, wearing rose.

After a wedding journey through the Great Smokies, Mr. Fielding and his bride will make their home at 256 Lynnhurst street, Rochester, N. Y.

The bride is a graduate of Western High School in the District of Columbia, and of Cornell University, also spending a year in study at the University of Munich in Germany. Mr. Fielding, after graduating from Winchester High School, graduated from the University of Rochester, where he was a member of Acacia fraternity.

FLOWERS FOR BOSTON

Only three mornings remain this fall for Winchester residents to give their garden flowers to the Fruit and Flower Mission for distribution to shut-ins in Boston. The two large hampers will be at the Winchester railroad station the next three Tuesday mornings between 8:30 and 9:00 a.m. to receive your contributions.

On September 10, Mrs. George H. Lemay, of the Winchester Home and Garden Club, will be in charge and Miss Laura Tolman, of the Second Congregational Church, will be at the station on September 17 and 24.

COMING EVENTS

Sept. 10, Tuesday, Mrs. George H. Lemay, Fruit and Flower Mission Chairman for Winchester Home and Garden Club. Tel. Winchester 6-2167.

Sept. 15, Sunday, 4:15 p.m., Flower Club Tea at New Hope Baptist Church.

Sept. 23, Monday, 2:00 p.m., M.S.P.C.A. meeting at 8 Conley street. Members and animal enthusiasts invited.

NOTICE

CHANGE IN EMERGENCY WATER RESTRICTIONS

In view of the excellent cooperation of the townspeople in keeping water consumption at minimum levels, and prospects of our new supply source, it is now possible to ease up on water restrictions and to permit general residential outside watering on a broader basis.

As of September 5th the following restrictions are in effect:

1. No residential outside use of town water for any purpose except during the hours of 3 P. M. to 5 P. M. daily.
2. No business or residential use of town water for air conditioning systems or units not equipped with water recovery units.
3. No residential or commercial car washing.

With drought conditions continuing, it is still important to economize on the use of water and it is hoped that the townspeople will continue their excellent cooperation along these lines.

ALLEN WINS WINCHESTER SNIPE FLEET REGATTA

If Harry Allen of Quassagong, Connecticut had stayed home, the Labor Day weekender would have been absolutely perfect for Winchester Boat Club Snipe Skippers, members and their guests.

As it was, it proved a wonderful weekend, weather-wise and fun-wise, from start to finish.

Of course, the highlight was the annual Snipe Fleet Regatta, and as mentioned above, Harry Allen, (who, by the way, is the National Champion), was the winner. He won all three races but even Harry was ready to admit he'd been in a good fight.

In the first race, for example, he had to overhaul Dick Ivers on the last lap to gain his victory, and Cliff Austin, sailing Daw Blamire's boat was right in his wake most of the race.

The second race on Sunday morning, Harry won with the greatest of ease. In fact, the first three boats to finish were visitors.

In the third and final contest, Herby Alderson led most of the way, only to be caught by Allen and Austin at the windward mark. Allen finally won, an eyelash ahead of Austin, who was a boat length ahead of Alderson.

Herby Alderson scored a fifth, a fourth and a third to win second prize for the series, and the Blamire-Austin team with a second, third and tenth, won third prize.

Saturday evening, the Club staged a catered chicken bar-b-que that was thoroughly enjoyed by more than 150 members, visitors and guests. The feast was followed by an evening of dancing.

Monday morning, the Fleet staged a race with mothers or wives as crews. Some of them had never been on a sailboat before and because there was a really brisk breeze blowing, they all deserve a lot of credit just for going out. Those who crewed were Helen Alderson, Jean Mead, Lil' Snow, Rita Legere and Anne Freyer and all of them were returned safely to the dock after the race, albeit somewhat wet and blistered. Winners of the race were the Alderson team of Helen and Herby.

The holiday evening was for the juniors, with a dance in the main ballroom. Nearly a hundred of the Club's juniors and their friends danced and enjoyed themselves until the last strains of "Good Night Ladies" drifted out over the Mystic.

As you can see, a wonderful, wonderful weekend at the Club.

BALLET SCHOOL REOPENS

The Mary Corbett Burns School of Ballet announces the reopening of the school at 118 Pleasant street, Arlington on September 9. Registration begins September 4.

The school year consists of 36 weeks of instruction. Courses are offered for Beginners, Intermediate and Advanced students in Ballet from Elementary Technique through Advanced Classical (Toe), Character, including National Dances and Pantomime.

As part of their training many of the students are given an opportunity of appearing with the Arlington Ballet Circle. For those who may have professional aspirations they receive their first feeling for the stage, lights and audience. For others it is an unusual opportunity to achieve the self-control, self-confidence and audience reaction necessary in so many later-life experiences.

Mary Corbett Burns, Director of the School, is recognized by outstanding Ballet Masters of our day as one of their own. They have full knowledge of her training and abilities, and a constant awareness of her talents since her pupils are numbered among the members of the Metropolitan Opera Ballet, the Grand Ballet du Marquis de Cuevas and the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, and as Teachers in many Schools throughout the country.

CARS ENTERED IN NURSES' PARKING LOT

Mrs. Larin, a nurse at Winchester Hospital, reported to police that in the last few nights several of the nurses' cars had been entered including her own. Several articles in the cars were stolen. The cars were parked in the old tennis court and in the parking area next to the hospital.

Police have been watching the parking lot.

MISS JUTTA REICH ASSUMES NEW DUTIES

The First Congregational Church in Winchester welcomes Miss Jutta Maria Reich as its new Director of Religious Education, to take the place of Mrs. Eileen Hadidian who resigned last spring to go with her husband who has been appointed to the staff of the Hartford Seminary Foundation in Hartford, Connecticut.

Miss Reich is a native of Silesia, East Germany, but moved with her family during the second World War to Marburg, West Germany, where her parents now reside. She studied Religious Education in Germany and worked as an educator in the German Lutheran Church. In Europe, Miss Reich has also worked with the Lutheran World Federation and while studying in Paris, France, was associated with the City Missionary Society.

Miss Reich has been in this country five years, receiving a Bachelor of Arts degree in Bible and Religion, a Master's in Business Administration in Office Management and Personnel from Syracuse University, and a Masters in Religious Education from the Hartford Seminary Foundation. Miss Reich has been associated in Religious Education with the University Methodist Church in Syracuse, the First Congregational Church in Waterbury, Connecticut, and the Immanuel Congregational Church in Hartford.

During this past summer she has worked as a counselor and leader in summer camps of the Congregational Christian Churches, located in Georgia, New Jersey and New Hampshire. She has also worked for the Faith and Order Commission at the recent meeting of the World Council of Churches held on the campus of the Yale Divinity School in New Haven, Connecticut.

Miss Reich is a member of the Congregational Church in the United States and also a member of the Wider Quaker Fellowship. She has expressed herself as looking forward to the interesting and challenging work at the First Congregational Church. Miss Reich started her work September 1 and resides at 110 Church street.

RECEIVE AWARDS FOR SERVICE

At ceremonies at its Wilmington, Mass., plant August 30, the J. W. Greer Company awarded years of service pins to 103 of its employees. Attractive jewelry pins were given those who have worked with the company from 10 to as long as 34 years.

The company was founded in 1917, 40 years ago, by Jesse W. Greer who came to New England to go into business for himself. The company manufactures continuous production machinery for the food and other industries.

Local residents who were rewarded for their years of faithful work were:

Don S. Greer, Arlington street, 27 years of service; Lawrence Kinney, Westland avenue, 19 years; Philip P. Wadsworth, Oxford street, 18 years; Russell Strout, Lorena road, 17 years; Carlton Totman, Lorena road, 14 years; and Joseph Perry, Washington street, 12 years.

SPONSOR of WELCOME WAGON

Many a newcomer to Winchester has had her approach to a knowledge of the town smoothed appreciably by the Welcome Wagon representative.

She it is who calls on newly arrived housewives, answers their questions about churches, schools, where to get what, and most important from our angle, gives them a complimentary copy of the Winchester Star.

The Welcome Wagon representative makes a real effort to visit all newcomers to Winchester, but it is hard to keep track of all arrivals, especially those who rent houses. She, and we know the newcomers, would appreciate residents of any neighborhood in which there are newly arrived families, giving notice of their arrival to the 6-3431 so that she can get in touch with them and be of help if possible.

You will be helping her and your new neighbors if you do!

VISITED CORBIN PARK

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Edgell, and son, Stephen, Jr., recently spent a vacation in New York, N. H. While there, they visited Corbin Park, the 26,000 acre private game preserve founded by Mr. Edgell's grandfather, the late Austin Corbin of New York, and stocked by him with European wild boar, buffalo, and deer, as well as other game animals.

Formerly owned by the Edgell family, it is now the home of the Blue Mountain Forest Association, a private club. Young Stephen had fun feeding the deer which come up to the clubhouse (when it's not the hunting season) and they were all privileged to meet the only relatively tame wild boar ever known in the park, who comes morning and evening for food. Needless to say, they kept about six feet between them and him, as a boar is one of the fiercest of wild animals when aroused!

It was an exciting experience that made their trip to the park a memorable one.

LUMBER STOLEN FROM CHURCH YARD

Mr. Howard A. Wittet of 251 Forest street, a member of the building committee of the First Congregational Church, reported to police Monday that before he went on vacation the church had a lot of lumber including railroad ties and other timbers taken from the rear of the church.

Police found the lumber floating in Wedge Pond. The persons who are responsible have not been found, but two boys with a boat volunteered to bring the lumber back.

METHODISTS PLAN DEDICATION

An extended program relating to the Dedication of the new Parish Hall and Educational Plant, is being planned for this fall. Part of the program is listed as follows:

October 13, Planning of Parish Visitation under the leadership of Mr. Clarence R. Craft, Chairman of the Commission of Membership and Evangelism.

October 20, Laymen's Sunday with Mr. Warner Danforth, Conference Leader, bringing greetings from the Conference laymen. Our charge Layleader, Mr. Lewis G. Curtis, will officiate.

October 20, 4:00 p. m. Service of Dedication of the new addition, Bishop John Wesley Lord and District Superintendent Rev. Willard C. Arnold will be with us.

October 20, 5:00 p. m. Open House. Friends of the community are invited to both 4:00 and 5:00 p. m. programs.

October 24, 6:45 p. m. Dedication Banquet with Dr. Harry V. Gison as chairman. We are planning a wonderful evening together.

October 27, 11:00 a. m. Missions Sunday with Mrs. Donald R. Wilkins as chairman. A dynamic message will be brought by Professor Harold Ehrensperger of the Boston University School of Theology. His experience in world affairs and his approach to world peace are most appealing and challenging.

November 3, 11:00 a. m. Service of Consecration with the pastor Rev. John Snook, Jr., bringing the message. We are planning to have all officers and committees of various organizations sharing in the service.

November 10, 11:00 a. m. Christian Education Sunday with Mrs. Ruth Pope and Mr. Ray Stillman as co-chairman. Dr. George Warner of Oakland, California, specialist in the field of Christian Education, will bring another challenging message.

November 15, 6:45 p. m. Stewardship and Banquet with our Stewardship and Finance Commission Chairman, Mr. Kenneth Lamprey, in charge. Members and friends associated with the church will be invited guests. Another memorable evening is in store.

Finally, climaxing this gigantic program of dedication will be our Stewardship Sunday, November 17 at 11:00 a. m., in cooperation with other churches. The pastor will bring the message.

Our Invitation

"To all who mourn and need comfort,

To all who are friendly and need friendship,

To all who are homeless and need sheltering love,

To all who pray and to all who do not, but should,

To all who sin and need a Saviour,

To those who believe and look for continued guidance,

This church opens wide its doors, and makes free a place,

And in the name of Jesus, the Lord,

Says, "Welcome!"

PINK PAINT AND NEW DANCE CONSERVATORY

If there's a shortage of pink paint in this area it's because most of it has been used in redecorating the large hall on the upper level of the Waterfield Building on the corner of Church Street and Waterfield road.

The Winchester Conservatory of Dance and Related Arts will open there on September 16. The owners of the new firm have done a remarkable job of completely redecorating the entire hall. The walls are now a soft pink; they've installed new flooring in the entire hall, constructed a charming reception area and a new dressing room. There's a full wall of gleaming mirrors and delightful accents of greenery together with happy new curtains and draperies.

The Conservatory extends a cordial invitation to all Winchester residents to come in and see their new home any time during their informal open house the week of September 16 through September 21, at which time registration of students will be held from 10 a. m. to 7 p. m.

Director of the Conservatory is Miss Vivian Bold, a well-known dance authority, who is also director and owner of the Newton Conservatory of Dance and Related Arts which has been in operation in Newton for four years.

Miss Bold has participated in concentrated research and study with some of the world's greatest authorities in specialized phases of dance technique, including: Margaret Craske of the Metropolitan Opera Ballet; Mattlyn Gayers of the Metropolitan and Julliard Schools; Ted Shawn, long known as the father of modern dance in this country; Myra Kinch, famed concert dancer; and Barbara Mettler, prominent modern creative dance authority.

Miss Bold has worked directly with Doris Humphreys, Helen Tamario, Anna Sokolow and Rod Alexander in New York in developing new approaches in modern dance choreography. She has worked on latest developments in modern jazz with Matt Mattox of the June Taylor Studios in New York, and has participated in special research for improved methods of teaching ballet to children with Alfredo Corvino of the Metropolitan Opera Ballet in New York.

The Conservatory will hold classes in Ballet, Modern Creative, Modern Jazz, Calypso, Tap and Ballroom Dancing. In addition, there will be a specialized Charm Course with instruction in all phases of personality development, modeling and poise. Included in this course will be individualized training in correct and graceful posture, color evaluation, voice modulation and poise. Included in this course will be a brochure available outlining each course in detail which may be obtained by writing or calling Miss Bold at the Conservatory, Winchester 6-2697.

Miss Elizabeth A. Dakin of 179 Forest street is visiting her sister Mrs. Lemuel Raymond at Centerville, Nova Scotia. The trip was made with Mr. and Mrs. Orison K. Smith who are visiting Prince Edward Island and parts of Nova Scotia.

NAMED NAVAL RESERVE INSTRUCTOR

Lt. Commander W. H. Varley of 46 Hillcrest Parkway has been appointed to the staff of U. S. Naval Reserve School, Boston, to conduct a course in Guided Missiles, it was announced today by Captain Alvan Fisher, USNR, the commanding officer of the school. Now in its fourth year, the school has an enrollment of 200 student officers who will take twenty-four courses over a period of forty weeks beginning September 12.

The courses will review, at college level, the various subjects necessary to increase the professional competence of Naval Reserve officers. The courses, according to Captain Fisher, provide a stimulating, satisfying, and convenient means of keeping the Reserve Officer's commission active and effective, and, additionally, fulfill annual retirement and promotion requirements.

Reserve Officers desiring to join the school may obtain additional information by calling Commander Varley at Winchester 6-3154.

PARTICIPATES IN ARMY RESERVE PROGRAM

Capt. Wendell N. Harvey of 209 Highland avenue was participating officer, Guard Duty, at the Army Reserve Training Program's summer session test at Fort Devens.

Implemented by Continental Army Command and carried out under an inspection team from First Army, the program, operative for the first time at New England's largest military installation, is hailed by participating units as the most revealing and rewarding 15 day tour of duty ever conducted here. Reports of proficiency of men and operations run very high; both units and individuals attaining notable marks in the sixteen various operations which make up the test pattern.

DR. LIVINGSTONE RETURNS TO AFRICA

Dr. Frank Livingstone of Chestnut street left for Harbel, Liberia, on Monday, September 2. He returns to Africa on a grant from the National Science Foundation to study hereditary anemias of the Africans. He will make his headquarters at the Liberian Institute of Medicine during the next year, with field trips into the Liberian interior and into Ghana.

Winchester 6-3070HOLY NAME TEAM CELEBRATION NIGHT

Members of the championship Holy Name Softball Team held a celebration night at the home of their manager, Francis Allen, 406 Highland avenue Saturday, August 24.

Invited guests were "Albie" MacDonnell, member of the Board of Park Commissioners; Frank Provanzano, Director of Town Softball League; Herb Cleary, Past President, Holy Name Society; and members of the Sons of Italy Team, the other league finalist.

Refreshments and a generous sideboard received lots of play between the re-hashing of the recent fine series and the discussions and hopes for softball games under the lights in Winchester.

The group was happy to receive a visit from the clergy of St. Mary's, as well as a later visit from Frank Fontaine, star of T.V. stage and screen. Frank amazed and amused all present with anecdotes and funny stories. His visit was greatly enjoyed and appreciated.

It is generally agreed that the "night" was a tremendous success, and should be followed up next year.

BOYS ON ROOF OF WASHINGTON SCHOOL

Last Thursday night around 9:30, police received a call that boys were on the roof of the George Washington School.

Police checked the call and patrol car 51 was sent to the school. The two boys on the roof escaped. Police checked the building and found everything secured.

JOHN J. GRIFFIN

CHAIRMAN OF AREA ONE, UNITED FUND CAMPAIGN

John P. Griffin, of 31 Lincoln street, who is associated with the Metropolitan Coal Company, Somerville, will serve as chairman of area one of the north metropolitan division of this fall's United Fund Campaign. His appointment was announced today by Edgar A. Perry, division chairman.

Area one includes Somerville, Medford, Stoneham, and Wakefield.

Mr. Griffin was chairman of the Somerville Community Fund drive for two years, and was also chairman of that town's Red Cross Campaign.

MUSEUM EXHIBITS TRACE PROGRESS OF MEDICINE

Rags, bones, hanks of hair—and the world's finest collection of microscopes—occupy equally honored places in Washington's Armed Forces Medical Museum.

This institution, the only one of its kind open to the public, uses actual specimens to portray medical history. Among them are the scalp of a Chippewa Indian, the bones of battle casualties, and the well-preserved mummy of an ancient Peruvian girl.

The Museum was founded by the Army in 1902 to collect evidence of Civil War wounds and diseases in the hope that study of such specimens would enable surgeons to provide better care, says the National Geographic Society.

Started with Three Items When Dr. John Hill Brinton became the first curator, his collection comprised three small items. Now a division of the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology, the exhibit-grammed Museum occupies a long two-story building at Ninth street and Independence avenue in Southwest Washington. About 1,000 people visit it daily.

The Museum's most prized possession is its microscope collection. Numbering more than 500 instruments, the exhibit ranges from an antique model of 1600 to a massive electron microscope built in Germany in 1944 and purchased by Adolf Hitler for his personal physician, Dr. Theodore Morrell.

Visitors can trace medical progress from the crude surgical instruments of the American Revolution when doctors solved their problems by amputation—to color pictures of modern plastic surgery.

The Museum also boasts an outstanding collection of preserved human tissue, illustrating both war wounds and the ravages of disease. Pre-Columbian skulls from South America give evidence that brain surgery was practiced in ancient times. North American pharmacology is represented by a Sioux medicine bag, complete with weeds, roots, and bright paint to frighten off the demons of disease. Arrows taken from the bodies of slain American soldiers also feature the Indian display.

Historical Remains Mementos of great men include the bullet-pierced vertebrae of President James A. Garfield, assassinated in 1881; the dentures of General of the Armies John J. Pershing; and the splintered leg bone of the dashing Union officer, Daniel E. Sickles. The latter was presented in 1863 with a visiting card tersely inscribed: "With the compliments of Major General D.E.S., United States Volunteers."

During the Civil War, a large number of amputated limbs found their way to the Museum. One visiting soldier was startled to find his leg in a display case. He insisted upon getting it back, despite the reasoned appeals of Dr. Brinton. Finally Brinton asked, "For how long did you enlist?"

"For the war," the soldier replied. Dr. Brinton smiled. "The United States Government is entitled to all of you until the expiration of the specified time."

The soldier left without his leg.

AMENDMENT TO ZONING BY-LAWS TOWN OF WINCHESTER, MASSACHUSETTS

ADOPTED AT SPECIAL TOWN MEETING
ON JUNE 10, 1957

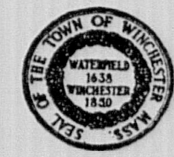

VOTED, That the zoning by-laws be hereby amended by changing or altering the map incorporated therein and made a part thereof within the single residence district "B" that area recently set off from Medford and annexed to Winchester by virtue of Chapter 676 of the Acts of 1956 and containing approximately 27½ acres near the southeasterly corner of the Town bounded and described approximately as follows:

WESTERLY by land of Jeremiah Jr., and Mildred A. Toomey, Joseph C. and Jeanne E. Maspero, John F. and Lillian T. Hutzenlaub, Lorena S. Lacker, Edna M. Cowles, Harry B. McCracken, Trustee of Nelson Realty Trust, Russell Symmes, Trustee of Marshall Symmes Land Associates, Robert G. and Joan G. Nestor, Edward M. and Patricia F. Sanford, Kenneth E. and Betsy S. McVicar;

SOUTHERLY and EASTERLY by land of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, M.D.C., situated in the City of Medford.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an amendment to the Zoning By-Laws adopted by the Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, at the Special Town Meeting held on June 10, 1957, and approved by the Attorney General of Massachusetts on July 11, 1957.

AMENDMENT TO ZONING BY-LAWS TOWN OF WINCHESTER, MASSACHUSETTS

ADOPTED AT SPECIAL TOWN MEETING
ON JUNE 10, 1957

VOTED, That the zoning by-laws of the town be amended by making the following changes: To amend Section 5 of the zoning by-laws by inserting under the paragraph entitled "In Business Districts," the following special regulations shall also apply and after the first and second numbered clauses thereunder the following:

- Where all, or any portion, of the required automobile parking or garaging space is provided within the exterior walls of the main building, or entirely underground, the total lot area herebefore required may be reduced by an amount equal to the area of such interior or underground parking space.
- Where the lot on which an apartment house or group house is located abuts more than one street, the total lot area herebefore required may be reduced by an amount equal to the area between the boundaries of the lot and the center lines of all abutting streets other than the principal frontage street. For the purpose of this provision, the principal frontage street is the street most closely parallel to the maximum dimension of the building.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an amendment to the Zoning By-Laws adopted by the Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, at the Special Town Meeting held on June 10, 1957, and approved by the Attorney General of Massachusetts on July 11, 1957.

AMENDMENT TO ZONING BY-LAWS TOWN OF WINCHESTER, MASSACHUSETTS

ADOPTED AT SPECIAL TOWN MEETING
ON JUNE 10, 1957

VOTED: That the zoning by-laws be hereby amended by changing or altering the map incorporated therein and made a part thereof, and a portion of that certain district indicated and identified therein as a general residence district so that the following described area will be changed from a general residence district to a business district. The area to be changed is bounded and described approximately as follows:

An area on the easterly side of Horn Pond Brook Road bounded:

WESTERLY by the easterly side lines of Horn Pond Brook Road and land owned by the Town of Winchester, about four hundred seventy-three (473) feet;

SOUTHERLY by the existing division line between the general residence and business zone, about eighty-seven (87) feet;

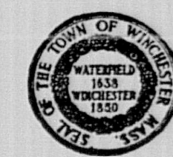

EASTERLY by the existing division line between the general residence and business zone, about two hundred thirty (230) feet;

NORTHERLY by land of Coleman F. Connolly, et al, Louise S. Waters, et al, Michael P. and Ellen F. Meskell, John W. and Catherine A. O'Brien, Margaret M. Donahoe, Ellen M. Murphy, Andrew Callahan, James F. and Ruth E. McClellan, about four hundred sixteen (416) feet; and

NORTHERLY by land of Town of Winchester, about thirty-nine (39) feet; containing about 1.75 acres.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an amendment to the Zoning By-Laws adopted by the Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, at the Special Town Meeting held on June 10, 1957, and approved by the Attorney General of Massachusetts on July 11, 1957.

AMENDMENT TO BUILDING LAWS TOWN OF WINCHESTER, MASSACHUSETTS

ADOPTED AT SPECIAL TOWN MEETING
ON JUNE 10, 1957

VOTED, That the Building Laws of the town be amended by adding to Section 147 in that portion entitled FRONT YARD SET BACK after the second paragraph thereof the words "In any single residence district designated and marked 'B' on the zoning map incorporated in and made a part of the Zoning By-Law, 35 feet."

To amend the following paragraph: In any single residence district shown on said map and not designated, "A" thereon, 25 feet,—insert after the letter "A" the words or "B" so that the first portion of the section under FRONT YARD SET BACK shall read:

No building shall be erected, placed, moved, or altered so that any part thereof except eaves and uncovered steps shall be within the following respective distances from the nearest exterior line of any public way or any private way shown on a plan approved by the Board of Survey or any private way open for public use:

In any single residence district designated and marked "A" on the zoning map incorporated in and made a part of the Zoning By-Law, 35 feet.

In any single residence district designated and marked "B" on the zoning map incorporated in and made a part of the Zoning By-Law, 35 feet.

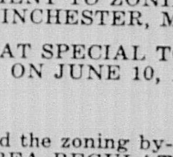

In any single residence district shown on said map and not designated "A" or "B" thereon, 25 feet.

In any general residence district shown on said map, 20 feet.

In any industrial district shown on said map, 15 feet.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an amendment to the Building Laws adopted by the Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, at the Special Town Meeting held on June 10, 1957, and approved by the Attorney General of Massachusetts on July 11, 1957.

AMENDMENT TO ZONING BY-LAWS TOWN OF WINCHESTER, MASSACHUSETTS

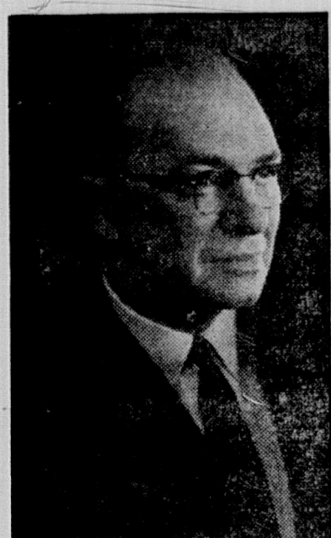

ADOPTED AT SPECIAL TOWN MEETING
ON JUNE 10, 1957

VOTED, To amend the zoning by-laws of the town by inserting in Section 8A, AREA REGULATIONS, near the end of the fourth line in the first sentence and after the words "20,000 square feet and not less than 120 feet wide;" the following words "in any single residence district designated and marked 'B' on the zoning map, there shall be provided for each dwelling house hereafter constructed a lot containing not less than 15,000 square feet and not less than 100 feet wide;" so that the first paragraph of Section 8A, AREA REGULATIONS, as amended should read:

Section 8A, AREA REGULATIONS.
In any Single Residence District designated and marked "A" on the zoning map there shall be provided for each dwelling house hereafter constructed a lot containing not less than 20,000 square feet and not less than 120 feet wide; in any single residence district designated and marked "B" on the zoning map there shall be provided for each dwelling house hereafter constructed a lot containing not less than 15,000 square feet and not less than 100 feet wide; in all Single Residence Districts not so designated, there shall be provided for each dwelling house hereafter constructed a lot containing not less than 10,000 square feet and not less than 80 feet wide; in the General Residence Districts, there shall be provided for each single dwelling house hereafter constructed a lot containing not less than 6,500 square feet and not less than 65 feet wide; and for a dwelling house for more than one family a lot containing not less than 3,750 square feet for each family accommodated therein and not less than 65 feet wide; and in all Single and General Residence Districts, no dwelling house shall hereafter be constructed on a lot which does not abut on at least one street for a distance of at least 50 feet. For the purposes of this Section, lot width is to be measured through that part of the dwelling where the lot is narrowest.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an amendment to the Zoning By-Laws adopted by the Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, at the Special Town Meeting held on June 10, 1957, and approved by the Attorney General of Massachusetts on July 11, 1957.

Philip Bartholomew, President of the BOSTON UNIVERSITY PRESIDENTIAL CRISIS, Dr. Harold C. Case (above) who served as a member of the President's Committee on Education Beyond the High School. The Committee recently reported to President Eisenhower that the American college enrollment in 1970 will be twice that of today's — six million instead of three million students.

LOCAL STUDENTS AT MT. HOLYOKE

Miss Dorothy Ann Smith, 5 Grassmere avenue, Miss Sara Jane Woodward, 13 Sheffield road, Miss Elizabeth Hottel, 27 Cambridge street and Miss Cynthia Dennett, 45 Mystic Valley Parkway, will be among the new students registering at Mount Holyoke college on September 18. The number of entering students totals 375 coming from 34 states, the District of Columbia and 11 foreign countries.

In all, 20 per cent of this year's class were given awards with stipends ranging from $200 to $1050. Miss Smith has been awarded a Gould Foundation scholarship.

The academic year will open officially at convocation on the evening of Sunday, September 22, when for the first time Richard Glenn Gottell, the incoming president, will address the college. The new students will already have had an introduction to members of the faculty and to the campus through a program of assemblies, tours and receptions.

As a special welcome for their incoming "sister" class, a committee of returning juniors are planning a party for Sunday night. Among those helping to make the arrangements will be Miss Dorothy Pratt, 1 Salisbury street.

Dr. Richard J. Clark has returned from the Winchester Hospital where he underwent an operation this past week. He is reported as getting along very nicely and expects to return to his practice September 16.

WON T-LEDGE HONORS

Miss Martha Dodge and Miss Patricia Jones of Winchester have completed a season as campers at T-Ledge Camp for girls, Orr's Island, Maine.

Martha, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Dodge of 5 Seneca road, passed the tests for canoe passenger, bowsman and sternman, qualified for job and mate rating in sailing and entered the July and August racing series. Two ribbons were won by Martha in the annual T-Ledge Horse Show, 4-2 to win the Duxbury Yacht Club Junior Girls' Club Championship (18 years and under) on September 1.

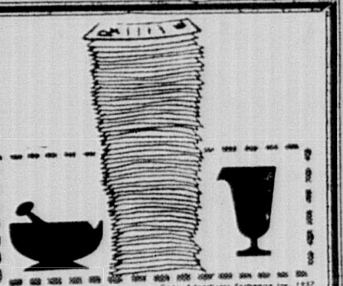

In the T-Ledge Horse Show Patty was awarded the Judge Dunton Trophy as the outstanding beginner in riding. This was her first year at T-Ledge.

WINS JUNIOR GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

Phyllis A. Rogde, of 15 Foxcroft road, who has been summering at Duxbury, defeated Miss Holly Fletcher of Brookline and Duxbury, 4-2 to win the Duxbury Yacht Club Junior Girls' Club Championship (18 years and under) on September 1.

Phyllis also was runner up in the Girls' Bowl Handicap Tournament, losing to Holly Fletcher 3-1 on August 31.

AMENDMENT TO ZONING BY-LAWS TOWN OF WINCHESTER, MASSACHUSETTS

ADOPTED AT SPECIAL TOWN MEETING
ON JUNE 10, 1957

VOTED, That the zoning by-laws of the town be amended by inserting at the end of the second paragraph of Section 1 the following new paragraph:

"A subdivision of the single residence district lying in the southeasterly corner of the town and being that area recently set off from Medford and annexed to Winchester and containing approximately 27½ acres and shown on a plan showing the part of boundary line between the City of Medford and the Town of Winchester changed by Chapter 676, Acts of 1956, is hereby established within the area designated "Single Residence District B" as shown upon a map or plan entitled "Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, Plan of Single Residence District B" established by amendment to the zoning by-law dated June 1957, to be signed by the Planning Board and filed in the Town Clerk's office and which, together with all explanatory matter thereon, is hereby incorporated in and made a part of this by-law."

And to amend the last paragraph of said Section 1 by inserting after the words "single residence district A" the words "and single residence district B." And to amend the first paragraph of Section 1 by striking out in the third line the word "five" and inserting in place thereof the word "six."

So that said Section 1 as amended will read

Section 1. ESTABLISHMENT OF DISTRICTS. For the purposes of this by-law the Town of Winchester is hereby divided into districts of six classes, designated specifically as follows:

- Single residence districts.
- General residence districts.
- Business districts.
- Industrial districts.

and which are as indicated and identified upon a map entitled "Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, Planning Board, Zoning Map, Prepared Under the Direction of the Planning Board," dated December, 1923, signed by the said Board and filed in the Town Clerk's office, which map, together with all explanatory matter thereon, is hereby incorporated in and made a part of this by-law.

A subdivision of the single residence district lying westerly of Cambridge Street is hereby established within the area, designated "Single Residence District A" as shown upon a map or plan entitled "Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, Plan of Single Residence District A" Established by Amendment to the Zoning By-Law dated March 1934, to be signed by the Planning Board and filed in the Town Clerk's office and which together with all explanatory matter thereon is hereby incorporated in and made a part of this By-Law.

A subdivision of the single residence district lying in the southeasterly corner of the town and being that area recently set off from Medford and annexed to Winchester and containing approximately 27½ acres and shown on a plan showing the part of boundary line between the City of Medford and the Town of Winchester changed by Chapter 676, Acts of 1956, is hereby established within the area designated "Single Residence District B" as shown upon a map or plan entitled "Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, Plan of Single Residence District B" established by amendment to the zoning by-law dated June 1957, to be signed by the Planning Board and filed in the Town Clerk's office and which, together with all explanatory matter thereon, is hereby incorporated in and made a part of this by-law.

All restrictions and regulations established by this By-Law applicable to single residence districts shall apply without distinction to single residence districts and "single residence district A" and "single residence district B," alike, as hereinafter expressly provided.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an amendment to the Zoning By-Laws adopted by the Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, at the Special Town Meeting held on June 10, 1957, and approved by the Attorney General of Massachusetts on July 11, 1957.

BACK TO THE SALT MINES FOR CULTURE AND PIETY

The next time someone leaves the lunch table or coffee break muttering, "Back to the salt mine," it might be well to inquire whether he intends to work, to look at paintings, to eat, to carve statues, to mail a letter, to improve his health, or to pray.

For salt mines, the National Geographic Society says, have many uses besides mining salt and symbolizing drudgery. Where vast diggings deep in the earth produce one of man's vital minerals, myriad side activities go on.

Looted Masterpieces
Constant temperature and humidity made salt mines good places for the Nazis to hide looted art treasures. Titians, Rembrandts, and work of other masters were placed deep underground, out of reach of bombs and atmospheric changes. One mine at Merkers, Germany, held art, gold, and currency valued at $200,000,000 when Allied troops arrived during the closing days of World War II.

At the opposite end of the spectrum from dictatorial thieves are the devout miners of Zipaquira, Colombia. In a mine already old when Spaniards brought Christianity to Latin America, a great cathedral of solid salt has taken shape.

Reputed to be as large as the Cathedral of Notre Dame in Paris, the underground church is formed from galleries left when the salt was dynamited and removed. As a tourist attraction, the salt cathedral has rivals in the Old World. Some salt mines there have been worked—and ornamented—since the early 16th century.

Prenostic Glitter
Hundreds of feet below the surface at Wieliczka, Poland, for example, salt miners carved out roads, houses, restaurants, churches, and monuments in solid salt. Ballrooms glisten with salt crystals undisturbed since prehistoric seas deposited them. Massive pillars, illuminated galleries, brightly lighted chandeliers of salt adorn the man-made cave. At one end of a large ballroom stands a great throne under a sculptured eagle. Here the Emperor of Austria sat on visits to the mine. Near by, visitors can mail letters in an underground post office. Salt carvings are features of the mine, with religious scenes prominent. Throughout can be found representations of one Biblical character—Lot's Wife.

The crystalline deposits favored by carvers have become popular in certain places for making ornaments, statues, vases and the like. A family in Pakistan has made a tradition of carving artifacts from salt blocks produced at a mine that has been operating since the 1500's.

Salt mines are believed by some to be particularly healthful. Their atmosphere, with a salty tang like an ocean beach, is recommended by miners for the relief of such things as head colds and asthma.

ST. MARY'S SWIMMERS IN CYO MEET

Fifteen summa-cum-laude swimmers stroked into Charlestown last month to represent St. Mary's CYO in the Archdiocesan Swimming Meet at the George White Memorial Pool. The affair was held on separate evenings, the girls splashed and dashed the first week, while the young men displayed their power the second week. It had all the atmosphere of the Olympics. Special honors went to Brenda Cunningham and Patricia Murphy who were the real life saviors for the team. Each girl was a finalist in two events. Pat Murphy swam the 50 yard junior freestyle in record time but Lexington set a new meet record. The team was comprised of David and Parker Allen, Bob Carroll, Arthur and Brenda Cunningham, Julie and Mollie Devaney, John Harney, Mary Henry, Joe Kane, Bill Morgan, Patricia Murphy, Mary Woodward, Carol and Ray Sylvester.

BARTLETT SCHOOL REOPENS

The Bartlett School, 34 Bartlett avenue, Arlington, will reopen on Monday, September 9, for the twenty-fifth season: a quarter century of educating young Americans. Grade Five has been added to the school this year as well as a large colorful recreation room. All premises are fully endorsed by the State Inspector. Nursery, kindergarten, and sub-primary classes are fully enrolled but there are a few vacancies remaining in grades One through Five. Enrollment is limited so that individual attention is assured. Transportation is provided. Tuition is reasonable. Norine D. Casey, founder, with thirty-two years teaching experience is assisted by her daughter, Norine T. who holds an A.B. degree from Wellesley College and an A.M. in Teaching degree from Harvard, plus a staff of nine experienced teachers.

Charles N. Mason, guided missileman second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Mason of 27 Sheffield west, completed a nine-week course of refresher training at the Naval Preparatory School, U.S. Naval Training Center, Bainbridge, Md., and will enter Purdue University this fall under the Naval Enlisted Advanced School Program (NEASP).

Fourth Major Change Completed

New Ren-ton's Market
Holds Open House

Renovations of Ren-ton's Market have been completed and the store will hold an open house next week to display the improvements.

On Monday and Tuesday, September 9 and 10, Mr. Lewis Snow, of 5 Chesterford road, owner of the market, will feature coffee with a snack, served by Ren-ton customers assisted by Mrs. Snow.

In addition to the coffee, two door prizes will be awarded, a waffle-iron sandwich toaster combination and a box of S. S. Pierce fancy foods. Flowers will be given to all ladies visiting the store, cigars are offered to male customers and all children will receive a gift. The rest of the week will be devoted to a "Stock Your Pantry Sale."

Ren-ton's market, an integral part of Winchester's shopping center, is about 25 years old. Mr. Snow purchased the market on March 1, 1949 and since he has owned it, he has made four major changes in the store. The recent change will be the last, for Mr. Snow believes that the store is now the epitome of customer service.

give us cause to stop and think, but something happened at that accident which should make Winchester residents very thankful that they have such good neighbors to the north.

Within minutes of the crash, members of the Woburn Police Department were on hand with an ambulance to help with the traffic and the accident victims. The accident occurred within the boundaries of Winchester and there was no reason why Woburn should respond. That they did so and served so efficiently in aiding the Winchester police with the mishap is further proof of the fact that "man needs man" and should make Winchesterites thankful that they are so well protected.

The Winchester Board of Selectmen and the Chief of Police join in thanking the Woburn Police Department for a job well done. We say simply, "Thank you, neighbor."

FINISHED!!

Editor of the Star:

In last week's Star, August 30, we read that the job of building the over-head railroad would be completed within three or four days. This leads me to criticize this supposed completion. The Swanton street underpass is a death trap. The grade exceeds ten per cent and calls for extreme precaution. There is only one warning—a "Stop" sign entering Swanton street from the town dump.

This roller coaster should have a great deal more to warn motorists of its danger. There should be, in the immediate area, "Stop" signs on all streets entering Swanton street; a sign indicating bridge clearance; and also flashing lights on both approaches as well as signs posting reduced speed.

The lives that are to be saved by the erection of the overpass in the center will be over-balanced by those lost in the Swanton street roller coaster. The hazards of winter and the floods will make this a natural graveyard for the unsuspecting. To keep the records straight, a plaque should be installed at this underpass on which the names of fatalities could be inscribed. It would be a monument to the lack of consideration given for human life by the powers that be. However, this is about all one could expect from the state having the highest debt in the nation!

LIONS NEWS

The Winchester Lions Club weekly dinner meetings will be held at the Winchester Elks Home on Elmwood avenue every Monday night at 6:30. Due to the increased membership in the local service club, larger quarters were a necessity. At the new quarters the club will be able to accommodate visiting clubs from other cities and towns on meeting nights.

October is membership month and many new members will be installed into the fast growing service club.

King Lion Shohet has done the groundwork on a number of different drives that will take place during the coming year. More will be heard about these at a later date.

The Winchester Lions Club at this time would like to thank publicly Mrs. Anna Price and Randall's Restaurant for all the delicious meals and courtesies given to the club in the past two years.

FOOTBALL SQUAD
SHOWS GREAT PROMISE

With the completion of a full week of practice Winchester's 1957 football squad shapes up as a potentially powerful one.

A squad numbering 70 reported on Monday and have been working to get ready for the schedule of four scrimmages which starts early next week. The squad breaks down as follows: 19 seniors, 24 juniors, and 27 sophomores.

With a good nucleus of lettermen and men up from the JayVee, the freshman squad competition for positions has been close.

The lineup has been changed constantly in an effort to come up with the best combination.

Art Stavardis, a two year veteran at center, will anchor a big line, while Capt. Joe Flaherty heads an all veteran backfield of Doug Thomson, Larry Longworth, Cosimo Paonessa and Fred Bartlett. Guards showing promise of varsity ability are Bob Needham, Peter Lindvall, Mike Houghton, Lynn Olmstead, Paul White, and Dick Winn. Varsity tackles will come from Dom Gerratore the only other line regular, Pete Graham, Mike MacDonald, Jim Wakefield, Brian Cullen, George Thompson and Bob Tobey, a transfer from Melrose. Likely end starters are Butch Murphy and Pete Morgan who are closely followed by Bill Morton and Tom Keating. Other ends of great promise are John Hosmer, Roger DeMinico, Dan Scott, and Dan Vespucci.

Complete Squad Roster:

MINOR VANDALISM
REPORTED ON TOWN WAY

Mary C. Tolar of 27 Town way reported to police Wednesday evening that a group of boys were causing minor vandalism around her house and others in the neighborhood.

Officers Martell and Hogan went to Town way and found that a group of boys had been making noise in the neighborhood and had thrown some tomatoes around. Police are on the lookout for the group.

HOME FROM WEST COAST TRIP

Miss Shirley Kinney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence W. Kinney of 23 Westland avenue, joined her parents in Ohio, July 3, where they spent part of their vacation with relatives. She stayed on, vacationing there until July 22, when she drove to the Cleveland airport to await the arrival of Miss Nancy Barnard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel F. Barnard of 6 Indian Hill road. From there they started their well planned trip to the West Coast.

Their itinerary included the following: Yellowstone and Grand Teton National Parks, Salt Lake City, Reno, San Francisco, Yosemite National Park, Monterey and Carmel, Los Angeles and vicinity. In the Los Angeles area, they visited many friends and relatives and included a day at the fabulous Disneyland. Leaving Los Angeles on August 17, they headed the Nash Rambler towards Las Vegas, then on to the Grand Canyon, Albuquerque, Colorado Springs and Denver, and then East through Kansas City, St. Louis, Indianapolis to Cleveland. They arrived home on August 29 after a most enjoyable and interesting summer.

BOTTLE SMASHES
NEAR RESTAURANT PATRON

John Berlandi, owner of a restaurant in the Cullen Block, 620 Main street, reported to police Friday that as a customer came out of his diner and entered his car a bottle crashed at his feet.

Officers Poole and Reardon investigated and found that one of a group of boys in the area had broken a tonic bottle on the sidewalk. The boys were ordered to sweep the sidewalk and to break up.

Christmas has a way of creeping up on us. Drop in and look over our Christmas card sample books, at the Winchester Star, Star Building.

BOY SCOUTS READY TO START

Boy Scout Troop 4 is all ready to "go" and will start the season at 7:00 p. m. Thursday, September 12.

Charles Buckingham begins his second year as our scoutmaster with Melvin A. Sidebotham, Jr., assistant scoutmaster. They have a very interesting program planned and all boys of scout age in the Parkhurst School District are invited.

Outdoor and overnight activities will be directed by Richard W. Swanson. Among the projects he has planned is a "Leadership Training" weekend, this month at Tuckerman's Ravine on Mount Washington.

A good schedule of splash parties and other special events is planned under the direction of Benjamin F. Wild.

POLICE AID MOTHER AND NEW BABY

Mrs. Elsie Ferro of 88 Harvard street called the police station Monday night requesting aid because her sister-in-law, Mrs. Tommie Hubbard, wife of Sergeant James Hubbard, who is stationed at Fort Dix, had just given birth to a baby.

Officers Callahan, Martell and Hogan responded to the call and assisted Mrs. Hubbard until the arrival of Dr. Benson. Mrs. Hubbard is a Japanese war bride and says that the practice of self delivery is not unusual in her country; she could remember that her mother delivered her brother with no assistance at all.

Mrs. Hubbard and her new daughter are at the Winchester Hospital where they are reported doing very well.

HOMECOMING SUNDAY
AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Members and friends of the First Baptist Church renew their loyal and enthusiastic support to their Church and its leaders as they continue to guide them forward in the Master's service.

Homecoming Sunday, September 8, Rev. Bailey's sermon "Helping One Another," followed by observance of the Lord's Supper, will emphasize the opportunities for service to Him which each individual is privileged to share.

Nursery and kindergarten age children will be cared for during the service.

If you are a newcomer to Winchester and have no Church home, First Baptist Church extends a warm welcome.

LADDER DAMAGED

Leonard E. Dixon of 14 Lydon court, Woburn, reported to police last Thursday afternoon that sometime around 9:00 a. m. a ladder on his truck was damaged.

He stated that while driving his Ford pick-up truck with a 60 foot ladder on a rack, a truck which was parked in back of the Dixon truck headed south on Main street near Swanton street and struck his ladder.

The impact broke the ladder and the ladder rack. Mr. Dixon had only slight information about the incident.

Cadillac

To the Man Postponing a Dream!

The man you see above—watching a beautiful new 1957 Cadillac as it takes the sweep of the boulevard—is representative of a goodly number of American motorists.

He is a gentleman who would like ever so much to own a Cadillac car—but who feels the time is not quite propitious for him to do so.

Well, we have some sound advice for this gentleman, and for those like him, and it is this: Come in, sir, and see for yourself!

First of all, you will find that today's Cadillac car is exceptionally practical to own and to enjoy.

In fact, its relatively modest cost, its wonderful efficiency of operation, its great dependability and its marvelous resale value mark it unmistakably as one of motordom's soundest investments.

And then you will discover that your dealer is currently prepared to give you a most generous allowance on your present car. In fact, the transition to Cadillac is easier today than it has been in many, many years.

And, as if this were not sufficiently gratifying in itself, your dealer can assure you of prompt delivery on your favorite model.

In short, if you are the man postponing his dream of a Cadillac, then the odds are that the "golden moment" has arrived!

You should visit your dealer today—take the wheel for yourself—experience the marvels of Fleetwood luxury—and listen to the revealing facts about Cadillac practicality.

He'll be waiting to welcome you—soon!

PURCHASING FOOD FOR U. S. ARMY

WINCHESTER MAN,
LOUIS GIACALONE,
STATIONED IN ROME

With the recent return from a European trip of Peter Marchesi of Swanton street, Winchester friends and relatives of another well-known former Winchester boy, Louis Giacalone, learned at first hand of the job he is doing as Chief Inspector and Purchasing Agent for the United States Quartermaster Corps in the European Theatre.

Mr. Giacalone, a civilian who makes his home, when he is at home, at 51 Oak street, buys all the perishable foods, like fruit and vegetables, for the Army in Europe. Naturally when Mr. Marchesi was abroad he got together with his Winchester chum and learned much of the latter's busy life.

Mr. Giacalone's headquarters are in Rome but his job of purchasing and inspecting takes him all over the country wherever the sort of produce the Army requires is grown.

When the Rome headquarters receives a detailed list of wanted produce from Frankfurt, Germany, it is Mr. Giacalone's job to locate this produce, purchase it through competitive bids and see that it is shipped in good condition to Germany.

Inspectors under Mr. Giacalone's direction tour the countryside for the wanted produce and the morning after the order from Frankfurt is received bids for the sale of the produce are ready to be examined. Usually the bids are let and the food shipped almost immediately. Naturally the United States Army doesn't settle for anything but staid quality and it is Mr. Giacalone's responsibility to see that such quality is procured. Often his inspections are made before crops are harvested to anticipate Army needs and give farmers a chance to meet Government standards.

The insistence on top quality fruit and produce has improved Italian agriculture and returned more revenue to Italian farmers. The program is bound to have a favorable effect on Italy's future agriculture and assist in making Italian farmers better able to compete on an equal basis with others. The work of Mr. Giacalone and his inspectors has done much to improve Italo-American relations in many respects, besides agriculture.

"Daily American," a Rome publication printed in English, has featured Mr. Giacalone's work for the Army, with illustrations, and the Agrow Export Corporation of Milford, Conn., has also featured his work.

The former Winchester boy expects to be home for a short vacation in November, and meanwhile, through Mr. Marchesi, sends his best to his family and friends.

For those who like to start early and take their time in making selections, our Christmas card sample books are on display. Winchester Star, Star Building, 3 Church street.

OLD TIMERS VISIT WINCHESTER

The Star had a very pleasant visit Thursday afternoon from three old time Winchester residents spending the day in town looking for old landmarks and old friends. Accompanied by their husbands there were in the party Mrs. Wallace Hotchkiss of Norfolk, Ct., Mrs. Lillian Lewis and Mrs. James McBurnie, both of Taunton. Mrs. Hotchkiss was Jennie Benbow when she lived in Winchester as a girl and Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. McBurnie were Swans, daughters of Frank Swan, who lived at the corner of Main street and Elmwood avenue where Moody Motors parking lot is now located. Frank Swan was related to the Swans who lived on the West Side, for whom Swan road is named.

It was Mrs. Hotchkiss who actually came to the Star office seeking information. She was looking for the old Newman Greenhouses that stood prior to 1907 in the square bounded by Cottage avenue, Central street, Bacon street and Norwood street. The main entrance to the greenhouses, some seven in number, was on Central street and the family home was at the Norwood street end of the square. On the Cottage street side of the greenhouses were gardens, a huge coal pile and stables.

Mrs. Hotchkiss, as Jennie Benbow, lived in a house that stood at the corner of Cottage avenue and Bacon street. Her father, Abram, was a foreman in the Newman Greenhouses, being hired by the late John R. Newman, proprietor, to take charge of the rose growing. An English gardener, Mr. Benbow possessed the special knowledge of rose growing peculiar to his countrymen.

Mr. Benbow left the Newman employ the year before the greenhouses were torn down. His daughter, after a tour of locations in which she thought the greenhouses might have been located despaired of finding them and sought assistance of the Editor.

As a boy the Editor often passed the greenhouses, however, and was able to guide Mrs. Hotchkiss to the old site, warning her in advance, however, that things "weren't what they wuz" in the good old days.

Mrs. Hotchkiss asked about the Newman family, and we directed her to the home of "Jim" and "Berrie" Newman on Ginn road. She dropped in for a short visit and "Jim" reports they had a pleasant chat over old times.

Miss Cynthia Ahlfors, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lars Ahlfors of 45 Yale street, is one of ten girls from the Boston area who have been accepted by Barnard College, Columbia University, as members of the incoming freshman class. She will be among the 300 new students participating in the freshman orientation program beginning September 18.

DAMAGE AT LEONARD BEACH

Police Officer Callahan on duty today found a rear door unlocked and a screen ripped at the rear of the Leonard Beach bathhouse last Thursday night.
Frank Dattilo, acting park superintendent, was notified of the damage. Upon arriving at the scene, Mr. Dattilo was unable to tell if anything was missing, but he brought a portable radio, stored in the bathhouse, to his home.

FIRES

Firefighters were busy early this week with a series of fires at the end of Baldwin street near the Boston & Maine railroad tracks. The cause of the fire which burned railroad ties in the area between the B & M line and the spare track to the brick yard is unknown.

It's not too early to think about Christmas Cards. We have several sample books to choose from. Why not see them while stocks are complete. See our sample booklets now at the Star Office.

HARRIS BOY WINS AWARD
Chris Harris, 6 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Harris, 121 Church street was the winner of the achievement award for most improved swimmer of the year presented on Labor Day at the Manchester Bath and Tennis Club. All of the Winchester folks who saw the ceremonies will long remember the youthful and pleased look young Chris bore when his name was announced.
Other boys who won trophies were Scott Wild of 62 Emerson road, 50 yard freestyle champ, his brother Roddy finishing second. Ken Parrot of 1 Hilltop road won the 25 yard freestyle cup. Barry Johnson of 53 Wedgemere avenue won 2 cups for the underwater event and the diving contest. His brother John scored a second place award in the dog paddle race. The finals of the Labor Day events saw the old timers, giving their best in the annual Fathers and Sons Relay Team. Old crawlers who contributed an exhausting 25 yard lap were Jim Coon, Ben Wild, Bob Johnson and Scott Parrot.

HUB CAPS STOLEN
Harry Dodge of 17 Grayson road reported to police that sometime between 9 and 12:30 Saturday morning a rear and front hub cap were removed from his car while it was parked on the Mystic Valley Parkway near the entrance to the ball field.

You've Heard It Too....

"Can't seem to save a cent. Sure, we pay our bills, but right now we have a lot of extras—installments on the new car, monthly payments on the washer—just don't know where the money goes."

Speaking of installments, did you know you can also buy financial security on the monthly payment plan?

A serial share account in your co-operative bank is particularly designed to help you save a fixed amount each month.

Smart folks save first and spend what's left.

Earn generous dividends, too.

FIRE DEPARTMENT MEN FACE CALAMITY

Even fire departments have their difficult moments now and then. The Winchester fire department had duty above and beyond the usual when the fire rescue truck ran over a skunk on the way to the accident at Cambridge and Wildwood streets.

The resulting odor was so strong that the truck had to be parked outdoors all night and was left out again in the morning. The main project on the docket for Wednesday morning was to deodorize the rescue apparatus.

Great Fight by Harvey

Winchester Golfer Ousted
From Nationals

Jackie Harvey, Belmont lawyer who plays his home golf at the Winchester Country Club, was eliminated Wednesday afternoon from the National Amateur Golf Championship tournament at The Country Club at Chestnut Hill.

"Jackie" went down swinging, carrying his elimination match to 19 holes before yielding to Tim Holland of Rockville Centre, N. Y. It took a superhuman effort on Harvey's part to square the match at the 18th hole, and the Winchester golfer's great showing there made him deserving of a better fate than the match went into the extra hole.

Harvey, a former Boston league golf champion, won his third round match, 4 and 3, from E. D. Moore of Orangeburg, S. C. Botherby, a burrhead in condition in his left wrist on Monday, "Jackie" took emergency treatment and was much better Tuesday. His 4 and 3 conquest of Moore showed he was close to his top form.

Fordie Pitts of Wollaston, also a former B. C. links captain, was defeated in Wednesday morning's competition, leaving Harvey as the sole Greater Boston competitor in the tourney. Harvey's defeat left Dick Chapman of Oyster Harbors the only Massachusetts player left in play.

"Jackie" and Holland, a New York toy manufacturer, waged a tight-lipped struggle for supremacy in the afternoon rounds. The Winchester golfer was never ahead in the match after going one down at the 11th hole. It wasn't until his spectacular shooting at the 15th hole that he was able to square the match.

The old "Bald Eagle" split the 12th, 13th, 14th, 15th, 16th and 17th holes on pars, but still had the one-stroke deficit facing him at the 415 yard 18th.

Both he and Holland got out about 200 yards from the tee, but Harvey's lie was the poorer and his five iron second shot didn't help. The lofted ball cleared the green and jammed circle of spectators as well as a driveway behind the green, striking a tree and rebounding to stop on a bare piece of ground, less than a yard from the oak's trunk and balancing precariously on an acorn and chunk of earth.

It was hardly an enviable lie, but Holland's approach was not top-drawer either, his ball landing in a trap in front of the green. The New York golfer took two to land his ball about seven feet from the pin. Harvey needed one stroke and a single putt to stay in contention.

The Winchester golfer met the challenge, his wedge shot lifting the ball some six feet from the ground and over a fence to land on the green. From there it bounced and rolled downhill onto the green to stop nine feet away from the hole. If the inanimate can be a hero, it was by the human mind the fervent wishes of the local fans in the big gallery must have helped, to say nothing of the body English put on by the Harvey rooters.

In dead silence, broken only by the hard breathing of the gallery, Harvey addressed his ball and sent it dispatched into the hole. The welcoming hole as a sigh that would have done credit to the famous bridge of that name rose from the tense crowd.

It was all even again, but this time Holland would not be denied. His tee shot landed in the rough, but he drove out of it with a wedge, his ball finally coming to rest 10 feet from the pin.

Harvey's second shot landed on a rise behind the green, and he couldn't recover with his wedge, giving Holland the chance to hole out with a birdie 3 and take the match.

"Jackie" won his fourth round morning match from Wilson Barnes of Mt. Kisco, N. Y., one up, the match being green. The Winchester golfer made a couple of nice recoveries after being two down at the 10th, going ahead at the 14th with a par five. Getting into trap trouble at the 17th, Harvey saw the match tied up, but a 150 yard second shot to within 20 feet of home and two putts gave him a par which Barnes couldn't match.

AN URGENT APPEAL

FURNITURE NEEDED FOR HUNGARIAN COUPLE

The Winchester Hungarian Resettlement Committee is asking the townspeople to contribute the furniture and household goods necessary to establish one of our Hungarian couples in their own apartment.

Stephen and Margaret Bende are the last of our refugees to set up housekeeping. Until the present time they have been living in dormitory quarters at Sargent College. This weekend, they are moving to a small apartment near Boston University where Mr. Bende will continue his studies. This move will also enable Mrs. Bende to begin her first salaried job.

All of our other Hungarian families have had similar help from this community in furnishing their first homes in this country and the committee is anxious to give the same assistance to the Bendes. However the supply of furniture collected last winter for such purposes has been exhausted. Therefore it is necessary to request donations. Specifically required are a bed, bureau, bookcase, desk, small tables and kitchen equipment. All contributions will be collected.

Please call Elizabeth Lowry, Winchester 6-3363 or Jane Lewis, Winchester 6-1934.

TWO LOCAL GIRLS ENTER ENDICOTT JUNIOR COLLEGE

Two Winchester girls will be among the 232 freshmen registering at Endicott Junior College on Tuesday. The two are Jean Manimon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Manimon of 58 Bacon street, and Elaine Vargis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Vargis of 47 Bacon street.

The girls will start their college careers with participation in orientation week and a period of registration, counseling, programming and campus activities which includes a meeting with Dean Eleanor Tupper, testing, faculty forums, home meetings, coffee hours and acquaintance teas and chapel devotions.

It is during orientation week that students choose their courses of study and meet with their educational and personal advisors who will help them to prepare for their chosen career. The week also includes entertainment in the college theater and picnics on the college beaches. Orientation week will conclude with Endicott Sunday in Beverly churches on September 22.

Classes begin on Monday, September 23.

FIRES

Monday morning firefighters were called to Sargent road where a brush fire and a pile of lumber were burning on a vacant lot. The lot was owned by Frank H. Duffy of Medford.

Mrs. George Marks of 32 Foxcroft road called the fire department on Monday afternoon to report a house fire. Upon arrival, firefighters found that the shingles at the rear of the house were burning. The fire was caused by the incinerator.

A pile of brush fire was reported on Monday evening on Standish lane. The fire was near the Medford line.

A brand new 1957 Mercury sedan caught fire Tuesday evening at the corner of High street and Westland avenue. When firefighters arrived, the car was a sheet of flames and was extensively damaged at the front end. The cause of the fire is unknown. The car, which registered only 15 miles, was owned by the Colomew Cookley of West Medford.

WOMAN FALLS ON THOMPSON STREET

The police received several calls late Tuesday afternoon reporting a woman lying on the sidewalk in front of the Spaulding Book Shop.

Officer Parsons was sent to the scene with an ambulance and found that Mrs. Anne Hoare of 101 Church street had fallen while crossing Thompson street from Winchester terrace. She was unable to tell just what made her fall, but she could have tripped over the curbing.

Mrs. Hoare sustained several bruises and abrasions and injured a finger and an elbow. She was taken to the Winchester Hospital.

ENROLL AT BOWDOIN

Three Winchester boys, David W. Usher of 8 Grove street, David McLean of 20 Sargent road, and William Mason of 27 Sheffield road will be among the 193 members of the freshman class to arrive in Brunswick, Me., this week-end to commence their freshman year at Bowdoin College.

On Saturday afternoon, September 14, fathers and mothers of entering freshmen are invited to attend a Parents' Forum in the Moulton Union on the Bowdoin campus, there to have an opportunity to ask questions about undergraduate life and the curriculum.

Football Team Progresses

Indians Show Promise In Malden Catholic Scrimmage

With the season moving rapidly toward the opening game with Concord September 28, the Winchester High School football candidates have been working hard this week, scrimmaging Malden Catholic High School on Tuesday for their first taste of real inter-school contact work. Today Winchester will scrimmage Somerville and Coach Knowlton is eager to see his charges in action and evaluation of players made after the game.

JOHN JOSEPH CAZALE

John Joseph Cazale of 38 Prospect street died Friday, September 6, at the Winchester Hospital after a brief illness. He was 63 years old and had been in poor health for the past two years.

Mr. Cazale was the son of John and Anna (Cagnano) Cazale. He was born March 16, 1897, in Revere, and grew up in that city, being educated in the Revere schools and attending the Revere High School.

At the time of his death, he had been a coal broker representing firms in the Boston area. On September 26, 1925, Mr. Cazale married Cecilia Holland of Revere, who survives, with a daughter, Catherine, and two sons, John Holland, and Stephen Cazale. A twin brother, Charles R. Cazale, of Waban, and a sister, Mrs. Francis White of New York City, also survive.

The funeral was held Monday morning from the late residence with a solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church. Rev. Edmund L. Parker officiated. Burial was in the Holy Cross cemetery. Interment was in Holy Cross cemetery, Malden, where the committal prayers were read by Rev. Fr. O'Neill of Holy Cross Chapel.

NEW HONOR TO VOLPE

Former State Commissioner of Public Works John A. Volpe of Everett avenue is among those selected to be honored at the September 17, at special Constitution Day ceremonies to be held at 3 o'clock in the Hall of Flags at the State House.

At that time Governor Foster Furcolo will present Citations of Good Citizenship to nearly 100 outstanding citizens on behalf of Freedom, Inc., sponsors of the ceremony and awards. Recipients have been chosen by mayors and boards of selectmen from throughout the state for their contributions to the civic life of their communities.

All recipients are immigrants, or sons and daughters of immigrants, and include architects, doctors, clergymen, lawyers, engineers, publishers, students and representatives of many other professions.

The idea of presenting Good Citizenship Awards was conceived by Freedom, Inc., to honor immigrant citizens or their sons and daughters, who have rendered outstanding service in this land of freedom set an example for their countrymen in all nations of the world.

WBZ-TV on Channel 4 plans to telecast the program New England-wide. Again from 6:30 to 6:45 p.m. on Friday, September 13, ceremonies will be re-broadcast in a special program entitled "All-American Day."

ON ARMY GRID TEAM

Jim Cusack, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Cusack of Lakeview road, a former star lineman at Winchester High School, is playing a line position on the United States Army football team representing the 32nd Division in the European Theatre.

The former Winchester and University of Maine player has been all over Germany and France with his army team and has been commended for his all around play.

He had his career cut short in his senior year at Winchester when he sustained a badly broken leg in the Wakefield game. Previous to his injury his play in the middle of the line had been very impressive and he is one of Winchester's outstanding linemen of recent years.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

Charles Bernard Danehy of 19 Buckman street, Woburn and Sandra Ann Skerry of 130 Sylvester avenue.

Samuel Michael Fayal of 70 Boulevard, Revere, and Adeline Gertrude Reil of 701 Main street.

Carter Bruce Tallman of 17 Cambridge street and Sylvia Haskell of 14 Orme street, Marblehead.

Doris Lewis Jacomet of 5 Sheridan circle and Janet Margaret Hevey of 484 Washington street.

Ralph Joseph Lanzillo of 7 Priscilla lane and Marie Virginia Procano of 5 Orient avenue, East Boston.

John Lucas Pfaltz of 10 Windmere terrace, Short Hills, N. J., and Susan Ordway of 95 High street.

Salvatore Francis Buzzotta of 57 Oak street and Marie Carmen Pesce of 136 Main street, Everett.

SHOOTING REPORTED ON JOHNSON ROAD

Robert L. Swanson of Johnson road called the police station Wednesday evening to report someone shooting at the rear of his home.

Upon investigation police found that four boys were shooting at woodchucks. The woodchucks were damaging crops in the area. The boys were informed that the chief of police must be notified before firearms are discharged.

HUB CAPS STOLEN

Ernest Wright of 8 Stratford road reported to police on Wednesday morning that hub caps were stolen from his 1955 Mercury sedan sometime Tuesday night.

Mr. Wright told police that the theft occurred while his car was parked in the Skillings parking lot.

ATTENDED
DARTMOUTH CONVOCATIONWINCHESTER BIG GREENS AT ANNIVERSARY EVENT

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Parkhurst of Oak Knoll, Mr. Edward H. Konerson of Brooks street, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Redding of Cranston road and Mr. and Mrs. William C. Cusack of Lakeview road were among the Dartmouth alumni and their wives attending the Convocation on Great Issues in the Anglo-Canadian-American Community at Dartmouth September 5, 6 and 7.

Held to observe the 10th anniversary of the inception of the "Great Issues" course, a required course for undergraduates at Dartmouth, it attracted a gathering of some two thousand.

An imposing group of speakers was on the roster for the convocation. Heading the British group was the British Ambassador to the United States, Sir Harold Caccia. Other outstanding Englishmen were Geoffrey Crowther, former editor of the London Economist; and Sir William Haley, editor of the London Times.

From Canada came the new Prime Minister, John D. Diefenbaker, who made his first speech as prime minister at the convocation. Of interest were his statements that Canada is becoming increasingly concerned with the dumping of American food surpluses in Canada, and with the growth of American investments in that country without adequate Canadian representation.

Louis Douglas, former United States Ambassador to Great Britain, acted as chairman of the convocation, and the speakers representing the United States included Henry Cabot Lodge, Ambassador and delegate to the United Nations Assembly; Sherman Adams, advisor to President Eisenhower; Allan Nevins, famous historian and advisory board member of the publication, "American Heritage" as well as Professor of History at Columbia; and Arthur Schlesinger, publisher of the New York Times.

IMMACULATE CONCEPTION
LADIES SODALITY

The Immaculate Conception Ladies Sodality is busily making preparations for its annual retreat to be held at the Carmelite Retreat House in Hamilton, Mass., on September 27, 28, and 29. For the past four years the number of ladies making these retreats has increased steadily. As it is not limited to Catholics, but to any one who cares to take advantage of the wonderful spiritual benefits obtained from a retreat, it is expected that a larger group will attend this year.

Buses will be available to take the ladies to and from the retreat house. Reservations must be made before September 22 through one of the following officers:

Mrs. Mary Graham, Winchester 6-3785-M.

Mrs. Marie Collett, Winchester 6-1121-M.

Mrs. Betty Sullivan, Woburn 2-1959-R.

Miss Mary Washburn, Winchester 6-4487.

ATTEND CONFERENCE IN MAINE

Winchester will be represented by two town officials at the New England State and Municipal Finance Officers Association's ninth annual conference to be held Friday and Saturday, September 13 and 14, in Rockland, Maine.

James J. Costello, town accountant, will present a paper entitled "A Case Study in Machine Accounting for a Small Municipality" at a forum on mechanical record keeping and machine accounting.

At the same meeting, Albert S. Crockett, chairman of the personnel board, will speak on "Personnel Administration Problems."

LOST BOY RETURNED

Mr. Bergquist, janitor at the Winchester Chambers, brought Paul Costa, age 6, to the police station on Monday. He found the boy on Church street near Norwood street.

After police questioned the boy, it was found that he lived in Woburn. The Winchester police got in touch with the Woburn police and the boy was returned to his mother.

A WORD TO THE WISE

Charles J. Harrold, chief of police, notified the Star that within the past 30 days 37 driving licenses have been suspended by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles in Winchester for improper operation. This is the policy of the Registry of Motor Vehicles and license suspensions will continue.

BUILDING MATERIAL STOLEN

Paul Whitney who is building a home on Long Hill road, called the police on Monday that some shingles, hardware and zinc have been stolen from the house site.

The theft occurred sometime since he started work on the house a week ago. Police are investigating.

VANDALISM REPORTED

Police received a report on Thursday morning that vandalism had occurred at 82 Westland avenue where a house is under construction. The vandals painted the walls and floor of the basement.

Police believe that children are responsible and they are investigating.

EDITORIALS

In addition to causing water shortages throughout the state the prolonged drought of the past summer has doubled the fire menace. Everywhere woods and fields are tinder dry, posing a real threat to life and property.

Winchester is no exception to the general conditions. The extremely dry summer has already started leaves to fall, and soon streets and lawns will be littered with these dry leaves.

It doesn't take much imagination to realize the danger in persons promiscuously burning these leaves or other bone-dry rubbish. It is against the law to burn leaves or rubbish in the street, and householders should be wary of burning them on private property unless and until they have permits from the fire department to do so.

With the exceeding dryness of the land, due to the drought, everyone should exercise the greatest care in burning anything out-of-doors. Make sure when you light a fire that you are not endangering your own or your neighbor's property and life.

Careful drivers will be glad to know that the motor vehicles authorities are cracking down on the reckless, drunken and speeding drivers. In Winchester recently some 37 licenses were suspended or revoked for improper operation of automobiles.

Something has to be done, at least to try to give those who wish to drive safely and sanely a break on the highway, and Chief Harrold in Winchester has ordered his men to be on the alert for those endangering others on our roads.

Here in town there are two streets meriting attention. One is Cambridge street. Motor accidents seem constantly to be occurring there, especially at the curve at Robinson Park and also at that death trap, the intersection of Cambridge and Wildwood streets.

Another street on which there is altogether too much fast driving in the early morning and late afternoon is Bacon street. Ask any commuter who has to cross the street on his way to or from the train. It ought not to be necessary to have someone badly hurt, or worse, before something is done to curb this speed menace.

We had a visit this week from a lady still simmering from an encounter with a pigeon on the sidewalk of Waterfield road where it goes under the B & M tracks.

Now pigeons are not ferocious birds where humans are concerned, at least, and we are sure, with this thought in mind and the description of the terrain above, our readers can visualize the sort of attack waged by the pigeon upon our feminine caller. While in no way dangerous, it was effective and decidedly annoying.

The pigeon menace is becoming something to think about at the Waterfield road underpass. Take a look at the sidewalk there and you will see what we mean! The big birds roost on the girders and spanners over the sidewalk and can really bother you no end if you happen to be passing under them at an inauspicious moment. Again we believe we need not explain! Older residents will remember the pigeon problem at the town hall so effectively set forth in the town report of that time.

The Star is not prepared to say what should be done about the present worrisome condition. If anything can be done, it should be. The hat or coat you save may easily be your own!

Meanwhile, if you chance to use the Waterfield underpass, take a quick look skyward, before you enter, and having done so, hurry! If you happen to see some tail feathers as you glance aloft, it might be just as well to use Thompson street as an alternate route.

MRS. QUILL RETURNS HOME

Mrs. Sarah Quill of 6 Westley street returned home after a stay in the Winchester Hospital. She is reported to be doing very well.

Mrs. Quill was stricken with what was believed to be a heart attack while in Saugus on Labor Day. While she was being rushed to the Winchester Hospital by the Saugus police ambulance, the ambulance was struck by a car on the Fellsway in Melrose. She was transferred to a Melrose ambulance and the trip to the hospital continued. Fortunately, Mrs. Quill suffered only a cut on her hand as a result of the accident.

HOUSE AND GARDEN OF THE WEEK

The home of Mrs. E. H. Stone of 6 Wood lane was selected by the James J. Costello, town accountant, and the trip to the hospital continued. Fortunately, Mrs. Quill suffered only a cut on her hand as a result of the accident.

The article in last Sunday's paper described the various flowers and shrubs which surround the home of Mildred Stone and her mother, Mrs. Martha Gray Stone.

Accompanying the article which describes in detail the plantings around the Stone residence is a picture of the Cape Cod style house.

NOTICE

CHANGE IN EMERGENCY
WATER RESTRICTIONS

In view of the excellent cooperation of the townspeople in keeping water consumption at minimum levels and prospects of our new supply source, it is now possible to ease up on water restrictions and to permit general residential outside watering on a broader basis.

As of September 5th the following restrictions are in effect:

1. No residential outside use of town water for any purpose except during the hours of 3 P.M. to 5 P.M. daily.
2. No business or residential use of town water for air conditioning systems or units not equipped with water recovery units.
3. No residential or commercial car washing.

With drought conditions continuing, it is still important to economize on the use of water and it is hoped that the townspeople will continue their excellent cooperation along these lines.

WINS HORSESHOE VICTORY

OLD PALMER BEACH TRAINING AIDS WITTE

Howard Wittet of 251 Forest street, superintendent of main postal finance windows in Boston, a horseshoe player of great renown in town, won the doubles at last Sunday's outing of the National Association of Postal Superintendents, Branch 43 of Boston.

The outing was held in North Chelmsford and according to Mr.

Wittet, there was a real big game of "shoes." In fact, there were three courts going. Along with Philip McCarthy, assistant superintendent of the North Weymouth post office, Mr. Wittet was awarded a matching pen, pencil and cigarette lighter set.

Howard, better known as "Foul Line" or "the Blueberry King" in the old days at Palmer street, credits the experience and pointers picked up there for his success last Sunday. Especially in those, shall we say, "discussions" that crop up from time to time in the course of measuring near shoes was his tutelage under such past masters as R. P. Steele, "Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the Pride of Stow and Champion of all Nabasset, and Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the "State of Maine Champ," of real value.

In fact so good was his past instruction in this line that Howard didn't lose a close one during the whole of last Sunday's tournament. Experience counts, and you don't pitch regularly with such past masters of debate as those mentioned above without picking up the more salient points of argumentation!

HOSTESS AT CONVENTION

Among the newly announced officers of the New England Theatre Conference for 1957-58 are Mrs. Howard J. Chidley of Fernway as vice president and chairman of the Theatre's Community Division, and Miss Constance Trickett of Lorena road, an English teacher at Winchester High School, chairman of the Secondary School Division.

Mrs. Chidley has been prominently identified with the New England Theatre Conference since its inception, and the Community Theatre Division, of which she is chairman, is one of the most active of the Conference.

As vice president of the Conference Mrs. Chidley acted as hostess at the reception and tea given for the 2,000 delegates of the American Speech Association and the American Educational Theatre Association at the Hotel Statler.

Mrs. Robert Blake, Mrs. George E. Connor and Mrs. Carolyn Gilpatrick, all of Winchester, assisted at the information desk of the convention as members of the Community Theatre Division of the New England Theatre Conference.

ATTENDED INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS

Professor Joshua Whatmough returned this week from a two month stay in Europe and England. As the permanent life member from the United States of the Permanent International Committee of Linguists he attended the 8th International Congress of Linguistics which was held in Oslo, Norway, in early August.

During its sessions, he presided over those meetings devoted to Mathematical Linguistics and presented a report on the subject.

Prior to the meetings he was the guest of friends, who had been fellow students with him at Cambridge University, in Rhos-on-Sea, Wales, and relatives in Poulton-le-Fylde, Church Stretton and Newcastle-on-Tyne, England.

After the meetings, he travelled through Norway and Sweden, including Trondheim, Alesund and the Geiranger Fjord as well as the mountain pass at Grotti. It was during a stopover at the spectacular mountain falls that a member of the group, a French scholar, stepping out on to a rocky ledge to photograph the scene, misjudged the distance from the edge and plunged to his death down the precipice.

And for the first time since the war, delegates from Russia attended the Congress, but under surveillance.

Sailing from Liverpool for the United States, Professor Whatmough was, for the last few days, the guest of Professor L. R. Palmer at Worcester College, Oxford University.

NOONAN SCHOOL MOTHERS

A board meeting was held at the home of Mrs. John Guiliani, 27 Middlesex street, Monday evening, September 9, at which plans were discussed for the school season.

A morning coffee will be held at the school September 24, from 10 to 11:30 for all the mothers of new children enrolled this year.

The teachers' and mothers' tea will be held Tuesday, October 1, at 1:30 p. m. and will be preceded by a business meeting. Changes in the by-laws will be discussed at this meeting.

JILL SIBLEY ATTENDING MOUNT HOLYOKE

Miss Jill Elaine Sibley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence D. Sibley, will begin her Freshman year at Mount Holyoke College on September 16.

Miss Sibley was an honor student at Dana Hall, and on her graduation was awarded the Susan Lynne Award.

PLUMBING & HEATING SERVICE

Your plumbing costs less when done by an expert. When you put a Nicholson man to work on your plumbing job he needs no watching. He wastes no time. He does no experimenting. He makes no mess of your house. He gets the most out of every working moment. You get the most out of his long, intensive training. And, believe it or not, your bill is not high, but justified to a dollar by the very excellence and lasting quality of the work that has been performed.

ATTENTION ALL WORLD TRAVELERS

During the summer months the boys' and girls' department of the Winchester Public Library has been active with a summer reading program. 367 children divided into four teams have been reading books on foreign countries. The goal of the participants was to read ten books on life in other countries during the summer vacation. When that goal was reached, the reader's name was listed among the World Travelers. The team having the largest number of members who had completed this requirement is the winning team, and that honor was achieved this year by the Sky Gypsy team with 43 members among the World Travelers. The Viking team came in second with 39 members.

On Friday evening, September 20, a program is planned for the members of all four teams who completed the required ten books. At that time diplomas will be presented to the boys and girls. The following is a list of the members of the winning Sky Gypsy team:

BOAT CLUB NEWS

ALDERSON, BORGAARD AND LEGERE, TOP SNIPE FLEET

It's no longer news when Herby Alderson or Tommy Legere beat the Winchester Boat Club Snipe Fleet, but when Clarence Borggaard brings his Snipe "Rag-a-Bag" across the finish line first, it's really news. But never one to do things in the usual manner, "Borgy" went to extremes. There were two races on Sunday morning and Borgy won the first after an interesting duel with Carl Freyer. But in the second race, Borgy simply couldn't stand prosperity and came in dead last.

Tommy Legere won this race to keep alive his chances of overtaking Herby Alderson in the race for the Fleet Championship. Herby won Saturday's race to keep in front in the championship battle.

RED CROSS SWIMMING CERTIFICATES AWARDED

The following boys and girls received swimming certificates at the end of the Winchester Red Cross Water Safety Program, held this summer at Leonard Beach. As Mr. Joseph Burns, the instructor, is very strict about the quality of the swimming, this list of 84 boys and girls represents a special tribute to them because of the rigorous training required by the Red Cross.

AMENDMENT TO ZONING BY-LAWS
TOWN OF WINCHESTER, MASSACHUSETTS

ADOPTED AT SPECIAL TOWN MEETING
ON JUNE 10, 1957

VOTED, That the zoning by-laws of the town be amended by inserting at the end of the second paragraph of Section 1 the following new paragraph:

"A subdivision of the single residence district lying in the southeasterly corner of the town and being that area recently set off from Medford and annexed to Winchester and containing approximately 27½ acres and shown on a plan showing the part of boundary line between the City of Medford and the Town of Winchester, changed by Chapter 676, Acts of 1956, is hereby established within the area designated 'Single Residence District B' as shown upon a map or plan entitled 'Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, Plan of Single Residence District B' established by amendment to the zoning by-law dated June 1957, to be signed by the Planning Board and filed in the Town's Clerk's office and which, together with all explanatory matter thereon, is hereby incorporated in and made a part of this by-law."

And to amend the last paragraph of said Section 1 by inserting after the words "single residence district A" the words "and single residence district B." And to amend the first paragraph of Section 1 by striking out in the third line the word "five" and inserting in place thereof the word "six."

So that said Section 1 as amended will read

Section 1. ESTABLISHMENT OF DISTRICTS. For the purposes of this by-law the Town of Winchester is hereby divided into districts of six classes, designated specifically as follows:

1. Single residence districts.
2. General residence districts.
3. Business districts.
4. Industrial districts.

and which are as indicated and identified upon a map entitled 'Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, Plan of Single Residence District B' prepared under the direction of the Planning Board, dated December, 1953, signed by the said Board and filed in the Town Clerk's office, which map, together with all explanatory matter thereon, is hereby incorporated in and made a part of this by-law.

A subdivision of the single residence district lying westerly of Cambridge Street is hereby established within the area, designated "Single Residence District A" as shown upon a map or plan entitled "Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, Plan of Single Residence District A" Established by Amendment to the Zoning By-Law dated March 1934, to be signed by the Planning Board and filed in the Town Clerk's office and which together with all explanatory matter thereon is hereby incorporated in and made a part of this By-Law.

A subdivision of the single residence district lying in the southeasterly corner of the town and being that area recently set off from Medford and annexed to Winchester and containing approximately 27½ acres and shown on a plan showing the part of boundary line between the City of Medford and the Town of Winchester, changed by Chapter 676, Acts of 1956, is hereby established within the area designated "Single Residence District B" as shown upon a map or plan entitled "Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, Plan of Single Residence District B" established by amendment to the zoning by-law dated June 1957, to be signed by the Planning Board and filed in the Town Clerk's office and which, together with all explanatory matter thereon, is hereby incorporated in and made a part of this by-law.

All restrictions and regulations established by this By-Law applicable to single residence districts shall apply without distinction to single residence districts and "single residence district A" and "single residence district B," alike, as hereinafter expressly provided.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an amendment to the Zoning By-Laws adopted by the Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, at the Special Town Meeting held on June 10, 1957, and approved by the Attorney General of Massachusetts on July 11, 1957.

REV. EDWARD H. NEWCOMB

The Rev. Edward H. Newcomb, a retired Congregational minister, died August 30 at a convalescent home in Vernon, Conn., after a long illness.

Mr. Newcomb was born November 26, 1867, in Hardwick, Mass., of the late John and Alice (Powell) Newcomb. A graduate of the Bangor Theological Seminary in 1897, he was ordained as a Congregational minister at Richmond, Maine the same year.

The Rev. Mr. Newcomb held pastorates in South Portland, Stroudwater and Biddeford, Maine; in Newburyport, Framingham Center, and Lowell, Mass.; and in Keene, N. H.

His last pastorate was at Kittery Point Congregational Church in Maine. He served there from 1931 until his retirement in 1947. After his retirement he made his home for a time with his daughter, Mrs. William T. Harris of Stevens street.

Besides his wife and Mrs. Harris, he leaves two daughters, Mrs. Preston Sage of Manchester, Conn., and Mrs. Warren W. Rausch of Worthington, Mass.; nine grandchildren and 21 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on September 3 at the Kittery Point Congregational Church. Burial was in the Kittery Point Congregational Cemetery.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH SCHOOL

On September 15, at 9:45 a. m. all church school classes of the First Baptist Church will reopen under the leadership of Mr. Joseph M. Dunn, Sunday School superintendent; Mr. Arthur C. Barker, chairman of the Board of Christian Education; Miss Muriel Roel, director of Christian Education and a staff of trained teachers.

There are classes for all ages and we invite those who do not have a home church to join us then. Rally Day will be September 22 at 9:00 a. m.

Mort Ward, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Ward of 1 Webster street, after spending the summer as Senior Counselor at Charlton Depot, has entered Heidelberg in Tiffin, Ohio.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

AMENDMENT TO ZONING BY-LAWS
TOWN OF WINCHESTER, MASSACHUSETTS

ADOPTED AT SPECIAL TOWN MEETING
ON JUNE 10, 1957

VOTED, That the zoning by-laws of the town be amended by making the following changes: To amend Section 5 of the zoning by-laws by inserting under the paragraph entitled "In Business Districts," the following special regulations shall also apply and after the first and second numbered clauses thereunder the following:

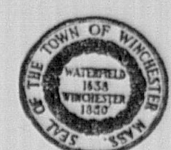

3. Where all, or any portion, of the required automobile parking or garaging space is provided within the exterior walls of the main building, or entirely underground, the total lot area heretofore required may be reduced by an amount equal to the area of such interior or underground parking space.

4. Where the lot on which an apartment house or group house is located abuts more than one street, the total lot area heretofore required may be reduced by an amount equal to the area between the boundaries of the lot and the center lines of all abutting streets other than the principal frontage street. For the purpose of this provision, the principal frontage street is the street most closely parallel to the maximum dimension of the building.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an amendment to the Zoning By-Laws adopted by the Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, at the Special Town Meeting held on June 10, 1957, and approved by the Attorney General of Massachusetts on July 11, 1957.

AMENDMENT TO BUILDING LAWS
TOWN OF WINCHESTER, MASSACHUSETTS

ADOPTED AT SPECIAL TOWN MEETING
ON JUNE 10, 1957

VOTED, That the Building Laws of the town be amended by adding to Section 147 in that portion entitled FRONT YARD SET BACK after the second paragraph thereof the words "In any single residence district designated and marked 'B' on the zoning map incorporated in and made a part of the Zoning By-Law, 35 feet, insert after the letter 'A' the words or 'B' so that the first portion of the section under FRONT YARD SET BACK shall read:

No building shall be erected, placed, moved, or altered so that any part thereof except eaves and uncovered steps shall be within the following respective distances from the nearest exterior line of any public way or any private way shown on a plan approved by the Board of Survey or any private way open for public use:

In any single residence district designated and marked "A" on the zoning map incorporated in and made a part of the Zoning By-Law, 35 feet.

In any single residence district designated and marked "B" on the zoning map incorporated in and made a part of the Zoning By-Law, 35 feet.

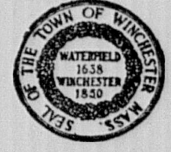

In any single residence district shown on said map and not designated "A" or "B" thereon, 25 feet.

In any general residence district shown on said map, 20 feet.

In any industrial district shown on said map, 15 feet.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an amendment to the Building Laws adopted by the Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, at the Special Town Meeting held on June 10, 1957, and approved by the Attorney General of Massachusetts on July 11, 1957.

AMENDMENT TO ZONING BY-LAWS
TOWN OF WINCHESTER, MASSACHUSETTS

ADOPTED AT SPECIAL TOWN MEETING
ON JUNE 10, 1957

VOTED, To amend the zoning by-laws of the town by inserting in Section 8A, AREA REGULATIONS, near the end of the fourth line in the first sentence and after the words "20,000 square feet and not less than 120 feet wide;" the following words, "In any single residence district designated and marked 'B' on the zoning map there shall be provided for each dwelling house hereafter constructed a lot containing not less than 15,000 square feet and not less than 100 feet wide;" so that the first paragraph of Section 8A, AREA REGULATIONS, as amended should read:

Section 8A, AREA REGULATIONS,

In any Single Residence District designated and marked "A" on the zoning map there shall be provided for each dwelling house hereafter constructed a lot containing not less than 20,000 square feet and not less than 100 feet wide; in any single residence district designated and marked "B" on the zoning map there shall be provided for each dwelling house hereafter constructed a lot containing not less than 15,000 square feet and not less than 100 feet wide; in all Single Residence Districts not so designated, there shall be provided for each dwelling house hereafter constructed a lot containing not less than 10,000 square feet and not less than 80 feet wide; in the General Residence Districts, there shall be provided for each single dwelling house hereafter constructed a lot containing not less than 6,500 square feet and not less than 65 feet wide; and in all Single and General Residence Districts, no dwelling house shall hereafter be constructed on a lot which does not abut on at least one street for a distance of at least 50 feet. For the purposes of this Section, lot width is to be measured through that part of the dwelling where the lot is narrowest.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an amendment to the Zoning By-Laws adopted by the Town of Winchester, Massachusetts, at the Special Town Meeting held on June 10, 1957, and approved by the Attorney General of Massachusetts on July 11, 1957.

SIMMONS CLUB

The Arlington-Winchester Simmons Club will open its 1957-1958 season with a covered dish supper at the First Congregational Church in Winchester on Tuesday, September 17. The supper will begin at 6:30 and be followed by a short business meeting at 8:00. After the business meeting there will be a blind auction of white elephants, what-nots, and assorted treasures. Members are advised to bring along extra change to bid for these priceless surprise packages. The chairman of the covered dish supper is Miss Hilda Hope.

The program for the coming year has been drawn up and the coming attractions are:
Sept. 17, 1957—Covered Dish Supper and Blind Auction.
Nov. 13, 1957—A talk and demonstration by Mr. Browning of S. S. Pierce, who will make many different kinds of canapes and hors d'oeuvres as well as give hints on holiday entertaining.

Jan. 5, 1958—A tea will be given at the home of Miss Helen Forsythe for members, students and prospective students of Simmons College.

Mar. 6, 1958—A group of book reviews by Mrs. Eleanor Coy of the Medford Public Library.

April—The Fund Raising Project.

May—Annual banquet with Dr. Ralph Hayes of Cambridge as guest speaker.

WAITING FOR THE RAIN TO FALL

The town ducks begin to feel the effects of the drought as the water in their pond sinks almost to the vanishing point.

SINGERS WANTED

The Lexington Choral Society has announced that singers in the Greater Boston area interested in becoming members are invited to the weekly rehearsals of the society Tuesday evenings at 8 o'clock at the Follen Church Community Center, 744 Massachusetts avenue, Lexington. Membership rolls will be kept open through September 24.

Allen C. Lannom, former director of the Mystic Glee Club, conducts the Society and among the music to be sung during the year is Verdi's "Requiem" to be done in the spring.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT
STARTS TOMORROW

The annual town tennis tournament gets under way tomorrow morning at the Palmer Street Courts. This year's entry in the men's singles is one of the largest in recent years.

Some attribute the size to the fact that Art Hills, last year's winner along with Bob Joslin, Henry Fitts, and Jim Coon, Winchester's contribution to the New England ranked lists, will not be present thus creating a more wide open event than in some of the previous years.

There is no ex-champion entered for the first time in the history of the event with the sole exception of veteran Jim Riley who is rumored to have done the trick twenty odd years ago. It is anticipated that this year's winner will come from among the following group, Dave Moore, Ed Williams, Jim Moulton, or Bob Pritchard, a real dark horse.

With such a large entry, it has been necessary to schedule matches to begin at 9:30. All players due at this time will be so notified by phone. All others players should arrive on time for their matches. Men's singles by 10:15. In order to keep the tournament on schedule, it will be necessary to default any contestants who do not arrive on time unless they have checked with the committee and been given a specific time to report. Men's and women's doubles will start Saturday afternoon with the mixed doubles starting Sunday morning.

A junior tournament for children under fourteen has been in progress this week under the supervision of Dot Hills. It has been very interesting to see the enthusiasm and ability many children have developed in the last few years. There were children as young as seven participating in this tournament.

BOY SCOUTS, TROOP 6

Troop 6, Winchester Boy Scouts, will be off to a good start at its first meeting at the Unitarian Church on Tuesday evening, September 17, at 7:15. Robert A. Sands is continuing as Scoutmaster and this year Vincent S. March is to be assistant scoutmaster.

This troop, which includes in its membership many boys from the Mystic School district but is not exclusively for such boys, is sponsored by the Men's Club of the Winchester Unitarian Church.

The troop committee has met several times this summer to plan the Troop 6 program, putting emphasis on camping and advancement in camping and scouting crafts.

Two committee members, William P. Coady and Carlton W. Totman, who are in charge of camping, have already set dates and made reservations for several overnight camp trips. The first will be on October 13 at Camp Fellsland in Amesbury.

The committee is receiving applications of new members to the limit of the troop capacity. New applicants will be welcomed at the second meeting of the troop on Tuesday night, September 24.

David S. Wardwell is chairman of the Troop committee. Robert H. Sibley, Jr., and David B. Thoms head the committee on advancement. Don R. Kroell is treasurer and Wayne E. Davis is secretary of the committee.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Mawn of 51 Forest street announce the engagement of their daughter, Marilyn to Mr. Peter A. Jeffrey, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. Gifford of 3 Wiser street, Wilmington.

HENRIKSEN — THOMASON

Miss Sandra Thomason, daughter of Mrs. Robert Griffith Thomason of 3 Gerard road, and the late Mr. Thomason, was married on Friday evening, September 6, at the Church of the Epiphany to Henry Ree Henriksen of Beverly Hills, Calif., son of Mr. and Mrs. Erling Nærland Henriksen of Chicago, Ill. The Rev. John W. Ellison, rector of the church, read the 8 o'clock candlelight service which was attended by the immediate families of the bride and bridegroom and a few intimate friends.

The prospective bride was given in marriage by her cousin, the Rev. David McAlpin Pyle of Kent, Conn. She wore a gown of ivory tulle with a short veil attached to a half-cap of Alencon lace, and carried a spray of blush-pink roses and stephanotis.

Miss Ann Usilton of Washington, D. C., was the bride's only attendant. She wore a dress of dark green changeable tulle and carried a spray of copper-toned chrysanthemums, matching the flowers in her hair. Henry P. Irwin of Washington, D. C., was best man.

A reception was held after the marriage at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Thomason, where an ice-blue tulle and organza sheath with matching accessories and a corsage of cymbidium orchids. The bridegroom's mother wore white vanda orchids with her gray lace gown and light blue accessories.

After a wedding journey to Colorado, Mr. and Mrs. Henriksen will make their home in Beverly Hills, Calif.

The bride, granddaughter of Mrs. Marcus Byng May of Winchester and the late Mr. May, attended Colby Junior College and Boston University. Mr. Henriksen, who is associated with the Standard Oil Company of California, graduated from Illinois Institute of Technology in 1951 and from the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration in 1957. He served three years in Alaska with the United States Army Corps of Engineers and is now a captain in the active reserve.

MISS MARGARET M. FLYNN

ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Marion Flynn of 4 Priory lane, Pelham Manor, New York, announce the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Maureen, to Mr. Hiram Frederick Moody of Winchester. An October wedding is planned.

The prospective bride was graduated from the Masters School, Dobbs Ferry, New York, in 1954, and attended Wheaton College. A debutante of the 1954-55 season, Miss Flynn was presented at the Westchester Cotillion in September, 1954. Her father is president and publisher of the New York News.

Mr. Moody was graduated from the Phillips Exeter Academy in 1953 and from Brown University in 1957, where he was a member of Zeta Psi fraternity. He is with the Guaranty Trust Company of New York. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram F. Moody of Arlington street, and his father is the Pontiac-Cadillac dealer in Winchester.

CALDWELL — SYMMES

White Easter lilies and gladioli combined with chionodoxa to decorate the Unitarian Church on Saturday afternoon, September 7, for the marriage of Miss Marcia Symmes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chandler Whiting Symmes of 230 Main street, to John Hay Caldwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Caldwell of Henniker, N. H. The Rev. Robert A. Storer officiated at the 4 o'clock ceremony.

Miss Symmes was given in marriage by her father. She wore an ivory silk gown fashioned with a basque bodice, a scalloped portrait neckline and short sleeves outlined with Alencon lace, and a full skirt terminating in a court train. Her veil of silk illusion was caught to a matching lace cap and she carried a cascade bouquet of candlelight roses and stephanotis.

Miss Barbara Osborne of Minneapolis, Minn., was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Parker Symmes of Chestnut Hill, sister-in-law of the bride; Miss Cynthia Nichols of Winchester and Miss Janet Smith of Paoli, Pa., cousin of the bride.

All the bridal attendants wore ballerina-length sheath dresses of apricot peau de soie with open tuckled necklines, short sleeves and flared panel backs. The honor maid carried a cascade bouquet of French roses. The bridesmaids' bouquets combined French roses with pale yellow chrysanthemums.

Robert Hume of Dedham was Mr. Caldwell's best man, and the usher corps comprised Parker Symmes of Chestnut Hill, brother of the bride; Richard K. Caldwell of Winchester, uncle of the bridegroom; William Ellingwood of Littleton, N. H.; and Winslow Tisdell of Auburndale.

A reception was held in the garden of the home of the bride's parents with the mothers of both the bride and bridegroom assisting in receiving.

Mrs. Symmes, mother of the bride, wore a light-blue satin gown with an embroidered skirt and a Dior-blue hat. She carried a white orchid on her silver bag. The mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Caldwell, wore an ice-blue silk satin gown with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

After a wedding journey through New Hampshire Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell will live in Bangor, Me., while the bridegroom attends Bangor Theological Seminary.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School, of Colby Junior College and the Bangor Gibbs School. Mr. Caldwell graduated from Newton High School and New England College.

In Modern Store

Myron Berlow Holds
Grand Opening Monday

The grand opening of the new Myron Berlow—Home Accessories store will be held on Monday morning, September 16, at 9:15 a.m. Ralph Bonnell and John Volpe, prominent civic-minded Winchester residents, will cut the ribbon which will officially open the store.

Although the store has been open for some time since the business was moved from lower to upper Main street, Mr. Berlow hopes that many of the store's Winchester friends will attend the opening. All week, John L. Everett of Winchester, a student at Tufts University, will give recitals on a Baldwin Orga-Sonic spinet organ. The recitals by the well-known local organist will be held every afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock.

The store is modern and spacious with lots of display area and a semi-self-service system which will be a great convenience to hurried shoppers. The enlarged area has made room for a greatly expanded line of merchandise and the store has one of the largest lamp shade departments in New England. In addition, the Old Pine Room and Panel Room feature occasional furniture for homes with rooms in those styles. The Bread and Butter Room has the latest in gadgets.

In addition, Mr. Berlow is particularly proud of his full line of lamps which are attractively displayed in showcases along the walls. Both the china and glassware departments have been greatly expanded and the milk glass section is one of the best in this area. Shoppers will also find an exceptional display of copper and brass.

Myron Berlow—Home Accessories, in a new modern store, is definitely a worthy addition to Winchester's shopping center.

PARENT-TEACHER RELATIONS AT THE KINDERGARTEN LEVEL

Dear Parents of Kindergarten Children:

There have been some questions regarding the schedule of visitations arranged for the parents of our kindergarten children. It warrants, I believe, an explanation. The prime objective of the kindergarten is to adjust the child to the school environment in which he is destined to spend the next twelve years of his life. Parent-teacher conferences at this level are a generally accepted device for helping to effect that adjustment as quickly and successfully as possible. The conferences enable the teacher to learn from the person who best knows the individual characteristics of his child.

For years Winchester maintained single kindergarten sessions where by the child attended school during the morning only. This permitted the teachers to arrange parent conferences during the afternoon. With the adoption three years ago of the more standard practice of two kindergarten sessions, it became necessary to hold parent conferences during hours when the kindergarten children would otherwise be in school. Last year, for example, kindergarten sessions did not begin until September 17.

This year the staff felt that if they could have an opportunity beforehand to identify the children, the parent-teacher conferences would be more valuable. Acting on this supposition, the kindergarten children attended school the first two days after which sessions were suspended for two weeks. During this time fifty to sixty parent conferences in four schools and seventy to seventy-nine in two schools have been scheduled. Parental reaction to this schedule seems to focus on several points. Some feel that the children should not go to school until after the parent-teacher conferences have been completed as was done last year. Others believe that the real value of the conferences can be obtained only if they are held later in the school year when the teacher has had an opportunity to become acquainted with each child. Then, too, there are those who question the value of the parent-teacher conference except when and after the child has experienced difficulty in school.

The sensible approach to this problem would seem to be that of reviewing with parents, teachers and school principals the pros and cons of the various proposals submitted. This School Department proposes to do in an effort to devise for another year a pattern of parent-teacher relationship that will best insure the successful entry of every child to his school world. Meanwhile we appreciate the cooperation of the parents whose interest and concern for the education of their children led them to discuss this matter with us.

Sincerely,
Harry V. Gilson
Superintendent of Schools

IMPROVEMENTS AT FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Extensive improvements have been made at the First Congregational Church during the past summer.

The large kindergarten room in the old vestry has been soundproofed and the church office and the office of the director of Religious Education have been redecorated and refurnished. Several halls have been repainted and the outside doors of Ripley Chapel and Chidley Hall have been refinished.

The work was done under the direction of the Church Prudential Committee, Raymond J. Carter, chairman, H. Kimball Archibald and Howard A. Wittet. The new furnishings in the church office and the new folding chairs in the Palmer and Tucker rooms were made possible by the Women's Association of the Church.

Mrs. Carl Wood and Mrs. James E. Jenks, Jr., of the Church Art Committee aided with the choosing of colors and fabrics, while Sexton Leon Smith and his staff contributed to the improved appearance by putting the entire church plant in spic-and-span shape for fall.

FREE MALAYA PUTS MONKEYS TO WORK

Monkeys have been drafted into Malaya's labor force, but the banana-munching loafers just drink up their wages.

Putting monkeys to work is only one accomplishment of the up-and-coming country lying between Thailand and Singapore, says the National Geographic Society. Long famed for its tin and rubber, Malaya now has won self-government within the British Commonwealth. Malaya's monkeys scamper up coconut trees and twist off the fruit. As wages, they get soda pop and other goodies.

Coconut monkeys riding on bicycles with their owners are a common sight in parts of Malaya. Leashes keep the monkeys from taking long banana-breaks in the jungle.

Elephants Bulldoze Trails

Jungles of Alabama-size Malaya are so thick with vines and creepers that even wild animals use trails bulldozed by elephants. Elephants follow fixed routes, and woe betide a man who builds his home on an elephant path.

Malayan houses, made of palm leaves and bamboo, stand on stilts that help keep them free of snakes and other vermin. Stilts also protect houses against floods in one of the world's wettest countries.

About three times as much rain falls on Johore—the province near Singapore—as on Seattle, Washington. In a year each acre of Johore is doused with some 2,500,000 gallons of water.

Sopping but undaunted, sarong-clad Malaysians tap rubber trees, mine tin, and catch crocodiles on hooks baited with chicken. They also grow pineapples, tea, and cassava, from whose roots tapioca is made.

In making tapioca, workers carefully remove the sap under the skin of the cassava root. The sap contains Prussic acid, familiar to detective story readers for its smell of bitter almonds and its reputation for killing almost instantly.

Southernmost tip of the Asian mainland, Malaya is a melting pot of races. Chinese immigrants now number about two-fifths of the population. If heavily Chinese Singapore were added to the Federation of Malaya, the Chinese population would outnumber the Malays. Malaya also has hundreds of thousands of Indians and Pakistanis.

Blowguns and Poison Darts. Deep in the jungles live thousands of aborigines, including tree-dwellers and blowgun-toting pygmies with poison darts.

Exotic odors greet visitors to Malaya. Heavy wafts of orchid mingle with the cloyingly sweet scent of frangipani blossoms and the spicy smoke of incense sticks. From open doorways come the tang of wood fires and the fragrant smell of curry.

Not so easy on the nose is the durian, a hard-shelled fruit that at best smells like decaying onions. But the spiny fruit makes up for its odor with a custard-like pulp tasting of nuts and spices.

AUGUST BRINGS RAGWEED,
ARCHENEMY OF SNEEZERS

Puerto Rico and Alaska share a delightfully uncommon bond: neither has enough ragweed to sneeze at.

In the continental United States, however, seven or eight million victims of hay fever will lay in a stock of nose tissues about August 15, and join the annual chorus of sneezing and sniveling. Even to their more fortunate friends, the ragweed blues is a sad, sad song.

Each season, the villainous weed sneaks some 250,000 pounds of pollen into the air—each microscopic grain so buoyant that it can float great distances on the slightest zephyr.

Not a single state escapes the fallout, the National Geographic Society says. Worse still, within its range, ragweed is wholly indifferent to environment. It grows with equal zest on beaches, prairies, pinelands, cultivated fields, roadsides, and vacant city lots.

A formidable foe. Ragweed is a tough opponent. Science has not yet found an effective way to eradicate the prolific weed. Seeds may lie dormant for 20 years. The best way to fight hay fever, many believe, is simply get out of ragweed-infested zones.

To guide the luckier sufferers who can travel, the American Foundation for Allergic Diseases has worked out a pollen index for some 700 communities in the United States and near-by areas. Almost anywhere outside the United States, says the Foundation, is a pleasant place to be during the ragweed flowering season—roughly August 15 to September 30.

The East, South, and Midwest can offer some comfort. Spots where the pollen count is negligible include the southern tip of Florida, northern Minnesota, regions west of the Cascade Mountains in Oregon and Washington, and the forests and desertlands of the Rocky Mountains.

Ragweed, ironically, bears a name of sweetest accord. Its genus is Ambrosia, a Greek word meaning food of the gods. The family background is excellent; ragweed belongs to the attractive aster clan that includes among its members chrysanthemums and dahlias.

Offensive Five

Some 15 species of ragweed—all coarse, branching plants—grow in the United States. Of these, five cause the trouble. They are the giant ragweed, common or dwarf ragweed, western ragweed, giant western, and lance-leaved ragweed. The flowers are long, slender, greenish spikes capable of unleashing enormous quantities of pollen.

Courting via the breeze is a clear necessity, for ragweed is so unattractive it could hardly depend upon the most myopic insect to do its work. Perhaps one pollen grain in millions finds a goal.

But blanket coverage is terrible on allergic individuals. They inhale the pollen and develop antibodies to attack it. In turn, the antibodies make tissues so sensitive they become irritated upon continuous contact with the allergen.

Ragweed seeds, like pollen, have a diabolical means of getting about. The plant likes to grow among grain. Its seeds are so similar in weight and size they have no trouble hitchhiking rides to new homes in grain shipments.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Griffin (Diane Nason) of North Reading announce the birth of a second daughter, Laura Jean, on August 22, at the Winchester Hospital. This is the Griffin's third child. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Nason and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Sam E. Griffin, Jr., all of Winchester.

Maternal great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Alfred F. Tarbell of Fitchburg and Mrs. W. R. Nason of Winchester. Paternal grandparents are Mrs. S. Hunter Griffin, Sr., of Winchester and Mrs. James R. Russell of San Diego, Calif.

WITCHWEED INVADERS SINK
ROOTS IN AMERICAN SOIL

An invasion of witches has gained a toe-hold in America, casting a sinister shadow over farms.

The unwelcome visitors are small, flowering plants, called witchweeds, that attach themselves to the roots of corn.

Their vampire habit of sucking a plant's lifeblood—water and soil nutrients—is similar to the voracious way of the lamprey eel as it feeds on hapless fish.

New in West

Witchweeds are members of the Striga group of root parasites, says the National Geographic Society. Various species have long plagued farmers of Australia and the warmer parts of Asia and Africa.

The first word of the pest's presence in the Western Hemisphere came last summer, when scores of North and South Carolina farms were found to be infested. In some cases, whole stands of corn were lost. In others, corn was stunted and sickly, as if it had suffered drought.

Department of Agriculture officials are so concerned over the weed's possible spread that they have issued a general description and alert, asking that anyone who sees a witchweed report it at once to the nearest county agricultural agent.

The witchweed now threatening American farm production has been identified as Striga asiatica, or mealie witchweed. In addition to corn, it fastens upon sugar cane, rice, sorghum, and other cereal and pasture grasses.

Witchweeds harm crops most while the weeds are still below ground and completely dependent on their hosts. After emerging, they manufacture part of their own food needs.

The parasites usually grow eight to ten inches high. Like storybook witches, they then are disguised as innocuous green plants, decked out in delicate blossoms ranging from red and orange to white.

MERINO FLEECE TURNS GOLD IN COLOR AS WELL AS VALUE

Australia is growing golden fleece. Merino sheep, which have brought wealth to the island continent and many other countries, have now produced a mutant whose color matches its value.
Behind the new development, the National Geographic Society says, is a saga of royal monopoly, smuggling, and careful breeding that has carried this sheep to prominence around the world.

Moors and Spaniards
Hardy animals prized for fine wool, Merinos are believed to have originated in North Africa. The breed became famous as the monopoly of Spanish royalty, perhaps a legacy to that country from the Moorish invasion in the 12th century.

Sheep in Spanish flocks numbered between four and five million by 1770, travelers estimated. As the fame of its wool grew, the Merino became the object of intrigues and royal politics through much of Europe.
Smugglers are credited with establishing the first small flocks outside Spain. Some Merinos appeared in France about 1721, and two years later a breeding flock mysteriously arrived in Sweden.

In 1765 the Elector of Saxony, a cousin of the King of Spain, persuaded his kinsman to ship him 100 rams and 200 fine ewes. Another consignment of the same size reached him in 1778. By 1802, when Merinos were being sent to many parts of the world, the Saxony flocks totaled about four million sheep.

Other rulers—Frederick II of Prussia, Maria Theresa of Austria, and Louis XVI of France—also secured flocks.
Attempts by the English to pull the wool over their own backs met with less friendly response. Through Portugal, a few Merinos were smuggled to England. Another handful was received in exchange for eight fine horses.
But the picture changed radically after 1808 when Spanish insurrections joined the English against Napoleon. The rebels gave the English large flocks confiscated from Spanish noblemen, most of whom were of Napoleon's side.
By this time, Merinos had arrived in Russia, the United States,
South America, and South Africa.
A few, going by way of Holland and Cape of Good Hope, had reached Australia in 1797. Later imports and breeding have increased the Australian count to 32 million.
In almost all locations, the sheep prosper. In 1802 an observer wrote, "The preservation of the Merino race in its utmost purity at the Cape of Good Hope, in the marshes of Holland and under the rigorous climate of Sweden furnishes additional support of this principle."

GEOGRAPHIC ODDITIES AND BRIEFS

Puerto Rico's spiny club palm is a plant porcupine. Long, needlethorns extending from the trunk and branches make it impossible for any animal to climb up and steal the palm's fruit, says the National Geographic Magazine.

San Francisco, the "City That Was" following the earthquake and fire of 1906, quickly rose from the ruins. At the time, huge billboards proclaimed the shattered city's spirit: "Don't talk earthquake."
Talk business.

Lichens, curious plants that seem to come from space, are expectations that can catch the surface of the hardest rock and help break it down into soil, says the National Geographic Magazine.
Among the first plants to grow on any ice-scoured land, lichens act as pioneers for flowers and trees.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Spaulding of Main street left New York by air for Athens on Thursday, September 12. From Greece they will fly to Cairo, Beirut, Terhan, Baghdad, Karachi, Lahore, Dacca and Djakarta where they will visit the offices of Franklin Publications of which Mr. Spaulding is Chairman of the Board of Directors.
After stopping in Thailand, Hong Kong and Japan, they will return home by way of Ladolla, Calif., where they will spend a few days with Mr. Spaulding's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Frank E. Spaulding, and his sisters, Mary and Catherine Spaulding.

Richard P. Carroll, son of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy J. Carroll of 121 Sylvester avenue, and husband of the former Miss Anne E. Votaw of 18 Madison avenue, was commissioned Ensign upon graduation from the Navy's Officer Candidate School at Newport, R. I., September 6.

Mr. Reginald Wentworth of Allen street, who has been seriously ill at the Symmes Arlington Hospital since September 2, has recently shown definite signs of improvement. He will remain at the hospital for a time but his ultimate complete recovery is now expected.
"Reggie" is well known to many in Winchester as sports photographer for high school teams and especially for taking motion pictures of the Winchester football games.

Dr. Howard J. Chidley, pastor emeritus of the First Congregational Church, with Mrs. Chidley and Miss Mary Corbin, has returned to his home on Fernway after spending the summer at Intervale,
N. H.

Sally Tallman of 17 Cambridge street was one of 31 Junior Counsellors who returned to Middlebury College early to help in familiarizing freshmen women with the traditions and activities of the college.
She will act as social director and as academic counselor in conjunction with a faculty member.

Gardner E. Smith is a member of the entering freshman class of Nichols Junior College of Business Administration. Gardner Smith will enter Nichols on September 15 and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Percival A. Smith, 24 Calumet road. Gardner formerly attended Winchester High School.

Mr. Roy Titiliah of the town treasurer's office is on vacation this week. She will return to her duties on Monday.
Surface treatments to town roads have been completed and the street department is busy building a section of Robinson road. In addition, crews have removed two dead trees at the end of Manchester Field. One of these trees was a victim of Dutch Elm disease and the other was simply dead. Work on clearing other trees affected by Dutch Elm disease continues.

William A. Stevenson, meter foreman at the water department is vacationing this week. He and Mrs. Stevenson are planning motor trips during the two week period.
Philip Hight of the water department is vacationing this week in New Hampshire.

Miss Katherine Foley of the assessor's office is vacationing this week. She will return to her duties in the town hall on Monday.
Two Winchester boys, Kenneth
R. Brown of 8 Francis circuit and Quentin C. Roberts, Jr., of 6 Seneca road were among the newly arrived freshmen at Wesleyan University at Middletown, Conn.,
Monday of this week.

"CH" Keane of Lloyd street, Globe sports writer, reports that while at the United States Naval Academy recently he found the Annapolis football coaching staff very high on both Joe Bellino and Frank Dattilo, Winchester boys now members of the Navy plebe classes. Coach "Eddie" Erdelatz thinks Bellino has the potential to be one of Navy's great backs while Dattilo has been showing to fine advantage as an end on the plebe team.

Big John Chapin, all-around athlete at Winchester High last year, left this week to enter Colgate University at Hamilton, N. Y.

Many a newcomer to Winchester has had her approach to a knowpreciably by the Welcome Wagon representative.

She it is who calls on newly ar-

The Welcome Wagon repre-

it is hard to keep track of all ar-there are newly arrived families, giving her a ring at Winchester with them and be of help if pos-

Crowd Cheers Water Show

Annual Country Club Ballet
Was Big Hit Last Friday

The second annual Winchester Country Club Water Show was held on a clear and warm evening last Friday, September 6th.

After a buffet in the club house attended by over 250 members, a still larger crowd gathered on the back porch and about the pool to enjoy the show.

Assistant Professor Larry Palmer of Tufts, who has been director of the pool since it was built, narrated the story of a "South Pacific Island."

The order of events included:

Diving: Kenny Tully, Bert Collins, Robby Eaton, Hal Robinson.

Float Raft: Nancy Neill, Pat Overacker, Natalie Wernet, Ellen Monahan, Nancy Cannon, Susan Tully.

Ballerina Duet: Sally McCabe, Pete Birchall.

Boys' Races: Butterfly—Barry Johnson, Kenneth Parrot.

Backstroke: Terry Leary, Tommy Porter.

Breaststroke: Kenneth Carlson.

Freestyle: Allen Buros, Andy Page, Kenneth Parrot, Barry Johnson.

Bunny Hop: Sandy Mueller, Donna Rawson, Zita Rawson, Jane Overacker, Betsy Buckley, Fay Leary.

Strip Tease: "Unknown."

Children's Duet: Susan Tully, Nancy Neill.

Around the World: Charlotte Davidson, Libby Symmes, Diana Chase, Charlotte Siders, Emmy Lemander, Marge Harvey, Mercedita Smith, Pete Birchall.

Solo: Sue Donnell. King: Skip Hall. Attendant: Kenny Tully.

When the water spectacular ended the audience rated it even better than last year's display. Enthusiastic rounds of applause were given for director Palmer and co-chairmen "Pete" Birchall and Sally McCabe. Credit also goes to "Trudy" Irving for her effective work heading up the make-up department, to "wardrobe mistress" Sara Eaton, and to stage assistants Jill Sibley, Barry Shore, Bill Sibley and John Page.

IGA EXPANDS PARKING LOT

The management of the IGA Foodliner in Burlington has announced plans for expansion of its parking area. The lot, which now holds parking for 250 cars, will be able to facilitate parking for better than 500 cars when completed. The management appreciates its loyal customers and is doing everything within its power to better facilitate their shopping needs. At the same time, IGA is maintaining its high standards of quality and low competitive prices.

Mrs. Lyman Matthews of Cape Porpoise, Me., has been appointed teacher of Physical Education in the Sanford, Me., High School. As Deborah Fenton, Mrs. Matthews taught Physical Education and coached the girls teams at Winchester High School for some years. She retired from teaching after her marriage and her position at Sanford is her first since her retirement and moving from Winchester.

MYSTIC GLEE CLUB

GET-TOGETHER DINNER
PRECEDES OPENING
REHEARSAL

Mystic Glee Club opens its 1957-1958 season Monday evening, September 16 at 6:30 with a Get-Together Dinner at Masonic Hall. The Club's first rehearsal will be in the hall at 8:00, following the dinner.

This will be the group's first meeting with its new conductor, Keith Phinney of Woburn, appointed this summer. He will be introduced by Ragnar T. Brandt, of 5 Thornton road, president of the Mystic Glee Club, one of the leading men's choral groups in Greater Boston since 1940.

Notice of the meeting has been mailed to present and past members by Victor R. Guilbault, corresponding secretary. Men interested in joining the choral group for the first time are invited to attend and should contact Austin Nanry, membership chairman, 230 Mystic Valley Parkway, Winchester.

In the notice Mr. Guilbault said: "The Club is out this year to (1) have fun singing at rehearsals and performances and (2) make substantial contributions musically to the communities in which our members live."

Membership is made up of men from Winchester, Woburn, Arlington, Lexington, Wakefield, Burlington, Lynnfield Center, Medford, Malden, Melrose, Reading and other neighboring communities.

During the season the club meets for rehearsals the first Monday of each month at the First Baptist Church and on other Monday evenings at Masonic Hall. Rehearsals are at 8:00 p. m.

NELSON RECEIVES FOOTBALL MENTION

"Football Magazine" for September, 1957, says "Maine has at least two football players who would be at home in any company, Niles Nelson, end; and Bob Brewer, back."

Nelson is of course the former Winchester High wingman, who has blossomed into a star at Orono. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Nelson of Water street.

His father played varsity football at Winchester and Tufts College, while Mrs. Nelson, the former Virginia Merrill, was an all-around athletic star at high school.

LEAGANS — LONG

The Chapel at M.I.T. formed the setting for the marriage of Miss Gretchen Long, daughter of Mrs. Rodney Long of 47 Everett avenue, and John Paul Leagans, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul Leagans of 508 Hanshaw road, Ithaca, N. Y., on Saturday, September 7, at 4 o'clock. Dean Charles Batten of the Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Dr. George M. Durschinger of Beaver, Pa., the bride was gown in a dress of peau de soie with pointe Viennese lace. With it she wore a matching lace cap and an elbow length veil. Her bouquet was of pink roses.

Miss Lucy Tuve of Chevy Chase, Md., served as maid of honor. Her dress was of moss green velvet and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses. William Leagans of Ithaca, N. Y., was best man and Peter Winter of Ithaca, N. Y., and Douglas Lyon of Syracuse, N. Y., served as ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the M.I.T. Faculty Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Leagans left on a wedding trip to Vermont. They will live in Syracuse, N. Y., where both are attending Syracuse University.

Mrs. Leagans was graduated from Winchester High School in 1955 and attended Cornell University. She is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma. Her husband is a graduate of Ithaca High School in 1952, attended Cornell University and is presently at the University of Syracuse school of business administration. He is a member of Delta Upsilon and Alpha Kappa Psi fraternities. As a specialist, he served with the Army in Japan, Korea and Formosa.

CARLSON — WILSON

Mrs. Marion Drew Wilson of Salem, formerly of Winchester, announces the marriage of her granddaughter, Miss Nancy Marion Wilson to Carl Edwin Carlson, Jr., on Sunday, August 17, in Beverly.

The Monday, September 23rd, meeting of the Winchester Auxiliary of the M.S.P.C.A., will be held at the home of Mrs. Fred Gardin, 8 Copley street. After a short business meeting starting at 2 o'clock, there will be a short lecture with slides by Mr. William Swallow of the American Humane Education Society.

Mr. Swallow will tell of his fascinating experiences in Fez, Morocco, where he visited the American "Fondouk" (animal clinic) and met its superintendent, who is known as "Doctor of the Donkeys" by the Moroccans. The accomplishments of this clinic and its international influence are amazing. Mr. Swallow has not spoken in Winchester before. Don't miss this chance to hear him.

Tea will be served after the meeting. All members, friends and people-who-like-animals are invited.

MRS. EDWARD J. DOHERTY, JR.

DOHERTY — McDONOUGH

White gladiolas and poms decorated the altar of St. Joseph's Church, Woburn, on Saturday morning, August 31, for the marriage of Miss Marjorie H. McDonough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McDonough of 281 Montvale avenue, Woburn, to Mr. Edward J. Doherty Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Doherty of 13 Bow street, Woburn. Rev. Robert J. Boyle, of St. Joseph's, Belmont, cousin of the bride, performed the ten o'clock double ring ceremony and was celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed. The Papal Blessing was bestowed on them.

Seated within the altar were the Reverends, Thomas Foley, Daniel J. Doyle, Patrick Kelley, John Foley. Mr. Frank Flahive was guest soloist accompanied by Mrs. Marian Murphy.

The bride escorted by her father, wore a traditional wedding gown of lace and tulle. The bodice was sculptured, with a V-neckline applied with sequins, and long lace tapered sleeves. The bouffant tulle skirt was fashioned with a princess lace panel insert, and ended in a chapel train. Her three tiered veil of French silk illusion was caught to a wreath of imported orange blossoms and she carried a hand painted Missal decorated with pink roses and sprays of stephanotis.

Miss Reine E. McDonough, sister of the bride was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were, Mary T. McDonough, sister of the bride; Martha Doherty, sister of the groom; and Jacqueline and Carol McDonough of Arlington, cousins of the bride. They were identically gowned in princess styled gowns of sea foam and peacock crystallette with matching shoes and headpieces of fresh poms and carried cascade bouquets of yellow and white poms.

Mr. Doherty had his brother Daniel, as his best man. The ushers included William McDonough, brother of the bride, Daniel Moore, brother-in-law of the groom, William Holland and Thomas McDonough.

Mrs. McDonough, mother of the bride, was attired in a dusty rose silk organza dress with twelve accessories, and wore a corsage of pink hybrid vanda orchids. Mrs. Doherty, mother of the groom, wore a blue embroidered silk dress with matching blue accessories, and a corsage of pink hybrid vanda orchids.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Andover Country Club in Andover, where the bride and groom were assisted in receiving by their parents. The bride's going away outfit was an ensemble of cocoa brown silk faille with beige accessories and a corsage of feathered yellow fugi and stephanotis.

Following a honeymoon in the White Mountains, Mr. and Mrs. Doherty will reside in Middle River, Maryland.

Mr. and Mrs. Doherty are graduates of Woburn High School. Mr. Doherty received his degree in Civil Engineering at Northeastern University, class of 1957. Mrs. Doherty was employed as the Parker Lane Winn Co., Winchester.

CECILIA SOCIETY CHORAL AUDITIONS

Choral auditions for the Cecilia Society, second oldest choral organization in the country, will be conducted on Monday and Tuesday evenings, September 16 and 17, from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. at 254 Huntington avenue, Boston (opposite Symphony Hall).

Those planning to audition should bring a prepared solo of their own choice to sing, it was emphasized.

The Cecilia Society will sing three major concerts during the 1957-58 season, one of which, scheduled for late spring, will be a performance of Handel's oratorio "Solomon" at Symphony Hall. Details of the other programs will be announced later.

Winchester residents who sing with the Cecilia Society include Dorothy M. Hickey of 3 Myrtle street and Mrs. Linnea Robinson of 4 Felsdale Close.

LABAGNARA — BINNS

Miss Virginia Binns, formerly of Winchester, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Binns, Tampa, Fla., became the bride of Mr. Laurence A. Labagnara, 99 Third street, Medford, Sunday afternoon, September 8, at 3:30 p. m. at St. James Church Medford. A reception followed at the Bradford Hotel in Boston.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. Edward Johnson, Somerville, the bride, who carried orchids, wore a gown of taffeta and peau de soie applied with seed pearls.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Rita DiCarlo of Medford, who wore a pink crystalline taffeta gown applied with spray of rose. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Marie Tomeo, of Medford and Miss Hazel Lee, of Boston. They wore gowns similar to the matron of honor.

Best man was Mr. George W. Labagnara, of Medford. Ushers were Mr. Anthony Tomeo and Mr. Frank DiCarlo, both of Medford. After a honeymoon in Florida, the couple will reside in Medford.

FIRST BAPTIST YOUTH FELLOWSHIP

On Thursday evening, September 5, a meeting was held at the home of Mrs. H. S. Mullen, to make plans for the third annual retreat of the Youth Fellowship.

This retreat is to be held at Ocean Park, Maine, on September 13-15. The young people will be accompanied by their advisors, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Mullen and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bosselman. Robin Carlson, president of the First Baptist Youth Fellowship will preside at the retreat and several members of the State Baptist Youth Fellowship Cabinet, headed by Stanley Mullen, advisor to the State Cabinet, will be our guests and they will be in charge of the five Emphases Groups.

It is our intention to make plans for the entire coming year at this retreat, and to have programs of interest to all the young people. The retreat will end on Sunday with a Dedication Service after which we will all head for home.

MRS. ALDO DE SIMONE

DE SIMONE — ORGETTAS

Amidst a setting of white gladiolas at the Immaculate Conception Church on Saturday, August 31, Miss Louise Ann Orgettass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Orgettass of 216 Cross street, became the bride of Aldo De Simone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph De Simone of 16 Sharon road, Medford. The Rev. Herbert A. Driscoll performed the 10 o'clock wedding ceremony and was celebrant at the nuptial mass which followed. The Rev. Charles Amadore of St. Mary's Church was in the sanctuary and Joanne Montisanti, a friend of the bride and a student at the New England Conservatory of Music, was soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a silk taffeta gown cut in the princess line with a bodice of applied sequins and pearls and a chapel length train. Her elbow length veil fell from a lace hat. She carried a prayer book with two white orchids and stephanotis.

Mrs. Mary Minchella of Winchester was honor attendant for her sister. She was dressed in a deep blue, cocktail length, dress with a scoop neckline. She wore a blue hat and carried a bouquet of blue gladiolas, chrysanthemums and stephanotis. The bridesmaids were Miss Sheila Scanlon of Winchester, Mrs. Sylvia Lauro, sister of the bridegroom, of Philadelphia; and Miss Paulette Arkalis, cousin of the bride, of Burlington. The bridesmaids wore dresses in the same style as the honor attendant, but of a lighter shade of blue. The flower girl, Janice Gomes of Winchester, wore a floor length dress in the same blue as the honor attendant. With it, she wore a sweetheart shaped matching hat and carried a white basket with blue petals.

Mario Ciaslo of Paterson, N. J., was best man and Nicholas and Domenic Orgettass of Winchester, brothers of the bride; Hans Hoffman of Paterson, N. J.; George Lauro of Philadelphia, Pa., and George Arkalis, cousin of the bride, of Burlington served as ushers. The ring bearer was Charles Nurnberger of Winchester.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Hotel Manger in Boston. Mrs. Orgettass wore a beige lace dress with a beige hat and accessories and a pink orchid corsage. Mrs. De Simone, mother of the bridegroom, wore a rose lace dress with a blue hat and accessories and a yellow orchid corsage.

After a wedding trip to New Hampshire, Mr. and Mrs. De Simone will live in Medford. Mrs. De Simone is a graduate of Winchester High School and the New England Conservatory of Music. Her husband is a graduate of Central High School in Paterson, N. J., and holds a B.S. in electrical engineering from the University of Cincinnati and an M.S. in electrical engineering from M.I.T. Mr. De Simone is a project leader at the M.I.T. Instrumentation Laboratory.

TO THE CUSTOMERS OF BOSTON EDISON COMPANY

For The First Time In Nearly 40 Years We Must Ask For A General Increase In Electric Rates

This Company on Thursday, September 5, filed new rate schedules with the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities calling for an increase in the Company's electric revenues of approximately $2,483,000 a year, or 2.7 per cent.

This is the first time since 1918, in the closing months of World War I, that Boston Edison has faced the necessity of asking a general increase in electric rates.

Boston Edison is now feeling the full effects of postwar inflation in higher costs of furnishing electric service to its customers. Expenditures for fuel, wages, taxes, materials and supplies are higher than ever before. The cost of obtaining new capital has increased sharply in 1957. To meet the demands of customers for more and more electric service, capital expenditures in the next five years will approximate $160,000,000.

In order to maintain high standards of service, the Company urgently needs the additional revenues that will result from the newly filed schedules.

"ARTERIAL HIGHWAY" TO OPEN HERE

Many Winchester organizations, as well as private citizens, have been worried concerning the opening of a new "arterial highway" on September 23. This freeway originates at the parish house of the Congregational Church and leads in every direction to Personal Satisfaction, Medical Progress and (quite possibly) your own life or that of one of your family. It is "arterial" only in the sense that it involves one pint of your blood ... and thirty minutes of your time when the Red Cross Bloodmobile visits Winchester on Monday, September 23.

It is the plain, unvarnished truth that this pint of blood can and will help to save a life ... the precious life of a mother in childbirth, a father seriously injured in a highway accident or a small child struck down by an illness.

Sickness, disease and accidents take no vacation. In fact their incidence increases during the traditional vacation months. Since one out of three hospitalized patients requires blood, and an average of 3½ pints, "The Need For Blood Never Takes A Holiday."

This blood does not grow on trees. Only people have it and only people can give it. You have it. Will you give it? Will you call your solicitor captain listed below and ask her to make an appointment for you? Will you take this opportunity to buy "blood insurance" for you and your family to establish a priority claim on available blood supplies should you or they require blood during the next year?

If you are between the ages of 18 and 59, in good health, free of recent illnesses or operations, or a history of disqualifying illnesses, then by all means make your call now while the importance of it is fresh in your mind. If you have had malaria or jaundice, your blood can still be accepted for fractionation provided you have had no attacks within two years. Parental consent is required for the 18-20 group unless married or in the Armed Forces.

Once again, the date is Monday, September 23, the hours 12:45 to 7:00 p. m. and the place, the parish house of the First Congregational Church. If you cannot schedule an appointment, make a note to walk in on that day. You will be welcomed.

For your appointment call:

Precinct 1 — Mrs. Howard Nichols, Winchester 6-3870.
Precinct 2 — Mrs. Eugene M. Pollard, Winchester 6-0619.
Precinct 3 — Mrs. Robert Blake, Winchester 6-0891.

TROOP 3

Boy Scout Troop 3 will have its first meeting of the 1957-58 season on Monday, September 16, at 7:00 p. m. at the First Congregational Church. This will start the 41st consecutive year of activity. The first overnight trip of the year will be on September 28.

Christmas has a way of creeping up on us. Drop in and look over our Christmas card sample books, at the Winchester Star, Star Building.

FRED F. STOCKWELL
FRED STOCKWELL NAMED TO CAMBRIDGE POST

Fred F. Stockwell of 2 Cabot street has been named vice president of the Cambridge Chamber of Commerce for the fiscal year beginning October 1.

Mr. Stockwell, who is president and treasurer of the Barbour Stockwell Company, was graduated from Dartmouth College in 1943. Following his graduation he spent 3 years in the U. S. Air Force. The early years of his business career were spent in the insurance and real estate field. In June, 1955, he left that field to assume his present position with Barbour Stockwell Company.

Mr. Stockwell has served as director of the Northern Industrial Chemicals Co., and Chairman of the Cambridge Community Fund Drive in 1948. He is a member of the executive committee and secretary of the Dartmouth Alumni Association of Boston, a director of the Boston Y.M.C.A., and a town meeting member here. He also belongs to several business associations.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL SCHOOL

All classes in the church school begin this Sunday, September 15, except the Forum, which opens with a supper September 29. The junior department (grades 5 and 6), and the junior high department (grades 7 and 8) will meet at 9:30 a.m. At 11:00 a.m. the children in Nursery 1, 2, 3; Kindergarten 4; Primary (grades 1 and 2); and Lower Junior (grades 3 and 4) will meet.

An enthusiastic group of about seventy teachers and superintendents have volunteered to help our children grow in their understanding of a Christian life during this coming year. Parents or children who are uncertain regarding where their class meets may go to the church school office where the church school superintendents will be happy to assist them.

The church school staff for this year consists of the following people: general superintendent, Mr. Robert F. Williams; assistant superintendent, Mr. Joseph D. Hall; Cradle Roll Department: Mrs. William D. Barone, superintendent; Nursery 1 (1 year olds): Mrs. Robert Hudson, superintendent; Mrs. Windsor Carpenter, Mrs. Ralph Perkins, Mrs. Donald Koskinen.

Nursery 2 (2 year olds): Mrs. Roland H. Moody and Mrs. Francis Wiener, superintendents; Mrs. Vazken Baghdoyan, Mrs. Lester Chapman, Mrs. Roger Griffin.

Nursery 3 (3 year olds): Mrs. Warren Wells and Mrs. James McKinsey, superintendents; Mrs.

WINCHESTER MORNINGS

When the Winchester Wellesley Club begins the tenth season of "Winchester Mornings" on Thursday, September 26, Paul R. Barstow will be the speaker. His subject is "Climbing Up on the Rot Tin Roof, or Modern Playwrights and Their Theatres."

For unavoidable reasons the scheduled first speaker, Dr. Merrill Moore, will be unable to appear. Committee members feel very fortunate indeed to be able to present Mr. Barstow, a delightful speaker, to our Winchester audience.

Now director of theatre at Wellesley College and president of the New England Theatre Conference, Mr. Barstow has had much professional experience in acting and directing with many theatre groups including them the Princeton Community Players and the Eastern Slope Theatre at North Conway.

He has appeared with the Group 20 Players at the Boston Arts Festival and has done television work in New Haven. Mr. Barstow's official position in the New England Theatre Conference keeps him in close touch with the theatre movement in this part of the country. He is a graduate of Williams College and the Yale University School of Drama.

A tenth anniversary is a momentous occasion in whatever connection it occurs and the Wellesley Club is proud to present its tenth series of "Winchester Mornings."

Three programs this fall constitute the season for the club's project, proceeds of which are given to the Wellesley College Development Fund, the Wellesley Student Aid Society, and the Winchester Scholastic Teachers' Conference.

It is a source of satisfaction that a large proportion of the ticket holders this year has been in attendance since the mornings began, ten years ago.

Nine series of programs were presented in the Music Hall but this year the scene changes and the audience will gather at the Church of the Epiphany on three Thursday mornings, September 26, October 10, and October 31. Coffee is served by Wellesley Club members at 9:45 and the program begins at 10:15.

The second Winchester Morning, on Thursday, October 10, brings us a speaker Rudolph Elie whose audiences are always enthusiastic. On October 31, the Wellesley Club presents "New England's Leading Story-Teller," Edward Rowe Snow, historian and authority on the lore and geography of the New England coast.

President of the Wellesley Club is Mrs. H. Gardner Bradley, and members of the Winchester Mornings committee are Mrs. Lindsay H. Caldwell and Mrs. Ellis J. Green, co-chairmen, Mrs. Ross M. Cunningham, Mrs. Paul C. Dunn, Mrs. James H. Maroney, and Mrs. Charles N. Sweetser. Miss Mary Hodge, Mrs. Ralph T. Jope, and Mrs. Joseph W. Worthen have acted in an advisory capacity.

Primary Department: Mrs. Edgar D. Hinton, superintendent; Mrs. T. E. Crooks, Mrs. Robert Dole, Mrs. Walter J. Farrell, Jr., Mrs. Charles M. Fisher, Mrs. Lester Gustin, Mrs. Joseph D. Hall, Mrs. Theodore Shasta, Mrs. T. Parker Clarke.

Lower Junior Department: Mrs. Thomas D. Walsh, superintendent; Mrs. G. Hartley Curtis, Mr. Byron Jackson, Mrs. Robert Mulford, Mrs. Bartley Nourse, Mrs. William C. Farland, Mr. Thomas Raphael, Mr. Richard Sawyer, Mrs. D. Reid Weeden.

Junior Department: Mrs. H. Kimball Archibald, superintendent; Mrs. Walter Abbott, Mrs. Dwight L. Bellows, Mr. Carleton Bolivar, Mrs. Ray Brown, Mrs. Roy Eliassen, Mrs. Jenness Engle, Mrs. Charles Moore, Mrs. Fred Schiffmacher, Mrs. Sam Ward, Mrs. Harry Wood.

Junior High Department: Mr. Thomas Kell, Mr. Raymond Conard, Mrs. Charles E. Crede, Mr. G. Hartley Curtis, Mr. Arnold Goodwin, Mr. Lawrence Hayes, Mrs. Norman Padelford, Mr. Robert Ericson, Mr. Harry L. Wildasin.

Members of the teaching staff of the First Congregational Church will participate in the Congregational Teachers' Conference to be held this fall at the First Congregational Church in Reading. Starting with September 18, the teaching workshop will be scheduled for four consecutive Wednesdays, from 7:30-9:30 p.m.

Nursery teachers will receive help from Mrs. A. Maxwell Stone, and kindergarten teachers will meet with Mrs. Clarence Turner. Both Mrs. Stone and Mrs. Turner are faculty members of the Elliot-Pearson Nursery Training School at Tufts University.

Primary teachers will be instructed by Mrs. John E. Thomas, director of religious education at Grace Church, Framingham; lower junior department teachers by Miss Shirley Blood, director of religious education at the Pleasant Street Church in Arlington; junior department teachers by Mrs. George Winsor, director of Religious Education at the Hancock Congregational Church in Lexington; junior high department teachers by Rev. Robert McNeill of the First Congregational Church, Natick; and finally, religious education committee members by Dr. John E. Thomas, minister of the Christian Education Foundation in Boston.

During the assembly period each time there will be sessions for worship services, creative activities, story-telling and role-playing, directed by Rev. Wesley Mallory, First Congregational Church, Winchester; Mrs. John Longingier, Winchester; Mrs. Earl Reed, Wakefield; and Mrs. George Winsor, Lexington.

A coffee hour with informal discussion will conclude each Wednesday session. The conference is sponsored by the Congregational Churches of Reading, Stoneham, Wakefield and Winchester.

You've Heard It Too....

"Can't seem to save a cent. Sure, we pay our bills, but right now we have a lot of extras—installments on the new car, monthly payments on the washer—just don't know where the money goes."

Speaking of installments, did you know you can also buy financial security on the monthly payment plan?

A serial share account in your co-operative bank is particularly designed to help you save a fixed amount each month.

Smart folks save first and spend what's left.

Earn generous dividends, too.

VOL. LXXVII NO. 2 THE WINCHESTER, MASS., STAR, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1957 PRICE TEN CENTS

Mass. Civil Defense Now Includes Natural Disasters

Massachusetts has joined with the rest of the nation in observing National Civil Defense Week. In schools and in libraries, in hundreds of city and town Civil Defense organizations, the week is marked by exhibitions, demonstrations and displays of Civil Defense preparedness.

The theme of the second annual National Civil Defense Week is "Government in Emergency." It is a theme which plays up the Civil Defense role of the existing arms of government—police, fire, welfare and sanitation departments.

The theme was chosen by the Federal Civil Defense Administration for Massachusetts. "Government in Emergency" is not new.

Under State Director Thomas J. Donnelly of Springfield, the Massachusetts Civil Defense Agency has been undergoing a revamping. Without mitigating the role of coping with possible enemy attack, Director Donnelly has been quick to conduct a coordinating campaign to point the Civil Defense organization toward natural disaster relief.

Through lessons learned from the May forest fire emergency, Civil Defense has made valiant strides toward plugging holes in the previous fire plan. Today a new plan has been drawn with emphasis on communications as a prime requisite for coordinating fire fighting activities of all personnel. It is a plan which delegates specific responsibilities to local fire chiefs, trained firefighters and the Department of Natural Resources, the Department of Public Works and the National Guard.

Under the plan, all requests for assistance in fighting forest fires will emanate from the local fire chief in whose locality a fire is burning. His requests will be channeled into Civil Defense which acts as a coordinating agency.

Civil Defense will retain inventories of fire fighting equipment. The local fire chief's request will be passed on through Civil Defense which will actually furnish the needed equipment. In this manner an accurate control of all equipment will be maintained at all times.

Similar plans have been drawn and are ready to put into operation should hurricane, tornado, or flood strike anywhere in the Commonwealth.

Each plan, in addition to detailing type and quantity of equipment, also specifies State and municipal employees to be called on to operate the equipment. For instance, regular Department of Public Works workers will report to the disaster scene with their bulldozers, employees of the Department of Public Health will handle outbreaks of disease. But it will be the Civil Defense Agency through orders from Director Donnelly which will start the individual State departments on their way.

The Board of Selectmen has been notified that commencing Monday, September 23, Swanton street will be closed to through traffic for about a month while the bridge over the Woburn tracks of the Boston & Maine Railroad undergoes repairs. This bridge is located at the Main street end of Swanton street near Beggs and Cobb tannery.

Closing this bridge means that Swanton street through traffic will have to use either Cross street or the new diversionary highway through the Skillings estate. Westbound traffic on Swanton street can get as far as White street or to Beggs & Cobb, but eastbound traffic can not enter Swanton street at all.

It is unfortunate that the bridge repairs could not have been carried out during the period when the construction of the Swanton street underpass had the street closed for several weeks.

HOME FROM "CLASSROOMS ABROAD"

Renner M. Johnston, 83 Grove street, has returned from Europe preparatory to entering Harvard for his sophomore year beginning next week.

Johnston, who was graduated from Winchester High School in 1956, spent the summer studying German in Berlin as a member of Classrooms Abroad. The group was made up of 20 students from various universities in the United States and was directed by a Yale professor.

Classes were held daily on the ship enroute as well as in West Berlin and the students were privileged to attend classes at the Free University of Berlin. Evenings were spent attending operas, civil and recreational events in both the West and the East sectors.

Johnston, who lived but 200 feet from the Iron Curtain, was impressed with the progress being made in Western Germany in the matter of building and effecting an improved economy. This in contrast to the Eastern sector of Berlin controlled by the Russians. He had an opportunity to visit East Berlin several times, including a chance to observe the recent Khrushchev rally.

The two weeks prior to sailing on the return trip were spent touring Germany, Austria, Switzerland and France.

RECENT BIRTHS

To Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Williams (Diane Greer) of Cambridge, a daughter, Charlene Wedgewood, born on September 12. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frederic B. Williams, Jr., of Needham, and Mr. and Mrs. Don S. Greer of Winchester.

The great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frederic B. Williams of Brookline, Mrs. Thomas Mason of Newton Centre, and Mrs. Vesce Greer of Cambridge.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Haggerty (Dorothy McGrail) of Bristol, R.I., announce the birth of a son, John G. Haggerty, Jr., on September 14. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William McGrail of Melrose, formerly of Winchester, and Mrs. George E. Haggerty of Englewood road.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Ripley of Lexington, announce the birth of a daughter, Karen Jeanne, on September 12, at Richmond House. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Demers of Hartford, Conn., and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Burnett of Wildwood street. Mr. Michael Sullivan of Waterbury, Conn., is the maternal great-grandfather.

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Lionetta of 37 Hemingway street announce the birth of their fifth child, fourth daughter, Cynthia, at the Winchester Hospital on September 3. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Lionetta of Arlington. Maternal grandparent is Mr. Salvatore Marchesi, of Winchester.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Graham (Virginia Foley) of 6 Mason street announce the birth of a son, James Edward, Jr., born September 9, at the Winchester Hospital. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Foley of Mystic Valley Parkway and Mrs. James F. Graham of Melrose.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert O'Kane (Constance Titilak) of Shore road announce the birth of a daughter, Martha Elizabeth, at the Winchester Hospital. Grandmother is Mrs. Elizabeth O'Kane of Winchester.

TRY-OUTS FOR PLAYERS

The surprise-ending mystery drama, "Witness for the Prosecution," will be the fall presentation of the Parish Players of Winchester. Annual try-outs for parts in this play will be held Monday evening, September 23, in Chidley Hall, First Congregational Church, at 8 o'clock. There are three excellent roles for women in this show, and about fifteen parts for men—all good ones. The Players extend a most cordial invitation to actors (and all who would like to be in or backstage with the play) to meet at the stage Monday evening.

Mr. Harlan F. Grant of the Weston Playhouse will be the director, and the dates of the play are November 7, 8 and 9. This play is the drama by Agatha Christie that had an exceptionally long run on Broadway, interrupted by the death of Francis L. Sullivan, and then continuing with his replacement, Will "Wittner" for "Prosecution." The Players open their thirty-first season, and their 85th play on the stage at Chidley Hall.

Newcomers who are interested in plays and would like more information may call George S. Hebb, Jr., chairman, Winchester 6-0794, or Mrs. George E. Connor, Winchester 6-3607-M.

The board of the Parish Players met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. J. J. Walsh to vote on their fall play, and to welcome Mr. Henry Fitts as a newly elected board member.

MUSICAL TEA

The Flower Club of the New Hope Baptist Church held another in its popular series of Musical Teas at the Church last Sunday with a good attendance and an interesting and enjoyable program.

The tea opened with the singing of "America the Beautiful" by all present.

Mary Griffith, Flower Club president, welcomed the guests, and the pastor of the church, Rev. Oscar G. Phillips, spoke during the offertory.

Dorothy Smith Rainey headed the tea committee, being assisted by Esther Kirby, Eleanor Cromwell, Melissa Mason, Inez Ward and Lucy Kirby.

Pourers at the tea table were: Mrs. Oscar Phillips, Mrs. Mary Terrell, Mrs. Melissa Mason and Mrs. Ida Johnston. Pouring coffee were Miss Dorothy Kountz and Mrs. Inez Ward. Mrs. Willis Polins and Miss Florence Griffin served punch.

Miss Lucy Kirby headed the hostess group, the other members of which were Miss Esther Kirby, Mrs. James Nunley, Miss Carrye Jones, Mrs. Florence Loveless, Mrs. Chester Oliver and Mrs. Helen Lindsey. Junior hostesses were Miss Rosemary and Miss Elinor Baker and Miss Linda Smith Baker were usherettes.

Flower Club members include Mrs. Griffith, president; Dorothy Rainey, vice president; Florence Griffith, secretary; Melissa Mason, treasurer; Mary Terrell, Lucy Kirby, Inez Ward, Fannie Cromwell, Esther Kirby, Fannie Crowell and Alice Thomas.

The following musical program was presented by Ruby Stevens on Jones, soprano; Flora Greene Anderson, contralto; Wilbur Best, tenor; and Ella France Jones, accompanist.

METHODISTS TO DEDICATE NEW WING

A number of committees are in action preparing an extended Program of Dedication of the New Wing at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church.

The Pastor will open the program on Sunday, October 13, with a message entitled "The Church and the World."

October 20, will be the Day of Dedication. Laymen will take charge of the service in the morning with Mr. Lewis G. Curtis, Charge Lay Leader, conducting the worship hour. Professor Warner C. Danforth, Lay Leader of the New England Methodist Conference, will bring the message. The Dedication Service will be held at 4:00 p.m. This service will be open to the public and friends of the community are cordially invited. There will be "open house" at 5:00 p.m.

Dr. Harry V. Gilson, Superintendent of Schools and member of the Official Board of the Methodist Church, is the Banquet Committee Chairman for the Dedication Banquet which is to be held on October 13. Serving with him are Mr. Lewis B. Snow, Mr. Larry Chase and Mr. John McIntyre.

Other special services are being planned climaxing in a Stewardship Banquet and United Canvass Sunday under the direction of Mr. Kenneth W. Lamprey, member of the Official Board and Chairman of the Commission on Finance.

JOSEPH. F. RYAN

Joseph F. Ryan of 14 Ellery street, Cambridge, a former widely known resident of Winchester, died Friday, September 13, at his home after a long period of failing health. He was 82 years old.

A native of Calais, Maine, Mr. Ryan was graduated from Dartmouth College in the class of 1897. He returned to Calais to become principal of the high school and later became superintendent of the Calais schools.

Mr. Ryan gave up teaching to come to Boston and enter the employ of a school textbook company, and in 1907 brought his family to Winchester where he lived, for the most part, at 5 Cliff street, until he retired from business in 1949. He was a member of the Winchester Country Club and was active in organizing the Progressive Party, both in Winchester and in the state.

He organized his own school supply business, which he conducted until 1934, when he joined the J. L. Hammett Company of Boston.

Mr. Ryan's wife, Mrs. Lilla Hanlon Ryan, died last spring. He leaves a daughter, Jean, of Cambridge; two sons, Stephen W., of Cambridge and Joseph H. Ryan of Cambridge; and a granddaughter, Judith Ryan, also of Newbury. The funeral services and interment were private.

RUTH ST. DENIS

It is with a great sense of honor and gratitude to Ruth St. Denis that the Young Peoples' Fellowship of the Church of the Epiphany and the Winchester Community Theatre present Ruth St. Denis in an evening of her lecture and demonstration of religious dance on Thursday evening, September 26, at 8:30 p.m. in the Parish Hall of the Winchester Episcopal Church.

The name Ruth St. Denis is a legend to dancers and lovers of dance throughout the world. Some fifty years ago she astounded and thrilled theatre audiences of London, Paris, Berlin, all America, and in a tour of the Orient itself, with her amazingly beautiful conceptions of Oriental Dances, among them her religious dances of worship of a temple goddess.

During the last twenty years she has pioneered and developed the motion picture movement of religious worship using dance as a medium, and has established her own Church of religious dance in California. Her lectures on history of dance and its relation to religion through civilization are of profound interest through dance.

Literally thousands of young dancers have been trained by her and at "Denishawn" which was the School of Dance established by Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn; among these are Doris Humphrey and Martha Graham—the greatest in the modern dance field. "Miss Ruth"—as this beloved artist is known and adored by students and friends, has always been a deep inspiration to the spirit, as well as teacher of dance—and her power of spiritual projection is phenomenal.

In 1941, Winchester acclaimed the artist by having her give an evening program of her dances, filling the High School Auditorium for a scholarship benefit, and "Miss Ruth" is still a great trouper having completed a tour of performances and lectures almost daily this August and September.

Tickets may be obtained through Y.P.F. members or the Episcopal Church office on Church street, Winchester 6-1222; through Mrs. Pettengill, ticket chairman of Winchester Community Theatre, Winchester 6-1227; or at the Winchester Appliance Store on Thompson street.

Renewed members or new subscribing members to Winchester Community Theatre will be admitted by presenting their current membership card at the door. For membership in the Winchester Community Theatre call chairman and vice president Mrs. W. Rogers Hamel, Winchester 6-3776.

MRS. ALCYONE BULLEN

Mrs. Marian Alcyone (Rogers) Bulleen, wife of Roderick Lane Bulleen and a former resident of Winchester, passed away Saturday, September 14, at the Massachusetts General Hospital after an illness of long duration.

Mrs. Bulleen was the daughter of Charles C. and Marian (Morton) Rogers of Winchester. She was born November 4, 1918, in Winchester and attended the Winchester schools, graduating from National Park Senior High School, Maryland, in the class of 1937.

In 1948 she married Mr. Bulleen, a resident of Philadelphia, and they spent several years in Winchester before going to make their home at Delray Beach, Florida.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Bulleen is survived by two daughters, Alcyone and Susan, and a son, a sister, Mrs. George A. Rivinius of Winchester; and two brothers, Warren C. Hieborn of Winchester, and Edward M. Hieborn of Malden.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon at Ripley Chapel of the First Congregational Church, with the minister, Rev. Dwight L. Cart, officiating. The interment was at Forest Hills Cemetery.

GEORGE F. BURNS

George F. Burns of 33 Canal street, retired Boston Edison executive, died Wednesday morning, September 18, at the Winchester Hospital, to which he had been confined for only a week. He was 80 years old, and had been for many years a well known resident of the North End district.

Mr. Burns was born in Woburn, the son of Patrick G. and Bridget (Tonney) Burns. Long an employee of the Boston Edison Company he was division head of the Northern Division of the company's production department when he retired in 1942. He was a member of the Holy Name Society of the Immaculate Conception Parish and had in esteem by all who knew him.

Mr. Burns leaves his wife, Mrs. Katherine Flaherty Burns; two sons, George, of Woburn, president of the Woburn South End Civic Association, and Major Walter Burns, Provost Marshall of the United States Army in Munich, Germany; also a sister, Mrs. Mary French of Eastham, and six grand children.

The funeral will be held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock from the Lynch-Cantillon Funeral Home, 263 Main street, Woburn. Solemn requiem high mass will be celebrated at the Immaculate Conception Church at 10 o'clock. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery.

JACOMET — HEVEY

Miss Janet Margaret Hevey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Hevey of 484 Washington street, has been married to Mr. Thomas F. Jacomet of Burlington, as her honor attendant at her marriage on Saturday morning, September 14, at St. Mary's Church to David L. Jacomet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Jacomet of Wausaukee, Wis. Rev. John M. Manion, pastor of St. Mary's, read the marriage service at 10 o'clock and was also celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed.

Miss Hevey was given in marriage by her father, and in addition to Mrs. Hevey, the bride attendants were Miss Linda Richardson of Woburn, niece of the bride; Miss Sarah F. Hevey of Winchester, sister of the bride; Miss Lily Ann Jacomet of Wausaukee, Wis., sister of the bridegroom; Miss Sarah A. Sherry of Belmont and Miss Ruth Wharf of Winchester.

The bride wore an original gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over a white tulle and net with matching headpiece and veil. She carried a white prayer book with a matching orchid and streamers of staphenotis.

All the bride attendants wore dresses of taupe de soie, the honor attendant wearing blue and the bridesmaids, pink. All wore head-dresses and accessories to match their gowns and carried old fashioned bouquets.

William Jacomet of Wausaukee, Wis., was his brother's best man, and the usher corps comprised Thomas Hevey of Burlington, brother-in-law of the bride; Kenneth Donaghy of Winchester, Harold Harris and Patrick McDonough, both of Woburn.

The ceremony was held after the ceremony at the Colonial Inn in Concord, the parents of both the bride and bridegroom assisting in receiving. Mrs. Hevey, mother of the bride, wore silver grey over pink peau de soie with pink sapphire accessories. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Jacomet, wore accessories to match her mauve Chantilly lace gown.

After an extended wedding journey Mr. and Mrs. Jacomet will make their home in Winchester.

The bride is a graduate of St. Charles High School in Woburn and is a senior supervisor at the Winchester Exchange of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company. Mr. Jacomet is an electrical engineer with the Calidne Company of Winchester.

COMMUNITY THEATRE LAUNCHES DRIVE

The Winchester Community Theatre Inc., officially launched its membership campaign this week at a delightful Autumn Coffee at the home of the Director, Mrs. Carlene Murphy Samoiloff. Plans were outlined for the group's 1957-58 Theatre season.

Much enthusiasm greeted the discussion of plans to bring to Winchester from time to time, various dramatic plays and screen plays who are appearing in Boston or other nearby communities. These artists would be brought to our town informally, and entertained by the Winchester Community Theatre, whose members would be invited to meet the celebrity.

Such affairs would enrich our community interest and experience in the world of the theatre. Mrs. W. Rogers Hamel, membership chairman, listed the following names of ladies among those who will be working this season on the membership drive: Mrs. James Marchant, Mrs. Fred Martignetti, Mrs. A. J. Connell, Mrs. Donald K. Lewis, Mrs. Lewis Wadsworth, Mrs. Joseph P. Logan, Mrs. Herbert Grant, Mrs. Winthrop Knox, Jr., Mrs. Francis McGarrahan, Mrs. George Billings, Mrs. Alfred Matthews of Woburn, Mr. George B. Kaknes and Mrs. Thomas Spooner, also of Woburn.

It is just a partial list of those aiding in the effort to bring members to this organization whose aim is to bring the world of the living theatre to both the children and adults of our Winchester community.

FREDERICK V. WOOD

Frederick V. Wood of 97 Cambridge street, a resident of Winchester for the past 30 years, died Tuesday night, September 17, at the West Medford Nursing Home. He had been in failing health since last Spring and had entered the nursing home in July.

Mr. Wood was the son of Edmund, and Sarah (Stevens) Wood. He was born August 20, 1877, in Cambridge and spent his boyhood in that city, attending the Cambridge schools. For 51 years he was associated with Lever Brothers at the Cambridge plant, being connected with the manufacturing end of the business.

Mr. Wood came to Cambridge from Somerville in 1927 and had since made his home here. He was a member of Mystic Valley Lodge of Masons.

He leaves a daughter, Mrs. Edgar Isherwood, and a granddaughter, Mrs. Charles Jefferson, both of Winchester. His wife, the former Charlotte H. Shaw, died May 31, 1950.

Funeral services will be held this Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Bennett Chapel. The Rev. Paul Hammett, Chaplain of the Greenfield, Mass. Unitarian Church, formerly minister of the Unitarian Church, will officiate. Interment will be in the Newton Cemetery, Newton.

HUNGARIANS PAY TRIBUTE TO THE COMMUNITY

At an evening reception in the Parish Hall of the Church of the Epiphany, September 7, the Hungarians who have come to Winchester paid tribute to the community which welcomed their arrival here last winter. Hosts and hostesses were all those who have come to Winchester under the auspices of Church World Service and the Catholic Charitable Bureau. Among the guests were sponsors, the committee chairmen and many of our local residents who have served in various volunteer capacities throughout the recent months.

As a speech was read by Mrs. Stephen Kerestesz, formerly of Budapest it was recalled that "On a cold winter night, one month ago in this building you greeted us with a cup of hot coffee and welcomed our small group of Hungarian escapees into your hearts with much love and kindness. We were exhausted, mentally and physically, upon our arrival in Winchester, and you were here waiting to shoulder our problem and to help us become established in this wonderful new country. You gave us the strength to once again stand on our own feet."

This reception is our token of appreciation to show our gratitude to you for that never to be forgotten January night eight months ago.

"Our thanks again to all of you taking part in this tremendous undertaking, and if we have omitted anyone, it was not intentional. Words cannot express our gratitude for the work, the time, the energy and the peace of mind we so willingly in our time of need. You, as the Hungarian Settlement Committee, can be proud of the part you had in helping us to find our way to our greatest ambition now is to become American citizens and to show you and all Americans that the Hungarian people are good workers, honest and of the highest caliber in any community. As we are free today, may our nation across the ocean one day also be free."

Thank you . . . and God bless you all."

Mrs. Frank Varga, former Budapest resident, then presented a bronze plaque to the town of Winchester in commendation of its service to the Hungarians. Dr. John Ellison accepted this gift on behalf of the town. Dr. Ellison then read an address prepared by Mr. Frank Varga, the text of which will appear in the next issue of the Star.

Following the formal presentation ceremony the guests were served European coffee and cakes.

MRS. ROSINA H. BRADFORD

Mrs. Rosina Horle Bradford of 33 Mystic avenue, widow of Frederick L. Bradford, died Wednesday afternoon, September 18, after a long illness.

Born in Boston September 16, 1875, Mrs. Bradford spent her early life and was educated in that city. She was married June 23, 1897, and observed her 50th wedding anniversary with her husband shortly before Mr. Bradford's death July 14, 1947.

Mrs. Bradford had lived in Winchester since 1915, first at 91 Mystic Valley Parkway and for the past 36 years at her Mystic avenue address. She was a member of the Fortnightly Women's Club, the Unitarian Church and of the Women's Alliance of that Church, being especially interested and active in the sewing group of the Alliance.

Aside from her family, Mrs. Bradford's chief interest was in people. She was rich in friendships begotten of her own friendly spirit and all who had occasion to pass her door will miss her friendly smile and cheerful greeting.

Mrs. Bradford leaves two daughters, Mrs. Paul D. Goddu of Winchester and Mrs. Marjorie H. Bradford, with whom she made her home; a grandson, Paul D. Goddu, Jr.; a brother, Albert M. Horle of this town, and a sister, Mrs. John W. of Montclair, N.J.

Funeral services will be held this Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Meyer Chapel of the Unitarian Church with the minister, Rev. Robert A. Storer, officiating. Burial will be in the family lot in Wildwood Cemetery.

ART ASSOCIATION

Mr. Norman C. Fletcher, A.I.A., the recent chairman of "A Century of New England Architecture" at the 1957 Boston Arts Festival, will be the prominent guest speaker at the first meeting of the Winchester Art Association in its 1957-1958 season. The meeting will be held at the Winchester Public Library on Tuesday evening, October 1. During the coffee hour, which begins at 7:30 p. m., a correlated exhibition of architectural drawings, to be on display in the Gallery, may be studied by those attending. This first meeting will be open to the public and everyone is most cordially invited to attend and to hear what Mr. Fletcher has to say.

Mr. Fletcher was born in Providence, R. I., and received his training at the Yale University School of Architecture. In 1940-41 he studied Regional and City Planning in the United States and Canada on the Alice Kimball English Fellowship, granted to him by Yale. From 1941 to 1945 Mr. Fletcher worked in San Francisco under Vernon DeMars on defense housing, community center and restaurants; also on similar problems with architects Saarinen and Swanson in Washington, D. C. During these war years he assisted with plans for the General Motors Research Center at Birmingham, Michigan.

In 1945, he and his wife, Jean Bodman Fletcher, together won Pencil Points "G. I. Joe House" competition. In January 1946 the Fletchers, with Benjamin Thompson, won the competition to build a group of dormitories at Smith College. Later that year Mr. Fletcher became a partner in The Architects' Collaborative in Cambridge. He has served as design critic at both Harvard and Yale. In 1953 he had the interesting experience of being the visiting lecturer at the University of Tucuman in Argentina, South America. Besides lecturing at the Boston Architectural Center, at Minnesota A.I.A., at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute and at Cleveland College in South Carolina, Mr. Fletcher served as deputy chairman in November 1955 of the Cambridge Seminars on "Secondary Schools and the Community."

"The Present Looks to the Past" will be the title of Mr. Fletcher's talk at the October Art Association meeting, the first in the current series of meetings on the two- and three-dimensional arts. At these meetings, which are always held on the first Tuesday evening of the month, the Art Association will study the decorative and functional arts as well as art in architecture. The other speakers in the series will be:

November 5, "Living with New Dimensions" by Mr. Hans Krieks, Design Director of Business Interiors; and Instructor at the School of Fine and Applied Art, Boston University. A native of Holland, Mr. Krieks was graduated from the Art Institute in Amsterdam.

December 3, "The Rediscovery of Mural Art" by Mr. Matthew W. Boyhan, muralist, and teacher of fresco at the School of the Museum of Fine Arts; and at Harvard University Architectural School.

January 7, "A New Art from the Old World" by Harris and Ros Barron, graduates of the Massachusetts School of Art; Studio Artists; and teachers at the deCordova Museum.

February 4, "Today's Contribution: Plastics in Architecture" by Prof. Marvin E. Goody, A.I.A., Assistant Professor of Architecture at M.I.T. and architect of the all-plastic "House of the Future" in Disneyland.

March 4, "Contemporary Architecture as I See It" by Mr.

WINCHESTER'S UNITED FUND QUESTIONS

While the dream of dreams, the idea of one appeal for all charities, is fast coming true, the change in concept and structure, from the old "Red Feather" to the new United Fund has brought about many questions. Here are some of the typical questions being asked by Winchester people and answers to them by executives at United Fund headquarters.

What is the United Fund? It is an organization created by the givers in Greater Boston and 48 surrounding communities, to bring together into one annual drive national and local health, welfare and social agencies' appeals.

What is its purpose? of the United Fund is to eliminate repeated, year-round demands on citizens for a multiplicity of causes.

Who decides where the money raised by the United Fund goes? Funds are allocated by a completely unbiased volunteer citizens' committee made up of informed, conscientious men and women from all walks of life who carefully study all financial requests from the participating agencies.

What agencies are United Fund members?

Salvation Army, Red Feather, 21 Red Cross Chapters in the Greater Boston area, USO, Arthritis and Rheumatism, Mental Health, and Greater Boston Diabetes Society. More than 300 separate services are included within the seven member agencies.

Under the United Fund, may a donor give his entire contribution to one agency?

He may certainly do so by specifying on his check or pledge the particular agency to which he prefers to give.

Why aren't all fund-raising campaigns in the United Fund?

National policy requires some national agencies to hold separate appeals.

If a person gives to the United Fund at work, will he be solicited at his home?

If a person gives at work he will not be expected to give again. However, a solicitor may visit his home to explain United Fund services or solicit wage earners who have not given at work.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN

Rally around all Republican Women! Let us have the first meeting of the 1957-58 season a huge success.

Wednesday, September 25 at 1:30 in the afternoon, at the Town Hall, let every member, with friends, join in a gala occasion. Dessert and coffee will be served by a committee and then Bridge, Canasta or any other game, may be played. You may be lucky and receive the door prize or table prize. Donations will be sold on several attractive things brought by members and friends of the committee. Please give your support to all the hard working women in Winchester.

The President, Mrs. Theodore C. Browne is working diligently to have the party one you will be sorry to miss. Come one, come all. As you well know much planning takes place before an occasion of this kind. Mrs. J. Howard Macaulay, chairman and her co-chairman, Mrs. Ernest J. Wright have been hard at work for some time. Do not let them down!

Miss Eleanor P. Dow is in charge of the decorations. The well-known artist with flowers, Mrs. William W. Goodhue will arrange the centerpiece. Mrs. Ernest J. Wright and Mrs. Herbert F. Ross are ticket chairmen.

Mrs. Herbert P. Preble is in charge of the dessert. Helping her are Mrs. Frederick W. Aseltine, Mrs. Frank R. Creelman, Mrs. George B. Field, Mrs. Hazen M. Jones, Mrs. C. C. Peter, Mrs. Lloyd J. Small, Jr., Mrs. Charles E. Crede and Mrs. Charles N. Sweetser.

The arranging of the tables is in charge of Mrs. Paul Lamarche. Helping her are Mrs. Thomas L. Morrison, Mrs. William Caniff and Mrs. Albert M. Thompson.

Miss Helen R. Niedringhaus has charge of the prizes. Helping her are Mrs. Albert M. Thompson, Mrs. Horace H. Ford, Mrs. Paul Atwood, Mrs. Woodford L. Wilcox and Mrs. Paul F. Stoneman.

"CITY IN A SHADOW" TO BE SHOWN AT LIBRARY

In the library auditorium at 2:30 on October 2, the Winchester League of Women Voters will feature a showing of the Boston Chamber of Commerce documentary, "City in a Shadow." Following the film Mr. Allen Benjamin, professional consultant to the Winchester planning board, will speak on the topic, "Planning the future of Winchester."

"City in a Shadow" was shown on Channel 4 early in the summer and received such an enthusiastic response that the broadcast was later repeated. It deals with the big city problems of urban renewal, slum clearance, soaring taxes, and overall city planning, with Boston as the locale. Since a city and its suburbs must be dealt with as a unit, the documentary also deals with planning in surrounding towns. In this area it is particularly interesting to Winchester residents, and Mr. Benjamin's talk will be most appropriate. The meeting will be open to the public, and will be a fine opportunity for anyone interested in the League to visit and learn more about its functions.

INCREASED COMPENSATION FOR DISABLED VETERANS

More than 96,000 disabled veterans in Massachusetts will get higher compensation for service connected disabilities, commencing with October 1st, the Massachusetts Veterans' Services Department said today. The first of the increased payment checks will be mailed out at the end of October.

Charles N. Collatos, the Massachusetts Veterans' Services Commissioner, explained that the increased payments are authorized by Public Law 85-158, recently passed by the Congress and signed by President Eisenhower.

Veterans already on VA's compensation rolls need take no action to get the raise, Commissioner Collatos emphasized. It will be paid automatically.

Also increased will be the special allowances for dependents paid veterans whose service-connected disabilities are rated at 50 per cent or more.

With a few exceptions, the increase will be approximately 10 per cent across the board, except for totally disabled veterans rated at 100 per cent whose boost from $181 to $225 per month amounts to 24.3 per cent.

Three statutory rates are unchanged. Two of them are at $47 each, involving the anatomical loss, or loss of use, of one part of the body, and the third is at $67, as the minimum rate for arrested tuberculosis.

These rates may be payable in addition to the percentage ratings for service connected disabilities.

Compensation rates payable to veterans whose service connected disabilities were suffered during peacetime service under conditions that were not extra hazardous are 80 per cent of the new wartime rates. Peacetime service disabilities suffered under extra hazardous conditions may be payable at the wartime rates.

Not affected by the increase are the compensation rates paid survivors of veterans whose deaths were service-connected, nor pensions paid wartime veterans or their widows or children for non-service connected disability or death.

LOCAL MAN WINS CAMERA ON TV SHOW

Taking their two boys, Joe and Anthony, and their daughter, Mary Louise, to New York City for a bit of fun, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Albani of Girard road had a rather unusual experience.

While in New York, Mr. Albani was selected to appear as one of the panelists on the TV show "The Price is Right" on last Friday the 13th. It was a most thrilling experience and Tony came home the proud owner of a Polaroid Land camera. The whole family agreed that this was just the perfect end for their trip.

JULIETTE LOW MEETING

All Juliette Low representatives and alternates, two girls from each troop, have been invited to attend a supper meeting at the Girl Scout Cabin, on Thursday, September 26 from 5 to 7 p. m.

Mrs. J. P. Eugley, a member of the Program Committee and Juliette Low Chairman, will meet with the girls to discuss plans for the coming Scout year, in connection with their duties as troop representatives.

Invitations were mailed from the list compiled last spring, and any Brownie leader with a new troop this fall may secure information regarding her Juliette Low troop representatives from the office.

REJOINS R. M. BRADLEY & CO., INC.

Fred F. Stockwell, of 2 Cabot street, has rejoined R. M. Bradley & Co., Inc., as a vice president and director, it is announced by Theodore L. Storer, president. Mr. Stockwell will specialize in industrial and business properties, a field in which he has been active with R. M. Bradley for ten years.

For the past two years, Mr. Stockwell has been serving as president of Barbour Stockwell Company of Cambridge, manufacturers, and will continue with that affiliation. The active management of the Barbour Stockwell firm will be headed by Winthrop B. Coffin, vice president, and Raymond D. Balcorn, treasurer.

Mr. Stockwell is a trustee of the Charlestown Savings Bank, incorporator of the Suffolk Savings Bank for Seamen and Others, director of the Northern Industrial Chemical Company of Boston, vice president and director of the Cambridge Chamber of Commerce, member of Executive Committee of the Executive Club of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce, secretary and executive committee member of the Dartmouth Alumni Association of Boston, director of the Boston Y.M.C.A., and is active in many civic and business organizations.

MET IN EUROPE

Two former Winchester boys, John Albree and Bill West, met in Europe twice this past year and enjoyed an opportunity to talk over past days in the old home town. Albree is in the European Theatre as captain, commanding the 2nd Battalion of the 14th Armored Cavalry Regiment. West was in Europe as the technical representative of the Chrysler Corporation, in which capacity he was very influential in getting the needed scarce parts and supplying the necessary knowledge to keep the 14th Regiment's M-48 tanks ready for combat.

The Albrees, Captain Albree and his wife, Phyllis, had two visits with West, former West Pointer and veteran of the Korean fighting. They were as they described "fortunate" to get a short ride in "Bill's" white Porsche speedster, which they agree with the owner is "a bomb."

During the year Captain Albree also ran into 1st Lt. Zimmerman, whom he recalled from the old days at the Winchester Boat Club.

MRS. CARTER B. TALLMAN
TALLMAN — HASKELL

Candlelight on pink and white asters made an attractive setting at St. Michael's Church in Marblehead on Saturday evening, September 14, when Miss Sylvia Haskell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Staniford Haskell of Marblehead became the bride of Carter Bruce Tallman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald B. Tallman of 17 Cambridge street.

The Rev. David Horton performed the 8 o'clock ceremony, and a reception followed at the King Hooper Mansion in Marblehead. The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white silk over blue and pink tulle with a panel of re-embroidered lace and seed pearls in the front and a chapel train. Her finger tip veil belonged to her maternal grandmother, Mrs. George Herschel Breed, and was held in place by a small cap of tulle. She wore mits of white silk and carried a cascade bouquet of sweetheart roses and freesia.

Mrs. Walter A. Green of Leominster, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and the bridesmaids included Miss Susan Tallman of Winchester, the groom's sister; Miss Suzanne Haddrell of Marblehead, Miss Susan Dodge of Winchester, Mrs. William S. Haskell of Marblehead and Miss Anne Cook of Boston. Mrs. Arthur W. Arundel of Washington, D. C., was an honorary bridesmaid.

The attendants were gowned similarly in bouffant dresses of mauve silk tulle with wide cummerbunds ending in floating panels at the back. They carried cascading bouquets of pink asters and gladioli.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Haskell wore an iridescent blue silk dress with a corsage of roses and gladioli. Mrs. Tallman, the bridegroom's mother, wore a blue grey sheath of Spanish lace over tulle with a corsage of pink cymbidium orchids.

David McLean Robbin of Lexington was best man, and the ushers included Joseph B. D. Haskell of Marblehead, brother of the bride; George A. Furbush of Providence, R. I.; Daniel Blanchard and Hoyt C. Hottel, Jr., both of Winchester; and Robert P. Rathel, Jr., of Verona, New Jersey.

The bride was graduated from Bennett Junior College in 1956. Mr. Tallman was graduated from Amherst College in 1957 and is a member of Delta Upsilon fraternity. After a wedding journey Mr. and Mrs. Tallman will make their home in Colorado.

KING — McKAY

Miss Christine Emily McKay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Evan Alexander McKay of Chevy Chase, Md., was married at the Westmoreland Congregational Church in Washington, D. C., on Saturday afternoon, September 14, to Christopher Zug King, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lindsay King of Washington, D. C. Dr. Philip Scott performed the ceremony and the marriage is of local interest because the bride and her parents formerly lived on Church street in Winchester.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore an Italian silk gown. Miss Ellen Rosser of Bethesda, Maryland, acted as maid-of-honor and wore a capucine princess style dress. The bridesmaids, dressed alike in mint green dresses matching the style of the maid-of-honor, were Miss Janet Booth of New York City; Miss Anne Gingrich of Middletown, Penna.; and Miss Emily King of Washington, D. C.

The mother of the bride wore a mocha colored dress and the bridegroom's mother was in blue. Mr. King had as best man his brother, John King of Rockville, Md.; and the ushers were Ronald Lenhart and Robert Koch, both of Pittsburgh, Penna.; and Lawrence Huffy of Washington, D. C.

The bride graduated from Winchester High School, and in June from Goucher College where she majored in mathematics. She is currently employed as a junior mathematician at the Westinghouse Bettis Atomic Research Laboratory in Pittsburgh. Mr. King is completing his major course in petroleum engineering at the University of Pittsburgh.

HALL — KRAUSS

Mr. and Mrs. Axel Lundbye of Rochester, N. Y., received at their home following the marriage of their daughter Mrs. Astrid Krauss to Mr. Richard H. Hall, son of the late Arthur H. Hall of Winchester, and Mrs. Fred S. Doyle of Winchester and Caribou, Maine.

The one o'clock ceremony was performed last Saturday, by Rev. Joseph Sullivan, pastor of the Universalist Church of Albion, N. Y., in a setting of yellow and copper chrysanthemums.

The bride wore a gown of beige satin and a corsage of brown cypripedium orchids.

The couple were attended by the bride's daughter, Tryna Krauss, who wore a white organdy dress embroidered with a spray of garnet roses and a bracelet of garnet tea roses.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Lundbye wore a cocktail dress of Dior blue faille and a corsage of pink tea roses. Mrs. Doyle, the bridegroom's mother, wore a cocktail dress of navy blue broadcloth faille and a corsage of pink tea roses.

Mrs. Hall was graduated from Bard College, New York, and is a graduate of Union College, Schenectady, N. Y. He is employed by the Harvard Co. Following the wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Hall will live in Rochester, N. Y.

MRS. KATHERINE T. BABIN

Mrs. Katherine T. Babin, wife of Fred J. Babin of 79 Nelson street, died Friday, September 13, at her home after an illness of several months.

Mrs. Babin was the daughter of Patrick and Mary (Griffin) Monahan. She was born February 18, 1895, in Winchester and grew up in town, attending the Winchester schools. For many years she was an operator at the Winchester Telephone Exchange, being well known to many in town. She was vice president of the Winchester Emblem Club and a member of St. Mary's Sodality.

Mrs. Babin was married October 12, 1926. She leaves her husband, Rev. Edward L. Monahan of Winchester; and a sister, Mrs. George Morrissey of Woburn. The funeral was held Monday morning from the Lane Funeral Home with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church at 10 o'clock.

Rev. Robert McNulty of Hartford, Conn., was celebrant. Rev. Charles E. Anadore was deacon and Rev. William Kelleher, O.M.I., sub-deacon. Seated in the sanctuary were Rev. Mr. Bernard J. McNulty of St. Gregory's Church, Dorchester, and Rev. George M. Kilcoyne, S.J., formerly of Kingston, B.W.I.

Burial was in the family lot in Calvary Cemetery where the communal prayers were read by Father McNulty, assisted by Father Anadore and Father Kilcoyne.

MRS. MURFORD TO ATTEND LWV CONFERENCE

Mrs. Robert Murford, of the Winchester League of Women Voters, will attend a State League Conference to be held in Andover, Massachusetts on September 24. Mrs. Murford, who has the responsibility for directing the work to be done by local League members on their evaluation of the Massachusetts parole system, will hear Mr. Sol Rubin, Counsel of the National Probation and Parole Association, of New York. He will speak to a state-wide audience on the set-up of an effective parole system.

Accompanying Mrs. Murford to Andover will be Mrs. Ernest Dietrich, Mrs. Howard Aiken, Mrs. Richard Johnson, Mrs. Francis Carlson, and Mrs. Lawrence Kelsey. Group conferences will be held in the afternoon for many of the local League leaders.

Mrs. Richard Alt, president of the Winchester League, announces that the morning session at which Mr. Rubin will speak may be attended by non-league people. She invites anyone who would like to go to call her at Winchester 6-3487 for transportation or directions.

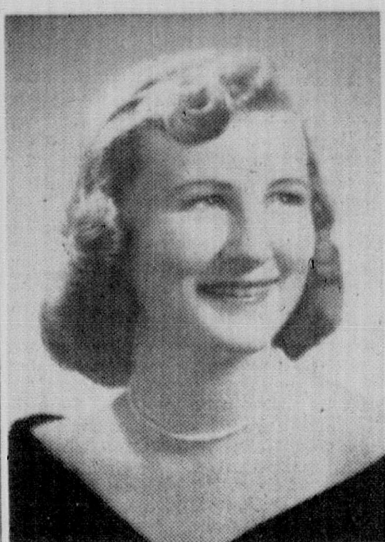

MYSTIC MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION NEW MOTHERS' COFFEE

A welcoming coffee hour for the 46 new mothers enrolled at the Mystic School this year was held at the home of Mrs. James E. Baker, 7 Grove street, on Thursday morning, September 19 at 10 o'clock.

A very pleasant informal social hour was enjoyed by the mothers and by the officers of the Association. Mr. Forte, our principal, greeted each new mother and outlined the school activities briefly.

Mrs. Henry K. Porter was the chairman for the occasion, and the servers were Mrs. Achilles Penna and Mrs. Edgar Emery.

Miss Nancy Corey of 21 Pierpont road, who was graduated from Winchester High School in 1955, has completed her work at the Katharine Gibbs School in Boston and has secured a position through the Placement Department of the school with Loomis, Sayles & Company in Boston.

MISS ELYSE M. KOEHLER
MISS KOEHLER, MR. TUXBURY
ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Koehler of 11 Brearly Crescent, Waldwick, New Jersey, announce the engagement of their daughter, Elyse Margaret, to Vernon William Tuxbury, Jr., son of Chaplain and Mrs. Vernon W. Tuxbury of Winchester.

Miss Koehler is a graduate of Ramsey High School and is now a junior majoring in business education at Montclair State Teachers College. She is a member of Kappa Rho Upsilon sorority. Mr. Tuxbury was graduated from the University of Rhode Island in 1956. He is a member of Phi Kappa Theta fraternity. He is associated with Eastern States Farmers Exchange Cooperative, Springfield, as an agricultural engineer. Currently he is in the Army at Fort Benning, Georgia.

GUARINO — WALSH

Miss Marion Marguerite Walsh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Walsh of Highland avenue, was married at St. Mary's Church on Saturday, September 14, to Anthony John Guarino, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Guarino of Dothan street.

Rev. William H. Walsh, uncle of the bride, performed the ceremony and Rev. Charles E. Anadore celebrated the nuptial mass which followed.

Seated in the sanctuary was Rt. Rev. John W. Mahoney of St. Charles of Genoa's parish, Somerville.

Mr. Walsh escorted his daughter to the altar. She wore a floor length gown of imported Chantilly lace over two tiers of filmy nylon tulle and satin sequin embroidery illumined the sabrina neckline. Her elbow length veil was of French illusion caught to a tiara of pearls and sequins.

Mrs. Donald S. Nichols was her sister's matron of honor. Her gown was pink nylon over tulle trimmed with shirmp tulle and her headpiece of pearls was trimmed with a shirmp illusion veil.

The bridesmaids wore identical gowns of nylon over tulle in a reverse coloring. They were Miss Carol Guarino, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Gail Wharf, Miss Margaret DuMarne, and Miss Nancy Coyne, all of Winchester.

Wallace Hodge was best man and the ushers were Charles Di Cecca, Donald S. Nichols, Werner Carlson and Roy Larson.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Walsh was gowned in pink mauve imported lace over satin, and wore an orchid corsage blending with her gown and pink jeweled hat. Mrs. Guarino, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gown of pale orchid Chantilly lace and tulle, with matching orchid corsage. Her hat was navy blue with sequins, and she wore accessories of the same color.

The bridal music was rendered by Mrs. John Ryan, organist and Mr. James Clancy, vocalist, and the reception which followed the marriage was held at the Commander Hotel in Cambridge.

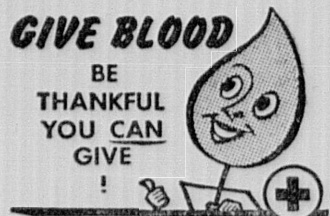

After a trip to New York, Mr. and Mrs. Guarino will reside in Arlington.

PAST NOBLE GRANDS SERVICE CLUB

The Past Noble Grands Service Club met on Monday evening, September 9, at the home of Mrs. Winifred Robinson. The meeting was presided over by the President, Miss Ada Sleeth and plans made for the fall meetings.

The mystery and also the cake were won by Mrs. Mabel Larson. The club enjoyed the very nice refreshments served by our hostess following this meeting. Thanks, Mary, for a nice evening!

The next meeting will be October 4, at the home of Mrs. Charles Amy, 18 Woodbine street, Auburn-dale.

Shopping Center Opens

Filene's North Shore Opens With Rocket Launching

On Monday, September 23, at 1:00 p.m. a rocket will be fired in Peabody to celebrate the opening of a new store, Filene's North Shore. The store is the first of over 70 stores to be built in the North Shore Shopping Center on route 128 near the route 114 cut-off.

In keeping with a theme geared to the International Geophysical Year, Filene's is calling the store a new planet in the chain of suburban stores which encircle Boston. The theme will be further carried out by a series of exhibits arranged by the store with the cooperation of the Army and Navy. A trained Army crew will demonstrate the Nike guided missile outside the store while inside the building the Office of Naval Research has prepared an exhibit called "Man Steps Into Space."

For a special appeal to youngsters, Mr. Meteor will assist in the opening festivities. Filene's "Comet," a trackless train on which children and their parents can actually ride, will tour the huge parking lot (space for 35,000 cars a day, 10,000 at a time). In addition, a clown with balloons will be on hand to meet the children.

Actually Filene's North Shore is the first of the stores which will soon be built in the area. When completed, the Center will be the largest in this part of North America. Conveniently located on route 128 just north of the route 1 intersection, Filene's is easily reached from Exit 16.

The building itself is a contemporary beauty. Standing on a rise of land, it presents an attractive pink and white appearance. The white is painted brick and the pink is a special ceramic tile tinted and baked for the first time for this building. Raymond Lowey, internationally famous industrial designer, designed the building and the wall murals inside. The building was built by the Aberthaw Construction Co.

The three level building, built in a split-level type of construction, has 112,000 square feet of attractive display space for merchandise and permits the best in shopping comfort. There are over 115 Filene's shops in all. On the Mall level, shoppers will find fashions and accessories; the lower floor holds children's wear and home-maker's items and on the rooftop penthouse are the Picnic Restaurant, Beauty Balcony and Rooftop Terrace.

As "The World's Largest Specialty Store," Filene's of Boston has built an international reputation as a foremost retailer of clothing and related items for men, women and children, and soft goods, such as draperies, linens and bedding. All the major departments found in a department store of the entire country. In the last business year, Federated with total retail sales of over $600,000,000 became the largest retail group in the country.

On Monday the public will be invited to visit and shop in the new store from 1 o'clock until 9 p.m. In the future, Filene's North Shore will be open from 9:30 until 5:45 on Mondays, Tuesdays and Saturdays, and from 9:30 in the morning until 9:30 at night on Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays.

For the women a group of top fashion models in dresses and gowns of starlight blue will be the attraction on opening day. They will model informally in many of the Filene fashion shops throughout the afternoon. The color was chosen to tie in with the satellite theme, and the theme not only in clothes but is also among the 60 pastel tints used in the display and mural decorations. Other fashion colors will also be shown during the opening.

The monthly meeting of the Winchester District Nursing Association was held on Friday, September 13 in the general conference room of Town Hall at 9:45 a. m. Mrs. Rowland V. Patrick, president, called the meeting to order and welcomed the committee back from their summer vacations.

Reports were read by Mrs. Walter F. Keyes, secretary, and by Mrs. Austin Broadhurst, treasurer. Mrs. Keyes's report recalled to the members the very successful semi-annual meeting held last June at the Girl Scout Cabin. One of the highlights of this meeting was a skit written and acted by the nursing staff.

Mrs. Patrick read a letter of resignation from Mrs. Philip Efronson. Her resignation was accepted with regret by the association. The president also explained some important facts concerning the United Fund Drive to be held for the first time this fall in the Boston area. Since the W.D.N.A. is a Red Feather agency, the success of the campaign is of interest to all members. She explained that the Red Feather will continue to symbolize the United Community Services, but that a torch has become the symbol for the fund raising organization, namely the United Fund.

Mrs. Walfred G. Wiklund, executive director of the W.D.N.A., gave her nursing report which covered the activities of the staff and office during the summer months. She also announced that the school nursing and health program were off to a good start with the opening of schools.

Mrs. Harry L. Mueller, chairman of the nursing committee, gave her report and requested volunteers to handle the weekly autoclaving at the W.D.N.A. headquarters.

Mrs. John G. Trump, announced for the nominating committee that Mrs. George Marks is the new chairman of publicity.

STUDENT ADVISORS APPOINTED FOR HIGH SCHOOL FRESHMEN

High school freshmen will be able to go to upper-class student advisors for suggestions and friendly advice under a plan set in motion this week by Principal W. Howard Niblock. Each of the ten freshmen home rooms has three upper classmen, two seniors and one junior, who will serve as student advisors.

In commenting on this new plan, Principal Niblock pointed out that some freshmen find the transition from junior high school to the big and less personal environment of the high school a difficult one. He hopes that these student advisors will be useful in helping the newcomers become oriented to high school life more quickly. Similar plans have been employed successfully by preparatory schools and colleges for many years.

Necessarily, the duties of the student advisors have been left somewhat undefined. After they have been introduced to their respective home rooms, it will be up to the freshmen to contact them as the occasion or need arises. In no sense will the advisors assume the functions of the guidance counselors. However, a pupil may have questions about school that he would prefer to ask of an older student rather than of his teacher counselor.

Following is the list of the newly-appointed student advisors and the home rooms to which they have been assigned:

Clothing — Bernadine Boes-12, Talbot Page-12, Patricia Chaffee-11, 209—Elizabeth Bolster-12, Dana Starkweather-12, Robert Cooper-11.
201—Helen Bolster-12, Paul Sullivan-12, Henry Dietz-11.
112—Blanche Cartier-12, Stephen Root-12, Henry Kiley-11.
108 — Brenda Cunningham-12, Henry Schumacher-12, Kjell Engle-11.
307—Judith Cussen-12, Michael MacDonald-12, Richard Roberts-11.
Drafting—Sally Kimball-12, Joel Peckham-12, Jeanne Hebert-11.
Cafe A—Susan Russell-12, George Yore-11, Douglas Thon-11.
Cafe B—Roberta Rich-12, Edward Carter-12, Barbara Brown-11.
Cafe C—Suzanne Simpson-12, Robert Boone-12, Barbara Clark-11.

Winchester Lightweights Meet Melrose

Pee Wee Football Starts Sunday

Sunday afternoon at 2:00 p.m. the Winchester Pee Wee football team will take the field against Melrose. The action will take place at West Side Field on Wildwood street extension.

This should be the best home game of the year, as scouts report that Melrose has strengthened its club considerably.

The Winchester boys were champs of the league last year, winning six and losing none. This year they hope to repeat.

Coaches Scott Parrot and Robert Johnson are pleased with the way the squad is shaping up, but are concerned over the loss of big Bob Bennicase, hard running and high scoring halfback who became ineligible this season weighing in over the limit. Tim Root, an outstanding end last year was unable to turn out because of a temporarily disabled foot.

The Winchester "B" squad will play two ten minute periods against the Melrose "B" squad—one before the regular game, and one during half time.

Veterans of the past seasons who return to help the local team are R. Wild, D. Brink, V. Schneider, at ends—B. Johnson, R. Donne, and D. Winn at halfbacks and K. Parrot at quarterback.

New comers adding strength are P. Grady, R. Rowe, R. Pappadins, P. Cunningham, Y. Lawson, B. Sullivan, and J. Devaney.

This year's schedule is:
September 22, Melrose at Winchester
September 29, Winchester at Medford
October 6, Winchester at Magnolia
October 13, No game
October 20, Winchester at Melrose
October 27, Magnolia at Winchester
November 3, Magnolia at Winchester

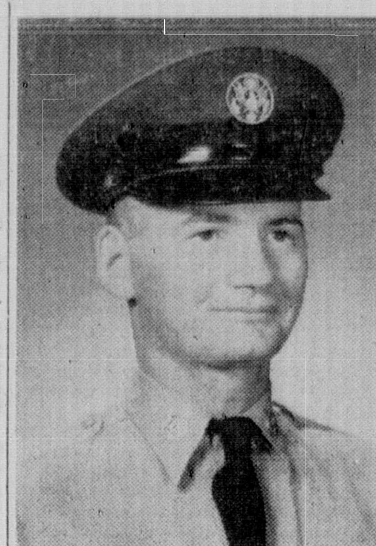

All games will start at 2:00 p.m. and be played at West Side Field.

HAWKINS STRICKEN

FORMER BASKETBALL STAR
IN MONTANA HOSPITAL

Big "Doug" Hawkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Hawkins of Highland avenue and one of Winchester's great all time basketball stars, is reported as seriously ill with spinal meningitis in the Veterans Hospital at Miles City, Montana.

The former Winchester High and Amherst College center was stricken last week Wednesday. Since then his condition, while fluctuating, has shown some improvement. He and his wife, the former Judy Nanny, are making their home at 211 South Jordan avenue in Miles City, and will be happy to hear from their home town friends.

ROBERT R. SHARP

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart R. Sharp of 25 Sunset road, he has been assigned to Jet Mechanics School at Sheppard Air Force Base. A 1957 graduate of Winchester High School, he enlisted in the Air Force during the past winter and entered service July 2.

MAINTAIN

HEAD CONFERENCE SPEAKER

Russell E. Maintain, president of Maintain Store Engineering Service, Inc., of Woburn, has been chosen to deliver a paper on "The Problem of Distribution as it Applies to a Small Business" as a representative of The Smaller Business Association of New England, attending President Eisenhower's Conference on Technical and Distribution Research for the Benefit of Small Business to be held in Washington, D. C., September 23, 24 and 25.

There is Winchester interest in this announcement since the Maintain Company did the remodeling among others, of Converse Market, McCormack's Apothecary, Winchester News Company and Winchester Star.

The President's Conference has been planned and will be conducted primarily by leaders from business, research, and education, with the cooperation of the Department of Commerce and the Small Business Administration.

Outstanding businessmen from all parts of the United States have been invited to attend the conference from both large and small businesses and that Mr. Maintain has been asked to speak is a most singular honor, not only for Mr. Maintain but for the Smaller Business Association of New England, of which he is a past president.

"Russ" Maintain began selling store display equipment thirty-two years ago. Early in his career he realized that there was much more to the moving of retail merchandise than simply dumping it on a counter in a store. Through the years he has developed a new concept of retail self service merchandising. By using scientific research and an engineering approach together with equipment designed for selling more merchandise, he developed the concept of the "Outstanding Store."

He was a member of the faculty at Boston University, College of Commerce, from 1946 to 1954 and his course in Retail Store Planning was attended by retailers, chain store personnel and independent food store operators. A past president of the National Commercial Refrigerator Sales Association, he has served as Store Engineer Consultant for Lever Bros., and other large national companies. He has written many magazine articles and lectures frequently at retail conventions, distributors' organizations and business and educational association meetings.

Mr. Maintain's contribution to President Eisenhower's Conference on Technical and Distribution Research for the Benefit of Small Business should therefore be of great value since to keep abreast of rapidly changing conditions and merchandising methods, he has visited leading stores nationwide, studying all changes and trends. Thousands of stores planned by the personally-trained staff of the Maintain Store Engineering Service have achieved phenomenal results in increased sales and profits.

BOAT CLUB NEWS

LEGERE WINS
SNIPE FLEET CHAMPIONSHIP

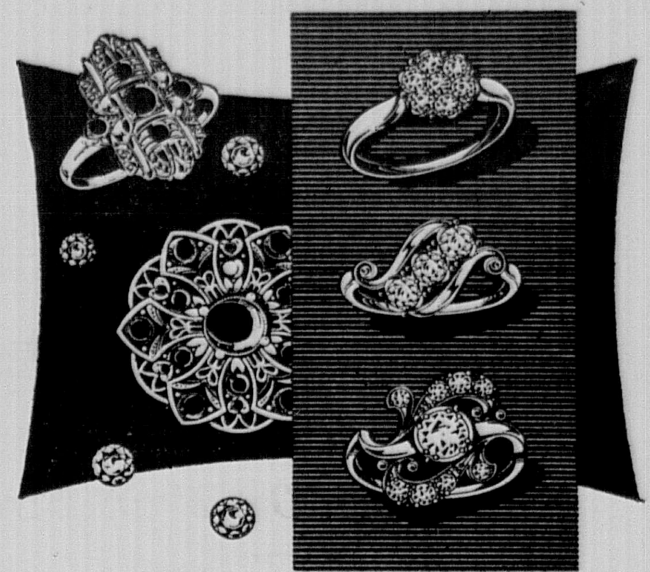

Tom Legere and his capable crew and sister Ann, won the last two races of the Winchester Boat Club Snipe Fleet season Sunday morning to repeat as Champions of the Fleet. Going into Sunday's races, the Alderson brothers, Herby and Tommy were a scant 3 points behind Legere, but Tommy, who is famous for his fine starts, lost his swift Snipe out front in both races and was never headed. Herby scored a second in the first race to keep his chances alive but then dropped to third in the finale, to give the Legeres a comfortable margin of victory.

Next Saturday afternoon, the Alden Sherman series and the Bob Hall Trophy series get under way, and, after that, the boats go into moth balls until 1958.

Commodore's Card Party Saturday Evening, September 28, Bart and May Sullivan have planned and are running a terrific party a week from Saturday night—September 28 at 8:00 p. m.

It's an "any-kind-of-card-game" card party. Whether you prefer pinocle or poker, bridge or whist, claviash or takesies-from-the-top-sies, you can play your favorite game and win a prize. Bring your own gang and play your own game or team up with some one at the party. It makes no difference because there'll be a prize at each table. What's more, there'll be door prizes as well in case you're not a whist wizard or a gin rummy genius. And there'll be refreshments, too. Tickets are on sale now, and if you don't pick them up before next Thursday, you're going to miss the party of the year.

You save half on special cloth covered notebook imprinted with Winchester, India. Sturdy construction for real service. See them at the Winchester Star.

UNION WINS AT WINN'S

DIAL-HAND FACTORY
UNIONIZED
AFTER 4 MONTHS CAMPAIGN

At an election held Monday the employees of J. H. Winn, Inc., dial-hand manufacturers in the Highlands, one of Winchester's oldest industries, voted, 118 to 70, to become members of the International Union of Electrical Workers.

The secret ballot election was conducted by the National Labor Relations Board, of which the representative was Mr. Tom McDonald of the Boston Regional Office. Two observers each of the management and union followed the election.

The employee vote to join the union followed a campaign of four months. A previous attempt to unionize the plant failed several years ago. Recently the union opened an office at 356 Washington street, corner of Harvard street, to serve as a headquarters for the plant union activity.

Within the next week a temporary union setup will be effected with temporary officers chosen to negotiate a contract with the company. These officers will be assisted by Angelo Colella of Lynn, international representative of the I. U. E., who has been assisting with the union campaign in recent weeks. Eventually the union employees will have their own local of the I. U. E.

MYRON BERLOW'S NEW STORE HAS GALA OPENING

On Monday morning at 9:15, Ralph Bonnell and John Volpe cut the ribbon which officially opened the new Myron Berlow—Home Accessories on upper Main street. Amidst showers of flowers, the new store was visited by many people during the day and throughout the week. All ladies visiting the store were given orchid corsages. During the afternoon, John L. Everett of Winchester entertained with organ selections. The concerts, given from 2 to 5 o'clock, were performed on the Baldwin Organ-Sonnet spinet organ. Featured in the store are lamp shades, lamps, milk glass, china and glassware and copper and brass. Other attractions are the Olde Pine Room, Panel Room and the Bread and Butter Room.

WYMAN MOTHERS ATTENTION!

A coffee hour to greet the new Wyman School mothers will be held on Tuesday, September 24 at 10 a. m., at the home of Mrs. William D. Barone, 1 School street. It is hoped that all the new mothers will come to meet Miss Mabel Lowry, the principal of Wyman School, their respective room mothers, and the members of the Wyman Parents' Association board.

Loralane, Inc., Opens New Store On Main Street

The grand opening of the Winchester Loralane, Inc., was held yesterday. The store is now housed in a new modern store further up on Main street.

Besides the grand opening, Loralane is celebrating its 12th anniversary in Winchester and, since it is the first of the stores, the anniversary of the whole firm. Harold Lipsett is the manager of the Winchester store.

The new store, about three times larger than the old one, has enabled the firm to expand all of its lines and in addition will add cosmetics and luggage. In the future, the store will carry a better grade of merchandise. The building is decorated in blue, pink and yellow and features six attractive fitting rooms. All merchandise is displayed in attractive glass cases and the firm is particularly proud of its new sweater bar.

Firmly believing in making a store friendly and pleasant, the new Loralane cultivates an atmosphere of the southern whites who now oppose and most bitterly condemn them. They brought them from darkest Africa and sold them as slaves for a hundred dollars or more each to the wealthy plantation owners of the south. There is no better illustration of the old proverb, "The Evil Men Do Lives After Them."

SOMEBODY "GOOFED"

Editor of the Star:

In reading my latest Star, the September 6 edition, I saw a letter by Mr. Carroll with regards to the "Death Trap" created by the Swanton street underpass.

Being a lifelong resident of that area, I cannot help express my views on this matter.

I agree that there should be lights and signs warning motorists of the dangers existing there. But how, in our old New England winters, can anybody use Swanton street safely?

I can remember when it was too bad to go up Swanton to Main street, we used to go down to Washington street. Now, however, I guess the people concerned will have to wait for the weather to break to enable them to proceed with safety.

In closing I must say, "Somebody Goofed," in their plans.

Sincerely,
Frederick T. Nixon
Fort Knox, Ky.THE EVIL MEN DO LIVES
AFTER THEM

Editor of the Star:

Beginning in the South and extending into the North, the whites have been bitterly opposing integration in the public schools, fighting and rioting to keep the negroes from attending schools with the whites. The negroes are moving north from the south, the number in the south decreasing and rapidly increasing in the north. There are over 800,000 in New York, more than 700,000 in Chicago and 450,000 in Philadelphia.

Who is to blame for this great negro population in the United States? The answer is the ancestors of the southern whites who now oppose and most bitterly condemn them. They brought them from darkest Africa and sold them as slaves for a hundred dollars or more each to the wealthy plantation owners of the south. There is no better illustration of the old proverb, "The Evil Men Do Lives After Them."

CHILDREN'S REST DISTURBED

Editor of the Star:

In order to avoid the threatened epidemic this winter, we are told by the health authorities that our children should have sufficient rest. They should be in bed soon after 8:00 p. m. and have plenty of rest over the weekends.

This is impossible as long as the noise from the Church of the Epiphany is allowed to continue 13 hours a day, every day. We hope that the local doctors and the Board of Health will recognize this threat to the health of the community.

Sincerely yours,
William M. Herron
7 Central street

RELEASED FROM HOSPITAL

Walter Swiatocho, tailor at R. Levine and Co., has been released from the hospital and is at his home in Lexington. If things go smoothly, he will return to work sometime next week.

His wife, Toni, is still at the Miles Memorial Hospital in Damariscotta, Maine, where she has been hospitalized since their auto accident nearly a month ago.

EPIPHANY CHURCH SCHOOL
PLANS

The Parish of the Epiphany Church School will begin its new year this Sunday, September 22.

The parish is delighted to welcome back the Rev. Charles E. Bateman, professor of Christian Education at Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge, who is returning to Epiphany on a part-time basis as director of Christian Education. He will be assisted by Mrs. William Hopkins, who will carry out detail and administrative work, and by Mrs. Granville Plagg, who is secretary of the Board of Christian Education.

The Church School will be divided into two sections this year, and the schedule is as follows:

If you are in the first group, your schedule will be: 9:00, classes in the parish house; 9:45, children's choir vests; 9:50, classes dismissed; go to Church; 10:00, Family Worship; 10:30, dismissal.

If you are in the second group, your schedule will be: 9:45, children's choir vests; 10:00, Family Worship; 10:30, go into parish house; 10:45, classes begin; 11:35, classes dismissed.

In addition to this, the following services will be at: 7:30, Holy Communion; 11:30 Morning Prayer and Sermon; 7:00, Evening Prayer and Sermon.

LOCAL WOMEN PARTICIPATE IN ORIENTATION ACTIVITIES

Miss F. Rita Amico, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. Frank Amico, 35 Lebanon street; Miss Frances L. Amico, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Amico, 338 State street; Miss Suzanne W. Goodwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sumner W. Goodwin, 59 Mystic Valley Parkway; Miss Mary F. McNally, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. McNally, 226 Highland avenue; and Miss Nancy A. Towle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Towle, 3 Brookside avenue, all of Winchester, are among the group of 250 incoming students at Fisher Junior College.

Sunday, September 22, they will be guests at the President's tea and reception to be held in the main college building in Boston's Back Bay.

As part of the orientation program of the college, they will take the Freedom Trail tour of historic Boston, Saturday, September 21. Student government officers headed by Judith Gardner of Melrose, Mass., will assist the incoming students during orientation week.

PARISH OF THE EPIPHANY

The Young Peoples' Fellowship of the parish of the Epiphany, under the able leadership of its President, Ted Little, completed plans Tuesday for their opening supper meeting to be held next Sunday, September 22, at 6:30 in the Parish Hall. A large group of High School students is expected to attend the spaghetti supper, prepared by the Rector, Dr. John Ellison with the assistance of several fathers: Walter Watson, James Hill, Ben Fairfield and Ed Little.

The Y.P.F. Executive Board met with the Parents' Advisory Group Tuesday evening for supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Watson. The Rev. Charles Bateman, Director of Religious Education at Epiphany, introduced Mr. Donn Brown, a student at Episcopal Theological School who was welcomed as the adult leader of the Y.P.F.

Serving on the Executive Board were the president, Ted Little, and Lissa Marshall, vice president; Sharon Nyere, and Debbie Whitaker, corresponding secretaries; Vickie Russell, recording secretary; Lynn Olmstead, treasurer; Sue Simpson, interdenominational representative; Debbie Jojo, alternate interdenominational representative; David Hopkins, worship chairman; Chris Beal, membership; Ginny Bateman, Nanette Marshall, refreshment; Bobby de Rivera, Hugh Phillips, arrangements; Ronny Fairfield, Lynne Watson, social; and John Hopkins, altar flowers. Freshman representatives.

Members of the Parents' Advisory Group are:

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin T. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Bertill Lindvall, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Fairfield, Mr. and Mrs. James Hill; and Mrs. Arthur Bonny, representing the Board of Christian Education.

"ALBERT SCHWEITZER" AT WINCHESTER THEATRE

"Albert Schweitzer," the feature-length film biography of the Nobel Prize winner, "Jungle Doctor," will be at the Winchester theatre on Wednesday, October 16 - 19.

Five years in the making, "Albert Schweitzer" was produced and directed by Jerrold Frank. It is graphed in Eastmancolor by Erica Anderson in the jungle village of Lambarene, French Equatorial Africa, and at his childhood town of Gumbach, France.

Dr. Schweitzer, who appears throughout the film, also wrote the commentary which is spoken by Fredric March. Additional narration, written by Thomas Bruce Morgan, has been recorded by Burgess Meredith. Alec Wilder composed the original music score.

Highlights of the film include Dr. Schweitzer's typical day at Lambarene and a sequence in which he plays a Bach prelude on the Gumbach church organ. In the scene about his childhood, Dr. Schweitzer's own grandson portrays the young Albert, and the great man's mother is represented by his real-life sister.

The children's show for Saturday matinee, October 19, is Aladdin's Lamp and Hiawatha.

BANK PROMOTION FOR DAVIS

The promotion of Davenport F. Davis, of 122 Cambridge street, to the office of assistant vice president of the Middlesex County National Bank has been announced by Oliver T. Bergstrom, the bank's president, following the monthly meeting of the Board of Directors held September 11.

Mr. Davis, formerly an assistant cashier, has been in charge of the bank's Wilmington office since its opening in May 1956. He joined the Middlesex County National Bank in 1951, and has served in various capacities in its Everett, Lowell and Medford offices.

Mr. and Mrs. John McGurn have moved and are now living at 183 Washington street. John works at the Winchester Post Office.

NEW BEDFORD AIR DISASTER

One particular comment on the recent air disaster at New Bedford was of current importance to Winchester residents. On the very first bulletin to come over the radio was the announcement, "At the scene of the crash, blood plasma has been given to most of the survivors by medical attendants from nearby New Bedford hospitals." Think about that for a minute.

Did you make a mental note at the time that someone in the New Bedford area—someone like you—recently made that plasma available by donating blood? Did you picture yourself as a victim in such a disaster, or in an automobile accident, or about to undergo surgery, where blood or plasma could mean the difference between life and death . . . and wonder, "Who gave the blood that will save my life?" Here are four facts you can't escape:

1. One out of three hospitalized patients requires blood, and an average of 3 1/2 pints.

2. It must be there at the right time, in the right type, and in the right amount.

3. It does not grow on trees. Only people have it and only people can give it.

4. The demand constantly exceeds the supply.

You can establish a "priority claim" on available blood for both you and your family through the Red Cross "Blood Insurance" program. Your donation next Monday will automatically insure you and your family for any blood needed during the ensuing year. Donation by thirty per cent of the members of any organization will "insure" the entire group in similar fashion.

Monday, September 23, from 1 to 7 p. m., at the Parish House, First Congregational Church, you will have the opportunity to "loan" blood now and thus have this insurance should need befall you, your family, or your group.

If between the ages of 18 and 59, (parental permission required for age 18 - 20 unless married or in the Armed Services), and free from recent serious illness or operation, you owe it to yourself, your family, and your community to drop in at the Parish House, First Congregational Church, this coming Monday afternoon or evening. Your neighbors will be there. Will you?

If a solicitor has not contacted you, you may walk in at your convenience, or call your Precinct Captain listed below for a definite appointment. Don't put it off until later. Call now!

ITALIAN LADIES AWARD SCHOLARSHIP

A meeting was held of the Scholarship Committee of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce and the Italian Ladies of Greater Boston on Thursday, September 12, to make arrangements for a reception to honor Miss Annamaria Berlati of Brescia, Italy, who, upon her arrival in New York City aboard the Italian Steamer Giulio Cesare on September 14, was met by a representative of the Italian Steamship Line.

Miss Berlati is the recipient of a complete expense scholarship to attend Boston University for the term starting September 1957 until June 1958. She is also a recipient of a Fullbright Travel Scholarship from the United States Government, Department of State. Annamaria will reside at the Women's Graduate House, 2 Raleigh street, Boston.

This Boston University Scholarship money was raised by a Committee of one hundred Italian Ladies during the Salute to Rome Week, at which time a Fashion Show was presented from the Salon of Madame Eleanor Garnett, of Rome, Italy, at the Somerset Hotel, and

CHILDREN'S THEATRE SCHOOL

Registrations for the fall and winter term of the Children's Theatre School are being taken. Staff members include Miss Kathy Cazale, who will be dance instructor and assistant to Mrs. Samoiloff, director. Irene Enighe, who was staff artist for R. H. White, will instruct the children in painting; and Sorin Hovnanian and Loesh Tothe will accompany the children for dramatic movement.

The play will be chosen partially by the children's vote when they assemble, possibly Mactelrick's "Blue Bird," or the children's favorite, "Cinderella."

A large group of "veterans" are expected, and applications for new children are many. For those wishing enrollment, old and new, call Winchester 6-2033.

K. of C. 210 NOTES

Monday, September 16, after the regular meeting the members of the Knights of Columbus were surprised to have the honor of an address by the popular Fire Department Chief Callahan on fire prevention and the use of some of the items contained in the rescue truck. Chief Callahan, thirty-four years a fireman, gave one of the most interesting talks heard in the council rooms in years, for the chief was substituting for one of the speakers of the National Board of Fire Underwriters who due to circumstances could not be in Winchester that evening. Chief Callahan read the proclamation made by President Eisenhower designating the week of October 6 to October 12 as Fire Prevention Week.

One of the most important thoughts that the chief left in the minds of the members present was "In case of fire call Winchester 6-1800; give the desk man clear and concise information as to the location of the fire so that the fire equipment can be dispatched to the right place." Chief Callahan praised the men under his command and gave credit for his success to the two fire chiefs DeCourcy and Gorman that were in his own words "two of the best."

The start of the regular fall meetings will bring to Winchester Council many guest speakers. Planning this year series is Dan O'Donnell, council lecturer. Grand Knight Sam Vangel and his staff of new officers will be installed on Monday, October 14 by District Deputy McMakin of Concord.

MRS. JAMES BARRETT
MICKELSON

Miss Barbara May Armstrong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde W. Armstrong of 15 Pine street, and James Barrett Mickelson of Clarion, Iowa, and Rockport, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Mickelson of Clarion, Iowa, were married at St. Mary's Church on Saturday afternoon, September 14. The Rev. Charles E. Anadore read the marriage service at 2 o'clock and the bride and groom were given the Holy Scriptures by the Rev. Mr. Anadore.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Armstrong wore a gown of ivory tulle with a bateau neckline trimmed with Alencon lace and seed pearls. Her fingertip veil of illusion was caught to a cap edged with seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of Fuji chrysanthemums.

Mrs. David W. Armstrong of Quansett, R. I., was her sister-in-law's only attendant. She wore a ballerina length dress of gold crystal with matching headpiece and carried gold colored chrysanthemums tied with matching ribbon.

Donald H. Bassist of Cambridge was best man, and ushering were Peter T. Armstrong, A.E.M., of Moffett Field, Calif.; and Michael H. Armstrong of Winchester, brothers of the bride.

A reception was held after the marriage at the home of the bride's parents. Assisting in receiving were Mrs. Richard M. Gogg of Petersburg, Va., and Mrs. John C. Tomke of Lombard, Ill., sisters of the bridegroom.

After a wedding journey along the coast of Maine, Mr. and Mrs. Mickelson will live in Boston at 175 Dartmouth street.

The bride is a graduate of Cheverus Cent. School, Malden, and Colby College, Waterville, Me., also studying for two years at Salem Teachers College. Mr. Mickelson graduated from Clarion, Iowa, High School, and attended Los Angeles, Calif., Art Institute, University of Santa Fe, New Mexico, and the University of Mexico City, Mexico. Out of town guests included Mrs. R. W. Mickelson and Mrs. Harland Hill of Clarion, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford B. Cornell of Cleveland, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Robinson of Hartford, Conn.; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Oswald of Newport, R. I.; Mrs. James F. Gorman and Mr. Robert Gorman of North Wilbraham.

METHODIST YOUTH FELLOWSHIP

This Sunday, September 22, marks the first get-together of the Methodist Youth Fellowship. They will start out the year with a Sunday morning breakfast at the church parsonage at 9:00 a. m. After this they will attend the morning service as a group.

Sunday evening they will have a worship service conducted by Jane Snook. Coach Knowlton will show football pictures and discuss the prospect of success during this coming football season.

Anyone interested in joining the group and enjoying the good times which are planned for the entertaining but spiritual year ahead are invited to attend the Sunday evening service at 7:00 p. m. See you there!

HENICK — VOZZELLA

At the Immaculate Conception Church on Sunday afternoon, September 15, Miss Rose Marie Vozzella, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Celestino Vozzella of Winter street, became the bride of Robert Francis Henick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Henick of Melrose. The Rev. Stephen Burke officiated at the marriage ceremony which took place at 4:30 o'clock with an altar setting of white gladioli.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Vozzella had for her honor attendant her sister, Mrs. Josephine Scalis of Malden. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Edith Brock of Weymouth, Conn., and Miss Matilda Vozzella of Winchester, also sisters of the bride.

The bride wore a white satin gown with a court train and a bodice trimmed with lace and iridescent sequins fashioned with a Queen Anne collar and long sleeves. Her fingertip veil of French illusion was caught to a Queen's crown of iridescent pearls and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

All the bridal attendants wore ballerina length dresses of crystal-ette with feather headpieces and matching shoes. The matron of honor was gowned in peacock blue and the bridesmaids, in coral glist. All carried bouquets of Japanese lilies tied with ribbons to match their gowns.

William Broderick of Cohasset, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man and the ushers were Gennaro Vozzella of Woburn, brother of the bride; and Gene Pineau of Melrose, cousin of the bridegroom.

A reception was held after the marriage at Christopher Columbus Hall, the parents of both the bride and bridegroom assisting in receiving with the members of the bridal party.

Mrs. Vozzella, mother of the bride, was gowned in pink lace and wore matching accessories and a white orchid. Mrs. Henick, mother of the bridegroom, wore a blue silk dress with matching accessories and a corsage of roses.

After a wedding trip to Lake George and the Canadian Border, Mr. and Mrs. Henick will live in Melrose.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and Mr. Henick graduated from Melrose High School.

PARISH LIFE CONFERENCE

The Parish of the Epiphany is sponsoring a Parish Life Conference for Church School teachers, husbands and wives. The conference will begin with dinner Friday evening, September 20, and conclude on Sunday, September 22, with a Corporate Communion. Friday night will be spent at Lasell House in Whitinsville and Saturday night in Winchester.

Chemirac drawing and marking pens, 10 vivid colors, dies instantly—never fades, now on sale at the Winchester Star, Star Bldg.

LEVIN — ARCHIBALD

Miss Janet Louise Archibald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Kimball Archibald, was married in the garden of her parents' home at 3 Penn road on Saturday afternoon, September 14, to Herbert Richard Levin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elias Levin of West Hartford, Conn. The Rev. Dwight L. Cart, D.D., pastor of the First Congregational Church, officiated at the 4 o'clock ceremony which took place before an arbor decorated with hanging baskets of white chrysanthemums.

Miss Archibald was given in marriage by her father and had for her only attendant her sister, Miss Margaret E. Archibald of Winchester. Mr. Robert R. Smith of New York City was best man.

The bride wore her grandmother's and mother's wedding gown of old ivory silk trimmed with imported lace and made with long full sleeves banded with satin and tapering to wrists of lace. Her headpiece was of century-old lace, fashioned with a self-cap and falling over her waistline, and she carried a sheaf of white roses and ivy.

The honor maid wore a princess style dress of sea green silk tulle with a scoop neck and three-quarter sleeves. Her headpiece was a coronet of tiny yellow roses and she carried a sheaf of the same flowers.

At the reception that followed the ceremony the mothers of the bride and bridegroom assisted in receiving with the maid of honor, Mrs. Archibald, mother of the bride, wore a bronze and white silk print with a winter white hat and a corsage of tallismans roses. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Levin, wore a powder blue linen sheath with matching hat and a corsage of pink gladioli.

After honeymooning for a week on Cape Cod, Mr. Levin and his bride will live in Syracuse, N. Y., while the bridegroom studies for his Master's Degree at Syracuse University.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and both she and Mr. Levin were graduated last June from the University of Connecticut at Storrs.

FIRST MEETING OF TANDEM CLUB

The Tandem Club welcomes Ned Marshall on Wednesday evening, September 25, who will offer an informal evening of organ music.

Juice in the library at 7:00 p. m. and a catered dinner at 7:30 precede the program.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert H. Anderson have purchased the property No. 8 Winslow road, formerly, for many years, the residence of Vincent L. Scanlon, well known attorney, and Mrs. Scanlon, who are now residing in Lowell, Mass. Dr. Anderson is well known as an author, lecturer and professor at Harvard University. G. A. Josephson, local real estate broker, represented both Mr. Scanlon and Dr. Anderson.

Former Epiphany Rector Deceased

Vermont Honors Farming Rector

(The following feature story by Columnist Dorothy Thompson appeared in the Boston Globe of Monday evening, September 16. The clergyman in question, Rev. Truman Heminway, was rector of the Church of the Epiphany for four years, from 1927 to 1931, following the Rev. Allen Evans, Jr., and preceding the late Rev. Dwight W. Hadley. Miss Thompson's sensitive story of his life in the rural parishes of Vermont should prove of interest to his former parishioners at Epiphany and to all who knew him while he was in Winchester—Ed.)

Motorists driving along Route 4, into or out of Rutland, Vermont, last Wednesday might have noticed a great throng of people accompanying a coffin from a little stone church just off the high road in a wildly beautiful mountain pass and wondered what famous person had died.

Might also, had they paused, noted the faces of the mourners, so many of them wet-eyed, rugged farmer faces but among them two or three nationally known, and others marked by high distinction. And—were they given to reflection—might also have wondered what parish supported any church in so scattered a mountain country.

But they would have heard the news at the next inn, or in the streets of Rutland, Norwich, Hanover (where Dartmouth College is), in Bethel, Woodstock, or White River Junction. Heard it, too, in the farm kitchen they might have entered. Uttered in sorrow, with an apron corner dabbed at the eyes. "Father Heminway has died."

"Ten thousand times ten thousand in sparkling raiment bright, The armies of the ransomed saints Throng up the steps of light."

Strong male voices, shy young voices, sweet women's voices and cracked voices, too, sang the grand triumphant hymn, without accompaniment, for the little church has no organ.

The bishop of Vermont read the opening and closing prayer commending the man whose body lay before him to "everlasting peace and into the glorious company of the Saints in Light."

He had died the previous Sunday kneeling at the altar in St. Barnabas Church in Norwich, just as he began the celebration of the Holy Eucharist.

Norwich, also a tiny congregation, was his second church—the gray stone Church of Our Savior the main one. His head rested on the altar rail as though bowed in prayer, but it fell to one side, and he was dead. It was not unexpected. He knew he had angina pectoris and that the end might come any minute but he paid his condition little heed.

Such parishes as his make great physical demands on a man. When the war took other ministers, he preached at one time every Sunday in four churches—Norwich and White River Junction and Bethel as well as St. Barnabas parish in Sherburne on the Rutland mountain. And, besides, he was a farmer, and the priest of farmers.

Truman Heminway, born in New York of a banking family, had ranches in Alberta, Canada, and married an Englishwoman before he thought of entering holy orders, equipping himself for that calling under such hardships.

He had to learn Greek, and get a lacking A.B. degree even to start. And then to be parked in a remote snowdrift, behind the wheel the unmistakable face framed in silvery beard, nor meet again the strong-faced muscular man with the sparkling blue eyes, nor warm oneself in his presence.

But he will not be forgotten, up in these hills. Parents will tell their children about him. Children grown will remember the man who was the friend of every child. Now in the glorious company of the Saints of Light. He did not have far to go.

MT. HOLYOKE CLUB

Plans for the 1957 tour of Winchester Homes were discussed at a recent meeting of the local Mount Holyoke Club held at the home of Mrs. Richard L. Emerson.

Funds raised by this annual event will once again go towards establishing scholarships to aid Winchester High School graduates in attending Mount Holyoke College.

Mrs. Joseph Dolben is chairman of this year's tour. Her assistants are:

Publicity, Mrs. Emmons S. Ellis. Hostesses, Mrs. Charles E. Jefferson.

Flowers, Mrs. James S. Allen. Flyers, Mrs. Hazen H. Ayer. Posters, Mrs. C. William Ross. Tickets, Mrs. Russell Thompson. Mrs. Philip M. Marvel.

Mrs. Dolben announced that this year's tour will be held on October 17. The following hostesses have graciously offered their houses for the tour:

Mrs. J. Norton Kidder. Mrs. Leo M. Pistorino. Mrs. Everett Tisdale. Mrs. Alexander P. Aitken. Mrs. Richard R. Seddon.

The Winchester Mount Holyoke Club looks forward this Fall to offering another exciting and interesting tour of Winchester Homes.

CAR MOVED, WINDSHIELD BROKEN

Friday the 13th, proved to be a very bad day for Alexander I. Heimlich, Jr., of Woburn. He reported to police that he parked his car on Fells road at about 8:00 p. m. When he returned to the car about an hour later, he found that it had been moved from the original position and that the gear shift had been tampered with and that there were two cracks in the windshield. Police are investigating.

"ASIATIC FLU"

(With so many people discussing "Asiatic Flu" and so much being written and spoken about this relatively new disease by public health authorities, the Star is pleased to print these "Questions and Answers on Asiatic Flu," prepared by Lederle Laboratories Division of the American Cyanamid Company of Pearl River, N. Y.)

What is "Asiatic Flu"?
It is the name given to the influenza seen recently in epidemic form, caused by variants of Type A Influenza Virus.

Whom Does "Asiatic Flu" Strike?

Young adults, in good health, appear to be particularly susceptible to the disease itself, but the dangers of complications are more serious when the victims are children and elderly people.

How Is It Spread?

Presumably in the same way as other types of flu, namely through direct personal contact, droplet infection or by direct contact with objects contaminated by discharge from the nose and throat of infected individuals. There is some evidence that flu infection is air-borne.

How Widespread May It Become?

At this time it is impossible to predict with accuracy. The prevalence of influenza varies widely, depending upon the contagiousness of the virus and upon environment and personal factors. In past epidemics attack rates of the milder strains have varied from five to 30 per cent of the population.

What is the Incubation Period?
This is variable but it is seldom less than 24, or more than 72 hours.

What Are the Symptoms?

The symptoms are the same as with previous types of influenza. The disease begins abruptly. There may be lassitude, weakness, sore throat and cough. The disease usually runs its course in three to five days if no complications develop. Not every patient will show all the above symptoms.

Is Any Particular Symptom Diagnostic?

To date, there have been no reports of any distinctive single symptom.

How Does One Diagnose the Disease?

The usual diagnosis will be a clinical one based on the patient's symptoms. Laboratory diagnosis is possible but is limited to laboratories equipped for viral diagnosis. In the first cases of flu in an area, identification of the epidemic strain may be made by the health department laboratory.

What Does Routine Laboratory Work Show?

The routine laboratory findings (urine, blood) are not in themselves diagnostic. The white count may be that of a virus infection with a normal to lowered count.

Is There Any Specific Treatment?

None, other than the usual general supportive measures that are recommended for influenza at this time. Antibiotics, particularly in the broad spectrum, will be of value in the treatment or prevention of bacterial complications, but do not appear effective against the influenza itself.

How Serious Is the Flu?

The present "Asiatic Flu" is believed to be a mild disease, even though the attack rate seems to be relatively high. The more serious aspects of the disease have been the complications which have, as yet, been few.

What Are the Complications?
The usual complications are secondary bacterial infections, such as pneumonia, otitis, etc. It was the secondary pneumonia that made the epidemic of 1918 so severe.

How Should the Complications Be Treated?

If there are secondary bacterial infections, the use of antibiotics should be of great value. Has the Disease Been Increasing in Severity?
Available medical reports from epidemic areas in the Middle and Far East have not indicated increasing virulence.

TRAINING AT FORT DIX

Two Winchester boys, Pvt. Charles W. Stevens and Pvt. Benjamin H. Carr, are at Fort Dix for eight weeks of basic Army training. Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold N. Stevens of 22 Stowell road, has been assigned to G Company of the 4th Training Regiment of the U. S. Army Infantry Training Center. He formerly attended Winchester High School and Dartmouth College.

Carr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carr of 31 Forest street, has been assigned to H Company, 1st Regiment, for infantry training under the 1955 Reserve Forces Act. He attended Winchester High School, and after six months active duty will be transferred to hometown duty with an Army Reserve or national Guard unit.

RENTON'S MARKET AWARDS DOOR PRIZES

The Open House at Renton's Market which was held last week was a big success. All people who stopped in at the market during Monday and Tuesday were offered coffee and a snack and all ladies were presented attractive corsages; gentlemen were given cigars; and all children were presented with gifts too.

As a special feature, two door prizes were awarded. Mrs. Philip Wadsworth of 68 Oxford street won the waffle-iron sandwich toaster and Dr. Seymour Russell of Warren street got the hors d'oeuvre bucket.

ART CLASSES

For the sixth year, the Winchester Art Association is offering art classes for adults and children. The classes are open both to beginners and to advanced students.

The adult classes will include instruction in composition, the fundamentals of drawing, and painting in the medium chosen by the student.

The morning class will meet at the Parkhurst School at 9:30, beginning Tuesday, October 1. It will be conducted by Mrs. C. B. Hoag (Alexandra Bradshaw), who taught last year also. Miss Bradshaw has degrees from both the University of California and from Stanford. Locally, she is a member of the Boston Independent Artists, and of the Boston Society of Water Color Painters. She has exhibited in a number of places.

The evening adult class will meet at the Public Library Gallery at 7:00 p. m., beginning Wednesday, October 2. Mr. King Coffin will conduct the class for the fifth year. Mr. Coffin, a graduate of the School of the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston, has work represented in the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, and in private collections. He has had one-man shows, and has participated in group shows.

The children's class will meet at the Public Library Gallery, but will meet on Thursdays at 3:30, beginning Tuesday, October 1. Mr. Kennedy Tully will conduct the course for the fifth year. The class works in pencil, poster paint, Dutch pastels, enameled, and pottery, and has

SONS OF ITALY Bowling News

We opened another season of bowling September 12. I never saw so much enthusiasm, vitality and vigor for an opening night. Before going into what happened in bowling we of the S.O.I. wish to publicly compliment the Holy Name Softball players and personnel for the sportsmanship and superior competition we recently encountered in the softball championship playoffs, in which they were the victors. May we meet again next season for it was enjoyed by all!

Back to bowling again, let us first welcome the new bowlers who are with us this year: Frank Dattilo, Richard Giacalone, "Musky" Tofuri, Phil Muraco, Maxie DiMambro, Pete Gilberto, Henry Subrizio, Pete Lonigro, Rudy Rotundi, Gene Rotundi and Randy Kazanian.

You will note that out of retirement and back in the limelight of competition are four prominent men in the above list.

First, Brother Frank Dattilo our financial secretary, and one of the original founders of our organization; "Musky" Tofuri, whose keen sense of judgment is called upon quite often; Maxie DiMambro, a man of few words, who thinks before he speaks; our last, but not least, Gene Rotundi widely known figure and gentleman farmer. We welcome you one and all and extend our wishes for a full and successful year.

Being opening night and the kinks not thoroughly expelled, we will mention only a few highlights of the competition.

There were only two 300 bowlers, the first being Max La Carubba who bowled as though he had never stopped bowling and came up with a superb and spectacular 367 T.P.F. "Mighty Mouse" Tony Saraco, the other with a 311 T.P.F. and last year's champion, proved that he has lost none of his bowling wizardry.

The first bad fall of the season went to Dom Provinzano that most eligible bachelor, but he was immediately attended by Dr. "Curly Locks" Vespucci who was right on the job. Creeper Gene Rotundi made a late and dramatic entrance, his logical excuse being that he hadn't finished his milking! Ben Gilotti and Joe DiIorio are sporting new pipes. We could tell by the sweet aroma.

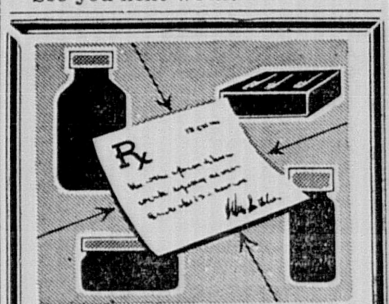

Prominent spectators in the gallery included our versatile versatile, M. D. Saraco, who is now back to his fighting weight of 265½ lbs; and Francis Muraco, who recently underwent a serious operation, but is now fully recovered.

We are sorry to state that our most beloved bowler, whose exploits last year held the limelight, is not with us this year. Our friend "Hokie" Procopio is nursing a broken arm and at his age time, and a lot of it, will be needed for it to mend. "Hokie" stated that he fell downstairs but rumor has it that he was pushed down after the team he managed lost the softball championship. Far be it from me to expand on a rumor of this type, even though I sincerely believe it to be true!

Enough said for opening night, and the first winner of our weekly award was No. 250 of B.C. Henry Subrizio.

See you next week!

FILE FOR "PEOPLE'S PETITION"

CITIZENS COMMITTEE ACTS TO END PENSION ABUSES

As a first step in correcting the shocking abuses of the disability provision of the State Pension System, the Massachusetts Citizens' Committee recently filed with the Secretary of State the papers required by law to initiate the "People's Petition" which will bring about this much needed reform.

Mr. Donald O'Callaghan, chairman of the MCC, stated that the campaign to obtain 100,000 signatures would start formally on the 16th of September and added, "Over 400 persons have written in offering to circulate petition forms but we need the help of at least another 600 to accomplish our goal—1,000 helpers would mean 100 signatures apiece but I would rather see 2,000 persons collect 50 names apiece."

Mr. O'Callaghan went on to emphasize that the bill in question is designed to correct the weakness in the present law while preserving complete protection for the truly disabled public employee. It is both simple and fair and in no way limits the amount that a person retired for disability may earn. It calls for pension adjustment only when the combined income from pension plus gainful employment exceeds the current rate of pay of the state, city, town or county job previously held. Neither does it put a ceiling on what a physically handicapped but resourceful person may earn, nor does it disqualify this same person from pension benefits when, as and if his earning power drops off.

It does not in any way affect the rightful protection through pension of those who are genuinely disabled. It seeks solely to eliminate abuses that are undermining the pension system for those who earned and deserve it.

The MCC has opened campaign headquarters at Room 945, 50 Congress street, Boston, Mass., (Lafayette 3-2670). Membership is opened to all interested in promoting good government by correcting an abuse which can be measured in terms of millions of taxpayer's dollars.

Senator Philip A. Graham of Hamilton, who is co-sponsor of H1022 with Representative Charles A. Anthony of Haverhill, had this to say, "Here is a chance for the people who have been 'hollering' about the cost of Government to do something about it."

RETURNING TO LASSELL

Four Winchester girls were among the 600 students present for orientation week exercises as Lassell Junior College in Auburndale opened for its 107th year on September 19.

Returning as seniors were: Elizabeth A. Arnall, of 5 Cox road; and Sandra Chapman, of 20 Hillcrest Parkway, Jaffet Lixbury, of 87 Grove street, and Louise Anne Ruma, of 6 Agawam road, entered as Lassell freshmen.

SHRINE OF OUR LADY OF FATIMA

WINCHESTER PARENTS ERECT SHRINE TO MEMORY OF SON
ST. MARY'S MOTHERS' CLUB OPENS SEASON

Mr. and Mrs. Amadeo Pignone have recently erected a beautiful marble shrine on the attractively landscaped grounds of their home at 338 Highland avenue, in memory of their son, Robert, who died May 13, 1955, at the age of 27. Honoring Our Lady of Fatima, the shrine shows The Lady appearing to the three children in Portugal. It was designed and erected by A. DaPrato Statue Company in Charlestown of marble imported from Carrara, Italy. Apart from the central figures of the shrine is another marble figure, that of St. Cabrini, to whom Robert Pignone was devoted. Against a background provided by the beautiful rock gardens on the Pignone grounds, the shrine presents a picture that has attracted many viewers.

The Shrine will be appropriately dedicated on Sunday afternoon, September 22, at 3 o'clock by Rev. John M. Manion, pastor of St. Mary's Church.

Robert Pignone, in whose memory the Shrine was erected, was born in Somerville, and was widely known throughout Greater Boston as an accordion player and teacher with studios in Somerville and Lawrence. He attracted attention by winning a nation-wide accordion-playing contest in New York in 1948. His parents moved from Somerville to Winchester four years ago to make their home in an attractive ranch house on Highland avenue near Prospect street.

PARTICIPATES IN INTERNATIONAL MANEUVERS
John E. Pearson, MM/3, son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Pearson of 16 Marion street, is aboard one of the ships which is participating in the NATO maneuvers this month in European waters.

Aboard the USS Ingraham, Mr. Pearson left from Norfolk, Va., on September first. Besides the United States, France, Canada, the Netherlands, Norway, the United Kingdom and Portugal are participating in the maneuvers which are called "Strike Back" and "Sea Spray."

Other ships in the maneuvers are the new aircraft carrier Forrestal, the atomic submarine Nautilus, the Canberra and the Boston. In addition, the ships Iowa and Wisconsin are making their last trips before being put in moth balls.

REMEMBER ROTARY AUCTION

Are you moving? Are you cleaning house?
Where is that lamp, table, television, chair, old bed, butter churn, lawnmower, bookcase, sofa, antique automobile, refrigerator, set of dishes you never liked, playpen, bicycle, ice-cream freezer, button collection, fly rod, stamp album, - which you meant to give away long ago?

Rotary Auction, the main event on the Rotary calendar of service to the community, needs your help now. All through the year Rotarians of Winchester are on the lookout for articles large and small to make the annual Rotary Auction Day something for everyone to remember.

Please call one of the following Rotarians for your Rotary contribution to be promptly picked up by truck or car.

NEW ORGANIST AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Mr. Cameron Rylance, our new organist and choir director, comes to us from Boston University School of Music where he is majoring in music theory and studying the organ under Dr. Max Miller, university organist. He is a member of the Boston University Choral Art Society and Mu Phi Alpha, a national honorary music fraternity. Before coming to Boston, Mr. Rylance spent two years at State University Teachers' College at Potsdam, New York. He has been active both here and at Potsdam as an accompanist for both voice and instrument.

John E. Dee, former Winchester boy who recently ran for Mayor of Auburn, Me., was unsuccessful in his campaign to unseat the candidate for re-election, Herbert E. Calahan. He did, however, make an excellent showing, losing by only 150 votes and polling more votes than many successful mayoralty candidates in the past. He would not seek re-election, though the closeness of the vote made many voters feel a recount was in order.

JOE BELLINO

ANNAPOLIS PLEBE COACH RATES BELLINO HIGHLY

Commander Jack McQuary, plebe football coach at the Naval Academy, rates Winchester's Joe Bellino "better than any of the varsity halfbacks," according to a story appearing in the Annapolis, Monday of this week.

Those who saw the Navy backs last Saturday at Boston College will open their eyes in amazement. Praise like this is like saying the star center fielder of the Park League is better than "Willie" Mays.

Now Commander McQuary should know whereof he speaks. He sees Bellino every day and being right in the Navy football picture he is very familiar with the ability of the backs in the first string lineup. In other words he is no starchy eyed small town rooster who rates the home town boys above all others.

Navy Varsity Coach Eddie Erdelatz, in a recent talk with the Boston Globe's Cliff Keane predicted Bellino will rank with the greatest Navy backs.

In his opinion the former Winchester star has the necessary potential. Winchester fans, who remember Joe's exploits on the high school gridiron, will go along with that. Bellino has everything that makes a great player, including that innate something that enables the truly great player to come through when the chips are really down.

Bellino's legion of friends hereabouts, while delighting in Coach McQuary's appraisal of their idol, will be hoping such lavish praise for a player who has yet to step into a varsity game will put the Winchester star too much on the spot.

They have no doubt at all about Joe. He'll be doing his level best every minute of every game and practice session, with or without the ball. He's that sort of athlete. His plebe teammates, too, show their confidence in his ability to deliver by already electing him captain for the first game on their schedule October 12.

Traditionally the first year Navy men do not elect a captain until the night before the first game. Apparently every one at Navy thinks our Giuseppe is all right.

Miss Judy G. Smith resumed her secondary school work at House in the Pines, Norton, when the school opened on September 25 for its 47th year. Miss Smith is the daughter of Mrs. Marilyn Brown of La Jolla, Calif., formerly of 45 Wildwood street.

LINCOLN SCHOOL MOTHERS

A most interesting meeting is planned for the first Lincoln School Mothers' Association gathering. It will be held in the Lincoln School Auditorium at 3:15 p. m. on Tuesday, October 1.

We urge all mothers to come to meet the teachers and to hear Dr. Harry Gilson, Superintendent of Schools, speak to us on related subjects of child development through school.

It will be an enjoyable afternoon ending with an informal social period when refreshments will be served.

Pre-school children through Kindergarten age will be taken care of in the Kindergarten room by capable sitters.

Please call the room-mother of your child's class, if you desire more information or perhaps a ride to the school.

The room-mothers are as follows:

INDIANS BEAT READING, 17-43

GERMAN EXCHANGE STUDENT INDIVIDUAL WINNER

Last Friday marked the opening of the fall sports season at Winchester High School as the cross country team traveled to Reading for the first meet. The Red and Black runners captured both the varsity and junior varsity meets by scores of 17 to 43 and 15 to 49. The conditions for the meet were far from ideal as the day was hot and humid and as usual this early in the season, the runners were not in top physical condition. 52 runners left the starting line over Reading's rugged 2.6 mile course. At the half mile point Glynn of Reading had built up a 20 yard margin over Klaus Reuter of Winchester who was closely followed by a group of Winchester and Reading runners. As they moved into the woods the group began to spread out and at about the half-way mark the Red and Black had slipped three runners into the lead.

Glynn the early leader dropped back and Burns and Bertelsen of Reading made a brief challenge which was fought off and in the process Charlie Clifton took over the fourth spot. This order was maintained until the finish with Reuter taking the top spot with about a 25 yard margin over Bob Carlson who edged, remarkably improved junior, Bob de Rivera by about 10 yards for the runner-up position. Clifton took fourth as he beat out Burns of Reading by a few yards. Junior Bill Sauman in 7th completed the scoring for Winchester. Don Seaver was 8th with Bob Cooper a strong 10th.

The first JV runner was sophomore Brown who finished 11th in the race and gives promise of being a fine runner in the future. Dreyer, Bonnell, Rokenetz and Root completed the scoring for the JV's as they took the top six places.

First 20 finishers:

1. Reuter	Time: 15:39
2. Carlson	14:45
3. de Rivera	14:50
4. Clifton	16:01
5. Burns (R)	16:02
6. Bertelsen, F. (R)	16:08
7. Sauman	16:20
8. Seaver	16:24
9. Glynn (R)	16:25
10. Cooper	16:26
11. Brown	16:26
12. Watson (R)	16:27
13. Dreyer	16:45
14. Shelling (R)	16:54
15. Dally	17:00
16. Bonnell	17:11
17. Rokenetz	17:12
18. Crabbe (R)	17:19
19. Root	17:22
20. DeRenne	17:23

WINCHESTER
TO PLAY "B" SCHEDULE

Winchester High, after several years as a "B" ranked school playing "C" football teams, will play a "B" schedule this fall.

At their most recent meeting the rating committee of the Middlesex League to Class B so that Winchester and its league rivals will be competing on even terms.

Winchester's Coach Henry Knowlton was delighted to learn of the rating change. His immediate reaction was that Winchester will now have a chance for the Class B State Championship, a chance it had not previously had except in rare instances.

Playing pretty much "C" teams, because of the natural and long time rivalries involved, the Indians, even if they won all their games, had only an outside chance at the "B" crown because of the fewer points they picked up by wins over lower rated teams. Teams playing "B" schedules had to lose two or three games to give Winchester a chance. Now the Indians will play an all "B" schedule and should fare better point wise.

The rating committee did not stop with the Middlesex League. The Bay State League and the Northeast Conference, in which Woburn competes, were also given "B" status. It has always grieved Winchester, in view of the sternness of its Woburn competition, to see the Tanners enjoy a "C" rating while the Indians were ranked with the stronger "B" teams.

One of Winchester's former "B" opponents, Watertown, has been boosted to "A" with strong Gloucester, a poorly ranked "B" club. The Indians are hoping to resume their rivalry with the Scarlet as soon as mutual schedule difficulties will permit.

Since Cambridge Latin has been boosted from "C" to "B" Winchester will have no "C" team on its current schedule. While many will feel that teams like Belmont, Stoneham and Lexington, on what they have shown in recent years, do not belong in "B", the fact remains that with the exception of Stoneham these schools have larger enrollments than Winchester, which has been in Class B for several years.

Being placed in "B" can help teams like Stoneham, Belmont and Lexington in one respect. Now when they do beat a rival school, and both do quite often, they will be getting more points from their victory than they used to, and when these schools come up with a good year they can still play their regular rivals and have a shot at the "B" title.

FELLISLAND COUNCIL TO ORGANIZE
ORDER OF THE ARROW

Norman R. Houghton, Chairman of the Council Camping and Activities Committee, has announced that the Fellisland Council officials have voted to organize an Order of the Arrow Lodge. It will become one of the major responsibilities of his committee. Arthur P. Bonney of Winchester will be the Lodge Advisor and Bartley B. Nourse, Council Executive, the staff advisor.

The Order of the Arrow is a Scouting brotherhood of honor campers. It is a society of Boy Scouts and Explorers that functions as a part of the regular camping program of the Boy Scouts of America. Its foremost purpose is to promote and enrich Scout camping. It was organized in 1915 by the directors of the Philadelphia Scout camp and became a part of the national scouting picture in 1921. Today there are over 300 lodges in the country.

SONS OF ITALY
Bowling
News

The second week of bowling went off as scheduled with almost a perfect attendance. Absenteeism was a sore spot last season, we do hope we don't have to contend with that situation this year.

The two weeks totals are as follows:

Team Standings to date
Alabama	7-1
St. Mary's	6-2
Holy Cross	5-2-1
Bates	5-3
Georgetown	4-4
Notre Dame	2-5-1
California	2-6
Boston College	0-8

Hi Single: Max La Carubba, Bates 137

Hi Triple: Max La Carubba, Bates 367

Top Ten Bowlers:

Tony Saraco	106.8
Max La Carubba	106.3
Choppers Gangi	100.7
"Creep" Rotundi	99
Sam Bellino	98.2
Tony Chelaro	97
Joe Garcia	96.8
Jeff Gaudioso	95.7
Babe Tofuri	95.2
Al Diminico	94.3

High team pinfalls went to Alabama with 1430. Their captain is Scoutmaster "Sketch" Fiore, a very capable and intelligent bowler. Supporting players are Don Simonetta, Joe DiIorio who have been bowling for years, Pete Lonigro, the well known international financier, Henry Subrizio No. 250 of B.C. fame and Joe Garcia, a direct blood descendant of Sir Winston and well known political figure in town. A very compact and well managed team.

One of the most important decisions in the early stages of the season is for a captain to align his players so as to produce a winning combination. The backbone and major decision is the cornerstone position of anchor man. This individual must carry the load. He must be calm, cool and collected under any given situation.

To prove this point this week's record of each anchorman is as follows. St. Mary's, Tony Saraco, 330; Holy Cross, Choppers Gangi, 315; Boston College, Eugene Rotundi, 306; Notre Dame, Michael Saraco, 294; Alabama, Bob Fiore, 285; Georgetown, Babe Tofuri, 283; California, Richard Fiore, 275; but Bates' anchorman, Chic Vespucci, backfired with 248. So in his honor a poem has been written.

"Bowlers Hall of Fame"

Now that we've resumed our bowling we can all feel at ease. Dr. Chic is with us fellows. In the event we should sneeze. Though he practiced the night before. He still came up with the lowest score.

Now we really shouldn't weep. It was merely lack of sleep.

We are extremely happy to have back again this season the Women's Bowling League who are sisters and friends of the bowlers. The award was won by a versatile mother of three, Mrs. Franny Facas.

"JOCKO" vs "MIKE"

It was Winchester against Winchester September 15 at Cincinnati, Ohio, when Xavier University of Cincinnati with "Jocko" Serieka in the backfield sent its football team against St. Joseph's of Indiana with "Big Mike" Murphy in the fullback slot.

Local gridiron peacocks need no reminder that not so long ago both these rugged boys were starring in Winchester High School uniforms. Serieka as a left halfback and Murphy as a pile driving fullback.

Though Serieka preceded Murphy at high school they did see some service together, enough at least, to add spice to their current meeting in rival lineups.

Xavier won the October 18 game from St. Joe's, 31-13. "Big Mike" started for the Indiana team and played an outstanding game at fullback, being St. Joe's bread-and-butter back, the boy who got them the two or three yards needed for a first down.

Serieka did not start for Xavier, but was soon inserted into the lineup and once in there, was one of the Xavier stars, carrying 11 times for 71 yards or slightly less than seven yards a carry.

Climaxing his performance, in the final quarter "Jocko" dashed 12 yards for Xavier's final touchdown. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Serieka of Middlesex street. Murphy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Murphy, live on Allen road.

NEW PLACEMENT OFFICER AT MIT

Thomas W. Harrington, Jr., of 19 Stevens street has been appointed placement officer for Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He succeeds Joe Jefferson, who has resigned to become assistant provost at Columbia University.

Mr. Harrington has been in the Division of Sponsored Research at the Institute since 1954 and for the past year has been assistant to the director of the division. He came to M.I.T. in 1953 as a member of the staff of the Flight Control Laboratory. In his new position, he will have the responsibility for advising graduating students in respect to employment and providing liaison with companies and agencies which interview prospective employees.

Mr. Harrington received an A.B. degree from Harvard College in 1950 and during the Korean War served in the Army for two years. He is married to the former Nancy Tinker of Wallingford, Conn. They have a 3-year-old son, Mark, and a daughter, Helen, who is 8 months old.

NAVY PLEBE GRID DATES

With two Winchester boys, Joe Bellino, back, and Frank Dattilo, end, due to hold down regular positions on the Navy Plebe eleven this fall local fans may be interested to know the games in which these former Indian grid stars will be participating.

The Plebes open with Villanova Freshmen October 12, play Pittsburgh Freshmen October 25, Penn State Freshmen November 2, Columbia Prep November 8, Maryland Freshmen November 15, and Bullis Prep November 25. All games will be played at Annapolis. Nice little trip by car, what?

C. G. ACADEMY EXAM FEB. 24

Congressman Edith Nourse Rogers has been notified that the nationwide competitive examination for the U. S. Coast Guard Academy at New London, Connecticut, will be held February 24. The last day for submitting application is January 15.

The examination is open to high school seniors or high school graduates who are in good health and interested in careers as commissioned officers in the Coast Guard. Congressman Rogers will mail application forms and complete information to any person interested.

COACH MORSE GREET
55 CANDIDATES
FOR CROSS COUNTRY

The first call for Cross Country candidates at the high school found the largest group ever reporting as so aspiring runners were issued equipment. The group included seven lettermen from last year's New England champs. The team this year has tri-captains, Bob Carlson, Bill Emerson, and Don Seaver. The other lettermen are Dan O'Connell, Charlie Clifton, Bill Sauman, and Charlie O'Connor. Several runners from last year's MCL JV champs give the squad a strong nucleus for the 1957 season.

The loss of Captain Ken Brown, Harry Ekstrom and Mike Callahan by graduation means the team will have to work to plug these gaps. Overall, as the season opens, the team is not as fast on total time as last year's varsity but they have an advantage of running as a strong unit which is a strong factor in cross country.

The team opened the season against Reading on the opponents course Friday, September 20.

Junior Varsity runners of a year ago who should offer strong support to the team include juniors Bob de Rivera, Bob Cooper, Phil Dreyer, Steve Dewar, and Bruce Bonnell. Sophomores showing early season ability are Phil Nichols, Dave Rokenetz and Don Brown. The last two are new to the squad and Brown is the brother of last year's captain. A gift to the squad this year came in the person of Klaus Reuter, an exchange student from Germany, who ran the 1000 meter in his homeland. Reuter has looked particularly strong in early season workouts and although he has never run cross country before appears to have real promise.

The team has a proud record to defend with a victory string of 21 straight dual meets, three successive State titles, and New England titles for the past two seasons. The squad recognizes the task before them and will be fighting all year to keep the "win" in Winchester.

WAGE INCREASES GRANTED HOSPITAL NURSING STAFF

Wage increases approximating 15%, effective October 1st, have been granted to staff nurses by the directors of the Winchester Hospital. According to Mr. Gilbert H. Hood, Jr., president of the board of directors, the new salary schedule reflects a trend by hospitals in this State to establish nursing salaries more in line with industrial standards for similar positions demanding the training and responsibilities of graduate nurses. It is hoped that the new salaries will attract more girls to the profession and help alleviate the very serious shortage of graduate nurses.

Mr. Harlan L. Paine, Jr., administrator of the hospital, states that the increases will add more than $5,000 a month to the hospital's payroll. In order to meet this additional expense, the hospital will increase room rates by $1.00 and add a $10.00 Initial Service Charge for all admissions.

The Initial Service Charge has been employed by many of the metropolitan hospitals for some time to help defray the extra cost incurred in admitting a new patient. This initial cost represents the expense of operating an admissions office, of setting up accounting and medical records for each new admission, the extra nursing care required in starting a patient on his course in the hospital, and of many other cost factors, such as additional housekeeping and dietary efforts required by the new patient. The directors of the hospital believe that rather than incorporate these costs in the general rate structure, which would penalize the patient who stays more than the average length of time, the more equitable arrangement is to charge the patient for the costs that he actually incurs on admission. Cost studies indicate that these expenses are averaging over $10.00 per admission, and most of the in-town hospitals are charging a $15.00 Initial Service Charge.

WOMEN'S MEDICAL COLLEGE

A reception in Washington to be given by Mrs. Eisenhower for the representatives of the nationwide chapters of the Women's Medical College of Pennsylvania has been announced for sometime in November. Members of the Massachusetts Committee will be among those attending. Mrs. Cecil Rose of Newton opened her home on Tuesday, the 17th, for the first meeting of the local group, who launched the program for the 1957-58 season at a petit luncheon.

The Women's Medical College, the first of its kind in the world, has been educating women in medicine for more than 100 years and one of every six women doctors in America obtained her degree from there. A project is underway for a new building to be constructed for the department of anatomy, bacteriology, biochemistry, pharmacology and physiology.

Local members of the executive board who attended Tuesday's meeting are: Mrs. Gustave Fred, president of the Massachusetts Committee; Mrs. Frank Lyons, Mrs. Vernon Alden, Mrs. Georges Doriot, Dr. Elizabeth Carson, Mrs. George Swartz, Mrs. James Buskirk, Miss Dorothy S. Gove, and Mrs. Paul Abramson.

Among the Winchester people who are members of the Massachusetts Committee for the Women's Medical College, in addition to Miss Gove, are: Mrs. Joseph P. Lynch, Jr., and Mrs. H. E. Shane.

LAWN SWEEPER STOLEN

Harold Farnsworth of 4 Central street reported to police last Friday that sometime between 4 p. m. the night before and 7 a. m. someone stole a lawn sweeper from his garage. Police are investigating the incident and have been unable to locate the sweeper which is valued at $40.00.

GAS EMPLOYEE OPEN HOUSE

For two solid hours on Monday evening, September 16, the intersection of Commercial and Charles streets in Malden was a busy spot, when more than 700 men, women and children, Mystic Valley Gas Company employees and their families, visited the gas plant buildings, most of which have been reconditioned and modernized since the coming of natural gas.

More than two hundred cars were jam packed into four newly black-topped parking areas and a special detail of police officers was necessary to control and regulate the traffic as the visitors made a tour of the gas facilities which are concentrated at this area. Motorists using these streets were amazed to see droves of people at this intersection at 7:00 o'clock in the evening, and one observing driver was heard to say to a police officer, "They're sure cooking with Gas this evening."

Following the inspection tour, souvenirs were distributed to the women and children as the families gathered together in the newly constructed Service Building on Charles street. There was musical entertainment followed by refreshments.

Everett C. Bryant, vice president and manager, welcomed the gathering, particularly the many retirees who were in attendance. He then introduced Harold L. Dalbeck, the newly elected president. Mr. Dalbeck spoke about the growth and progress of the gas industry and complimented the employees on their many years of customer service as well as their participation in many of the civic, religious and fraternal activities in the community served by the company.

The highlight of the evening was the awarding of a Roper DeLuxe Gas Range to Gerard Jutras of the Meter Reading Department and a Caloric Clothes Dryer to Louis Laghetto of the Service Department. Winning tickets were drawn by Jo-Ann Aiello, daughter of Joseph M. Aiello of the Stores Department. Other awards were made to the following: Martin McDermott, Frederick J. Emerson, Thomas F. Crosby, Michael J. Conway, Edward Anderson, Andrew Pizzuti, Joan McSweeney, George Roberts, C. W. Johnson, Nora Dunn, John T. Dillon and Cornelius F. Sullivan.

ACCEPTS TEACHING POST

Miss Shirley Ann Zirkel, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Zirkel of Emerson road, has accepted a position as teacher of the business subjects, shorthand, typing, office-practice at the Wayland High School, Wayland, Mass. She had 7 years of business experience and colorful travel.

She received her degree from Regis College, Weston, Mass., in 1950, after which she spent two years as secretary in the office of the F.B.I. Boston.

In 1952 she went to Europe as secretary for the Surgeon General of the U. S. Army stationed in Salzburg, Austria. During these two years she traveled extensively visiting in addition to Vienna and most of Austria, Holland, Belgium, St. Moritz in Switzerland, Germany, Rome where she was one of a very small group having an audience with the Pope, the Riviera, Nice, and Paris, France; London, England, and also toured Spain.

After returning from Europe in 1954 she taught during the school year at Weston High School in Weston, Mass., leaving this for a position as Registrar of the Boston College Graduate School of Social Work. During the last two years she was fortunate to have had the supervision of the late Dean of the School the well known authority in that field Miss Dorothy Book and also the present Dean Rev. Richard P. Burke, S.J., equally famous. A very informative experience.

This past year she worked as secretary for the Export Manager of the High Voltage Co. in Burlington from which she resigned to accept this teaching position. She will attend evening classes at B.U. for courses towards obtaining the degree of Master in the field of Education.

She has also traveled to Florida, California and Mexico.

Arthur and Josephine de Montigny of 130 Pond street were among recent visitors at Ausable Chasm, N. Y.

UNITARIAN YOUTH GROUPS PLAN PROGRAMS

With 120 young people eligible for membership, the two youth groups at the Unitarian Church are preparing interesting and constructive programs for the year.

Metacalf Union, the high school group, with approximately 80 members, will hold its first meeting at 7 p. m. Sunday, October 6. Dana Starkweather is president. One of the first projects will be to plan a meeting here in Winchester for all the high school groups in Unitarian and Universalist churches in Southern Middlesex County.

The Junior High Fellowship, with 40 members, will meet first on Sunday afternoon, October 13, at 4:30. Janet Rich is president. Several outstanding speakers are being scheduled, as well as discussion groups, dances, parties and projects.

In addition to Rev. Robert A. Storer, the minister, both groups will benefit from the assistance of Mr. Miles R. McKee, student minister, who will work with them. Mr. McKee is a third year student at Harvard Divinity School, comes from Berkeley, California, is a graduate of Harvard college, is married and has a young son.

Mr. Gardner Handy, teacher in the junior high school and at Northeastern University, will be the adult adviser for the Junior High Fellowship. His return as adviser is highly welcomed by the church as his skill and experience in this work is well known.

Adult adviser for the high school group will be Mr. Herbert Black, assistant day editor of the Boston Globe, who long has been interested in young people and their activities. He also is bringing experience and understanding to his position as he worked with the high school for several years in the past.

With skilled adult leadership and the initiative and enthusiasm of the young people, outstanding programs are anticipated for both groups.

PIONEERS TO DINE

A Fall Dinner Dance, sponsored by the North Metropolitan Council of the Thomas Sherwin Chapter, Telephone Pioneers of America, will be held on Thursday, October 3, at the newly-decorated Hillview Country Club, North Reading. This annual affair has become increasingly popular, and this year will feature a complete boneless chicken dinner, preceded by a reception at 6 o'clock, and followed by dancing and entertainment from 8 to 12. Music will be furnished by Ted Benard's famous Sherry Biltmore orchestra.

The Telephone Pioneers of America is made up of employees having 21 years or more of service with the Telephone Company. The North Metropolitan Council is composed of the communities of Arlington, Belmont, Cambridge, Reading, Somerville, Stoneham, Wakefield, Winchester, and Woburn. Katherine Doyle of Sheridan circle is serving her first term as President of the Council.

An enjoyable evening is promised for those planning to attend.

UNITARIAN CHURCH SCHOOL

Registration for all classes, Nursery through High School, will be conducted on Sunday morning, September 29, at the Unitarian Church. Mrs. Ralph Laselle, Director of Religious Education, announces the appointment of Mr. Miles McKee, a senior student at the Harvard Divinity School, as student minister. Mr. McKee will conduct the worship service for the young people of the Upper School.

A feature of these assemblies will be talks by the minister on the meaning of Churchmanship, the Symbols and Sacraments of the Church, and problems of administration which it is felt the young people should know something about. The emphasis throughout the age groups will be on the development of a strong personal faith through worship, through discussion, through knowledge of how men of the past and how men today all over the world seek religious answers.

A feature of the Church School is the Bible Class for high school young people conducted by Mr. Storer. This year, the New Testament will be explored. About 78 young people are eligible for this course. Last year the average attendance was well over 40.

During the Sunday morning worship service, the Church School teachers will be installed. Parents and children will attend church and sit together as families. Mr. Storer will preach on the subject, "The Good Life."

The Committee on Religious Education is comprised of the following members: Mr. Arthur Rich, chairman; Mrs. Richard Fisher, Mrs. Richard J. Clark, Mrs. Robert S. Williams, Dr. Leonard C. Mead, Mrs. Percy H. Hill, Jr., Mrs. John G. Trump, Mr. Dennis L. Heindel, Dr. Herman P. Meissner.

Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, pastor of the First Baptist Church, is among the clergy participating in the 26th annual all-day retreat for laymen of 300 Baptist churches throughout the State at the Burncoat Baptist Church in Worcester tomorrow.

WINCHESTER GIRL APPOINTED

MRS. ESTHER RUSSELL NEW WILMINGTON TOWN CLERK

Older residents of Winchester were interested in the recent announcement from Wilmington that Mrs. Esther (Mills) Russell has been appointed to the office of Town Clerk of that town.

Mrs. Russell, widow of the former contractor, John J. Russell, was born in Charlestown, the daughter of Mrs. William Mills and the late Mr. Mills. As a girl she lived in Winchester, graduating from Winchester High School in the class of 1928 and working for the Winchester Trust Company from 1933 to 1955. She attended the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church and last lived in Winchester with her family on Washington street in the Highlands section of town. She is a cousin of Winchester High School's Director of Athletics Henry Knowlton.

Mrs. Russell has lived in Wilmington for the past 17 years. She is a past president of the Wilmington Women's Club and an active member of the Women's Society for Christian Service of the Methodist Church. She has a son, Airman 3rd Robert N. Russell, stationed at Charlestown, S. C., where he lives with his wife, the former Beverly Morley of North Andover.

Mrs. Russell is not new to the duties she will assume as Town Clerk. For the past two years she has been an employee of the Town of Wilmington, first as clerk and then as clerk-cashier assistant to the Collector of Taxes.

MISS McGRATH
TRAVEL DELEGATE

Mavis McGrath of the McGrath Travel Service, Woburn, left New York September 14, en route to the International Travel Convention at Madrid, Spain, to which she is a delegate. Before the convention, she will be the guest of the National Tourist Companies of Scandinavia, with an itinerary as follows: Stavanger, Hafrsford, Boknford, Haugsund, Ulvik, Norderheimund, and Bergen. From Bergen she will grand tour

Robert W. Swanson and Audrey J. Tufts were married recently at the First Baptist Church in Arlington. Mr. Swanson is associated with Swanson Jewelers, Inc.

Continuing her trip, she will go from Copenhagen to Barcelona, Spain to the island of Majorca for five days. Then to Madrid for the International Convention of one week. After the convention she will fly to North Africa, visiting Tangiers, Agadir, Marrakesh, Casablanca, Rabat, capital of Morocco where she will be received by his Majesty, the Sultan of Morocco, and return from Casablanca to Lisbon, Portugal and then by plane to the United States. She expects to be back in the States by November 1.

Dr. and Mrs. Phillip J. McManus of Main street are back in town after a European trip that included visits to the Scandinavian Peninsula. The trip was made by boat and the return trip was extremely rough as the ship ran into the center of hurricane "Carrie". There was virtually no sleep and little if any activity on shipboard while the vessel was in the storm area.

to Oslo and from Oslo to Stockholm, Sweden. After state reception in Stockholm, she will fly to Finland and from Helsinki to Toijola, Tampere and Terho to Stockholm for a complete tour of Sweden including the country around Stockholm, Visby, called the "City of Ruins and Roses." Linköping, through the Gota Canal, Jonköping through to Gothenburg.

Come and read these and other roles with the Unitarian Players at the church on Tuesday, October 1, at 7:45 p. m. Whether you join the cast or the production team, you will find the play and the direction of Mr. Thomas A. Roach a winning combination. The Players feel fortunate indeed to have him with them!

Copies of the play are available before try-outs from Mrs. Arthur Cabot, Winchester 6-4289 or Mrs. Ganson Taggart, Winchester 6-4146.

ST. MARY'S MR. & MRS. CLUB

The first meeting of the St. Mary's Mr. and Mrs. Club is to be held on Wednesday evening, October 3, at 8:15 p. m. The presidents of the club, Joe and Mary Maloney, are looking forward to welcoming many new members at this first fall meeting. After conducting a short business meeting, Joe Maloney will turn the program over to John and Rosemary Dolan, who will present a very stimulating talk on Catholic Action. Chris and John McDonald are in charge of refreshments for the evening.

Informal dancing following the business meeting will complete the evening's entertainment. It is hoped that many new couples will make an attempt to attend and join in with the other members in making our first meeting of the year a big and successful one.

"LO AND BEHOLD"

Behold what? An Indian maiden pushed off a cliff by her lover? A southern belle with a disturbing drawl and a phony liberal attitude or a frustrated composer? All three appear in this deft John Patrick comedy with supernatural overtones.

Come and read these and other roles with the Unitarian Players at the church on Tuesday, October 1, at 7:45 p. m. Whether you join the cast or the production team, you will find the play and the direction of Mr. Thomas A. Roach a winning combination. The Players feel fortunate indeed to have him with them!

Copies of the play are available before try-outs from Mrs. Arthur Cabot, Winchester 6-4289 or Mrs. Ganson Taggart, Winchester 6-4146.

CATHOLIC WOMEN LUNCHEON AND FASHION SHOW

Mrs. Patrick J. Mullaney of Oxford street, board member of the League of Catholic Women of Boston is hosting a large group of friends at the Luncheon and Fashion Show of the League next Wednesday at the Somerset Hotel.

Included are Mrs. Timothy Harrigan, Mrs. Nicholas Fitzgerald, Mrs. Frank Clarke, Mrs. Frank Hurley, Mrs. John Walsh, Mrs. John Gibbons all of Winchester; Mrs. Daniel Mullen of Arlington and Mrs. Chester Prior of Newton. This will be the opening event for the League and it is expected there will be entertainment with the Fashion Show.

GASLIGHT GALA WALTZ EVENING

Friday evening, October 18, will be one of the highlights of the Fall social season. The Friends of the Winchester Hospital will present their seventh annual Waltz Evening, "Gaslight Gala," and many reservations have already been made. If you have not made yours, you should call Mrs. Samuel E. Perkins at Winchester 6-0407 as soon as possible. Tickets are limited, and the supply is rapidly diminishing, due to the usual enthusiastic response.

Herbie Sulkin, well-known Boston orchestra leader, will be in charge of the music and dancing at the Town Hall will go on from 9:00 p. m. until 1:00 a. m. The Gay Nineties theme of this Waltz Evening promises to be one of the most unique ever, so don't miss it.

Among the patrons and patronesses who have sent contributions or made reservations for the dance are:

Miss Ruby Willis of Reading, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Hickey, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Spaulding, Admiral and Mrs. William H. Buracker, Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Leverette, Dr. and Mrs. Frank C. D'Eseaux, Mr. and Mrs. Harold French, Dr. and Mrs. Justin Anderson of Reading, Mr. and Mrs. Fulton Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Allen O. Eaton, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kenner, Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. MEET THE LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

The League of Women Voters of Winchester has set aside the week of September 30 for its annual finance drive. During this week approximately twenty-five local League members will call on citizens who have shown an interest in the League to ask for a financial contribution. Since the League is in large part an organization that serves the entire community, League members feel justified in doing this, especially because all League financial support is solicited locally.

The League of Women Voters is a national organization whose purpose is to promote political responsibility through informed and active participation of citizens in government, and it operates on three levels, local, state, and national. The organization is completely non-partisan and does not support any candidate or party. However, on a specific issue, if, after long and careful study a consensus of opinion among League members can be reached, the League may take a stand.

The Winchester League's local program includes the study of two things. The first is town planning, particularly in relation to the possibilities of the undeveloped areas of town. The second is the school facilities expansion program. At the state level the subjects under study include Massachusetts revenue and the Massachusetts parole system. Nationally the League is concerned with an evaluation of the federal loyalty-security program and conservation of water resources.

A large share of League time and effort goes into its Voters' Service program. Do you remember the Candidates' Questionnaires on display at the library before the 1956 election? And the attendance records of Town Meeting members published in the Star last winter? And the flyers, "The Voters' Guide," which were distributed in public places around town last fall? These were all provided by the League's Voters' Service program.

The League is also proud of its public adult education survey, and of the booklet, "Inside Winchester," of which one thousand copies have been distributed.

The League of Women Voters of Winchester has 215 members with a local budget for 1957-58 of $1,415. Dues are $3.00, purposely kept low so that all may join. League members will voluntarily contribute $370 above their dues, and the public will be asked to donate the remaining $400.

M.S.P.C.A. VISITS A FONDOUK

The day brought forth umbrellas, but a goodly attendance at the first fall meeting of the Mass. Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals held at the home of Mrs. Fred Cardin.

Plans were formulated for a fall fashion show of new hair styles and some of the get-ups they would augment. More of this later.

Mr. William Swallow, secretary of the American Humane Education Society, spoke informally and most entertainingly of his experiences in Fez, Morocco, where he saw at first hand the work of our animal clinic there. Not only the donkeys, but their native owners as well are most grateful for the (to them) miraculous cures of sores and other ailments.

Mr. Swallow ate native food, dipping in "with right hand only" into the big bowl in the center of the table from which every one ate, without benefit of plates or silverware.

Mr. Swallow told us the American Fondouks (stables) where the sick animals are brought, a Chevie station wagon, but gasoline in Morocco is so costly, that they can't afford to run it and must use Superintendent Guy Delon's English Ford instead.

After some beautiful colored slides shown by Mr. Swallow, the meeting adjourned for tea. Mrs. William Beggs poured.

MR. AND MRS. ARNOLD READE GOODWIN DANEHY — SKERRY
GOODWIN — THOMPSON

At the Immaculate Conception Church on Sunday afternoon, September 15, Miss Sandra Ann Skerry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Skerry of 130 Sylvester avenue, became the bride of Charles Bernard Danehy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Webster Danehy of 19 Buckman street, Woburn. White gladioli and pink chrysanthemums decorated the altar for the service which was read at 3:30 o'clock by Rev. Stephen E. Burke. Dorothy Hickey was soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Skerry wore a gown of shirred fine embroidered organdy fashioned with a fitted pointed bodice, short sleeves and a bouffant skirt with tiers of ruffles extending into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of net was caught to a Juliet cap of organdy trimmed with seed pearls and she wore mits to match her dress. In place of a bouquet she carried a prayer book with two white orchids and Stephanotis.

Miss Rose Seacroft of Woburn was maid of honor and Miss Ellen Jean Connelly of Winchester was junior bridesmaid.

The honor maid wore a shrill colored taffeta dress with a matching crown trimmed with net, and matching mits and shoes. She carried an old fashioned bouquet. The junior bridesmaid also carried an old fashioned bouquet and wore a frock of pink net over pink taffeta with a matching headband.

Daniel E. Danehy of Manchester, N. H., was best man for his brother, and ushering were Paul J. Catania of Woburn, Ralph H. Kerrigan of Winchester and Walter R. Skerry, also of Winchester and brother of the bride.

A reception was held after the marriage at the Town Line in Woburn with the parents of the bride and bridegroom assisting in receiving. Mrs. Skerry, mother of the bride, wore a blue silk dress with taupe accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Danehy, wore a turquoise and black silk dress with black hat and shoes and a corsage of white roses.

After a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, Mr. Danehy and his bride will make their home at 12 Court street in Woburn.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School. Mr. Danehy, who is associated as a machinist with Raytheon in Bedford, attended Woburn High School.

Match books in assorted colors packed in plastic containers. Excellent for gifts and bridge prizes. Popular prices. Stock up at the Winchester Star.

St. Mary's Episcopal Church in Rockport was the scene of an impressive summer wedding Saturday afternoon, September 14, when Miss Margaret Bishop Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walcott Bishop Thompson of 16 Cabot street and Rockport, became the bride of Arnold Reade Goodwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Austin Goodwin of 15 Ledyard road, formerly of Bristol, Connecticut.

White gladioli, chrysanthemums and dahlias on each side of the altar and tall, wax tapers at the end of each pew decorated the church for the candlelight service which was performed at 3:30 o'clock by the Rev. William F. A. Stride. A reception followed outdoors at Saltair, the beautiful Land's End summer home of the bride's parents.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory satin, fashioned with a long train and trimmed with Alencon lace at the neck. She carried a Colonial bouquet of white chrysanthemums and Stephanotis and her triple-length tulle veil was caught to a cap trimmed with orange blossoms originally worn by her maternal grandmother.

Mrs. E. Arthur Tutin, 3rd, of Vernon, Connecticut, was the matron of honor for her sister. She wore an iridescent copper-colored taffeta dress, with matching nosegay and headpiece, and carried matching shaggy chrysanthemums. The maid of honor was Miss Lynne Margaret Goodwin of Winchester, sister of the groom, who wore an identical outfit.

The bridesmaids were Miss Carol Ann Wetherhall of New Orleans, Louisiana, college roommate of the bride at Stephens College, Columbia, Missouri; Miss Barbara Brandt of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, another college classmate; Miss Joan Perkins Swetser of Winchester and Mrs. John Merrill Beggs of Malden. They all wore similar Neptune green iridescent taffeta dresses, with matching nosegays and tiny headbands, and carried shaggy yellow chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Thompson, mother of the bride, wore dove gray silk faille for her daughter's wedding, with a garnet-colored French feather cap and orchid corsage. The mother of the groom, Mrs. Goodwin, was gowned in sapphire blue and wore a corsage of yellow and white chrysanthemums.

Arnold Austin Goodwin of Winchester served as best man for his son and the ushers were E. Arthur Tutin, 3rd, of Vernon, Connecticut, brother-in-law of the bride; John Walcott Thompson, 2nd, brother of the bride; Leo Francis Garvey of Winchester and John Merrill Beggs of Malden.

Also present at the ceremony were the bride's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Taylor Gilman Nichols of Cambridge and Rockport and the groom's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Sidney Morash of Winchester.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1955, and from Stephens College, Columbia, Missouri, class of 1957. Mr. Goodwin, who graduated from the same high school, class of 1954, and attended Boston University, is at present with Allan G. Bowry Associates of Cambridge. After a wedding trip through New England, Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin will make their home at 124 Gramere street, Newton.

The Star learns that the committee authorized at the March town meeting to provide additional space for the town's secondary schools and for school administrative offices is considering, with other plans, the so-called Foster plan, proposed several years ago by Jerome Foster and Lester Gustin, Jr., as a solution of the then school facilities problem, finally resolved by enlarging the junior high school to serve as a senior high school, and remodeling the senior high for use as a junior high school.

Winchester 6-2990

The controversial feature of the Foster Plan was the brand-new proposal to connect the high and junior high schools by a single addition extending across Main street. Main street was of course to be blocked off at Washington street, along which north-bound Main street traffic was to be re-routed.

Without getting too far into the merit of the plan as a means of providing additional school facilities the town meeting discussion of the proposal centered for the most part on closing Main street.

Any chance of acceptance the plan might have had went glimmering when it was stated that Main street, a county way, could not be blocked off without permission by the state, which was not likely to give that sanction unless an alternate route for traffic could be found.

Though there was talk at that time of a diversionary highway through the Skillings Estate in connection with the construction of the railroad overpass nothing definite had been done in that direction. It was not until later, when Mr. Volpe became state commissioner of public works, that the Skillings diversionary highway was written into the railroad plans.

Consequently at the time of the original Foster Plan discussion the fact that there was little or no chance of closing Main street to permit the construction of the proposed addition pretty much precluded any very serious consideration of the plan as a means of providing additional school facilities at a reasonable figure. The school authorities at that time were definitely opposed to the plan from any angle.

Now the Star learns it is to be dusted off and studied by the committee for additional school facilities, and since the superintendent of schools, Dr. Gilson, and Mrs. Barbara Clark, a member of the school committee, are members of the school facilities committee, it is reasonable to suppose that the school authorities have had a change of heart.

Without going into the merits of the Foster Plan it should be pointed out right off that there will be determined and concerted action on the part of the town's merchants in opposition to the blocking of Main street.

Right or wrong, most of the merchants believe that their business will be adversely affected by the closing of Main street at Washington street, and point out that they as substantial tax payers to the town should be given consideration before so radical a plan is voted.

They will be given such consideration, of course. Hearings will undoubtedly be held at which everyone interested can be heard.

Meanwhile the Star hears an occasional merchant's voice raised in support of the Foster Plan. Those favoring the blocking off of Main street believe that town business will be materially benefited by the removal of through traffic, especially trucks, from the center. They will give you instances where such re-routing of through traffic has brought increased business to merchants in communities where it has been done.

Of course it will be the voters who will decide the issue, and there are undoubtedly quite a few who have changed their opinion of the Foster Plan since its original rejection. The plan has merit, just as there are good grounds for the objection to it by those faced with the necessity of running a business successfully in Winchester.

The loss to the town of even a few of the larger businesses could make the adoption of the Foster Plan more costly than at first may seem likely. The plan is new, with aspects that have a definite appeal for those who like the new approach.

How the more conservative will react to the proposal to block off the town's oldest and most historic thoroughfare is conjectural, granted it can be done! A majority of the merchants are pretty sure to oppose it strongly. They have rather more at stake in the matter than the average citizen.

Somewhere along the line the Star recalls the statement being made that when the present secondary school facilities became inadequate, it would be best to change to the 6-3-3 plan, which would remove one class from the present overcrowded high school. Such a change would of course involve the erection of a second junior high school, either at once or in the near future.

When the statement was made it was our understanding that such a change in the school system would have the school authorities' sanction. With school representation on the increased facilities committee it is reasonable to believe some sort of decision on this aspect of the increased facilities problem has been made.

Many have spoken of their interest in the article on the late Rev. Truman Hemmaway by Dorothy Thompson reprinted from the Boston Globe in last week's Star. Publication of this syndicated article was made possible through the Globe and Bell Syndicate, Inc., of New York. Their courtesy is appreciated, not only by the Star but by many of its readers who knew Mr. Hemmaway during the years he was rector of the Church of the Epiphany.

SENIOR FORUM

The 20th season of the Senior Forum of the First Congregational Church will officially open with a supper meeting Sunday, September 29, in Chidley Hall at 6:00 p. m. Registrations will be received at 5:30 by Bill Emerson, treasurer and John Curtis, assistant treasurer. The supper committee chairman of Forum mothers is Mrs. W. Campbell Ross and her committee includes Mrs. James Baker, Mrs. Raymond Carter, Mrs. Albert Dietz, Mrs. Thomas Hill, Mrs. George Niles, Mrs. Walter Roberts, Mrs. Lawrence Templeman, and Mrs. Gilman Wallace.

At the business meeting following the supper, Hank Schumacher, president will introduce the Forum Advisers for the year. These include: superintendents, Mr. and Mrs. George Gowdy; class advisers: freshmen, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kepler; sophomores, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schaefer; juniors, Dr. and Mrs. Harry L. Mueller; seniors, Mr. and Mrs. F. William Schumacher; choir, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Bell; decorations, Mrs. Benton Stewart; dramatics, Mrs. Edwin Nelson, Jr.; finance, Mr. R. Gilman Wallace; international week end, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Goodwin; Pilgrim Fellowship, Mrs. Thomas Walsh; service projects, Mrs. Thomas Hill; social, Mr. and Mrs. John Monro; sports, Mr. Arthur Cochran; spring trip, Mrs. Walden Hersey; suppers, Mrs. Bradford Bentley; table setters, Mr. and Mrs. Erskine Kelley, Jr.; table waiters, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Clark; worship, Mrs. Wesley A. Mallery.

Committee chairmen will briefly describe the functions of their committee, and all Forumites will have the opportunity to sign up for committee work; the year's program presented in the brochure for 57-58 will be outlined.

The address at the Opening Supper is traditionally given by the pastor, Dr. Dwight L. Cart will use as his subject "For Heaven's Sake." He and the Rev. Wesley A. Mallery will officiate at the installation of officers who include: president, Hank Schumacher; vice president, Gretchen Mueller; recording secretary, Cynthia Dutton; corresponding secretary, Sally Kimball; treasurer, William Emerson; assistant treasurer, John Curtis.

All high school young people not active in a Church Youth program are cordially invited to become members of the Senior Forum.

BLOOD DONOR PROGRAM HEAD
COMMENDS ELKS

Mr. Joseph B. Peel, Chairman Blood Donor Committee, Elks Winchester, Mass.

Dear Mr. Peel:
On behalf of the entire Blood Program organization I want to express our appreciation for the steps voluntarily taken by the Elks to improve the local Blood Program picture. In a sense you are pioneers in this important endeavor, for we know of no other fraternal group which has specifically set up a Blood Donor Committee. We hope that other organizations in Town will recognize their responsibility in similar fashion.

You, personally, are to be commended for your willingness to tackle this job. You are well aware of its importance and will, I am sure, find a great deal of satisfaction in its results. We will be of assistance in every way possible and hope you will call on us freely. Thank you again for this vote of confidence in the work we are doing. With your assistance September 25 should be a banner day for the Winchester Red Cross Blood Program.

Yours very truly,
Earle F. Spencer, Jr.,
Chairman, Blood Program

WINCHESTER GIRL
CRANBERRY SWEETHEART

(The following from the Cape Cod Standard Times for September 14 will prove of interest to those who knew Miss Carleton and her parents when they lived at 52 Church street—Ed.)

Miss Sheila Carleton, 19, of Center street, South Dennis, was crowned Cape Cod Cranberry Sweetheart at the Cranberry Ball at Harwich High School. She was chosen by the five judges from a field of nine contestants.

The attractive brunette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank N. Carleton, was crowned "sweetheart" by Harwich Chamber of Commerce President Howard M. Howland and was presented a bouquet of red roses from the Chamber.

After the queen's robe had been placed on her and the scepter of her office presented, Miss Carleton was awarded a $100 Savings Bond and a Paul Revere bowl.

MARRIAGE INTENTIONS

Robert Francis Perry of 727 Washington street and Geraldine Mary Reppucci of 30 Bolton street, Reading.

Joseph Edward Lynch, Jr., of 320 Cross street and Frances Janet Bedley of 471 Russell street, Woburn.

George Albert McGuerty of 2 Valley road, Woburn and Phyllis Mary O'Doherty of 43 Canal street, Salvatore Joseph Lovetere of 52 Franklin road and Marie Ann Bevilacqua of 55 Chilton street, Cambridge.

FIRES

Mrs. F. A. Moore of 16 Eaton street reported smoke at the rear of her house Wednesday afternoon. Firefighters responded to the call and found that an electric motor of a hot air blower had burned out.

At 2:00 p. m. Wednesday firefighters were called out for a brush fire of undetermined origin on James street and ten minutes later were called to a brush fire on the Mystic Valley Parkway near Sandy Beach.

To complete the day, the fire department covered at the Woburn fire station while the Woburn apparatus were at the market fire at the Four Corners.

Ruth Pope of the House of Fashion is to be the guest speaker at the October Meeting of the Philaetha Society, First Baptist Church.

WASHINGTON MOTHERS

The first meeting of the George Washington School Mothers' Association was held on Tuesday, September 17, in the school auditorium.
The meeting opened with a tea-time, which provided an opportunity for the mothers to meet new members of the association and to talk with the teachers, Mrs. Roland Hanson and Mrs. Ralph Colliander poured at the very attractively decorated tea table. Refreshments for the tea-time were served by Mrs. W.
C. Urmon and the social committee.

Following the tea and social hour,
Mrs. Lawrence Lunt opened the business meeting with a greeting of welcome to the teachers and all of the mothers. Mrs. Lunt then called for brief reports from Mrs.
George Rowe, treasurer, Mrs.
Ralph Colliander, chairman of the book review group, and Mrs. Roger Griffin, chairman of the Girl Scout and Brownie activities. Mrs. Lunt then introduced Miss Rich, school principal.

After extending a word of welcome to the mothers, Miss Rich proceeded to introduce the teachers of the school. She then spoke on how important education will be in the miracles to come in the next ten years, and what a tremendous task we have before us to educate our children's minds to be prepared for what the future may hold. She concluded by giving the guideposts to successful living.

Mrs. Lunt next introduced Dr.
Gilson, superintendent of schools, who spoke very informatively on some of the problems in our school system and what is being done about them. One of the foremost problems is the shortage of teachers. Some of the other problems are: the expanded enrollment each year, budgeting time so that the teacher can cover the subjects and teaching material in the time allotted, and trying to arrange to have more attention paid to the gifted pupil. Also, Dr. Gilson announced the increase in the number of subjects being offered in the adult education courses.

Mrs. Lunt brought the meeting to a close by thanking the mothers for getting the school season off to such a successful opening.

A SHORT SAGA OF "ALBERT SCHWEITZER"

Hands-down credit for bringing the most hard-to-get personality of the century to the motion picture screen goes to Jerome Hill and Erica Anderson, producer-director and photographer of the feature-length film biography "Albert Schweitzer," which will open at the Winchester Theatre on Wednesday, October 16, through Saturday, October 19.

Half of "Albert Schweitzer" photographically details the doctor's "ordinary" day at his jungle hospital-village. It took Mrs. Anderson six successive trips, each lasting at least three months, to obtain the necessary film footage.
Not a single shot was "set up" in advance or "retaken"; not a patient or a staff member primed for performance.

There will be a special children's show on October 19, two technicolor favorites, "Aladdin and His Lamp," and "Hiawatha."

MISS ELLIOTT ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Elliott of 136 Pond street announce the engagement of their daughter, Marcia Elizabeth, to Ensign Charles Robert Fuller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas B. Fuller of 183 Russell street, Woburn.

Miss Elliott is a graduate of Winchester High School and the Forsyth School of Dental Hygiene, an affiliation of Tufts University. Ensign Fuller was graduated from Tufts University in 1956, and is a member of the Beta Chi fraternity. He is presently stationed on the USS Hale in Northern Europe. No date has been set for the wedding.

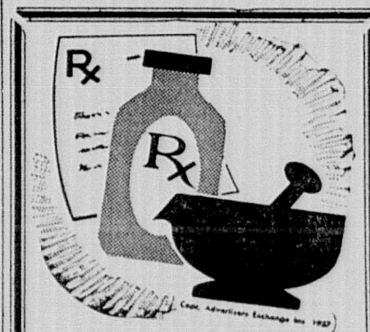

EVENING COURSES FOR WINCHESTER

Registration for evening classes will be held Monday evening, October 7, in the Senior High School from 7:30 until 10:00 o'clock. These classes, sponsored by the Winchester School Department, are open to adults upon payment of the proper fee until the class limits are reached. Winchester residents will have preference.

The practical and creative art courses to be given are sewing, upholstery, typing, woodworking and jewelry. In the general education are courses in French for travelers and investments. With one exception the courses will run for ten weeks beginning October 14 and the fee will be $5. To gain mastery of the keyboard, students in the typing class must enroll for two successive terms for which the fee will be $10.

Under consideration for the second term beginning in January is a program with a wider choice of courses. For example, courses in advanced sewing may be offered. The Adult Education program is still in an experimental stage and those in charge hope to build a program satisfactory to Winchester's citizens.

Pamphlets with further details on the course offerings will be found next week in the Public Library and the various school offices.

AF AND MERCHANT MARINE ACADEMIES EXAMS

Congressman Edith Nourse Rogers has just announced a competitive examination for the U. S. Air Force Academy at Denver, Colorado, and the U. S. Merchant Marine Academy at King's Point, New York. The examination will be held at the Lowell Post Office on November 16 and the last day for making application is October 25. Young men from 17 to 22 years of age, residents of the fifth congressional district for the past ten years, are eligible to take the examination for either or both academies. Persons interested should write to Congressman Rogers at Lowell for pamphlets about the academies and complete information.

FINDS MANY CHANGES HERE

Former Coastguardsman Joseph Rania, Jr., of Redlands, Calif., has been in Winchester for the past 10 days visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rania of Emerson court.

"Joe", who retired from the Coast Guard several years ago after serving in many parts of the world and seeing action under severe fire in World War II, found many changes in the old home town after an absence of three years. He is now serving as a sergeant of the security guard at the Grand Central Rocket Co., in California.

While visiting the Star during his stay in Winchester Joe stated that another former Winchester boy, Raymond Brown, who graduated from Winchester High in 1937, is also living in Redlands and is associated with the Rocket Company in the engineering department.

PLAYERS WANTED

The first rehearsal of the Reading Symphony Orchestra's 1957-58 season will be Tuesday evening, October 1, at Reading High School auditorium. All players should be tuned up and ready to play at 8:00 p. m.

The Reading Symphony, conducted by Weston L. Brannen, is open to capable amateurs of all ages, and its members come from many cities and towns in this area. New players are always welcome, and there are no auditions.

NEW Y. P. F. LEADER

Mr. Donn Brown, a student at Episcopal Theological School, is the new adult leader of the Y.P.F. at the Parish of the Epiphany. Mr. Brown, a graduate of Brown University, was previously co-chaplain of the Sunday School and in charge of the Y.P.F. at Grace Church in Providence, R. I. He will meet with the young people at Epiphany every Sunday night and will help them carry out their program.

DIRECTING CONFERENCE PLANS

Warren L. Price of 18 Ravine road, purchasing executive at Tilton and Hollingsworth Co., has been directing the advance arrangements for the New England Purchasing Conference to be held on Wednesday, October 23, at the Hotel Statler in Boston.

The conference is sponsored by the Association of District No. 9 of the National Association of Purchasing Agents, and following the custom of rotating meetings in the home cities of the local groups, the New England Purchasing Agents Association is privileged to act as host in Boston this year.

EMMANUEL FASHION SHOW

The Emmanuel College Alumnae Association will hold its annual fashion show and luncheon at noon Saturday, October 5, at Blinstrub's Village, South Boston.

Local residents active on the alumnae committee include Mrs. James F. McDonough, Kathryn M. Barry and Mrs. John W. O'Grady. Mrs. Edmund J. Cahill of Mattapan and Mrs. William A. Toye of Lawrence are co-chairmen.

A special feature will be songs by Dorothy Collins, TV Hit Parade star, who is appearing at Blinstrub's that week.

Proceeds of the affair will benefit the college building program.

INFANT SAVIOUR GUILD

The first meeting of the executive board of the Guild of the Infant Saviour will be held on Wednesday, October 2, at ten o'clock a. m. in St. Mary's Hall.

Mrs. Peter A. Murphy, president, will preside at this important meeting. Plans will be discussed for the first dessert bridge party which will take place on Tuesday, October 8. Arrangements for the annual bazaar on November 14 will be made.

Board members are requested to make every effort to attend this initial meeting.

MEDICAL AUXILIARY MET

The Women's Auxiliary to the Middlesex East District Medical Society held their first meeting of the year, Thursday, September 19 at the Colonial Country Club. Mrs. Edward G. Thorp, the auxiliary president, welcomed those present. There were nearly fifty doctors' wives from the district at the luncheon.

A brief business meeting was held at which Mrs. Dominic Runci was introduced as chairman of this year's science fair. The men of the Middlesex East District Medical Society are enthusiastically behind this worthwhile project as indicated by their offering three prizes to the outstanding exhibitors. The fair will be held in the spring of 1958 and it is hoped that much interest will be forthcoming among the high and parochial students in the district.

Mrs. Robert S. Hormel then introduced Mildred Buchanan Flagg, the speaker for the afternoon. Mrs. Flagg gave an inspiring and often amusing talk on the subject of "The place where you stand." She drew from her large collection of interesting experiences with well known people of today. She left her audience with a feeling of the importance of the individual in America today and in the place where that individual stands.

Before closing the meeting Mrs. Thorp announced that Mesdames Migliori, DeWolfe, Stiles, Runci, Anderson, Bagenstose, Hornell, Ulfelder, McLean and Donovan were planning to attend the seminars to be held at the State Headquarters later this month.

Those attending the luncheon from Winchester were Mesdames Clark, Grant Ulfelder, Gahan, Burgoyne, Runci, Fontaineau, O'Grady, Bernard, Barone, McLean, Bates, Benson and Marks.

LIGHT CHANGED
AT INTERSECTION

The stop light at the intersection of Mt. Vernon and Washington streets has been changed. Now it is possible to drive on Washington street from Main street and go either right onto Washington street or right onto Mt. Vernon street on the green arrow.

Persons cannot make left turns enter the Skillings by-pass until the light is all green.

IN GERMAN TRAINING EXERCISES

Army Pfc. David L. Petri, 20, son of Mrs. Edith Petri of 9 Manchester road, recently participated in a two-week field training exercise with the 10th Division's 15th Infantry near Wildflecken, Germany. A gunner in the infantry's Company D, regularly at Bamberg, Petri was attending Babson Institute when he entered the Army in May 1956. He completed basic training at Fort Ord, Calif., and arrived in Europe last January.

GUN SHOT REPORTED

Mrs. Richard Smith of 5 Grassmere avenue reported to police on Saturday that she heard a gun shot in the direction of the Palmer Beach section.

Sgt. Elliott and Officer O'Connell went to the area to investigate but were unable to find any trace of a shot being fired or anything out of order.

RETIREMENT PARTY

LOCAL TELEPHONE
EMPLOYEE HONORED

A party in honor of the coming retirement of Miss Elizabeth Campbell, Medford, from the telephone company was held at the Bradford Hotel, Boston, Thursday evening, September 26.

Co-workers at the Winchester telephone switchboard sponsored the party.

Officials representing the telephone company were George Ackley and J. P. Giblin, both of Cambridge.

Mrs. Gertrude Walker, Winchester, was in charge of arrangements for the affair, being assisted by Margaret Laffey, Medford; Lennie Flavin, Winchester; and Catherine Toomey, Billerica.

FIRES

The burning of diseased elm trees at the end of Tufts road was responsible for an alarm last Friday. Firefighters responded to the call and quickly had the situation under control.

At 10:55 on Sunday morning firefighters reported to a brush fire on the eastern side of South Border road near Leslie road. The fire which caused extensive damage was caused by boys lighting an outdoor stove.

An early morning call from the Russell Hill area brought the fire department to a brush fire near Wendell street. The fire was small and quickly controlled.

GRANT TO N. E.
EDUCATION BOARD

A $10,000 grant has been awarded to the New England Board of Higher Education by the W. K. Kellogg Foundation, it was announced today by Dr. Arthur A. Hauck, chairman of the Board. The grant, first from a foundation to NEBHE, will be used for a survey of dental manpower in the six state region.

Problems to be studied under the grant which will be supervised by Dr. Robert H. Kroepsch of Winchester, executive secretary of the Board, include the number of dentists, dental hygienists, technicians and assistants that New England will require in the next fifteen years and the facilities needed to train them. Based on the findings, a New England Advisory Commission of dentists, dental educators, public health officers, legislators and laymen will make recommendations to the states, the schools and the profession.

Cooperating in the study will be the U. S. Public Health Service and the American Dental Association. The Division of Dental Resources of the U. S. Public Health Service will provide professional and technical personnel for field study work. The American Dental Association will supply statistics and consultative services.

Massachusetts members of NEBHE are Dr. James M. Faulkner, medical director, M.I.T.; Mr. A. George Gilman, president, Malden Savings Bank; and Dr. Daniel L. Marsh, chancellor, Boston University.

EPIPHANY Y. P. F.

The Young Peoples' Fellowship of the Parish of the Epiphany held its Kick-Off supper in the parish hall Sunday, September 22. Present were Rev. Charles Batten, Director of Christian Education, and Mr. Donn Brown, the adult leader of the Y.P.F., and a large group of young people.

The program for this year was announced. Sunday, September 29, there will be a discussion of "Going Steady" followed on Sunday, October 6, by a panel discussion of the same subject. The panel will consist of parents, teachers and Y.P.F. members.

CLARENCE G. McDAVITT

RETIRED TELEPHONE
EXECUTIVE LEAVES SON
IN WINCHESTER

Clarence G. McDavitt, 79, of 212 Mill street, Newtonville, retired vice president of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company, and father of Clarence G. McDavitt, Jr., of this town, died Monday, September 23, at Newton-Wellesley Hospital after a long illness.

Born in San Francisco, Calif., Mr. McDavitt was graduated from Dartmouth College in 1900, starting in track and being the first Dartmouth man to run 100 yards in 10 seconds. He was president of the Dartmouth Alumni Council from 1925 to 1927 and president of the Dartmouth Athletic Council from 1934 to 1938. He was awarded an honorary degree by Dartmouth in 1940.

Mr. McDavitt was associated with the Telephone Company from 1912 to 1934, and served as vice president from 1931 until his retirement.

Long prominent in labor relations, Mr. McDavitt was employer representative from this country to the International Labor Organization conferences in 1939, 1940, 1941 and 1944. He was a member of the War Labor Board and of the Slichter Committee.

He was a former vice president of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, a former trustee of Vermont Academy and a former director of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

Mr. McDavitt's wife, Edith (Lauterbach) McDavitt, died in 1938. Besides his wife in Winchester he leaves two grandsons, Donald, of Winchester, and Edward McDavitt of Bedford, also three great-grandchildren.

Private funeral services were conducted at the Newton Cemetery by the Rev. Robert A. Storer of the Unitarian Church.

COL. LOUIS R. SHAFFER

Col. Louis R. Shaffer of 120 Main street, 57-year-old clerk of the Malden District Court, died suddenly early Monday, September 23, at the Winchester Hospital shortly after being stricken at his home. He had lived in Winchester for the past three years, coming here from Malden.

Col. Shaffer was the son of Mrs. Bessie, and the late Bernard Shaffer. He was born August 15, 1900, in Pawtucket, R. I., graduated from Malden High School in 1919 and from Northeastern University Law School, cum laude, in 1923.

For a time he worked for Lever Brothers in Cambridge as assistant credit manager, later joining the legal department of Stone & Webster in Boston. He served with the common council in Malden in 1926 and for the next two years was elected alderman.

Col. Shaffer was a past president of the Malden Kiwanis Club, the Malden University Club, the Glenwood School Parent-Teacher Assn., the Middlesex and Malden Bar Assns. and the Massachusetts Court Clerks Assn. He was a former chairman of the Republican committee of Malden and was a past member of both the Stirling Lodge of Masons and the Sojourners Club.

He was appointed clerk of the Malden Court by the then Gov. Saltonstall on August 23, 1939.

During World War II, Col. Shaffer served as judge advocate of the Boston Port of Embarkation and ended his active service in 1942.

He leaves his wife, Marjorie D. (Harper); two daughters, Mrs. Natalie Lioce of New York and Naomi Shaffer of Winchester, a senior at Simmons College School of Nursing; his mother, and a brother, Samuel, both of Sheephead Bay, N. Y.

Services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Sprague Funeral Home, Malden, with the Rev. Harry Belmont Hill of the Center Methodist Church, Malden, officiating. Burial was in Puritan Lawn Cemetery, Peabody.

REV. GEORGE

FIRST BAPTIST SPEAKER

First Baptist Church's own missionary, and secretary of the American Baptist Philippine Mission, Rev. Ralph L. George, will be a guest of the Church on Sunday, September 29. The Church School will assemble at nine forty-five o'clock to hear Rev. George's inspiring message. At eleven o'clock he will bring a summary of his work and its progress to the congregation in the Sanctuary.

As secretary of the mission, Mr. George must keep in touch with all phases of American Baptist Mission work in the Philippines and make reports to the American Baptist Foreign Mission Board. His rare good judgment and sense of balance have been of inestimable value.

Appointed by the American Baptist Foreign Mission Society in 1945, Mr. and Mrs. George have large responsibilities in Christian education, young people's work, stewardship programs and literature.

Mr. George holds an A.B. degree from the University of Redlands and a B.D. degree from the Berkeley Divinity School. Following graduation from the University, Mr. George was a social worker in Phoenix, Arizona.

A warm welcome awaits all interested persons in the community.

TROOP 3 NEWS

Troop 3 expects to spend the weekend at Deerfield, New Hampshire, and will climb Crooked Mountain. Mr. Don Davis of Woodside road has offered the use of some of his land to the troop for the weekend.

The Troop netted $45.00 in its bottle drive last Saturday, September 21. Mr. Nick Andon, of Converse Market, agreed to take the bottles and ended up with $38.70 worth which is a lot of bottles. The remaining bottles went to the First National at the Four Corners and the A&P in Woburn. The Troop has already decided to buy two Baker tents at half price from Council Headquarters with the money. Another bottle drive will be held in the spring.

PFALTZ — ORDWAY

Miss Susan Ordway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richmond Ordway of 55 High street, and John Lucas Pfaltz, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Pfaltz of Short Hills, N. J., were married on Saturday afternoon, September 21, at Ripley Chapel of the First Congregational Church. The minister, Dr. Dwight L. Cart, and Dr. Robert W. Coe of Boston and Plymouth performed the 4 o'clock ceremony, which was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents.

Miss Ordway was given in marriage by her father and had her sister, Mrs. Emerson C. Priest, Jr., of Westminister, Vt., as matron of honor. Miss Ellen Priest, small niece of the bride, was flower girl, and the bridesmaids were Miss Mary Anne Damon of Winchester and Mrs. James S. Leamon of Providence, R. I.

The bride wore a ballerina length gown of ivory pure silk peau de soie, the old fashioned bodice of Chantilly lace being fashioned with a square neckline and short sleeves, and the very full skirt having lace appliques. Her elbow length veil of ivory silk illusion was caught to a Juliet cap of lace and she carried an old fashioned bouquet of white sweetheart roses, babies' breath and stephanotis.

The matron of honor wore a ballerina length dress of rose velvet with a boat neckline and a full skirt. She carried champagne roses and blue bachelor buttons in an old fashioned bouquet and wore an empire headdress of the same flowers. The bridesmaids wore gowns alike in royal blue velvet dresses like that of the honor attendant, and they had the same flowers. The flower girl wore a white nylon and lace frock with an empire headdress and carried an old fashioned bouquet like those of the other attendants.

Mrs. Ordway, mother of the bride, wore a smoke grey dress of tucked nylon crepe trimmed with Venice lace and pink marquisette. Mauve accessories and a white cattleya orchid corsage completed her costume. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Pfaltz, also wore a cattleya orchid with her beige lace over taffeta dress and accessories of soft green.

Hugo M. Pfaltz of Watertown was his brother's best man, and ushering were C. Freeman Mueller, III, of Short Hills, N. J., and John B. Rhodes of Harrisburg, Pa.

After a wedding journey through Northern Italy, Mr. Pfaltz, who is an ensign in the United States Navy Reserve, will join his ship, the USS Albatross, for a Mediterranean cruise. Upon his return to his ship's base in Norfolk, Va., he and his bride will make their home there until his release from the service.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School, Class of 1951 and of Bates College, class of 1955. Mr. Pfaltz graduated from Milburn, N. J., High School, from Haverford College, class of 1956, and from Officers Candidate School in Newport.

MISS LAZZARO,

MR. SERIEKA ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Lazzaro of 146 Swanton street announce the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy Anne, to Mr. Edward J. Serieka, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Serieka of 3 Middlesex street.

Miss Lazzaro is a graduate of Winchester High School and of Connecticut College for Women, New London.

Mr. Serieka was graduated from Winchester High School, Bridgton Academy, and is now attending Xavier University in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Marietta Barnes Cornwall, Dorothy Dey Howard and Elizabeth Lobingier are Winchester members of the Copley Society of Boston which is holding an exhibition of the selected work of its members this weekend at the Burlington Gallery in Burlington on Route 3. This show will precede by 10 days the opening of the Society's own new quarters in the building they have bought at 153 Newbury street.

PIERCE JOINS EBCO

The Ebec Manufacturing Company, Columbus, Ohio, has appointed Elisha G. Pierce to a newly created position of Assistant Advertising Manager.

Mr. Pierce, son of Mrs. Marion D. Pierce of 319 Main street, and the late Elisha G. Pierce, is a graduate of Williams College in Williamstown. Prior to his military service, he was a sales engineer with Boston Filter, Inc., in Boston. He was recently released from active duty with the United States Army, stationed at the Information Specialist School, Fort Slocum, New York.

K. of C. CHARITY BALL

The Massachusetts Knights of Columbus will culminate its Charity Fund-Raising Campaign with its Annual Charity Ball at the Sheraton Plaza, Boston, on Columbus Day, Saturday, October 12.

Money raised in the Archdiocese of Boston will provide maintenance for approximately 150 exceptional children of the poor at the Kennedy Memorial Hospital in Brighton. Grand Knight Stergio Vangel of the Winchester Council heads the local committee.

MENTAL HEALTH JOINS UNITED FUND

Winchester supporters of the rapidly growing Mental Health association were happy at the recent announcement that the group will forego a May fund drive in favor of joining the first of Winchester's United Fund drives this November. The announcement was made by Harrison Lyman, Jr., chairman of the Temporary Advisory Council of the local Mental Health branch group at a meeting Thursday evening at the home of Dr. Joseph P. Lynch, Jr.

Mr. Roger Edgar, area vice-chairman of the United Fund followed up by defining the Fund plan and exhorting the more than twenty persons present to do everything in their power to put this important community effort over. The meeting then chose a nominating committee and discussed organizational plans and hopes for an open meeting to be held sometime this fall.

FIRST BAPTIST YOUTH

The young people of the First Baptist Church will be attending the sixty-fourth Boston East Association Rally on Sunday, September 29 at the First Baptist Church, Malden. Those presenting our youth group will be: Allen McLatchy, Charles Hucks, Richard McLatchy, Robert Carlson who will lead a workshop on World Outreach, and Janet Donovan. Mrs. Stanley Mullen and Miss Muriel Roel will be chaperons for the youth.

This year the youth have a large part in the Association Meeting. From 3:30 to 6:00 in the afternoon they will meet by themselves for their Annual Fall Rally. There will be singing, worship, fellowship and workshops led by the young people themselves. Important and meaningful workshops will be led by the Boston East Baptist Youth Fellowship Cabinet and adult advisers.

At 6:00 they will unite with the adults for supper, after which they will attend the evening service. The speaker will be Dr. Gezork, President of Andover Newton Theological School. He is one of the outstanding religious speakers in the country today.

THE WOMEN'S LEAGUE

Luncheon at twelve o'clock noon, prepared by Mrs. Frank McCall, and her committee, will open the first fall meeting of the Women's League of First Baptist Church, on Thursday, October 3, in the Social Hall.

Mrs. Everett D. Littlefield, president of the League, will preside at the business meeting and Mrs. Otis Leary will lead the devotions. In line with the League's theme for the year, "Treasures," Miss Marian Kimble of the Heath Christian Center, Boston, will speak on "Producing Fine Pearls." Miss Kimble devotes all of her time to working with children at the Center.

A warm welcome is extended to all members and friends of the League to share this happy occasion.

SWISS VISITORS AT LINCOLN SCHOOL

Fourth graders in Miss Charlotte Mugford's room who are about to study how man has met his needs in a country whose resources and climate are like that of Switzerland were privileged to have a lesson "first-hand."

Dr. Anna Walthard of Zurich, Switzerland, and Mrs. Gisela Klingler of Basel, Switzerland, are in the United States for a month participating in the Experiment in International Living Conference in Putney, Vermont. Together with representatives from fifteen European countries they are meeting to discuss international problems in an effort to create greater understanding among nations.

LWV MEETING ON TOWN PLANNING

On October 2 at 2:30 in the library auditorium the League of Women Voters will present the film, "City in a Shadow," followed by a talk by Mr. Allen Benjamin Wayland, whose topic will be, "Planning the Future of Winchester."

Mr. Benjamin is a professional town planner. He is a part-time consultant to the Winchester planning board and also the planning boards of Scituate, Canton, and Carleton. He has been during the last four or five years, acted as consultant to about eighteen other cities and towns.

Town planning has approximately a thirty year history in the state of Massachusetts, and Winchester was one of the pioneer towns, with a planning board for about twenty years. Within the last two years town planning has been recognized as a profession and about twenty-five colleges and universities now give degrees in town planning.

STUDY GROUP FOR RETARDED CHILDREN

The opening session of the Adolescent Study Group for Retarded Children was held in a classroom of the First Baptist Church in Wakefield, September 21, at 10:00 a. m. This class is sponsored by the East Middlesex Association for Retarded Children, and has been in existence since 1955. Mr. Martin Stanton, a teacher in the Franklin School, Wakefield, has instructed the class over the past two years, and has agreed to resume his post again this year. He has been very successful in dealing with these children, who, of necessity, need more than usual guidance, and has sparked an interest to the extent that they are both eager and anxious to attend throughout the year.

Mrs. Albert Spaulding of Greenwood, chairman of the Adolescent Group, directs the class in Arts and Crafts, and projects are simple, but instructive, and each child is made to feel that his accomplishment is important. All parents of retarded children in the East Middlesex area, which includes Winchester, are cordially invited to bring them to this class each Saturday morning.

Mr. John McNeill, of Stoneham, project chairman for the East Middlesex Association, says that, "in the near future, free transportation will be provided so that every retarded child in the area, 12 years or over, will be able to attend this Adolescent Group."

HEADING DRIVE FOR BLIND

John W. Campbell of 19 Nathaniel Road has been named chairman of the annual Harvest Drive in Winchester for the Catholic Guild for the Blind which will be conducted locally the first Sunday in October. A large corps of workers will distribute envelopes prior to that date.

Proceeds from this annual drive which is under the guidance of leaders in 125 communities of five eastern counties of the state, support the unique work being done by Rev. Thomas J. Carroll, Director of the Catholic Guild for the Blind, at St. Paul's Rehabilitation Center for the newly blinded, 770 Centre street, Newton. The only center of its kind in New England, St. Paul's receives students, rather than patients, and welcomes applicants from outside the Guild's area.

With the blind are three year since its opening, many men and women have been restored to a normal life in their homes and communities, with the ability to become self-supporting and engaged in a wide range of training.

The primary objectives of the Guild are to demonstrate that blind people are perfectly normal persons, to aid blind people who are not self-supporting to become so, to assist those who have not developed their talents, to help the blind to find security where there is insecurity and recognition of opportunity for misunderstanding and frustration. To this end many fields of service to the blind are being developed, including the Guild's talking newspaper "Listen," sent free to every blind person in the state as well as to more than 6,000 other interested persons; teaching specialized techniques; acting as an information center; providing counselling, case work, emergency financial aid, and supervised volunteerism to blind readers, guides, or drivers for the blind.

BADMINTON

The Winchester Badminton Club invited residents and employees of the town to join with the members on the courts for the coming season. Sessions will start on October 1, and will be held every Tuesday and Thursday evening from 7:30 until 11:00 p. m. in the Junior High School Gym.

New members are guests of the club on the first night of play. Racquets and birds are available at the gym. Players are required to wear sneakers. The club welcomes new talent and/or enthusiasm. So plan to come on opening night, Tuesday, October 1.

MRS. ELIZABETH R. BULLARD

Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth Ryder Bullard, of West Somerville, mother of Isaiah A. Bullard of 5 Pine street, were held Monday afternoon, September 23, at the First Universalist Church in Somerville.

She died Friday afternoon, September 20, at the New England Deaconess Hospital, Boston, after a long illness. She was 86.

Born in Brownville, Me., September 5, 1871, Mrs. Bullard had been a resident of West Somerville since 1901. She was the widow of the late Elbridge A. Bullard, Boston producer and shipper of slate, who died in 1939. Mr. Bullard, Jr., is now head of the slate firm, E. A. Bullard & Son, Boston.

For many years Mrs. Bullard was a member of the Third Universalist Church in West Somerville, and joined the First Universalist Church when the former united with the latter. She was a charter member and first treasurer of the Home Welfare Club of West Somerville.

The Winchester Pee Wee football team had their undefeated string unraveled by Melrose Sunday, losing, 20-19, before some 350 spectators at West Side field.

The Melrose boys who started practices well before Labor Day showed that they had more work under their belts.

The Winchester boys came to life from time to time and when they did they showed the same potential that made them last year's champions.

Winchester uncorked a new speedster in Dick Rowe who scored first with a perfectly executed pass play from Kent Parrot. The speedy and slick running Rowe scored the other two Winchester scores on end sweeps. Melrose scores were made on an end sweep, a pass interception and a cross back in that order.

Next Sunday, Winchester meets Melrose at West Medford field at 2:00 p. m. Medford is reported improved over last year's team.

It is hoped that loyal Winchester fans will make the short journey to Medford to support the team.

In the preliminary Winchester defeated Melrose in the B squad game 6-0.

Young John Stabile was the star of this game scoring for Winchester on a brilliant 76 yard run. Jeff Peckham also displayed great leadership in running Winchester's team to their first victory.

Coach Scott Parrot predicts his team will show marked improvement and is looking forward to the return match with Melrose on October 20.

THE DEAC' HEADS HOME

Captain and Mrs. Robert Sheldon Hamilton and their 22 months-old son, Danny, left Teheran the weekend of September 14 on their way back to the United States after several years service in Iran.

"The Deac" writes the Star that their return trip by Pan American DC-7 will be a leisurely one with stops in Beirut, Lebanon; Jerusalem, Jordan; Cairo, Egypt; Istanbul, Turkey; Munich, Germany; and Paris, France. While in Munich he hopes to visit Major and Mrs. Walter Burns who are in Germany while the Major is serving as Provost Marshal of the United States Army in Munich. He expects to be back in Winchester about October 1.

After a vacation here Captain and Mrs. Hamilton and son Danny will go on to the Captain's new assignment at Seymour-Johnson Air Force Base in Goldsboro, N. C., reporting there at the end of October.
